Dudley-Charlton district gets glowing results from audit

BY JASON BLEAU
 STONEBRIDGE CORRESPONDENT

The Dudley Charlton Regional School District has something to celebrate as the School Committee received word of high marks from an audit conducted to assess the financial status and spending habits of the district.

Richard Sullivan, a representative of Power & Sullivan who conducted the audit, presented the finding in January with the audit spanning the spending habits of the district until June 30 of 2017, the end of the last fiscal year. Sullivan said he found the district to be not only cooperative but determined to help the company provide an accurate report on the financial record of the district for reference.

"What I appreciated from is they exhibited a sense of urgency. The questions that we asked were answered timely and accurately," Sullivan said of officials within the district. "They're not just doing it for the audit. They've got a system in place that means things are at their fingertips."

The final reports were issued in December, and last month Sullivan detailed the finding to school officials explaining that financially the district proved to be very responsible, with finding either being on par with expectations or below spending estimates from that budget year.

"My focus is always on the general fund. Special revenues and such come and go. The general fund did slightly better than anticipated in FY 2017. Revenues came in a little over $200,000 more. Most of that is related to Medicaid because you don't budget that as a receipt and when it comes in it just drops to the bottom line. Expenses came in lower by about a million dollars. That's a lot of money, but to put that in perspective it's just about two percent of the school budget which

Powerstation Road presents latest traffic concerns

BY JASON BLEAU
 VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – Add Powerstation Road to the list of areas of concern in terms of traffic in town. Adding to the growing list of streets and roadways that have become part of a growing effort to resolve traffic issues, selectmen heard yet another complaint about speeding and violations going unnoticed during their meeting on Jan. 30.

Resident Sheila Hokanson, a resident of Powerstation Road, approached selectmen to bring her concerns to their attention explaining that speed limits are not being followed in the area near her home and that little has been done to address the issue.

"The traffic and the logging trucks and everybody else in cars think it's 45 miles-per-hour. When they come down that's a 25 mile-per-hour speed limit to Stafford Street. If they take a right and go down Powerstation Road, that's 20 miles-per-hour. You would never know it," Hokanson said.

These concerns are only the latest in a growing list of traffic and speed-related issues residents and officials have brought forward in the last few years. Hokanson was not aggressive towards selectmen but did note that she sent three different letters several months apart to the chief of police in 2017 with no response. Her concerns span her home street of Powerstation Road, Stafford Street and Brookfield Road.

Selectman Joe Szafarowicz acknowledged Brookfield Road specifically has been a dangerous roadway and said that Hokanson's concerns will be taken seriously as other traffic complaints have over the last year.

"I know it's been the new chief's aim to help relieve traffic wherever possible. He's been trying to send traffic enforcement whenever he can spare it. I'd forward this information to our new Civilian Traffic Commission. They're a group of citizens recently formed to look into issues like that," Szafarowicz said.

Charlton to examine private well regulations

BY JASON BLEAU
 VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – The Board of Health is expected to take a close look at private well regulations in the next few months. Board chair Matt Gagner brought up the possibility of simplifying and "cleaning up" the regulations on Feb. 6 as one of several topics of discussion late in the meeting about making Charlton a more user friendly town.

Gagner noted right now the regulations are pieced together with long-standing rules in place, but "penciled in" changes yet to be neatly added to the document and wording still to be cleaned up. He has requested the Board of Health take a closer look at this document starting in March.

"If you actually read our well regulations they need to be tightened up. I think that the board should really take a solid look at them. We've got chicken scratch hand written on them," Gagner said. "We know what they are. There's nothing really to them as far as the decommissioning. That's the aspect that's the hot topic right now."

Senator Gobi secures authorization for local projects in bond bill

BOSTON — The Massachusetts Senate today voted to authorize up to $3.65 billion in bonds for repairs and improvements of capital facilities across the Commonwealth. Spending authorizations in the bill include bonds for state university and community college campus improvements, public safety and security facilities and clean energy and efficiency programs.

"I am always glad to advocate for projects in my district, especially those that are difficult for the towns to finance themselves," said Senator Anne

M. Gobi (D-Spencer).

Senator Gobi filed several amendments that were adopted, among them being an approved amendment relative to Ashby authorizing $6,000,000 for the design, renovation, addition and construction of a new public safety complex, an amendment relative to Palmer authorizing $5,000,000 for the design and construction of a new public works building, and an amendment authorizing $1,000,000 for the construction of a new senior center in the town of Brimfield.

"The Senate's support for these projects highlights the Legislature's commitment to significant revitalization and economic development across the Commonwealth," said Senate President Harriette L. Chandler (D-Worcester). "The maintenance and improvement of these projects is essential to maintain a high quality of life for our constituents."

The bill authorizes the issuance of bonds for the improvement of capital facilities and for general government operations, including:

- $680 million for general state facility improvements;
- $675 million for trial court facility improvements;
- $500 million for public safety and security facilities;

Help your loved one quit smoking

February is American Heart Month, so before you think about what kind of flowers or type of candy to buy for Valentine's Day, choose the Valentine that is better than any bouquet of expensive red roses or box of chocolates: show your love by supporting your sweetheart in quitting smoking.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, smoking is a leading cause of heart disease; it can lead to the narrowing of blood vessels and high blood pressure. Quitting smoking greatly improves heart health.

Give Valentine's Day new meaning by helping your loved one become a nonsmoker. If your sweetheart is thinking about quitting, here are some ways your gift of support can encourage them along their journey:

1. Let your sweetie know you'll be their quit partner for as long as it takes – a smoker usually tries to quit many times before they quit for good.
 2. Remind them that going cold turkey is not always the best option. Recommend that they talk to their doctor about stop-smoking medications. Smokers who use stop-smoking medicine are twice as likely to quit for good!
 3. Help them celebrate the small victories – like the first 24 hours of being smoke-free, the first week, or the first time they make it through a stressful event without smoking.
 4. Bring them little treats like sugar-free gum, mints, and healthy snacks to help keep their hands and mouth busy.
 5. Distract them from cravings and help them relieve stress – take a walk with them, send them a reassuring text, or just run an errand together.
- If it seems like your loved one is in a bad mood, try not to take it personally – nicotine is a very addictive drug! Quitting smoking is one of the most difficult things they will ever do.

Lastly, it is common for those attempting to quit to slip up and have a cigarette. If this happens to your loved one, don't be discouraged or critical. Help them think about what they learned from that quit attempt and remind them of all of their good reasons for quitting. Most importantly, let them know you're there for them when they're ready to try again.

To learn more about how you can help your loved one quit smoking, visit makesmokinghistory.org and click on the "Quit Now" tab. And, while you're there, click on "What is the Helpline?" to learn more about how the Massachusetts Smokers' Helpline can provide online and phone support.

This Valentine's Day and American Heart Month, give the perfect gift; show your beloved just how much you care with the gift of support, and, ultimately, heart health.

The Central Massachusetts Tobacco-Free Community Partnership supports communities' efforts to lower smoking prevalence and exposure to secondhand smoke; enhance state and local tobacco control efforts by exposing tobacco industry tactics, mobilizing the community to support and adopt evidence-based policies, and changing social norms. Funded by the Massachusetts Tobacco Cessation and Prevention Program, Community Partnerships serve as a resource for local coalitions, health and human service agencies, municipalities, and workplaces on tobacco intervention efforts.

PRESIDENTS DAY

Car Buying Tips

Customers ask place: When is the best time to buy a Car or Truck?

The RIGHT answer: (Part 2) There are some times of the year that seem better than others. I already spoke about the end of the year. Another good time is toward the end of winter going into spring. We all know about the Presidents Day sales in February. Customers, dealers and manufacturers all are beginning to feel a little stir crazy from the long cold days of January and early February. As this holiday comes along there is a bit more excitement and a strong desire on the dealer and manufacturer to get selling for the spring and summer markets. Usually this is also a time in which the manufacturers step up their advertising and incentives to support this goal. The model year changeover is a good time to buy. This is normally the September, October time frame. Incentives on the current model year are usually strong and inventories are still pretty good as the new model year is beginning to show up. Dealers will be making room for the next years vehicles and starting to trim inventories approaching the year end and holiday seasons. At Place Motor we will always do our best to save our customers as much as possible whenever you decide to buy. We will lay out all your options for you to see and make your best decision. We want the time you choose to be the right time to buy your new car or truck.

means the district was about 98 percent right. That's a good crystal ball from a budgeting perspective," Sullivan said.

Sullivan complimented the district in several areas, especially revenues where he said the district was on point with expectations.

The district also shined in smaller areas as well. Sullivan also laid out the spending on assets for the 2017 fiscal year which added up to around $150,000.

"In capital assets there was a lot of activity this year. There was a $103,000 worth of assets added. The biggest thing was the new security system. I think the district bought four photocopiers for about $11,000 each and the district bought one vehicle for $19,000. Also,

I forget how much it was but there was a convection oven acquired also," Sullivan said.

In the end, Sullivan said the district received an unqualified opinion, the best result they could hope for. Considered an A-plus in terms for school grading, Sullivan said these results speaks highly for the district and its fiscal responsibility over the last year.

"No adjustments were required to be made to the books. These are things that if we found them we'd ask them to be recorded permanently to the general ledger and that was not necessary," Sullivan said. "The audit opinion, which is really the only thing we own and all the pages in the financial statement was unqualified. That means, in laymen's terms, it's a clean opinion. You can't get any better."

These funds, totaling $5,000 in support of Literacy Volunteers, will assist the literacy program, English as a second language literacy program and tutor training needs.

Literacy Volunteers is an adult educational program that provides free, one-to-one and group literacy assistance instruction and services to students. writing. With this support, these individuals can become active participants in society, learning the skills they need to be successful citizens.

"We are proud to support such an important organization that provides language services for our local communities," stated President and Treasurer Todd M. Tallman of Cornerstone Bank. "Many people come to this country to better themselves and provide a better life for their family, and this program will help them attain those goals."

Literacy Volunteers provided instruction to over 600 adults in 2017, with plans to educate up to 625 adults in 2018. If you are interested in making a donation, learning more about the Literacy Volunteers organization or want to become a volunteer, visit them at: www.lvgw.org or call 508-754-8056.

Charlton approved the creation of the committee late last year and welcomed a new chief in Graham Maxfield as well. In the weeks following Chief Maxfield's promotion the new traffic commission has been populated by volunteers and a new officers hire has also been approved to tackle the traffic problem. Selectman John McGrath reminded citizens and fellow selectmen that this new officer will be dedicated to helping resolve speeding and traffic concerns throughout the town.

"The finance committee approved it and there's going to be one officer dedicated to traffic enforcement for specific areas such as Brookfield Road," McGrath said. "There's a list the police have already. We'll forward this to the traffic advisement committee. They're diligently working on this and we're trying to give them the tools to get this under control."

For Hokanson seeing something done is not just a matter of convenience for her as a resident of Powerstation Road. She sees it as a safety concern and one that is in the best interest of not only residents but commuters as well.

"I'm just so concerned someone is going to get hurt. The school buses go around there very fast also," Hokanson said. "I think we need to address them also. We're looking at safety here for everybody, including children."

Friday's Child

"I love to play sports!"

Tyvon is an active ten-year-old boy of African American descent who loves being silly and making people laugh. Tyvon is also very artistic and can often be seen drawing and creating things on paper. During times of leisure, Tyvon likes playing video games and watching television. When he gets a bit older, Tyvon says he wants to be a professional football, baseball or basketball player. In school Tyvon is working towards reaching his fullest potential. He proudly entered into the fifth grade this school year.

Tyvon is ready to find his forever family. Tyvon does well in family settings and could be placed with either a two-parent or single parent family. It would be best that if there are other children in the home that he is the oldest child and there are no children of competing ages.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org.

The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

Homes have more than one price

They say beauty is in the eye of the beholder and when looking at a home there are typically several views on the value of the home. One price is the value a seller is willing to sell their home for. They may have what is called emotional equity in the home which causes them to believe the home is worth more than a ready, willing and able buyer would pay for the home. They may love the 30 year old carpeting and the newly wallpapered rooms. I am not saying that there are not buyers that would prefer these features but the majority of buyers are looking for hardwoods or tile floors and painted walls. If the buyers love the home except for those things then they will see the value as lower because they are considering the cost of making the changes to the home to make it work for them. They usually will assume a much higher number than the actual cost of the updates to take on risk of other repairs being needed to be made.

If inventory is low then you may have buyer overlook these features just to get the home so they don't lose it to another buyer. The Real Estate Agent that represents the seller will be pushing to get the value the sellers wants for the home and may even feel the home is closer to the value the seller believes the home to be while the agent representing the buyer will believe it is lower than the sellers agent. This is due to the agents clients many times will influence their opinion of value and they will buy into some of that emotional equity. The best buyer for the home that will pay the most money is the buyer that is similar to the sellers and values the same features and that is why highlighting the features that the seller fell in love with is the best route to go to find the best buyer for the home.

Another value is the appraised value which is an objective view of the appraisers professional opinion of the home. However, this is based on their opinion so I have seen an appraiser look at the home and give their opinion of value and another appraiser come in a week later with a value that is 10% off of the other appraised value. The challenge is many times the appraiser is only using data of sold homes which shows the past but if you are in an appreciating market then the market value will end up being higher than the appraised value of the home is.

I think most consumers look at the assessed value by the town which is used for tax purposes and is not usually representative of the true market value of the home. You also have websites such as Zillow or Trulia or Redfin which just pull data from the local area for similar homes and come up with a value. If the data is incorrect the value will be incorrect, if your condition is inferior or superior to the similar homes it will be incorrect or if you have homes close to you that are in neighborhood with different values than your neighborhood it will make the value incorrect.

Local advertising memorabilia

In previous columns, I've discussed how popular vintage and antique advertising signs and other advertising memorabilia are with collectors. Most people are aware that there are advertising collectors who specialize in large national companies like Coca Cola. There are many advertising items from factories, stores, farms and other local businesses that also have collector value.

I discussed Worcester breweries in a February 2017 column and will just touch upon beer advertising here. Bowler Bros., Brockert and Worcester Brewing Company were some of the larger breweries in Worcester. Oldbreweries.

ANTIQUES,
COLLECTIBLES
WAYNE TUISKULA

com lists some lesser known Worcester breweries including Gindele & Reuther Brewing Co., N. Hines Brewery John McNamara Brewery, S. B. Thomas Hotel & Brewery and Geo. Warren Webster Brewery.

Advertising memorabilia from local breweries is popular with both local memorabilia collectors and those who collect all types of breweriana. Even though Bowler Brothers celluloid (old form of plastic) and metal matchsafes aren't uncommon, they can sell for over $100 in nice condition.

Tadcaster Beer trays by Worcester Brewing Company often sell for $100 or more. We recently sold a Worcester Brewing company keg that brought over $125 at auction.

White and Bagley began producing Oilzum motor oil in 1888 in Worcester. The Oilzum logo picturing a driver with goggles is very popular with automobile memorabilia collectors. "Oilzum Motor Oils Lubricants" is written across the driver's cap. A later version of that logo features the driver inserted in a wedge design.

Prior to the driver with goggles, Oilzum used "Bucky" "the bucked tooth kid" as an advertising character. You can sometimes find Cleanzum hand cleaner tins by Oilzum for under $25. Older oil cans, in fine condition, typically sell in the hundreds of dollars. There are many reproduction signs, but if you have an original, it should also sell for three figures. An Oilzum curb sign (shaped like a lollipop on a base) can bring thousands of dollars.

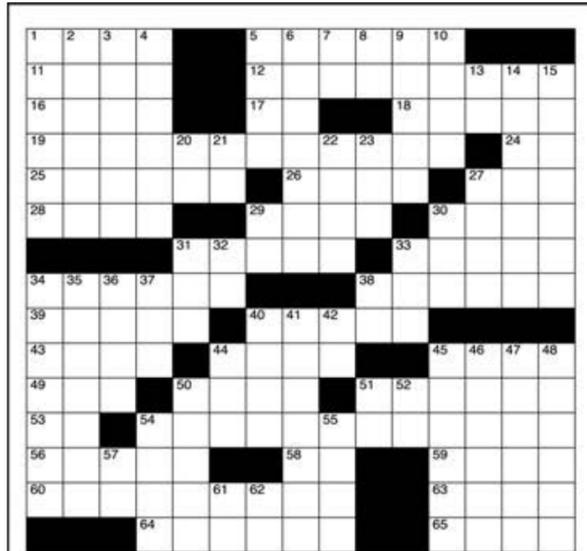

The Worcester Hoop Skirt Company was founded by David Hale Fanning in Worcester in 1861, according to the Metropolitan Museum of Art website. The company shifted production in 1872 and became the Worcester Corset Company. Fanning became president in 1888 when the company went public. The company was renamed to the Royal Worcester Corset Company in 1901. Paper ads promoting "Queen Bess" and "Bon Ton" corsets are fairly common and typically sell in the $20 range. An original Royal Worcester corset in excellent condition can sell in the low hundreds. As I write this column, there is a Royal Worcester corset advertising poster for sale priced at $900 online.

Table Talk Bakery still sells pies in Worcester, but Town Talk Bread is no longer in business. The Worcester Historical Museum website states that Town Talk was in business from 1912 to 1973. Town Talk employed 125 people in Worcester and 50 in Dedham after World War II. A search of past auction records shows some signs selling for $75. The highest sold for $550, which is quite a bit of dough.

My Evaluating your Antiques class takes place at Bay Path Evening School on March 5th. Other events are being scheduled. Keep checking www.centralmassauctions.com for details.

Bouncy balloon fun at the Y

BY SARAH CHAMPAGNE
NEWS CORRESPONDENT

On Friday, Feb. 2, the Tri-Community YMCA held its annual Balloon Bash for young children. The event is free for members, but nonmembers are welcome for a small fee.

According to Erin Kirschner, pre-school and family coordinator at Tri-Community YMCA, "The Balloon Bash consisted of a balloon twisting show by David Londergan of Major Amusement. After the show, David made balloon creations for each child. We played balloon games, had snacks and did some crafts as well. It seemed like everyone had a great time and we were able to entertain over 75 people."

Grants supplemented by tasteful fundraiser

A silent auction raised funds as well.

BY TARA VOCINO
VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

Students, parents, and teachers commented on what they learned from the TED grants during Tastefully Ted at the Public House Inn last weekend.

The Tantasqua Education Foundation is a community foundation that raises money for innovative, teacher-initiated projects that expand learning opportunities for students in elementary schools in Brimfield, Brookfield, Holland, Wales, and Sturbridge, and the Tantasqua Junior, Senior, and Vocational schools. Guests had the opportunity to sample desserts and appetizers from nine local businesses and take a chance at raffles.

Student Council Junior Class Representative Chloe Fowler used the Shakespearean dresses during her British Literature class.

"We put on fancy dresses, swords, and masks," Fowler said. "It helped me to interpret the plays better, because I'm more of a visual learner."

Fowler said they wore the dresses throughout her hour-long British Lit. class.

She said her sister, Riley Palmer, age 12, likes FaceTiming and reading to seniors. Riley goes to Brookfield Elementary, which gained four iPads through the TED Foundation, which are used for reading to seniors.

Seventh-grade English teacher Lisa Benoit said her class received a Learning in Action grant.

"The purpose of the grant was to help make two dramatic units more accessible," Benoit said. "Dickens and Shakespeare are not traditionally authors that 7th-graders gravitate toward as far as works of literature. Making the texts come to life allows the student to interact with the piece."

When working on the Shakespearean Unit, they used 12 adapted plays in the form of comedy and tragedy - A Midsummer's Night Dream, As You Like It, Much Ado About Nothing, The Taming of the Shrew, The Tempest, The Merchant of Venice, Hamlet, King Lear, Macbeth, Othello, Romeo and Juliet, and Julius Caesar, according to Benoit.

"Because of our TED grant, students are able to get into character with the props and accessories, which helps them better understand the material," Benoit said. "To get the exposure of dramatic literature in an interactive way in junior high is a wonderful opportunity, and we owe that possible to the Tantasqua Education Foundation grant of about $2,500 that we were awarded."

Support staff Michelle Foulis said iPads teach children to be the best that they can be.

"iPads help learning disabled kids to look at money, good behaviors, educational Web sites, and learning applications, such as GoMath and Reading Edge - all of which are educationally appropriate," Foulis said.

As she was eating an Italian-almond lace cookie from baker Erin Oliver at Southbridge American-Italian Club, seventh-grade social studies teacher Shannon Beveridge said her class received a book grant to get Google Chromebooks and a chestnut tree orchard to plant 50 trees.

Technical assistant Lucine Zikos said iPads will help her third-graders learn.

Gary and Maria Fountaine, of Southbridge, came to support their son, Philip Standrowicz. Philip studies computer technology at Tantasqua. They said that Philip has benefited from the technical program, and he plans to study computers and music at UMass Amherst. They were vying to win a painting from Brush It Off, Paint and Sip Bar, in Sturbridge.

Maria Fountaine said she serves on the education board.

Sturbridge resident Cheryl Reeve said her son, Taylor, benefited from the TED programs at Burgess Elementary School.

"He created an iMovie at the Apple store," Reeve said.

Tantasqua Physical education/sociology teacher Joe Beveridge grabbed a carrot cake cupcake and Guinness peanut butter bacon cupcake from his former student, Amanda Burns, of Holland, who works at Whoopie-Doo.

"She was a great student," Joe Beveridge said.

Amanda said he was one of her favorite teachers ever.

In the next room over, Fowler went onto describe the TED projects.

She said students about 450 students in grades 3 to 6 at Burgess can take home math games as a lending library.

Meccanoid robots teach junior high students engineering, according to Fowler.

Students in kindergarten to sixth grade build Legos in science, engineering, technology, and math classes.

Tantasqua junior high students made compassion cards to support various charities. They painted monochromatic landscapes in art class.

"It teaches students to give back," Fowler said. "That's it's not about you, but what you can give to the world."

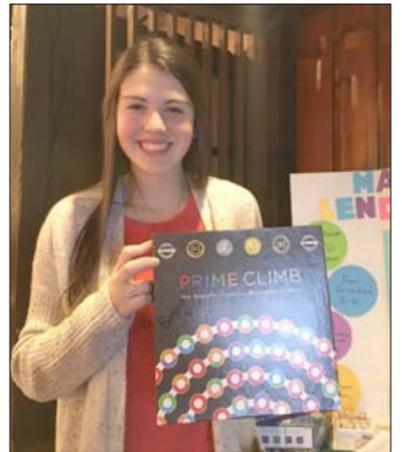

Sturbridge resident Glenys Hachfield said her grandson, Ethan, a senior at Tantasqua in the culinary arts program, won a baking challenge on Sunday between Worcester Collaborative, an alternative school, and Bay Path in Charlton. They all made a strawberry trifle with grand mariner sauce, she said.

EDITORIAL

All you need is...

It's two days after Valentine's Day, and the week of Presidents' Day. We honor both George Washington and Abraham Lincoln in a single holiday; keeping it to a Monday holiday for the sake of workers and school children, but at least we do still remember two of the presidents who made huge marks on American history.

Washington was the first duly elected president, he didn't really want it, but felt he was honor bound to take the office because someone needed to guide the fledgling country into being. He had helped create the atmosphere for the Revolution, he had helped draft the new laws taking shape to create the country, the baby constitution was still barely taking steps and a lot of people were already trying to dismantle it, saying the whole idea just wasn't going to work.

He had a lot of support, he had been a war hero in several wars, not just the revolution but the earlier scrimmages with the French too. And he was well liked by politicians, military people, and even the not so well known but able to vote bourgeois. He helped keep the country going those first few years, and the grand experiment was held together to take a few more steps under a new regime, changing hands without revolution or rancor just as it was meant to.

Lincoln stepped into a minefield not of his making. Nor was he comfortable with much of his own presidency. There are multiple biographies of the man, who describe him as "conflicted" and "ambiguous" about the questions that ultimately took the country into its civil war. He wasn't necessarily anti-slavery; nor was he pro-slavery. He was hoping for some sort of compromise. But when that didn't look promising, he chose. And he backed it up. Then he made every effort to reunite the country in some manner.

He didn't want the war; but he supported his troops and his men. He quietly wrote about the losses, to both sides in the conflict, and reminded others that they were fighting "ourselves."

His work, though unfinished, kept a presidency alive through a difficult time, and moved it thorough what could have been the end of the entire country as we now know it. We could have been two countries, perhaps even more, had the fight among ourselves gone much differently or the pieces reunited been done so in a different manner.

Then of course, we have Martin Luther King Day and the entire month paying homage to a people who for many years were less important in our history. Not because they didn't do valuable work, but because their work wasn't valued. That has changed, or is changing rather, because it isn't finished. And while we might choose to honor Black History Month, what about Asian History Month? Or Scandinavian History Month? Or Indian History Month? Or Icelandic History Month? Or Australian History Month? Or Uruguayan History Month?

See, we have a habit of over reaching. We bend over too far in attempting to right wrongs sometimes. Yes, people were ignored when they shouldn't have been; text books and histories and television shows were way too narrow in showing diversity for way too long, and still are. But we can't fix that with a single fix. We can't say, 'here, we'll celebrate everybody's everything for one week this week and another next week and there, everybody's recognized.'

Let's celebrate real accomplishments by real people no matter who they are. When someone does something...good! Hurray! We don't care if you are purple!

Let's not rewrite all the books, some of them very good books; or put movies out of circulation, very good movies; because someone somewhere isn't well represented. That isn't real life.

It isn't always going to be entirely fair; or righteous. But we can celebrate the goodness. And admire the ones who we missed when we weren't aware.

This reader has the solution for a generations old household challenge:

I FINALLY figured out how to fold a fitted sheet by myself!

I lay it in half the long way on a queen bed. Then fold the edges in on the top, bottom, and the open side. Usually about nine inches when matching the seams. Then it is so easy to fold the sheet in a perfect size for storage. I like to store the set together with the pillow cases in the center!

Happy and healthy New Year to all your readers.

A duo of helpful hints from a regular contributor saves both money and time!

Tip #1: We are all creatures always aiming to please and simplify our lives, at least I am hence always organizing. Moving photographs beneath a sheet of glass at my work space is much less cumbersome as I took a wine cork (now recycled), sliced it into x 4 equal eighth inch round slices. I installed one beneath each corner of the sheet of glass and can now update and rearrange photos easily.

I love looking at family member and friends' photos or can add an affirmation there for the day or a memorable poem etc.

Tip #2: With a 30 minute lunch break I often bring vegetables etc. on the run and then find myself in a crunch at lunch time, Today it took only one to two minutes prep and seven minutes on high in the microwave to cook two acorn squash halves I cut, removed the seeds, added olive oil and spices, then turned them face down on a dinner plate. I put about an 1/8 cup of water on the plate and inverted a ceram-

Unconventional but true? This resubmitted tip bears repeating (and trying)!

This tip works: If you have leg cramps during the night, keep a bar of soap (any kind) wrapped or unwrapped in your bed. It works and everyone I've told says so too!

Valentine's Day: consider financial gifts for all your Valentines

FINANCIAL FOCUS
 JEFF BURDICK

Valentine's Day is here - and it's a pretty big business. In fact, U.S. consumers spent about $18 billion on their valentines in 2017, according to the National Retail Federation. Of course, recipients certainly appreciate flowers, candy, jewelry and so on, but this year, consider going beyond the traditional favorites to give your loved ones something more long-lasting - a financial gift.

And, while you're doing so, why not also go beyond the traditional definition of a "valentine"? After all, not all that $18 billion went to spouses or significant others. A sizable amount also went to non-romantic connections, including children, parents, friends, teachers - even pets. So, in the spirit of ecumenical Valentine's Day gift-giving, here are some suggestions for financial gifts for your loved ones:

For spouse or significant other - One valuable gift to your spouse or significant other might be an IRA contribution. While you can't directly contribute to someone else's IRA, you can certainly write a check to that person for that purpose. This gift is particularly valuable because many people have trouble coming up with the maximum annual IRA contribution, which, in 2018, is $5,500, or $6,500 for individuals 50 and older. As an alternative to an IRA contribution, you could give shares of a stock issued by a company whose products or services are enjoyed by your spouse or significant other.

For your children - It's never too soon to start saving for college for your children. Fortunately, you have a few attractive college-funding vehicles available, one of which is the 529 Savings Plan. You can generally invest in the plan offered by any state, even if you don't live there. If you do invest in your own state's plan, you might receive a tax incentive, which could include a deduction, match or credit. Plus, all withdrawals from 529 Savings Plans will be free from federal income taxes and, in most cases, state income taxes as well, as long as the money is used for qualified college or graduate school expenses of the beneficiary you've named. (If a withdrawal is taken from a 529 Savings Plan but not used for a qualified expense, the portion of the withdrawal representing earnings is subject to ordinary income tax and a 10% federal penalty.)

For your parents - You can probably find a number of thoughtful and valuable financial gifts for your parents. You could, for example, offer to pay a month's worth of their premiums for their auto or health insurance. Even if they are on Medicare, they may still be paying for a supplemental policy, so your gift may well be appreciated. But you might want to go beyond helping them with just a single component of their financial situation and instead provide them with assistance for their "big picture." To do so, you could arrange a visit with a trusted financial professional, assuming your parents aren't already using one. This person could look at all issues, including investments, retirement accounts, long-term care and estate-related financial strategies, and then make appropriate recommendations and even referrals to other professionals.

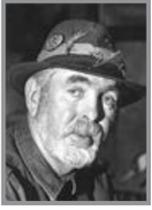

Everyone likes the hearts, flowers and sweets of Valentine's Day. Nonetheless, give some thought to making financial gifts - they can make a difference in your loved ones' lives long after the chocolates are eaten and the roses have faded.

Waxing nostalgic over good rabbit hunting

.....

This past Saturday had numerous anglers ice fishing on local ponds, hoping to catch a few fish for the dinner table. The Whitinsville Fish & Game Club also held its annual ice fishing derby this past Saturday and had a good turnout of members that enjoyed the warm weather, and they caught some nice trout. John Meagher of Whitinsville brought along his granddaughter Hanna Dunohue shown in this week's picture holding a rainbow trout. The fishing derby ended at 11:00 a.m., but Hanna was still fishing, hoping to catch a larger trout than her granddad. A large group of ice fishing anglers converged on Lake Nipmuc this past Saturday, and had a great day of fishing and eating some great food from the grill. The heavy rain of this week sure took a toll on the ice thickness, and totally wiped out all ice on the Cape. Anglers will need to head out to the western part of the state to find safe ice.

Local fishing legend Dan Southwick hauled in a few more pike in the last two weeks at his favorite fishing hole. Dan caught two more pike that were larger than the ones I reported on a few weeks ago. Setting in at his fishing hole at 3:00 a.m. is common practice for Dan, and the bait that he uses remains the secret for catching big pike.

What a monster!!!!

This is the time of year to do some rabbit hunting, if you are fortunate enough to have a couple of good beagles. Although the local rabbit population is down considerably from earlier years, they seem to be making a comeback. Local hare populations are also down locally, but a short trip to the western part of the state could have you enjoying some good hunting for these elusive rabbits. The bare ground that we are enjoying can only add to a day of great rabbit hunting. Listening to the hounds baying as they trail a rabbit is music to my ears. Only a true rabbit hunter can appreciate the sound of a couple of beagles as they chase a rabbit through swamps and fields. I sure do miss the rabbit hunting that I enjoyed through my earlier years. The Cape can also provide the rabbit hunter with some good hunting, but you need to do your homework. Rabbit hunting out of state is another option.

This week's picture shows my two sons David and Ralph Jr. with pheasant and rabbits taken locally with my first beagle Joe, which was purchased from the late John Bolanzo, of Douglas many years ago. My Joe dog won numerous trials that were held at the Blackstone Valley Beagle Club in Douglas. The Beagle Club was formed in 1962 by a group of sportsmen that enjoyed running their dogs on snowshoe hare, that were purchased live by area clubs from a trapper in Canada. At the height of the trapping season, area clubs purchased 1,500 hare annually, and stocked them in areas like the Douglas State Forest. The continued stocking of snowshoe hare kept a good population of hare in the area for sportsmen to train and run their dogs during the off season.

We spent many nights at the Douglas State Forest running our dogs at Bear Swamp, and at what was called the "old pine tree" on the old Thompson Road in Douglas.

Listening to the hounds baying as they trailed the hare was indeed the most enjoyable and exciting time of our lives, which has left me and my buddies with many great memories.

The Beagle Club purchased a large tract of land for unpaid taxes back in the '60s and it is still being maintained by a group of local sportsmen, however the beagles are now absent from the clubs running of snowshoe hare, due in part to the elimination of snowshoe hare being imported to Massachusetts. Anti-hunting groups voiced strong opposition to the importation of hare into Massachusetts and succeeded in stopping the annual stocking of hare called "Operation Snowshoe"! Because of new predators like fisher cat, bobcat, and coyotes it is unlikely many hare would have survived today in local covers.

With all of the complaints of coyotes killing residents' pets, and attacking a couple of young children recently (which is extremely rare) a group of sportsmen decided to hold a contest for the largest coyote harvested in the area, hoping to eliminate the threat. It did not take long for a couple of anti-hunting groups to oppose the event. SAD!!!!

Do not forget the upcoming sportsmen's show at the Big-E in Springfield Feb. 23-25. More on the show next week.

Shepherd Hill shakes off slow start to dispatch Chieftains, 62-48

BY NICK ETHIER
SPORTS STAFF WRITER

BOLTON — Jim Hackenson, head coach of the Shepherd Hill Regional girls' varsity basketball team, called Nashoba Regional — the Rams' opponent on Friday, Feb. 9 — “a quality team,” and it appeared that the Chieftains were going to be able to play right with the Rams in their matchup.

The Hill held slim leads of 11-8 after the first quarter and 28-24 at halftime, but they turned in an impressive second half — they won the third and fourth quarters by a combined 34-24 — to pull away for a 62-48 victory.

“We really picked it up in the second half and the kids responded very well,” said Hackenson. “They’re a good team, and good teams find a way.”

“It was a long ride here and we don’t really do well on long rides, so we started off slow but at halftime we regrouped and really picked it up. We came out strong,” added Shepherd Hill’s Molly Springer.

Springer, a center, was a force down low, especially in the second half. She opened the third quarter with a defensive rebound followed by a layup down the other end of the floor on two separate occasions. Mix in a deep jumper from senior guard Sarah Bellantoni, a 3-pointer from senior guard Bailey Savage (13 points) and a jumper from sophomore guard Isabella Nascimento (18 points, 12 rebounds) and the Rams had an 11-0 run to open up a 39-24 advantage.

Hackenson thought that the team’s defense led to offense, stating, “I think our half-court man defense was outstanding. They [Nashoba] live and die by the 3’s, and we got a lot of rebounds. And we got into a transition game with them and we scored off the transitions.”

Nashoba won first half rebounding, 18-17, but the Rams dominated the glass in the latter two quarters, 28-14. As a result, The Hill outrebounded the Chieftains, 45-32. Springer pulled down an astronomical 18 boards to go along with 19 points, both game-high totals.

“That’s outstanding,” Hackenson said when hearing about Springer’s numbers. “She worked hard for every point she got and she had a lot of rebounds. I [also] thought Julia Dandridge rebounded really well.”

Dandridge, a senior forward, had six points and nine rebounds.

“Julia and I both have older brothers, so we’re used to fighting and the contact,” Springer said of the hard work down low.

Shepherd Hill continued its impressive third quarter and ultimately won the frame, 21-4, to lead, 49-28, entering the final period.

points, Dandridge hit Springer with a pass in stride down low and Springer finished off a lefty layup. Then, with 2:48 left, Savage dribbled the ball on the fast break and looked right before passing left to a wide-open Springer, who again hit a lefty layup to push the lead up to 59-42.

Springer is naturally right-handed.

Nashoba junior forward Brienne Donahue finished with 14 points and 13 rebounds, but totaled just three points and three boards in the second half. A combination of Dandridge, Springer and junior forward Kayleigh Irish were effective in slowing down Donahue’s role in the final two quarters.

Senior guard Sarah Gilloly scored a team-high 15 points for the Chieftains, who dropped to 12-5.

Shepherd Hill improved to 15-2 and has one regular game to go — to be played after press time — before partaking in the Westborough Invitational Tournament and then the Central Mass. Division 1 sectional tournament.

CHARLTON — The Assabet Valley boys' varsity basketball team scored the final 13 points of its game with Bay Path Regional, turning a tense and taut one-possession lead into a 69-53 final, a score that made the game look like a blowout when it was anything but.

With the win, their ninth straight, the Aztecs improved to 15-1 overall and 12-1 in the Colonial Athletic League Large Division. Bay Path dropped to 12-7 overall with the loss. The Minutemen are 8-4 in league play.

With five minutes to play in the game Assabet led by six points, 56-50. With 4:21 to go Bay Path's Joren Ellis (a team-high 17 points, three 3-pointers) cut that lead in half when he canned a trey from the top of the arc.

The Aztecs' Gerry McManus (18 points, three 3-pointers) answered Ellis's triple with one of his own, pushing the Assabet lead back to six, 59-53, with 3:22 to play. McManus's 3-pointer started Assabet's game-ending string of 13 straight points. Jeff Hunter, who scored a game-high 23 points, had seven of the points in the run while McManus scored the other six.

"It was anybody's game early in the fourth quarter, but down the stretch we couldn't hit a shot and they couldn't miss," Bay Path head coach Al Greenough said. "The last couple of weeks, before tonight, we had fallen into a rut offensively and defensively that I didn't really like. That was really the goal tonight, to get out of that rut, and I thought we did that.

"Assabet is a quality team, one of the best teams in Division 4," Greenough continued. "These kids came out tonight and did pretty much everything I asked them to do. It was back and forth the whole game, and it was an exciting game. Then, in the fourth quarter, there was that one stretch where they hit five shots in a row and we missed five shots in a row and that was the difference in the game."

Also scoring in double figures for the Minutemen, with 11 points, was Kody Sandgren. Caiden Ellis added nine points, while Cory Cotton and Pat Dyer scored five points each.

Assabet began to take control of the game — which had 11 lead changes and eight ties in the first half — at the beginning of the second half. The Aztecs scored the first five points of the third quarter, turning a one-point (30-29) halftime deficit into a four point lead, 34-30, less than a minute into the quarter.

The third quarter lead for Assabet got as high as nine points (48-39, 1:12 left in the quarter) but Dan Keefe hit a pair of free throws and Dyer banked home a shot to cut the Bay Path deficit down to five, 48-43, as play entered the fourth quarter.

The Minutemen cut the lead down to three, 48-45, 30 seconds into the period on a post move by Jamie Rodriguez, but Hunter answered with an old school three-point play to push the Assabet lead to six, 51-45, with 7:12 left.

Bay Path scored the next five points to pull to within one, 51-50, with 6:37 remaining. Joren Ellis hit a right side 3-pointer to begin the mini-run and Caiden Ellis finished it with a layup off a drive through the lane.

Assabet answered the Bay Path run with one of its own, scoring the next five points to take a 56-50 lead with 5:13 to play. D.J. Bass scored his only basket of the game, on a drive and layup, to make it 53-50, and McManus followed with a left side 3-pointer to extend the Aztecs' lead to 56-50.

Assabet head coach Bob Corazzini said he was pleased with the poise his team showed in a tight game, in the fourth quarter, on the road.

"That's something we're learning as the season goes along; that's something we had to learn this year," Corazzini said. "I think last year and in seasons' past, we may have lost this one. But I think the guys are starting to understand that they have to keep their composure in those situations.

"I told the guys, the harder you play the luckier you get," Corazzini continued. "If you keep the intensity up and you continue to play hard, you're going to get those close calls, you're going to get those loose balls, and you're going to get those long rebounds. That's what this game came down to."

Bay Path's Jamie Rodriguez looks to pass the ball away before coming back down to the floor.

Rockets impressive in win over Hudson

MARLBOROUGH — On Saturday, Feb. 10, the New England Sports Center played host to one of the fiercest rivalries in all of high school hockey throughout Central Mass. when the Auburn/Millbury/Shepherd Hill/Tantasqua varsity squad took on Hudson High. The Rockets officially tied the Hawks to open the season, 1-1, but it was in the Dana Willard Memorial Christmas Tournament so a winner had to be determined to move on. Hudson won in the shootout, leaving a sour taste in Auburn's mouth.

But the Rockets exacted some revenge and took home a 3-1 win over the Hawks, as Auburn moved to an impressive 10-5-3. They close the regular season at the Wallace Civic Center versus Leominster High at 4 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 15 before hosting North Middlesex Regional at the Horgan Arena on Saturday, Feb. 17 at 7 p.m. The Rockets will then partake in the Central Mass. Division 3 sectional tournament.

Improving Auburn girls' co-op hockey team salvages tie with Framingham

BY DEAN P. ST. LAURENT
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

AUBURN — Junior forward Amalia Monson scored twice, including a goal with 26 seconds left in regulation, to secure a 2-2 tie for the Auburn High girls' varsity co-op hockey team — which also includes student-athletes from Shepherd Hill Regional, Tantasqua Regional, Oxford High, Douglas High, Grafton High, Holy Name High and Notre Dame Academy — against Framingham High on Monday, Feb. 5 at the Horgan Arena.

Time was counting down and the Rockets were a goal behind despite their immense effort in the third period to stay in the game. With less than a minute left, the Rockets continued their aggressive play, looking for the equalizer.

"We knew we needed to win, I just pressed on them to come out and work hard. We had two lackluster first two periods where we let them outshoot us and beat us, so I told them that we had to come out strong in the third period and they did," said Auburn head coach Peter LaPrad. "They came out strong and saw an opportunity, popped a couple in, which is good."

There was under 30 seconds left in regulation and, after passing the puck into Framingham's defensive zone, Auburn senior forward Carrienne Fortier slapped a shot that was padded out by Framingham goalie Hailey Vandelstyn, but junior captain Julia Siemen rocketed another shot off the rebound that was blocked once again by Vandelstyn. From there, Monson cleaned up the rebound and put the puck into the back of the net to tie it with 26.7 seconds left in the game.

Both of Monson's goals came in the third period.

Throughout the whole duration of the contest, Auburn's defense was its strength despite the two goals allowed. Due to their good defense and superb goaltending by senior captain Colleen Fellows, the Rockets were able to be in the position they were in late in the game.

"That is a focus of ours," explained LaPrad. "I run this team from the back end out, strong defense, good goaltending and then up to the forwards, so it is critical for us, we work on it a lot. It is our focus. Our focus is to be defensive minded, have them quarterback the play and they do a good job of it and they did again tonight."

Throughout the course of the season Auburn has had its struggles, but has grown immensely and it is starting to show with their recent play.

"We are maturing, it is funny we have a lot of seniors on the team, but we also have a lot of young players and the young players are active. They are out there getting game time and I think they're starting to mature a little bit," LaPrad stated. "When they start out, the young players are not used to the pace of play because they're so young and they have that four-year span in high school, so I think they're getting a little used to it and starting to get over the butterflies, starting to mature a little bit."

With the season winding down for the 3-8-3 Rockets, they have goals they want to hit before the end of the year.

"We have six games left; I would love to see us win all six of them. One or two of them are against tough opponents and in those games I just hope that they go out there and do as good as they can," LaPrad expressed with a lot of hope. "We would like to get at least three or four more wins on the season, that would be our goal."

Light 'em up now for better garden results

Gardener's Supply Company photos

From a shelf system to a table top, LED grow lights provide greater light intensity, making it easier to grow strong transplants for your gardens and containers.

It's time to break out the seeds and potting mix to start your garden plants indoors. It's a great way to keep your green thumb in shape over winter. Plus, you'll save money, increase your variety of plants and jump start the growing season when you start seeds under LED grow lights.

Indoor growing conditions often offer limited light and that can mean tall leggy transplants with weak stems. You can greatly increase your success by investing in quality grow lights. Adding artificial light to your seed starting regime results in stout transplants with strong stems and deep green leaves.

Invest wisely when shopping for indoor plant lights. Fluorescent tubes used to be the standard because they provided a wide spectrum of light needed for plant growth and flowering, were relatively inexpensive and readily available. Unfortunately, they used significant amounts of electricity and needed to be replaced every few years. Then many gardeners shifted to full spectrum fluorescent grow lights. Many last longer than the older and larger fluorescent tubes, but new LED grow lights (gardeners.com) provide even better light intensity with much less energy.

If you've looked at LED lights in the past, you may have suffered sticker shock. Fortunately, the prices have dropped.

And if you consider LED plant lights typically use half the energy of fluorescent tubes, provide consistent light quality and last up to five times longer, the long-term savings outweighs the initial investment. Plus, they're mercury-free and won't add contaminants to landfills.

When replacing fluorescent tubes with LED grow lights, look for compatibility. Some of the newer LED grow lights are compatible with existing T-5 light setups. You just replace the bulb, not your whole lighting system. You will get the most out of your investment and grow better transplants with proper use. Move seedlings under lights as soon as they start breaking through the soil surface. Keep the lights about six inches above the top of seedlings. This means you'll need to raise the lights or lower the plants as the seedlings grow. Make your own light stand using adjustable supports to raise and lower lights as needed. Use a reflector above grow light tubes to direct the light downward toward the plants. Bounce light back onto seedlings by using reflective surfaces under and around the plants. Even easier, invest in a quality grow light stand like the SunLite® Garden. Set the lights on a timer. Seedlings need about 14 to 16 hours of light. Plants do need a dark period, so running the lights longer wastes electricity and is not good for the plants. If you are using grow lights to supplement natural daylight, you may only need to run the lights a few hours a day. Monitor plant growth and increase the duration if plants appear leggy or pale.

with proper watering, fertilizer and growing temperatures will ensure you have a bumper crop of transplants for your gardens and containers.

WELL REGULATIONS

of action would be to present a cleaner copy of the regulations for each member to review, with an old copy and new one available for comparison. Once the board members feel the document is adequate they would then sign on the changes. Board members made no mention of sweeping alterations to the regulations, but rather minor ones that simplified language and better presented the requirements for private wells in the town.

"I'd like to see one that says wells will be decommissioned with neat cement from the bottom up. Clear cut," Gagner told fellow board members. "I think we just need to get that on paper and make sure that is the final draft - I think we need to tighten up the well regulations and decommission regulations. I know there are other well regulations to talk about."

As more of a public service announcement connected to the discussion about private wells, Gagner took the time to address the issue of water quality and safety explaining that water quality continues to be a concern in parts of Charlton and that those with wells should always be aware of the quality product they are receiving and change out filters as required.

"Every time we talk about water we always want to recommend home owners, if they have filtration systems, should definitely go by their manufacturers changing of the filters, whether it's every year or every six months," Gagner said. "Whatever your system may be, it's very important to change it because those filters could actually hold contaminants and make it a stronger contamination that you could be drinking."

The Board of Health did agree to further discuss potential changes to the private well policies at its next meeting in March.

powerboat, including a personal water craft or Jet Ski for 16 & 17-year-old operators, on all Massachusetts waters; in conjunction with the Massachusetts Environmental Police. Rhode Island residents born in/or after 1986 can also take the Challenge Exam for certification to operate motor vessels over 10 HP along with anyone, any age, from any state, wanting to operate a PWC on RI waters.

It will also cover the requirements to operate a vessel in most other states & many countries where boating safety education is mandatory. Several of the boating insurance companies offer a discount on premiums for successful completion of this course.

This location and one Saturday format has been well received by the local boating community, filling several classes in the past years. Please come and find out how much more there is to know out on the water, and the reality of operating any vessel safely on Webster Lake.

The USCGAux. offers all public education courses at no charge however there is a $40 fee for the cost of materials, ABS textbook, study guide, and certification(s); and only $20 for each additional family member attending with a $100 maximum for families with more than four attending the course.

URGENT—Your Vehicle May Have A Dangerous Air Bag!

(NAPS)
A few simple steps protect your family and loved ones. You may be driving a vehicle with a defective driver's side air bag, passenger's side air bag or both. If you have one of the following vehicles, please call your local Chrysler, Jeep®, Dodge or Ram dealership to schedule a FREE repair:

Chrysler, Jeep, Dodge and Ram dealerships have plenty of new air bags available to replace them. You don't even have to take the vehicle back to the same dealership from which you bought it; any authorized dealer can make the free repairs.

LEARN MORE

For further facts, or if you are not sure whether your vehicle is part of this, you can:

1. Go to recalls.mopar.com and enter your Vehicle Identification Number (VIN), found on the driver's side dashboard near the windshield or the inside driver's side door.
2. Get in touch with your Chrysler, Jeep, Dodge or Ram dealership.
3. Call the dedicated toll-free number: (866) 220-6765. Se habla español.

THE PROBLEM
Here's why: According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), 34 million vehicles have defective air bags, which can cause serious injury or death in the event of a crash. Even a minor fender bender can cause these air bags to explode, spraying metal fragments into drivers and passengers.

A SOLUTION

Fortunately, there is a solution, repairs are FREE and
