Miller: 'Slowly but surely we're getting there'

BY GUS STEEVES
CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER – Although he admits he's been criticized for it, Selectman Robert Miller fully accepts the idea that he's an "in your face type of person" and "not politically correct." He sees those as assets in getting things done, alongside the fact he has numerous connections from nearly 20 years in town politics and even longer as a funeral director.

"I'm just a regular guy, a little one-man operation here," he said, ending with a bit of sarcasm. "Just a regular person, not putting on airs. You can tell by my Armani suit."

Miller is one of four people vying for two seats on the Board of Selectmen this year. The others are fellow incumbent Mark Dowgiewicz, Finance Committee Chair Earl Gabor and newcomer Lisa Kontoes. Election Day is May 2.

While some people feel more comfortable communicating by phone or email, Miller "love[s] the one-on-one contact" of talking to people directly, saying he likes to "see a situation and guide them in the right direction." But he also knows there are some limits to that; the selectmen largely handle policy and funnel public concerns through the town administrator's office to the various departments where they can be resolved.

In some cases, though, guiding policy means making sure long-term concerns stay front and center. Case in point is the water issue. Miller noted that's been a problem for "the last 20 years at least," since state law began requiring chemical treatment that reacted badly with the town's aging pipes. Additionally, he noted, the town wells are down-gradient from I-395, from which road salt and other contaminants have leached for decades.

At present, the town's building a new treatment plant near the beach, and aims to replace some of the pipes "as cost effectively as possible." Part of that involves ongoing contacts with state legislators to push for money to offset local costs, and the whole process will require continued watching to make sure it works well, he said.

The water system, and infrastructure in general, have been "band-aided" in recent years, "and the more you band-aid something, the more it costs in the long term," he said.

To him, an equally critical issue is the need to attract more business to town. While that has started, Miller feels it's necessary to continue being business-friendly and borrow ideas from other towns.

"I'd love to see some high-tech here," and/or biotech, a hotel-conference center, and some kind of family attraction, possibly seasonal, at the lake, he said. Part of that economic change will involve legal cannabis, which town started looking at five years ago, and approved zoning for last year. The board started looking at a new dispensary plan at this week's meeting.

Downtown, he likes the work that's been done around the Riverwalk, which "has been talked about since I was a young person."

"Slowly but surely we're getting there," he said. "People think you can get things done like that [snaps fingers], but you can't."

Regarding the next term, he added, "It's not likely to be complete in three years, but if I knew the foundation was there, I'd say good night, I'm out of here."

Over time, Miller said he'd "love to see" the culture return to something like the entity it once was, with more localized jobs, economy and social network. "Over the last one or two decades, people have gotten so accustomed to going here, there and everywhere" without looking at how much their time, fuel and other things are worth, he said.

Miller notes he's often been the board member who will ask challenging questions about things coming to them – "a million questions" about vehicle purchases, for example. Sometimes, that means getting Town Administrator Doug Willardson "a little nervous up," he said, noting that has been exaggerated by social media.

In general, he praised Willardson, who "came into a mess. We were, in my opinion, about six months from receivership." He likes Willardson's fiscal work and particularly his recent appointments of a new treasurer/collector and accountant, but hasn't always agreed with other decisions. He noted he has been "a little cynical with [Willardson]" and would like to see him "spend a little more time with [his department heads] rather than try to put the fires out himself." But he's not interested in searching for another administrator.

Over the years, Miller

Ballot set for town election

BY GUS STEEVES
CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER – Now that the annual town election ballot is set, Webster's off to the races.

The May 2 balloting features three actual races: four people seeking two seats on the Board of Selectmen, two running for Town Moderator and two running for Housing Authority. There are also five unopposed candidates (all incumbents) running for the School Committee, Bay Path School Committee, Board of Health and two Library Trustee seats.

Most of them, particularly those on the more visible boards, would probably agree with incumbent selectman Robert Miller's statement that "You have to have tough skin [to be in town politics] and not let it gnaw at you," particularly because of social media. He said he's running because he likes helping people in-person with issues, although he notes the board "is limited as to what you can do; it's basically policies and procedures." He's been a selectman "on and off close to 20 years," and sees the biggest issues being the water system and encouraging new business in town, he said.

Two of his opponents have also been involved for some time. Earl Gabor now chairs the Finance Committee and chaired the most recent Charter Review Committee about two years ago. When asked for a quick comment on the election overall, he emailed, "I am running for selectman because I believe that it is time for change in Webster, in the form of refocusing on properties. Our master plan for Webster, adopted by the Board of Selectmen in 2014, set many goals, and a lot of energy and finances have been directed towards them. It is now time, after 5 years, to refocus. Today, the public water system and the lake issues are affecting the Town. This demands greater attention now and into the future. It is time for new ideas and strong leadership."

A second, Mark Dowgiewicz, is a fellow selectman and Connecticut State Trooper who ran for state representative in 2014. By contrast, Lisa Kontoes is a newcomer to elective office, serving now as Information Technology Director of Bay Finance Co., where Selectman Randy Becker is Chief Financial Officer.

Dowgiewicz and Kontoes have not yet been reachable for initial comments or to set up profile interviews, but this newspaper's plan is to individually profile all four of them, and do separate stories on the contests for Moderator and Housing Authority. The former pits incumbent Thomas Ralph, a Webster police officer, against recently retired School Business Manager and former School Committee member Ted Avlas. The latter sees newcomer Rhea Parker seeking to unseat incumbent Douglas Babcock.

One partly-elected body, the Finance Committee, has no candidates, meaning that seat will likely be taken by whoever can muster the greatest number of write-in votes. By Charter, that board is one-third elected and one-third each appointed by the Moderator and Selectmen.

Although the deadline has passed for the election, there are also a few

MARS submits findings to School Committee

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY/CHARLTON – Changes could be on the horizon for the organization of offices within the Dudley-Charlton Regional School District, with the School Committee now mulling over the results of a reorganization assessment performed by the Massachusetts Association of Regional Schools, also known as MARS.

The district partnered with MARS earlier this year with the goal to explore ways to increase efficiency as well as better designate authorities within the district and, after several months of examinations, the verdict is in. MARS is recommending that several changes be considered including altering job descriptions and specifying who certain employees answer to in order to reduce the workload on the superintendent.

Paul Gagliarducci, a consultant for MARS, led the presentation to the School Committee at the end of March, and said the report was meant to provide information to the new incoming superintendent as well as the committee so that they can consider alterations where appropriate and tailor the recommendations to their liking. One of the first recommendations was to examine job descriptions to make

Openings available in Oxford JROTC program

OXFORD — The School Committee for Oxford Public Schools voted at its regular public meeting of March 25 to offer a specific number of additional seats and accept new students to Oxford High School through the state's School Choice program, pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 76, Section 12B. The additional seats will be available specifically and only for the Naval Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps (NJROTC) Program at Oxford High School. The specific number of seat openings are as follows:

-a maximum of 10 seats for freshmen to NJROTC Program at Oxford High School;

-a maximum of 10 seats for sophomores in the NJROTC Program at Oxford High School;

-a maximum of five seats for juniors in the NJROTC Program at Oxford High School.

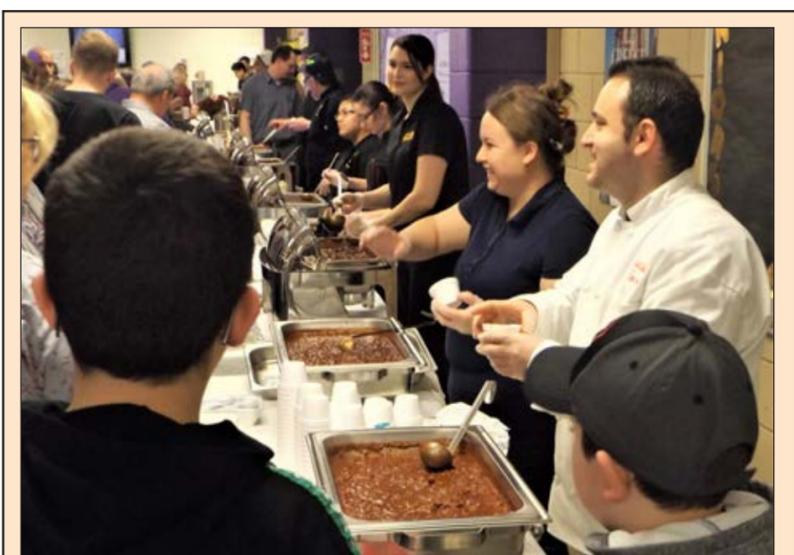

The Naval Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps (NJROTC) has been in existence since Congress passed the Reserve Officers' Training Corps Vitalization Act of 1964. Congress created the program because it saw the need for informed young leaders who understand the duties and responsibilities associated with being an active citizen of the United States. NJROTC programs are conducted at accredited secondary schools throughout the nation and taught by instructors who are retired military officers and/or enlisted personnel.

The NJROTC accredited curriculum emphasizes citizenship and leadership development, maritime heritage, the significance of sea power, and naval topics such as the fundamentals of naval operations, seamanship, navigation, and meteorology. Classroom instruction is augmented throughout the year by extracurricular activities of community service, academic, athletic, drill, marksmanship, and physical fitness training.

NJROTC programs promote patriotism, high school completion, continuing on to higher education, community service, and an understanding of the basic elements and need for national security. The program assists in the development of informed and responsible citizens with a respect for constructed authority, leadership potential, and a high degree of personal honor, self-reliance, individual discipline, and leadership. The program provides information on the military services as a possi-

CHARLTON – As they've done annually now for years, hundreds of people streamed into Bay Path's cafeteria Sunday to sample a wide range of chili styles from dozens of area restaurants. This year's Chili Chowdown was raising funds for the school's baseball team, and visitors had their choice of chilis based on chicken, steak, brisket, ground beef, pork, vegetables, and many others.

Harrington celebrates opening of new clinic

BY ANNIE SANDOLI
CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER—Harrington Healthcare System celebrated the opening of its new Webster-based Physical and Occupational Therapy clinic with a ribbon cutting on Tuesday, March 26, officially unveiling the new facility to board members, legislative representatives, and residents of Webster and the surrounding towns.

The PT and OT clinic has been located at an off-site location on Cudworth Road for over a decade, but the company decided to move it to the 340 Thompson Rd. main campus in a space that formerly housed the Transitional Care Unit owned by Athena Health Care System as part of an effort to ensure that care for patients remains trouble-free and reliable.

“We are excited because the new space puts the clinic in a centralized spot with more foot traffic and other services in the same building, such as labs and imaging,” said Blaine Schnare, Marketing Director for Harrington Healthcare System. “It’s definitely more integrated and seamless. It’s also a bigger space with a larger volume of staff because of growth anticipations, so we can see and treat more patients.”

Rep. Joe McKenna, who received post-surgical rehab at the clinic, and Senator Ryan Fattman were among those in attendance at the ribbon cutting, receiving a tour of the 8,200 square foot facility with 13 private patient treatment areas and a newly-renovated gym.

“My experience at Harrington’s clinic after shoulder surgery was far better than the care I had received in Boston,” said McKenna according to a press release. “Every therapist who worked with me knew me personally and gave me more attention while I was receiving treatment, not to mention that the therapy itself was more thorough and effective. Maybe the best part was that it was local!”

ing patients and scheduling regular appointments on Monday, April 1 and currently has 12 therapists with advanced certifications and training who work Monday through Saturday and offer specialized treatment in many different areas, including sports, orthopedics, manual therapy, hand therapy, Lymphedema, cancer care, vestibular, pelvic floor, and neuromuscular rehab for patients of all ages.

“Over the past four years, we have improved our clinical services, including to expand on staff certifications and advanced training related to new program development including oncology rehab, sports rehab, lymphedema rehab, and other rehab specialties,” said Director of Rehabilitation Brenda Ebode, DPT according to a press release. “We continue to grow every year, and we promise to give patients the absolute best, high quality, compassionate care.”

Over the past 12 months, the Webster clinic has seen over 14,800 patient visits and is expecting that number to continuously grow over the next few years as the new clinic reaches its full potential. Harrington also has additional outpatient PT and OT clinics located in Southbridge and Charlton.

CORRECTION

WEBSTER — In a report on a recent meeting of the School Committee, our correspondent inadvertently misidentified one of the speakers who addressed the committee.

It was Lisa Fifield who spoke to the committee regarding amendments to the district’s contract with the administrative assistants’ union, and not Lori Glennon, as was mistakenly reported in the article, published in our March 29 edition.

The Webster Times deeply regrets any confusion that may have resulted from this unfortunate but unintentional error.

Library partnering with C/W MARS for tech support

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY — The Pearle L. Crawford library is home to a slew of technological resources for the public to utilize, which can present quite the dilemma when it comes to tech updates and management. However, those inconveniences may now be a thing of the past thanks to a new partnership with a library-based company called C/W MARS.

Library Director J. Drusilla Carter recently discussed the partnership with the Library Board of Trustees explaining that C/W Mars will be providing tech support for the library at a minor cost for the foreseeable future. C/W MARS, or the Central Western Massachusetts Automated Resource Sharing, Inc., is a library consortium that devotes itself to resource sharing and access to information including keeping technology up to date. According to Carter, the library has often found it difficult to keep up with the maintenance of all of its systems. This new partnership will streamline everything under one entity and take the pressure off of library personnel.

“We do have 36 computers, two self-checkout machines, 11 laptops total in the building and a bunch of printers. It’s too much for one person to make sure we have all the updates and everything,” Carter said. “Just keeping up with updates for software and operating systems and so on takes hours and hours and they’re willing to just take that all off our plate.”

Carter said she has been impressed by what C/W MARS has offered communities and feels that the partnership provides cost savings in more ways than one.

“The total cost if you do the math comes out to 20 hours of retrofits time. They come and do two hours on one computer, so the cost savings is significant,” Carters said.

The total yearly cost will be $3,300, which the Library Trustees felt was a tremendous deal for the amount of work the consortium will be doing. Carter said the deal includes “unlimited support” and that one of the technicians lives a mere mile away from the library. C/W MARS will also be working with the library’s HVAC company to allow for remote access to the building through a network making it easier for air conditioning and heating issues to be resolved as well.

Webster FD announces Easter flower sale

WEBSTER — The Webster Fire Department will be holding their annual Easter flower sale at Fire Headquarters, located at 55 Thompson Rd. This year, the Fire Department will be joined by the Diamond Cats cheer team from Central Mass Athletics located on Town Forest Road here in Webster.

The Diamond Cats are competing at the D2 Summit the second weekend in May on Florida. To compete at Summit, teams must receive a bid at a prior competition to be eligible to participate. Lead by coach and gym owner Amy Tryba and coach Loretta Andre, the girls have many years of coaching expertise and talent on their side. Although this is Central Mass Athletics first season as a newly established gym, Amy has been a local business woman having run prior gyms in Webster for the past 18 years.

When originally approached, Chief Hickey was happy to help out one of his department members daughter. Abby Peters is a member of the Diamond Cats cheer team and also the daughter of long time Fire Department Member Matthew Peters. Abby volunteers at the Fire Department for its yearly open house every October. Chief Hickey contacted Brotherhood President Michael Pinto with our request which was granted without hesitation. Both Chief Hickey and the entire department were ready to help the Diamond Cats and have always supported their fire department families and the children of our community. The Easter Flower sale is one of the biggest fundraisers of the year of the Webster Fire Department Brotherhood. In the past proceeds from the flower sale have been used to purchase anti-carcinogenic hoods to help prevent the crisis firefighters are facing with the increase in fire related cancers. Donations from the sale have also been made to members facing hard times due to Cancer in their immediate family and when necessary funeral costs.

The Flower Sale will run on Friday and Saturday, April 19 and 20 from 8 a.m.-5 p.m., and Easter Sunday from 8 a.m. till sold out.

The Easter Bake sale, Car Wash and Bottle Drive will be held from 9 a.m.-2 p.m. on Saturday, April 20. We will have individually wrapped items and platters and whole pies and cakes available. Please drop off bottles (including water bottles) and cans to our tent and for a donation for the kids have your car washed.

Above and below: Mrs. Parmley inspiring the students to do their best on the MCAS test and reminding them that they are loved!

YOU CAN AND YOU WILL! GO POLAR BEARS!

The first ever Park Avenue Elementary MCAS Pep Rally was a HUGE success and a powerful demonstration of how we support each other and put our students first! The message of the pep rally was WE BELIEVE IN YOU!

The Bartlett High School Drama club put on a funny Scooby Do skit to encourage students to do their best, and the very talented BHS Cheerleaders welcomed all the 3rd and 4th graders into the gym - wow-ing us with their incredible routines. The BHS basketball players entertained us with their slam dunk talents and the BHS band rocked the house!

Mexicali joins Park Avenue to inform parents about MCAS

On Tuesday, March 26, Park Avenue Elementary hosted "A Family Guide to the MCAS Assessment Night. Approximately 80 parents and students attended this evening for the purpose of putting parents and guardians at ease regarding this important assessment, while supporting them in a better understanding of MCAS; as well as providing tips as to how best help their children in being prepared on the days of testing. Bartlett High School students from their National Honor Society and members of the Student Council provided child care during the presentation portion which allowed parents to watch the slide show, take notes, and ask questions freely. Mexicali played an important role in this evening by providing an entire taco bar for the parents, students, and staff so they could attend this important event without the worry of having to make supper beforehand. Carlos, the owner of Mexicali, generously donated all of the fixings to make delicious tacos, took the time to set everything up (including the mariachi music!), and clean afterwards...and did so simply to support our school and our students!

Katie Lorkiewicz presents at Lasell College symposium

NEWTON — Katie Lorkiewicz, a Fashion and Retail Merchandising student from Webster, presented work at the Lasell College Fall Connected Learning Symposium on December 4.

Lorkiewicz presented a capstone project, "Sperry Outlet Rebranding."

The Connected Learning Symposium at Lasell College occurs twice a year to showcase student work tied to real-world clients and applications outside of the classroom. The event has run since 2002, though this fall's was the first to take on a theme - diversity, equity, and inclusion - as seen in more than half of the day's presentations.

"This symposium was a special one," said Jim Ostrow, vice president for academic affairs. "Students were poised, confident, and creative educators for our community. In praising student work, we also celebrate the superb work of our faculty."

In addition to Lorkiewicz's work, the day featured events and presentations including a professional business negotiation for the location of the 2032 Olympics, an athletic training clinic, performance art, sustainable fashion design, media ethics, crime theory, intergenerational genealogy, and more. To learn more about Lasell College and its Connected Learning Symposium, visit <https://www.lasell.edu/academics/connected-learning/connected-learning-symposium.html>.

The next Connected Learning Symposium will take place in April 2019.

 I am excited to announce my decision to run for the position of Dudley Town Clerk. Ora Finn has decided to start the much deserved next chapter of her life. Her experience, knowledge and friendship will be hard to replace. However, based on our mutual respect and friendship, I am sure we will provide a smooth transition.

I have over 21 years of municipal experience in Dudley and Charlton. With this experience and my long residence in town, I know well the services required of the Town Clerk's office. These services are vital to Dudley residents and the smooth operation of our Town government. I was the secretary to the Dudley Board of Selectmen for six (6) years. Since 2004, I have been the Administrative Assistant to the Town Administrator and now the Board of Selectmen in Charlton.

The Town Clerk is a very important position in Municipal Government, being one of the main offices for a point of contact to residents seeking information. Customer service is a must.

I enjoy working and assisting the public.

I am thoroughly familiar with Mass General Laws, Public Records Laws, the Open Meeting Law and the Conflict of Interest Law. I am also a Notary Public, which is essential for a Town Clerk. For 21 years, I have provided efficient, courteous customer service, and I promise to continue that commitment as Dudley's Town Clerk. I have hands-on experience with payroll, billing, public records requests, confidentiality, elections, and Town meetings.

I have been a Girl Scout leader, a catechism teacher, a gymnastics instructor, a softball mom and a dance mom. I also do volunteer work at a food pantry monthly.

It would be an honor for me to continue my service to the community where it all started in 1998. Please consider voting for me — Mary Devlin — for Dudley Town Clerk on June 10. Thank you for your consideration.

When in doubt, remove hanging objects

CHIEF'S CORNER
STEVE WOJNAR

Recently, I was asked a question about objects hanging from a vehicle's rear-view mirror. These can include handicapped placards, parking passes, or decorations of some kind. Is there an issue if you drive with these things hanging from the mirror?

The law, which can apply when items are left hanging from a rear-view mirror while driving, is found under Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 90, Section 13. This law contains the definition for "impeded operation." It states in part, "No person, when operating a motor vehicle shall permit to be on or in the vehicle or on or about his person anything which may interfere with or impede the proper operation of the vehicle or any equipment by which the vehicle is operated or controlled..." This definition covers many situations, and they are handled by police on a case by case basis. According to this law, items cannot block windows, cover mirrors, or interfere in any way with a driver's ability to safely operate the vehicle. The presence of placards or other items could be considered an impediment to the clear view of a driver in many cases. The rules can also pertain to other things, such as dash cameras, GPS Units, ornaments, large air fresheners, etc. A violation of this law carries a $35 civil assessment.

It is important to have a clear and unimpeded field of vision, as well as a distraction free driver compartment. Take the time to remove items which may be an impediment. This small step could make a big difference in preventing an accident.

A time for renewal

After a long, frigid, snowy winter, warmer, longer days are finally here. As March turns into April, more and more of our neighbors can be seen emerging from their homes and onto our Main Streets. Folks are out walking their dogs, runners can be seen flying by our windows and people about town seem to have more of a pep in their step.

While each season has its own perks, there is something about spring that seems to surprise us each year. We re-acquaint ourselves with our yards as they slowly reveal themselves as the snow banks melt away. Muddy grass has never been a kinder sight.

Over the past few weeks, the common chatter has been about the Red Sox, springtime fitness goals, gardening, hiking...you know, the usual.

With spring also comes 'spring fever.' In modern times, this is a semi-positive term; however, back in colonial times, 'spring fever' referred to the poor quality of health everyone was in after sustaining a winter without fresh vegetables and proper diet. Today's 'spring fever' will have children restless in school, new romances transpire and people attacking their homes with dust cloths and Windex.

Experts say the changes that a person goes through during the springtime are due to hormonal changes in the body. During the winter months, the body secretes a large amount of melatonin, (the sleep hormone). The presence of more sunlight in spring sends the body a message to stop producing as much melatonin. This causes folks to be more awake. Add this to the uptick in your serotonin levels due to the sunlight, and you will not only be awake but enthusiastic.

Interesting to note is that during the springtime, the body becomes more susceptible to illnesses. Way back when, scurvy outbreaks always occurred during this time of year as did rubella and measles. Doctors note that in April, gout, a condition that affects joints, peaks in individuals. Because there are more allergens in the air, you will see more cases of rosacea and other skin irritations on the rise.

Just to touch on a bit of history as we love to do, the month of April is derived from the word 'Aprillis,' which is derived from the word 'aperire,' meaning "to open." This would make sense as the world becomes abloom again in spring.

Now, back to the Red Sox. It seems as though the team is off to a rough start with just one win and three losses against the Mariners at press time. With 162 games to be played over the season, though, we aren't too worried with these early stats.

Earth Day offers valuable lessons to investors

On April 22, millions of people will observe Earth Day by participating in events that support environmental protection. As a citizen, you may want to take part in a local celebration. And as an investor, you can learn a few lessons from the themes of Earth Day.

FINANCIAL FOCUS
DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

Here are a few of them:

Avoid a toxic investment environment. A recurring topic of Earth Day is the necessity of reducing toxins from our air, water and land. And, while you might not think of it in those terms, your portfolio can also contain some "toxic" elements in the form of investments that may be hindering your progress, or, at the very least, not contributing to it. For instance, you might own some investments that, for one reason or another, have consistently underperformed, or are now too aggressive for your risk tolerance, which can change over the years. In these cases, you might be better off selling the investments and using the proceeds for other, more appropriate ones.

Look for sources of renewable energy. Efforts to protect our environment include a push for more renewable energy sources, such as solar and wind. As an investor, you, too, can look for "renewables" in the form of investments that keep paying you back in one way or another. Of course, the most basic example would be a bond, which pays you regular interest until the bond matures and you get your principal back, provided the issuer doesn't default, which is generally unlikely with an investment-grade bond. However, you also may want to consider another type of renewable — dividend-paying stocks. By reinvesting these dividends, you can increase the number of shares you own — and share ownership is a good way to help build your portfolio. Some companies have paid, and even increased, their dividends many years in a row, but keep in mind they're not obligated to do so.

Plant seeds of opportunity. Some Earth Day events involve planting trees — many of which won't be fully grown for decades. When you invest, you are planting seeds in the form of investments you hope will grow over the years. Of course, you will likely see some volatility along the way, but over the long term, investments with strong fundamentals may reward you for your patience.

Apart from these ideas, you also can connect the idea of helping protect the environment with investing for your goals. Through socially responsible investing, you can screen out investments in companies whose products you find objectionable, while supporting businesses whose work you believe helps contribute to a better world. And you can find investments, such as mutual funds that emphasize social responsibility, whose returns are competitive, so you don't have to sacrifice growth potential for your principles.

In the nearly 50 years since Earth Day celebrations began, we have taken steps to improve many aspects of our physical world, although the work continues. And by following some of the same techniques, you can improve your investment environment, too.

Simple strategies for a larger tomato harvest

Nothing is more frustrating than investing time, money and energy in planting and growing tomatoes only to watch them succumb to disease. We can't change the weather conditions that support disease problems, but we can tweak our growing strategies to reduce this risk.

GARDEN MOMENTS
MELINDA MYERS

Select and grow the most disease-resistant varieties suited to your growing region. Consult your local University Extension Office for a list of recommended tomatoes and always check the plant tags before purchasing plants.

Plant tomatoes in a sunny location, that receives at least eight or more hours of sunlight, with rich well-drained soil. Your plants will be healthier and better able to fend off insects and tolerate disease.

No room — no problem. Grow your tomatoes in containers filled with a quality potting mix and drainage holes. Many of the newer containers, like Gardener's Victory Self-Watering Patio Planter are designed to increase success with less effort on your part. Look for containers with built-in trellises, large reservoirs and other features that promote healthy growth and productivity.

Properly space plants to increase airflow and sunlight reaching all parts of the plant. This reduces the risk of disease and increases a plant's ability to produce more fruit. Leaving space between plants also helps reduce the spread of disease from diseased plants to nearby healthy plants.

Further reduce the risk of disease by lifting the plants off the ground. Supporting plants with strong tomato cages improves air flow and light penetration while keeping the plants and fruit off the ground and away from soil-borne insects and diseases.

Avoid flimsy tomato towers that tend to topple and bulky cages that consume too much storage space. Consider investing in one of the stronger supports like the Gardener's Vertex Lifetime Tomato Cage that stores flat and is strong, but flexible to encourage stouter growth. Another benefit is that it opens, so you can easily place them around larger plants; just in case you waited too long to set the cages in place.

Use soaker hoses or irrigation systems like the Waterwell Irrigation System that target water to the soil around the plant. Placing water just where it is needed — on the soil — conserves moisture while keeping the foliage dry. Overhead irrigation uses more water and increases the risk and spread of many common tomato diseases.

Boost your tomato plants' productivity by as much as 20% with red mulch.

The USDA and Clemson University developed a red mulch that reflects far-red wavelengths upward into the plants stimulating growth and development. For more help growing tomatoes successfully and boosting your tomato harvest, visit gardeners.com.

Rotate plantings from one garden, or area within a garden, to another. Moving related plants to different locations each year reduces the build up of insects and diseases, reducing the risk of future problems. Consider rotating your tomato plantings into containers if space is limited. Start with fresh soil, a clean container and disease-resistant plants.

With these few changes and a bit of cooperation from the weather, your new challenge may be finding ways to use and share your bumper harvest. Your surplus tomatoes and vegetables are always welcome at food pantries and meal programs in your community.

Dunn's massive day at plate helps Warriors defeat Bartlett

BY NICK ETHIER
SPORTS STAFF WRITER

WEBSTER — With the Tantasqua Regional varsity softball team already having played a tight game to open its season, a 7-6 setback to Assabet Valley on Monday, April 1, the Warriors were engaged in another close one when playing at Bartlett High on Wednesday, April 3. Tantasqua led, 6-5, as play moved to the top of the sixth inning.

"When we come down here we sometimes don't play that well for some reason, and this team is getting better year by year," Phil Desroches, head coach of the Warriors, said of the Indians. "But we've got some good hitters, Jillian [Dunn] obviously, and some of the others. Kaitlyn Boone's been crushing the ball, Niya's [Talcott] been crushing the ball."

Jillian Dunn, a senior, stepped to the plate in the sixth with the bases loaded and she promptly deposited a pitch she liked over the left-field fence for a grand slam home run.

Dunn added another homer, a three-run shot in the seventh inning, and finished 5-for-5 with 7 RBI's. Boone went 2-for-4 with 4 RBI's and Talcott added two more RBI's. In addition, Emily Locke was 2-for-4 with 2 RBI's and Erin McCarthy was 2-for-3.

As a result Tantasqua won the game, 15-6.

"She's a stud," Desroches said of Dunn. "She's going to Le Moyne to play softball, that's her passion. She's hitting seeds all over the place."

Through two games Dunn is 7-for-9 with 9 RBI's.

Dunn had a theory as to why she went 5-for-5 versus Bartlett.

"Yesterday I really focused at practice getting down on my swing and really focusing on the different angles that I want my bat at, and today it just worked," she explained. "Everything clicked and I saw the pitches really well."

Dunn then admitted that she didn't even know that her first homer was a grand slam until rounding third base and seeing her awaiting teammates at home plate.

"I think it was my not realizing that there were three people on base," she said. "The pitch came in just like I wanted it, and there it went."

Dunn's blast gave the Warriors a 10-5 lead and Boone followed with a two-run shot, also over the left-field fence.

Dunn's three-run homer in the seventh, another one to left field, made it 15-5.

"It was just special because my sister was on second base," Dunn said of Shannon Dunn, a freshman who pinch-hit earlier in the frame and singled. "It made it sweet."

Boone pitched the first five innings to pick up the win. She allowed three earned runs on seven hits while striking out two and walking four. In only her second career varsity start (she earned one a season before) she improved to 2-0. Rachel Flamand pitched the final two innings for the Warriors.

As for Bartlett, the loss shouldn't overshadow the way they competed for the majority of their season-opening game.

"This was a competitive game until the fifth inning," said first-year head coach Courtney Stawiecki, who was an assistant for the previous four seasons. "Their bats came alive."

Breanna Ward pitched all seven innings for the Indians and finished with eight strikeouts before tiring in the final two innings.

"Bre is stepping up for us this year. She was on the team last year, [but] she did not see a lot of pitching time last year," explained Stawiecki.

Stawiecki expects the Indians to continue turning the corner, as a season ago they finished with a record of 9-8 and advanced to District play for the first time in many years.

"We started making the turn last year, the girls started executing really good softball and then this year we have nine returning veterans," she said. "I'm very happy with their leadership this year. Their commitment to the program and the changes that they're making have been really good."

Katrina Mrzyglod was 3-for-4 for Bartlett, while teammates Camden Heenan and Juliette Griffiths were each 2-for-4.

Left fielder Juliette Griffiths of Bartlett squeezes the glove to make the catch.

Bartlett shortstop Brittany Ward sees the ball into her glove for an out.

Niya Talcott of Tantasqua smashes the ball toward Bartlett's defense.

Pirates pack offensive punch to get past Bay Path

Sam Meech of Oxford finishes her swing while making contact with the pitch.

BY NICK ETHIER
SPORTS STAFF WRITER

OXFORD — When the Oxford High varsity softball team lost its season-opener to Millbury High, 12-0, on Wednesday April 3, the Pirates produced just one hit. That needed to change when they hosted Bay Path Regional on Friday, April 5.

“We came out knowing we were going to swing the bat today no matter what and we were going to have fun and go right at them,” explained Oxford head coach Jamie Hetherman.

The Pirates connected on 12 hits and scored 11 runs en route to a back-and-forth 11-7 victory over the Minutemen.

“I’m very proud of the effort the whole game,” said Hetherman, which included an instance where Oxford trailed, 7-4, heading into the bottom of the fifth inning before tallying six runs in the frame to take a 10-7 lead.

“They stuck in there and kept battling,” Hetherman said of the rally. “We hit the ball hard today, very hard.”

Bay Path struck first for two runs in the top of the first when Kyleigh Sutherland scored on a passed ball and Emily Johnson ripped an RBI single up the middle.

The Pirates tied the score at 2-2 with two runs in the home half of the first. There, Crystal Nelson had an RBI single and Sam Meech added an RBI via sacrifice fly.

The game remained deadlocked at 2-2 until the bottom of the third when Oxford added two more runs. Nelson ran out an inside-the-park home run to left field and Hannah Buxton added an RBI single.

Bay Path didn’t back down, though, and scored a run in the top of the fourth. Paige Osche drove home pinch runner Jackie Ross to make it 4-3, and the Minutemen added four more in the fifth inning to take a 7-4 lead.

In the fifth Stella Traina (2-for-4) blooped an RBI single into left field, Johnson (3-for-4, 3 RBI) doubled two more in and a throwing error ultimately scored Johnson.

But that’s when the Pirates didn’t hang their heads and scored six times to grab the lead and ultimately the win. Nelson (3-for-3, HBP, 3 RBI; also complete game victory pitching) started it off with an RBI single, and Buxton (3-for-4, 2 RBI) and Madison Kahn followed suit and did the same. Isabella Buxton then cranked a triple to right field to score a pair and she later scored on a passed ball.

Oxford added a final run in the sixth inning via an Audrey Hayes fielder’s choice to plate Skylia Hodson.

Hetherman noted that his once youth-

Oxford pitcher Crystal Nelson got the win on the mound as the Pirates defeated Bay Path, 11-7.

Nick Ethier photos

ful team has grown into the upperclassmen ranks.

“Now we’re all juniors. They’ve been playing a lot of games for three years and now it’s their time,” he said.

Bay Path head coach Rick Carrero attributed his team’s three errors and other untimely mistakes to a potential reason for surrendering 11 runs.

“Defensively we freaked and started whipping them,” he said.

Carrero was quick to add, however, that he likes the direction his team is going for the spring ahead.

“I expect that we’re going to bounce back and we’ll be fine,” he said. “I expect to make a [postseason] run — I think we have the talent to do it.”

In an interesting side story, Carrero has never beaten Hetherman while coaching against one another. Carrero, who had Hetherman as a Pop Warner football coach with the Webster Beavers back in the day, is now 0-11 over his time coaching Southbridge High and now Bay Path.

“There were people from Webster here watching because it’s like, ‘when are you going to beat the old man,’ and he doesn’t want to lose to me,” Carrero laughed.

“He’s getting closer and closer to beating me,” added Hetherman. “Sooner or later he’s going to catch me, but not yet.”

Both teams, now 1-1, will meet again next month. Oxford will travel to Bay Path on May 9 with the first pitch to be thrown at 3:30 p.m.

Oxford's Hannah Buxton corraling a grounder hit down the third baseline and then throws over to a covering Ciara Gendron at second.

Ciara Gendron of Oxford bunts her way onto first base for one of her two hits versus Bay Path.

Bay Path first baseman Lizzie McLam reaches her glove out to secure the ball and make an out.

Rams regain composure, hold on to beat North Middlesex

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY — The Shepherd Hill Regional boys' varsity lacrosse team's best example of how playing a controlled, disciplined game can pay dividends came from the Rams themselves in their April 4 game against North Middlesex Regional.

Shepherd Hill, playing under control and within itself, jumped out to a four-goal halftime lead. After a third quarter filled with temper tantrums and mistakes, however, that lead was pared to just one goal early in the fourth quarter.

The Rams regained their composure in the fourth period, scoring four times in the final nine minutes to hold off the Patriots and emerge with a 12-8 victory at Carmignani Field.

"The game was a tale of two halves. The first one penalty free, the second one, not so penalty free. That allowed [North Middlesex] to tighten the game up," Rams' head coach Harry Jones said moments after recording the first win of his Shepherd Hill coaching career.

Juniors Ethan Quinn, Cam Gagnon and Evan Fasolo all scored three goals each for Shepherd Hill, while classmate Nolan Burke added a goal and seven assists. All three of Quinn's goals came in the first half, after which the Rams led, 8-4.

"I thought we looked pretty good in the first half once we figured out they were in a zone. When we realized that we switched our formation, which caused them a lot of problems because their heads weren't really on a swivel and they weren't picking up cutters and that got us a lot of free points," said Jones, a physical education teacher at Dudley Middle School.

"And then the second half happened," Jones continued. "We just couldn't stay out of the penalty box. That's a problem with this team for some reason. They can't let things go, or they do something that is a detriment to us."

Two third-quarter goals from North Middlesex (0-1) cut the Shepherd Hill lead to a single goal, 8-7, with 10:21 to play on junior Shain Price's second tally of the game.

The Rams responded quickly however, pushing the lead back to two goals, at 9-7, on Fasolo's second goal of the game, with 8:24 to play.

Gagnon extended the Shepherd Hill lead to 10-7 with 5:57 remaining in the game off a set play in front of the Patriots' net. Fasolo's third goal — a missile that sailed past North Middlesex goalie Tyler Melanson — gave the Rams an 11-7 lead with 3:13 to play. Gagnon closed out the Shepherd Hill scoring with 2:10 remaining, scoring an unassisted goal.

"I thought the team rectified the situation it had gotten itself in with those four fourth-quarter goals," said Jones, who grew up in Syracuse, N.Y., and played collegiately at Herkimer Community College and Syracuse University. "I felt like we were pretty confident on the offensive end. A lack of possession in the second half, especially in the third quarter, hurt us because of all the time spent in the penalty box."

Senior Anthony List picked up the win in goal for the Rams, making 10 saves in the game, three early in the fourth quarter while his team was clinging to that one-goal lead.

"I was pleased with our offense today, especially because we're still trying to find our groove and find the right personnel in any type of situation," said Jones, whose team lost to King Phillip, 16-3, in its season-opening game. "We're a pretty good passing team when we move our feet and we don't stay stagnant or make straight-line passes where a guy can intercept it."

"When our catcher and our passer are moving we're pretty good," Jones, a Charlton resident, added. "I thought we did a really nice job moving the ball. Ethan Quinn scored on a crease at one point on a play where he did a nice job of catching the ball and releasing it quickly. That all started with the pass and I thought our guys did a nice job of catching the ball and finding the right spots to shoot."

Evan Fasolo of Shepherd Hill races past a North Middlesex defender.

The Shepherd Hill boys' varsity lacrosse team defeated North Middlesex, 12-8, for their first victory of the 2019 season.

Shepherd Hill's Nolan Burke keeps the ball away from the reach of a North Middlesex long pole defender.

has faced some criticism for not filing ethics paperwork on time and having family members on the fire department and Board of Health (his wife is the chair). But he argues he's not using his seat to benefit himself or his family, just to do things for the town. (Selectmen do get a small stipend, which he said comes to about $217 a month after taxes.)

He sees his occupation, interest in local history and board memberships as helping that. Those give him contact with a lot of influential people and old families in the region, plus allowing him to talk to people in 40 states and several other countries. Between those contacts and ones he's made with other town officials in Massachusetts, he finds it easy to "talk about the pros and cons" of issues with a wide spectrum of people, bringing ideas back to Webster.

"I don't follow sports. I have no hobbies. Bob is a dull boy," he jokes, noting he works "about 100 hours" a week. "... My whole thing is that some members of the board will look to me and ask 'How did we get to this point?' I get first-hand knowledge from people. ... I've

There are many benefits to the NJROTC program. For example, approximately 60 percent of the NJROTC cadets graduating seniors continue to higher education. It provides the opportunity for students to learn the basic elements and need for national security, it encourages initiative and individuality to develop natural gifts, to teach self-control, develop personal character, responsibility, and qualities of integrity, loyalty, and dedication. Cadets derive self-esteem from belonging to the NJROTC program and are better behaved, have higher attendance, are role models for the avoidance of substance abuse and develop positive life skills. The values, principles, and self-discipline taught promotes positive and productive behaviors.

The NJROTC Unit at Oxford High School was established in 1995, and is a nationally recognized unit. Since inception, the unit has earned special recognition from the Chief of Naval Education and Training. It continues to build responsible cadets keenly interested in developing academic and leadership skills, providing selfless service to school and community. In Drill and color guard competitions, Oxford's cadets have enjoyed much success. They've earned multiple New England Regional Championship titles at multi-service championship. In Marksmanship, OHS Pirates have earned Top Shooting Club awards as the best high school team in the country. Oxford continues to excel in competitive drill meets as part of the All Navy New England Drill League as well as national postal academic and physical fitness competitions and local shoulder-to-shoulder live fire competitions. The unit recently earned the Commander Naval Service Training Command Distinguished Unit Award for the 17th time.

Oxford's Senior Naval Science Instructor, Captain Russell Knight, was hired by Oxford Public Schools in 2017 after the retirement of longtime instructor Commander Michael Masley, who was hired as the first Senior Naval Science Instructor and began the NJROTC unit at Oxford High School in 1995. Captain Knight graduated from the University of Rhode Island with a Bachelor of Science degree in Civil/Ocean Engineering. He received his naval commission in 1982, and was designated a Naval Aviator in 1984. Captain Knight completed the United States Naval Test Pilot School in 1989 and served as a fixed wing flight instructor. He earned a Master's degree in National Security and Strategic Studies from the United States Naval War College and a Navy Federal Executive Fellowship at Tufts University's Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy. He commanded NAS Meridian from 2005-2008, and served his final four years of active duty as the Deputy Commander and Chief of Staff of the United States Naval War College, retiring in 2012 after 30 years of naval service.

To be eligible for the Oxford NJROTC program, students must be physically qualified to participate fully in the physical education program, be selected by the NJROTC Naval Science Instructor with the approval of the School Principal or his/her representative. Further, the student must maintain acceptable standards of academic achievement and an academic standing that warrants at least normal progression leading to graduation, maintain acceptable standards of conduct, and comply with specified personal grooming standards.

For more information regarding the Naval Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps (NJROTC), please visit www.njrotc.navy.mil.

Students who do not reside in Oxford, but who are interested in applying to Oxford's NJROTC program should visit the Oxford Public Schools Web site, oxps.org. Under "Parent Links" and "School Choice," download, read, and complete the School Choice Letter and Application, attach all requested documents, and mail the complete packet to Dr. Elizabeth Zielinski, Superintendent of Schools, 4 Maple Rd., Oxford, MA 01540 or fax to (508) 987-6054.

Deadline for application submission is May 31.

If more applications are received than there are open slots, a lottery will be held, and a waiting list will be created. All applicants will be informed of this action.

sure redundancies as well as cross training are properly managed. The goal is to make sure there is a succession plan for each job, a backup plan in case of absences, and an organized hierarchy so that those paid to manage certain departments are the go-to contacts in case of concerns.

"Currently, a number of people walk through the superintendent's door to get a yes or a no and in some cases those people could be handled at another level. Our job was to clean that up," Gagliarducci said. "The second goal was to create and organizational chart that we feel would enhance communication."

Two charts were presented to the School Committee to drive home the findings of the MARS study. The first chart explored the current staff and who they report to putting and emphasis on the Director of Finance and Operations, Director of Curriculum and Instruction, Director of Technology Services and Director of Student Services as four administrators that should handle daily reports before they go to the superintendent's office. The second chart proposes the creation of a new assistant superintendent position, one a specific focus on curriculum.

"The way we're set up here in Dudley and Charlton now, there needs to be more of a leadership role in the person in charge of curriculum. That's what happens if you decide to go with an Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction. In our opinion the issue of secession and the issue of curriculum leadership are solved by selecting and assistant superintendent of schools," said Gagliarducci.

Other major recommendations included renaming or reassessing current positions within the district. In addition to shifting the Director of Curriculum and Instruction position to an Assistant Superintendent position MARS is also recommending for the Benefits Coordination position to shift to a Human Resource Coordinator, the Head Custodian position at Shepherd Hill Regional to change to Coordinator of Buildings and Grounds, and the District Data Specialist and Registrar to be divided into two positions with a part-time Registrar. MARAS also suggested a slew of operational improvements including software updates and a shift in how the district utilizes certain revenue sources to balance the budget.

"In your budget, you have a fairly heavy reliance on two revenue streams that are sensitive to say the least. One is school choice and the other one is the use of E&D (Excess and Deficiency)," Gagliarducci said. "I think you need to take a look at that and have a discussion with the two communities. The E&D is designed primarily for emergencies. You have a tendency to rely on it as a revenue stream and I think you need to be careful about that - You need to sort of think about a long-term strategy."

MARS is also recommending safety audits on the buildings and updating safety to be in line with other districts and state requirements where appropriate.

The School Committee decided not to submit any comments on the plan instead choosing to hold off on their commentary until a later meeting to give members a chance to "digest" the findings for future consideration.

Talking turkey... wild turkeys, that is

Wild Turkey hunting season will start on April 29 this year in Massachusetts. There is no shortage of birds in the valley, and harvesting a bird during the spring hunt should be no problem.

When wild turkey hunting was first opened in the Valley area, sportsmen knew very little about how to hunt for this great game bird that was extinct in Massachusetts for many years! When Mass. Fish & Wildlife reintroduced wild turkey back into the state, they were slow to reproduce, but when the correct truly wild birds were stocked in Northern & Western parts of the state, their efforts finally paid off.

When the flocks of wild turkey were well established, many birds were trapped and restocked in the valley. It did not take long for the birds to reproduce, and a hunting season was part of the outdoorsmen's annual things to do. Numerous wild turkey hunting seminars were held at local rod & gun clubs, providing a lot of information for first time turkey hunters. The seminars were a lot of fun, with numerous professional turkey hunters providing all in attendance a lot of laughs and plenty of information on how to harvest their first bird. A great meal was also provided for the seminars by club members.

We have all learned a lot about wild turkey hunting over the years, by our own experiences. Missed birds because of the hunters inability to wait for a closer shot, and setting up under a turkey on the roost, was one of the big mistakes that many hunters did to ruin an otherwise successful hunt. Hunting from a ground blind sure made

.....

it easier for sportsmen to call in a turkey. Over the past few years, I have used a ground blind, and have had great success calling in birds from a long distance while enjoying a cup of coffee or a quick snack. Ground blinds give you freedom of movement while hunting, which is very important. The keen eyesight of a wild turkey is extremely good, & they can spot something that is out of place from a long distance. Any movement is quickly picked up by the turkeys keen eyesight. Patience is the name of the game!

Turkey decoys work very well under most conditions, but there are times when a bird has been called too often, and becomes a bit more educated, and is weary about decoys. He may have been called in or shot at, which will make it harder to bring the bird in for a good shot. This writer has saved the full tail of the turkey that I harvested in past years and spread them out on a piece of cardboard to dry. Placing the tail feathers on a small piece of steel rod which allows me to stick it into the ground, and placed the fanned tail in back of a Jake decoy works extremely well. More in the coming weeks.

I checked out areas of Webster Lake this past Saturday and found only a handful of shoreline anglers that had very little luck catching trout. The parking lot at the town beach had many boat trailers parked, which was a good sign that bass fishing has started. It sure was a good day to be on the water!

The Uxbridge Rod & Gun club will hold their annual spring derby this Saturday for members only. Some real impressive trout were stocked this past Saturday at the club pond. The kitchen will be open for breakfast. The derby starts at 8 a.m.

The Singletary Rod & Gun club will hold their annual trout fishing derby on April 14, starting at 7 a.m. The club will also have a huge buffet breakfast starting at 6 a.m.

Special thanks to all of the volunteers that helped clean up the litter along many streets and roads of Uxbridge. Nice job. Now if we can only keep it that way.

Is fear keeping you from living your dream?

I was recently stopped in the grocery store by a man who wanted to tell me that he enjoyed my column. During the brief discussion, the person asked, "Do you have a degree in journalism?"

"No," I responded, "My degree is music education."

"How did you become a columnist?"

"I decided I wanted to write a column. I wrote a few samples and submitted them to the managing editors of a few newspapers."

"And?" he asked.

"And they said yes," I responded.

The man had a confused look on his face then asked, "Weren't you afraid they'd say no?"

Fear, for many, is debilitating. Fear keeps people from pursuing their dreams and traps them into living the life they are given rather than striving for the life they want. I think legendary motivational speaker, Zig Ziglar nailed it when he said ...

Most fear is only False Evidence Appearing Real

Some fears are healthy. It's natural to experience fear when we are in a life-threatening situation and fear is a useful tool to keep us from placing ourselves there. That type of fear was defined by Walter Bradford Cannon as "Fight or Flight" fear. It kept the caveman from being eaten by the sabre tooth tiger and keeps "most of us" from doing dumb and dangerous things. Fear of some situations and circumstances are both normal and healthy. So, when someone tells you to live without fear, that may not be the best advice. However, most other fears are unrealistic and even irrational. They are often triggered, as Zig stated, by false evidence appearing real and can keep us from realizing our dreams. So, what should you do?

Defy the lie!

POSITIVELY

MOORE

The voices in our head are often untruthful. Many, if not most of our fears are rooted in our insecurities and lack of faith in our abilities. The voices in our head that tell us we are not smart enough, good enough or talented enough, create the insecurities that manifest themselves into unrealistic or irrational fear. If the voice sounds familiar, it should ... it is yours. Your internal voice raises the doubt that turns into fear of acting, while discouraging you from venturing out from the life you have into the life you want.

Author and medical professional, Bronnie Ware, writes in her book, "Regrets of the Dying," that two of the top five regrets are caused only by our fear. Number one is "I wish I had the courage to live a life true to myself, not the life others expected of me" and number three, "I wish I had the courage to express my feelings." Fear of what others might think triggers both.

Authenticity takes courage ...

Being who you are meant to be takes courage but even more so in becoming who you aspire to be.

I'm fortunate. I grew up in a home where there were no available funds for college. I had to take a job selling vacuum cleaners, door-to-door on straight commission to earn money for tuition. I was frightened almost beyond my ability to cope. The irrational fear of knocking on doors brought me to tears during my first few weeks, but I quickly learned that all the things I was afraid would happen, did not. Under most circumstances, I would have given up before I started, but my fear of not attending college was greater than my fear of having a door slammed in my face. I survived the summer and earned enough to pay a year's tuition, then came back for more each summer until I graduated from college, debt free. Along my journey, several of my friends saw the money I was earning and decided to give selling a shot, but most gave up before the first day ended. Their fear kept them from the success they could have enjoyed.

I believe that our life's destiny is discovered on the other side of fear

If it's worth having, it's worth overcoming your fear to obtain it. My column is now in its third year, but I still experience the moments of doubt every Monday morning as I press the button to submit it to this publication. The same is true with my books and my video blogs on my YouTube Channel. When we produce or create work that comes from our head and heart, then put it out there for others to experience, there will always be those who will disagree or criticize what we do. That's life. At those moments, I always remind myself that no one ever erects a statue of a critic.

Do not fear criticism. Former Speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn is quoted as saying, "Any Jack*ss can kick down a barn but it takes a good carpenter to build one."

Anyone can criticize. It's easy, but to accomplish something that matters, you must overcome your fear.

Joe D. Bennett, 83

DUDLEY - Joe D. Bennett, 83, died Monday, April 1 at home with family at his side.

He leaves his wife of almost 60 years, Joan V. (Krawczyk) Bennett; 3 sons, Michael J. Bennett and his wife Tara of New Braintree, John T. Bennett and his wife Carrie of Sudbury, and Matthew D. Bennett and his wife Heather of Malden; 4 grandchildren, Sidney, Henry, Harrison and Heath Bennett; a brother-in-law, George Gauer of Meadow Grove, Nebraska; and nephews and nieces. He was preceded in death by his sister, Judith Gauer, and by his brother, Charles Bennett.

He was born and raised on the family farm in LaPorte, Indiana, the son of Ora J. and Oka J. (Collins) Bennett. Thereafter, he was signed as a pitching prospect by the Chicago Cubs and played in the Cubs farm system before enlisting in the military.

Mr. Bennett was a United States Army veteran who was deployed in Korea, where he served as a paratrooper and in intelligence as part of the Eighth Army's ASA unit.

After his discharge at Fort Devens, he secured a position as a compositor at the Worcester Telegram & Gazette. Over a career that spanned 40 years, he worked his way to various management roles, retiring in 1997 as the superintendent of the composing room.

Mr. Bennett was a co-founder of the Webster-Dudley Pop Warner Football program and longtime member of the Dudley Parks & Recreation Committee, where he helped lead major improvements to the town's public beach and J.C. Crawford Field. He offered frequent, vocal support for Shepherd Hill High School's athletic teams. He was a dominant semi-pro fast pitch softball pitcher in leagues in this area and also an avid golfer, holding memberships at both the Nichols College Golf Club and the Thompson Speedway Golf Club. He loved to cook and was a proud father of his three "boys" and a devoted husband.

The funeral was held on Saturday, April 6, at 10:15 AM in the Sitkowski & Malboeuf Funeral Home, 340 School Street, Webster. Burial will be in St. Joseph Garden of Peace, Webster. Visitation was held from 8:45 to 10:15 AM Saturday in the funeral home, prior to the service. The Webster-Dudley Veterans Council will perform military honors at the cemetery. # Spring Cleaning Tips

Well folks, it's that time of year again. The annual domestic ritual that brings family members everywhere together to work in happy harmony or harried havoc -- the yearly task of Spring Cleaning!

TAKE THE HINT
KAREN TRAINOR

The two magic words to successful spring cleaning are: Prioritize and Delegate. In today's busy world, we can't possibly get our homes spotlessly clean and keep our sanity, so, you must decide what your priorities are. I find if you get the walls and windows clean, then you have fresh surroundings that inspire you to continue onto the floors and organizing the clutter. If you don't have time to reline shelves or reorganize every cupboard, don't fret. Focus your energies on the obvious. Also, don't hesitate to delegate chores to each family member. If you assign them manageable tasks, they are more apt to cooperate. Read on for some tips to help make Spring Cleaning get done in record time.

This tip is an old favorite of mine, but it works so well, it bears repeating. To work more efficiently, professional house cleaners recommend beginning your work from top to bottom. Also, start cleaning in one corner of a room and work clockwise. Have a trash bag handy so you can toss dirty paper towels and litter away as you travel across the room.

Here's a great way to sort items that belong in other rooms in the house. Save steps by designating a handled plastic grocery bag to each family member's room. Simply hang the bags on the doorknob or someplace handy in the room you are cleaning. Place each person's misplaced items into their individual bags. When the room is cleaned, you need only pick up the bag and hang it on their bedroom doorknobs to remind them to put their stuff away

Somehow, washing windows gives you a great sense of accomplishment, so I always try to begin my spring cleaning by letting the sun shine in! Never wash windows in direct sunlight, which causes streaks. This happens because the cleaning liquid dries faster than you can wipe it off. To boost the cleaning power of regular cleaning solutions, add a teaspoon of white household vinegar to your spray bottle.

After cleaning wood floors, do a final buff this easy way: Simply spray your dry mop with (non greasy/slippery) furniture polish. Go over floor evenly, for a nice top shine.

In the bathroom, rubbing alcohol is an inexpensive and handy cleaning aid. Use it full strength on a cotton ball to polish up chrome bath fixtures on the sink and tub. And, if you have any hair spray residue on your bathroom mirror, a rubbing of alcohol will remove all traces of the chemical better than any window cleaner.

Carpet stains can be a big challenge. Here are some ways to make the task a little less daunting:

Before cleaning carpets, scrape off any solid residue. To coax a greasy stain out of a carpet, sprinkle cornstarch or cornmeal on the stain. Leave on overnight so the grease can be absorbed. Vacuum well the next morning. If stain remains, try applying a non-flammable dry-cleaning agent to the spot with a white towel. Blot from the outside edges in.

If you are dealing with a water soluble stain, there is no need to rush out and buy commercial cleaning products. The secret is blot, blot, blot! Try soaking stain with a solution made of a teaspoon of dishwashing detergent to a pint of water. Dab and blot with a white cloth from the edges to the center of the stain, turning cloth as the stain is absorbed. Finally, place a few layers of absorbent paper towels on top of the stain, cover with heavy books, and let sit for a few hours, replacing towels every half hour or so until all traces of stain are gone. Or, my favorite trick is to use an absorbent terry towel and blot the stain out by pressing hard with my heel, repeating with a new section of the towel until the stain is no longer visible.

Read on for a few more spring cleaning strategies:

For a sparkling glass oven door, wipe the window with household ammonia and let it set for several minutes. Scrape away grease with a spatula and wipe the window clean to a quick shine.

To get at dust on louvered doors or shutters, wrap a cloth around a ruler, spray with polish and run the flat end across each louver.

A capful of liquid fabric softener mixed with a quart of water makes a fast and convenient lint-free cleaner for glass and plexiglass frames and tabletops.

Did you know a dab of silver polish paste easily removes crayon marks from vinyl flooring?

Dust high walls and ceiling fans this way: Simply place an old nylon stocking over your dust mop. When you are done, just discard the stocking and the mop is ready for its next task.

Remember those little eye-glass cleaning tissues? If you use them to dust picture frames, you'll never have to worry about liquid seeping in under the glass.

Use an upholstery shampoo to remove mattress stains. Be sure to spray the area with a disinfectant to prevent mustiness.

Spring cleaning chores are easier if items are in order and easily accessible. One of my best organizing tips is to utilize those good old fashioned vinyl shoe holders. Not only do they serve their original purpose in the closet, but the inexpensive storage pockets can be used all over the house. Best of all, the clear plastic bags allow for easy identification of the contents. Here are some ideas:

*Hang a shoe bag in the garage or workshop to hold lightweight tools, paintbrushes, work gloves and the like.

*A shoe bag hung out of sight on the inside of a hall closet door keeps gloves, mittens and hats all in one place.

*Hang one in the inside of a pantry cabinet for easy access to spray cleaners, aprons, scrub brushes and cleansers.

*In the laundry room, shoe bags can hold pre-treat sprays, sock holders, dryer sheets and even all the change collected from "heavy pockets."

*Linen closets stocked with the family's health and beauty aids can benefit from a bag to keep shampoo, deodorant, extra toothpaste, facecloths, etc. in place.

Automotive memorabilia

ANTIQUES, COLLECTIBLES & ESTATES
WAYNE TUISKULA

bilia including advertising posters and brochures, hood ornaments, and racing memorabilia.

Vintage gas pumps are some of the most valuable automotive collectibles. Visible gas pumps are among the more popular types. Visible pumps have glass that is marked to show how many gallons were being pumped into a car. Wayne model # 491 "Roman column" pumps have also brought prices as high as $31,000 at auction. A Raymond "4 In 1

Justice" five-gallon visible gas pump went for $38,500 in 2015. A 10-gallon visible gas pump by Stanocola brought $50,000 at auction in 2016. There are other styles besides visible gas pumps that are also highly collectible. A Shell Showcase Computing gas pump displayed Shell products like oil and car polish inside a glass case in the pump. One sold for $34,000 in 2012. The Mobilgas Tokheim 36 Adc showcase pump generated even more interest, selling for $64,000 in 2016. Even the globes on top of the pumps can produce strong auction results. A Mccoard Airliner Gas pump globe sold for $33,000. A Pioneer Gasoline Gas globe brought $40,000 and Refiners Gasoline Gas pump globe went for $64,000.

Some automobile advertising signs are also highly desirable. Older enamel and older neon signs are two of the most popular varieties and command strong prices. As with any antique or collectible, condition is very important. Collectors will pay more for better examples. As I mentioned in a previous column, Oilzum motor oils and lubricants were produced by White and Bagley of Worcester. An Oilzum standup curb sign sold for $52,000 in 2016. Some rarer signs have sold for 6 figures. Also in 2016, a 40 inch "Double Chief Gasoline" sign fetched $105,000. In 2016 a "Smith-o-Lene Aviation Brand" 48" gasoline sign brought $110,000. A "Musgo Gasoline" 47 and three-quarter-inch double-sided sign cruised to $233,000 at a 2016 auction.

Please email any questions about antiques, auctions and estate sales to me at info@centralmassauctions.com. Your question may be answered in a future column.

We are selling a visible gas pump and other automobilia in our Wilmington online estate auction that is taking place now and ends on May 1. Our next live auction takes place in Worcester on May 30. Other sales and events are being planned. Please see www.centralmassauctions.com for details on these events.

lack of revenue impacts their budgets.

The Water Sewer Commission will consider an appeal request from customers where there is a good-faith effort to pay the balance due and a legitimate hardship is proven to the Commissioners' satisfaction. The written appeal request for a termination of services hearing must be received at least twenty days before the termination of service date. The Commission will schedule a public meeting to review the appeal requests. If a residence's water service is terminated, a notice will be sent to the Webster Board of Health informing them of the shut-off date. Lack of potable water constitutes a violation of the MA State Sanitary Housing Code regulation.

Commissioner Gabor said the goal of the policy is to have customers pay their bills. "Hopefully the notification letters will spur people to get their accounts into good standing. We would prefer not to have to turn off people's water." April 12, 2019

Earth Day offers valuable lessons to investors

On April 22, millions of people will observe Earth Day by participating in events that support environmental protection. As a citizen, you may want to take part in a local celebration. And as an investor, you can learn a few lessons from the themes of Earth Day.

Here are a few of them:
 Avoid a toxic investment environment. A recurring topic of Earth Day is the necessity of reducing toxins from our air, water and land. And, while you might not think of it in those terms, your portfolio can also contain some "toxic" elements in the form of investments that may be hindering your progress, or, at the very least, not contributing to it. For instance, you might own some investments that, for one reason or another, have consistently underperformed, or are now too aggressive for your risk tolerance, which can change over the years. In these cases, you might be better off selling the investments and using the proceeds for other, more appropriate ones.

Look for sources of renewable energy. Efforts to protect our environment include a push for more renewable energy sources, such as solar and wind. As an investor, you, too, can look for "renewables" in the form of investments that keep paying you back in one way or another. Of course, the most basic example would be a bond, which pays you regular interest until the bond matures and you get your principal back, provided the issuer doesn't default, which is generally unlikely with an investment-grade bond. However, you also may want to consider another type of renewable - dividend-paying stocks. By reinvesting these dividends, you can increase the number of shares you own - and share ownership is a good way to help build your portfolio. Some companies have paid, and even increased, their dividends many years in a row, but keep in mind they're not obligated to do so.

Plant seeds of opportunity. Some Earth Day events involve planting trees - many of which won't be fully grown for decades. When you invest, you are planting seeds in the form of investments you hope will grow over the years. Of course, you will likely see some volatility along the way, but over the long term, investments with strong fundamentals may reward you for your patience.

Apart from these ideas, you also can connect the idea of helping protect the environment with investing for your goals. Through socially responsible investing, you can screen out investments in companies whose products you find objectionable, while supporting businesses whose work you believe helps contribute to a better world. And you can find investments, such as mutual funds that emphasize social responsibility, whose returns are competitive, so you don't have to sacrifice growth potential for your principles.

In the nearly 50 years since Earth Day celebrations began, we have taken steps to improve many aspects of our physical world, although the work continues. And by following some of the same techniques, you can improve your investment environment, too.

With Chewsi, You Can Save BIG on Dental Care

YOU KNOW THE FEELING — a nagging tooth pain. An overdue dental exam. An old crown that needs replacing. And always the question: How much is this going to cost me?

For too many people, the high cost of dental care gets in the way of good oral health. But healthy teeth and gums are about so much more than a sunny smile. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), your oral health can affect everything from the way you speak and eat to the way you work and show emotion. And, poor oral health — especially gum disease — has been linked to certain chronic diseases, including heart disease, diabetes and stroke.

Fortunately, there's a new way to save on dental care: Chewsi.

Today, people across Rhode Island and Massachusetts are seeing big results, collectively saving thousands of dollars when they use Chewsi to pay at the dentist; in fact, one person who used the app recently saved more than $6,500 on a complex dental visit by using Chewsi.

"Chewsi is a true innovation in dental care," says Joe Nagle, CEO of First Circle, Inc., parent company of Chewsi. "With just a couple of taps on your smartphone, you can get savings on dental care that you wouldn't be able to get on your own."

Here's how it works: Download the app to your smartphone (it's free) and register with referral code LCLW1. Find a Chewsi dentist near you and see what you'd pay for your dental service before you call to make an appointment. When you see the dentist for your service, use your phone to pay through the secure, cloud-based Chewsi app and see how much you saved immediately.

Anyone can use Chewsi to save on all dental services — not just more expensive care. From routine visits like cleanings and fillings to higher-priced services like implants, crowns, dentures and braces, Chewsi helps you save on every service because there are no limits, exclusions or waiting periods. If you have dental insurance, Chewsi helps you save on any services that aren't covered by your plan, Nagle says — including cosmetic services.

"Chewsi helps remove the cost barriers to dental care by connecting you directly with dentists for savings," he says. "Chewsi doesn't interfere in your dental care. Your care is between you and your dentist."

In addition to saving on specific dental services, people can also save by avoiding the monthly or annual costs they'd typically pay for a dental insurance policy or for membership in a discount dental plan because there are no monthly or annual fees to use Chewsi, and the app is free to download.

"Chewsi helps people get the dental care they need, when they need it, for less," Nagle says. "With Chewsi, you never have to worry about limits, exclusions or waiting periods."

To learn more, visit ChewsiDental.com or download the app in the App Store or on Google Play.

Say it in living color!

EASTER

The history of Easter bonnets

When celebrating Easter, many Christians don their best apparel to attend church services and family gatherings. On Easter Sunday, gentlemen often put on their best suits and women their fanciest dresses. Children, too, wear formal clothing on Easter Sunday. Girls in particular tend to wear an item of interest that seems to only appear once per year.

Bonnets are part of the Easter attire for many girls, and even some women. Bonnets are part of long tradition of wearing new clothes on Easter that originated in parts of Europe, such as Great Britain. In fact, the tradition even dates back to Shakespearean times, as an "Easter suit" is referenced in "Romeo and Juliet."

According to some historians, there was a notion that ill-luck would affect a person who did not have something new to wear on Easter, and the bonnet is an element of newness that fits the bill for many young girls and women.

It wasn't until the 19th century that the Easter bonnet gained popularity in the Americas.

Women and children participating in Easter parades, notably the New York City Easter Parade, could be seen in their finest clothes with intricate bonnets — often wreathed in flowers — on their heads. Because Easter coincides with spring, lilies, daffodils, azaleas, hyacinths, and other blooms would adorn hats and hair.

Even though the Easter bonnet may not be as popular as it once was, many people still embrace this tradition. In areas of the United Kingdom, for example, children and women design elaborate and ostentatious bonnets. In the United States, some hat-decorating contests still coincide with Easter festivities. Children in primary grades also may design Easter- or spring-themed hats that they can wear during holiday celebrations.

Easter bonnets have a storied history. From European beginnings to parade staples, they're often a hallmark of the spring season.

Sweet treats make Easter special

From chocolates to marshmallows to caramel eggs to jelly beans, Easter is chockful of candy. And for those who think Easter is only child's play, guess again.

Americans spend up to $2 billion on Easter candy each year, according to Sweet Services, an online candy retailer. The National Confectioner's Association says people in the United States consume nearly seven billion pounds of candy during the year, and Easter is the second-most popular holiday (behind Halloween) for indulging a sweet tooth.

Faith comes first for many Easter celebrants. But there's nothing wrong with enjoying some candy come Easter Sunday. Here's a look at the history behind some of the sweets the Easter Bunny might leave in your basket this year.

- Chocolate eggs: The first chocolate eggs were made in Europe in the early 19th century. Since then, they have become one of the most popular and recognizable treats associated with Easter. The chocolate egg is predated by edible Easter eggs made from sugar and pastry first designed in Germany. According to the "Guinness Book of World Records," the largest chocolate Easter egg ever made debuted in 2011. It was just over 34 feet high and weighed nearly 16,000 lbs.

- Chocolate bunny: The Easter Bunny also is a German incarnation. The seasonal bunny was introduced to America in the 18th century by German immigrants who believed in the "Osterhase," an egg-laying hare they believed was a sign of new life and prosperity. Germans also introduced the first edible chocolate bunnies. The NCA says 76 percent of people eat the ears on chocolate bunnies first.

- Jelly beans: People aren't quite sure where the jelly bean originated, but some think it was based on a soft, chewy Middle Eastern sweet called Turkish delight and the hard candy shell of Jordan almonds. William Shraft, a Boston-based confectioner, may have coined the phrase "jelly bean" when he urged people to send these sweets to Union soldiers fighting in the Civil War.

- Peeps: Peeps are owned and made by Just Born Inc., a Pennsylvania-based company started by Russian immigrants when they acquired the Rodda Candy Company in 1953. Just Born figured out a way to automate and streamline the process of making Peeps, and today they can produce 5.5 million per day.

Easter is a day filled with fun and lots of sweetness. Candy is a big part of the celebration.

Create colorful Easter eggs

Beautifully colored Easter eggs are a beloved holiday tradition. In many cultures, eggs represent new life, fertility and rebirth. For Christians, the Easter egg is symbolic of the resurrection, or the eternal life, of Jesus Christ. The practice of coloring eggs and offering them as decorative items is embraced during both secular and religious Easter celebrations.

Many fond memories and traditions are tied to Easter egg coloring, and some people may have their preferential kits or practices to achieve beautiful eggs. But embracing some new tips and tricks can produce beautiful eggs and make this beloved tradition even more fun.

- Begin with firm, hard-boiled eggs. Bring a pot of water to a rolling boil. Then use a large spoon to gently lower the eggs into the water. Lower the heat to maintain a simmer and boil for just about 12 minutes. Transfer the eggs to a bowl with ice cold water and let them cool. Allow the eggs to cool completely before coloring.

- Lay out newspaper or an old tablecloth to soak up any spills. Spills are inevitable, so don't let them spoil the fun. In addition, empty egg cartons make ideal drying racks, so do not discard them.

- Make patterns or other designs on the eggs. Use a white crayon to draw on the egg directly. The dye will not stick to the wax. Or use string, rubber bands, tape, stickers, or other items to create your pattern. Dip the egg and then remove the materials afterward to reveal the design.

- Swirl a few drops of food coloring into shaving cream on a flat surface. Roll the eggs into the mixture, let dry, and then gently clean to remove the excess shaving cream. The result is a marbled effect.

- Recognize that you don't have to "dye" eggs at all. Use a sponge to dab on a design. Strips of tissue paper can be adhered to the egg with glue or shellac. Children may enjoy submerging the egg in glue and then coating it in glitter.

The potential to create creative Easter eggs is limitless. Embracing new strategies can set this year's eggs apart.

Your guide to Holy Week events

Holy Week marks the most solemn and revered period on the Christian calendar. Holy Week helps to mark the Paschal Mystery, which includes the Passion, death, resurrection, and ascension of Jesus Christ.

Many events unfolded in a short period of time during the final days of Christ's physical existence on earth. These events are marked during Holy Week. To understand them further, here's a day-by-day guide.

PALM SUNDAY

Palm Sunday is the final Sunday of Lent, a 40-day period of solemn prayer and repentance. Palm Sunday recalls Christ's arrival in Jerusalem when he was received with lavish praise and excitement. Catholic Online, the online guide to the Catholic faith, says Jesus arrived humbly on a donkey to show he came in peace as a man of the people. As signs of respect, townspeople placed clothes, branches and palm fronds in front of Jesus.

HOLY MONDAY

Matthew 21 and Mark 11 indicate that Christ returned to Jerusalem this day and cleansed the Temple area from shameful practices. Luke 19 indicates that Pharisees warn Jesus that he should silence the crowd's praises toward him.

HOLY TUESDAY

As described in John 12:20-36 and John 13:21-38, some people observed Christ's predictions of his own death on this day. He was also confronted by Temple leadership for the cleansing of the Temple the day before, and they questioned his authority.

Holy (Spy) Wednesday
This day marks Judas' betrayal of Jesus when he met with high priests. Judas was paid 30 pieces of silver for his information.

HOLY THURSDAY

On this evening Christ dined for Passover with his disciples at The Last Supper, creating a template for Holy Mass and Holy Eucharist celebrations. During the meal, Jesus predicted the events that would immediately follow, including his betrayal, the denial of Peter, and his death and resurrection.

GOOD FRIDAY

Pontius Pilate bowed to the pressure of the Temple leadership and the crowds, condemning Jesus to death by crucifixion. Christ was forced to parade through crowds wearing a crown of thorns to symbolize his status as King of the Jews, and carried a massive wooden cross on his back. He was nailed to the cross by the ankles and wrists and hanged for three hours. He died at 3 pm. His body was hastily removed and put in a tomb.

HOLY SATURDAY

Christ's disciples were heartbroken at his death and observed the Jewish Sabbath in sorrow, forgetting about the promise of resurrection.

EASTER SUNDAY

The public discovered that Jesus' tomb was empty and that he fulfilled his promise to rise from the dead. This is a great feast day with worship and celebration. Easter Sunday is the foremost day of religious observance within the Christian faith.

Fire up the smoker for Easter dinner this year

For much of the country, Easter Sunday typically falls during a time of year when the weather outside is still pretty chilly. But this year Easter falls on the third Sunday in April, increasing the chances that temperatures will be more spring-like and less reminiscent of winter.

Warmer temperatures on Easter Sunday means hosts tasked with cooking Easter dinner might be able to expand their culinary horizons and avoid the stove. Though they might not have considered it before, hosts might want to fire up their smokers to give their families something delicious and different to dine on this Easter Sunday. If the weather takes an unexpected turn for the worse, electric smokers can typically be used indoors, but check the manufacturer's instructions to confirm that.

Big meals are part and parcel for Easter Sunday, this recipe for "Pork Loin Roast with Hot Pepper Jelly Glaze" from Karen Putman and Judith Fertig's "Championship BBQ Secrets for Real Smoked Food" (Robert Rose) is a great way to take advantage of warmer Easter weather while still ensuring everyone has a full belly by the end of the meal.

PORK LOIN ROAST WITH HOT PEPPER JELLY GLAZE

Serves 4 to 6

1 boneless pork loin roast (about 2 lbs.)
4 cups apple juice
12 cup Brown Sugar Rib Rub (see below)
1 cup hot pepper jelly

Additional apple juice for spraying

1. Rinse pork under cold running water and pat dry. Place in a large sealable plastic bag and pour in apple juice. Seal bag and refrigerate for at least 8 hours and up to 12 hours.

2. Remove pork from marinade and pat dry. Discard marinade. Sprinkle dry rub over the surface of the meat, coating evenly. Set aside.

3. Prepare a fire in your smoker.

4. Meanwhile, in a small saucepan, melt hot pepper jelly over medium-low heat. Keep warm by the smoker.

5. Place pork directly on the smoker rack, add wood to the coals and close the lid. Smoke at 225 F to 250 F, spraying with apple juice every 30 minutes, for 2 hours. Brush with hot pepper jelly, close the lid and smoke, spraying with apple juice every 30 minutes, for 1 to 1 1/2 hours, or until a meat thermometer inserted in the thickest part of the pork registers 160 F for medium, or until desired doneness. Let rest for 15 minutes before slicing.

BROWN SUGAR RIB RUB MAKES ABOUT 3 1/2 CUPS

2 cups packed dark brown sugar or granulated maple sugar
12 cup fine kosher or sea salt
14 cup sweet Hungarian paprika
14 cup chili powder
14 cup ground lemon pepper
14 cup granulated garlic
1 tablespoon freshly ground black pepper
1 teaspoon dried basil
1 teaspoon dried thyme

In a medium bowl, combine brown sugar, salt, paprika, chili powder, lemon pepper, garlic, black pepper, basil, and thyme.

Tasty bites for Easter meals

Easter dinner is a special occasion, presenting an opportunity for family and friends to gather, celebrate their faith and give thanks for their blessings.

Traditional dishes tend to find their way to the Easter dinner table, but no meal would be complete without some sort of deviled eggs appetizer. Deviled eggs make good use of hard-boiled eggs that may not have been colored, or even those that have been dyed and can now be safely repurposed as food.

"Debonaire Deviled Eggs" from "Southern Appetizers" by Denise Gee (Chronicle Books) teaches home chefs how to craft tasty, aesthetically pleasing eggs.

DEBONAIRE DEVILED EGGS

Serves 8 to 12

12 large eggs
14 cup mayonnaise
4 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled (optional)
3 tablespoons sweet pickle relish
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
14 teaspoon salt
18 teaspoon ground black pepper
Sprigs of fresh savory or another herb for garnish

Turn the eggs bottom- (wider-) side up in the carton. Use a pushpin to delicately poke one hole squarely in each center.

Fill a large saucepan or small Dutch oven with 2 to 2 1/2 quarts of water (enough to cover the eggs; use two pans if cooking all the eggs at once). Bring the water to a rolling boil.

Use a slotted spoon to add six eggs to the pan (working quickly but carefully to get them in at the same time); boil the eggs for 6 minutes.

Remove the pan from the heat. Let the eggs sit for 6 minutes for slightly soft yolks; add about 40 seconds for firmer yolks).

Remove each egg with a slotted spoon and place it on a kitchen towel. Repeat with the remaining six eggs. Let the eggs cool to room temperature, about 20 minutes, before peeling. (Store in the refrigerator, unpeeled, for up to 1 week; peeled for up to 4 days).

Peel the eggs under cool running water. Slice the eggs in half lengthwise, gently scooping out the yolks into a medium bowl. Add the mayonnaise, three-fourths of the crumbled bacon (if using), pickle relish, mustard, salt, and pepper. Stir to combine (and adjust seasonings as desired). Use a small spoon (or better yet, a piping bag) to insert the filling into the egg halves. Garnish with the remaining chopped bacon and savory, if desired, before serving.

Note: Large eggs are best used for egg plates and are easier to eat in one or two bites.
