Quilt Guild commemorates East Brookfield's Centennial

BY KEVIN FLANDERS
STAFF WRITER

EAST BROOKFIELD – With less than a year until its 100th birthday, the Commonwealth's youngest town is already getting a sneak peek at some of the gifts planned for the celebration.

Earlier this month, members of the Lashaway Quilt Guild unveiled a commemorative centennial-themed quilt created by guild members and volunteers. There are twelve squares on the quilt, each one representing activities taking place in town during one of the twelve months. For example, a square depicting fireworks over the fire department honors the annual Independence Day celebration hosted at Connie Mack Field each year.

Members of the guild dedicated countless hours to their project, and it took about a year of planning and sewing to finish the quilt. The completed project was recently presented to members of the East Brookfield 100th Anniversary Committee at the Senior Center.

"The 100th Anniversary Committee is very thankful to have had such a dedicated and talented group of quilters in town to make this quilt a reality," said committee member Heather Gablaski. "We would especially like to thank Dayle Los, an East Brookfield resident and chair of the guild, for her leadership on the project."

Additional squares on the quilt depict such venues as the police station, churches in town, and other prominent buildings and locations. The quilt will be unveiled to the public on March 24, 2020, during the town's centennial celebration. It will then be displayed at Town Hall for all residents to enjoy.

As the big day draws nearer, the town's 100th Anniversary

Committee continues to work hard to put together a busy schedule of celebratory programs. A few of the events currently slated for the 2020 celebration include a reenactment of the signing of the bill that made East Brookfield its own town; a Roaring Twenties themed dinner dance; and a parade with a variety of marchers and floats.

Additionally, a family fun day will feature such activities as tug-of-war, sack races, three-legged races, a movie, and several other offerings. Moreover, a community baseball game will be played using old-time rules as part of the 100th celebration.

For those who want to take a glimpse into the past, historical discussions, tours of local sites, and a cemetery walk will also take place during the yearlong celebration, provid-

Town officials look for ways to utilize grants

BY KEVIN FLANDERS
STAFF WRITER

SPENCER – After receiving the latest round of state grant funding, officials are evaluating ways to improve parking and access in the downtown district.

Earlier this month, the Massachusetts Downtown Institute (MDI) awarded Spencer a $15,000 grant to assist with the design and planning of downtown redevelopment efforts. An open house was planned for April 23 at Town Hall, enabling residents and business owners to offer input on design elements.

Over the next few months, officials will analyze public input and assess several options for improved parking and access. One of the proposals is to expand a small parking lot on Mechanic Street by taking advantage of space created from the December demolition of two abandoned buildings.

Other design elements will also be studied, including the potential for improved lighting and signage.

"We want to make it easier for people to find parking and access the downtown area," said Town Planner Paul Dell'Aquila.

Spencer was also awarded an MDI grant last year for downtown design assessments. The grant was obtained shortly after the completion of the town's downtown revitalization effort, which saw roads, intersections, and sidewalks significantly upgraded.

Now that access to town has been improved, officials are turning their focus to downtown parking options. And with the likely redevelopment of the Sugden Block building over the next few years, patrons will need more parking availability, officials said.

The process for the sale of the Sugden Block building is currently underway. The redevelopment will likely include the expansion of Mexicali Grill on the lower level of the building, which will generate a need for added parking.

For business owners and residents alike, it's exciting to finally see parking problems addressed.

Mike Shivick

Shivick hopeful for change

BY KEVIN FLANDERS

LEICESTER – Sharing residents' frustrations over several issues in town, Select Board candidate Mike Shivick is hoping to spur major changes if elected.

Shivick has expanded his municipal resume over the last decade, including serving as a selectman from 2016-17. He also served on the Personnel Board from 2007-11, chairing the board in his final year. During recent years he has been disappointed by the handling of several issues in town, including the water and sewer problems in Rochdale and Cherry Valley.

"Our leaders signed a contract in 2003 stating the current water supplies were only a temporary solution, and then 15 years later they're here trying to tell you everything is all set," Shivick said. "The people are simply getting soaked – especially in Rochdale and Cherry Valley – just look at the sidewalks on Stafford Street in Rochdale."

Currently, residents in the Cherry Valley Rochdale Water District face the highest water rates in the state, paying $145.20 per 1,000 cubic feet of water supplied by Worcester. In a separate issue, the Cherry Valley Sewer District is facing insolvency.

Shivick believes much more can be done to assist residents who have sent multiple complaints to town officials in recent months.

"I believe in a better Leicester for all of us. It is no secret my time has been spent advocating against politics as usual, and I will always pay a price for that," Shivick said. "Still, the reasonable people of this town and I were able to move the ball downfield very quickly on a number of issues, includ-

David Prouty alums pay tribute to former teacher

BY KEVIN FLANDERS
STAFF WRITER

SPENCER – The late Philip Delongchamp dedicated his career to helping students at David Prouty High School and other area schools. One year after his death, a pair of Prouty graduates are continuing his mission through a creative endeavor.

Carter Bemis and Todd Civin graduated from DPHS 37 years apart, but they were both inspired to team up in a philanthropic project because of Delongchamp's passion for teaching. Throughout his 40-year career in education, Delongchamp was fondly known by students and colleagues alike as Mr. D. Determined to give back to the community and honor their beloved teacher, Bemis and Civin co-authored a children's book that will be released this summer.

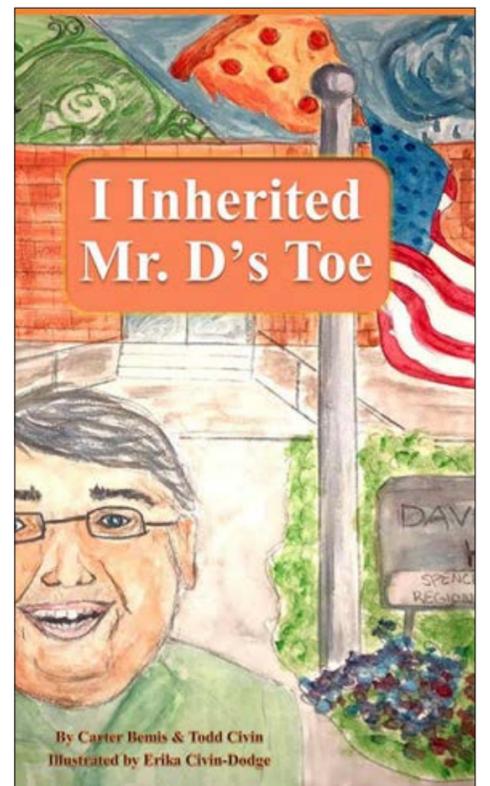

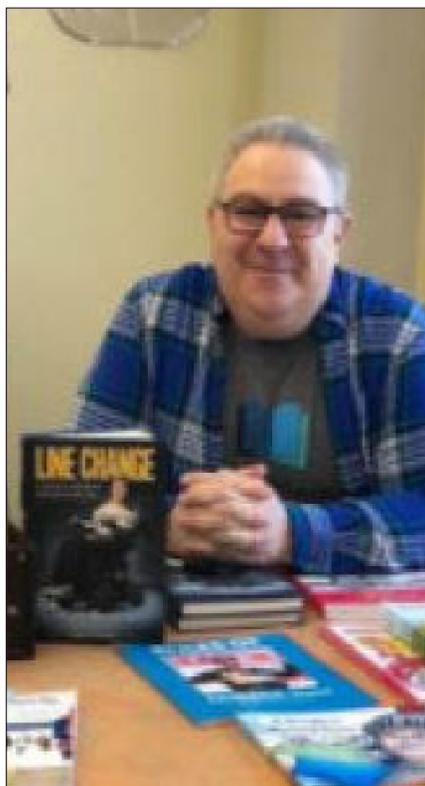

Entitled "I Inherited Mr. D's Toe," the whimsical kids' book centers around a narrator who wakes up one morning with Mr. D's toe. And the toe just so happens to have the ability to predict snow days.

Proceeds from the book will assist local families with youth sports costs, enabling youngsters of all ages to get into the game.

"Mr. D. inspired all of us every day, and even though he isn't here anymore, he still continues to inspire me to do good and have a positive impact on the world around me," said Bemis, a 2016 Prouty graduate. "Mr. D. never wanted to see any child left out or left behind. Using these funds to help kids play sports that they love is just one more act of Mr. D's perpetual kindness bringing a positive impact to the world."

Bemis and Civin began working on the book last summer. After contemplating a handful of storylines, they decided that a fun, lighthearted story was the best option to convey Delongchamp's personality and passion. The history and foreign language teacher passed away in March of 2018, but the community has ensured that his legacy remains strong. A scholarship fund was established to assist

Local eateries offer A Taste of Leicester

BY KEVIN FLANDERS
STAFF WRITER

LEICESTER – Residents are invited to enjoy a taste of the town tonight, as several restaurants team up to support local organizations.

Set for Friday, April 26, from 7-11 p.m. at Leicester Country Club, A Taste of Leicester will feature food from multiple restaurants. Additional entertainment will include live music, raffles, and guests' votes on favorite appetizer, entree, and dessert.

The event is hosted by Deja New, a charitable organization in town that supports local families in need. Through the sales of items at its 759 Main St. shop, Deja New is able to assist such organizations as the Leicester Food Pantry, Hearts for Heat, and the Greenville Baptist Church Food Pantry. Thanks to generous support from residents, Deja New also steps up to assist individuals and families in need throughout the community.

Most recently, Deja New partnered with several other community organizations and individuals to raise more than $40,000 to purchase a wheelchair-accessible van for a Leicester Primary School student. And with events like A Taste of Leicester, residents have the opportunity to donate and continue to ensure that the organization has the funding to offer support.

Several area businesses are sponsoring A Taste of Leicester, including Bekins Liberty Movers, Cornerstone Bank, and Project New Hope. Tickets for the event are $20 each, and you can get them at the New 2 You Thrift Shop and the St. Joseph-St. Pius X Parish office in town.

For more information about the event and how you can assist the fundraiser, call Cheryl at 774-368-0438.

Deja New is comprised of an all-volunteer staff, and one hundred percent of its proceeds benefit local families in need. To learn more about the organization and its upcoming schedule of events, visit www.dejanewleicester.com. Residents are also invited to check out the Deja New Facebook and Twitter pages.

Deja New leaders thank all restaurants, sponsors, and volunteers who made A Taste of Leicester possible.

Gaming club coming to East Brookfield

EAST BROOKFIELD – The past and the future are set for a collision course this weekend, as the Mass Pikemen gaming club prepares for its next session.

Set for Saturday, April 27, the session will take place from 2-6 p.m. at the East Brookfield Senior Center (110 Pleasant St.). The club has continued to grow in recent months, allowing the April 27 event to have two games. Scott Howland will run a Pulp Alley game, and Jared Burns will run a Gaslands game.

In one of the gameplay scenarios, a downed UFO has been captured by the Nazis. They have built a makeshift secret installation around the UFO, housing mysterious alien technologies. The Allied forces have discovered the installation and are sending several teams to retrieve items and document the site. But the Nazi scientists and their security squad won't back down easily, desperate to protect their prize.

If you are new to Pulp gaming, pull up a chair at the gaming session and immerse yourself in a world that combines the adventures of action-oriented movies, TV, books and comics of the past 100 years.

"The Pulps were cheap magazines from the first half of the 20th century and were devoted to popular entertainment for the masses," the club wrote in a statement. "They gave us larger-than-life heroes such as Tarzan, Doc Savage, The Shadow, and many others. The Pulps also introduced an endless rogues' gallery of twisted villainy: Fu Manchu, Doctor Death, The Scorpion, and enough mad scientists and criminal masterminds to sink several battle-ships."

Within the pages of the Pulps, one could encounter lost cities and civilizations, dinosaurs and vampires, rocket ships and even death rays. Pulp heroes could range from rugged archaeologists to soldiers and explorers – pretty much anything the imagination is capable of.

"Pulp Alley is not only a tribute to the wonderful stories of days gone by – it is a passport to thrilling adventures for you and your friends," the gaming club's statement read. "We know you will enjoy Pulp Alley."

The club is always seeking new members, so feel free to stop by and check out the action.

They not only treat the music as a living entity deserving of respect and nurturing hands, they bring freshness within their interpretation of old time music.

arrangements of original and traditional old-time music. Ken and Brad are joined by one of the most acclaimed old-time musicians around, the fabulous multi-instrumentalist Rachel Eddy. Eddy was born and raised in rural West Virginia, where her musical family inspired her to play and sing as a little girl. The old-time bug bit her early in life and Rachel now performs and teaches full-time on fiddle, banjo, guitar, mandolin and bass.

In 2011, Ken and Brad released their first recording, "Otter Creek," which became the most played instrumental recording on the international Folk-DJ Radio charts. graduating students, and now Bemis and Civin are doing their part to give back.

"In a world searching for role models and mentors, Phil Delongchamp stood head and shoulders above the rest," said Civin, who graduated from DPHS in 1979. "I can't think of any teacher who was loved and revered like Mr. D."

Civin and Bemis made the perfect duo for the project, which required several hours of editing and preparations for illustrations. With Bemis's many memories of Delongchamp — combined with Civin's accomplished writing career — the final product is a vivid story that immediately transports readers into the scene.

"The story captures all aspects of Phil's personality. It is positive, upbeat, and light," added Civin, who has written six biographies and twelve children's books. "With funds going toward children who need a helping hand affording the fees of youth sports in Spencer and East Brookfield, it highlights Mr. D's philanthropic heart."

The book will be published on June 3, Phil Delongchamp's birthday. Bemis and Civin are hoping to set up a book launch event in Spencer; the details are still being arranged.

Once published, the book will be available in print only and can be pre-ordered online.

Venerini Academy announces hiring of new principal

WORCESTER — The Venerini Academy Board of Trustees announced today the hiring of Mr. Raymond Dewar as the new principal for Venerini Academy. Mr. Dewar will begin his new position on July 1, and will replace Mrs. Carol Polselli who is retiring after serving as principal since 2017.

“We are delighted to welcome Mr. Dewar as Venerini’s next academic and spiritual leader,” notes Venerini Academy trustee, Dr. Louise Keeley. “Mr. Dewar brings extensive experience to Venerini as a leader, teacher, coach, advisor, and innovator. He possesses a visionary spirit and a deep commitment to the teaching and holistic formation of children. We look forward to his leadership in guiding Venerini’s promising future.”

Mr. Dewar most recently served as Principal of Cristo-Rey Boston High School. Previously, he was Principal of Goodrich Academy in Fitchburg, and earlier at Quabbin Regional High School and Norton High School. He has taught at schools in Worcester and Connecticut, and served as a teacher, coach, and advisor at two international schools.

A Worcester resident, Mr. Dewar is a graduate of the College of the Holy Cross, and holds master’s degrees from Adelphi University and Worcester State University.

With this broad experience, Mr. Dewar’s philosophy of education is centered on three core principles.

“I have been a part of many schools and so many paths to excellence for students,” he says. “Through it all, the common themes have been high expectations, a love of teaching and learning, and an appreciation of each student’s heritage and individuality.”

Mr. Dewar is a strong advocate for hands-on learning, and is eager to further develop Venerini’s strong STREAM curriculum.

“Throughout my career, I have come to appreciate project-based learning, capstone projects, and other types of experiential programs,” states Mr. Dewar. “Students learn best by doing.”

Inspired by the Venerini Sisters and their commitment to the Academy, Mr. Dewar looks forward to furthering Venerini’s mission and vision.

“Our work will continue to be on liberating students through education and formation,” he notes. “This is every student’s hope for a bright future.”

Mr. Dewar and his wife Martha, along with their two children, Clara and Raymond, are Worcester residents and parishioners at St. George Catholic Church. Martha is currently assistant principal at the Jacob Hiatt Magnet School. Clara is a graduate of St. Peter-Marian High School and a freshman at Suffolk University. Raymond is a sophomore at St. Peter-Marian High School.

Venerini Academy is an independent Catholic school for children in preschool through grade 8, and is guided by the highest standards in learning and character formation. In small, engaged, classes, students become inspired, skilled learners and joyful, moral leaders. A rigorous, innovative STREAM curriculum with extensive enrichment programs in athletics, arts, and service, prepares graduates for future learning and life.

“A lack of downtown parking was always a big weakness for our town, and this will help make Spencer a more walkable town,” Selectman Tony Pepe said of the MDI grants and imminent assessments. “Along with our major roads projects, these smaller grants really add up.”

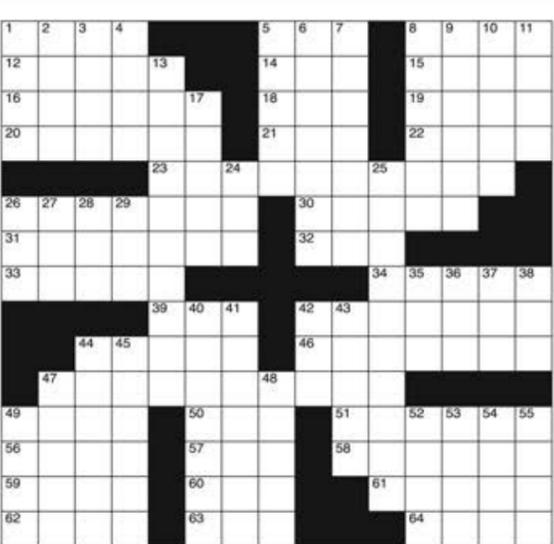

At the April 23 open house, residents discussed several downtown design guidelines that were crafted as part of last year’s MDI grant award. The latest roads project currently underway. A $5.6 million bond borrowing will be issued in May for the second phase of the project, which will allow the town to continue with infrastructure improvements.

Officials also hope to receive funds through the Municipal Vulnerability Preparedness Action Grant to pay for the construction of additional parking on Mechanic Street. Moreover, the town is in the process of being designated as a green community, which will provide opportunities for further grant funding.

“We have made strides with several projects recently, and people are very excited about the possibilities moving forward,” Dell’Aquila added. “We hope that all of these projects will encourage people to look at Spencer for activities and business.”

Officials are also encouraged by negotiations for the redevelopment of the former Lake Street School. Representing a partnership between MHPI, Inc., and the Women’s Institute for Housing and Economic Development, the Lake Street School project will consist of 33 units for senior housing.

Kylie O'Rourke, of Spencer, recognized at Assumption Convocation

WORCESTER — Assumption recognized 75 students with awards for academic excellence during the 35th Annual Honors Convocation on April 15. Awards ranged from departmental honors to special recognitions, to Assumption's highest honor, Augustine Scholarship.

During the ceremony, Kylie O'Rourke, of Spencer, and a member of the Class of 2019, received the departmental award for women's studies.

"The annual Honors Convocation is an opportunity for the College to recognize those students who have demonstrated academic excellence through an impassioned commitment to learning," said Louise Carroll Keeley, Ph.D., provost and academic vice president. "This ceremony allows faculty to celebrate the most meritorious students in each of their primary programs of study. To receive a departmental award or one of the College's special awards is a significant achievement for any undergraduate student and we are proud to honor them for their accomplishments."

Each year, the College invites a distinguished alumnus to address the honorees on the value of a liberal arts education. This year's keynote speaker was Suzanne Besnia, J.D., '79, a civically engaged attorney, who has worked since 1984 for Riezman Berger, a legal firm in St. Louis. While an undergraduate at Assumption, Besnia focused on politics early, but immediately found an interest in the arts, studying musicology, studio art, drama, and art history. Being liberally educated is something she said "absolutely, without a doubt, has literally shaped my life in every aspect."

Besnia shared that a liberal arts education expands one's wealth of knowledge and opens our eyes to the world; gives students to non-technical subjects demands a different level of thinking and provides the tools needed to look inward and to know ourselves; and develops a self-knowledge that helps lead us to moral happiness through giving back to society.

"Self-knowledge is essential for us to be thoughtful and deliberate people in the decisions we make to bring about our own moral happiness. Moral happiness considers not only our own happiness but the happiness of society and we give back to society," she said. "Those with self-knowledge ethically and morally deliberate the decisions to work for the good of society. These are the people we want as neighbors, coworkers, leaders, and friends. They are not threatened by new ideas and are capable of evaluating and understanding a different point of view. The ability to engage in civil discourse on subjects essential to our society is developed here at Assumption, and I hope you will all continue to hone that skill."

Founded in 1904 by the Augustinians of the Assumption in Worcester, Mass., Assumption College is a Catholic liberal arts institution that offers undergraduate students 35 majors and 47 minors in the liberal arts, sciences, business, and professional studies; as well as master's and continuing education degrees and professional certificate programs—each through an educational experience that is grounded in the rich Catholic intellectual tradition. The curriculum enables students to gain a depth and breadth of knowledge that leads to professional success and personal fulfillment. Students—whether on the Worcester campus or at the College's Rome, Italy, campus—become engaged participants in Assumption's classic liberal arts education, exploring new ideas and making connections across disciplines. To prepare for the workforce, students learn cutting-edge theory and best practices, conduct innovative research, and develop excellent communication and critical-analysis skills. Assumption graduates are also known for their thoughtful citizenship and compassionate service to their community. For more information about Assumption College, please visit www.assumption.edu.

ing parks and water, during my time in office. DPW funding, water, sewer, utility infrastructure, and rebuilding our parks are essential matters that are the meat and potatoes of local government, and they simply are not adequately being addressed."

Shivick hopes that one of the first steps toward meaningful changes can be an election campaign season based on issues and not insults. In recent months, he has spoken at length with residents and business owners about their ideas for change. In a culture of political divisiveness at all levels of government, several residents are fatigued by the constant strife, Shivick said.

"Many people are tired of hearing nothing but smear campaigns and rhetoric, while paying two and three times for major infrastructure projects and ending up with more problems than solutions in some cases and a lot of the status quo," Shivick told the New Leader.

Shivick cited long-term planning and project design as major areas of improvement for the town moving forward. He believes a handful of recent projects were either lacking or overreaching in terms of design and scope.

"The library is a phenomenal resource, and we are lucky to have it and its staff working tirelessly on behalf of the town. The fire/EMS headquarters is another phenomenal resource, and no one could ever thank the women and men who serve us enough for what they do. However, both projects are notoriously outside the box of what a small town like Leicester really needed," Shivick said. "For example, everyone knows the police and fire/EMS should have been one complex – but here we are with a police station that is not used for its full intended purpose, paying other municipalities for dispatch and holding cells we already paid for. It is my understanding we have spent no less than $300,000 on legal fees being sued over the fire station by the contractor because the lot was not prepared correctly and the late add on of a training tower. I was the only Select Board member to vote against the extras."

Shivick, who earned his juris doctor degree in 2012, has spent the last eight years representing clients amidst civil litigation in state and appellate courts. He currently represents about 40 individual and corporate clients across the Commonwealth. His professional background, as well as his time serving in government, has allowed him to develop a comprehensive perspective.

"My time spent working at the State House as a district representative for State Senator Michael O. Moore was invaluable to gaining insight to the inner workings of the state government and how the state and municipal levels of government intersect and interact," Shivick said. "My legal education included experience as the Parliamentarian for the law school legislature, and my extensive legal training in the areas of real estate, constitutional law, and civil rights litigation gives me a distinct advantage over my opponent in terms of ability to procure and understand legislative history and applicable laws and regulations."

Shivick also currently volunteers as an advisory board member for a nonprofit organization that focuses on supporting military veterans and their families after they return from service.

The town election will take place on June 11.

CLASSROOM CORNER

Courtesy Photos

Knox Trail Middle School held a student talent show earlier this month, featuring several young performers.

SPENCER – Students showed off their skills earlier this month, as Knox Trail Middle School invited families to a talent show.

Students in all four grades at KTMS performed (grades 5-8), showcasing a wide range of talents. It's not easy to take the stage in front of friends and family members, but students demonstrated skills in music, dance, and other creative pursuits.

"The talent show was a huge success. All of the acts were amazing, and the judges had a tough time choosing a winner," said KTMS Assistant Principal Beth Johnson.

Performers included the following students: Amara Johnson (Grade 5 – "7 Rings"); Sam Snyder (Grade 6 – "Drive My Car" drum solo); Isabelle Herholz (Grade 7 – "Wild Things"); The Sistas (Grade 8 – "The Pink Panther" dance); Kyelee Panori (Grade 7 – "Sound of Silence"); Lauren Tutlis (Grade 5 – "Hand Clap" dance); Rose Lund, Cassidy Smith, and Lauren Comeau (Grade 8 – "Riptide"); and Mayah Jarmulowicz (Grade 5 – "Lovely").

After careful deliberation, the judges awarded first place honors to fifth grader Lauren Tutlis for her "Hand Clap" dance. Seventh grader Isabelle Herholz took second place, while the trio of Rose Lund, Cassidy Smith, and Lauren Comeau earned third place honors. Sixth grader Sam Snyder's drum solo earned the fourth place selection.

School officials congratulate all students who put their talents on display.

Curry College inducts West Brookfield resident into Sigma Theta Tau Nursing Honor Society

MILTON — Curry College is proud to announce that Amanda J. Balicki of West Brookfield has been inducted into the Sigma Theta Tau International Nursing Honor Society.

Curry College's Chapter, Theta at Large, began in 1953 when it was chartered as only the seventh Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau. A group of nurses attending Boston University set out to establish an organization that would represent the best of what nursing offered in this part of the world. Boston University would stand tall for the ensuing 37 years, as the "institution of record" for our Chapter, until in 1990 when we were re-chartered to include Curry College in Milton, Massachusetts and Simmons College in Boston - thereby establishing our "at-large" distinction.

Today, we have more than 650 active members linked among three unique institutions. Theta at Large has many reasons to be proud as we forge into the new millennium. We are active in supporting local nursing scholars through our ongoing research and academic awards program. Our fall and spring programs offer members an opportunity to connect with each other and engage in scholarly educational discourse. We are thrilled to routinely send members to destinations around this country and abroad, to leadership conferences, academic events, member forums and the biennial convention during which representatives from all chapters from around the world gather.

About Curry College

Always look on the bright side

Every day, we wake up with the best intentions — at least, we like to think that most of us do. Each new day brings with it specific challenges. Many times, those challenges come by way of a misunderstanding or a shifted perspective. We have come to realize that often, there is more to a story than we can see at its surface. Just being aware of that one simple fact can change the way a situation is viewed. Oftentimes, it's easier said than done, however the more we choose to remain optimistic the better. What might seem catastrophic in the moment is usually nothing more than a small frustration that has an easy fix and will pass. A wise man once said, "Don't sweat the small stuff, and it's all small stuff."

This isn't to negate the fact that larger issues do surface and take some time to sort out; however, we need to remind ourselves that we are all surrounded by well intentioned, intelligent people; people who are willing to be helpful, generous, rational and kind through productive conversations will always find the pot of gold in any situation.

Remembering to check a knee jerk reaction before gathering all of the facts is crucial to your ability to remain optimistic. Again, this is not always easy, but once mastered can change everything.

Believe it or not, optimism is a choice and offers surprising benefits. Choosing to look on the bright side of life (Monty Python fans, we know you're singing) can lower your risk of heart disease and stroke while also extending your life.

One study revealed that individuals who spent five minutes a day thinking positive thoughts about their future, increased their ability to be optimistic in just two weeks. Before turning in at night, list five things that you are grateful for and five things that you are looking forward to. Every time you stop at a traffic light, tell yourself something that you like about yourself. This works especially well if you are in the middle of a singalong to your favorite tune, concert of one. "Led Zeppelin is good, but man do I have a voice." Keeping pessimists in your life at a distance is always a good idea.

When a negative thought does creep through your mind, that's ok. Recognize it, and decide how realistic it actually is. To offset those thoughts, try spreading positivity yourself. While at work, offer a co-worker an 'atta boy' or 'atta girl' for a job well done. If your child has been hard at work on a school project, tell them how proud you are. Send a letter to someone who has had a positive impact on your life. When you bestow positivity on others, it has a lasting effect on your own life.

One way to practice being more optimistic is to flip every negative thought with a positive one despite how creative you need to get. For example, if you're thinking 'I'm going to be late for dinner and I don't feel like cooking' you can flip that by reminding yourself about the wonders of the microwave and take out. If a rainy day has you feeling groggy, remind yourself that those are the best days to read all day, catch up on Game of Thrones and not feel guilty about missing all of that sunshine.

We'll give it a whirl of our own. Here are five things we are grateful for and looking forward to. A solid group of co-workers, who work hard every day, summer hikes with trail mix that includes M & M's, a community who works together, outside barbecues with ice cold lemonade and shrimp cocktail and road trips to the ocean on a sunny day.

In the words of a quote from Rodolfo Costa, "Learn to adapt. Things change, circumstances change. Adjust yourself and your efforts to what it is presented to you so you can respond accordingly. Never see change as a threat, because it can be an opportunity to learn, to grow, evolve and become a better person."

Legalize prostitution

To the Editor:
Most people believe that they deserve the rights they are granted by the government. A prime example of this is the right to do what you want with your body, as long as you don't hurt anybody else. This is considered a basic human right, and is provided for in the Constitution. One example of where you should be able to do whatever you want with your body is prostitution. The government always has too much power over our health. It can draft us and make us go into internment camps like the Japanese in WWII. It certainly shouldn't say whether or not we have the right to pay for sex with a consenting adult.

For women, it's all they can do in order to break themselves of being poverty stricken sometimes. So, who are we to deprive them of their right to do whatever they want with their body? It could be the only thing that keeps them from feeding their family from a dumpster. Nevertheless, the government doesn't care about that, all it cares about is regulating something it sees as supposedly "bad," that is paying for sex. One of the benefits of legalizing prostitution would be that the government would actually be able to regulate it. This would make it a more supervised practice, so it wouldn't spread AIDS and herpes and other diseases. The prostitutes could be tested just like they are tested in places where it is legal, such as Las Vegas.

The cold hard fact is that by putting a restriction on the solicitation of sex, the government essentially is putting a restriction on one's personal freedoms. A state of being which many Americans expect. Not only that, the United States is known for and based upon the idea of its individual freedoms for each citizen, yet in some forms, it still ceases to exist. Not to say that a person should go out and put their life on the line with some government official because he doesn't have the right to pay for sex, just saying that it is an unjustifiable law and should some way be brought down and changed. The way of doing so could be through protesting and reaching the people through to its beneficial aspects as well as voting towards its legalization if there was a law or an ordinance up for a vote. Even one city, even Corvallis could start this, and it wouldn't be a bad place because hey, there are a lot of frat guys around here who would spend the extra buck or two for sex. A hard, endless battle to be sure but one which is worth it to men and to women alike.

Nevada, the one state with the most tourist attractions, some of the nicest weather, and considered by many as paradise, has already legalized this recreational activity. They have decided the money put forth by the government would be better used in supervising prostitution rather than fighting against it and making people's lives miserable. One part of the process of keeping order and safety within the industry is by controlling the prostitutes' acts at work. The prostitutes must all sign an agreement that they will report of anyone is violent towards them, and that they will all get tested for diseases regularly so the diseases will not spread. This is just one of the many ways prostitution works well in Vegas, and it is also one of the reasons the state does so well as far as tourism.

U.S. News and World Report has shown the facts on prostitution, this growing global activity. According to the magazine, 17 percent of men have partaken in this by hiring a prostitute, and the numbers are growing. Another fact from this article is that 40 percent of Americans think that prostitution should be legalized to reduce the spread of AIDS. To even further prove that thought, "Not a single case of AIDS turned up in a 1991 survey of 7,000 tests on 246 legal prostitutes in Nevada from 1982 to 1989. By contrast, of 700 illegal prostitutes arrested in 1990 for soliciting in Nevada, 10 percent tested positive for HIV" (Pillard 45). This shows solid evidence that the monitoring of prostitution, rather than making it illegal altogether, is a good way to keep the industry safer from STD's.

If prostitution was regulated, it could become a new industry all its own—a new way of life across America. It could sprout new jobs as legal pimps and hoers take over cities and towns. Republicans across the board are constantly asking Americans to spend their money within America rather than in foreign countries. This will give tax breaks and will give money to new and risky businesses who want to start up. The money circulated in and out of this industry will help the nation in a plethora of ways, and could reduce unemployment as much as 15 percent according to a study done by the Legalize Prostitution Group of Southern Florida (LPGSF).

In addition to all of the economic reasons to legalize prostitution, there is the basic issue of fundamental rights. Sometimes you might have a man who is not doing very well. Maybe he is poor or not good looking or had a massive surgery that left him scarred. He is probably not going to do a very good job trying to pick a woman up in a bar—the fact is, a lot of people choose sexual partners based on looks and little else. He can be the nicest guy in the world and still let's face it he is not going to get any in the most realistic sense. So if he pays for sex let's say he gets a night out to have sex with a beautiful woman this could totally lift his spirits, make him feel like a new person and maybe even have the drive within him to get a job. And all this just because of the legalizing of a simple act! See how helpful it could be?

Being a whore is something a person never wants to grow up and become. The slang terms of this occupation, when said, are usually said towards someone in an offensive manner. Even with the idea that women are still entering the business world daily, prostitution could help them do this even more. When asked why women sometimes turn to prostitution, Jessica Flemmer says, "They do it for the money." This proves that there is an economic incentive just like a woman who wants to be the head of Hewlett Packard. Who are we to make judgments about people's chosen profession? Besides, according to a study done by U.S. Consumer Advocates for Sexual Freedom, "The economic rewards of prostitution are currently greater than any of the other professions available to women." Besides this, the fact that women if they are really good prostitutes could make basically as much money as they want to make. There is no glass ceiling there!

Finally, we can see that with both men and women getting into this profession, they know what they are getting into. They know that they are selling their bodies for sex. Being from supporting a family to the freedom of choice, prostitution has its reasons why it should be legal and the U.S. government should not be able to stop it. Sadly, though, this profession is and probably will always be considered wrong, but for some it's all there is to give a ray of hope and sunshine into their otherwise bleak worlds.

Fixed annuity could help extend lifespan of retirement accounts

FINANCIAL FOCUS
JEFF BURDICK

It's almost impossible to save too much for retirement. After all, you could spend two, or even three, decades as a retiree. And retirement is not cheap — even if you maintain a relatively modest lifestyle, some of your expenses, especially those involving health care, may continue to rise over the years. Consequently, you will need several sources of reliable income — one of which might be a fixed annuity.

Fixed annuities are essentially contracts between investors and insurance companies. When you purchase a fixed annuity, the insurer will guarantee the principal and a minimum rate of interest. This means the money you invest in a fixed annuity is designed never to drop in value. (However, this guarantee is based on the claims-paying ability of the insurer that issues the annuity.)

You can structure a fixed annuity to pay you for a certain number of years or for your entire lifetime, which is the route many people choose. This is advantageous not only because of what it provides you — income for life — but because it also may allow you to take out less money each year from your other retirement accounts.

Here's some background: Once you turn 70 and a half, you are required to begin taking withdrawals from your traditional IRA and your 401(k) or similar employer-sponsored retirement plan. (This requirement does not apply to Roth IRAs.) You must take out a minimum amount, based on your age and account balance, but you are free to exceed that amount each year. But the more you withdraw from these accounts, the faster they are likely to be depleted. So, when you reach retirement, it's a good idea to establish an appropriate annual withdrawal rate, based on your retirement plan balances, Social Security, lifestyle, longevity expectations and other factors. You may want to work with a financial professional to determine a withdrawal rate that's suitable for your needs.

If you can count on the income from a fixed annuity, you might be able to take out less each year from your traditional IRA and 401(k), giving these accounts more tax-deferred growth opportunities. Plus, if you don't withdraw all the money from these accounts during your lifetime, you can include the remainder in your estate plans.

A fixed annuity's potential to help you extend the lifespan of your IRA and 401(k) can clearly be of value to you. Still, a fixed annuity does carry some issues about which you should be aware, such as surrender charges for early withdrawals, along with other fees. Also, if you take withdrawals before you reach 59½, you likely will face a 10 percent penalty. And annuities can have tax implications, so before you start taking withdrawals, you will want to consult your tax advisor.

Is a fixed annuity appropriate for you? There's really no one correct answer because everyone's situation is different. However, if you consistently max out your IRA and 401(k) contributions, and you still have money left to invest for retirement, you might want to think about an annuity. An income stream you can't outlive — and that may help you protect your other retirement accounts — is worth considering.

Was Jesus a Nazarite?

To the Editor:

Jesus was born in Bethlehem and raised in the city of Nazareth, a Nazarene. Because Jesus was raised a Nazarene in Nazareth, it is assumed Jesus was a Nazarite, and many artists portray Jesus with long hair.

It is assumed because Jesus was a Nazarene, Jesus lived under the vows of a Nazarite. What are the vows of a Nazarite? No drinking of any beverage made from grapes into alcoholic drink.

No eating any form of grapes, fresh or dried. No cutting your hair. No going near a dead body.

If Jesus at any time had violated any of the rules, Jesus would have broken the vow, Jesus would have been required to shave His head. This is found in the Bible, Book of Numbers, 6:9.

According to the Bible, at Jesus final Passover Jesus blessed the cup of wine and shared it with His disciples [Matthew 11: 19] According to Jewish custom this wine was diluted, grape juice. Jesus also touched a dead body on purpose [Matthew 9: 21-25]

Had Jesus been a Nazarite under Nazarite vow the things Jesus had done Jesus would have violate the vows and it would have disqualified Him from being the Lamb of God [John 1: 29, 36] Jesus challenged His accusers for them to find any sin in Him, they could not [John 8: 46].

Jesus was from the city called

Nazareth [Matthew 21: 11] [March 1: 9, 24] [Luke 2: 39] that is why Jesus was called a Nazarene; Jesus had nothing to do with Nazarite vows.

As for Jesus wearing long hair, He did not. According to the Bible 1 Corinthians chapter 11 verse 14 if a man has long hair, it is a disgrace to him. Jesus was always obedient to the Father, God and the law. Paul is using the length of the hair as an example between men and women. In Corinth, Greece, long hair for men signified pagan male prostitute and short hair for women identified them as prostitutes. Biblical and historical evidence proves this. Do your own research! Jesus was not a Nazarite, and did not wear long her. Also, according to Biblical history, the information I was able to research, Jesus was average height, five feet six inches, short black hair, brown eyes, olive-brown skin and rugged build.

What is the most important is Jesus was big enough, strong enough and obedient to the Father, God in every way to sacrifice His life on the cross for our redemption, salvation. Thank you, Jesus!

Do you believe in God, Jesus? Live by God's moral and dietary law and you will be blessed.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

An open letter to President Trump

To the Editor:

The news this [past] week [was] about your tentative plans to ship the masses of illegal crossers of our southern border to those cities and states which have proclaimed themselves to be “welcoming” places eager to take in, shelter, and nurture these illegals notwithstanding that by doing so they flagrantly violate federal law and push the costs—both fiscal and social—onto the native American population of those places, whether they like it or not.

Mr. President, I implore you, I beg you with my worn-out, old man’s knees—and with tears rolling down my face—do it...do it! Don’t talk about it, just do it. You are the only man left in the political world who has the sand to say to Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Chicago, Denver, and other once-great American cities now destroyed by communists, I mean... Democrats: “O.K., you virtue-signaling, holier-than-thou, we’re-better-than-you, bastions of Progressivism, stand by.....we’re sending everyone we pick up at the border to you so you can figure out what to do with them. Use your welfare system, your hospitals, your schools, and, yes, your jails as you see fit. Good luck as you implement your “sanctuary” program. They’re all yours. Put your money where your mouth is.”

But, Mr. President, may I as a Trump man in the lost land of Massachusetts ask a personal favor? Please cull out of the millions of our glorious new arrivals a few—oh, say, fifty-thousand to a hundred-thousand—put them on a fleet of C5A Galaxies bound for Otis Air Force Base on Cape Cod, Logan, and Westover AFB in Chicopee. Upon de-planning please immediately dispatch our guests to places in the old Bay State full of self-congratulating, smug, beautiful people who have long assumed a mantle of moral superiority regarding the question of illegal immigrants. Lets give Martha’s Vineyard and Nantucket their share. I think 5,000 apiece would be about right; we wouldn’t want either island to tip over as Congressman Hank Johnson (D-Georgia) feared would happen to Guam if too many Marines were stationed at one end of that island.

And, of course, Cambridge, Amherst, Northampton, Newton,

Provincetown, and all the other places where our superior fellow citizens bask in their own reflected glory will need their full complement of those whom low-energy Jeb Bush likes to describe as future valedictorians. Of course, they will howl and say they’re really not equipped to handle such a contingent, and that they really need to be shunted off to the already destroyed—yet once-great—New England cities like Lawrence, New Bedford, Brockton, Holyoke, Springfield...and, oh, yes, Worcester. Too bad. The libs talked the talk, now they can walk the walk.

The truth is, Mr. President, it’s war, whether anyone wants to admit it or not. Your enemies—the mainstream press, Hollywood, the universities, entertainment, corporations, the welfare state, all of ‘em—hate you with an intensity never before seen in all of our presidential history. They are completely unhinged — insane, actually — and would just as soon see the country destroyed if that’s what it took to get rid of you, their on-going never-ending nightmare.

Only you can fight them the way they need to be fought: relentlessly and without apology. Do it, Mr. President. Force them—our betters—to choke on their own lies and hypocrisy. There is no one else, I am convinced. You are “The Man for All Season”. You are Gary Cooper in “High Noon,” John Wayne on “The Sands of Iwo Jima,” Davy Crockett at the Alamo. “Horatious at the Bridge.” As another once-hated president used to comment: “One man and the truth makes a majority.”

Robert E. Lee, a very great man and American no matter what the revisionists will tell you, said that “Duty is the sublimest word in the English language.” Your duty, Sir, is to protect the American people, their borders, language and culture.

As one whose mother was a Scot, you must have some of the blood of William Wallace in your veins. He saw his duty, and did it to the very end. You must do likewise. Godspeed, Mr. President.

The redacted Mueller Report is In!

To the Editor:

Nearly a month after the Barr summary of the Mueller report, Barr has released a heavily redacted but still damning Mueller report. With the exception of Mitt Romney, Republicans are silent.

The Mueller report evokes several emotions. The first one is sadness that the things the media has been reporting on and the things the smarter half of America thought about Donald Trump are largely true. At no point in the entire narrative does any sense of the president’s unselfishness, patriotism, or the larger national interest ever emerge in any way. This is confirmation that the 45th President of the United States is running a narcissistic reality show with DJT as the star, from the oval office. He has not risen to the occasion — he is the idiotic man-child and unwitting pawn of Russia that ran in 2016.

In one sense the country should be lucky and grateful for the countless staffers that refused DJT’s orders to break the law with corrupting acts. On the other hand, his staffers who stood their ground may end up causing the country more harm in the end because if they faithfully executed DJT’s orders perhaps he would no longer be president and would be in a cell, instead. The road to hell is paved with good intentions.

We now have confirmation of what we the plurality knew in 2016. DJT is a threat to the systems of government we have and a threat to the basic honesty of our system. Every time he appears in the Mueller report he’s running roughshod over what he’s supposed to be doing. He’s interfering with an investigation, he’s ordering somebody to fire somebody else, the sheer number and boldness of the lies are simply amazing! He takes all the procedures and systems we have, the things that made America great, and runs right through them.

It is no longer even up for debate, even among Trump lemmings, that Russia undermined our election. The Russians are undermining the informational infrastructure of our society — the very concept that we can have a debate based on shared facts. The Russians are systematically, as the report says, aggressively trying to undermine that. Julian Assange was mentioned as trying to undermine the very concept of privacy in our society. There was either a tight alliance or a loose alliance among these actors that are engaged in the same project — destroying the basic infrastructure of our society.

DJT has chosen for two and a half years to deny what Russia did, which was undermining the most public of sacraments we have as the American people — a presidential election. We have done nothing to prevent it from happening again. We have no action plan.

The Mueller Report confirmed what many of us assumed — Trump may be too simplistic to be criminally culpable, like a child or intellectually disabled person. There is no way he could have been “in” on the Russian hack-job in 2016 — he’s too stupid to keep his mouth shut — he would have bragged about it on Twitter. Mueller specifically did not exonerate Trump of obstruction of justice. Mueller could not determine ‘criminal intent’ apart from his general erratic, destructive, and vindictive behavior. In a sense, Mueller basically said so many of his shenanigans are public and his strategy so poor he couldn’t determine whether it was a duly elected madman or obstruction of justice.

Mueller left the question of obstruction of justice open. He declined to charge a SITTING president, leaving open the House of Representatives to impeach or the Justice Department to charge Trump after he is no longer president. Regardless of whether the narcissist-in-chief had criminal intent, we should all be able to agree that he should not be president.

We need millionaires’ investment to improve our kids’ education

To the Editor:

Throughout Massachusetts, but specifically in Spencer and the Brookfields, our kids face an unfair and unequal situation. On one side, test scores and other measures indicate that our kids leave school not as well educated and qualified as students in many other towns. This is especially true when compared to well off Boston suburbs. Most of these suburban communities have much more tax money to spend on their kids’ education. Some, per student, have as much as 50 percent more.

However, we need to equally well educate our kids so that they have the knowledge, skills, and abilities to compete and prosper in today’s world.

Our kids are just as talented as those in the Boston suburbs. Likewise, our teachers, administrators etc. are just as dedicated and hard working. The simple reason centers around suburban communities having more tax dollars to spend on their kids’ education..

In contrast, we face a roadblock to improvement - we do not have the capacity, through property taxes, etc., to spend more on educating our kids

In the same context, general agreement exists that the 1993 state of Massachusetts model for funding public education no longer works. So as a beginning, this model needs changing so that it can better address 2019 education challenges including; special needs students, staff pensions, English language teaching, IT upgrades, charter school costs, etc.

Good news exists for those in favor of wanting to increase investment for educating our kids. A large majority of state politicians, including the Governor and legislative leaders, favor both updating the state formula and increasing funding for education.

However, just updating and improving the funding formula may have only a “band aid” effect. It will likely only affect some visible education problems such as those mentioned above. Also, it may also result in less than well off cities and towns fighting one another over too limited funds. Our kids need both more legislative action and investment in their education.

The solution for really improving education in middle and lower income communities lies in increasing taxes from those who can afford it - well off millionaires. Specialists indicate that the investment funding needed can be gotten by adding a additional 4 percent tax for a person’s annual income above a million dollars in a year. This extra tax revenue could then go to communities educational systems so that our kids have an equal chance to succeed.

Here note that in a recent survey, 77 percent of Massachusetts voters favor a “millionaires” tax for this educational investment in our kids. . Also note other states already tax incomes of the wealthy at similar levels.

Raising these taxes to better educate our kids will not be as simple as adding 1 and 2. Our local State Representatives and State Senators will need both help and encouragement.

For our kids’ and communities’ sake, let’s make it happen.

enne powder

Directions: Mix the ingredients together in a bowl. Lightly oil the meat with vegetable oil. Spread the rub generously on beef brisket, not so thick on other, thinner cuts. Apply it just before cooking or let it marinate on the meat overnight. Grill as usual. Makes a half cup.

West Coast BBQ Sauce

This sauce recipe from the Food Network website is billed as a melting pot of cultural influences. It was a Blue Ribbon winner of Foodtv.com’s 2001 Championship Cook-Off.

remaining ingredients, except lime juice, and bring to a boil, then reduce heat and simmer for at least one hour. If you want a completely smooth sauce, strain after cooking. Brighten with lime juice after cooking.

Brimfield insider tips

Many local antique collectors and dealers look forward all winter to the Brimfield Antique Flea Market. The May show is almost here. It is the first of three 2019 shows and runs from May 14 to May 19. The other shows are July 9 through the 14th and Sept. 3 through the 8th. I've offered tips for Brimfield shoppers in previous columns. This column will focus more on serious collectors.

ANTIQUES, COLLECTIBLES & ESTATES

to hour at Brimfield. There have been times when rain turned the fields into mud bogs. On other days, the wind whipped through and blew parts of tents off and dealers' wares flew off their tables. Be sure to check the weather, you may need to pack everything from a winter coat to rubber boots to shorts and sunscreen.

Plan to leave early. The traffic can be lined up for miles on Route 20. There is nothing worse than sitting in traffic and getting to a field at 10:30 a.m., when you wanted to be there at the 9:00 opening. Sometimes it is quicker to take the Turnpike to the Palmer exit and come back East to avoid traffic. A local map (or maybe your GPS) will also show you side roads that you can take to avoid heavy traffic on Route 20. If you leave early, you should be able to find a good parking spot. The lots can get pretty full later in the day.

The most serious buyers are there before dusk at the start on Tuesday morning. They know when each field opens and try to get to as many field openings as possible. Most fields open on Tuesday with some exceptions. Three shows open on Wednesday: New England Motel Antique Mart opens at 6 a.m., Heart-O-the-Mart starts at 9 a.m., and Herten's Antique Shows opens at noon. May's opens Thursday at 9 a.m., and Brimfield Auction Acres (formerly J & J) opens Friday at 8 a.m.

You can look for the dealers who sell things that are of interest to you by searching some of the publications that you'll find there, by doing a dealer search on brimfieldshow.com or downloading the Brimfield Flea Finder app to your phone. I have yet to try the app so I can't make a personal recommendation.

When you are ready to buy something, you can make an offer or ask for the dealer's best price, whichever you are more comfortable with. I don't think I've ever seen anyone pay full price for something at Brimfield.

Knowledge is power at Brimfield. Most of the dealers have been selling for many years. If you are a specialist in a specific area, you can often find some good buys. If you stray into an area that you don't know so well, you may not get the bargain you had hoped for.

North Brookfield puts together strong effort to take down Crusaders

North Brookfield's Kailey Dutter puts the tag on a sliding Whitinsville Christian player at second base.

Gabby Rico of North Brookfield tracks down a ball hit into left field.

North Brookfield's Tori Bain gets low to cleanly field a groundball hit down the third-base line.

NORTH BROOKFIELD — The North Brookfield varsity softball team needed to have a short memory when taking on the Whitinsville Christian School on Thursday, April 18. The Indians lost a tough game to Oxford High the day before, and lingering thoughts about that loss could have spelt doom against the Crusaders.

But North Brookfield maintained a positive demeanor throughout and belted 13 hits in a 16-9 victory over Whitinsville Christian.

"I think their energy really set the tone for the day," said Caitlyn Malone, now in her ninth year as the Indians' head coach. "They did absolutely amazing. We try to stress a lot about the mental part of the game."

North Brookfield's Maddie Didonato winds up and delivers a pitch to the plate.

North Brookfield's constant ability to be aggressive on the base paths paved the way toward the victory as well.

"The past couple of years we've really focused on base-running," said Malone. "If you think you're going to get there, then go."

After the Crusaders jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first inning — Abbi Cullen scored on an Emily Schneider RBI double, and Schneider later scored on a wild pitch — the Indians rebounded with a pair of their own in the home half. Kelly Daige scored on a wild pitch and Lily Fahey scored on a double steal.

After Whitinsville Christian regained the lead at 6-2 in the third, North Brookfield scored 14 of the game's final 17 runs to pull away.

Despite the loss, the Crusaders played hard throughout and have shown positive strides despite their now 0-4 record.

"These girls don't get down on themselves. They know their own wins — their personal wins — of what they can do," said Whitinsville Christian second-year head coach Lina Avila. "I have great leadership with my one senior, Emily Schneider. She's just taken the team and leads in whatever way is needed; it's been huge as a coach for someone to lean on like that."

Trailing, 14-7 in the top of the sixth, Schneider launched a two-run inside-the-park home run to right field to close the gap. Schneider finished 2-for-3 with three RBI and three runs scored. Other teammates with strong outings included Cullen (3-for-4, three runs), Olivia Flemming (2-for-3) and Meghan DeGregorio (2-for-3). Cullen, a freshman, has also stepped up as the team's pitcher after five players graduated last spring, including the usual starter.

"She's learning a ton," Avila said of Cullen.

As far as transitioning from a team with many wins to a club starting over, Avila has a different idea of what success can be this season.

"We've definitely had to completely change our mindset of what success is," she said about not stressing over wins and losses. "Getting the bunts down, we're really focusing on that. I have nine girls that have never played softball before."

North Brookfield, meanwhile, may be a team on the rise; their current record is 3-2.

"It's tough coming from a small school. We barely got a team together this year, but they've really bought in to what we've put together for our program and they're just as excited about where we're going as we are," said Malone, whose team last qualified for District play in 2014.

Bolstering the Indians' lineup is the addition of three David Prouty Regional seniors. When the Panthers couldn't field a full team, Fahey, Tori Bain and Gabby Rico joined North Brookfield to form a co-op program. The trio bats in the 3-4-5 slots and combined for eight hits.

"I think any coach would have reservations about bringing new girls into the program, but they fit together with our girls and our girls welcomed them with open arms," said Malone.

Fahey had a monster game. She finished 4-for-4 with four runs scored, three RBI and she threw out a runner at the plate from her center field position. A former catcher, Fahey has also mentored current catcher Serenity Ayala, a freshman.

Bain was 3-for-3 with four RBI, while Ayala and Maddie Didonato both had two hits. Didonato also pitched and finished with 11 strikeouts.

Kelly Daige of North Brookfield slides into third base safely.

Can-do Dubey leads David Prouty to 13-0 rout of Burncoat

David Prouty's Ricky LaPorte produces an RBI with a base hit.

Dubey was happy with his mound work as well.

"I wasn't trying to throw anything fancy; I was just trying to throw strikes," Dubey said. "I went out there just wanting to hit the strike zone and hit my spots. I threw my fastball most of the game. First-pitch strikes are a big key for us to be successful and I thought I did a good job of that today. I was able to get [Burncoat's] hitters down in the count, which allowed me to be in control of the at-bat."

Because the number of kids expected to play baseball this year in Spencer was lower than expected, David Prouty is in the first year of a co-op agreement with North Brookfield High.

The Panthers currently have one North Brookfield student on the team, eighth-grader Mike Bokis, although Bokis was not at Prouty's game with Burncoat. There were two North Brookfield players on the team to start the season, but the other has decided not to continue to play.

After suffering through a long and frustrating junior season last year, Dubey is enjoying the new attitude and new energy Bastien and assistant coaches Tyson Corey and Sean O'Connor have brought to the program.

"Our new coaches have brought a whole new feel, a whole new vibe to the team," Dubey said. "We're all working together because we all know we don't want to have another season like we had last year. So, we're working hard, trying to get some wins." So far, so good.

Cam Dubey of David Prouty watches the pitch sail toward the plate after leaving his hand.

Center fielder Sam DuBois of David Prouty makes a beeline for a ball hit his way, and nearly makes a diving catch.

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

EAST BROOKFIELD — There were other players on the field with him, to be sure, but make no mistake, David Prouty Regional's consolation-round game of the Panther Classic against Worcester's Burncoat High was Cam Dubey's show.

The senior went 4-for-5 at the plate, driving in six runs with a home run, a double and a pair of singles to lead David Prouty past the Patriots, 13-0, on Wednesday, April 17 at Connie Mack Field. In the field Dubey, a right-handed pitcher, tossed a complete-game seven-hitter, striking out nine and walking two.

With the win the Panthers, who did not win a game last season, improved to 2-4 on the season. Prouty opened the season with a 7-1 win over Southern Worcester County League (SWCL) rival Southbridge High. Burncoat, still looking for its first win in 2019, fell to 0-7 with the loss.

In the championship game of the Panther Classic, which followed the David Prouty-Burncoat game, West Boylston High defeated Worcester's South High, 8-1.

The highlight of Dubey's day came in the bottom of the sixth inning when he launched a two-run homer over the right-field fence. The homer put an end to the game, which was officially halted after Dubey crossed home plate to make the score 13-0, because of the 12-run mercy rule. Dubey is the first David Prouty player this year to hit the ball out of this historic baseball field.

"I think it was a fastball on the outer half of the plate at hand level," Dubey said of the pitch he hit out. "It was in my sweet spot, but I didn't think it was out when I hit it. I thought it was going to be a popup and come up just short of the fence. But, it got over and I'll take it."

Dubey led a 10-hit attack for the Panthers. Senior Ricky LaPorte and sophomore Trevor Grenier both finished with two hits and two RBI. Senior Colin Nosek and sophomore Nate Kniskern had Prouty's other two hits, and Nosek drove in a run as well.

"I was just going up there trying to see the ball well, find my zone and swing at strikes," Dubey said. "If I didn't like a pitch I tried to be patient and disciplined, let it go and be aggressive on the next pitch."

Everyone on the team did that today; everyone hit the ball well today."

David Prouty led 4-0 after the first inning, 9-0 after the third and 11-0 after the fourth.

"I thought it was important for us to come out and take care of business early, which we did," first-year head coach Sean Bastien said. "I thought Cam did a great job. He was very aggressive at the plate, all the guys were. Being aggressive at the plate is something we're going to need to work on all season. Don't leave any missed opportunities up there when the at-bat is over. I thought we did a real good job of that today. We swung and we made good contact."

Bastien was just as pleased with Dubey's effort on the bump as he was with his lead-off hitter's performance at the plate.

"Cam pitched six solid innings for us today. He kept hitting the zone and making our fielders do work," Bastien said. "We've been preaching all year, 'just throw strikes and we'll back you up,' and he did that. I thought getting ahead in counts and allowing our defense to back him up was a big key for us today."

David Prouty's Zach Paine takes a sizable lead off first base versus Burncoat.

Cam Dubey of David Prouty, center, is mobbed by teammates after launching a home run to end the Panthers' game with Burncoat after six mercy-rule shortened innings.

Of trout and turkeys

The Quabbin Reservoir opened this past Saturday under less than ideal conditions. Back in the heyday, anglers would flock to the Quabbin on opening day. Cars and boats would line up at gate 8, anxiously awaiting the opening day. For many years, the line of boat trailers would extend for more than a mile. Some would sleep overnight hoping to be a few of the first anglers to launch their boats, and get in some great fishing.

RALPH TRUE

those big browns, but no one seems to be listening!

Wild turkey hunting will open in Mass. on April 29 this year. It is none too soon for many sportsmen, and the birds are already strutting there stuff. Wild Turkeys in some areas are causing big problems for local residents, acting a bit crazy at times and attacking residents as they go along with their daily routine. If someone calls you a turkey, I certainly would not take it mildly. The huge birds also try to intimidate local resident when they roost in back yard trees, which is were they sleep at night. Some residents refer it to the movie of Alfred Hitchcock's film "The Birds." Acquiring permission to hunt local residents property should be a lot easier this year if they are having problems. Be sure to ask for permission whenever possible.

The Whitinsville Fish & Game Club will hold their annual spring fishing derby for members only, this coming Saturday starting at 9 a.m.! Breakfast will also be available at the club house starting at 7 a.m.!

Tautog fishing on the Westport River should bust open with action any day now. This week's picture shows the late Steve Mercure with a large tautog he caught last year while fishing with this writer on the Westport River. He will be sadly missed by all that knew him. He sure was the tautog fishing champ, and he let me know it every time we went fishing together.

Striper fishing is only a couple of weeks away, and it is none to soon for anglers that fish the Providence River. Schools of live porgies attract hundreds of strippers annually to the river, and the strippers provide great fishing from shore or from boats. Because the river is protected from heavy wind and tides numerous anglers fish from canoes and kayaks. Large bluefish are also caught in the river.

Unfortunately, the threat of zebra mussels & numerous invasive weeds being transported on the hull of boats from another lake or pond had the MDC take action to prevent their contamination to the Quabbin. It did seem a bit overkill with the expensive boat & trailer washing by designated garages, which now runs close to $ 100. It sure has kept attendance extremely low! Some anglers have two boats and keep one just for fishing the Quabbin Reservoir! For those that are willing to pay the price of washing their boat & trailer, and launching fees, the rewards are still worth the price for some. Catching large lake trout and salmon at the Quabbin provide plenty of action daily, and the scenery and solitude at the great body of water is a bonus. Spotting an eagle or two is also a daily event.

Local trout fishing has been very good, with anglers reporting some limits of rainbow trout at Webster Lake and at Wallum Lake in Douglas. Many large rainbow trout in the 16 & 17 inch class are included in the daily bag limits. Many brooks and streams have been stocked with 12 to 14 inch trout, with a few larger fish mixed in. Reports from some anglers fishing Hopkinton Reservoir this past week were all excited about catching big brown trout at the site. Wallum Lake needs some of

It should be noted that Mass. Fish & Wildlife already has a catch & release sportfishing awards program. It was called to my attention by numerous anglers. Thanks for bringing me up to date. It sure was the correct thing to do. Be sure to pick up a form at any registered weigh station and read it carefully. It is also spelled out in your 2019 book of abstracts.

Ingredients: 2 slabs loin back ribs (baby back); 1 cup KC Masterpiece Smoky Bourbon Barbecue Sauce
Dry Rub Ingredients: 1/4 cup dark brown sugar; 4 teaspoons garlic salt; 4 teaspoons chili powder; 2 teaspoons salt; 1 teaspoon black pepper; 1/2 teaspoon celery salt; 1/4 teaspoon red pepper; 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon; 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
Liquid Seasoning Ingredients: 1/2 cup apple cider; 1/4 cup apple jelly; 1/4 cup honey; 1/4 cup brown sugar; 1 tablespoon dry rub mix (above)

Directions Remove membrane from the back of the rib slabs. In a small bowl, combine dry rub ingredients and mix well. Reserve one tablespoon rub for the liquid seasoning mixture. Generously apply dry rub onto the front and back sides of ribs. Build a charcoal fire for indirect cooking. Add a small aluminum pan to the void side of the grill and fill it halfway with water. When the charcoal grill reaches 250 F, place ribs meat-side up on grill grate and cook over indirect heat for two hours and 15 minutes. Remove ribs from the grill. Place each slab meat-side down on its own doubled aluminum foil square. Mix liquid seasoning in a small bowl. Pour 1/2 cup of the liquid over each slab. Then, tightly wrap and seal each slab with aluminum foil. Place wrapped ribs back in cooker for one hour at 250 F. Remove ribs from the charcoal grill and discard foil. Brush barbecue sauce on both sides of the ribs. Place the ribs back on the grill for 15 minutes, or until sauce caramelizes. Makes 4-6 servings.

Directions: In a large pan, cook bacon until crispy and crumble. Sauté pork tenderloin and onion in bacon fat until meat is browned on all sides and onions are tender. Add remaining ingredients as listed in order. Mix well and pour into an (8 inch) square baking dish. Bake at 350° for one hour. Serves 4-6.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

The Scar Upon The Tree

BY RICHARD TRAUSCHKE

The tree sits off the lane, to the right;
 It's quite old, and is a Beech.
 It's wide, grey bark is plain, except for that scar that's within my reach.

Who carved that image upon that tree?
 What does it mean? I thought.
 Where could I find the answer?
 When was it put there for all to see?

The markings were not plain at first;
 I traced it with my fingers though;
 Then it became quite clear to me.
 It was made for a girl, by her beau.

It was a heart, and carved with care
 Pierced with an arrow, straight through.
 These were the words written there inside the heart - "I love you, Sue."

Upon solving the riddle, I let it be;
 only to find a couple, watching me.
 This year they came to the tree to see;
 their "I Love you Sue "
 Still, upon the tree.

MY BIRTHDAY

By Sue Angela Healy, North Brookfield, MA

Dear Mom and Dad, I'm sending this letter from up above
 Knowing it's coming with all of my love
 I can't believe it's already been 20 years
 Even from heaven I still see your tears
 Knowing it hasn't been easy for you
 Some days you barely just make it thru
 Seeing what's happening all over the United States
 Fires and loss at a very high rate
 In December I saw that Worcester lost another of our own
 Christopher Roy now with the 7 of us and will never be alone
 It's sad that all of us had to leave - all being so young
 But now in paradise together we all seem to have fun
 Today on my birthday we'll reminisce about weeks - months - years gone by
 And I'll try for all of us not to break down and cry
 Trying to imagine how I would have spent my many birthdays with all
 Before on December 3rd I received my final call
 But I believe God has a purpose for me
 Even thought in your eyes it's difficult to see
 Realizing when we all went to Iceland - such a wonderful time
 A more beautiful place you could not where find Going to the fire station when I was oh so young
 Over and over in my head, it's like it's a reason
 Those many holidays we all spent together

Frozen in time memories I shall cherish forever
 Everyone here are so loving - they care
 And there's never a moment we're living in fear
 But it would be so great to just see you again
 For you were not only my family but my very best friends
 You both look tired - like you need a rest
 And when God gave me you - He gave me the best
 Do not mourn any longer or cry on your knees
 Because today April 8th I am truly happy
 And even though on this occasion we'll go our separate way
 Know that I miss you and love you every single day

WHY TAN

BY SUE ANGELA HEALY,
 NORTH BROOKFIELD, MA

Why do people ask others, "why do you tan?"
 When the sun is to us in such great demand
 You know the sun causes cancer - not good for your skin
 Not having a clue of your feelings within
 So now I am going to tell you our story
 A warning to you there is no need to worry
 What is it that you don't understand
 How come with the vitamin D you receive you are not a big fan
 Well I hate the way I look - I hate the way I feel
 My emotions inside so raw and so real
 I hate who I am - I hate who I've become
 For in others and my eyes I am never number one
 It's a dose of sunshine that makes many frown
 But makes my heart and soul once lost - now found
 You look better - feel better even in your clothes
 What this warmth does for you nobody knows
 The world looks brighter with a golden bronze
 Nothing in your way - nothing is wrong
 If you suffer from depression it's a way to cope
 Not having to drink - take pills or even smoke
 It's a security blanket - safe haven - a comfort zone
 Hiding your pain as if talking on the phone
 The darkness put upon you is covering up the anguish inside
 Because you feel less lonely no dignity- no pride
 There is no need for anyone to judge you or me
 When all I want is for you to understand and see
 You suffer in silence - have no self worth
 It feels like you're kicked in the face with dirt
 The tan is like a protection from everything bad
 It makes us feel happy when otherwise we're sad
 In our eyes it gives us a glow
 And we smile in peace - making our joy show
 So in our lives we shall always sit in the sun
 And we'll finally know we are having fun
 They will see fulfillment until in the fall our tan fades
 Then we'll feel sadness again until next summer's rays
