Historic collections and offices could utilize space if town approves

BY KEVIN FLANDERS
NEWS STAFF WRITER

BROOKFIELD – Merrick Public Library officials have several visions for an adjacent property available for sale, and they will soon seek the town's help in acquiring it.

Library officials plan to ask the town to purchase the property at 18 Common St., which abuts the library on its north side. The property will be available as a commercial lease, with an option to purchase it, though library officials hope to rent the space during fiscal year 2019 and purchase it the following year.

Moreover, the library plans to partner with the Brookfield Historical Commission in the acquisition of the property, which would benefit both organizations. The historical commission would receive much-needed office and meeting space by utilizing a building on the site, while the library would be able to move its historic collections to the property and also create a map and display room for local artifacts.

The project would also enable the library to free up space at its 2 Lincoln St. location by moving historical items to the adjacent building.

A shared goal for the historical commission and the library is to eventually open a museum at the adjacent site with several artifacts highlighting Brookfield history.

"The local historical commission and the library are willing to partner and join collections," said library Director Brenda Metterville. "A Robert Wilder Map Room and museum space has been suggested in the annex space. This would free up 60 square feet in the library and 25 linear feet of shelving."

The Friends of the Library are hoping to hire an architect to explore the possibilities of using the first floor of the adjacent building (1,700 square feet) for office, program and meeting space. As materials

WEST BROOKFIELD —This town is known for unique celebrations, delights always to the senses and sensibilities. Visitors arrive, and before they've left they whip out their calendars to note the date of the next one. We just have a knack for great times, and great people having them.

For this one, you'll want to mark that calendar now. On Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 11 & 12, there just may be the grandest celebration ever held in this altogether splendid and special spot. It will last for a weekend, and invitations are already being sent across the country.

This year marks the 200th anniversary of the birth of the woman who literally changed the world, especially for women. Lucy Stone garnered support and assistance along the way, but it all began here.

Frustrated abutters continue complaints about Shea Road properties

WEST BROOKFIELD – Despite multiple attempts to get a Shea Road man to clean up his properties, town officials continue to receive complaints from frustrated residents.

Described by neighbors as eyesores and junkyards, the parcels at 67 and 75 Shea Road are both owned by Robert Brodak. There are no residences on the overgrown properties, which are cluttered with several rusted vehicles, campers, a large trailer, random debris,

Area fire departments addressing outdated foam disposal

BY KEVIN FLANDERS
NEWS STAFF WRITER

Following a recent announcement from state officials, local fire departments are taking inventory of supplies to see if they need to phase out an environmentally harmful product.

The Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection, in partnership with the state's Department of Fire Services, will conduct a take-back program this summer to assist fire departments with disposal of old firefighting foams. Most foam products manufactured before 2003 use perfluorinated compounds that were flagged as an environmental contaminant by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

In several towns across the country, the outdated foams are being blamed for contaminating groundwater and drinking water sources. The state's accelerated take-back program is meant to ensure that these foams are removed from current fire department stockpiles.

A group of riders from the 2017 ride at the Rapsallion Brewery.

Opacum Land Trust is once again partnering with Rapsallion Brewery and Hyland Orchard of Sturbridge, and Southbridge Bicycle for our second annual Bike Ride for Land Conservation, scheduled Sunday, July 8 in Sturbridge.

The Ride brings cyclists through the heart of Opacum's service area including Sturbridge, Brimfield, Brookfield, Monson and surrounding towns in south-central Massachusetts. Bike enthusiasts will be challenged by our hilly 100 mile ride while others can choose a route in keeping with their ability, including 50 and 25 mile loops, and a family-friendly 7.5 mile ride that makes the day a win for everyone! All proceeds from this ride will go to support the land conservation work of Opacum Land Trust – helping to protect the beautiful character of our communities.

Registration for all routes is online at BikeReg.com, with the proceeds from the $50 registration fee going to support Opacum Land Trust. Rest stops with food and water are available, and a SAG vehicle will be on hand for emergency assistance. Registrants receive a free T-shirt, snacks and flatbread pizza, and a free craft beer upon their return. Rides begin at staggered times and are synchronized to wrap up between 1:30 and 2:00 back at Rapsallion. Details of the routes and starting times can be found at BikeReg.com/tour-opacum, and on our website. For specific questions about Opacum Land Trust or the TourOpacum, please call or contact us at info@opacumlt.org.

The afternoon will feature live music from the Tony Soul Project along with additional food options and craft beer at the beautiful Hyland Orchard Pavilion. Guests are invited to bring their own lawn chairs and picnics, and hang out in the orchard surrounding the pavilion, soaking up the sun. The venue also offers a full 18-hole Disc Golf Course.

Rapsallion will again brew a special "Opacum Ale" for the occasion – celebrating the land trust's namesake, Ambystoma Opacum, the blue marbled salamander, a rare and threatened species that inhabits this region. A portion of the sales of the beer will be donated to the organization.

Opacum's Executive Director Ed Hood is pleased to announce that Southbridge Credit Union is the lead sponsor for TourOpacum, demonstrating their commitment to the character of the communities that Opacum Land Trust serves. The Sturbridge Tourist Association has also made a substantial commitment supporting TourOpacum, including funding to support digital marketing efforts that will bring riders to the Sturbridge area.

"After a successful first year with 91 riders, we hope to more than double participation in 2018 with the help of the expanded marketing impact that our relationships with Southbridge Credit Union and the Sturbridge Tourism Association will provide," says Hood.

Hood is also excited to have Rapsallion Brewery's enthusiastic and generous support for this event. With its central location in Opacum's service area, the very important feature of local craft beer, and its commitment to helping grow TourOpacum, Rapsallion is an ideal partner for the event. Hood is particularly grateful for the guidance and technical support of Jon Steppic, owner and manager of Southbridge Bicycles, and himself an avid bike rider. Southbridge Bicycles will provide a "SAG Wagon" – a vehicle equipped to assist riders who have mechanical failures during the ride.

Based in Sturbridge, Opacum

Land Trust is a not-for-profit 501(c)3 organization lead by a volunteer board of directors. Opacum cares for 1,992 acres of conservation land in its 13-town service area, stretching from Monson to Charlton and Southbridge to North Brookfield. Proceeds from the first TourOpacum in 2017 were used to help purchase a 76-acre forested parcel on Monson Road in Brimfield known as Dingley Dell, which Opacum will open to the public as The Clayton and Margaret Thomas Nature Preserve. This property contains a waterfall, a natural spring, a spectacular 25ft high boulder, and is adjacent to the Hemlock Gorge section of Brimfield State Forest.

In 2017 Opacum Land Trust also conserved 57 acres of "Stillmeadow Farm" in Monson, belonging to Nancy Clark, her daughter Laura Rogers and her son-in-law Eric Rogers, and 125 acres of land in Charlton belonging to Richard Kisten. Opacum's other public properties include Opacum Woods in Sturbridge, The Claire Birtz Sanctuary and the Thompson Family preserve in Southbridge, and the Flynt Quarry Lands in Monson. These four beautiful properties have trails for public hiking.

For more information on these properties and the conservation work of Opacum Land Trust, go to www.opacumlt.org.

Situated in the rolling uplands of central Massachusetts, in the watersheds of the Quaboag and Quinebaug rivers, the service area of Opacum Land Trust is a scenic region of forests, farms and quintessential old New England Villages. TourOpacum will bring riders past some of Opacum Land Trust's conservation properties, including Monson's Flynt Quarry (site of one of the ride's rest stops), the Plimpton Community Forest and Riverlands conservation areas in Sturbridge and the Broz-Simon Conservation property in Brookfield. Most of the routes bring riders through the beautiful village of Brimfield, with a rest stop at the historic Hitchcock Free Academy, which now serves the town as a community and education center (www.Hitchcockacademy.org).

Leicester Public Library Director Suzanne Hall shows off several books available during the library's book sale held on June 9.

BY KEVIN FLANDERS
NEWS STAFF WRITER

LEICESTER – Kicking off a busy summer in style, Leicester Public Library held one of its largest fundraisers of the year last weekend.

Hosted by the Friends of the Leicester Public Library, the June 9 book sale saw hundreds of old books find new homes. The books are donated throughout the year by library patrons and residents, then sorted by staff members and volunteers for the sale.

Proceeds from the event augment a tight annual budget by funding activities throughout the year, in addition to paying for a few technologies as well.

"This is one of the Friends' two primary fundraisers each year. It is a great way to promote reading and also reuse old books that would otherwise get thrown out," said library Director Suzanne Hall.

Library officials thank everyone who donated books or spent time sorting them at the book sale. Setup took a little longer than usual this year due to the minimal space available at the library's 1 Paxton St. temporary location, but volunteers never back down from a challenge.

"Everything went very well, but we are definitely looking forward to next year [once the library expansion project is complete]" Hall added.

Looking ahead, Hall and her staff are eager for summer reading to begin. Registration for the library's summer reading program will start on June 26, followed by a kickoff week of special activities running through June 29. Kids can drop by the library at any time during that week to register for the program.

This year's summer reading schedule features weekly do-it-yourself activities, lunchtime stories, Lego activities, and an end of summer celebration on Aug. 7. This event will include an ice cream social for participants. The library will also use a portion of the book sale proceeds to purchase three Kindle Fire devices that will be raffled to summer reading participants.

Meanwhile, library officials are getting steadily closer to moving back into their building on Main Street. The expansion and renovation project is fully funded, but the library is always looking for donations to help increase programming and maintain the facility. To that end, the library's Buy a Brick capital campaign is running through the end of June. If you're interested in providing a gift that will last a lifetime while positively impacting the library, purchasing a brick is a great way to accomplish both tasks.

You can have your brick engraved with a loved one's name, an inspirational message, or a memorial message. Tax-deductible bricks can also be purchased as birthday, Christmas, or wedding gifts.

Each brick costs $200, and all proceeds will benefit the Leicester Public Library Renovation Fund and library activities. The library is also offering T-shirts of varying sizes, buttons, magnets, and other items available for purchase.

The library expansion and renovation project is expected to be completed by late fall. For more information about upcoming programs at the library, visit www.leicesterlibrary.org.

Fishing both fresh and saltwater just fine say anglers

Fishing fresh and saltwater can be an exciting past time for young and old. It also can make great memories for the fishing public.

This past week this writer went striper fishing with Steve Mercure of Uxbridge at the Providence River. We arrived at the Bold Point boat ramp at 4:30 a.m.! By the time we had launched my boat it was just breaking light. As I navigated my 16 ft. boat through the channel and out into open water, I noticed a couple of boats about a quarter mile out and decided to check them out. Now I know I wrote a column about “Googans” a couple of weeks ago, where some fishermen follow and fish too close to commercial fishing vessels, but I was just trying to observe what they were fishing for. My prediction was right! They were trying to snag a few porgies for bass fishing.

We set up a few hundred feet from them and found our own school of porgies. It was not a large school of bait fish but we managed to snag a few for our morning fishing trip.

I decided to head out to a favorite spot of mine that often had us catching stripers on past fishing trips. We started our first drift by 6:00 a.m. and had a couple of hits on the first drift. They evidently were school stripers and were not large enough to handle a full size bait.

After a short run, they dropped the bait and it was time to go back up to where we had started our first drift. As we let our lines out we noticed a couple of osprey circling our baits. Suddenly one of the large birds plunged from the sky and picked up Steve’s bait fish.

What the heck!!

I started to laugh as Steve battled the huge bird with his fishing rod. Suddenly the osprey dropped the bait fish and it crashed back to the surface of the ocean. Because the bait fish were swimming close to the surface it was easy for the osprey to spot the fish swimming just under the surface of the water.

Suddenly the second osprey plummeted from the sky and grabbed my baitfish, and I went through the same ordeal that Steve had just encountered. Giving the rod a good tug, the osprey also dropped my bait. Now we noticed that there were five osprey circling our boat waiting for another opportunity to steal one of our baitfish.

We decided to leave the area to avoid another encounter with the birds. We were also concerned that they could become entangled in our fishing line or ingest one of our hooks. I sure wish I had my camera running to capture at least one of the moments, but it happened so fast I did not have time.

We soon found ourselves fishing back where we had snagged a few porgies earlier in the day, and encountered a few more short runs from more than likely school stripers. I decided to check out another favorite spot of mine and found some larger fish by using my fish finder. We quickly let out our baits and had a fish on almost immediately. After the second run, this writer had a good hook up with one stripper. After a 10 minute battle, the large striper was brought alongside the boat, where my fishing partner could scoop up the somewhat impressive striper and place it in the boat. He measured out at less than 40 inches, but slightly more than 30 inches?!!!! At least it was a legal fish and was all that we needed to bring home for some of my acquaintances at the Uxbridge Rod & Gun Club to eat.

My brother Ken and his son Mark sent along a picture as shown in this week’s column of anicelake trout they had caught a couple of weeks ago at Gate 8, in the Quabbin Reservoir. A $23 fee to rent a boat and 9.9 hp. motor for the day also included a full tank of gas and admission. They caught seven lake trout throughout the day. They were all released back into the Reservoir. Although no salmon were caught by the two anglers, many fishermen still catch them on some of their trips. They are planning another trip to the Quabbin as early as next week.

Game Club for 12 to 17 year olds for first time applicants wanting to obtain their FID card on Saturday Aug. 11, and Sunday Aug. 12. A $25 registration fee, which is refundable after the student passes the course is required. Live shooting of handguns and shotguns will be available for every student taking the course. Contact Ed to register, or for more information at (508) 278-6002. The course is open to both female and male students from any town or state. A light lunch will be served both days.

To the disappointment of many people in the area, the 200 Sportsmen’s club will not be holding their annual spring picnic this year. It was rated as one of the best picnics in the area, and the food was always top notch. The Blackstone Valley Beagle Club is planning a clambake with all of the trimmings in the coming weeks. I will try to keep you posted.

Haddock fishing on the North Shore remains steady. Talking with a couple of anglers that fished aboard a charter boat in Salisbury this past week commented about the fast action fishing for haddock, but also stated that they had caught many nice cod fish that had to be released because of the closed season on all of the Gulf of Maine. Hopefully the restrictions will be lifted soon.

Chamber of Central Mass South awards scholarships

The Chamber of Central Mass South is very pleased to announce the winners of the Chamber scholarships for 2018. This year, three scholarships in the amount of $1,000 will be awarded to three local students upon successful completion of their first semester of college with a 3.0 GPA or higher.

"This is a highly competitive scholarship," said Chamber Executive Director Alexandra McNitt. "We received applications from all but one of the high schools in our catchment, and our selection committee worked hard to identify the most deserving students. All applicants have great grades and involvement at their respective schools. What sets these three students apart is their level of community engagement. These young women have already made a positive impact on their community."

This year's $1000 scholarship recipients are Julia Ferron and Erika E. Quesada, both graduates of Southbridge High School, and Jiliana Marrero, a graduate of Bay Path Regional Vocational Technical High School.

Julia Ferron, of Southbridge, is an exceptional student, a gifted artist and dancer. Julia was a member of the National Honor Society, the Art Honor Society and served as class president through her sophomore, junior and senior years. During her tenure at Southbridge High School, Julia has given tirelessly of herself and demonstrated leadership within the school and our community. Julia has worked as a summer camp counselor with the

Julia Ferron

Southbridge Recreation Department and an assistant dance instructor at Spotlight Dance Academy. Active in her community, Julia has volunteered at Relay for Life since 2009, the Southbridge Police Department, Holiday Visions, and the Lions Club among others. Julia ranked second academically in her graduating class. Passionate about art, Julia is a talented photographer, painter and sketch artist and hopes to major in illustration.

Jiliana Marrero, of Southbridge, is a wonderful example of a good citizen who is committed to academics and her community. With an impressive transcript from Bay Path Regional Vocational Technical High School and outstanding grades, Chelsea was active in Student Council where she was vice president, the Class Steering Committee, Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) and the National Honor Society. Hard-working and committed, Jiliana has truly made a difference in our community. She was the recipient of the Community Service Hours Award for volunteering over 100 hours in one year. Jiliana is now a Certified Nursing Assistant and Home Health aide, an active member of the Charlton Police Explorers and she works as a Dietary Aid at Harrington Hospital. With the goal of working in the medical field, Jiliana plans to major in biology.

Erika E. Quesada, of Southbridge, is a motivated and focused student who has dedicated much of her energy and resources to her school and community. In her senior year at Southbridge High School, Erika was president of the Student Council and president of the school's National Honor Society. Smart, driven, organized and a great participator, Erika has been on the varsity cheer squad, varsity tennis and volleyball teams. She has won the Anna Maria College Book Award, the Rotary Youth Leadership Award, a DECA award and a HACE (Hispanics Achieving and Celebrating Excellence) award. During her senior year, Erika was dual enrolled with Southbridge High and Quinsigamond Community College where she continued to achieve at the highest level and made QCC's Dean's List. Through her National Honor Society commitment, Erika is a frequent volunteer in our community. Academically, Erika ranked fifth in her graduating class. She intends to major in accounting.

The Chamber is extremely gratified to be able to contribute to the ongoing education and success of these exceptional young scholars and we wish them the very best as they pursue their academic ambitions. The Chamber of Central Mass South typically offers three $1000 scholarships to local students each year. Monies are allocated from the Chamber's Charities and Scholarship Fund which is supported by the annual 'Your Chance to Be a Millionaire' lottery scratch tickets raffle, the Chamber's Golf Classic and individual contributions from Chamber Members. Scholarship applications can be obtained at local high school guidance offices or online at the Chamber website. The annual deadline to apply is April 1.

Public Safety Day Tuesday

LEICESTER – The town will host its first ever Public Safety Day on Tuesday, June 19, from 5-7 p.m. at Town Hall.

Residents are invited to meet public safety officials, see vehicles and equipment up close, and ask questions about police and fire operations in town. First responders don't often get a chance to meet the residents they serve and protect every day, and they are looking forward to a unique event.

"The Public Safety Day offers residents an opportunity to come out and see the equipment that has been purchased with their tax dollars, inquire about its use, and in some cases see how it operates," said Leicester Police Chief James Hurley. "It also affords the public safety entities an opportunity to provide information as to how they operate, what their mission is, and what the future holds for each department."

The event will take place in the main parking lot alongside Town Hall.

My name is "Chrissy". They tell me, I am a "blue tortie". I am extremely shy, but once I come out of my shell, I am very affectionate. I turn into a regular purr machine. I sleep next to my foster mom, and I love it when I can put one paw in her hand – or her face! And who can resist MY face! Everyone tells me that I'm beautiful. Also, I am a talker: when I get hungry – or just want attention – I let my foster mom know. When I'm not napping, I like to just sit and watch my foster mom go about her business. If you would like more information about me, please contact the shelter.

North Brookfield bids farewell to class of 2018

NORTH BROOKFIELD – After four years of fun, friends, extracurricular activities, and plenty of tests, the North Brookfield High School Class of 2018 has made it to the finish line. Students and their families celebrated during the June 3 graduation held at the school, which culminated with the traditional receiving line.

As one of the smallest graduating classes in the region each year, NBHS seniors are always very close. After graduation, they enjoyed a few final hugs and handshakes before focusing on the next step of their academic journeys.

Hi! My name is Deniol and I love basketball and soccer!

Deniol is a sweet and social boy of Hispanic descent. He makes friends easily and his favorite activity is playing sports, especially basketball and soccer. He also enjoys playing video games. Deniol is very comfortable talking and playing with adults and children of all ages. He also adapts quickly to new environments.

Legally freed for adoption, Deniol is looking for a loving family that can provide him with support, structure and consistency. An ideal family will also be able to advocate for his needs, and help him utilize appropriate community services. Although his social worker believes that he will do well in a family of any constellation, with or without children, she believes that he will do particularly well in a family where he can have siblings. A family who enjoys being active would also be a good match for Deniol.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mare-inc.org.

The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

FRANK G. CHILINSKI
PRESIDENT AND PUBLISHER

RUTH DeAMICIS
MANAGING EDITOR

EDITORIAL

We are not the only ones....

In the wake of the G-7 conference, at which our president has confirmed decisions to continue to levy tariffs and penalties on historic trade partners; it is interesting to realize the world could easily go on without us.

We are not integral to the world's markets any longer.

Name one, just one product produced in the United States that is not available elsewhere.

Anyone? Anyone?
You are right.
There isn't one.

And often, because we are somewhat isolated from some of the most populous possible customers, our costs for shipping and handling mean we may not be the most economically feasible choice. We have oceans between us and many of the places that might rather have US goods. Air shipments or ocean shipments are expensive.

It limits just who our closest possible trade partners might be, north or south; and we pretty much ticked off our neighbors to the north this week.

We already messed up our relations to the south by threatening to bar them all with a gigantic wall...whether it is ever built or not it is a subtle threat indeed.

Everyone else in the world...an ocean. And costs.

The costs we incur in this country for employees, insurances, utilities, raw materials, spaces, machinery, display costs, shipping, and even advertising means we are not competitive with many other, smaller, leaner, entrepreneurial global enterprises. We just can't compete. And when we start demanding others pay our prices or else, we're cutting our own throats.

We can't even demand it on the precedent of quality. Not any longer.

Others do it better.
They just do.

So we are in trouble in the US of A. And we are not helping ourselves much with our bully attitudes. It might have worked in the earlier industrial ages, but no longer. Because we just aren't the best, or the even the least expensive, or the only ones with the widget others need, or a lock on any market anywhere.

It's going to hurt when the rest of the world realizes the power they have, and begin to exercise it. The power of the wallet has always been the most telling; and it will crush us in the long run.

VIEWPOINT

OPINION AND COMMENTARY FROM SPENCER, LEICESTER AND THE BROOKFIELDS

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Newton: no solutions from either side

To the Editor:

Trust me on this one, I'd much rather be discussing the picture perfect rhythm found in Andrew Benintendi's swing or the realistic chances the Worcester Country Club has in hosting the 2025 Solheim Cup competition as opposed to getting involved in a political discourse. My strong suit is definitely the former and certainly not the latter, but why let wisdom and discretion get in the way of making a fool of oneself. That's what I always say.

An article in last week's VIEWPOINT quoted "moderate" commentators such as Thomas Friedman, David Drezhan, and Amy Siskind, among others, in attacking the president and his fellow henchmen. I have no problem with people voicing opposition in areas that move them and I too am beginning to have some concerns about Trump now that we're '80 weeks' into his presidency. But to describe the aforementioned commentators as "moderate" ~ please, they're located further to the left than Benintendi's stance at the plate.

For every argument posed by Friedman I'm sure Brian Flood can find fault with it. But Flood is on Fox News, not the NY Times, so I guess that doesn't count. Having read up on a few of Amy (The New Agenda) Siskind's 'Weekly List' postings, is it any different than what I would hear if I stayed up late at night and listened to Jimmy Kimmel or Stephen Colbert? The point I'm trying to make is that with all the 'hate' the Trump presidency has been accused of manifesting, how has the left answered? With more hate of their own. One is as bad as the other. What's worse is that neither side recognizes it or is willing to own up to it. Why would anyone try to make an argument pertaining to who's dumber: Roseanne Barr or Samantha Bee? Pointless.

Making reference to John Brennan's valid experiences as the former head of the CIA certainly expressed legitimate concerns regarding the question of integrity being shown by our Commander-In-Chief. And the call for action now to show one's opposition by way of voting in midterm elections, contacting current legislators, and beginning a comprehensive search (other than Facebook) for a worthy candidate in 2020 are far more constructive and worthwhile approaches than just trading the 'hate talk'. What's ironic is that the liberal's main critique of conservatives consists of two things: all the conservatives want to do is make you afraid of the problem and tell you who's responsible for it. I think the left is using the same playbook.

As you can readily see the extent of my limited political expertise is strictly a result of what my uncle Henry Gorman taught me and not by listening to the commentaries of Rachel Maddow. (Henry also liked his Ballentine Ale and was an ardent Yankees fan.) So take it for what it's worth. Here's hoping that summer has finally arrived and the only time you'll possibly see my name in future New Leader editions are in the Quail Hollow golf results and not in the editorial section. The bride agrees wholeheartedly.

Happy Father's Day

A father is more than a man; he is a hero, warrior, mentor, and friend. He loves, listens, cares, and leads. He leads by example, or by hand; he leads you through the journey of life with strength and intelligence. A father is there, and sometimes he's not.

No matter what part he plays he leaves a mark like the sun on a flower. He can attain its bloom or he can scorch the delicate petals. A father will always be true. No matter the role, he will always be a part of you. He will compose the fabric of your thoughts, introduce you to the basics of life, be close to your heart, or a voice in your conscience. Near or far, a father is a fragment in us and helps design who we are and who we become. The journey I faced with my own father is not different from some but unique to me. If you miss a father, you can find strength in others to guide you, his absence does not define you. If you have a father that is all the things he should be, love him and show him how much he means to you on this day and every day. If your father is lost, given up to the cosmos, know he is watching from the stars and leading you with each sparkle in the night and each day break. When the sun illumines from darkness it is him, keeping you warm, keeping you safe, keeping you within his light for eternity.

I stand alone on the front stairs of my mothers' home. My bare feet pressed into the concrete step. I focus on the pain and the remaining heat left from the sun soaking into me; hopefully giving me the strength I need. I push my skin deeper into the concrete until I'm intimate with every pebble and stone. The jaggedness is deeply engraved into my flesh and I welcome the discomfort. I can do this. If I can take this pain, if I can grind the soles of my heels in deeper I can stay, I can be the bigger person. I must be the bigger person. That's how it's always been with my dad. I made a hard choice, instead of running away, I would stand still.

My father was to drop my little sister off from her visitation with him any minute now and I would be here. A sign of forgiveness, me to him. A shadow crosses over my sight. My father's silhouette formed in the sunshine coming down the hilltop. He brought my sister to my feet. My feet, bare and numb now from the heat and pain. I smile at my beautiful sister and watch her go inside. With the same smile I look up into his eyes. He sees me. He sees his daughter, 15 years old, in front of him, standing, staying, I'm here dad. His eyes leave mine and drift to the ground, he turns on his scuffed shoes and walks away from me. I watched his silhouette fade beyond the hill and I knew I would never see him again.

I used to go to my father for everything and he would give me advice on things that truly mattered to him. We had the kind of relationship that every father and daughter would be jealous of. I remember our road trips. He would sit me in the front of his Jeep and lean me out the window to look for lost wallets on the side of the highway. It was so exciting, like a scavenger hunt through a wind tunnel. He would explain that when he finds a wallet he keeps the cash inside but never the cards or the wallet itself. He would look at the ID and mail the wallet back to the person explaining in a kind note that they were so very lucky that it was him who found their wallet and not some crook. He would be Hot on the heels of Memorial Day weekend, gardeners everywhere are heralding in a long-awaited annual rite of late spring: official planting time! Backyard gardeners who patiently waited for the threat of frost to pass, are now eagerly scurrying to get their precious seeds, seedlings and fertilizer into the ground in anticipation of a bountiful harvest crop. And while many successful planters boast their own "secret" techniques to cultivating impressive rows of ripe, red tomatoes and patches of multi-blooming flowers, there are some easy tricks even "green thumb impaired" gardeners can use to give their plants a growing edge.

The following are some planting concoctions culled from readers of this column, gardening periodicals and past columns. All the methods are simple to do, and who knows, they just might improve the fruits of your labor!

Light Scent: Did you know most fragrant flowers are lightly colored or white? If you want to add a scent to your garden, be generous with white or pastel blooms.

Dash of Salt: Adding Epsom salt to plants has been reported to enhance the color of blossoms and leaves, promote new flowers and fruit, improve the root system and improve the strength of stems. For roses: sprinkle one teaspoon of Epsom salts per foot of plant height and spread evenly around the base for better blossoms and deeper greening. Add 1/2 cup sprinkled around the base and then scratched in, for strong production of new flowering canes and healthy new basal cane growth.

Pepper Position: Pepper plants thrive on heat, so it can be beneficial to place large rocks next to your green pepper plants to attract the sunlight.

Rein in Mint: Mint is easy to grow and useful in everything from herbal tea to holiday jelly. To stop vigorous mint from spreading and taking over the garden, keep it corralled by planting it in a large plastic bucket with the bottom cut out.

Rain Gauge: When planting your garden, sink a small jar or can in the middle of a row. This way, you can gauge exactly how much water your garden is getting from both irrigation and rainfall.

Boost Blooms: Plants that grow best in alkaline soil such as geraniums and hydrangea will thank you with better blooms if you water them with a mild mixture of baking soda and water occasionally.

Proper pH: The first thing to check if your azalea leaves are looking yellow is the soil pH. Azaleas need a soil on the acid side. Alkalinity locks up iron needed for green color.

Save $: For cost effective mulch, use three sheets of newspaper under bark mulch. You'll save money on bark and the newspaper decomposes, enriching the soil.

Rooting Trick: It can be difficult to successfully take cuttings from shrubs to root and plant. Here is an option that ups your chances the cutting will take: Take a small potato, make a small hole, and place your shrub cutting inside. Immediately plant, potato and all, either in the ground or in a pot.

Pucker Power: To safely keep ants and insects off your plants, simply sprinkle concentrated lemon juice in the garden.

Need more green thumb tips? Try these problem solving "recipes!"

Miracle Grower Garden Tonic: Are your plants suffering from lackluster leaves? Are your blooms bowing out? Try this tonic to miraculously rejuvenate your plants this growing season.

Ingredients: Five gallon bucket; water; three pkgs. unflavored gelatin; two cups Epsom salts; one teaspoon borax (boron); one fourth cup dishwashing liquid (made with vegetable oils, not animal fats). Instructions: Put gelatin and Epsom salts in bucket as you fill it with water, so they will dissolve properly. Add borax and stir. Put soap in last (to keep down suds). Mix well. Use about two cups of formula per plant or group of plants. May be poured directly over foliage and allowed to soak in ground. In two to three days, plants and foliage should perk up nicely.

keeping the cash as a finder's fee, but returned the wallets intact. He was so kind and giving. He told me this all the time so it must be true. My father told me I had eagle eyes and he used my eagle eyes for so many things. I was the look out for when he found items in neighbors' yards to sell on ebay. He brought me to thrift shops to find antiques that could be re-sold at higher prices. I could spot trinkets of gold and silver from anywhere I was planted, I was his little helper and he always made everything an adventure! He would take his earnings in clinking bottles and reside himself to his office, but when he eventually returned, the adventures could begin again. My childhood was filled with excitement. On weekends we would go digging for arrowheads together and hike into the woods. He taught me to always watch my path, know where I was going, and intend every step I took. He would use my youth and drive to his advantage in the community. Posing me for pictures in local newspapers, he was a beacon of pursuit in justice my father, he fought for those who could not fight for themselves, and I was proof of success. He was my hero, and I was his little helper.

My father was a writer. He wrote articles for newspapers and magazines. He was working on a few books about politics, politically incorrect toys, and how communism is essentially a good thing. Not many were published but when they were we all celebrated. He was such a brilliant man when he succeeded; when he didn't, it was because his family got in his way. We were too loud and needy, or just too alive.

I love to write. I believe his sense of whimsy may have infected me. I thank him for that. He has instilled in me a certain outlook on life. Everyday is an opportunity for adventure. The dull and mundane can be altered by your perception of it. What was once an amazing father to me is now a distant memory. I thank my father for showing me the exact kind of man that I can learn from, but not necessarily have to love. The man I choose to love is far from cruel, miles from hate, and strong in all ways that matter. The man who is the father of my children will never leave. If his children's feet hurt he will lift them off the concrete and carry them. He will bathe them in cool water and kiss them until they're better. He will love his children no matter what path they choose. Happy Father's Day to my husband Keith, father of my children, and the most kind, generous, intelligent, and hard-working man I have ever met.

And Dad, wherever you are, I hope your adventures keep you sustained and your heart is full with everything that is not me and mine. You were my father, long ago, but, the adventures had to stop when I became aware of the scheme. When I lost my child like whimsy and grew knowledgeable on my own, that is when reality set in and the dreams ceased. On this one day a year, I promise I will think about the joy I felt when I made you proud. Only on this day will I think of you, briefly, in passing, while I share my gratitude to those more deserving and hold my children tight and thank the world that they don't know you as I did. Happy Father's Day dad, may you spend the day waiting for the silhouette of the young girl with eagle eyes.

Bay Path competes in State Vocational Championship, then Districts

Nick Ethier photos

Center fielder Jake Leone of Bay Path crow-hops to generate a further throw back to the infield.

Dom Esposito of Bay Path fires in a pitch to the plate versus Blackstone Valley Tech.

CHARLTON — The Bay Path Regional varsity baseball team had the opportunity to play for the Large Schools State Vocational Championship when they hosted Blackstone Valley Tech on Tuesday, June 5 and, even though things didn't turn out the way they wanted them to — the third ranked Minutemen fell to the fourth seeded Beavers, 9-2 — there is still something to play for, according to head coach Mark Sansoucy.

"Obviously you want to win, but you forget about it, move on and get ready for Districts," he said.

Bay Path defeated Valley Tech twice in regular season play, but it wasn't to be in the tournament.

"They're definitely a good team and it's tough to beat somebody three times," Sansoucy said of the Beavers.

Bay Path's record slipped to 15-5 — they endured a 14-4 regular season and defeated No. 2 Worcester Tech in the semifinals of the Voke Tournament — as they then moved onto Districts inside the Central Mass. Division 3 bracket.

There, the Minutemen earned the No. 5 seed and hosted No. 12 Nashoba Tech in a first round game. Bay Path was able to win that game, their third time defeating Nashoba this season, by an 11-8 final. The Minutemen (16-5) are set to play at No. 4 Millbury High in the quarterfinal round on June 11, after press time.

With loss to Murdock, strong season ends in disappointment for Bay Path softball

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON — The Bay Path Regional varsity softball team finished its first round Central Mass. Division 3 Tournament game against Winchendon's Murdock High with seven singles, but none were delivered when the Minutemen needed it most and the end result was a disappointing 6-2 loss to the Blue Devils.

With the win Murdock, the No. 11 seed, improved to 13-7. Bay Path, the No. 6 seed, finished its season with a 14-5 record.

"We couldn't come up with that big hit we needed. We had baserunners and we couldn't execute," Bay Path head coach Rick Carrero said. "We didn't play our best game, but I felt we played good enough to win if we could have gotten a few of those hits. Sometimes they don't fall your way."

Murdock jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning, with lead-off hitter Maria Polcari tripling to right field and then coming home on an RBI single by Molly Murphy. The Minutemen looked as if they would answer with a run or two in the bottom of the inning — they had runners on first and second with one out — but the threat fizzled on a pair of infield outs.

In the bottom of the third Bay Path's Kyleigh Sutherland singled to center with two outs, stole second and advanced to third on a Murdock error. Meagan Harding was up next and she hit a shot to center, too, but hers was right at Murdock's Lindsey Smith, who easily caught the ball to end the inning.

In the bottom of the fourth the Minutemen had runners on first and second with two outs, but Murdock pitcher Emily Smith got out of the jam by striking out opposing pitcher Sarah Gosselin to end that inning.

In the top of the fifth inning Murdock increased its lead to 3-0 thanks to an RBI single off the bat of Murphy and an RBI double down the left-field line by Jocelyn Garner. In the bottom of the frame Bay Path got a runner to second base with one out, but she was doubled off first when Garner, playing shortstop, made her second diving stab of a low line drive and then threw to first to complete the double play.

The Blue Devils doubled their lead to 6-0 in the top of the seventh inning, on RBI singles by Ashley Sevigny and Polcari — who was 3 for 4 with a double, triple and RBI — and another RBI double by Garner on a ball that hit off the left field fence on the fly.

Bay Path finally got on the scoreboard in the bottom of the seventh inning, scoring two runs.

Evelyn Sheehan got things started with an infield single and moved to second on a throwing error. She advanced to third on a single by Gosselin and then both runners scored on a two-run single to left field off the bat of Lizzy McLam, who finished with two hits.

"Defensively they played very well. Their shortstop made a couple of great, diving catches that they turned into double plays, and their pitcher pitched well," Carrero said. "We made a few errors in the beginning and we had a few hits in the outfield that were shots, but they were positioned perfectly defensively. They played a great defensive game. That's a good team; they were very aggressive."

The silver lining in the disappointing loss for Bay Path is that, with no seniors on this year's roster, the entire team will return next year.

"We have a good team," Carrero said. "Our goal was to get to Worcester State [site of the tournament's semifinal and final round games]. Last year we went past the first round, this year our goal was to build on that and get through two rounds. Our expectations for next year are that we're going to win our league and get into Districts again, we've just got to find a way to win games like this."

To help do that Carrero said he plans to schedule some tougher out-of-league opponents.

"Our schedule is very bipolar. We play the Colonial [Athletic League] Large Division and the Colonial Small Division. The Colonial Large Division is good and competitive. We went 4-3 against Colonial Large teams and we beat Assabet, Worcester Voke twice and we beat AMSA," Carrero said. "Our Colonial Small Division games do not prepare us in a lot of ways because they're so lopsided. A lot of times we don't get anything out of them."

"Next year we're going to have four non-league games to pick up," Carrero continued. "I'm hoping to look to the SWCL and the Mid-Wach and play some of those teams, schedule some higher division teams."

FOAM DISPOSAL

departments in identifying these foams in their stockpiles," said MassDEP Commissioner Martin Suuberg. "We strongly recommend that fire departments take advantage of this program."

Many local fire departments have not used the foams in question for several years, while others need to finalize inventories of all supplies to ensure that no outdated foams remain. Fire officials in Spencer, Brookfield, and North Brookfield confirmed to the New Leader that there are no pre-2003 foams in their supplies. Warren and West Brookfield fire officials did not respond to inquiries for this piece.

"We got rid of all of our old foams, or they would have started rusting through the metal containers," said Brookfield Fire Chief Peter Martell, whose department has relied on newer foams for several years.

Any firefighting foam manufactured before 2003 is eligible under the state's take-back program. MassDEP and MassDFS officials are asking all fire departments to conduct an inventory of their foam stockpiles and notify the agencies if they have any of the old products in stock. If so, a state-sponsored contractor would then be assigned to handle the disposal of the suspect foams.

Fire departments can participate in the take-back program by calling MassDEP emergency response coordinator Nick Child at 617-574-6847. Recognizing that local fire departments are often under tight budgetary constraints, state officials set aside funding for the removal of the foams.

"We appreciate the efforts of MassDEP to help local fire departments safely remove any stockpiles of this hazardous pre-2003 firefighting foam," said State Fire Marshal Peter Ostroskey. "It is important to protect the environment and the health and safety of the public from any exposure or potential release."

Manufacturers stopped making the harmful foams in 2002, and they have since developed more fluorine-stable foams that don't negatively impact the environment. MassDEP officials continue to work with the Massachusetts Office of Technology Assessment to help fire departments across the state identify foam alternatives to utilize.

Cougars win pair of District games, then fall just short in semifinals Quaboag's Emma Aberle hits a volley versus Bartlett.

Quaboag's Emily Flourey launches a one-handed approach back toward Bartlett's net.

WEBSTER — With the No. 8 seed in the Central Mass. Division 3 girls' tennis tournament, Quaboag Regional was the underdog for most of its District run. And the Cougars' run was lengthy, spanning the first round, quarterfinals and semifinals — where they finally fell just short.

First, on Monday, June 4, Quaboag played host to No. 9 Gardner High. The Cougars won a 4-1 decision as Alyssa Bettencourt (No. 2 singles), Emma Aberle (No. 3 singles), Isabelle Greenlaw/Abby Bouchard (No. 1 doubles) and Hannah D'Angelo/Jordan D'Angelo (No. 2 doubles) all won their matches.

Then, on Wednesday, June 6, Quaboag played at top seeded Bartlett High. The Indians defeated the Cougars in regular season play, but Quaboag outlasted Bartlett in the playoffs, 3-2. Emily Flourey (No. 1 singles), Emma Aberle (No. 3 singles) and Isabelle Greenlaw/Abby Bouchard (No. 1 doubles) were victorious for the Cougars.

Quaboag finally met its match, but just barely, in the District semifinals versus the fourth ranked Bromfield School on Sunday, June 10. The Trojans emerged victorious, 3-2, as the Cougars finished their season with a record of 13-6.

Tantasqua battles, but sees season end at hands of Colonials

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

WORCESTER — The Shrewsbury High boys' varsity lacrosse team came into its Central/West Division 2 first round District game on a mission, having lost the previous two meetings with Tantasqua Regional. The Colonials were able to avenge those losses with a six-goal third period, which led directly to their 11-7 win over the Warriors on Tuesday, June 5, at Assumption College's Multi-Sport Stadium.

"That's a really good team over there," Tantasqua head coach Gregg Anderson said, looking at the Shrewsbury bench after the game. "They were gunning for us because we beat them the last two times we played them in a couple of really back-and-forth games."

Tantasqua not only defeated Shrewsbury, 4-3, on May 4, but the Warriors also defeated the Colonials last year, 10-9, and in the process knocked them out of Central/West Division 2 Tournament.

With the win seventh-seeded Shrewsbury (12-7) advanced to the quarterfinal round of the tournament, where it played a couple of great saves at really key moments that kept them in the game.

"I think one of the key things for them was their generally winning the faceoff battles," Anderson said. "In the third quarter they had the ball in our zone most of the time."

Tantasqua opened the scoring in the fourth quarter, Chris Ballou cutting the Shrewsbury lead down to 10-4 with 8:45 left in the game. Shrewsbury answered Ballou's goal with one of its own 13 seconds later, to push the lead back to seven, 11-4.

The Warriors closed out the scoring with three straight tallies, two by Cody Robert, whose goals were sandwiched around a goal by Austin Varney.

Despite the loss, Anderson was very pleased by the play of his defense.

"You look at the score and we gave up 11 goals, but the possession advantage was lopsided," Anderson said. "I can't say enough about our defense. I can't say enough about how hard those guys played. Our entire defense — our LSMs [long-stick middies], the goalie, Mike Lucas — those guys just battled their butts off."

Lucas finished with five saves, while Shrewsbury goalie Michael Fornal recorded six stops.

Anderson said he was also happy with his team's never-say-die attitude.

"Our guys didn't give up. Our guys kept battling to the end. Our guys, they just worked their tails off," Anderson said. "We would have liked to win the game, we would have liked to go on and play the Johnnies [St. John's], but the fact is, and I know I speak for all the coaches, we're really proud to be associated with these guys."

With a smile on his face, Anderson took a moment to reflect on the season that was.

"We had a successful year. The cliché is that almost every successful season ends with a disappointing loss," Anderson said. "Early on we lost one of our best attackmen [Drew Darger]. We were able to recover from that and play some really good games. We had a great win over [Shrewsbury] early in the season and we had a great win over Northampton as well. I'm just so proud of these guys. They stepped up and they worked their butts off."

Tantasqua's Tom Muir fights for space while shielding the ball against a Shrewsbury defender.

Warriors can't shake slow start in District loss to Westborough

WESTBOROUGH — Surrendering a 4-0 lead before an out could be recorded in the first inning, Tantasqua Regional's varsity softball team didn't get off to a strong start in its Central Mass. Division 1 first round game versus Westborough High played Thursday, June 7.

And it proved to be too much to overcome as the eighth ranked Rangers (10-9) defeated the ninth seeded Warriors, 11-5.

For Tantasqua, which finished with a record of 11-10, Jillian Dunn was a perfect 4 for 4 at the plate with a pair of RBI. Marie Stewart added an RBI.

Maia Morgado had three RBI, while Flaherty Foster was 3 for 3 for Westborough.

Tantasqua's Jillian Dunn drops down a bunt, which was good for an infield single.

First baseman Molly Ryan of Tantasqua doesn't fully move up from her crouch after grabbing the ball to gun down a runner motoring toward the bag.

The boys' team improved from 35th place last year to 28th this spring. Teddy Miller led the team in scoring with a second place finish in the long jump and third in the 200 meters. He jumped 18 feet, 4 inches and ran the 200 in 28.58 seconds.

Quaboag Plantation Sprint Triathlon and Kids Triathlon set for July 8

WEST BROOKFIELD — The Quaboag Plantation Sprint Triathlon and Kids Triathlon, which is in its ninth year, will be held on Sunday, July 8 at 8 a.m. at the West Brookfield Town Beach. Register online at www.RunSignUp.com (there, you can link to our website/mail-in registration forms). Registration forms are also available at the West Brookfield post office and library. The sprint triathlon, for ages 13 and up, consists of a quarter-mile swim, 12-mile bike ride, and a three-mile run. Check in time is from 6 until 7:15 a.m.; the race starts at 8. Entry fees are $50 for individuals, $75 for teams, and $25 for students (ages 13-18). Sprint race entry fees increase by $10 for race-day registration (the student rate does not increase). The Kids triathlon, for ages 4-13, consists of a 50-yard swim, half-mile bike ride, and a 300-yard run. The entry fee is $15 per child. This year, we are offering a colorful technical tank T-shirt for all registrants. All participants in the kid's race will receive a finisher's medal.

Proceeds benefit the Quaboag Plantation Triathlon scholarship fund, as well as community service organizations. Quaboag Regional students who participate in or volunteer for the triathlon are eligible to apply for the scholarship, which can be applied toward college, a technical certificate or vocational program. Applications are available through the QRMHS Guidance Office. Last year we donated $1,000 to the West Brookfield Rescue Squad and awarded a $1,000 scholarship to a Quaboag senior.

In 2017, a total of 150 racers participated in the Sprint Triathlon and Kids Triathlon, ranging in age from 4-75 years old! The triathlon began nine years ago when West Brookfield celebrated its 250th anniversary. Since then, the race has attracted participants from towns throughout New England. For more information and race updates, visit our Facebook page or www.RunSignUp.com.

LUCY STONE

was born in a farmhouse on West Brookfield's Coy's Hill, the eighth of nine children. Before retiring for a night spent in labor, her mother had milked eight cows and put away the milk, (Her husband and sons were busy saving the hay from an approaching shower). Elizabeth Stone's first words upon hearing that she'd delivered a girl were to express disappointment: "Oh dear! I am sorry it is a girl. A woman's life is so hard!"

Lucy, the tiny new arrival, was bright and inquisitive and observant. She noticed, from an early age, her father's despotic authority and her mother's submissive acceptance of the her lot in life - long hard hours of work, no money to call her own, no voice in household matters nor, in fact, in her world. Even as Lucy, from childhood, worked to ease her mother's workload, she vowed she would never marry, as she would never "subject herself to the discriminatory laws that governed relations between the sexes."

She did marry, of course. Her husband, Henry Blackwell acceded to the words of the wedding ceremony they'd written together, eliminating the word "obey" and protesting the existing laws regulating marriage. She retained her maiden name, now famous the world around. She was Lucy Stone, born to set her world to rights, especially women's. To vote, to speak in public, to wear (or not to wear) short skirts, long skirts, bloomers or hoop skirts, to own property, to attend college

Yes, we all know about her. We're proud of her. Several books have been written about her remarkable life and achievements. Still, she's quiet among us in our collective list of heroes. The lady with the sweet voice which, when she raised it, challenged the laws of the land and even, perhaps the King James interpretation of the Bible; the lady who challenged the mighty Congregational church, who raged against legal pronouncements about woman's place in a man's world, and did it first, here, here in West Brookfield, then around the world. That girl, that lady, stands alone as this town's highest achiever ever, who truly changed the country and the world for all time.

The last time a party was raised in her honor in this, her home town, was in 1915, more than a century ago. Then, 70 cars, trolleys, horses and buggies, possibly a high wheeler or two, conveyed more than 700 visitors to the party at the Stone family homestead on Coy's Hill. (Since burned.) This time, the whole town will welcome visitors to celebrate and admire the woman who spent her life following her own advice "make the world better." And she did, especially for women and for enslaved men, women and children - she was an abolitionist, too. (As a matter of fact, American slaves were freed before women were allowed to vote.) Much of the credit for both goes to our Lucy.

Earlier this year, the West Brookfield Historical Commission was contacted by Moira Hickey, a Scottish radio producer and reporter, inquiring "what does your town intend to do in honor of Lucy Stone's 200th birthdate?"

In response, commission members selected member Dan Hamilton to chair a committee to plan the party. Hamilton, the right man for the job, an historian and a professional actor-director with a body of work in theater and film behind him, moved swiftly forward. He remains in regular contact with Hickey, who will be joining us for the party, along with other distinguished guests from far and wide. Plans are swiftly being completed, plans for a grand weekend in scenic, splendid surroundings in high New England summer. Subcommittees have been formed; it appears that everyone now loves the suffragettes, those women recognized from the beginning as energetic females who seized every opportunity to rouse a good rabble for women's rights.

There's a lively agenda in place, something to do and see for a solid two days of celebrating. Saturday's activities, with a charge of $5 for each event, begin with a bus tour of Lucy's home site, narrated by renowned Stone biographer Joelle Million. The bus will continue on to the Rock House Reservation, a favorite spot for Lucy in her childhood; the spot she often visited with eager suitor Henry Blackwell. The bus will return us to the Quaboag Historical Society Museum, which will be open, displaying artifacts, photos and other items relating to the town's and Lucy Stone's history.

Later, at 2:00 p.m. a Birthday Celebration Suffragist Tea Party in the great hall. A selection of refreshments will be offered, served by costumed hostesses; accompanied by historically appropriate music, performed on mellow antique instruments by strolling music historian Rob Lyon. There will be food for thought as well - a timeline display of the women's rights movement and artistic contributions by the elementary school children. Guests, including Honorable State Senator Anne Gobi, State Senator Steven M. Brewer, and keynote speaker, Regina M. Edmonds, Ph.D., professor Emerita of psychology and former director of women's studies at Assumption College. will speak, town folk and guests will mingle. Period costume is welcome; bloomers may be worn.

moderated by Deborah Becker, WBUR radio host and senior correspondent promises to be thought-provoking and lively; panelists and guests will consider the future for women in the world. Panel participants feature Senator Anne M. Gobi, Dr. Regina M. Edmonds, author Joelle Million, Dr. R. Vivian Acosta, Dr. Linda Carpenter and other guests and will invite audience participation.

The town hall, inside and out, will be decorated. The great hall will feature bunting and flowers in suffragette colors, plus our grand old red, white and blue. The borders of the hall will display an interesting and thought-provoking timeline display. There will be a period voting booth, inviting people of all genders and races to register and vote.

But that's not all. The Merriam-Gilbert library is in the process of planning several programs and activities, and other town organizations plan to participate in various manners. We hope you'll plan to join us in celebrating the West Brookfield girl who Made the World Better.

Due to space limitations, attendance is only by reservations, which will be accepted until Wednesday, June 27. Informative flyers with reservation forms are available in local businesses, libraries, and town halls for any or all planned events; there are small charges for some events due to space constraints. Or, contact the West Brookfield Historical Commission, PO Box 372, West Brookfield, MA 01585, or the website: www.westbrookfield.org, or (phone) 508-867-1329 or (email) lucy@westbrookfield.org.

continue to expand at the current site, the library is always in need of extra space.

"Our circulating materials increased from 15,000 in FY2013 to 25,000 in FY2014, an increase of 10,000 due to recognizing the genre strength of staff members and giving them a budget to purchase materials. This year, our circulation is 26,000 items," Metterville said.

Additionally, the library patron count is over 1,000 each month, and officials want to make sure there is as much space as possible to accommodate simultaneous events.

In the current purchasing proposal, the Friends of the Library and the Board of Trustees would have the responsibility of covering operating costs at the adjacent property for the first year. Exact funding amounts would depend on capital campaign fundraising efforts, officials said.

Meanwhile, the Friends are reaching out to residents and businesses for assistance as they launch the capital campaign. Funds would help cover operating costs, architectural fees, and other expenses associated with the acquisition. The Friends, which recently became a 501(c)(3) organization, have already raised $14,000 toward the project.

The library has been considering expansion options since 2001, when a study analyzed various proposals. One of them would have required the town to appropriate $1.3 million, but the current option is a far more viable opportunity, officials said.

Library officials plan to meet with town leaders soon to further discuss the project.

and even old boats visible from the road. Shea Road residents have complained about the junk for almost a decade, but town officials have made little headway in convincing Brodak to clean the parcels.

The Board of Health and police department have both responded to the properties over the past year to look into neighbors' complaints. Brodak was ordered by the Board of Health to remove stacks of old tires that were filled with water and attracted mosquitoes, but residents claim he simply stashed the tires in one of the trailers or hid them out of sight in the woods. Meanwhile, neighbors are concerned about the potential for oil and other leaking fluids from the junk vehicles to seep into the groundwater and contaminate wells.

Residents and police are also worried about the junk attracting kids to trespass on the unmaintained properties.

"It's an eyesore. I have seen kids in there in the past, and it is very dangerous," said Irene White, a Shea Road resident. "This is a wonderful community, and residents should not have to see all of that junk every time they drive by. It has been like this for years, with this owner using it as a personal dumping ground. No one would want this in their neighborhood."

Brodak is current on his taxes for the properties, officials said, and the town could not order the removal of the vehicles because registrations were taken out for each one. Officials said Brodak told the health inspector last fall that his properties are classified as a farm, which carries different regulations than standard residential properties.

Brodak could not be reached for comment. Moving forward, selectmen plan to contact the state Department of Environmental Protection to schedule a site visit and ensure that there is no seepage of contaminants into the groundwater. Selectmen are also concerned about other debris and potential hazards hidden out of sight on the properties.

Moreover, neighbors have repeatedly contacted town officials about the junk devaluing their properties. Selectmen understand their frustrations and hope Brodak will take the initiative to clean the parcels before state agencies become involved.

"This has been an ongoing issue. We are looking at every avenue there is to try to get this taken care of," said Selectman Phil Landine.

Officials said town bylaws do not explicitly prohibit the storage of junk vehicles on private properties. As long as they are registered and taxes are paid for the property, they can be stored.

In Loving Memory Dad

*These words are just for you and come with love to say,
We think about you constantly and miss you more each day.
To lose you left us devastated, but when we feel the pain,
We only have to close our eyes and you're with us again.*

*A special smile, a special face,
A special Dad we can't replace...
Memories are a gift to treasure...
And ours of you, Dad, will last forever!*

Thank you for being everything a daughter could ask for and so much more.

We love you always Dad. Happy Fathers Day in Heaven.
Love, Kelli, Anne and Sarah.

Ad Libs by June

I'm a week late, but I would like to thank all those who sent in pics for our We Love Our Pets pages, and to our sponsors that ran on the June 8th issue. I stopped by one of our sponsor's place of business last week, OAKWOOD FARM CHRISTMAS BARN, and was pleasantly surprised when I saw clippings of ads from the Spencer New Leader (and other publications) of local businesses that Jim refers his customers to that stop by the Barn. What a generous gesture to help his customers from out of town find other businesses in the area! If we all "pay it forward" in our own way, the world would certainly be a better place. Thank you Jim!

Father's Day is this weekend and there are several ads in this week's issue that may help you decide on what to do for dear ol' dad. CORMIER JEWELERS is having a sale on Citizen Watches that would be great for dad or your grad! How about a Patriots or Red Sox ornament from OAKWOOD FARM CHRISTMAS BARN, or a gift certificate for a massage from SAMANTHA'S THERAPEUTIC MASSAGE! OR how about a car or truck (or certificate for an oil change) from LAMOUREUX FORD or BARNES ENTERPRISES! NAPA in West Brookfield has great ideas for the car buff or auto mechanic, and PURPLE ONION has some great garden décor, bird houses, dad signs, mugs, pottery, and greeting cards. You can also treat dad to one of our fine local restaurants on our Dining Guide, seafood or ice cream at RONNIES, a tree or shrub from LAMOUREUX GREENHOUSES (20% OFF this weekend), or even a drive-in movie at LEICESTER DRIVE-IN! So many options.... shop local!

The fundraiser for programs for children with special needs at MEXICALI MEXICAN GRILL is now going on. Clip the ad in this week's issue and bring it to either the Spencer or Webster MEXICALI locations and 20% of your entire bill will be donated to eight local schools with programs for special needs. It's valid for dine-in or take-out from 3pm-10pm. It's a week-long fundraiser that began June 13 and runs through Wed. June 20. If you haven't been to MEXICALI in awhile or are a regular, this is a great week to dine and help give back to the community!

Thank you to all businesses who have joined our MEET YOUR MERCHANTS. Watch for the special supplement in the June 29th issue. I'll soon be working on BACK TO SCHOOL (ugh... summer is just starting!) and we have a new special coming out this summer that will run in Mass & Conn...stay tuned!

Have a great week!

NEWS BRIEFS

"I am incredibly honored by the support I received from so many Republican leaders, activists and supporters who form the backbone of our party."

"Together we will bring fundamental change to Washington and a Senator focused on delivering results for hardworking Massachusetts families, not advancing their own political career," said Kingston.

Making his first bid for public office, Kingston said he decided to run because he didn't like the divisiveness he was seeing in the country's political system.

"Our strong performance at the convention despite being a true political outsider running against two candidates deeply entrenched in the political system is a testament to the strength of our message and organization. I am the only Republican with the manpower and message to defeat Senator Warren," he said.

Lindstrom said coming to Worcester County felt like "coming home" because his father grew up in the city.

"I am not a professional politician," she insisted. "The truth is, Elizabeth Warren is running for President and she's doing everything she can to win the support of the far left," argued Lindstrom.

She dismissed Kingston's claims of overwhelming financial advantage.

"Primary voters will decide," she said.

Smola named to conference committee

BOSTON — Representative Todd M. Smola (R-Warren, Ranking Member, Committee on Ways & Means), has been named as one of three House legislators appointed to a new conference committee. The committee will be tasked with negotiating differences between the House (H4382) and Senate (S2493) versions of the midyear budget bill. The House also appointed Representative Jeffrey Sanchez and Representative Stephen Kulik to the committee. The House conferees will join Senator Karen Spilka, Senator Joan Lovely and Senator Vinny deMacedo to negotiate the final version of the roughly $150 million midyear spending proposal.

"This is a time sensitive matter but I am confident that the House and Senate will be able to work together to close out FY18," said Representative Smola. "I appreciate the opportunity to address the differences in these two bills."

Both the House and Senate bills aim to close out the fiscal year for several programs and state agencies. This includes Veterans' benefit payments, administration services for the Department of Developmental Services, Special Education Reimbursement and Transitional Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

For additional information please contact Representative Smola at Todd.Smola@mahouse.gov or (617)722-2100.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT In Thanksgiving for requests received Holy Spirit, You who make me see everything and showed me the way to reach my ideals, You who gave me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me and You who are in all instances of my life with me, I want to thank You for every thing and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from You no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with You and my loved ones in Your perpetual glory. Amen, In Jesus Christ, Your Son's name, I ask that you grant me (state your specific request or intention here). While making the request, you must promise either: (a) publish this prayer or (b) to circulate the favor. This prayer should be said for 3 consecutive days or 3 hours straight. Safety tips for grilling season

People have been cooking meals over open flames since the discovery of fire. Even today, when there are so many ways to cook a meal, many still insist there's nothing better than the taste of food cooked on the grill.

The Hearth, Patio & Barbecue Association, which tracks industry trends, points out that one-third of consumers plan to use their grill or smoker more often this year. Even though grilling is widely associated with summer, a growing number of people are embracing year-round grilling. HPBA's CEO Jack Goldman has said, "Barbecuing is no longer just a pastime, but an integral part of the North American lifestyle."

Seven in 10 adults in the United States and eight out of 10 in Canada own a grill or smoker. With so many people firing up their grills, it's important to recognize the importance of grilling safety. Each year an average of 8,900 home fires are caused by grilling, and close to half of all injuries involving grills are due to thermal burns, advises the National Fire Protection Association.

- Here's how to stay safe.
- Only grill outside. Propane and charcoal barbecue grills should only be used outdoors. Grills should be placed well away from the home. Keep grills away from deck railings, eaves, overhangs, and tree branches.
 - Keep the grill clean. Thoroughly clean the grill prior to first use, and keep it tidy all year long. Grease or fat buildup can ignite and cause a fire.
 - Always attend the grill. Grill distraction-free and keep an eye on the food being cooked. Simply stepping away for a few moments can lead to a fire or accident.
 - Start fires safely. Charcoal grills and gas grills may be lit using electronic starters that do not require fire. If using starter fluid, only do so on charcoal, and do not add more fluid or other flammable liquids after the fire has ignited.
 - Check for gas leaks. Whether the gas grill is hooked up to a propane tank or the natural gas supply of a home, ensure that the hoses or tanks are not leaking. Apply a light soap-and-water solution to hoses to see if they bubble from leaking gas.
 - Keep baking soda nearby. Baking soda can control grease fires, but it's also helpful to have a fire extinguisher or a bucket of sand on hand for other types of fires.
 - Watch children and pets. Keep children and pets at least three feet away from grilling areas.
 - Wait for the grill and coals to cool. Practice safety around the grill until all coals are cool and the grill is no longer hot to the touch. Only then should the grill be moved or relocated.

Grilling is a passion that is enjoyed throughout much of the year. Safely cook outdoors by heeding safety guidelines.

Entertain summer guests with a DIY taco station

(MS) — Tired of eating the same old staples of burgers and hot dogs at barbecues? Try this easy-to-make, do-it-yourself taco station that lets you do some simple prep beforehand. Arrange ingredients in fun serving bowls and have guests serve themselves for a delicious fiesta.

For a healthy shortcut, you can feel good about serving your guests, use Mann's Nourish Bowls. These ready-to-eat bowls feature pre-cut veggies and cook in just a couple of minutes using your microwave.

TACOS WITH GRILLED STEAK AND VEGGIES

Prep time: 5 minutes
Cook time: 14 minutes
Serves 6

- Ingredients:
- 2 10.5-oz. packages of Mann's Southwest Chipotle Nourish Bowl
 - 4 beef flat iron steaks (about 7 ounces each)
 - Juice of 2 limes
 - Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste
 - 1 package whole wheat tortillas
 - 1 avocado, sliced

CHIPOTLE MAYONNAISE

- 12 cup mayonnaise
- Juice of 12 lime
- 1 to 2 teaspoons adobo sauce (the sauce that canned chipotle peppers are packed in)

Directions:

1. Prepare the Nourish Bowl according to package instructions. Squeeze lime juice over the vegetables and season with a bit of salt and pepper. Toss to combine then set aside.
2. Season steaks with salt and pepper. Place on grill and cook with the lid closed for 10 to 14 minutes over medium-heat for medium to medium-rare doneness, turning occasionally. Allow to rest off the grill for 5 minutes, then carve into slices.
3. To make the mayonnaise, place all ingredients into a small mixing bowl and stir well to combine.
4. Place tortillas on grill and cook until warm and slightly charred.
5. To assemble the tacos, place a couple slices of grilled steak on the bottom. Add vegetables and top with a slice of avocado. Drizzle the top with chipotle mayonnaise.

How to handle raw meats when grilling out

Cooking over an open flame on a grill in the backyard requires cooks keep watchful eyes on their grills. Charcoal grill devotees must stay nearby as flames grow before settling down as the coals turn gray. Cooks using charcoal

- grills should also make sure children or pets don't accidentally run into the grill, potentially knocking it over and creating a fire and/or injury hazard. But even gas grill users must be mindful of safety, checking hoses for leaks before igniting fires and then staying within arm's length of the grill to make sure everything is working smoothly.
- Fire safety is essential when grilling outdoors, but cooks also must prioritize safe handling of raw meats. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has established a host of guidelines to promote safe grilling and the safe consumption of grilled foods and offers the following recommendations to cooks planning to grill raw meats.
- Separate foods when purchasing them. The grocery store might be far away from home, but safe grilling begins at the checkout counter. The FDA recommends consumers separate raw meat, poultry, seafood, and eggs from other foods in their shopping carts and grocery bags to prevent cross-contamination. Keep these items separate when storing them in the refrigerator as well.
 - Use separate cutting boards. Another way to prevent cross-contamination is to use separate cutting boards.

- Designate one cutting board for produce and another for raw meat, poultry and seafood. If grilling more than one type of raw food at once, thoroughly clean the cutting board with soap and hot water between uses.
- Keep separate plates for precooked foods and cooked foods. The FDA notes that cooked foods should never be placed on plates that previously held raw meat, poultry, seafood, or eggs unless the plate has been washed in hot, soapy water. Bacteria from the juices of raw meat can linger on an uncooked plate, compromising the safety of cooked foods placed on unwashed, previously used plates.
 - Discard marinades once you start cooking. Marinades used on raw foods should be discarded once the foods are removed from the marinade and placed on the grill. Repurposing marinades to use as sauces can increase the risk for bacterial infections. However, the FDA notes that marinades used on raw foods can be repurposed so long as they are boiled before resuing them.
- When grilling raw meat, poultry, seafood or other foods, cooks must be careful to prevent cross-contamination that can lead to bacterial infections.

GRILLING

Practice food safety

Warmer temperatures lead to an increase in outdoor dining. Grillmasters anxiously wait to show off their skills while guests gravitate around the barbecue in the backyard. No matter the temperature outside or the size of the crowd around your dinner table, food safety is a concern whenever foods will be transported inside and outdoors or enjoyed in the fresh air.

A survey conducted by the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics found that, while most people realize the months of May through September are prime times for the threat of food poisoning, consumers still are not practicing correct outdoor food safety procedures. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says there are around 76 million cases of foodborne illnesses each year in the United States alone. Those involve hundreds of thousands of hospitalizations and thousands of deaths. The CDC warns that people need to be even more diligent during warmer months to prevent food-related illnesses.

FOOD SAFETY STARTS AT THE STORE

Food can spoil even before making its way into your kitchen. When food shopping, put the cold and frozen items on your list in your cart last. This will help keep them fresher longer. Always use plastic bags to protect other foods against raw meat or poultry juices that can leak. Bag these items together at checkout so that you'll know to immediately put all of the perishable items away when you get home. Some people invest in insulated, reusable tote bags that can keep cold food cold on the ride home. Even if you use such bags, always head directly home after food shopping; do not stop along the way and leave food in a warm car where it can quickly spoil.

Maintain food safety when cooking or dining outdoors.

SAFETY AROUND THE GRILL

Preparing foods involves avoiding cross-contamination between uncooked and cooked foods. That means switching utensils so that bacteria will not transfer from uncooked or partially cooked food to fully cooked food.

Use a cooler to keep refrigerated foods cold until it's time to put them on the grill if you're cooking away from home, such as at a public picnic site. Otherwise, wait until the grill is hot and ready before bringing out foods that need to be cooked.

Rely on a cooking thermometer to test the internal temperature of foods to ensure they reach temperatures that will kill bacteria or other pathogens. Hamburgers should reach 160 F and chicken breasts 165 F. When reheating fully cooked meats like hot dogs, grill to 165 F, or until steaming hot. Discard any unused marinades so that they do not contaminate cooked foods.

OUTDOOR BUFFET TIPS

Food also needs to be protected once it is served. Use ice or coolers to keep cold salads and condiments at at least 40 F. Foods should not remain outside in hot weather of 90 F or above for more than one hour. The maximum time food should be kept sitting out is two hours, says the USDA.

Keep hands and utensils clean at all times. This way you do not transfer any germs onto safe foods. If a fresh water source is unavailable, keep hand wipes or disinfecting gels at the ready to clean up before eating.

CLEAN UP WELL

Promptly clean all serving platters, utensils and cutting boards if they have been in contact with raw food juices. The FDA even recommends that you sanitize your cutting board with chlorine bleach, and replace it if the surface gets worn and difficult to clean.

Outdoor cooking and dining are quite popular. Following safety precautions can go a long way toward preventing foodborne illnesses.

Master magical marinades

With their mix of acidic ingredients and spices, marinades add flavor and may even pack some nutritional punch.

Grilled foods boast inviting flavors that put many diners on the lookout for second helpings. Quite often the magic behind grilled meals lies in the marinade used to give foods that flavorful kick.

Marinades can be used to enhance the flavor of meats, vegetables and poultry. While marinades add flavor, they also may be responsible for some other benefits in grilled foods.

MARINADES ADD FLAVOR

Defined as a savory acidic sauce in which food is soaked to enrich its flavor, marinades help break down fiber and tenderize certain foods. The base of many marinades include vinegar, lemon juice or wine, and marinades can be enhanced with spices, oil and herbs.

It's important not to let foods sit in marinades for too long, as any alcohol, acid or salt in the mixture can chemically "cook" the food in a process known as "denaturing." Adhere to timing recommendations when using store-bought marinades, and keep such guidelines in mind when using homemade marinades as well. Many may tell you to let foods sit no longer than four hours. Marinades with citrus juices may require even less time for flavor to penetrate.

The timing of marinade use also will depend on the foods being marinated. Delicate items, such as seafood, may change with regard to texture or color in a matter of minutes.

It's important to always marinate foods in the refrigerator. Food left sitting out on a counter — even when it's in a marinade — invites the growth of bacteria. If a recipe calls for marinating at room temperature, continue to marinate in the refrigerator, but extend the length of time you marinate. This helps to prevent foodborne illnesses.

When marinating, use plastic or glass containers so the marinade does not cause a chemical reaction, which may occur if you marinate foods in metal containers. Discard all marinades for raw meats and poultry when the time comes to cook the foods, as leftover marinades may contain bacteria that makes them unsafe to reuse on other foods.

THE NUTRITIONAL BENEFITS OF MARINATING

In addition to flavor, marinades may improve the nutritional value of grilled foods. In 2008, researchers at Kansas State University discovered that marinating meat in antioxidant-rich spice blends can reduce the risk of forming heterocyclic amines, or HCAs, by more than 80 percent. HCAs are harmful, cancer-causing compounds that form when food chars over an open flame at high temperatures. Marinades must be rich in spices to have any HCA-busting properties.

Marinades are a secret weapon in the creation of tasty, tender and healthy foods. They come in quite handy when grilling, and add an extra dose of flavor when cooking over high heat.

WHAT OUR CUSTOMERS ARE SAYING:

"FANTASTIC EXPERIENCE"

We met with Paul Machi, he was fantastic! He listened to what we said we were looking for and helped us into a 2018 Chevrolet Cruze. Then he sent us in to meet with Ahmad for Financing, he was absolutely professional and got us the best deal! Thank you to both for a Fantastic Experience! Will definitely send my family and friends!
