Auburn High School recognized for implementing lifesaving training

AUBURN — Would you know what to do if you witnessed a cardiac emergency? Only about 46 percent of people who experience an out of hospital cardiac arrest receive the immediate help that they need before professional help arrives. Hands-Only CPR can change that and Auburn High School and Tantasqua

Regional High School have implemented the training at their schools. CPR and AED Awareness Week, is June 1-7, and the perfect time to learn Hands-Only CPR. It only takes two steps when you see an unresponsive adult. 1. Call 9-1-1 and 2. Push hard and fast in the center of the chest for 100 to 120 beats per minute. To make it easier and to stay on track, you can push to a song like “Stayin’ Alive” by the Bee Gees or “Crazy in Love” by Beyoncé. CPR, especially if performed immediately, can triple a cardiac arrest victim’s chance of survival.

Voters back new public safety facility

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – While Charlton’s annual town meeting on Monday, May 20 had its share of drama, one of the larger items of the evening proved to be a positive moment for the community, as voters approved backing building a public safety facility adjacent to the current Charlton police station.

The vote approved the borrowing of $28.5 million for the project, continuing support from 2018’s annual town meeting where voters agreed to purchase a 19.3-acre parcel on Masonic Home Road as well as fund designs for the project.

Captain Rob Barton of the Charlton Fire Department stood before the town meeting and presented the same slideshow he has been showcasing throughout the town for the last couple months in an attempt to raise awareness and possibly support for the initiative which will house the fire department and police department under the same roof.

“I think it’s important for us to understand that this started 24 years ago. Multiple committees have come and gone. They’ve all agreed that we need a new fire station,” Capt. Barton told the crowd of over 360 voters present. “Two and half years ago the committee was reformed. Shortly after it was decided that we needed to be a public safety building committee. It made no fiscal sense to replace the fire station when the police station was in need of a new building as well.”

Capt. Barton detailed the lack of space in the numerous fire department buildings and the Charlton Police Department as well as the increase in calls for both departments over the past few years. The Fire Department alone is poised to reach a new record for calls for the third consecutive year. This plus the lack of resources within the buildings led to the

we also designed it in a manner that’s reasonable. It’s impossible for us to figure what we’re going to be doing 15 or 16 years from now.”

The project received little pushback from voters, and even earned the approval of the Charlton Lions Club. President Stephen Doucette spoke on behalf of the club providing a vote of support for the project to suit the needs of the two departments.

“The fire department and police department have been behind us a hundred percent all the time. The club voted unanimously to come down and voice its support for this facility. One of the things that

OXFORD – After nearly three years in progress and a couple dead ends, The Barking Lot now has a home. All it needs is a little more cash to meet its portion of the grant to build Oxford’s new dog park at what used to be Woodward School.

“It’s going to be a nice location,” said Kris Bird, leader of the Friends of Oxford Dog Park. When done it will have “one side for all dogs and a small dog section. We really appreciate all the contributions from the town and citizens over the years.”

Donna Stone agreed, describing the dog park as “a great social activity for the town.”

“It’s been a long journey for all of us, but we’ve persevered through every obstacle,” she said. “Here’s really the light at the end of the tunnel and it feels pretty damn good.”

Assistance has come in many forms. Besides money and in-kind donations from many citizens and local businesses, the biggest contribution is probably the fact design work is being done by the DPW, which will also run the new park.

Funding is coming from a Stanton Foundation grant. The foundation supports up to 10 dog parks per year, provided they have enough support in the community to raise at least 10 percent of the construction cost independently.

According to the Stanton Web site, grants can be up to $225,000 for construction plus 10 percent for design. If a town misses the rolling annual cutoff, Stanton will let them know, but also give “feedback on its application so it’s best postured to re-apply when the next

Masons perform U.S. flag retirement ceremony

OXFORD — On Monday, May 20, the Members of Oxford Masonic Lodge at 22 Mount Pleasant St., Oxford, held a public “Flag retirement” ceremony. The ceremony began with The Pledge of Allegiance, and was performed by Oxford’s Boy Scout troop 147 under the guidance of Mike Zolstat their Scout Master and Donald E. Almstrom, their Merit Badge councilor. Mr. Almstrom is a Past Master of Oxford Masonic Lodge.

Prior to the Ceremony, the attendees enjoyed a spaghetti and meatball dinner, with proceeds donated to the Boy Scout Troop.

The United States Flag Code states, “The US flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem of display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.” According to the US Flag Code, it must be done with dignity.

This simple ceremony is appropriate for use with Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Freemasons, and other organizations who desire to formally discontinue the use of worn US Flags. It is a dignified ceremony and participants and guests are asked to remain quiet and respectful during the entire event. It is a brief formal ceremony which was conducted as follows:

On Monday, May 20, the Members of Oxford Masonic Lodge at 22 Mount Pleasant St., Oxford, held a public “Flag retirement” ceremony. The ceremony began with The Pledge of Allegiance, and was performed by Oxford’s Boy Scout troop 147 under the guidance of Mike Zolstat their Scout Master and Donald E. Almstrom, their Merit Badge councilor.

Oxford Masonic Lodge performed the flag retirement ceremony, along with Boy Scout Troop 147, and the general public, demonstrating how to retire US flags which have become too worn for service. Participants attended for the purpose of properly disposing of their US flags that were no longer suitable for display, in a safely prepared fire, in a permitted location, with fire-fighters in attendance to perform their work in event of an emergency.

The Ceremony included descriptive formal presentations by participants:

“We have come together to dispose of United States flags which are no longer serviceable. These flags have served as a reminder of our nation and those who have defended our freedom, and they have served us very well.” The United States Flag Code states: “The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem of display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.”

Scouts brought the flags forward, unfolded and held them so they were properly displayed to the audience. Guests joined in the Pledge of Allegiance. The Scouts properly folded the flags and guests were asked to maintain a respectful silence as the flags are retired.

The flags were carefully placed in the fire, while the audience waited in silence until the flags were completely consumed by the fire.

A leader thanked the attendees for joining in this solemn ceremony, and ended the event with “God bless America!”

Historical societies address membership questions

OXFORD — The Town of Oxford is fortunate to have three historical organizations which, together, celebrate Oxford’s long history. The Oxford Historical Commission, The Huguenot Memorial Society of Oxford, Inc. and the newly re-organized Oxford Historical Society are groups whose purpose is to celebrate and preserve the history of this town. While the purpose of each group is similar, there are also some differences. The purpose of this article is to address any confusion about membership in these three groups.

Membership in the Oxford Historical Commission is through appointment of the Town Manager, while memberships in the other two non-profits are open to everyone through a membership fee. Even though each of these three organizations maintains a distinct agenda, they usually join together for a variety of projects which provides an advantage for historical issues in Oxford.

Membership in the Oxford Historical Commission was increased to seven by Town Meeting in 1975. Each appointment is for a limited period of time, and members are named in the Annual Report. The agenda for each Commission meeting must be posted in Memorial Hall at least forty-eight hours before the meeting as the public is always welcome to attend meetings. A clerk is present at each meeting to record the minutes which are then submitted to the members at the following meeting for approval. They are then filed with the Town Clerk’s office at Memorial Hall. The Commission accepts donations of historical items and maintains the town historical archives, responds to inquiries and regularly addresses a number of additional historical responsibilities. The Commission in Oxford has maintained a strong and active presence since it was formed by Town Meeting vote in 1973. Any town resident who is interested in becoming a member is invited to complete the form at the back of an Annual Report and submit it, or speak to a Commission member, or just attend a meeting. After individuals attend meetings on a regular basis, they can be informally named associate members.

The Huguenot Memorial Society of Oxford, Inc was formed in 1881 by a concerned group of Huguenot descendants and many other individuals from throughout New England who were determined to keep the memory alive of the courageous band of about thirty Huguenot families from France who established the “Settlement of New Oxford” in 1686. Membership in this non-profit 501c3 organization is open to residents and non residents as well of those of Huguenot descent and those who are not of Huguenot descent. The focus of this Society is to promote the memory of the Huguenot settlers, and along with the Commission maintain Oxford’s most historic site which is the remains of the Huguenot Fort at the top of fort Hill Road. New members are always welcome.

According to records, an Oxford Historical Society was active in the mid 1940’s and continued to be active sporadically for various periods of time since then. In 1994, an Oxford Historical Society was re-established with much enthusiasm to raise funds to move the 1872 District 8 North Gore School House from Merriam District to Joslin Park on Main Street in Oxford. Funds for this non-profit 501c3 were also raised to restore and repair the structure so that it could be open to the public. This undertaking was generously supported by individuals and businesses who worked tirelessly to accomplish the relocation. Hundreds of people contributed financially to cover the costs incurred. Today, the presence of this one room school house tells the story of the educational system in Oxford of almost 150 years ago.

This one room school from Merriam District first opened its doors to students in 1872 and continued to educate countless students until it closed about thirty years later when it was replaced by a two room school built in Cominsville to meet the needs of more students living in the area. Years later, a frugal farmer on Pleasant Street saw a potential use for the unused school with trees quickly growing up around it and moved it across Pleasant Street to be used as a storage building on his farm. After many years, his farm was purchased as the site of a future golf course. At that time, the former school became the pro shop. But, when the popular golf course needed to expand its parking lot, the owner recognized the historic value of the building and donated it to the Historical Commission/Town of Oxford. A group of dedicated individuals raised the money required to move it back across Pleasant Street onto town property where it sat on cribbing for several years. On July 15, 1996, the school traveled about 5.5 miles south from next to Gore Cemetery to Joslin Park. Today, this little school is the focus of the Oxford Historical Society and the Historical Commission.

Membership in the Oxford Historical Society is open to residents and non-residents with an interest in Oxford. The next Historical Society meeting will be Saturday, June 15 at 1 p.m. in the 1872 District 8 North Gore School House on Joslin Park on Main Street. Come, participate or just listen, ask questions and imagine being a student in this school long ago at its first location in Merriam District, North Oxford.

Budget debate turns personal

ATTEMPT TO TARGET TOWN ADMINISTRATOR’S SALARY SPARKS HEATED DISCUSSION

CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – The town of Charlton has a budget in place for the next fiscal year after voting to approve a $30.1 million spending plan with $28.4 million to be raised by taxation. However, what could have been a simple vote turned into a multi-hour debate as voters considered whether or not to eliminate the Town Administrator’s salary from the budget.

It all started early in the night with Planning Board Chair Patricia Rydlak moving to amend the budget to reduce Town Administrator Robin Craver’s salary from $148,645 to only $1. In order to ensure confidence that those in attendance could vote without judgement, it was moved and approved that a secret ballot be counted, and a 194 to 144 decision approved removing the funds from the spending plan.

What then transpired was a series of votes that risked leaving the town without a budget after the meeting. Despite there being public support to amend the budget to exclude the Town Administrator salary, a 151 to 146 decision rejected the amended budget. Citizens motioned to reconsider the 2020 spending plan as presented at the start of the meeting, with only a single vote difference allowing for the reconsideration. Rydlak made her plea to remove the Town Administrator salary for a second time, although this time voters decided not to go to a secret ballot and defeated the proposal 122 to 159. In the end Charlton approved the budget as it was originally presented by a vote 167 to 88.

The display appeared to be an attempt to send a message to the Board of Selectmen about the public’s disapproval of Robin Craver during the negotiations with Valley Green Grow, an entity planning a large-scale and controversial marijuana growing operation at Charlton Orchards. The plans seemed to be to remove the salary of the Town Administrator forcing Craver to resign. Craver has been the target of frustration by Rydlak in recent months with the Board of Selectmen and Planning Boards constantly being on different sides of the argument concerning Valley Green Grow. In March Rydlak led the Planning Board in a vote of no confidence in both the selectmen and Craver and had attempted a citizen’s petition to seek Craver’s dismissal.

This all came to a head at the town meeting, leading to mixed reactions from the public, some saying citizens were trying to make a point and others feeling the town was being held hostage for the sake of a personnel matter. During proceedings, resident Stephen Coleman, Jr. spoke to his fellow citizens, saying that preventing the budget from passing to spite the Town Administrator was not the way to go, but that he felt the Board of Selectmen heard the concerns loud and clear.

“The Board of Selectmen has been sent a message of what some of us believe needs to happen. This is a leadership issue with (the Board of Selectmen). The town meeting tonight should pass a budget so government can move forward and anyone in this audience that feels that their vote wasn’t heard should reach out to their elected officials and make their point known, but this is not the forum to do that. This is a personnel matter. There are contractual obligations in place. We need a budget, but I hope the selectmen were listening tonight,” said Coleman.

Another resident, Luca Stevens, provided one of the more passionate speeches of the evening after Rydlak made her second attempt to remove the Town Administrator salary from the budget. After earlier warning of the difficulties the town would face without a Town Administrator Stevens said he felt disgusted that the budget was being utilized to make a political statement.

“It’s just going through the same thing over and over again, and I’m ashamed to be here tonight with this politicizing of the budget that pays our police officers, that pays our firefighters,” Stevens said. “We should just be here to pass a budget so these people can get paid at the end of the day, not politicize it. I think it’s a shame that it’s being brought to that.”

The meeting also included some debate over whether or not fear mongering was in play to try and sway the public away from voting to remove the Town Administrator salary. Town Counsel James Cosgrove provided warnings to the town meeting early in the debate explaining that the Constitution of the United States defends the rights of town employees to due process. He explained that the Board of Selectmen is the authority for such action and that town meetings were not the place for citizens to take that stand. He also defended himself saying it’s his job to warn the town of potential consequences to any vote or actions.

The lengthy discussion caused the town meeting to run to its 11 p.m. cutoff time leaving ten of the 28 articles still to be discussed including a proposed bylaw that would ban recreational marijuana in the town which failed at a ballot vote during the town election. The town meeting will reconvene on June 12.

OSV launches new event for Father’s Day

BY ANNIE SANDOLI
CORRESPONDENT

STURBRIDGE — Old Sturbridge Village has announced that it will be hosting a new event for Father’s Day this year. Baseball, Brews, & BBQ will take place on Sunday, June 16 from 9:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. with free admission for all dads.

The event will focus on the history of baseball and brewing, teaching guests about early American sports games and the history of brewing and other 19th century beverages.

“Before this year, we did just a Father’s Day brunch and let all dads into the village for free to enjoy the museum with their families, but it’s special this year because this is a brand new event,” said Sarah Blackwell, the media contact for Old Sturbridge Village.

Father’s Day visitors will not only learn about the history behind two of America’s most popular pastimes, but will also be given the opportunity to take part in early American baseball games and try a variety of different beers from local breweries by building flights or enjoying full pours. The everyday demonstrations of blacksmithing, printing, coopering, hearth cooking, and shoe-making will be going on throughout the day as well.

“There will be a baseball game on the common with baseballs and bats from the 19th century,” said Blackwell. “The extra Father’s Day activities will take place on the Town

Common, but the entire village will be open as normal too.”

Live music will take place throughout the day, including performances by local musical artists Chuck & Mud & the Mudchuckers, a well-known neo-folk group, Jeff Warner, who plays traditional American music of the 19th century and has performed all across the United States and in the UK, and members of Full Gael, a group of Celtic musicians.

For an additional charge, the Oliver Wright Tavern will be hosting a Father’s Day BBQ Brunch with seatings from 10 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. The brunch is $34 for adults, $12 for children ages four to 12, and free for children under the age of three. Reservations made prior to the day of the event are required and those who attend the brunch get a 25 percent discount on admission to the village.

OSV’s other upcoming event is Wool Days, which will be taking place on Memorial Day weekend, May 25-27, and will teach guests about how New Englanders reared sheep for their wool in the 1830s, as well as how natural dyes were used to produce a variety of colors and what kids of wool different animals produce, and allow them to try hand-carding the wool.

“As we head into the nicer weather, it’s time for the sheep to get their heavy coats off,” said Blackwell. “Costumed interpreters will bring the sheep out into the common area and visitors will see 19th century shearing practices that were used in those days and the wool textile process. The other thing that is exciting is the chance to see our spring lambs, which is always really cute.”

Charlton forming sex offender bylaw committee

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – A new committee is being formed in Charlton to lead the creation of a bylaw concerning how the town handles information in regard to sex offenders.

Aptly named the Sex Offender Bylaw Committee, this new group will be tasked with forming a bylaw that specifies how the towns handles information regarding sex offenders as well as public awareness of such individuals. Board of Selectman Chair David Singer bright the concept to the table during a May 21 meeting of the board and said he wanted to see the town make a serious push in finalizing the bylaw over the next year or so.

“We did, at one point in time, have a Sex Offender Bylaw. I have researched it, and it was literally comprised of nothing more than bylaws that had already been enacted throughout other communities across the commonwealth and approved by the attorney general. It was all fine – it passed muster. We passed it at town meeting. At one point in time due to certain requests it was put back on a town meeting warrant and removed. I was never in favor of that action. I would like to see this board hopefully move on establishing a new bylaw committee,” Singer said.

The chair got his wish as selectmen overwhelmingly supported creating the new five-member committee to be comprised of two selectmen, one police official, and two citizens at large. Selectman William Borowski wholeheartedly supported the idea making the motion to form the committee and even suggested that the town exploring posting sex offender information on public access channels, something he helped spearhead during his time in Millbury.

“It is readily available both online as well as other places. I think the more visibility we can get to this the better off we are,” Borowski said.

Selectman Karen Spiewak agreed saying she has seen other communities broadcast that information on public access as well. However, Selectman Deborah Noble wanted to wait to make sure that the town was following all proper regulations in their release of information to the public.

“I would like to see what policies these other towns have on the books before we start putting people’s names and information out there. I’d like to have some set policies in place before we just start putting people’s pictures up on the internet. It’s a slippery slope folks,” Noble said. “I want to protect the town from any liability.”

With that in mind, Singer requested that Borowski come to the next meeting with information from nearby towns on their approach to public presentation of sex offender information. Meanwhile the board appointed Singer and Selectman Noble, who had human and civil rights experience, to the committee as the first members with the intent to seek volunteers from the public and an appointee from the police department to fill the remaining three positions.

United Way to host Baby Boomer Comedy Show

BY ANNIE SANDOLI
CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON—United Way of Southbridge, Sturbridge, and Charlton is having a Baby Boomer Comedy Show on Friday, June 21 at 7 p.m. at the Overlook Performing Arts Center in Charlton to benefit all the local programs related to health, education, financial assistance, disaster, and support and relief services that it funds.

Sponsored by KARL STORZ Endoskope and featuring comedians Jan McInnis and Kent Rader, the show will focus on the experiences and memories of the Baby Boomer generation, such as not having seatbelts in the car and having to get up to change the channel on the television.

“We’ve had a Baby Boomer Comedy Show before in January of 2017 at the Stephen Brewer Theater at Old Sturbridge Village, and it was really successful,” said Mary O’Coin, UWSSC Executive Director. “This year, Overlook offered the space to us complimentary and, with the help of our main sponsors, that really helps us to cover the cost of bringing in the comedians. We are giving free tickets to the residents there, which is a community that doesn’t always get to participate, and still have an extra 200 tickets to sell.” Although they normally tour and do corporate events and conferences separately, McInnis and Rader started getting together regularly to do the Baby Boomer show after they met through a comedian friend six years ago, and haven’t stopped since. They now do the show in theaters all over the country and offer it to nonprofits at a lesser price to support their causes.

“We wanted to do a show together, but I didn’t want to go back to the clubs, so we decided we wanted to do something for theaters and events,” said McGinnis. “We are both baby boomers and our audiences are mostly baby boomers and we talked about who we wanted to have in the audience and went from there. We also like to help out organizations, because not only is it a fun night for everyone, but it gets their name out there and associated with a nice event.”

McInnis said that despite the title of the show, it is not just for baby boomers and people of all ages are encouraged to attend the completely family-friendly event.

“It is both clean and funny standup comedy,” she said. “We talk about lots of topics that relate to everyone and it’s not something that only baby boomers are going to get.”

All the proceeds from the Baby Boomer Comedy Show will go directly towards the programs that UWSSC supports, including the American Red Cross of Central & Western MA, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Central MA, The Bridge of Central Ma, Inc., The CASA Project Inc., Catholic Charities, Community Legal Aid, Girl Scouts of Central & Western MA, Literacy Volunteers of South Central MA, MASS 2-1-1, Mohegan Council of Boy Scouts, New Hope, Old Sturbridge Village, Pathways for Change, Inc, St. Luke’s Guesthouse, Tri-Community YMCA, and Tri-Valley, Inc.

“We hope that we make the money that we forecast so that we can give it right back to the public,” said O’Coin. “People want to do something fun rather than just dealing with the sadness that comes with the vulnerable populations, and this event is really generational and a great opportunity for all members of the family to come enjoy it.”

Tickets for the Baby Boomer Comedy Show are $25 in advance and $30 at the door. In accordance with the rules of the Overlook Performing Arts Center, alcohol will not be served at this event.

For more information, to purchase tickets for the show, or to donate to United Way, go to www.united-waysssc.org to call 508-765-5491.

Charlton’s Rob Barton named EMS Provider of the Year

WORCESTER — The EMS Provider of the Year Award honors exceptional acts and service by Central Massachusetts EMS providers both on and off duty. This year, the American Heart Association awarded Rob Barton, Charlton Fire Captain and Paramedic, the 2019 EMS Provider of the Year award.

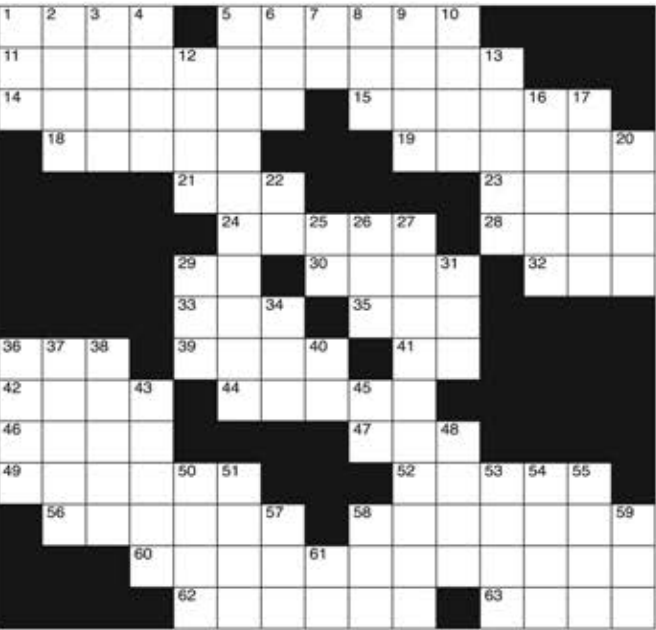

Barton is a leader in everything he does. He coordinates EMS trainings, oversees the orientation program for new paramedics, and leads the Quality Assurance/Quality Improvement program at Charlton Fire Station to ensure proper patient care.

Outside of work, Barton donates his time to the Central MA community. In addition to providing first-aid instruction to the local little league organization, Barton was also instrumental in organizing a Stop the Bleed program at a local high school, teaching students how to stop an uncontrolled bleed in an emergency situation and empowering them to act.

Barton defines the spirit of caring and commitment to pre-hospital healthcare. He continuously advocates for patients, families, and the community. Barton was given his award on May 22 at the Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors for the American Heart Association chapter in Central Massachusetts.

Wales native serves aboard ‘Floating Airport at Sea’

Josalin Beaulieu

BY JANWEB LAGAZO
MASS COMMUNICATIONS SPECIALIST 2ND
CLASS U.S. NAVY

YOKOSUKA, Japan – Fireman Josalin Beaulieu, a native of Wales, Mass., always had an interest in the Navy because her grandfather and great grandfather served, but she said it was her best friend who really influenced her decision to serve.

Now, two years later and half a world away, Beaulieu serves aboard the aircraft carrier USS Ronald Reagan, patrolling one of the world’s busiest maritime regions as part of the leading-edge of U.S. 7th Fleet.

“It’s interesting, because there’s always something that needs attention,” she said. “My heart always stutters when [the ship’s] alarms go off because it’s an adrenaline rush.”

Beaulieu, a 2017 graduate of Tantasqua High School, is a damage controlman aboard the Yokosuka, Japan-based ship, the only forward-deployed aircraft carrier in the Navy.

As a damage controlman, Beaulieu takes responsibility for the ship’s firefighting equipment and serves as sort of a first responder during times of emergency.

Beaulieu credits her success in the Navy to lessons learned in Wales.

“I never take anything for granted,” she said. “My dad and brother taught me to always work hard and that translated over to the Navy.”

U.S. 7th Fleet spans more than 124 million square kilometers, stretching from the International Date Line to the India/Pakistan border; and from the Kuril Islands in the North to the Antarctic in the South. U.S. 7th Fleet’s area of operations encompasses 36 maritime countries and 50 percent of the world’s population with between 50-70 U.S. ships and submarines, 140 aircraft, and approximately 20,000 sailors.

“Everything goes by so fast and I feel like we’re always moving,” said Beaulieu.

With more than 50 percent of the world’s shipping tonnage and a third of the world’s crude oil passing through the region, the United States has historic and enduring interests in this part of the world. The Navy’s presence in Yokosuka is part of that long-standing commitment, explained Navy officials.

“The Navy is forward-deployed to provide security and strengthen relationships in a free and open Indo-Pacific. It’s not just the ships and aircraft that have shown up to prevent conflict and promote peace,” said Vice Admiral Phil Sawyer, commander, U.S. 7th Fleet. “It is, and will continue to be our people who define the role our Navy plays around the world. People who’ve made a choice, and have the will and strength of character to make a difference.”

Named in honor of former President Ronald Reagan, the carrier is longer than three football fields, measuring nearly 1,100 feet. The ship, a true floating city, weighs more than 100,000 tons and has a flight deck that is 252 feet wide. Two nuclear reactors can push the ship through the water at more than 35 mph.

Sailors’ jobs are highly varied aboard the carrier. Approximately 3,200 men and women make up the ship’s crew, which keeps all parts of the aircraft carrier running smoothly – this includes everything from handling weapons to operating nuclear reactors. Another 2,500 men and women form the air wing responsible for flying and maintaining more than 70 aircraft aboard the ship.

Ronald Reagan, like each of the Navy’s aircraft carriers, is designed for a 50-year service life. When the air wing is embarked, the ship carries more than 70 attack jets, helicopters and other aircraft, all of which take off from and land aboard the carrier at sea.

Serving in the Navy means Beaulieu is part of a world that is taking on new importance in America’s focus on rebuilding military readiness, strengthening alliances and reforming business practices in support of the National Defense Strategy.

A key element of the Navy the nation needs is tied to the fact that America is a maritime nation, and that the nation’s prosperity is tied to the ability to operate freely on the world’s oceans. More than 70 percent of the Earth’s surface is covered by water; 80 percent of the world’s population lives close to a coast; and 90 percent of all global trade by volume travels by sea.

“Our priorities center on people, capabilities and processes, and will be achieved by our focus on speed, value, results and partnerships,” said Secretary of the Navy Richard V. Spencer. “Readiness, lethality and modernization are the requirements driving these priorities.”

There are many ways for sailors to earn distinction in their command, community, and career. Beaulieu said she is most proud of earning a job, or “rate” and getting qualified in it.

“In a way, I feel a sense of belonging now that I have rate and it’s exciting,” said Beaulieu.

What’s at stake when you take a seat?

Proponents of physical activity say that sitting is the new smoking, but how true is that statement, and what are the justifications behind it?

In modern times, with the onslaught of technology more people are spending their working hours sitting at a desk, or sitting behind a machine that is doing all of the physical labor. While there are still several occupations that allow a person to move about, the days of hard manual labor, long hours on a farm, and using hand held tools to build most things are over.

Today’s society is physically lazier than ever, and that is not necessarily the fault of the individual; it is simply how things have unfolded as technology advanced. With this news of the downfalls of leading a sedentary lifestyle chirping about, some companies have invested in stand-up desks to try to offset any negative consequences to sitting in a chair all day long.

One study shows that sitting for too long can increase heart failure and will shorten life expectancy; however, there has been little evidence to prove that a stand up desk could improve such ailments. The study showed that the amount of calories you burn by standing as opposed to sitting equals out to a handful of potato chips; however, over time, those calories do add up. One study showed that standing for longer than four hours showed an increased propensity for enlarged veins. The idea is to find the balance between your standing and sitting time. One suggestion to boost more movement in the office is to move a printer or fax machine far enough away so you have to walk to it, to get in a few more steps throughout the day.

The most disturbing fact discovered was that students sit, on average, for more than seven hours per day. That makes sense when you think about the hours in a school day, drive time, doing homework, sitting down for dinner, and of course, screen time with cell phones or in front of the television. That means that children and teens today are sitting for more than 85 percent of the time during waking hours.

A different study that actually equated sitting to smoking showed that sitting as little as two hours in a row increases the risk for heart disease. Individuals apparently who sit for less than three hours per day are said to have a longer life expectancy.

Proven is the fact that sitting too long can cause orthopedic dysfunction, and also can impact a child’s ability to process information. Children who are at standing desks burn up to 25 percent more calories during the school day than their sitting counterparts and were more engaged in classroom activities. Obese children who used standing desks increased calorie burn by up to 25 to 35 percent, and fidgeting can actually impact calories burned as well. Children are meant to move and if given the opportunity that’s exactly what they’ll do.

Interesting regarding children, and really, no surprise, is the fact that they are happier when not restricted to a chair and classroom behavior improves when students are able to actively learn and tend to be more creative.

When you are in a standing position, your complex motor skills are at their best, and you prevent back and neck pain, pelvic floor dysfunction, knee and hip disorders and reduces cell aging.

We think it would be interesting to place a step tracker on a typical student at the start of a school day and record their steps at the end of the day over the period of a week. Those results may shock many.

Living in the present with your family

As a young entrepreneur and CEO, I found myself planning for and living my life inside my head, as I worked to anticipate and capitalize on the future. Success in life requires all of us to plan and look forward. However, my problem as a young man and business leader was my reluctance to leave the office and the future behind, as I would arrive at home to live in the present. I was always looking ahead and planning for success to come, and in the process, I missed out on too many of life’s impromptu and cherished moments.

I feel fortunate. I do not have many regrets, but I do regret the vast amount of time I spent away ... even when I was home.

I’m not alone.

I hear it from others. We seem to arrive at a point in our lives where we understand what we have missed, and why. With that realization often comes a commitment to do better, and that’s good ... but we can never retrieve lost time. The family events, recitals, games and other happenings can never be revisited. I didn’t miss much. My body was present, but my mind was absent. I was often physically with my family and mentally at work. It is a common problem with breadwinners and is compounded by the two career households.

Our children and mates need us mentally and emotionally present. Most of us know what to do to live a life in the now, but it’s not that simple. Career pressures, financial demands and professional goals, pull and tug us away from home and family. We just must make the conscious decision to be present.

I remember having this conversation with Arlene at a swim meet. I was there in the bleachers physically present but taking calls on my mobile phone. We were driving home, and she said, “Why don’t you just stay at work next time? You really aren’t here.”

“What do you mean?” I responded. “The kids need me here!”

She shrugged. “I agree, so why not be here next time and not on your phone?”

I acted offended but knew she was right. Later that night, I confessed that I needed her help. I asked her to remind me as I start drifting away and she said, “Okay, then leave your mobile phone and laptop in your car.”

It was always a struggle. I was tugged in every direction, but I began working hard to be mentally where I was physically, and I became a happier guy.

Today’s professional demands are tough.

Young professionals travel for work today more than any other time in history. Competition is tough and career performance is essential to success. However, the same is true for having a successful marriage and raising happy, successful children.

When we make the decision to marry, that is an incredible commitment that is more important than your career. When you bring a child into the world, compound that commitment by ten. Your family needs you present.

Ask a teacher which kids have enough parent time and involvement and they will tell you. The kids without that close parental connection act out in negative ways in response to what they are missing at home. Your children and your significant other need and deserve your time and attention. Kids equate love with time. Make sure they understand and feel that love from you.

So, what now? Breathe.

I have found that by taking a moment to focus on my breathing, it brings me to my most basic function and helps me clear my mind. Once breathing has my attention, I look around, fully realize where I am and change my focus to remaining there.

The adage that says, “On their death bed, no one wishes they spent more time at work.” Always be the best you can be in your career ... but make the same effort with your family.

Do you have a business succession strategy?

FINANCIAL FOCUS

DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

If you own a business, you’ve always got plenty to think about: sales, marketing, employees, competition, industry trends, consumer preferences – the list goes on and on. It’s easy to get so caught up in your work that you might not take time to think about retirement. But if and when that day arrives, you’ll want to be prepared – which means you need a business succession plan.

And you will have to put considerable thought and effort in selecting such a plan, because you’ve got several choices. You could keep the business in your family. You could offer it to an employee or an outsider. You could design a plan that will take effect while you’re alive or after you’ve passed away. Your decision should be based on several factors, including your family situation, the nature of your business, and your overall financial position (including the composition of your investment portfolio), but, at the outset of your search, you may want to know about some popular succession strategies, including:

Giving the business away – You can leave your business to your children, but if you transfer it during your lifetime, you may be able to obtain some valuable benefits. For example, by relinquishing control gradually, you can be reassured that your children will be able to manage the business on their own. This strategy may also offer tax benefits. You can give your business away outright, but you may want to consider using a trust or family limited partnership, both of which may allow you to control the business for as long as you want, while still receiving a regular income stream.

Selling the business outright – You can always sell your business outright whenever you like – right now, when you retire or some time in between. Of course, any sale brings tax considerations.

Using a buy-sell arrangement to transfer the business – Instead of simply selling the business in a traditional transaction, you could employ a buy-sell agreement. With this arrangement, you can generally determine when, to whom, and at what price you can sell it. If you would like to keep the business in your family, you may be able to fund the buy-sell agreement with life insurance, so family members could use the death benefit to buy your ownership stake.

Buying a private annuity – When you buy a private annuity, you can transfer the business to family members, or someone else, who will then make payments to you for the rest of your life, or, possibly, for your lifetime and that of a second person’s. In addition to potentially providing you with a lifetime income stream, this type of sale can remove assets from your estate without triggering gift or estate taxes.

These and other techniques can be complex, so before deciding on what is best for your situation, you’ll want to consult with your tax, legal and financial advisors. By taking your time and getting the professional help you need, you can make a successful succession choice.

Herbs in the Garden

As you plan this year’s garden, remember that few outdoor plantings are as charming as the common herb garden. With a renewed interest in growing herbs, more and more people are enjoying the benefits of the healing plants, whether plucked straight from the ground or from a windowsill pot. Offering a visual delight, plus the promise of medicinal magic, rediscovering the humble herb is a simple summer pleasure. Read on for a review of the practical plants.

Chamomile: Chamomile is a versatile herb that can be brewed into a tea to soothe such maladies as an upset stomach, indigestion, anxiety and sleeplessness. The fragrant herb has even been touted as a nightmare deterrent! The hardy, low-growing plant is easy to cultivate in a backyard garden. Chamomile has been dubbed the “herb of humility” because it seemed to thrive when walked on, and in England has actually been planted as a fragrant lawn.

Fun fact: In the old days chamomile was called the “Plant’s Physician.” If a plant was sickly, the cure was often to scatter a few chamomile sprigs in the garden bed.

Peppermint: Peppermint, the source of menthol, has long been utilized by generations of practical households. It’s claim to fame is that peppermint relieves a tummy ache, alleviates the chills, and lessens symptoms of fever and the flu. A few strong cups of peppermint tea has even been credited with curing a headache. The Romans crowned themselves with Peppermint branches and ancient Greeks believed peppermint could clear the voice and cure hiccups. In ancient times peppermint was considered the symbol of hospitality

Peppermint Poultice: Make a paste of crushed peppermint leaves and almond oil. Rub onto skin to alleviate muscle aches or migraine.

Catnip: While herbalists recommend catnip tea for upset stomach, nervous headache and promoting perspiration to cool a fever, it’s often fun to grow catnip purely for your pet’s pleasure. Folklore dictates catnip grown near or around your home attracts good luck. While catnip is best known for the euphoric response it induces in cats, not all cats are effected by it and some don’t react to catnip until they are older than three months.

Catnip Tea: Add one teaspoon of loose dried catnip to one cup of boiling water. Make sure the mixture is steeped only and not allowed to boil. Strain and serve. Try it with lemon or sweetened with honey.

Lemon Balm: Lemon Balm infuses the garden air with a citrusy fragrance. Medicinally, lemon balm has been placed directly onto insect bites or sores, made into teas for bronchial problems, colds, or drank simply to relieve tension. Today, the essential oil of Lemon Balm is commonly used in aromatherapy to treat depression. Rich in legend, it’s been claimed soaking the leaves of the balm in vine for a few hours will influence love!

Lemon Balm Vinaigrette: Combine three tablespoons light olive oil, one teaspoon finely crumbled lemon balm, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1/16 teaspoon pepper and two tablespoons rice wine vinegar. Use as a salad or vegetable dressing.

Rosemary: Rosemary folklore boasts a long history. It is said rosemary was the original incense and burning a twig of the cleansing herb would rid the area of all negativity. Rosemary was burned in shrines in Ancient Greece to drive away evil spirits and illnesses. Greeks students of that time also wore garlands of rosemary in their hair to improve their memory. In addition, it was long claimed a necklace made from rosemary preserves ones youth. Rosemary is now a common herb to use in drawer sachets and hair rinses.

Rosemary-Lemon Meat Rub: Mix together 1 ½ teaspoon grated lemon peel; one teaspoon dried crushed rosemary leaves; two minced garlic cloves; and one quarter teaspoon each salt, ground pepper and dried thyme leaves. Rub on tender cuts of meat to add flavor before cooking or grilling.

Lavender: Dating back several thousand years, lavender has served as a valuable herbal staple in both the kitchen and the sickroom. Romans are credited for the spread of lavender throughout

Proper watering is key to gardening success, but untangling and dragging heavy hoses across the yard, smashing delicate flowers and young vegetable plants along the way is a common occurrence in many yards. If this describes your escapades when watering garden beds and planters, it may be time to look for some time-saving solutions that reduce the hassle of hand watering.

Protect edging plants, especially those at the corner of the bed with hose guides. You can make your own from colorful wine bottles inverted over a section of rebar anchored in the ground. Or invest in some functional or decorative hose guides available for sale.

Connecting and disconnecting the hose to the faucet, inadequate length of hoses, and nozzles can be a source of aggravation. Washers disappear, connections loosen, and leaks occur. Invest in quick-connectors that allow you to make all these connections with a simple click.

Clear the hose clutter off patios, decks and walks while keeping them easily accessible for daily watering. A hose reel allows you to easily wind up the hose out of sight near the faucet. These are often mounted on the wall or are unsightly and bulky devices with wheels that can still be a bit unwieldy. Evaluate the design and ease of use before investing.

An automatic reel that retracts the hose quickly and easily or a lightweight portable model may be just the solution. Irrigation equipment like the G.F. Italia Portable Reel Nozzle Hose available at gardeners.

com is lightweight enough, allowing you to carry 50 feet of hose that unravels just the length you need as you water various garden beds or containers on the deck.

Coil hoses are designed to expand when filled with water then retract into a small size for clean, easy storage and portability. You eliminate the need to unwind and rewind long lengths of hoses every time you water. Look for hoses made of long-lasting, kink-free materials that have superior coil memory for years of easy watering.

Make moving long stretches of hoses easier with featherweight and lightweight slim products. A featherweight hose can weigh as little as two and a half pounds, making it easier to move through the garden and back onto the reel or storage container.

Combine the convenience of storage and lightweight portability. You'll minimize the need for maintaining hoses at every faucet while retaining the convenience. Look for products that allow you to easily move your hose where it's needed. Expandable hoses allow you to easily move your hose from faucet to faucet for watering around the yard or pack it in your RV when traveling.

Make proper watering a more convenient part of garden and container maintenance by investing in quality hoses, connectors and storage options. If it's easy, you are more likely to water plants as needed and then store the hoses conveniently out of sight after each watering.

Transitioning away from turkeys

Wild turkey hunting ended May 25 in Massachusetts, and by all the feedback to this writer, it seemed to be a great season. Reports of at least two 25-pound birds harvested in the local area by hunters, and many birds in the 20-pound-plus class provided some great memories for young and old, not to forget the great eat-

Numerous young hunters were also invited to go along on their first hunt. They are now hooked on hunting! Thanks

Seabass are the hot topic for this week. This year, Massachusetts has a daily bag limit of five fish from May 18-Sept. 8, while Rhode Island does not allow any seabass fishing until June 24. This seabass regulation in Rhode Island does not sit well with many anglers. With the seabass population at an all time high, it does not make any sense. Summer flounder fishing in Massachusetts now has a special shore fishing regulation allowing them a reduced size to 17 inches, with a two daily limit. Regular regulations are six 19-inch fish per day!

Haddock fishing has been very good for anglers on head boats and private charters on the Gulf of Maine. The haddock population has rebounded big time and is providing some great fishing on the North Shore. Cod fishing still remains closed for recreational anglers despite their numerous catches made while fishing for haddock &

Pollock.

Striper fishing is heating up all along the coast of Mass. & Rhode Island. It will not be long before someone reels in a 50-pound striper like the one in this week's photo taken in 2017.

Europe, taking it with them everywhere they went in order to have local supplies of lavender oil which they used extensively in bath water and soap as well as in many other ways. Most lavenders are originally natives of the Mediterranean countries. Today, lavender is used in rubbing oils to soothe sore joints, and an infusion of lavender has long been used as a cold compress to treat severe headaches. The lovely scent of lavender makes it a popular herb in sachets, perfumes and many aromatherapy and craft projects.

Fun fact: In the middle ages, sprinkling lavender water on a person's head was thought to keep them chaste!

Thyme: Thyme is a magical herb, as popular for its flavor as for its healing properties. Historically, thyme was employed as a medicinal weapon to combat European plaques, and as recently as WWI, thyme essential oil was used as an antiseptic. And a hot cup of tea infused with thyme has even been touted as an effective hangover cure!

Sleepy Thyme: Thyme has also been used to treat nightmares. It has been said a few sprigs of the herb placed beneath a pillow can ensure a good night's sleep.

Sage: Sage traces its history back to the ancients who touted the herb for a cure-all for such maladies as epilepsy and warts. For generations, sage has been used for coughs, fevers and as a health tonic. Native Americans used sage in salves to treat various skin conditions and they frequently used sturdy springs of sage as a toothbrush. Today, sage's antiseptic and astringent properties make it a popular herb for treating skin sores and irritations. Sage is also said to help in the healing of bruises and proper blood circulation.

Sage Honey: Add two teaspoons of fresh sage to one quart of honey. Warm over low heat. Place in a covered canning jar and store for at least two weeks to infuse flavor.

"While the decision to build a dog park has the potential for enormous benefit for the community, it also requires a major commitment of time and energy from the town as a whole," the website states.

That fundraising process began two years ago, after an 18-month period of formally creating the Friends group as a non-profit entity. Members hope it will reach its $20,000 goal next month, when the Friends hold their third annual Pizza 4 Paws event on Friday, June 28. Unlike the original one, this will be in Oxford – at the American Legion Hall on Main Street from 6-9 p.m. The Friends will be selling tickets through their Facebook page and in person this Friday outside Hometown Liquors from 5:30-7:30 p.m.

Once they hit their goal, that's not the end. Bird said they'll still fundraise for supplies and maintenance over the long term.

Since they started their quest, the project has had to shift locations a few times. For a while, they were considering a site in the Industrial Park, then at Greenbriar Park. The latter was nixed by the Army Corps of Engineers, which owns the property. Coincidentally, Woodward School became available after a proposal to turn it into a regional dispatch center fell apart and the derelict building was demolished.

Member Emilie Arrigi noted that site sits next to playing fields, and there have been some discussions with the league over parking.

"They have valid concerns," she said. "We've just got to work together and get in a groove."

"We're hoping it's going to be done by the end of the summer," Bird said. "I'd like to see a big opening celebration, maybe with a pet parade. Wouldn't that be fun?"

"I can't wait to see what it looks like," Arrigi added. "I look at it on paper, but I have a hard time imagining what it'll really look like."

we found to be quite amazing if that the fire department can't order regular sized fire trucks for the existing buildings. The garage bay doors are not even big enough to accommodate them. So, they have to order special sized equipment which is much more expensive and doesn't do the job that they need to do. The police department can't back in an ambulance to their facility to take care of people who have medical needs," Doucette said.

Many citizens joined the Lions Club in supporting the initiative. The article passed in a 209 to 41 decision. The borrowing of $28,533,814 million will add 96 cents per $1,000 in property valuation to the tax rate but according to Capt. Barton around half of that number will be offset by expiring debt. Taxpayers can expect to begin paying off the building in the 2022 fiscal year.

Bay Path lacrosse programs enjoy inaugural seasons

The first-year Bay Path girls' varsity lacrosse team had plenty of smiles throughout the season, as they hope to build on year one and improve the program next spring.

SOUTHBRIDGE — Although both teams have gone through their trials and tribulations in their first season of existence, the Bay Path Regional boys' and girls' varsity lacrosse programs have deemed it a successful spring.

"They wanted to start lacrosse and we had 53 girls come out," explained head coach Tammy Legere before her squad was supposed to take on St. Peter-Marian High at Southbridge High on Tuesday, May 21 — the Minutemen and Pioneers are a co-op program — before the game was postponed due to no officials showing up.

Bay Path still honored the team's lone senior, Alexxus Afriyie, with a showering of gifts.

Legere explained that the players and coaches alike have been learning the sport together throughout the season.

"We all learned the same day," said Legere, who has a 17-year coaching background in soccer. "I just thought it'd be fun to try something different. It's fun — it's fast, it's different and the girls are enjoying learning the game."

The Minutemen have just one victory to show for their efforts, a decision over Nashoba Tech, but their game-to-game improvement has been instrumental.

"There's been a lot of improvement. If you compare the first game against a team and the second game against a team, it's improved," said Legere.

Case in point was versus Nashoba Tech, when they lost the first time around and then won in the next meeting.

With the strong numbers in the varsity and junior varsity teams, as well as the amount of fun the team is having, Legere envisions lacrosse being a mainstay at the school.

"I think it's here to stay, it's not going anywhere," she concluded.

While the Minutemen were waiting for referees to potentially show, Bay Path's boys' varsity team hosted Monty Tech on a nearby field. The team led, 5-1, at the half, and held on late for a 10-8 victory.

Head coach Matt Fall, much like Legere, noted that his team has been improving throughout the season.

"You can't take the win or loss as improvement or not; at the end of the day if we can cut them in half from last time then we've improved," he said. "We showed that improvement and that's exactly what we're looking for as a coaching staff."

Bay Path lost to Monty Tech the first time around, 6-5, before winning this one.

"We've been able to ride our seniors pretty hard. Today, in a tight game, some senior leadership really came through, and hopefully that transfers over to the program in the future," said Fall.

The Minutemen saw themselves in an 8-8 tie as the clock was winding down, but Jackson Philon potted a goal with 4:06 to play after receiving a nifty feed from Ryan Vigeant. Vigeant then put the game away on a goal with 2:13 to go.

Vigeant and Nicolas Hamilton each scored three goals for Bay Path, while Jason Dufresne scored twice. Jack Cicero and Philon also scored, and Dean Maestro made 14 saves.

The victory improved the Minutemen's record to 3-11.

Injury-riddled Rockets can't overtake Nipmuc

After hustling in to retrieve the ball, Auburn left fielder Sam Bonneau comes up firing to get it back to the infield.

Auburn's Jaycie Opuda twirls a pitch toward the plate versus Nipmuc.

With a hustling Julia Orff of Nipmuc nearing first base, second baseman Allison Frost of Auburn throws over to the bag in time to record an out.

Right fielder Emma Gervais of Auburn gets underneath a pop fly to be able to make a catch.

Carly Hayes of Auburn finishes off her swing, which resulted in a triple.

AUBURN — The injury bug hit the Auburn High varsity softball team hard during a 10-day span in mid-May, the Rockets losing seven players to an assorted number of injuries. Included in that number are four key starters who were out of the lineup when Auburn hosted Nipmuc Regional on Thursday, May 23.

And, while the Rockets battled valiantly, they could not overcome a three-run first inning deficit and lost to the Warriors, 5-2.

“We’ve had seven injuries in the last week and half and three of them were to my top three players,” Auburn head coach Sandy Lavallee said. “But we battled. They held their own. I thought they came together during the game.”

Out of the lineup when Auburn faced Nipmuc were shortstop Izzy Therrien, left fielder Corrie Hammond, center fielder Makena Mulcahy and catcher Isabella Miller.

“Izzy, Corrie and Makena are my top three players,” Lavallee said. “Those are big losses.”

Auburn, which is still seeking a spot in the Central Mass. Division 2 Tournament, dropped to 9-8 with the loss. The Rockets then lost to Holy Name High the following day and have two games to go to pick up that elusive 10th win. They come against Northbridge High and Uxbridge High. Unlike Auburn, Nipmuc (10-8) did qualify for the postseason with the victory.

The Warriors struck quickly in the top of the first inning. Julia Orff opened the game with an infield single into the hole at shortstop and then moved to second when Allison Shepherd followed with a walk. Both runners came home when the next batter, Kali Scirocco, launched the ball well over the left-field fence for a home run, staking Nipmuc to a 3-0 lead before it had even recorded an out.

For Scirocco, a senior, it was her eighth home run of the year. She is currently batting about .550.

“The three-run homer in the first wasn’t a huge surprise,” Lavallee said. “I know she’s a good batter. But, it was only three runs. We could have come back; we just didn’t get the luck we needed to overtake them.”

The Warriors pushed their lead to 4-0 with a run in the top of the third inning. Scirocco walked, went to second on a single by Rachel Dunlavy and eventually scored on a fielder’s choice by Justine Nicholson.

Auburn cut the Nipmuc lead to 4-1 in the bottom of the inning. Catcher Carly Hayes belted a leadoff triple to the base of the fence in left-center field and then scored on a sacrifice bunt by third baseman Niccola Zona.

Nipmuc, however, got that run back and went ahead, 5-1, in the top of the fourth inning. With one out Orff singled to center field and then advanced to second when Shepherd followed with a single to almost the exact same spot. Orff came into score later in the half-inning on an Auburn defensive error.

Auburn made it a 5-2 game in the bottom of the sixth inning, pitcher Jaycie Opuda singling to right field with one out and then scampering home all the way from first on an RBI double to left field off the bat of shortstop Ava Novakoski.

The Rockets could get no further in the sixth or seventh innings, however, and the game ended at 5-2.

Opuda and Hayes paced Auburn’s nine-hit attack with two hits each. Allison Frost, Kyleigh Hillis and Emily Wambach all finished with singles.

“We were hitting today, we were just hitting the ball right at them. We weren’t able to string any hits together. The bats were on the ball today,” Lavallee said. “That was good to see because we’ve struggled with that this year. Today we just couldn’t get the hits where we needed to get them and when we needed to get them.”

Scirocco, Orff, Nicholson and Casey Costello all finished with a pair of hits for the Warriors, who had 11 base-knocks in the game.

Planning Board Chair claims defamation

BY JASON BLEAU
VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – Charlton Planning Board Chair Patricia Rydlak is going on the offensive after recent accusations were placed against her in connection to her board’s rejection of the Valley Green Grow proposal.

Valley Green Grow has accused Rydlak of a felony, something she says is not only false but has had an impact on her personal and professional life. As a result, Rydlak is demanding a retraction of those accusations and representation by legal counsel appointed by the Board of Selectmen. The allegations were made by attorneys Michael Duffy and Bradley Croft, both of Ruberto, Israel and Weiner, who represent Valley Green Grow. In a letter sent to the Land Court dated March 28 Attorney Croft alleged that Rydlak told selectmen that she was included in a conference call on March 14 between lawyers and Land Court Judge Robert B. Frost and that she recorded the call. Such an accusation could lead to up to five years in prison as well as $10,000 in fines for Rydlak who spoke before selectmen on April 9 putting her frustrations on full display.

“Accusations made have already affected by employment, a career that I love, where I am able to make a difference. My integrity and judgement are crucial for me to do my job. Residents approached my husband questioning him about my actions. On social media, I am being called a criminal. Comments say I should be removed from the Planning Board,” Rydlak said, later accusing Valley Green Grow of “published lies” in an effort to “defame” her. Rydlak stated that she did not attend or record the land court conference call, and that the accusations are based on evidence taken out of context. She said she is “disgusted” by the behavior of attorneys to jump to accusations without proper evidence and considered it a personal attack.

“I did not attend or record this land court conference. I received a copy of the audio by email,” Rydlak said. “Those involved assumed the worst, and did not verify facts because it was in their best interest. This includes members of the Board of Selectmen, the Town Administrator, all of the attorneys and the companies they represent. They used malice and never asked me once if I attended the call prior to publishing lies. Clearly their intent was to destroy my reputation for their own benefit. All those involved, most being attorneys, know better than to accuse someone of a crime without evidence.”

Rydlak laid out a series of demands she would like met to remedy the situation which include written apologies from the attorneys of Valley Green Grow, written apologies from the Benjamins who currently own Charlton Orchard where Valley Green Grow is seeking to set up its growing operation, a letter written to the Land Court judge by attorneys Duffy and Croft explaining their lack of judgement in the accusations, and a full investigation into how these accusations transpired.

“A mere statement in this meeting room was somehow communicated to opposing council and escalated to such a point where a letter was sent to a judge stating that a felony was committed,” Rydlak said. “There were eight people in the Board of Selectmen meeting. It shouldn’t take too long to complete that investigation to figure out what happened.”

Rydlak is also demanding that Charlton Town Counsel Jonathan Silverstein be dismissed and that an attorney be provided to represent her and pursue defamation charges against those involved.

Several citizens took the floor to request that selectmen move to support Rydlak and appoint an attorney as they would for employees of the town. Selectman John McGrath explained that the board could not make a motion on the matter as it must be an agenda item and Rydlak made the request during citizens forum.

Despite urging from Planning Board members, citizens and even members of the Board of Selectmen that immediate or swifter action be taken to support Rydlak, the board chose not to make any motions until the matter becomes an official meeting item in the coming weeks.

Strategies to control appetite

Fiber-rich vegetables produce feelings of fullness. By eating them before other portions of a meal, people can avoid overeating.

Hunger can be a formidable foe, especially for people attempting to lose weight. When hunger strikes, various appetite-control strategies can help people avoid overeating or eating during those times when boredom is more to blame than an empty belly.

- Eat slowly. When a person eats, a series of signals are sent to the brain from digestive hormones secreted by the gastrointestinal tract. These signals produce a feeling of pleasure and satiety in the brain, but it can take awhile for the brain to receive them. By chewing slowly, people can give the signals more time to reach their brains, potentially preventing them from overeating.

- Choose the right snacks. The right snacks can make it easier to eat more slowly. Instead of reaching for potato chips or pretzels, both of which can be eaten quickly and picked up by the handful, choose snacks that are both healthy and require a little work. Carrots dipped in hummus or baked tortilla chips with low-fat salsa or bean dip are low-calorie snacks that also require some work between bites. The time it takes to dip between bites affords more time for the digestive tract to release signals to the brain that you're full.

- Reach for fiber first. Another way to conquer hunger without overeating is to reach for fiber before eating other parts of your meal. Vegetables are rich in fiber, but since veggies are often served as side dishes, many people tend to eat them only after they've eaten their main courses. That can contribute to overeating. Fiber fills you up, so by eating the high-fiber portions of your meal first, you're less likely to overeat before your brain receives the signals that your stomach is full. Consider eating vegetables as an appetizer or, if the entire meal is served at once, clear your plate of vegetables before diving into the main course or other side dishes.

- Drink water. Perhaps the best, and least expensive, way to control appetite and ensure you don't overeat is to drink more water. A 2010 study funded by the Institute for Public Health and Water Research that included 48 adults between the ages of 55 and 75 found that people who drank two eight-ounce glasses of water right before a meal consumed 75 to 90 fewer calories during the ensuing meal than study participants who did not consume water prior to their meals. Over the course of 12 weeks, participants who drank water before meals three times per day lost roughly five pounds more than those who did not increase their water intake.

Controlling appetite does not have to be a complex undertaking. In fact, some of the simplest strategies can be highly effective.

PAXTON SENIORS

Paxton’s bus tour season starts Wednesday, April 24, on the Maine / New Hampshire seacoast topped off with a vist to a Winery. First stop is the Kittery Historical & Naval Museum where you will wander through Kittery’s past as you browse the exhibits, from colonial times to grand hotels, shipbuilding and lighthouses, up to the present day. Find out what makes Kittery special... at the Museum!
Next stop is lunch at Warren’s Lobster House in Kittery, Maine. Our prior visits to Warren’s have always been wonderful. Warren’s has the Seacoast’s Finest Salad Bar, which offers over 60 selections and homemade pumpkin bread, soup and rolls — For an entrée you may select from; Seafood Casserole, Fried Baby Shrimp, Ritz Filet of Haddock, Crab Crusted Salmon, Top Sirloin Steak and Chicken Parmesan. Beverages and dessert will be included.

After a delightful lunch on the River separating Maine and New Hampshire, we move on to Zorvino Vineyard. A family-owned and operated winery, that originally started as a hobby. Jim and Cheryl Zanello purchased the 80-acre lot in Sandown, NH in 2000 after retiring. Four years later Zorvino Vineyards was established. The “Zor” in Zorvino comes from the original family name Zorzanello and “Vino” means wine. Family and Wine, the perfect pairing.

In the first years, 150 cold climate vines, mostly hybrids, were planted. To date, there are roughly 2,000 vines on site. The bulk of the grapes are brought in from Italy, California and South America. They are mostly known for their “off dry”fruit wines. blends and unusual 100% fruit or vegetable wines like Pumpkin, Beet and Rhubarb to name a few. New favorites include their red wines and white wines aged in American White Oak.

Our bus trip leaves the Paxton Senior Center, 17 West St., at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, April 24. Baring any traffic concerns on Route 495, we plan to be back in Paxton around 5 p.m.

The cost of the trip is $82 per person. Reservations, payment and your choice of entree at Warren’s should be mailed to Bob Wilby, 11 Tanglewood Rd., Paxton, by Monday April 15. Checks should be made payable to the FRIENDS OF PAXTON COA.

For more details, please contact Bob at 508-792-4662.

Are you interested in joining another wonder trip in 2019?

A group of Seniors from Paxton and surrounding towns are planning a trip this year to Italy. The group plans to leave Paxton on Sept. 9, with transportation provided to Logan and return. Our flight will take us to Rome, Italy for 10 days visiting many historical sites of Italy. Rome has many beautiful attractions that many of us have not seen on previous visits. After two nights in Rome, we will move on to one night in Perugia where we will have the opportunity to visit Assisi, the birthplace of St. Francis of Assisi. Following our stay in Perugia, we move on to Florence, “the Cradle of Italian Renaissance,” where we will view Michelangelo’s incredible statue of David. After two nights in beautiful Florence, we will move on to Venice. On the way to Venice, we will stop at a 12th century castle and learn about the famous Tuscany wines and enjoy a cooking class and lunch. Next we are off to Venice for two nights. During that time, we have an opportunity to visit many of the wonderful sites of the Canal City.

After Venice, our next and last night will be Milan where we will have an opportunity to visit and shop at the “Quadrilatero della Moda,” Milan’s high-fashion district. We will depart for home from Milan.
