Charlton Police Chief chosen as interim Town Administrator

BY JASON BLEAU
NEWS STAFF WRITER

CHARLTON — As Charlton Town Administrator Robin Craver ends her 13-year stint as Charlton’s highest non-elected authority in the town hall, the Board of Selectmen in town have now appointed a temporary successor to lead the community until a permanent administrator is hired. Craver announced her resignation in July effecting Oct. 1 leaving the town seeking new leadership. She has since become one of three finalists for the Town Administrator position in Bourne. Craver herself told selectmen during a meeting on Sept. 24 that she had reached out to retired managers and administrators to bring forth candidates for selectmen to consider filling the post on an interim basis. However, selectmen took a different route announcing an in-house hire in the form of Police Chief Graham Maxfield to take on the role. The decision came after a divided discussion among selectmen that began with Selectman Bill Borowski explaining that he had, in fact, discussed the idea with the Chief of Police and felt he would be a worthy candidate to serve in the post until a new administrator be put in place. “The [candidate] that jumped out at me was Chief Maxfield, reason being that he has a command staff in place who can help with that type of work,” Borowski said. The idea of hiring an internal candidate received divided opinions from selectmen, although it wasn’t Maxfield’s qualifications that drew the decision into question. Selectman Deborah Noble was

Charlton recovering from cyber attack

BY JASON BLEAU
NEWS STAFF WRITER

CHARLTON — In the wake of a cyber attack on the town of Charlton’s computer network in late August, the town hall is nearly fully up to date as the recovery effort is being lauded by town officials. Charlton suffered an attack to its shared network in the town hall on Aug. 30 by what Town Administrator Robin Craver called “malicious software” that froze documents, emails and the main servers, leaving many departments helpless and seeking answers. The attack did not affect payroll or emergency services and reportedly did not involve the theft of personal information. During a meeting of the Board of Selectmen on Sept. 24, Craver and Finance Director Donna Folgio provided an update on the status of the recovery. “There’s been a lot of work done to get us back up and running and I do want to say a big thank you to the staff that came in over Labor Day,” Craver said. “They’ve been working very hard and I think you can feel very comfortable about the staff that you have here.” Craver also received recognition from selectmen who noted that the Town Administrator took time out of her vacation to help respond to the situation. Folgio said the attack was first detected by the Charlton Police Department and that the town’s outside consultant for IT services, Micronet, was soon contacted and shut down the servers to terminate the attack. In the days and weeks that followed the FBI became involved and the culprits were identified. “The FBI was contacted, and the attacker was identified as a group known to the FBI and that their MO was to encrypt data, not take data, and to make a request for ransom, which once paid an encryption key would be provided to the town,” Folgio said, later detailing response measures being taken by the town. “The town recognizes that it’s not possible to prevent every cyber attack but wants to develop and implement a plan to ensure a faster recovery in the event of a future attack. The town is currently working with the insurance company who is providing assistance from a cyber specialist.” After three weeks, 14 of the 17 departments in the town hall were considered “caught up” while at least one remaining department was still recovering. Folgio noted that Charlton was not the only town to be attacked and that incidents like these are becoming an unfortunate “new norm” and that the problem isn’t if, but when an attack will occur in the future and how to prepare for it. A member of the public did inquire about whether or not a ransom had been paid in order to correct the issue with the servers. Craver refused to discuss any ransom or potential financial impact of the attack in the open forum.

Charlton, Dudley deemed high risk communities for EEE

BY JASON BLEAU
NEWS STAFF WRITER

As the concern over the Eastern equine encephalitis virus, also known as EEE or Triple-E, grows, both Charlton and Dudley have been deemed a “high risk” community after a local man was confirmed to have contracted the virus. The state Department of Public Health confirmed the 11th case of EEE in a press release on Sept. 25, an unidentified Charlton resident in his 70s. State Representative Paul Frost took to social media that same day confirming that his office was notified about the case. “My office has been informed by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health that Auburn & Charlton have been raised to the High Risk Category for EEE, now joining Millbury & Oxford,” Rep. Frost wrote. “DPH is confirming a human EEE case in Charlton.” The press release from the State DPH also singled out Dudley, Leicester, Southbridge and Spencer as high risk communities while confirming that an Essex County resident became the fourth recorded death in Massachusetts from the EEE virus. A 12th human case of the virus was later recorded in Hampden County, again a resident in their 70s, leading several more communities to be deemed as “high risk.” As of Sept. 26, 35 communities were deemed as critical risk, 53 were considered high risk and 121 were considered moderate risk in the commonwealth. Eight confirmed animal deaths from the virus have also been recorded. The EEE virus is spread mainly through mosquito bites and the threat of the illness has led many schools and communities to cancel outdoor activities after dark. State Epidemiologist Dr. Catherine Brown released a statement in the State DPH’s press release warning that while the mosquito population is dwindling for the season, the risk is still there for infection. “The weather is keeping them active,” said Dr. Brown.

“We continue to emphasize the need for people to protect themselves from mosquito bites.” While EEE is considered a rare disease, it can be fatal and affect people of any age. This is not the first time Massachusetts has been a hotbed for the virus. Outbreaks occurred from 2004-06 and again in the first few years of the 2010s. Aerial spraying has been taking place throughout the state in an attempt to control the population of potential-

Midstate Trail to host ultramarathon Oct. 12-13

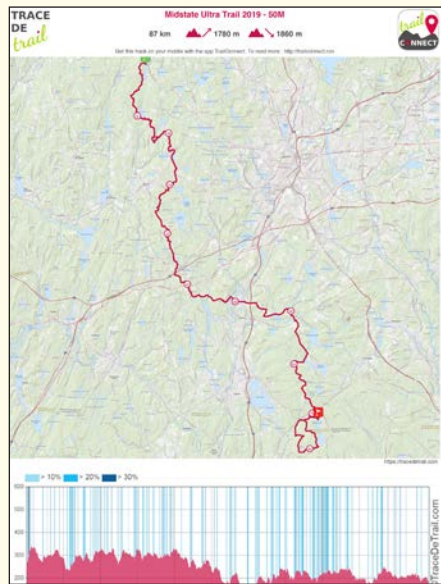

BY GUS STEEVES
CORRESPONDENT

OXFORD — For long distance hikers, downtown Oxford is notable for something most other people wouldn’t notice. It’s the lowest point on the Midstate Trail. That will become a factor later this month when the first Midstate Massive Ultra trail race comes through town Oct. 12 and 13. Instead of the slow pace of hikers, people might (depending on what time it is) see up to 100 runners following the trail from the New Hampshire border to its end in Douglas State Forest. “This is just a spectacular resource in our backyard and almost nobody knows about it,” said race organizer Rich Mazzola. This is his first time organizing an ultramarathon — a two-day race over the peaks, valleys, steep ledges and lowlands of the Midstate Trail. It will have three starting points: Windblown Ski Area in New Hampshire for those seeking to do the whole distance (about 100 miles), Rutland’s Long Pond for those doing half, and Bay Path for those doing 30 miles. The longer two actually run through the night of Oct. 12, while the third route is a daytime run Oct. 13. Unlike most marathons, there won’t be water stops every mile or so, just at 16 set locations which vary from 3.7 to 8.7 miles apart. “To do this, you need to readjust how you take in water and nutrition,” Mazzola said, describing trail running as “a different dynamic” than a road race. “You need to get your joints flexible enough to accommodate an uneven running surface. They’re not running it terribly quickly. You can go at your own pace completely.” Mazzola said he expects around 100 runners total. “We are prepared to be able to handle most weather situations so we can provide a safe event for all participants. However, we do require the support of state and local officials to conduct this race safely and will only do so with their continued approval,” the race handbook states. “... If a significant event were to occur on or near race weekend and state and/or local authorities deem it unsafe for us to hold the event, we will be obligated to cancel the event.” The potential impact worries Midstate Trail Committee chair Kimball Simpson, who notes much of the trail’s length is on private prop-

Local Freemasons warmly welcome public to Open House

Freemason Members of the Seven Southern Worcester County Masonic Lodges will open their Lodge doors to the public on Saturday, Oct. 19, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., for their annual “Open House,” a day of offering public information about Freemasonry and its charitable work.

If you’ve ever wondered who the Freemasons are, what they do, whether they are the descendants of the Knights Templars, or what the inside of their Lodge buildings look like, here’s your chance to visit, meet and talk with Massachusetts Masons and learn more.

The seven Masonic Lodges listed below will host their annual Autumn Open House to help the public gain a better understanding of Freemasonry, and the positive impact that it has on its members, their families, and their communities. Members will offer tours of their buildings, discuss the fraternity’s history, provide printed information, discuss Masonic rituals, explain what they do, and describe Masonry’s many charitable programs.

Freemasonry helps men to be the best possible version of themselves through the practice of Brotherhood, Service, and Integrity. Our Lodges provide opportunities for fellowship, charity, education, and leadership.

“The Open House is a great opportunity for anyone interested in learning more about Freemasonry to meet and talk with Masons in their community, and enjoy a tour of our Masonic Lodges” said James Gonyea, District Deputy Grand Master of Masons in the 24th Massachusetts Masonic District and the presiding officer of more than 1,000 members. Although many have heard of us, very few are aware that for more than 300 years we have been part of an unbroken tradition of great men who have changed our world in big and small ways. Benjamin Franklin, George Washington, Thurgood Marshall, and John Glenn, for example, all joined the Masons prior to achieving the greatness we recognize them for. There are countless other great men, whose names are not widely known, that made their families, workplaces, and communities better because they were Masons. I warmly invite the public to join us on Saturday October 19.”

The branches are located at:

- Olive Branch Lodge – 7 Depot Street – Douglas, MA 01516
- Solomon’s Temple Lodge – 20 Court Street – Uxbridge, MA 01569
- Webster Lodge – 27 Brandes Street – Webster, MA 01570
- Oxford Lodge – 22 Mt. Pleasant Street – Oxford, MA 01540
- Quinebaug Lodge – 339 Ashland Ave. – Southbridge, MA 01550
- Joel Prouty Lodge – 780 Southbridge Street – Auburn, MA 01501
- Rose of Sharon Lodge – 88 Masonic Home Road – Charlton, MA 01507

Freemasons trace their roots to the stonemason guilds that built Europe’s cathedrals and castles during the early part of the last millennium. As construction of these buildings declined, they began accepting members from outside their trade. These new members, influenced by the “Age of Enlightenment,” transformed the organization from a group for builders to one focused on developing the character of its members. Officially, Freemasonry was founded in London, England in 1717. In 1733 it was formally organized in Massachusetts, making it the oldest Masonic group in the Western Hemisphere and the third oldest in the world. In 2019, Massachusetts Freemasonry celebrates its 286th Anniversary.

Freemasonry, the world’s oldest and largest charitable fraternity, seeks to bring together men of every country, religion, race, background, and opinion and develop the bonds of friendship between them.

Commended Shepherd Hill students in the 2020 National Merit Scholarship Program

William F. Chaplin, Jr., Principal of Shepherd Hill Regional High School, has announced that Hannah C. Guerin, Madison P. Hill and Ryan P. Moore, have been named Commended Students in the 2020 National Merit Scholarship Program. A Letter of Commendation from the School and National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), which conducts the program, was presented by the principal to these scholastically talented seniors.

About 34,000 Commended Students throughout the nation are being recognized for their exceptional academic promise. Although these students will not continue in the 2020 competition for National Merit Scholarship awards, these Commended Students placed among the top 50,000 scorers of more than 1.5 million students who entered the 2020 competition by taking the 2018 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT).

“Those being named Commended Students have demonstrated outstanding potential for academic success,” commented a spokesperson for NMSC. “These students represent a valuable national resource; recognizing their accomplishments, as well as the key role their schools play in their academic development, is vital to the advancement of educational excellence in our nation. We hope that this recognition will help broaden their educational opportunities and encourage them as they continue their pursuit of academic success.”

Uber 911 safety integration now available across all of Massachusetts

Uber today announced that it is rolling out its 911 information sharing program to the entire state of Massachusetts. This means that when a rider or driver uses the in-app emergency button to call 911, key trip details will be automatically sent to 911 dispatchers in an emergency. The product is available in other cities and counties in the United States, but Massachusetts is the first place in the country where it’s available statewide.

Uber first introduced the emergency button for all riders and drivers in 2018. The feature shows GPS location and car details (make, model, color, and license plate) in the app so that when a rider or driver taps Uber’s emergency button to call 911, they can tell dispatchers that information.

Uber has partnered with RapidSOS to pilot 911 integration with local emergency authorities. This technology allows the rider or driver’s exact location (even as the car is moving) and car make/mode, color and license plate number to be sent to the 911 center electronically. The feature was made available in Boston and Springfield in September 2018 and in Cambridge in February 2019.

“Safety is at the heart of everything we do, and we believe technology can help make the roads safer than ever before. Every second counts in an emergency, and we want to make sure our users get help quickly with accurate information if faced with an emergency situation,” said Chad Dobbs, Head of Rides for Uber in Massachusetts.

“I am happy to see that this 911 enhancement has been expanded to our community and throughout the state. With many of our residents, young adults and college students using Uber to get in and out of the city, anything we can utilize to make it safer is a benefit to all,” said Michael Lawn, Chief of the Watertown Police Department.

“Our mission is to connect the world to public safety to get the fastest and most appropriate care possible to an emergency incident,” said Jeff Robertson, SVP & GM of Public Safety at RapidSOS. “We are excited to expand our partnership with Uber to the state of Massachusetts, connecting life-saving data from riders and drivers to all 911 centers across the state.”

STURBRIDGE — Old Sturbridge Village is celebrating the harvest season with Apple and Agricultural Days, select Saturdays and Sundays in October. As the trees burst into color, the village transforms into a bustling operation as costumed interpreters harvest the grains, fruits and vegetables that have been growing at OSV all summer long.

Visit and learn how food makes its way from the farm to the dining room table in 19th century New England life. Explore the village, take a tour of gardens and root cellars, and meet the oxen as additional guest teams arrive at the village to plow and demonstrate field preparation.

Witness the apple harvest — one of the most popular items of fall.

Apples at the village are selected and fermented to get “squeezings” from the fruit, a process that produces a different variation than the sweet cider typically recognized at today’s farm stands. Cider in the 1800s was kept through the spring planning, summer heat, and into the harvesting of the following season so it could be enjoyed year-round. During Apple and Agriculture Days, costumed interpreters will be cooking and demonstrating the fermentation process using the ox-powered Cider Mill on-site.

For two days only during Apple and Agriculture Days, on Oct. 12 and 13, enjoy a special screening of Forgotten Farms in the Old Sturbridge Village Visitor’s Center. This documentary-style film examines class divides in today’s farm and food communities. Once at the center of a thriving local food economy, dairy farmers are often “forgotten” in today’s new farming landscape, with New England alone losing over 10,000 conventional dairy farms in the past 50 years. Following the screening on Oct. 12, Old Sturbridge Village will host a panel discussion, featuring the film’s director, Dave Simonds, producer, Sarah Gardener, local dairy farmers, and OSV’s agricultural and horticultural staff.

Apple and Agriculture Days at Old Sturbridge Village take place during normal operating hours from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Oct. 5, 6, 12, 13, 14, and 19. Activities are included with Standard Daytime Admission, a season pass, or membership to Old Sturbridge Village. Save $2.50 per adult, senior, or youth ticket when you purchase online instead of at the door. Purchase tickets by visiting: <https://www.osv.org/visit/purchase-one-day-tickets-online/>.

Bay Path UNICEF Club Officers offer support

WORCESTER — Giovana Ortiz-Barrera Associate, Community Engagement, New England Region UNICEF USA sends her thank you to Bay Path UNICEF Club Officers, Alumni and members for all their support of UNICEF and for advocating for children. An email from Representative McGovern’s Office stated he is in support of the bill to keep girls in school. Once an update is in with official co-sponsorship, the UNICEF Club will be notified. A meeting with Rep. Jim McGovern (MA-2) and Jon Niedzielski, District Director was scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 19. Bay Path UNICEF Club Officers in attendance were Felisters Mburu of Shrewsbury, Sikorrrya Seguin of Dudley, Fjolla Shehu of Worcester, and Chelsea Still of Plainfield, Conn. Alumni representatives present were Elizabeth Lartey, LPN from Worcester, PN Class of 2018 and Emily Lamoureux of Charlton, PN Class of 2019.

outspoken against hiring from in-house to avoid accusations of favoritism. “I am of the mindset that organizationally speaking that bringing in an interim is a very apolitical move. In other words, you’re not showing favoritism to one employee over another. Not that the chief wouldn’t be an absolutely qualified candidate and if I had to pick on internal candidate that’s the one,” Noble said. Even still, there was some debate about whether or not selectmen should have made a decision at the Sept. 24 meeting at all. Selectman Karen Spiewak felt the board needed more time to consider candidates interested in the interim position. “We have a challenge ahead of us, but we have many options. I just want to make sure we look at all our options,” Spiewak said, later adding to her comments. “I think this is a little premature. I know we have to move kind of quickly, but I want to make sure we look at all our options.” Spiewak’s statements sparked a rebuttal from Selectman Noble, who noted that the Board had plenty of time to decide on a temp and admitted that selectmen had not acted fast enough on the matter. With the Sept. 24 meeting being the final Board of Selectmen gathering before Craver’s departure, Noble and others were adamant about having a leader in place once Craver moves on. “We need a point person. It would be nice if we had a lot of time to plan. We’ve had three months, and this is where we are. We’re a little slow of this folks, let’s admit it. We should have had this settled a good 30 days ago, but we didn’t. That’s on us,” Noble said, later noting it was imperative that a decision be made that night. “I want to know who’s going to be in charge on October 2 and I think the rest of the town does, too.” Before a vote was taken, several other candidates were discussed including the board’s administrative assistant Mary Devlin and Finance Director Donna Foglio. Water & Sewer Superintendent Peter Boria also approached the microphone making his interest in the position known publicly. In the end the vote was unanimous to offer the interim position to the police chief.

erty where many of the owners had agreed to open it to hikers with “handshake agreements.” He said his committee “didn’t want to be involved in it in any way,” but if Mazzola has secured owners’ permission, they won’t interfere. “The impact of lots of footsteps on the trail and lights at night could be upsetting to landowners, but I believe they’ve been notified, so that’s not an issue,” Simpson said. “I wouldn’t want to be running the trail with a headlamp in the middle of the night.” He also expressed concern about potential impact on wet areas along the trail, noting a lot of people “could cause them to expand. That would be a real issue.” Mazzola said he’s been reaching out to the various owners, adding signs and, in some cases, rerouting the race. He’s run some of it, while his friend and co-organizer Andy Marx has run about 75 miles of it. The handbook notes the route has been revised “to avoid sensitive areas as designated by the Midstate Trail [Committee].” “The trail itself is very, very well marked, but it’s not marked from the perspective of a runner,” Mazzola said. While hikers are willing take a little time to find where the route turns or crosses a road, runners tend to be impatient and “we don’t want anyone to get lost,” he said. So he’s traveling its length and adding reflective signs at all intersections. One thing he said he didn’t expect to be an issue was wild animals. “That kinda goes with the territory. It’s never been a problem,” he said. “We’re making noise, running the trail, have lights and are not trying to be quiet.” Mazzola said he’s seeking volunteer groups “of all shapes and sizes” to staff the 16 aid stations along the route. Those who do will get donations. Sign-ups to race close Oct. 7 or when they sell out. Those interested in volunteering should email Carol at volunteers@newengland-raceevents.com. Felix and Felixiano

Age 8 and 9

Hi! Our names are Felix and Felixiano and we care a lot about each other!

Felix and Felixiano are brothers of Caucasian and Hispanic descent. They are very close and play well together. Felix describes himself as a caring, friendly, funny boy who likes karate and is a good sharer. He loves to eat and will try almost anything, including vegetables! Felix identified basketball as his greatest talent and when he grows up he wants to be a teacher or a firefighter. He is communicative, outgoing and likes to ask questions so that he knows what is going on around him. Felix enjoys school, and has a strong desire to learn. He particularly enjoys math.

Felixiano describes himself as a boy who does the right thing and likes to play catch with his friends. Felixiano also enjoys playing basketball, video games, giving hugs, superheroes, cooking and playing outside. His favorite color is red and his favorite food is pancakes. When asked what he wants to be when he grows up, he said to be a teenager. Others who know Felixiano say that he is a playful and curious boy who is eager to please, and is both endearing and imaginative. Felixiano is very smart and performs well in school. His teacher reports he is helpful in the classroom and gets along well with the other students.

Legally freed for adoption, Felix and Felixiano can be placed in a home of any constellation, with or without other children. Any prospective family must be open to maintaining relationships with the boys' siblings and biological parents.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

Rallying for the future

WORCESTER — Several hundred area residents joined millions of other people in hundreds of world cities on Friday, Sept. 20, rallying to urge leaders to take the climate crisis seriously.

In Worcester, the City Council became one of the few municipal governments so far to approve a “Climate Emergency” resolution pledging to become carbon neutral by 2030, among other things.

The concept, and countless protests worldwide, are being spurred by growing concern over scientific reports from the International Panel on Climate Change and other bodies projecting increasingly dire consequences if the climate continues to warm. Largely due to growing concentrations of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere (primarily carbon dioxide and methane, both of which are significantly higher today than they were a century ago), scientists argue we’re seeing more severe storms, more erratic weather patterns, desertification in some areas, and an overall increase in global temperature. That temperature varies greatly by region; in some, like the Arctic, it’s rising very rapidly; in others, it may even be cooling.

According to data from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration website, the global average is now 0.79 deg C (1.42 deg F) above the 20th-century average, with almost all of that warming happening since 1980. Projections for the future range greatly, largely dependent on whether atmospheric carbon keeps growing, levels off or declines. The best IPCC model (RCP 2.6) shows a roughly stable temperature slightly above that of the present through 2300. The worst (RCP 8.5) projects an increase that ranges from 3 deg C to more than 12 deg C above present by 2300. The wide range is in part because scientists do not yet have a good handle on numerous natural feedback loops that might be triggered by such events as melting permafrost and sea ice or ocean acidification.

Worcester’s event was organized by Climate Strike Worcester, a coalition of several regional environmental groups. Participants primarily came from four Worcester colleges — Holy Cross, Worcester State, WPI and Clark — in marches to the City Hall rally site from WPI and Clark. Several older residents (one dressed like Greta Thunberg) and younger children were also involved, as were representatives of the state’s Green-Rainbow Party, Socialist Alternative and Extinction Rebellion. One counter-protestor carrying a “useful idiots” sign also walked by the peaceful crowd.

Don't give in to the winter blues

So often, people strive to become happier by doing this, or obtaining that; however, sometimes it's what we give up that makes us more content. With the fast drop in temperatures, down into the 30's, we know winter is coming. With this, we want everyone to enjoy the changing leaves, tall sunflowers and all things pumpkin.

For many out there, winter is a dreaded season. It's not so much the snow as it is the frigid temperatures and high cost of fuel. We happen to enjoy the fall and winter seasons ourselves, but for those who are having glum feelings about the colder weather, or even for those who love all weather, we have some tips on some things you can toss, to create more happiness in your world.

One thing you can say "be gone" to is the idea that you have to always have a positive outlook on any given situation. If you try to avoid negative feelings all of the time, you're not creating a healthy space for when you are truly happy. If you need to vent, do it. If you're upset and need to cry into a bowl of ice cream, have at it. It is your overall life satisfaction that matters.

Minimize your time on social media. Remember the days when you didn't know what your friends, family or even celebrities were doing every second of the day? Those were blissful times. The only way we knew what someone was up to was to pick up the phone, wait for the dial tone, and make that call. We're not sure we ever inquired about what our friends were eating. All of that unnecessary knowledge is overwhelming at times, and simply put, unnecessary.

One study showed that the more time people spend on social media, the more depressed they are. When we spend too much time online we know that we are wasting time. The idea of wasting time can inflict a feeling of depression on anyone who is typically highly motivated and energetic. Documenting every aspect of your life can be exhausting and takes away from the actual experience. If you order a rack of lamb, just enjoy every bit of it without feeling the need to share it with the world. Your experiences will be more fulfilling overall.

Don't compare yourself to others. We love the phrase "No one is you, and that is your power." People have been comparing themselves to others since the dawn of time. The idea of keeping up with the Joneses is outdated. Don't do that. Love the idea that the person sitting next to you or walking down the street is nothing like you.

Keep like minded company. If you have friends who are Eeyore like or always seem to be complaining, less is more. We don't have time in our precious lives to listen to chronic complaining. At the end of your life, do you want to think to yourself, 'Wow I spent so much time listening to people complain?' We're guessing you don't. Have realistic goals. If you start with lower expectations and grow from there your success rate in reaching your higher goals will be greater and less stressful to obtain.

Forgive others. This one is extremely hard. However, forgiving those who have hurt you is key to feeling relaxed and happy.

Eating too much sugar can lead to depression. Balance in your meals has been scientifically proven to make people happier. More vegetables, more fiber and less processed food.

Opt to spend your money on experiences rather than things. Experts say the satisfaction of an experience will last much longer.

Lastly, choose good posture. While sitting up you automatically feel more energetic and positive. Slouching can lead to feel nervous, sleepy, sluggish and fearful.

A quote by Jim Rohn sums it up, we think: "Happiness is not something you postpone for the future; it is something you design for the present."

VIEWS AND COMMENTARY FROM CHARLTON, CHARLTON CITY, CHARLTON DEPOT AND BEYOND

If it were easy, would everyone really be doing it?

POSITIVELY SPEAKING

BY GARY W. MOORE

I find it fascinating how the most successful people I know are rarely the most talented. It doesn't matter ... whether it's business, inter-personal relationships, the arts, sports ... the people who achieve the greatest heights all share a single quality that propels them above others. It's not talent, intelligence or luck. It's not knowing the right people or being in the right place at the right time. What is it that the successful have that others do not?

Persistence.

Successful people simply do not quit. They don't give up. I've told the story before, but it's appropriate to do so again.

I'm the author of three successful books. To begin writing a book isn't hard, but completing the task is monumental. There are thousands of people out there that have a book in their head and heart. They began writing with passion but at some point, early in the writing process, they stop. Starting and completing a book project of eighty thousand words or so is a monumental task that few ever complete. Why do they stop? They do not have the persistence to finish. Now let's look at the very few who do finish. Writing the book, as difficult as it is, is easier than getting published. My first book, "Playing with the Enemy," was rejected seventy-four times by publishers. It was the seventy-fifth that took a chance on an inexperienced and unknown author and "Playing with the Enemy" became a surprise hit. A surprise to everyone but me. I knew if I could get it published, the book would resonate with audiences. That belief is what drove me to not quit.

What would happen if you didn't quit?

How many talented baseball players left their dreams of major league stardom behind because they gave up too soon? How many artists or musicians stopped short of the coming success they could have enjoyed? How many marriages end in divorce because one or both parties in the relationship just decide to give up? In each case, they didn't have the persistence to see it through to a successful end.

Is persistence the only quality needed to succeed?

Of course not, but it is the most important. Who really thinks Johnny Cash or Bob Dylan had a great singing voice? They had talent to be sure but I'm certain I can find someone within five miles of my home with a better voice.

So, if persistence is most important, where and how do I get it?

Persistence is driven by your belief system. If you believe you have talent or ability, that belief drives your success. If you don't believe, sell yourself! Face it, if you think you don't have a chance, why would you try?

It's rarely the most talented that achieve the pinnacle of success. Of course, talent matters, but ability is something that can be achieved through dogged determination. Sticking with your dream and driving to greater heights through practice, study and a passionate drive that always ask the question: If others can reach the top and achieve their dreams, why not me?

My dad had a simple statement that is applicable. If I were to ask him why most people don't succeed, he'd respond, "It's easier not to ..." Apply that as the answer to almost any question.

Why aren't you disciplined? It's easier not to be.

Why weren't you on time? It's easier not to be.

Why didn't you stay and work on your marriage? It's easier not to work on it.

Why won't you quit smoking? It's easier not to quit.

Why aren't you a good student? It's easier not to get good grades.

Why didn't you get that promotion? It's easier not to get it.

Why are you not financially successful? It's easier not to be.

Why didn't you finish that book you were writing? It's easier not to finish.

Apply that answer to almost any question of success or achievement and it is almost always true. It is easier not to succeed. Success takes persistent hard work. It takes the attitude that screams that you will not be denied the success you desire. It requires that dogged persistence that says, yes, it's easier to quit, but you are willing to stick to the task at hand and pay the price for success. As the old adage proclaims, "If it were easy, everyone would be doing it!"

The truth is, if you dig in and not quit, you will find the only resistance is you. If you chisel away the resistance, you will find a clearer path to your success.

Take the road less traveled. The vast majority will always say, "It's easier not to." In a world dominated by those unwilling to pay the price, success is there for the taking for those who do.

It's never too late.

Why not you?

FINANCIAL FOCUS
JEFF BURDICK

It's a fairly predictable pattern: When the stock market rises, more people invest, but after a large-scale drop, many of these same people head for the exits. But by staying out of the financial markets, and only putting their money in "safe" vehicles that offer few or no growth prospects, are they really helping themselves? Here's the bottom line: If you're going to make progress toward your long-term goals, you have to become a long-term investor. But how?

To begin with, you need to understand that long-term investing involves accepting inevitable short-term price swings. You may not like seeing those sharp price drops, but it will help your outlook greatly if you can keep them in perspective. Studies have shown that the longer you hold your investments, the less impact market volatility can have on them.

So, to reach that point where the market's ups and downs have less of a cumulative impact on your holdings, consider the following actions:

Only invest money you won't need for a long time. If you can tell yourself that the money you are investing today is money you won't really need for 20 or 30 years, you'll be better prepared, psychologically, to get through the down periods of the financial markets. And as long as you aren't overextending yourself financially in other parts of your life, you really shouldn't need those investment dollars for a very long time. They should be earmarked for goals you hope to achieve far into the future, such as a comfortable retirement.

Keep your focus on what is most important to you. If you can visualize your long-term goals, you'll find it easier to keep working toward them. For example, if you are hoping to travel extensively when you retire, keep thinking about what that might look like. You might even research the countries you plan to visit, even if these trips are far in the future. Ultimately, if you know where you're going and you're determined to get there, you'll get past the bumps in the road.

Don't spend excessive time reviewing your investment statements. A bad month or two can cause some noticeably negative numbers on your investment statements. But if you can discipline yourself to avoid spending too much time dwelling on these figures, you may feel less stress about investing – and you may even be less tempted to make short-term moves that could have unfortunate long-term results. However, if you do want to study your investment statements, don't just stop at the most recent results. Instead, look for trends that might tell a different story. Has the number of shares you own in various investments increased significantly over time? And over the past five or 10 years, has your portfolio's overall performance been positive? By digging a little deeper into your statements, you might gain more confidence in the course you're following.

Short-term price drops are not pleasant to experience. However, you can help yourself become a better long-term investor by following the above suggestions, so put them to work soon – and stick with them.

Rams rack up points to outscore North Middlesex, 53-21

DUDLEY — Richard Carmignani Memorial Field saw a multitude of points when the Shepherd Hill Regional varsity football team hosted North Middlesex Regional on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 28. And the majority of them came from the Rams, who outscored the Patriots, 53-21, to improve to 3-0 on the young season. Nate Cooper and Mike Raymond both scored a pair of touchdowns to lead The Hill's offense, while Gabe Dos Santos threw for one TD and rushed for another score. Other Rams' touchdowns were had by Xavier Nieves, Tyler Brassard and Anthony Sacco. Next up for Shepherd Hill is a date at St. John's High on Friday afternoon, Oct. 4 with a 4 p.m. kickoff.

Tomahawks too much after rallying by improved Shepherd Hill

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

NORTHBOROUGH — The Algonquin Regional boys' varsity soccer team spotted Shepherd Hill Regional an early one-goal lead and then charged back, scoring three unanswered goals and defeating the Rams, 3-1, at the Richard Walsh Athletic Field on Tuesday, Sept. 24.

With the win the Tomahawks improved to 4-1-2 overall and 3-0-0 in the Mid-Wach League's A Division. Shepherd Hill fell to 3-3-1 overall and 0-3-0 in league play with the loss.

The Rams grabbed a 1-0 lead in the game's 16th minute, senior Nick Diamond heading the ball past Algonquin goalkeeper Brendan McCarthy.

Diamond's header came after a 40-yard boot into Shepherd Hill's attacking zone by junior captain Matt Nguyen. Nguyen's high kick was right on the mark and Diamond positioned himself to the left of the goal, leaped up and headed it into the far side of the net.

Diamond's goal got Algonquin's attention.

"It certainly did, but it was more like, 'I can't believe we're allowing this to happen'" said Ken Morin, the Tomahawks' longtime head coach. "But, it's what happens when you have young players.

"At times we need to play faster. We want to possess the ball but at times we do it really slowly," explained Morin, who has seven sophomores and 15 juniors on his roster. "And that invites teams to get on you and apply pressure. We just have to be better at hitting the ball harder. After Shepherd Hill scored we started moving the ball really quickly and it made a huge difference."

Algonquin tied the game, 1-1, 16 minutes later, junior Carsten Boloz scoring on a direct kick from 20 yards out. The right-to-left kick was angled perfectly, getting past Rams' senior goalkeeper

Jake Fortin and into the far side of the net.

The Tomahawks took the lead, 2-1, in the third minute of the second half.

Algonquin senior Jake Thibodeau sprinted downfield, got behind the Shepherd Hill defense and received a pass in from classmate Patrick Freeman. Thibodeau, who induced Fortin to come out of the net and charge the ball, then changed directions, streaked past Fortin and scored into a wide-open net.

Sophomore Charlie Hynes pushed the Tomahawks' lead to 3-0 in the final 30 seconds of the game. Hynes dribbled the ball along the left endline, cut into the field of play, dribbled around his defender and then dribbled around Fortin and pushed the ball into the net.

"Algonquin is a quality team. They possess the ball well and they move the ball well. What we have to do now is figure out if it's us," Shepherd Hill head coach Tim Cormier said. "I think this game, for us, was a case of adjusting a little bit too late.

"We're only [seven] games into the season, but for us this was a good start," Cormier said. "We know where we're at and we know the teams we're up against. We're not going to be able to just show up and win games. We have to be able to put together a better performance and a better game plan than we did today. In that regard this game was a step back."

Cormier said the momentum shift in the game was not a case of Algonquin making an adjustment or flipping a switch.

"It wasn't about that at all," Cormier said. "We've played skilled teams in the past. For whatever reason we took a step back today. We started getting emotional, the in-game drama got the best of us and we lost our focus."

Morin said Shepherd Hill is becoming a team to be reckoned with.

"They are 100 times better than they have been," Morin said. "I thought last year that I could see it coming. I told [Cormier] after the first time we played them last year, 'you guys are coming.' High school soccer is a matter of getting enough players around those two or three really good players. They have a couple of very good guys and now they're working on filling in around them so they can be consistent. We're still working on that ourselves."

Matt Nguyen of Shepherd Hill sends a free kick on its way.

Youth deer hunt passes, while pheasant hunting approaches

.....
TRUE

This past Saturday the one day youth deer hunt was held in Massachusetts. The annual event allows a young hunter 12-17 to hunt deer with a licensed adult hunter, with a special permit from Mass. Fish & Wildlife. They can hunt with a bow or a shotgun. This past Saturday young Tyler was hoping for another harvested deer with his bow, no report as of this deadline.

This week's picture shows Tyler with his first doe he harvested with his dad a few years ago using his shotgun.

Upland bird hunters in Mass. are gearing up for the Oct. 19 opening of pheasant hunting. A few clubs received their Pheasant from Mass. Fish & Wildlife a number of weeks ago, and the results of their success in raising the pheasant are great this year. The clubs that raise pheasant from the state are required to stock the birds in open covers that are accessible to all Mass. licensed hunters.

Concerned local bird hunters are worried about West Hill in Uxbridge being stocked this year with pheasant because of a dispute with an abutting land owner, which has shut down access to a section of the West Hill. There should not be a problem, as the access to the site can be made at the Dam area on Hartford Ave.! It was used for years prior to the shut-down for access to the hunting site and hopefully it will be used this year if no changes or settlements are made with the abutting landowner. Unfortunately, hunters will have a longer walk to the hunting areas, as they will need to park at the parking lot off of Hartford Ave. Stay Tuned!

Hunting open covers in October will no longer offer great hunting for Woodcock and Grouse locally because of the near extinction of grouse in the valley, and the low populations of woodcock in the area due to lost habitat. The word upland bird hunting is rarely used by this writer, because of the loss of these two great game birds in the valley area. Areas in other parts of the state also no longer have the woodcock and grouse populations they once had, but are not in as bad a shape as were are.

Flights of woodcock do provide some limited shooting if you are in the right place at the right time. Owning a good pointing bird dog can provide some fast shooting on these birds that are often called timber doodles. When the woodcock flush they often rise straight up, giving the hunter a somewhat easy shot. The whistle of the bird when they take flight is a great sound, and gives the hunting a slight edge in making a good shot. Numerous bird dogs do not like the taste of woodcock in their mouth as they have a livery taste, but other dogs are not bothered by the taste.

Woodcock are great table fare if they are prepared correctly, and it takes quite a few birds to make a meal for the family. People that cook with numerous wines make the taste of the bird a lot sweeter, while grouse do not need any special dressings or preparation.

The Salmon River continues to give up some impressive Coho salmon for anglers that are fishing there now. They had a good dose of rain last week in the area, and that is good news, helping to move the fish upstream.

Fish stocks of some species in the saltwater are being devastated by Cormorants and seals. These protected species are causing serious damage to our winter flounder populations, especially in Rhode Island waters. The winter flounder fishing is nearly non-existent in the Narragansett Bay area for years now because of cormorants. In past years I have watched these birds eat hundreds of the recently hatched winter flounder in Rhode Island waters.

Seals eat massive amounts of fish daily and their populations continue to rise annually also. Something needs to be done soon. The commercial fishermen cannot be all to blame for our dwindling fish stocks in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. Numerous attacks by sharks are also becoming more frequent because of the out of control of seal populations. There should be some type of control of these two species.

FOOD

Match food to your favorite brews

The rise of craft and home brewing has created more beer flavor profiles than ever before. In fact, there's likely a beer for everyone, whether you're a novice or connoisseur.

The Brewer's Association, a trade association that represents small and independent American craft brewers, reports that, in 2018, small and independent brewers collectively produced 25.9 million barrels and experienced a 4 percent total market growth. The BA also states that these small brewers achieved a collective retail dollar take-in of $27.6 billion.

While wine will always have its enthusiasts, beer is fast on its heels as a popular mealtime beverage. Much in the way wines are paired with certain foods, it has become the natural course of action to pair certain foods with particular styles of beer.

"Beer is a great match for food because of the complexity of its flavors, its ability to provide refreshment and to interact with many food flavors," says Marc Stroobandt, a master beer sommelier for the Food and Beer Consultancy, UK.

Although each person has his or her preferences, here is a brief listing of generalized pairings, courtesy of the Brewer's Association and CraftBeer.com.

- American Amber Lager: Creamy risotto, wild rice, polenta
- American Pale Ale: Game birds, such as duck and quail
- Belgian-style Dubbel: Pork chops, sausage, tenderloin
- Belgian-style Flanders: Grilled rib-eye, root vegetables
- Blonde Ale: Chicken, salads, salmon, nutty cheese
- Dark Lager: Barbecue, sausage, roasted meat
- Hefeweizen: Weisswurst, seafood, sushi
- Imperial Stout: Smoked goose, foie gras, strong cheeses
- IPA: Spicy foods, curries
- Porter: Roasted or smoked foods, blackened fish

The Brewer's Association recommends matching delicate dishes with delicate beers and strong dishes with assertive beers. Commonalities, like aromas and sub-flavors, also work together. A beer with roasted notes may pair well with chocolate, for example. Opposites also attract, in that a spicy food may taste best when paired with a sweet beer.

Pairing might once have been limited to matching wines with certain foods. But the booming craft beer business has popularized pairing flavorful beers with foods to make meals even tastier.

What to know about food portions Portion control is a big part of a healthy diet. In fact, the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases notes that, when it comes to maintaining a healthy weight, how much food a person eats is just as important as what he or she eats.

No two people are the same, so a portion that's satisfying and healthy for one person won't necessarily be the same for another person. Answering some common questions about food portions can help people understand this vital component of a healthy lifestyle.

What is the difference between portions and servings?

The NIDDK notes that a portion is how much food a person chooses to eat at one time, while a serving size is the amount of food listed on the Nutrition Facts label. The portions a person eats may or may not match a serving size. That's because a healthy portion size is typically based on various factors, such as age, weight and gender, unique to individuals.

Should calories come into play when determining healthy portion sizes?

Calories definitely merit consideration when determining healthy portion sizes. However, the amount of calories a person needs is based on a number of factors, including how physically active that person is. The NIDDK notes that a 150-pound woman who exercises vigorously throughout the week will need more calories than a woman about the same size who is not as physically active. When trying to determine their calorie needs, men and women should consult with their physicians, who will consider their lifestyle, age, medical history, and other factors before advising patients about how much they should eat.

What if I am still hungry after reducing portion sizes?

It's likely that people accustomed to big portions will still be hungry as their bodies adjust to reduced portion sizes. In such instances, people can try taking more time to eat. Even if there's less food on the plate, eating slowly gives the brain a chance to receive the message that the stomach is full. According to the NIDDK, it can take as long as 15 minutes for that message to make its way to the brain. Eating slowly reduces the risk of overeating, and you may even be surprised to learn that a smaller portion size than you're used to is all you really need to feel satisfied.

Portion control is a great way to get healthy and maintain a healthy weight

FOOD

Vegetarian-friendly foods high in protein

People choose a vegetarian lifestyle for a number of reasons. Some individuals have an aversion to eating meat because they're concerned about animal welfare, while others find that a low-calorie, vegetarian diet promotes long-term health.

Vegetarianism can certainly be a healthy option, but those who eschew meat and sometimes eggs often have to find alternative sources of protein to meet dietary needs. According to the Dietary Reference Intakes, the average sedentary man should have 56 grams of protein per day, while an average sedentary woman should consume 46 grams per day. The amount of protein needed will increase if a person is more active, advises Healthline.

Protein helps a person feel fuller, longer, and it is crucial for all cells in the body. Protein is used to build and maintain bones, muscles, skin, and much more. The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics also states that protein is very important as one ages because aging men and women don't absorb or metabolize amino acids, which are the building blocks of protein, as well as they did when they were younger.

Those adhering to vegetarian diets will find there are plenty of non-meat protein sources. Meatless protein sources that offer the biggest health bang for one's buck are "complete proteins," which have the essential amino acids the body requires. Some complete proteins include:

Vegetarians have several non-meat choices to get their recommended protein allowances.

- eggs,
- milk,

- cheese,
- soy, and
- quinoa.

Some other great protein sources may not have all of the amino acids, but they can be paired with other foods to get a fuller nutrient package.

- seitan: This is a meat alternative made from wheat gluten.

- lentils: Lentils pack 18 grams of protein per cooked cup.

- beans: Many forms of beans contain a high amount of protein per serving.

- nutritional yeast: This is a strain of yeast that has a cheesy flavor. It can be sprinkled on foods to add a protein punch.

- ancient grains: Ancient grains include spelt, teff, barley, sorghum, farro, and einkorn. These ancient grains are higher in protein than common grains.

- hemp seeds: These seeds come from hemp, which is in the same family as marijuana. However, hemp will not cause a high because it only has trace amounts of the THC compound that produces that effect. Hemp seeds contain 50 percent more protein than chia seeds and flax seeds, offers Healthline.

In addition to these foods, peanuts and other legumes, almonds, peas, oatmeal, spirulina, broccoli, brussel sprouts, and sweet corn also are good protein sources for vegetarians.

Even though it may seem like skipping meat products would leave vegetarians lacking for protein, there really are quite a number of alternative protein sources out there.

Skewered chicken goes great on the grill

Grilling chicken is an easy way to transform this versatile food into something even more delicious. Various cultures serve chicken in kebab form after grilling it over an open flame, and taste is a big reason this particular method of cooking chicken is so beloved.

While you might not expect to see kebabs on the menu at your favorite Italian restaurant, "spiedini" is Italian for "little skewers," proving that Italian chefs recognize how delicious chicken can be when served in kebab form. In this recipe for "Spiedini of Chicken and Zucchini with Almond Salsa Verde" from "Cooking Light: Dinner's Ready" (Oxmoor House) by The Cooking Light Editors, skewers are paired with a zesty salsa full of nuts, herbs and citrus, which makes for the perfect complement to the smoky grilled flavor.

Spiedini of Chicken and Zucchini with Almond Salsa Verde
Makes 6 servings

- Salsa:
- 1 cup chopped flat parsley
  - 2 tablespoons chopped almonds, toasted
  - 2 tablespoons chopped fresh chives
  - 3 tablespoons capers, chopped
  - 12 teaspoon grated lemon rind
  - 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
  - 1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil
  - 12 teaspoon chopped fresh thyme

- 12 teaspoon chopped fresh oregano
- 14 teaspoon kosher salt
- 18 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 1 garlic clove, minced

- Spiedini:
- 11/2 pounds skinless, boneless chicken breast, cut into 1-inch pieces
  - 6 small zucchini, cut into 1-inch slices (about 11/4 pounds)
  - Cooking spray
  - 14 teaspoon kosher salt
  - 18 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

Soak 12 (10-inch) wooden skewers in water for 30 minutes to prevent burning.

Bring the grill to medium-high heat. To prepare the salsa, combine the first 12 ingredients; set aside.

To prepare the spiedini, thread the chicken and zucchini alternately on each of the 12 skewers. Coat the spiedini with cooking spray; sprinkle evenly with 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon pepper. Place on a grill rack; grill 6 minutes or until done, turning once. Serve with salsa.

Tip: Prepare the salsa up to a day ahead, and assemble the skewers earlier in the day. Coat with the seasonings just before grilling.
