We are the voice

THE MINOR
DETAILS
MINOR

I made a promise years ago when I started this column that I would not talk about politics under any circumstances. It was a conscious decision, and one I didn't come to lightly.

"The Minor Details" needed to be different, as many columns like mine (in bigger newspapers than this one) often devolve into rants about politics, policies and pundits that in return, create nothing but heated and volatile exchanges with readers. Tempers flare. Voices are raised. Feelings are hurt. Things get personal. Trust me, I get enough of that as it is. No need to throw gasoline on that flame.

Many other newspapers (and yes, sometimes even this one) have enough political commentary in its pages already ... from both sides. And that's welcome. We want your voices to be heard in our pages. It's the lifeblood of our Opinion section. It wouldn't be the same without you. But that's for you. Adding my own opinion to that noise would only add fuel to the fire, a blaze that seems to be raging out of control around this time of year, and even more intense during this particular campaign season. But I digress...

The fact I even mention all of this is that with only days before the election, it seems like the perfect opportunity to remind all the readers of this newspaper to go out there and exercise your right to vote for whomever you feel would do the best job. After all, this is one of the more important votes I can remember in a long time.

We really do live in an amazing country, even if sometimes it doesn't feel that way. At the end of the day, we really do have it good here. Trust me, I have my fair share of complaints and "what in the world is going on?" moments — moments of weakness where I feel frustrated, ignored, angry, worried and sad about today's state of affairs. All one needs to do is turn on the "news" for the latest sampling of sludge that corrupts this world. I tend to turn it off after about 10 minutes. I can barely stand it, and that's saying something from a fellow member of the media.

Whether you lean "left" or "right," or even go down the middle, next Tuesday, Nov. 8 is an opportunity to make your voice heard and shape the future of this country. I won't waste my valuable weekly space with campaigning for a certain candidate (who would listen to me anyway?). My thoughts on this election will remain my own, but what I will say about it is that this year, Election Day will be a new beginning, one way or the other. How will you make your voice heard? After all, we are the voice of change. Will you use your voice at the polls next week? If you do, we'll see you there.

Adam Minor may be reached at (508) 909-4130, or send me an e-mail at aminor@stonebridgepress.news.

WHITINSVILLE — The Whitinsville Christian School proudly celebrated the laying of the final beams on their new, state-of-the-art Performing Arts Center and Athletic Facility on Wednesday, Oct. 26.

With a large crowd of students, faculty, parents, alumni, and community members in attendance, the "Topping Off Celebration" bridged the old with the new and showcased the progress of the school's newest addition.

Adam Meyer, director of Advancement for the Whitinsville Christian School, said, "We have done so much, with so little, for so long at WCS, and this new facility will be a striking change for the entire school community. It will empower our mission to nurture the academic, spiritual, personal, social, creative and physical development of our students."

The ceremony featured remarks from State Sen. Ryan Fattman; State Rep. David Muradian and Superintendent of Northbridge Public Schools Dr. Catherine

7TH WORCESTER DISTRICT

Paul Frost

With the Nov. 8 election only days away, Stonebridge Press caught up last week with the candidates for the 7th Worcester District state representative seat, long-time incumbent Paul Frost and his challenger, Terry Burke Dotson.

After 20 years serving in the seat, Frost (R-Auburn) is looking to add another two to his résumé, but he will need to defeat Dotson — the Democratic nominee, an educator and veteran — to make that happen. The two are engaged in a rematch of the last election

BOS declares 'Lydia Taft Day' in Uxbridge

BY OLIVIA RICHMAN
NEWS STAFF WRITER

UXBRIDGE — On Oct. 24, the Board of Selectmen passed a proclamation, declaring Oct. 30 Lydia Taft Day.

Sen. Ryan Fattman and Rep. Kevin Kuros have written a resolution to recognize Oct. 30 as the 260th Anniversary of Lydia Chapin Taft, the first woman to legally vote in the United States (who happened to live in Uxbridge). As of press time, it was expected to be adopted in the Massachusetts Senate in the next few days.

Born in 1712, Taft married and settled in Uxbridge in 1731. In September of 1756, Taft's eldest son, Caleb, became ill and passed away while studying at Harvard. Taft's husband went to bury their son and upon returning home he also became ill and died at 47. Her husband, Josiah, had owned a "substantial estate" in Uxbridge and had been very active in local politics, having held positions around town such as town clerk

Valley towns announce early voting hours

NORTHBRIDGE

NORTHBRIDGE — We are excited to announce that all registered voters will be able to vote before Election Day for the first time ever in Massachusetts.

Early voting began Oct. 24 and will continue through Nov. 4. Prior to the enactment of this new law, the only way a registered voter was allowed to vote prior to Election Day was through absentee voting. Although absentee voting will still be available for registered voters who qualify (only those who will be absent from their city or town on Election Day, or have a disability that prevents them from going to the polls, or have a religious belief preventing the same) are legally allowed to vote by absentee ballot.

Unlike absentee voting, early voting is for every registered voter. Registered voters do not need an excuse or reason to vote early. Regardless of whether a voter wants to take advantage of early voting, vote absentee or vote on Election Day, the first step is making sure you are registered. To check to see if you are registered to vote and to find information on how to register to vote, you may visit the Secretary of the Commonwealth's website: www.sec.state.ma.us/ele. If you need to register to vote, you may do it online by visiting: www.RegisterToVoteMA.com. All you need is a license or an I.D. issued by the Registry of Motor Vehicles to apply online.

Early voting can be done in person or by mail. In Northbridge, early voting can be done in person at Town Hall, 7 Main Street, in the Whitinsville section of Northbridge, during the following dates and times:

- Friday, Nov. 4: 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Also, registered voters have the option to request an early voting ballot through the mail. Simply fill out an application and mail it to Town Clerk's Office, 7 Main Street, Whitinsville, MA 01588. You can find the application on the Secretary of the Commonwealth's website: <http://www.sec.state.ma.us/ele>.

Please note, however, once a voter has cast an early voting ballot, the voter may no longer vote at the polls on Election Day.

Should I refinance my home?

BLACK

I am a firm believer in having a budget and evaluating every expense on that budget at least yearly to ensure that you still have the best deal.

Your mortgage should be no different. The mortgage rates have been extremely low for a while, so if you have not refinanced your home I would suggest looking into if it is a good idea for you right now. The first and most important thing is to trust the loan officer that is helping you and that they can explain to you why you should or shouldn't refinance. If you don't know who you should call, I would suggest either talking to your bank, your real estate agent (since they will have relationships with loan officers) or friends and family who have had good experiences with someone.

You shouldn't refinance just because the rate is lower or the payment is lower. There are a couple reasons for this.

1) If you took our your loan 10 years ago and the current rates are only slightly lower then you may actually already be paying more principal than interest because with an amortizing loan every month your principal payment increase while your interest payment decreases.

2) If you took out a 30-year loan five years ago and today decided to take out a 30-year loan to save on your payment, you just added five years to your loan and added a substantial amount to the total interest you will pay because the interest is heavily weighted on the front end.

A couple other important factors to look at would be if because of your income, credit or down payment amount you have a loan that has Private Mortgage Insurance or the rate or terms were not as good as what is available to you today. If you have paid down your mortgage to 78% loan to value many loans will drop the mortgage insurance but not all such as many of the recent FHA loans that were taken out. This means you may have to refinance to remove the mortgage insurance. However, if you have a conventional loan and you believe you have 20 percent equity in the home you should be able to get an appraisal done to have mortgage insurance removed but make sure to call your lender first to find out their process before hiring an appraiser because they may require you to use their appraisers. If you are going to have to pay for an appraisal anyway it may make sense to evaluate a refinance option especially if your situation has changed and you can pay more on your loan monthly than when you bought the home. You may want to evaluate if you can drop to a 10-, 15- or 20-year loan to save some interest over the life of the loan. For example: as of this week according to Freddie Mac the average 30-year fixed rate was 3.47 percent while the 15 year fixed was 2.78 percent.

As always, I wouldn't take this information and run with it. I would just utilize it to arm you with the right questions to help you make the right decision as to whether refinancing your home is the best option for you.

Make those holidays more affordable

MOM IN MOTION

jill@stonebridgepress.com

Perhaps the mere thought of the holidays approaching gives you that lead-ball-in-the-pit-of-your-stomach feeling, and you think to yourself, "It isn't even thanksgiving yet!"

Or maybe you are one of those people counting down until you can decorate for the holidays. That is my best friend right there, she is even counting down until the first snow. Nothing makes her happier!

For me, I accept the inevitable and try to avoid as much stress as possible. There is a certain joy that comes with watching the snow fall under the street lights, driving around and seeing homes and store fronts decorated, and even the hustle and bustle of shopping for gifts that your loved ones will enjoy. Then again, the next morning your car is snowed in and you are already 20 minutes late, your kid's boots are still wet and they have to go potty as soon as you get them bundled up, and your merry shopping spree left you without money for your morning coffee.

There is no reason the holidays have to be stressful. While I know it is early, we should still try to get a start on our planning, thus making everything easier and more enjoyable when the holidays start.

Most people do not have an unlimited budget for holiday shopping. If you do, you can stop reading and I will give you my kid's wish lists. So as the holidays approach we all find ourselves hoping we don't break the bank, while usually going way over our budget. So how can we make this season more affordable? Get creative!

There are a lot of different types of families that celebrate this time of year. Some have large families, some have small, some decorate their entire house inside and out, and some keep the decorations to a minimum. Some celebrate Christmas, Hanukkah, Kwanza, winter solstice, or even just the season. Whichever you celebrate, if you do at all, there is usually an expectation to buy gifts.

My family celebrates the eight nights of Hanukkah. We were also lucky enough to have our first-born have a birthday in December... usually during Hanukkah. Because both a birthday and an eight-day holiday fall at the same time, and because our budget is limited, we have gotten very creative.

I have learned that while everyone loves getting presents, it truly is the thought that counts. Most grown ups have, at some point in their life, received a crinkled up piece of paper with a crayon drawing of what looks like a tornado; only to look down and see a really proud toothless child smiling up at them. Who has not received that knitted blanket from grandma, or homemade fruitcake from your crazy great aunt? It's hard to understand the meaningfulness of a homemade gift until you make one yourself. It is a great thing to do with children, they feel like they are able to give something that is just from them, and they also see the effort in making a gift and it helps them appreciate when they receive a homemade gift. Here are some gift ideas that you can make with or without children:

- Food: Who doesn't like to eat? Do you have a famous recipe everyone loves? Perhaps make your best dish and bring it with you along with the recipe. Do you love to bake? Baked goods ship well to those family members and friends far away. They also keep well in the fridge or freezer.

You can take all the dry ingredients, layer them nicely in a mason jar, and tie the recipe with a pretty ribbon. This is especially good for having to make or buy for larger groups. Perhaps a coffee or tea collection in a nice basket, add in some crackers or snacks and you have a nice gift basket.

- Maybe you're handy with the knitting needles or crochet hook. Start early, but make a blanket, a scarf, or a sweater. You can go as simple as getting some soft fabric from your local fabric store, find a great pattern that screams the name of the person you are making a gift for. Get about three yards and make a blanket. On all four sides make a 2-3 inch cut repeating every inch. Once you have all the cuts made they will look like frayed strips. Take each strip, pull it slightly, and tie a knot close to the inside. Continue on all four sides and there you have a homemade blanket that looks great and is personalized!

- If you are handy with crafts, wood-carving, building, etc., consider making gifts. The effort will not go unnoticed.

If you are more apt to buy something, here are some ideas to make your shopping more affordable and more manageable.

- Think outside the box. Many people go for the "go-to" gifts for the holidays, however, consider the price markup many of these gifts have. Instead look around at items someone will use. Kitchen gadgets, home décor, a serving platter, just to name a few.

- Shop local! I cannot stress enough how shopping local is beneficial. Not only are you helping to support local businesses, but also you will find some of the best things in local stores. A one-of-a-kind piece of art, a rare book, a collectable. Plus as an added benefit, many times in local stores you may be able to negotiate prices.

- Start early. Easier said than done, but this way you will find some of the best prices.

- Utilize discounts. If you work for a company that gives a discount, shop there. Find coupons for outside the box things like movie tickets or magazine subscriptions.

So there you have it, just a few ideas on how to make the holidays more affordable and in turn less stressful. Remember, don't lose sight of what the holiday season is about. Sure, everyone loves gifts, but the season is about celebration, togetherness, giving, and being around the people you love the most.

From our family to yours, Happy Holidays!

Investors should avoid 'great expectations'

Apart from death and taxes, few events in our world are consistently predictable — and investment returns are definitely not one of them. What can you, as an individual investor, do to cope with the ups and downs of the financial markets and make progress toward your long-term goals?

To begin with, you should be aware that the financial markets have fluctuated greatly — daily, monthly and yearly — over the past three decades. Overall, though, the financial markets trended upward, as measured by major indexes such as the Dow Jones Industrial Average and the S&P 500. Of course, as you've no doubt heard, past performance can't guarantee future results.

What was responsible for this long upturn? Most experts cite several factors: sharp declines in inflation and interest rates, vastly improved worker productivity (largely brought on, for at least a few years, by more advanced and efficient information technology), growth in emerging markets and a long run of strong corporate profits.

Can a generally positive investment environment continue in the years ahead? As mentioned above, it's pretty hard to forecast the performance of the financial markets. And you can be fairly certain that the market volatility we've seen — those large price swings — will not disappear any time soon. So to help position yourself to better withstand these sharp movements, consider the following:

- Modify your expectations. Don't count on high or even positive returns throughout all your years of investing. Try to "bake in" reasonable return expectations to your long-term investment strategy. A financial professional may be able to help you with this.

- Don't make rash moves to "beat the market." If the market doesn't consistently yield double-digit returns, you might think that you need to take drastic actions, such as investing much more aggressively than your risk tolerance would normally allow. For example, you might be tempted to pursue some "hot" stocks that you heard about through a friend, co-worker, or one of the so-called experts on the cable television shows devoted to investing. But by the time you hear about these stocks, they may not be so "hot" anymore — and they may never have been so hot for you, given your individual needs, goals and risk tolerance. So, instead of ratcheting up the aggressiveness with which you invest, look for other investment techniques to help yourself advance toward your financial objectives.

- Boost your investments in your retirement plans. Contribute as much as you can afford to your 401(k), IRA and other retirement accounts. The earlier you start, the more years you'll be giving your investments to potentially grow.

- Be open to working longer. If you like your job, and you're prepared to be flexible, you could gain some key benefits by working just a few more years than you had planned. Specifically, you can keep contributing to your 401(k) and IRA, and you also might be able to delay taking Social Security, thereby earning bigger monthly payments when you do start collecting your benefits. Investing would be simple if you could always count on earning big returns. However, that's not the case. And if the markets are indeed going to be somewhat unpredictable, then you'll want to take a page out of the Boy Scouts' handbook and "be prepared."

Looking ahead to winter in the Valley

The cold weather of last week was a reminder of what to expect in the coming weeks.

Sitting in my goose blind during the early morning hours had me looking for some warmer clothes than I had been wearing on previous hunts. The brisk winds sure made the wait for geese to start flying a bit more challenging, but I stuck it out and was rewarded with some good shooting. My dog Twig sat alongside of me in her own blind, and seemed to have a bit more patience than me. I found the geese changing fields to feed in on a regular basis, and it was hard to pick the correct field, but it all worked out.

Local duck hunters have been having a very good season this year. An abundance of mallards are providing fast action for gunners, and the second segment, slated to begin Dec. 12, should also be good as migrant birds stop over on their journey south. A good retrieving dog is essential to insure that downed birds are found and included in the daily bag limit. A good gun dog is always a pleasure to watch as they retrieve downed birds. They too enjoy the hunt.

Pheasant hunting has been great for hunters with dogs and are rewarded with a limit of two birds daily on a steady basis. The six bird annual limit needs to be changed. Fortunately I belong to a great club that stocks birds twice a week and provides some great hunting for my buddies and our dogs. It is great to watch the dogs pick up the scent of the pheasant and slowly work it out, with the dog flushing it from the often-thick cover. Pointing dogs are doing well but have had a good work out trying to pin the bird down. Last week, numerous hunters reported the pheasant running, keeping the dog and hunter on the trail for a long time. No problem with a flushing dog, as my dog Twig does not give much time for myself and hunting buddies to get into position for a clear shot as the pheasant flushes from the thick cover. It is a good thing that I hunt with a couple of great shooters.

A local man that enjoys hunting with his dog for pheasant is Paul Morante, of Uxbridge. Paul has a new dog for hunting pheasant that is extremely different from any breed of dog that I have ever seen in the field. If I did not know him I would have thought he was crazy. Seeing is believing. Paul and his 2-year-old Doberman bird dog “Sienna” recently had an early morning hunt at the Uxbridge Rod & Gun Club. Watching the Doberman locate, flush and retrieve a bird is a rare, but a pleasant, experience for both the owner and his hunting buddies. Paul spent a lot of time obedience training Sienna and received a good citizens award from AKC this past summer. You need to pass all 10 disciplines to receive the awards. Teaching his Doberman to recognize the scent of a pheasant and teaching her to retrieve the bird took a bit of time, but it just goes to show you that almost any breed of dog can have some great hunting qualities if the owner takes the time to bring them out.

Deer hunting is improving daily as the rutting season swings into full gear. Reports of deer chasing does is a sure sign that the rut has started, and deer and car collisions are on the up swing also. Caution on the road needs to be used for the next month to avoid a collision with a deer. Mathew Bruso, of Grafton, shot an impressive buck last week in Millbury! stand and spotted the buck only yards away. He carefully notched an arrow and drew back his bow, all the time the deer just stood there looking at him. He placed the shot with precision and soon found the deer only yards away. Why does that always happen to someone else? It has never happened to me! He must have a horseshoe in the correct place.

I was talking to Bob Bromley, of Whitinsville, a few weeks ago and he was telling me about his son Cole that landed a job with Harrison Outfitters. This first-class outfitter has been guiding anglers and duck hunters for years. It sure is great to land a job that you really like. Hunting and fishing in the outdoors was bred into this young man by his dad, and they spent many hours and days throughout their lives in the outdoors hunting and fishing together. Check out the Harrison Anglers outfitters on the website harrisonanglers.com or call Dan or Tom at 413-222-6297. Wild monster brown and rainbow trout could be at the end of your fly fishing rod in the very near future. Float trips on the Deerfield, Swift, & Millers River will provide the ultimate fishing experience! Monster pike fishing with a fly rod are also available. A gift certificate for that special man or woman at Christmas time will leave them with many memorable moments, that will last a lifetime and it is all available in Massachusetts. Take a kid fishing and keep them rods bending.

Creative canning equals great gourmet gifts

It's canning season, and with today's renewed appreciation of homemade foods, hand crafted side dishes and condiments have never been more popular. Merging the art of basic canning with fresh, delicious ingredients and a dash of creativity results in upscale food gifts that rival pricey gourmet food catalog offerings. By canning now, such creative goods are an ideal way to bring something truly special to the Thanksgiving table or to share with family and friends throughout the year. The following recipes are not only easy to whip up; they'll also earn rave reviews from lucky recipients!

Process pears until coarsely ground. Add sugar to pears and cook down until mixture thickens (can take up to four hours). Add the crushed pineapple and continue to cook and stirring periodically until thick and of a syrup consistency. Once desired thickness is achieved, pour hot liquid into hot sterilized jars. Gift Tip: Save a few jars for impromptu Christmas gifts! String a silver jingle bell through red curling ribbon and tie a big bow on the top of the jar.

“Can Do” Canning Ideas

When it comes to canning fresh foods, while it's all about the flavor, presentation is also an important consideration, especially when gift giving. Here are some creative ideas that add a special touch to your homemade offerings. • Use quilted four ounce canning jars for luxury condiments or high end spiced jellies. • When gift giving pear or other honeys, tie on a small wooden spoon for serving. • Use a typewriter font to print a recipe and attach to the jar with an industrial type manila tag. • Write the recipient's name on a chalkboard tag and tie with twine to the rim of the jar. • Monogramming large jars by pressing on a textured initial encourages recipients to recycle jar. • Print out a recipe or greeting and cut to fit the circle lid on the jar. Glue in place after jars have sealed and screw on band. • If the canned foods are from heirloom recipes, print out an old photo of the original cook and glue it to the lid (see above).

Candidates provide take on local, state issues as election looms

with very different perspectives on many issues facing the towns in their district, which includes Auburn, Charlton, Millbury and Oxford.

In preparation or the upcoming election, Stonebridge Press Staff Writer Jason Bleu spoke with each candidate individually, asking them questions relevant to their towns and issues at the state level to get their take on how they plan to work for the residents of their district, and their opinions on certain matters that voters have expressed interest in over the last year or so.

Thank you both for sitting down to talk with me today. Just as a reminder to our readers, I'd like to give you each an opportunity to share some of your background and why you're running for the 7th Worcester District seat.

Frost: "I'm continuing to run as a state representative because I feel there's more work to be done. I feel I've done a very good job in representing the district and tackling many tough issues, from protecting police officers to improving the conditions on Route 20 in Oxford and Charlton and supporting veterans. I think as much as I've been able to do and having a 100-percent voting attendance record to 20 years and always being there voting for issues for the people, there's always more that can be done and we've still got challenges ahead. I think I have the experience and proven track record to handle them, whether that's supporting local aid or public safety in our district or if it's supporting veterans and senior citizens or our schools, I have a proven track record that I want to stand by and that's why I'm looking to maintain the seat for another two years.

Dotson: "Three years ago, I started making appearances in front of different selectmen boards trying to push for the reinstatement of Glass-Steagall in the federal government by starting things at the state level. I was able to get a citizens petition in 2013. That citizens petition was sent on to the State House and through the State House Sen. Michael Moore got on it right away, and he did a lot to get it out to Congress in Washington, D.C., but Paul Frost avoided me, even though he had been given notification. I e-mailed him, went to his office four or five times, and he was never there. I finally saw him at a parade and I approached him about the referendum about reinstating Glass-Steagall and he said he thought the e-mails were spam. I made an appointment to see him and instead of meeting me at the State House, he met me at a Dunkin' Donuts. I tried to explain to him what Glass-Steagall meant and I was really disappointed. I had no thought of running until that point. It took him four months with this. He let the matter die and said there was always two sides to every issue. He did nothing to help something Millbury citizens wanted, and that got me upset. I met him one day and after everything we had been through I told him not to even bother to run anymore. He told me to wait a few years. We have stuff that needs to be doing, and he's doing nothing. The last election I got sick, but now I'm better and ready to go."

Let's look at an issue that has been a longstanding concern for citizens on your towns, and that's Route 20. For many, this is considered a dangerous and deadly roadway and a lot of outcry has been heard over the last year in particular about helping to improve the safety of that roadway in the immediate future. As a potential lawmaker in Boston, how do you plan to help address those concerns and the increasingly disturbing safety issues on Route 20?

Dotson: "We need money to do that, don't we? And I believe the Glass-Steagall issue will help with that in the long run. That road is so curvy and narrow and hilly, it does need to be straightened out and widened. We can't put that on the back of senior citizens and other groups like that any longer, however. We can't get more taxes out of them. I'd like to get that money through Glass-Steagall. That's what that's used for. My own street is full of potholes that need to be addressed, and overall, our infrastructure needs to be addressed. We have a bridge in Millbury with one part sliding off into the river. Paul Frost never did a thing to help with that, and that's just wrong. That needs to be addressed too, but Route 20 definitely needs to be a priority."

Frost: "As many know, I've been at the forefront of this issue. I've worked with my fellow colleagues who also represent Oxford and Charlton with the Massachusetts DOT to get the repairs and interim safety improvements currently at the dangerous curve, the so-called 'Dead Man's Curve,' in place. I was instrumental in that effort and in getting the entire project, which was going to be 10 years out, and specifically the first half of that project running from the Oxford-Auburn line to Richardson's Corner, to cover that whole area including the curve and bring it up to start work in 2019. I know that is something I will continue to work on and work for to make sure we can continue those conversations to stay on target and make sure that commitment from Massachusetts DOT is kept. I believe it will be and we should be shovel ready to fix that roadway in 2019. We need to continue to advocate for it and I'll continue that effort for sure."

One of the most unfortunate and tragic events of the past few years, and specifically this year, has been the loss of Officer Ronald Tarantino, an Auburn police officer who in May was shot dead by a suspect in an act that just happens to have taken place in a year where tensions between the public and police officers across the nation are at an all-time high. In this situation, Officer Tarantino was shot during a traffic stop and it raised the question of how to protect officers in these circumstances and bring justice to those assailants. As a lawmaker, how would you work to do what's right for officers like Tarantino who were simply doing his job?

Frost: "Not long after Officer Tarantino was shot and killed, and on the very road I live on, the number one concern I heard from police officers in Auburn were about how the law needs to be updated. When you commit assault and battery on a police officer that is considered a misdemeanor. So that's the most you can be charged with. There are cases with firefighters where if you assault them with harm then that becomes a felony charge with stiffer penalties. They want to be afforded the same protection. So myself and other representatives drafted legislation, which we will have to fight for again in January, that says if someone commits assault and battery with bodily injury on a police officer then that can be considered a felony charge. That's something we introduced this year but was at the end of session, and we'll work on it again when the new session begins. The bottom line is, we need to do more to protect police officers. Across the country, police are becoming targets, so whatever we can do to better protect them we need to do it."

Dotson: "What happened with Officer Tarantino is terribly heartbreaking. I saw people die when I was in the military. We knew what risks we were taking and so do the officers. I'm breaking up as I answer this question. It's a hard topic for me to talk about. I know the only protection we had in the military is we wore vests and they're making them better and better. They have better equipment, better vests that the police should be wearing. Veterans also go into the schools and are treated with respect and I'd like to see police get more involved in those kinds of in-school presentations. In Millbury, the police join the veterans for ceremonies so the students interact with both the police and veterans. That's a good way to show the young generation that the police aren't the enemy. They're there to help. I really like the blue ribbons and the signs that say 'we're with our police' and those are positive things and messages we need to share. It's wrong that so much negativity has been put on police."

On the ballot for the election there is an item seeking the legalization of recreational marijuana, otherwise known as Question 4. This question has brought about very different reactions from members of the public. Some fear it will only add to the already concerning opioid and drug abuse epidemic in the state, others feels it has been a long time coming and that marijuana is one of the few illegal drugs that is truly harmless if legalized. As candidates for state representative, what is your take on this issue and do you support or not support the legalization of marijuana for recreational use?

Dotson: "Well, I'm a health educator and I've been looking into the research on opioids and marijuana as far as addiction goes that usually stems back to early childhood trauma, and we are aware of what kids are going through most of the time in schools, we just don't have the time or ability to fix it. I'd like to see mental health clinics open to these children and tackle these issues early on. Most of those that end up as addicts in early life have unresolved trauma issues from their childhood. When you look at marijuana I'm fully in support of using it for medicinal purposes because it truly does less damage and it's less addictive as opioids. However, in my research I've found that studies say 30 percent of eighth graders start early, even in the first grade, experimenting with alcohol and other substances in the homes. It all goes back to parents practicing responsible storage and handling of these substances. If a child is given such drugs after an operation or procedure, those children should not self-dose themselves. Parents have to maintain control of these substances in the home. Doctors also have a tendency of approving a patient to have too many pills. They allow them to have 30 when in truth you only need a few of them for tough times. They're over prescribing and that's a big cause of addiction too. All said, I am in favor of legalizing marijuana. I think the criminal penalties are absurd when you compare it to people involved in selling heroin or other drugs. I'm hoping if it is legalized the taxes collected can be used for a good purpose as well."

Frost: "I'm voting no on Question 4 for the reasons that I think it will increase the abuse, it will put it in the hands of more underage users, it would allow people to grow their own marijuana and not just buy it in a store and those people could sell it to underage kids and others without penalty. There will be a black market for it because people could buy it cheaper from a grower than a store. I don't think it will bring the pot market out of the shadows. I think the shadow will only get wider, if you will. It will complicate the opioid crisis. I understand the argument has been made that marijuana use is safer than many of the opioids being used and, in fact, it could be used to help get people off of the addiction of opioids and make that transition. We do have legal medicinal marijuana in the Commonwealth. If you're talking about extending medicinal marijuana for the purpose of helping people recover from drug abuse, then that's certainly a door we can open, but I don't think it needs to be legalized across the board to explore that. I think it would be really sending a message to our kids that pot is no big deal and drugs are no big deal. So I'm concerned the message we would be sending as well. I understand it might pass anyway, but that's just how I feel and we will deal with it if it does pass. Public safety and medical professionals, our governor and the attorney general have collectively come together with people from different parties to say Question 4 is a bad idea."

Thank you both for being a part of this interview. I really do appreciate it and I wish you both luck in the election. Before I close out, I want to give you each the opportunity to share a final closing comment for our readers.

Frost: "I think people should support me on Nov. 8 to allow me to continue the work I've already been doing. We're talking about a number of local issues and these impact our communities. I would hope the voters will see I'm the only one in the race that has a proven track record of supporting economic development and our school, supporting road improvements, supporting our communities and veterans and senior citizens and I'll continue to do all that. This is not about what's happening in Washington, D.C. This is about what's happening here, in the district, and in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. That's what a state representative does and it's what I've been doing for the better part of 20 years. I will continue to do that. This is about focusing on the issues that matter to the communities you serve and what you can do in the State House in Boston."

Dotson: "I regret that my signs are being torn down and it got to a point where my political signs in the street were being removed. But I've served in the military for 33 years and I'm the only veteran on the ballot. I showed up to serve. I showed up for my drills and for war. I am committed and it disturbs me when I see my opponent is given over $100,000 a year in pay and benefits and then the State House also gives him money to make donations so he can keep getting elected, but he keeps his door locked in his office on the fifth floor down the hallway from stored tables and boxes, a place he can survive unnoticed. He has never showed up for a debate with me [Editor's Note: A reminder the interviews for this article were conducted separately], and has never shown up on television with me and he didn't help us out in Millbury with our petition. I just think it's time for him to leave. If I didn't show up to work I wouldn't be there very long and I don't think he's ever there. He's done little for the towns and anything he gets, such as $100,000 for roads, it comes from the state based on population. He didn't fight for that, he just put in the application. We've got a lot to do and a lot to accomplish. I would just say I've got a lot of work that I can do and I can help the towns and the people. I won't sit back and I'll show up for work. I can't say that for my opponent, Paul Frost."

Auburn boys, Uxbridge girls take SWCL cross-country championships

QUABOAG’S HEATON, AUBURN’S CAVANAUGH WIN INDIVIDUAL TITLES

Nick Ethier photos

The boys’ race takes off during the Southern Worcester County League cross-country championship at Memorial Beach in Webster.

Uxbridge’s Hannah Jones (2215) and Bridget Redgate placed sixth and seventh, respectively, in the SWCL cross-country championship, which helped the Spartans earn the team title.

Sarah Johnston of Uxbridge placed fourth in the SWCL cross-country championship, which helped the Spartans win the team title.

WEBSTER — Memorial Beach once again hosted the 2.91-mile journey that is the Southern Worcester County League cross-country championships, and many familiar faces took home titles.

For the second straight year, both Quaboag Regional’s Max Heaton and Auburn High’s Sarah Cavanaugh won the boys’ and girls’ individual races, while the Uxbridge High girls’ squad repeated as team champions. In the boys’ team event, the Rockets edged Tantasqua Regional by a single point.

Heaton defeated Millbury High’s Vincent DiDomenica by over five seconds on the win.

“Dedication, do not let fear control you,” he said of the keys to victory. “I was trying to control as much as possible.”

What Heaton couldn’t control was sickness, as he was battling a cold — perhaps the main reason his winning time was about 17 seconds slower than last year.

Heaton trailed DiDomenica for much of the race before turning on the jets late.

“I do better in the second half than the first half, I have a negative split,” he explained while waiting to be handed his rightfully earned hardware. “I cannot wait to have that beautiful trophy.”

As far as the team competition went, the Rockets, led by head coach Jim Gonyea, avenged a regular season setback to the Warriors. Auburn’s Marcus LaPointe finished in third place, while Ethan Goodreau (eighth), Damian Daniels (12th), Cameron Szalay (21st) and Joseph Conway (27th) contributed to the team total.

In the girls’ race, which started approximately a half hour following the boys’ competition, Cavanaugh led from start to finish. In fact, her closest competitor was her teammate, Andrea Bolduc.

“I come out strong and then I settle into my pace, but I try to push it through the middle. And then the last third I try to give it everything I have,” said Cavanaugh of her racing strategy.

Cavanaugh shed just over 20 seconds off from last year’s winning pace, and she credited Bolduc for that.

me,” Cavanaugh said. “I wouldn’t be at this pace right now if it weren’t for her.”

And although Auburn placed one-two, it was Uxbridge’s team effort of fourth, sixth, seventh, 12th and 18th places that led the Spartans to the team title, 25 points ahead of nearby Tantasqua.

“It was a great team effort. Our No. 5 was sick before the race and she actually didn’t finish, and our No. 6 girl actually stepped it up,” said Uxbridge High head coach Walter Berkowicz of Emily Landini filling the void. “It was a big race for her, it was a breakthrough performance.”

The top five finishers for the Spartans that contributed to the team total included Sarah Johnston (fourth), Hannah Jones (sixth), Bridget Redgate (seventh), Mikenna Manz (12th) and Landini (18th).

Berkowicz called winning the SWCL team title a “stepping stone to the next level. We’ll do one more invitational, we’ll go to Wrentham, and gear up for districts.”

The Spartans compete in Division 2 for districts, where a season ago they placed fourth as a team. The top three teams advance to states, so Berkowicz cited some extra motivation there.

“That’s kind of an outside goal that we want to make it to the next level,” he said.

Spartans score early, often in victory against Tantasqua

Uxbridge's Matthew Johnston takes a handoff from quarterback Max White-Cohen.

BY NICK ETHIER
SPORTS STAFF WRITER

UXBRIDGE — Before taking part in the Central Mass. Division 3A district tournament this coming weekend, the Uxbridge High varsity football team was looking for a statement win to help gain some momentum when they took on Tantasqua Regional during Senior Day on Saturday, Oct. 29.

And the Spartans scored on the game's first possession and later added an interception return for another touchdown to grab a 14-0 lead less than five minutes in. Uxbridge continued to score and went home victorious, 38-14.

"It was Senior Day and our seniors played an awful lot," said Spartan head coach Bob Martellio. "We wanted to come out and play well today but also with next week with Sutton we wanted to make sure we were ready."

Uxbridge is 5-3 and earned the No. 2 seed in the playoffs, where they will host the No. 3 Sammies (5-3) on Saturday, Nov. 5 at 2 p.m.

And although the Warriors lost and dropped to 3-5, they grabbed the fourth and final slot in the Division 2A playoffs and will travel to No. 1 Marlborough High (6-2) on Friday, Nov. 4 at 7 p.m.

"They're big, they're strong, they're fast and they're good," Tantasqua head coach Joseph Beveridge said of what's in store versus the Panthers.

Beveridge said that to be able to play with Marlborough, his team will need to limit its mistakes, something they didn't do versus Uxbridge. The Warriors totaled six turnovers — three interceptions and three lost fumbles.

"We have glimpses, we have talent on this team, but they make too many mistakes," he said.

The Spartans opened the contest embarking on a 68-yard drive. The biggest was a run of 19 yards by junior Matthew Johnston (11 carries, 71 yards) and the last was a 4-yard keeper by senior quarterback Max White-Cohen (5 carries, 27 yards).

Junior Ryley Rosborough kicked the extra point — his first of five — to make it 7-0.

"It's what we've preached all year is we get the ball and we've got to go score with it," Martellio said of grabbing an early lead. "It was a good drive, we took about four minutes off the clock and we had a great mixture of pass and run."

The Spartans' defense then forced its first of six turnovers on Tantasqua's first possession when junior quarterback Colin Eliason was intercepted by Johnston. The play turned into a pick-six, with Johnson scoring from 40 yards out to make it 14-0.

"If the ball hits your hands, think score," Martellio said of his offensive, defensive and special teams players.

Rosborough then successfully booted a 25-yard field goal in the second quarter to up Uxbridge's lead to 17-0 before the Warriors got on the scoreboard when Eliason (16 of 29, 140 yards) hit senior Stephen Cook on a 24-yard touchdown pass. Junior Cody Robert kicked the extra point to make it 17-7.

But the Spartans scored in the final minute before halftime when White-Cohen (15 of 29, 131 yards) threw a 5-yard touchdown pass to senior Cam Butler.

Now facing a 24-7 halftime deficit, the Warriors needed a score to open the second half. But instead Uxbridge recovered a fumble on Tantasqua's first offensive snap and they put the game away five plays later when White-Cohen scored from a yard out, his second rushing TD of the afternoon.

"The line blocked very well today, opened up some big holes and had some great pass protection," said Martellio.

Then, in the waning moments of the third quarter, a poor snap deep in the Warriors' own end allowed Uxbridge senior Ethan Vickery to recover the fumble in the end zone for a touchdown and coinciding 38-7 lead.

"It's just a reoccurring theme of our team, we turn the ball over [and] we make bad penalties — we are who we are," said Beveridge.

Tantasqua concluded the scoring two minutes into the fourth quarter when Eliason threw another 24-yard touchdown pass, this one to junior Jack Dalton.

The Warriors' Isaiah Cid, a senior, and Bobby Mosely, a sophomore, had interceptions in the defeat.

Uxbridge's Corey Moss returns the game-opening kickoff versus Tantasqua.

Quarterback Max White-Cohen of Uxbridge looks down the field before firing a pass.

Ryley Rosborough of Uxbridge scored eight points for the Spartans, including five extra points and a field goal.

Uxbridge boys' soccer wraps up historic regular season with win over Hopedale

BY JON GOUIN
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

UXBRIDGE — "We've never done this in our history from what I understand, it's been 40 years or something and they don't have a banner in there for the boys," Uxbridge High boys' varsity soccer head coach Tony Spagnuolo said of his squad following a 2-1 win over Hopedale High, which concluded a 13-1-4 regular season complete with the Spartans' first Southern Worcester County League title.

Uxbridge finished the season on a five-game winning streak as they head into the Central Mass. Division 3 District tournament with as good a team as they have ever fielded.

"I'm four years in," Spagnuolo said of his tenure at the helm, "we thought last year was our strongest team, but this year they just keep getting better and better."

A lot of the successes the Spartans have enjoyed stems from the stellar goalkeeping of junior Andrew Bretana, who stopped 17 Blue Raider shots in the win. On the other end of the pitch, the Uxbridge attack has been anchored by seniors Alex McCall and Ryan Morais, as well as junior Alex Matkowski.

Each of the three would find their way onto the scoresheet in the win, Matkowski getting his squad on the board in the opening moments of the second half after Hopedale had controlled much of the opening 40 minutes of play. Matkowski was sprung by a pass from McCall and buried one for the 1-0 lead in the 42nd minute of play.

The goal seemed to light a fire under the Spartans and they played a much stronger half, really putting the pressure on the Blue Raiders. That effort paid off when Morais set up McCall in the 64th minute, making it a 2-0 game.

"They're playing better and better every week, coming together, and really taking the game very seriously. We really capitalize with those two guys, they're incredible," Spagnuolo said of the Spartans' two Alex's.

Hopedale never gave in, though, and with the play of senior Austin Firth putting pressure on Uxbridge's backline it seemed just a matter of time before the Raiders found a way onto the scoresheet. Luckily for Uxbridge, it wasn't until the final minute of play that Firth finally got one past Bretana, making it a 2-1 game as the final seconds ticked

"They're a good team and we have a lot of respect for them," Spagnuolo said of the perennial power Hopedale (10-5-1), "so we're real happy with the win."

Uxbridge now waits to see how the rest of Division 3 shakes out, but they should have a very high seed for the 2016 tourney. After a first round loss in 2014 and a second round defeat in 2015, hopes are high for even more improvement this time around.

"We want to go all the way," Spagnuolo said of his hopes for the team. "We're going further than last year, we have to. A couple years ago it was one game, two games last year — this year, let's go all the way."

Douglas narrowly misses out on playoff berth with tie versus Holy Name

BY JON GOUIN
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

DOUGLAS — Streaks are meant to be broken, as they say. And after 14 straight Central Mass. district playoff appearances, the Douglas High boys' varsity soccer team came up one point short of a berth this season, after finishing their regular season with a 2-2 draw with Holy Name on Monday, Oct. 31.

That result pushed the Tigers to 5-7-6 on the year, good for 17 points — one short of the 18 needed to claim a spot in the dance. A victory would have put the squad at 6-6-6, an interesting mark for a game that was played on Halloween, but things weren't meant to be for the perennial power who advanced to the Division 3 state championship game last fall. "They battled, they fight and they work hard for each other," head coach Alex Ferguson said of his team this season. "We lost 10 guys from last year, Cam [Goozey] broke his leg — that was tough to overcome — he was my leading scorer from last year's team."

The Tigers fell behind to the Naps 1-0 in the sixth minute of play after coming out a bit flat. Holy Name standout forward Henry Osei knocked it in past senior keeper Danny Hayes (9 saves) to break the ice. After that tally, though, Douglas began to pick up the pace.

With 25:33 to go in the first half, the hosts got the equalizer off the foot of junior midfielder Josh Cyr. He took a header from sophomore James Kay during a scramble in front of Holy Name keeper Jacob Ikeda (7 saves) and fired it home to even the score at 1-1, and that was the score at the half.

Douglas then carried the majority of play through the second half, earning a number of chances to take the lead, but never getting the break they needed. Instead, with 4:45 to play, it was Osei again, breaking in and beating Hayes to make it 2-1, ultimately ending the Tigers' season.

With precisely 84 seconds to play, Douglas senior Dylan Gordon evened the score at 2-2, as he took a pass from classmate Matt Saucier, giving the Tigers and their fans a glimmer of hope as the clock ticked away.

Unfortunately, they were not able to get that third tally, and the game ended at 2-2. "I can't say anything less than the fact that every game, they worked hard, we never got blown out in any of our losses," Ferguson noted of his team's never quit attitude. "It was always a battle, but they always came to battle."

At 5-7-6, the Tigers missed out on the postseason by a single point, and Ferguson looked back to a 2-2 tie with Blackstone-Millville Regional on Oct. 28 as the catalyst for the end result to a trying season.

"This stemmed from our last game where we played BMR," Ferguson recalled. "A referee gave them a penalty kick at the end in the final minute, that shouldn't have been a PK. It's Douglas' Dylan Gordon uses the heel of his right foot to send the ball back to the middle of the field.

Looking for a goal to win their finale and qualify for the Central Mass. Division 3 district tournament, a group of players from Douglas — along with the opposition from Holy Name — react to a second half corner kick.

not good when you're seeing referees with the inability to ref a varsity game — never mind even a JV game — at the end of the season. It was just bad all over the place."

The Tigers will graduate seven players from this squad in the spring, so it will be tough go again next season for the boys in a commendable Dual Valley Conference, but the hope is for the underclassmen to get bigger, stronger and better in the offseason. If they do, the Tigers of Douglas should be able to start a new streak next fall.

Northbridge football finds offensive rhythm to beat Pioneers

SOUTHBIDGE — In the midst of a three-game losing streak, the Northbridge High varsity football team accumulated just 17 points in setbacks to Grafton High, Auburn High and Tantasqua Regional. But, when the Rams faced Southbridge High on Friday, Oct. 28 at Harry J. McMahon Field, Northbridge found its offensive rhythm in the second half en route to a 37-19 victory.

The Rams — who trailed, 7-6, at halftime — improved to 4-4 as the eight-game regular season came to a close, while the Pioneers dropped to 1-7.

Report: Volunteerism on the rise in Blackstone Heritage Corridor

WHITINSVILLE — A year-end report filed by Blackstone Heritage Corridor, Inc. (BHC) for its National Park Service Volunteers-in-Parks (VIP) program reveals that volunteerism is on the rise in the Blackstone River Valley National Heritage Corridor.

For fiscal year 2015-2016, a total of 1,283 volunteers donated their time to a number of programs for a total of 13,431 hours, a significant increase from the previous year with 6,651 hours recorded for 146 volunteers. The dollar value of a volunteer's time for fiscal year 2015-2016, at $23.56 per hour, came to the considerable sum of $316,434.

"We are thrilled to see the increase in volunteerism here in the Blackstone Heritage Corridor," said BHC Executive Director Charlene Perkins Cutler. "Since our relocation to Whitinsville this past spring, interest in our organization has spiked considerably."

BHC manages the Volunteers-in-Parks program for the National Park Service. Nationally, VIPs work side-by-side with National Park Service employees and partners in parks across the nation to help preserve the nation's most precious natural, historical, recreational and cultural treasures. Locally, volunteers are placed throughout the 25 communities of the Blackstone River Valley National Heritage Corridor and the historic nodes of the Blackstone River Valley National Historical Park.

With the launch of its Trash Responsibly™ program last fall, volunteer numbers started to increase with the cleanup events BHC spearheaded and partnered with throughout the National Heritage Corridor. With this program alone, 907 volunteers signed up as one-day volunteers for 22 cleanup events and gave 4,066 hours of their time. BHC also launched a corporate "Day of Service" program, working with local companies and employees to make a difference in the communities that they live or work in. From cleaning historic sites inside and out, to landscaping the grounds, 58 employees from five companies gave 203 volunteer hours.

According to Suzanne Buchanan, BHC's Volunteer Coordinator, many of BHC's long-term VIPs incorporated the Centennial celebration of the National Park Service into popular programs including weekly paddles with the Blackstone Valley Paddle Club, exploring many tributaries of the Blackstone River. In partnership with the VIPs, three National Park Service Ranger interpretive paddles were held this past season, highlighting Slatersville Reservoir, Hopedale Pond and the Blackstone Canal. In addition, there were weekly bike rides with the Blackstone River Bikeway Patrol, exploring all the bikeways within the boundaries of the National Heritage Corridor, including three "Ride with a Ranger" interpretive tours on the Blackstone River Bikeway highlighting the historical significance of the Blackstone River and Canal.

"This was an exciting year for the volunteer program," remarked Buchanan. "Several people came forward wanting to offer new programs, including "Birding on the Blackstone" by VIP Rosanne Sherry offered in the spring at the Blackstone River State Park in Lincoln, RI, and in the fall at Blackstone River & Canal Heritage State Park (River Bend Farm) in Uxbridge, MA. Volunteers from Trout Unlimited Chapter 737 in Rhode Island partnered with the Blackstone River Watershed Council/Friends of the Blackstone and offered a day-long fly fishing school along the banks of the Blackstone River."

BHC's second annual GO! program in September gave the opportunity for 66 volunteers to lead experiences throughout the National Heritage Corridor, ranging from a full moon walk, guided tours through historic cemeteries, interpretive walking tours at places like the Millville Lock and Triad Bridges, and much more.

A big jump in volunteer numbers came by way of a youth service project sponsored by Youth Unlimited of Grand Rapids, Michigan. Volunteers, 104 in total, were hosted by the Pleasant Street Christian Reform Church and registered as VIPs for a week of service in the communities of Northbridge, Uxbridge, Millville, Douglas and Grafton, MA. A total of 3,168 volunteer hours were tallied as they tended to site maintenance at the Millville Lock, trail work at Blackstone River & Canal Heritage State Park/River Bend Farm, and more. This was the first of a three-year commitment from Whitinsville Serve, with more volunteers returning the summer of 2017.

The VIP program also benefitted financially from one volunteer's former employer. Joe Richer, a Woonsocket, RI-resident, worked for Pfizer prior to his retirement and when he decided he wanted to volunteer to stay active, he remembered the Pfizer Foundation Volunteer Program which encourages volunteerism among Pfizer colleagues and retirees and helps them obtain grants for non-profits where they regularly volunteer. Richer volunteered at Blackstone River & Canal Heritage State Park/River Bend Farm and at the Capt. Wilbur Kelly House Transportation Museum, and after meeting Pfizer's requirements (employees must volunteer for at least six months and serve an average of six hours per month for a minimum of 72 total hours) Richer worked with Buchanan to apply for the grant. BHC received a check for $1,000 from Pfizer in October, which will be applied to the volunteer program for supplies.

"We are also pleased to play a part in helping volunteers move along their career path by way of volunteering with us," Buchanan added. "I just got an e-mail from one of our volunteers, Blake Stone, letting me know he was just accepted into a Geoscientists-in-the-Parks (GIP) program at Death Valley National Park. He used his experience volunteering this summer with Coes Zone in Worcester, MA, helping with water quality programs."

"I knew that practicing skills in water resource management would be beneficial to both myself and the watershed," Blake Stone said. "I enjoy researching water quality, and having the opportunity to volunteer as a citizen scientist in the Blackstone River Valley helped me in preparing my application to the Geoscientists-in-the-Parks (GIP) program at Death Valley National Park. I am proud to have begun my VIP experience with the Blackstone River Valley National Heritage Corridor, and I recommend getting involved with your local park no matter what your background and interests may be."

BHC hosts monthly Volunteer Open House events with the next ones scheduled for Monday, Nov. 14, at 6:30 p.m., and again on Monday, Jan. 9, 2017 at 6:30 p.m., at its offices at Linwood Mill, 670 Linwood Avenue, Whitinsville. To register, call Suzanne Buchanan at 508-234-4242 or e-mail volunteer@BlackstoneHeritageCorridor.org. To learn more about BHC, visit BlackstoneHeritageCorridor.org.

Company hopes to feed hungry with 'Little Gobblers' program

"My parents both worked very hard, yet at times my parents struggled to make ends meet," said Meringolo, who grew up in the village section of Whitinsville. "I had many neighbors who were worse off than we were, they didn't have a turkey for Thanksgiving. I always felt sorry for those that struggled during the holidays, and even as a kid I knew that one day I hoped to help out those families."

In an effort to give back, Meringolo and Snyder reached out to the Northbridge Public School Department, and a partnership with John Zywiec, principal at the Northbridge Middle School, began.

In the coming weeks, the principal, along with school adjustment counselors, will select ten deserving families who will be given grocery store gift cards to help cover the cost of their Thanksgiving dinner. This year, the Little Gobblers Program will donate more than $4,500 in turkeys and grocery store gift cards to families from 21 schools across the country, including Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Virginia, Tennessee and Texas, to name just a few.

"The Little Gobblers Program has been a blessing to my school for years," said Larry Hawkins, Family Engagement Specialist, Newport News Public Schools in Newport News, Va. He noted that the number of under resourced families has increased over the years. "Donations from a community-oriented company, such as Solitude Lake Management, allow the school system to provide additional resources that otherwise these children and their families would not receive."

Solitude Lake Management is a nation-wide company based in Virginia, and is a full service provider of lake and pond management solutions. As part of their commitment to environmental stewardship, the company also strives to foster core values through community involvement, volunteerism, activism, outreach and fundraising by building bridges in their regional office's local communities across the country.

Meringolo said: "Solitude is a great company with a big heart. I'm very proud to work for a company that believes in giving back to the communities it serves. However small the gesture may be, it will be enormous to the family receiving it."

Fairy Tale Parade brightens the day in Northbridge

WHITINSVILLE — In spite of the drizzle, Northbridge Elementary School kindergarten students happily marched down Cross Street on Thursday, Oct. 27, donned in fairy tale costumes and smiles for their annual Fairy Tale Parade. Approximately 160 students from nine kindergarten classrooms suited up in costumes they created in their art classes.

“The annual parade has been a big hit for the last seven years,” said Principal Jill Healy. “It meshes with a unit the students are currently learning about the Fairy Tale and Fable genres, and is something the teachers and students look forward to every year.”

Families and community members lined the streets to watch the parade, which included costumes depicting such favorites as “Goldilocks and the Three Bears,” “Jack and the Beanstalk,” “Town Mouse and Country Mouse,” and “Anansi the Spider,” to name just a few.

A Different Kind of Halloween Festival

BVT STUDENTS, STAFF ORGANIZE DÍA DE LOS MUERTOS FESTIVAL

UPTON — The Halloween holiday brought refreshments, costumes, and a cultural learning experience to students at Blackstone Valley Tech. BVT students and staff organized the third annual Day of the Dead festival to kick off the Halloween weekend.

The Day of the Dead festival is an interdisciplinary event centered on the Mexican holiday Día de los Muertos. The holiday is a celebration that brings families together to honor those who have passed on.

Students took part in traditional Day of the Dead activities and cultural touchstones, including sampling of pan de muerto (the bread of the dead), creating traditional crafts out of papel picado (tissue paper cutouts) and sugar skulls, and contributing to a Day of the Dead altar.

In true Valley Tech spirit, the program was produced collaboratively by the Spanish, Visual Arts, Cosmetology, Culinary Arts, Construction Technology, and Painting and Design Technologies programs.

The fair displayed the talents of each program as Spanish students taught others the historical and cultural relevance of the holiday, while the Visual Arts program demonstrated the holiday's traditional crafts. The Cosmetology students offered their expertise in face painting, and the Culinary Arts program made traditional Mexican foods. The Construction Technology students contributed to the event by building the centerpiece altar, and the Painting and Design Technologies students created a graveyard for the event.

"This project is all encompassing. It is truly an integrated effort between academic departments and vocational departments on a school-wide level," said Rebecca Swasey, Director of Curriculum and Instruction at BVT. "This is considered another example of our District-wide best practices, in which our instructional staff created an authentic hands-on learning experience and opportunity for all students."

The day-long event was highly successful bringing a multitude of compliments from students and staff. In response to the feedback, planning is already underway to continue the event in 2017.

NHS students practice civic responsibilities via mock election

NORTHBRIDGE — Besides reading, writing, and thinking critically, one of the main points of Northbridge High School's mission statement is that "students will develop an understanding of the democratic process."

All NHS students were given the chance to vote in a mock election via youthleadership.net between Oct. 17-27, in their social studies classes for grades 9-11 or English language arts class for seniors. This is the third time NHS has done the nationwide mock election. In 2008, 46 percent of students voted for President Obama, while 30 percent voted for Sen. John McCain. In 2012, 50 percent voted for Obama while 32 percent voted for Mitt Romney. In all three elections, students voted for President as well as any ballot measures. They used their phones to vote. If they didn't have a phone, they used a computer. Voting took approximately 3 minutes.

Nationwide, 262,032 students voted in the mock election. No data was released on the national breakdown. Statewide, 43.83 percent voted for Hillary Clinton, 31.39 percent voted for Donald Trump, 5.38 percent voted for Gary Johnson, 4.71 percent voted for Jill Stein, 9.19 percent abstained and 5.39 percent wrote in their own candidates.

The NHS breakdowns were different, flip flopping the top two; 40.55 percent voted for Trump, 27.61 percent voted for Hillary Clinton, 6.72 percent voted for Johnson, 4.48 percent voted for Stein, 13.68 percent abstained and 6.97 percent wrote in their own candidates. As for US House District 2, James McGovern got 63.36 percent of the vote, while 32.82 percent abstained and 3.82 percent wrote in their own candidate. And finally, as for ballot initiatives, 43.28 percent voted to add a new slot parlor for question 1, 59.95 percent voted no to 12 new charter schools on question 2, 57.21 percent approved question 3 which would ban the sale of certain animal products if the animal was confined cruelly, and 55.47 percent voted to legalize marijuana.

Out of 590 students in the school, 402 exercised their right to vote. Some were absent or chose not to, just as can happen in real life. While most students in the building cannot exercise their suffrage on November 8 due to age, many had a lot to say about the process of the mock-election. Freshman Rafael Rodriguez said, "I am excited to see how the school votes and how the election turns out."

Added his classmate, Madison Riordan: "I felt the mock election will help us when it comes time for us to vote. Seeing what a ballot looks like prepares us for the future."

Freshman Shane Andrews chimed in with, "I think that the results will be interesting to see — comparing what the adults pick [to who we pick]."

Sophomore Amanda Monopoli expressed, "The voting process is a lot simpler than I thought. I wish people my age had a say." Moving up the ranks, junior Meghan Dowd stated, "It's the only way I get to vote now. I think it's important to see what people under 17 believe/support."

Her classmate, Juliana Asante, disagreed. "I'm kind of glad I don't get to vote in this election because I don't want to be responsible for putting the lesser of two evils in charge," she said.

Junior Madison Ireland passionately urged, "Vote! Vote! Vote! Be involved in the future of your country. It's the biggest way to get your voice heard in the USA."

And the seniors were the most excited. Jake Murray said, "I am excited about this mock election, and I feel it is important to be able to know what it is like to vote before I do the real thing."

Senior Connor Nowlan wrote: "I was very excited to take part in the mock election process. As someone who is very interested in government, it was great to see other people getting involved and having fun voting. I think it's going to be really neat to see the results. I'm hoping that since people loved doing this, those that can vote this election, will vote. I think this further informed us of what will be on the ballot, allowing more people to be educated on the electoral process."

Elijah Go eloquently stated, "I believe we are very fortunate to live in a country that allows us the opportunity to vote for our leaders and policies. It's something people take for granted; but this is a very important election, as it determines the future of our nation and many others. As such, it is important that everyone reaps the benefits of our wonderful democratic system and vote as we just did and secure our future."

Surprising things? Senior Michelle Manuel said, "I didn't know that you can abstain from voting from certain subjects and topics. I also didn't know that there were 4 candidates on the ballot."

Prior to the deadline of Oct. 19, NHS also pre-registered students ages 16-18 through social studies class and at lunches. The Justice Academy and AP Government students helped Doreen Cedrone, Town Clerk, with this initiative. Roughly 190 students were pre-registered to vote through this process.

AP government students, as well as Justice Academy students, will also be helping at the polls on Election Day since it is a Professional Development Day for teachers, and there is no school for students. They will be passing out "I voted" stickers as well as directing people to the correct precincts.

In addition to all of this, many NHS social studies classes are also offering extra credit for watching the debates and/or going to the polls with parents/guardians.

SUTTON — Country Montessori Preschool and Kindergarten of Sutton's students and families enjoyed a fun afternoon at Pumpkin Fest held at Waters Farm in Sutton on Sunday, Oct. 30.

The program was sponsored by MAP, the school's parent association to celebrate Halloween and the fall season and to raise funds for the organization's activities.

Children dressed as princesses, train conductors, police men, super heroes, farm animals and many more characters had fun playing games such as pumpkin bowling, toss the bag and ring throw. They had their faces painted, ran sack races and created art and crafts. Delicious cookies, cupcakes, chocolate pretzels and other baked goods were enjoyed by everyone. Parents and their families were treated to a horse drawn wagon ride around the beautiful fields of Waters Farm, too.

"This year we wanted to try some new activities so we created our chili taste off competition and fun raffles," said MAP

President Valerie Small. "We also offered a few different arts and crafts and foods like pulled pork sandwiches," Ms. Small said.

Tami Erickson, vice president of MAP added, "All proceeds will benefit the students in the school through the different events MAP offers like our Valentine's Day dance, movie night, field day and Ice Cream Social."

The school thanks Whittier Farms for their donation of pumpkins, hay bales and decorations for the event.

Families enjoyed a scenic ride around Waters Farm fields in a horse drawn wagon.

WAYNE TUISKULA

The Ephemera Society of America, Inc. describes itself as "a non-profit organization formed in 1980 to cultivate and encourage interest in ephemera ...". The society's website notes that Maurice Rickards, a noted scholar and expert on ephemera, states that "the essential appeal of most forms of ephemera lies in their fragility, their vulnerability — the very improbability of their survival." Rickards describes ephemera further as "minor transient documents of everyday life."

Don't throw away that ephemera

Defining ephemera gets a little more complicated, as some of the "transient" pieces were actually so well produced that they may have been saved. John and Carolyn Grossman's ephemera collection was impressive enough to be acquired by the Winterthur Museum. John Grossman notes that "some ephemera were deliberately preserved in family albums or attic trunks because they were beautiful images, held sentimental value or marked an event of historical importance. Trade cards, die-cut scraps, invitations and newspaper articles are some examples." The fact that "baseball cards, holiday ornaments, paper dolls and souvenir items are also considered ephemera, yet they were designed to be kept" makes the definition of ephemera even a little more unclear.

Using a broad definition of ephemera some of the more valuable pieces are posters, baseball and other trading cards, programs, photographs, and postcards. Other items include: brochures, calendars, greeting cards, menus, pinup art, manuals, instructional booklets, catalogs, maps, trade cards, die cuts, documents, blotters, tickets, scrapbooks, product labels, magazines, newspapers, souvenirs, playing cards and sheet music.

Now that you have a better idea of what ephemera is, what makes some ephemera valuable? Posters collections can become part of a home's décor. A rare poster can sell for five figure sums. Poster artwork can command figures well above an oil painting by a trained artist.

One of Webster's Dictionary's definitions of a broadside is a sizable sheet of paper printed on one side. Broad-sides of historical interest can be very valuable. Those from the 1700's that mark important historical events or are signed by famous historical figures may be worth five figure amounts. Later ones from the 19th century with Civil War or slavery messages can also be very valuable. When chromo lithography became widely used in the later 19th century, advertising broadsides helped promote everything from food and medicine to travel and clothing. More desirable examples can command figures in the thousands of dollars.

We've discussed how a rare Honus Wagner baseball tobacco card sold for nearly $3 million. Other ephemera, like an 1865 photograph of the Brooklyn Athletics baseball team, sold for $92,000 at a small Maine auction house. A letter by the city of Worcester requesting admittance into the National League by their baseball team sold for over $9,000. I was fortunate enough to be the winning bidder when it sold at an out-of-state auction house.

We have been picking up many quality consignments for our Jan. 26 live auction that will take place in Worcester. The second session of rare radios will be auctioned on Nov. 13 in Carlisle, Mass. We also have an estate sale scheduled in Worcester on Nov. 19 and 20. See www.centralmassauctions.com

Jack and Jill Preschool celebrates Safety Month

WEBSTER — The children of Jack and Jill Preschool went out into the community to say “thank you” recently. With October being Safety Month, what better way to learn about fire safety then to get a tour of the Webster Fire Department. This was followed by a behind-the-scenes tour of the Webster Price Chopper to learn about how our nutritious food gets from the store to our plate.

WCS pays it forward with 855 pies

Whitinsville Christian School recently held their 13th Annual Dutch Apple Pie Sale, assembling 7,292 Dutch apple pies.

WHITINSVILLE — This fall, Whitinsville Christian School (WCS) held their 13th Annual Dutch Apple Pie Sale. On Oct. 21, approximately 350 volunteers gathered in the school’s gym to assemble 7,292 of the famous Dutch apple pies. A new offering this year was the opportunity to purchase pies for donation to area food banks. The Apple Pie Committee was extremely pleased with the result — more than 855 pies were purchased. “The Pay it Forward with Pies initiative was the single greatest accomplishment that came out of this year’s pie sale and my deepest hope is that this is just the beginning. I would love to exceed 850 pies and see this expand to an even greater blessing in our community. There is so much need and people were so appreciative to receive the pies,” said Apple Pie Committee Team member Erika Johnson. Kathy Kane, president of the Northbridge Association of Churches Food Pantry, spent part of her day making pies at the school, then accompanied four WCS fifth graders to the Food Pantry to fill the freezer. “I was so very appreciative on behalf of our clients to receive the pies. That was the reason that I wanted to help make the pies. The process was incredible! There is also no greater joy than seeing the students get involved and asking about our work. They wanted to know specifically how people can utilize the pantry, and how old they would need to be to volunteer. Helping our kids understand hunger in the community is near and dear to my heart. What they are learning at school, through this fundraiser, brings their awareness to the forefront,” Johnson said. Organizations receiving the pies had some tie to WCS, either by their location or a connection to a family at the school. “We started with the most local organizations that deliver food right here in the Blackstone Valley. We also looked for a tie to Whitinsville Christian School in some fashion. This includes organizations our families volunteer with in Milford and Worcester,” she said. Some of the largest recipients were The People’s First Food Pantry in Uxbridge, Peace of Bread and St. Patrick’s in Whitinsville, St. Denis in Douglas, and Red D Compassion in Worcester where the pies will be served at a Thanksgiving dinner and given to families for Christmas. In total, fifteen different food pantries, representing ten towns received pies.

Apple Tree Arts to present ‘Squirm!’ musical

GRAFTON — Apple Tree Arts presents “Squirm! A Wiggly, Giggly, Squiggly Musical,” on Nov. 5, at 7 p.m. in the Great Hall of the Grafton Town House, One Grafton Common in Grafton. Prior to the show, “Show Choir” actors will perform several musical numbers. Admission is $5 for adults, $3 for children five and over and free for younger children. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Audiences will enjoy a night of family entertainment featuring young elementary-school aged children acting, singing and dancing as they portray squiggly, wiggly critters that often make people feel uncomfortable. Let your guard down and come meet Daddy Long Legs, the Itsy Bitsy Spider, snakes, hook worms, spiders and bats. “This lively show teaches us something positive about each of these creatures. We learn

Ms. Upham is co-directing the show with early childhood and theatre arts faculty member Shannon May. Cassie Lobe and Abby Upham are assisting the co-directors. The 25-member cast includes students from Douglas, Grafton,

Holden, Millbury, Sutton and Worcester. The cast performs “It’s Cool to Be A Worm,” “Spinning: A Spider Song,” “A Snake in The Grass,” and “Give A Bat A Call.” Aliyah Abdul-Aziz, Samantha Boloz, Alex and Leila Clements, Caroline Fisher, Sabina Gill, Torynn Giunta, Julia Gould, Emma Hillman, Meghan and Sarah Hogan, Alyssa Johnston, Grace Kelly, Addison Lentz, Riley Maloney, Kendra Miner, Audrey

Thanksgiving Whitin Five Mile Race coming for 28th year

BY OLIVIA RICHMAN
NEWS STAFF WRITER

UPTON — Mark your calendars. One of the most anticipated traditions in the area, the 28th annual Thanksgiving Whitin Five Mile Race & Two Mile Health Walk is coming on Thursday, Nov. 24.

With more than 600 racers on average from all over the world participating, the Thanksgiving Day run is a great fundraiser for the area.

Proceeds from the run go to Whitin Community Center and to the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

Said Race Director Linda Usher: “The Community Center really holds the race. That’s our local gym. They need as much support as they can get, financially. We want to keep the building in order and help them run programs.”

Usher chose to donate to the Massachusetts Audubon Society back in 1989 when she first became the director. Their work with the environment was one of the reasons she chose the organization.

While Usher has help from the Central Massachusetts Striders and her family and volunteers, Usher is the one who puts the event on and runs it. She’s been running for the past 28 years.

“I race myself,” said Usher, on why she has dedicated so much time to the cause. “I race all over the world. I’m a triathlete that has competed all over the world. I was world champion for my age division a few times. Racing and triathlons and exercise is just something that I believe in and that I am passionate about.”

When she first founded the race there weren’t many others around Thanksgiving time. She recalled putting it together over the summer and spending the months leading up to Thanksgiving look for sponsors. Twenty-eight years later, she still has the same sponsors for the event, 35 sponsors in total.

While there is a walking course for families and anyone who doesn’t feel like running a 5K, the Thanksgiving Whitin Five Mile Race is “definitely a real race,” said Usher, with cash prizes and other rewards for people who place in the certified course.

“It’s a mix of participants but there are definitely some very serious runners there,” said Usher. “The people who hold the course records are well-known people with very fast times.”

While some runners take the race seriously, the 5K is a huge, happy tradition for the area, drawing in people from all over the country.

“I get people from many different states every year because it’s on Thanksgiving. It’s a nice atmosphere. It’s very family oriented,” said Usher. “People just like it. There’s good refreshments and coffee afterwards and long sleeve cotton t-shirts. The Community Center gym is a nice venue because they have hot showers.”

Registering for the 5K starts at 8:10 a.m. at 131 South Street in Upton. For more information visit whitinfive.com or contact Usher at 508-529-6862 or by email at juniperhill@charter.net.

NORTHBRIDGE — Students and teachers from Northbridge Middle School had the experience of visiting a major international advanced manufacturer to learn about numerous STEM career opportunities.

Waters Corporation and Dell Technologies provided comprehensive tours and presentations relating to their national and international markets and their overseas facilities. The collaborative program between schools and businesses is sponsored by Blackstone Valley Education Foundation (BVEF). Its goal is to encourage studies in STEM fields and to make students and teachers more aware of the wide variety of employment options in large international manufacturers. The company also hosted the group for lunch with several of their employees and managers.

BVEF works with schools to better connect with local businesses. Blackstone Valley Chamber of Commerce partnered with BVEF to coordinate this program.

MILLBURY KICKS OFF ARTIST EXHIBITION PROJECT

BY JASON BLEAU
NEWS STAFF WRITER

MILLBURY — Hoping to spur interest in local art, the Millbury Cultural Council held the first of a planned four artist exhibitions in the town on Thursday, Oct. 20.

The focus of this first exhibition, meant to kick off a series of artist displays focusing on the talent of Millbury, focused on the work of Sumiyo Toribe and was hosted by the Cake Shop Café, where the Millbury Cultural Council plans on presenting even more artist works in the near future.

Jennifer Lamarche, chairman of the Millbury Cultural Council, said that this is all part of a plan by the council and the town to show the hidden talents of Millbury and hopefully generate interest in some of the town's hidden gems.

"We're trying to support local businesses and local artists in Millbury through a partnership to try and bring awareness to these local artists and their work," Lamarche said in an interview during the exhibition. "These are all Millbury artists or artists who have some connection to the town. This includes music and visual arts and hopefully if this is successful we will work with other businesses who are interested."

The Millbury Cultural

Council is hoping to have at least four shows this year with another currently planned for December. The council will then open up a call for artists in the New Year to expand on the program and maybe make it an even bigger attraction. Lamarche said Sumiyo Toribe was a good fit for their first artist as he work had been published and featured on local television, and she has familiarity with the local community as an educator.

"We knew her. She's an art teacher at Anna Maria College so we already had a connection with her. We wanted to showcase her work and she said yes so we're hoping this will help get the ball rolling," Lamarche said. "If it's successful we hope other artists will be interested in showing their art."

Toribe is a graduate of Savannah College of Art and Design and has been featured in magazines, newspapers and television programs for her artistic talent, which, in the past, was mostly based in oil painting, but in recent years has evolved to include watercolors, a medium she chose to embrace for her display in Millbury.

Toribe's work mostly draws inspiration from New England landscapes, but she has also used her watercolor talent to interpret song lyrics, a new venture that is the subject of her first art book "Painting by Lyrics" featuring work interpreted from the lyrics of Mark Stevens.

"Usually I do need visual inspiration," Toribe told Stonebridge Press about her creative process. "I do look for sources of inspiration to interpret the music. It's much harder. New England landscapes are more relaxing because I go around and take pictures all the time so I always have something reference and sometimes I combined landscapes and do different versions of the same reference image. So I can interpret something in different ways with different colors and styles."

Toribe decided to take up watercolors due to the time and space constraints of oil painting work. With three kids, a husband and several jobs she needed to explore a much more fluid and faster art form and watercolors fit the bill perfectly. She has sense turned this relatively new art venture into a thriving side business, painting watercolor portraits to the tune of one per day at times. Toribe made her big break in watercolor art after utilizing the Worcester Sketchbook program which challenged her to paint one picture a day for a year using the city as her inspiration. She said she was thrilled to have the opportunity to present her works in Millbury, a much smaller community compared to the big galleries she is used to seeing in New York and other larger venues.

"I'm very surprised to have so many opportunities to show off my watercolor work," Toribe said. "I have 365 pictures of Worcester and I had an exhibition through a grant. That got me to paint watercolor consistently. After that I started to show in different studios and little places I haven't explored before. I usually have a gallery and I thought that was the only place to sell, but I opened up an online store that's taken off very well. This year I have done maybe twelve or thirteen shows already. Usually I go to Connecticut, New York, and New Jersey as well as Massachusetts. This show (in Millbury) feels like a part of that wave of success. I never thought of showing in Millbury before. I didn't know where to show, but I do want people around me to notice that there are artists in Millbury. I never knew we had this kind of program in town. When they asked me to do this show and told me I'm the first one I felt so lucky and so special."

The exhibition of Toribe's work will remain on display at the Cake Shop Café until just

THE COUNTDOWN TO Black Friday WINDOW SALE

Our biggest dollar discount of the year ends ON Black Friday.

To help protect your home against leaking and cold drafts, strong windows and patio doors will be one of the most important home improvements you can make BEFORE the winter.

Renewal

November 1st to November 25th only!

Buy 1 window or patio door, get 1 window or patio door

40% OFF<sup>1</sup>

every window and patio door<sup>1</sup>

Plus, don't pay a thing for a year

NO NO NO for one
Money Down Payments Interest full year<sup>1</sup>

Interest accrues from the purchase date but is waived if paid in full for 12 months. Minimum purchase required.

We won't let new windows impact your holiday spending.

Why? Because you won't pay anything until next November. Breathe easier this holiday season with no money down, no payments and no interest for a whole year<sup>1</sup>.

Don't take a chance on a vinyl window.

Vinyl windows can warp, leak and cause drafts, so trusting a poor-quality vinyl window is a poor choice. Our window's Fibrex® composite material is twice as strong as vinyl.

You've got enough on your plate this time of year; we've got this.

We build, sell, install and warrant all of our windows; that means there's no middleman to deal with, and as the full-service replacement window division of Andersen, we're about as trustworthy as you can get.

Three Surefire Signs That It's Time To Have 'The Talk' With Tabby

Fixing your cat can make both of you happier.

(NAPS)

These days, many people know that spaying and neutering are the most humane and effective ways to reduce pet overpopulation. Not everyone, however, knows that fixing your cat will also address some of the most vexing and bothersome cat behaviors, including: Spraying—When cats back up to a vertical surface and spray urine (compared to crouching over a horizontal surface), most likely, they are leaving a message for other cats: “I’m interested in mating.” This spraying can result in foul smells and even permanent stains in your home. Yowling—What are those stressful moaning or wailing sounds your cat is making day or night? Most likely, it’s yowling, a behavior that female cats employ when ovulating, not unlike a feline booty call.

When sensing a fertile female nearby, male cats answer that call with a yowl of their own. This cycle repeats every 18 to 24 days unless you spay or neuter. Escaping and Fighting—Unfixed cats often escape and disappear for a long time, roaming to find a potential mate. When wandering cats return, they often show signs of fighting such as cuts, scratches and missing fur, which can lead to infections or worse. To encourage pet owners to “Talk to Your Cat About Sex,” the Cincinnati-based GiveThemTen movement, sponsored by The Joanie Bernard Foundation, recently released a new campaign. The campaign’s ads depict families having those difficult coming-of-age discussions with teenagers—but with a real catty twist. The spots are part of an ongoing effort aimed at encouraging spaying and neutering programs. The campaign appears to be working. Live cat-release counts, reflecting the number of cats trapped, fixed and let go again, are climbing in the markets where the ads are shown. “We want to educate cat owners that bad cat behaviors, sometimes viewed as natural, can be prevented,” said Deborah Cribbs, The Joanie Bernard Foundation board chairwoman. “Fixing both male and female cats curbs the unwanted behaviors of amorous felines looking for love. But most important, spayed or neutered cats help prevent feline lives lost to overpopulation.” The cost of a spaying or neutering is far less than most imagine. Visit www.givethemten.org to find high-quality, low-cost spay/neuter clinics nearby.

How to find a qualified, compassionate pet sitter

More and more pet owners are taking their four-legged friends with them when they travel. But some vacations or business trips are not pet-friendly, and such excursions may require pet owners to enlist the services of professional pet sitters. Friends and family members may be able to look after pets when their owners are away for a few days. But when no one is close by to check in on or foster a pet, pet sitters and animal boarding facilities may be the only option available to pet owners. Pet sitters also may be able to step in when owners’ last-minute plans interfere with their ability to care for their pets. Finding the right facility or individual pet sitter requires a little work. Here are some ways to weed out the qualified and professional pet sitters from those who might not be the best fit. • Ask for recommendations. Seek advice from friends or family members who have used pet sitters in the past. If that does not prove fruitful, speak with your veterinarian. He or she may have a relationship with an animal boarder or a pet-sitting service. Some veterinarians also have employees on staff who provide this kind of service, and such situations can be especially beneficial for owners of older or special-needs pets. An alternative to personal and professional recommendations is to employ a certified pet sitter from either The National Association of Professional Pet Sitters or Pet Sitters International. • Get a feel for the sitter’s personality. It can be beneficial to find a sitter whose energy levels and temperament are a good match with your pet. A young, boisterous puppy may not be a good match for an older sitter. Sitters who understand an animal’s specific needs and how to cater to those needs may perform their duties more effectively than less experienced sitters. • Compile a questionnaire. The Humane Society of the United States has a comprehensive list of qualifications you can use to screen potential pet sitters. These should include questions about liability insurance coverage and if companies that employ pet sitters are bonded to protect against theft. Pet sitters also should provide references. • Maintain the pet’s normal routine. According to pet expert Cesar Millan, it’s best to have the pet watched in his or her natural surroundings so they have a level of familiarity with their surroundings and schedules. When this is not possible, boarders should try to keep the same walking, play and feeding schedules. • Spell out all the details. Before hiring a sitter, make a list of requirements and make sure they are discussed and included in signed contracts. • Employ trial and error. Sometimes you have to take a chance and give a pet sitter an opportunity to prove his or her merit. Afford the pet sitter some time to meet your pet in your presence and watch for how your pet reacts to the sitter. After the sitter’s first day on the job, look for indicators that may suggest the experience was not the right fit for your pet. Fearfulness in the pet, signs or smells that accidents occurred, property damage, or injuries to an animal may be evidence of a poor pet sitter. Pet owners sometimes require the service of pet sitters who can help them feel at ease when they need to leave home for business or pleasure.

Make homes safe for pets

CAPTION: Keep companion animals safe around the house.

Pets require certain comforts to live long and healthy lives. In addition to adequate nutrition, exercise, medical care, and mental stimulation, pets need a safe place to live. The average home is filled with various items that can be harmful to pets. Just as parents baby-proof their homes when welcoming new children into their families, pet owners can take inventory of potential hazards to pets and take steps to safeguard their pets from home-related injuries. According to the American Veterinary Medical Association, a few simple adjustments around the house can prevent many pet emergencies. • Invest in cabinet locks. Cats and dogs can be curious animals, gaining access to areas of a home pet owners never would have imagined possible. If you can’t store everything beyond pets’ reach, then use cabinet and drawer latches to prevent access to areas that are off limits. Lock doors to basements, garages and storage sheds as well. • Cover all garbage cans. Animals have extraordinary senses of smell, and they may be attracted to trash cans around the house. Pets rooting around in the garbage can be messy, but this can also make pets vulnerable to illness. Invest in garbage cans with locks or tight lids to prevent food poisoning or choking. • Use medications wisely. Be mindful of medications, making sure none of your pills fall on the floor where they can be gobbled up by pets. • Protect belongings. Cats can scale many objects in the house, gaining access to areas of the house that dogs cannot reach. Cats also can be attracted to small shiny objects, such as jewelry or glass items, that are choking hazards. Store potential choking hazards out of sight of curious cats. • Clean the furnace. Allergens and poor indoor air quality is not just a concern for humans. Pets also can be affected by allergies and health issues that result from exposure to mold or dirt in a home. Have your HVAC system routinely serviced and routinely change indoor air filters to maintain healthy air quality. When possible, open windows to let fresh air inside. • Secure windows and doors. Cats and dogs may be distracted by something outdoors and feel compelled to chase after it. Dogs and cats can suffer serious injuries if they fall from windows. Make sure window screens are secure and install guards if your pet likes to hang out by the windows. Exercise caution when entering and leaving your home so pets don’t scurry outside. • Keep cords and electronic outlets secure. Teething puppies or curious cats may bite or pull on power cords. Use cord keepers to cover up electric lines and outlet locks to keep plugs where they should be. • Provide a comfortable indoor climate. Many pets spend the majority of their days indoors where climate and temperature can be controlled. However, if yours is an outside pet or requires a brief stint in the garage or an uninsulated area, make sure the temperature in such areas is comfortable and safe. Take precautions around the house to keep pets safe, comfortable and secure. TF16B539

Pet Play With A Superstar Twist
From Petmate’s WWE Collection

(NAPS)

Exercise is a vital part of a healthy lifestyle for pets. They need to get up and get active to stay healthy and fit. And, just as for people, exercise is not only important for pets physically, but crucial to their mental health as well. Consider these three things:

1. Daily activity helps improve your dog’s overall health and wellbeing, specifically heart health, which can help ensure he lives a long and happy life. It’s also important for weight management, maintaining proper muscle tone, and bone health. Inactive dogs are susceptible to becoming overweight and obese, which can lead to many health risks including diabetes, arthritis and heart disease.

2. Exercise provides stimulation, which can improve your dog’s mood and behavioral patterns. It also helps to alleviate any tension or anxiety your pet may be feeling. Dogs that suffer from stress and anxiety can develop behavioral issues, which can hinder social skills and training.

3. The amount of daily exercise needed is different for every dog, depending on the breed, age and size. According to Dogtime.com, “Generally speaking, a leashed walk around the block isn’t going to cut it. Most dogs need 30 to 60 minutes of exercise per day.” Dogs that are smaller, older or overweight require less exercise than younger, healthier dogs. For dogs from herding, working or sporting breeds, more exercise and running are needed to satisfy their natural instincts.

Enjoyable Exercises

Here are a few helpful hints to Pump Up Your Pet with a Superstar twist from the WWE, where passion plays into the fun, and that can strengthen your bond.

- Set your dog up for a daily walk around the neighborhood sporting the soft and durable WWE Adjustable Collars and Leashes, which feature patterns of WWE Superstars. Be sure to switch up the route and length of your walks so your dog is exposed to different areas and smells. You might even meet some new friends along the way.
- Let your dog run, jump and play at a dog park or doggy day care to enjoy some four-legged friendly fun. Interactive play is key for getting your dog to move around and also provides valuable bonding time and promotes active behavioral patterns. You can play a rigorous game of tug with the Money in the Bank Tug Toy and WWE Championship and Divas Belt Tug Toys, each designed for tough tug play between you and your dog or for two dogs to wrestle and tug together.
- Play a fun game of fetch with the WWE Superstar Flyers, soft durable disks that fly and float, and feature the WWE logo and Superstar images. You can also toss around the WWE Plush Dog Toys, which are made from tough plush fabric and feature WWE Superstars The Rock, John Cena and WWE Hall of Famer Stone Cold Steve Austin.

Give your dog plenty of toys and attention to help him get the exercise he needs.

- After exercising, let your dog unwind in a WWE Pinch Corner Lounger, designed to resemble the wrestling ring, or a Divas Pillow Bed. These soft, plush beds provide comfort and relaxation and may help your dog wake up feeling like a WWE champion.

Human foods pets should avoid

The revenue of the pet care industry is testament to the lengths people will go to ensure their pets are comfortable and receiving a high level of care. Well-meaning pet owners may pamper their pets, and many believe giving treats of human food is the ultimate indulgence for their animals. However, these individuals may be unwittingly exposing their beloved pets to health problems by feeding them the wrong foods.

The Humane Society of the United States warns that even foods that are considered good for people can be very dangerous for pets. This may even include common fruits and vegetables. In 2010, the ASPCA Animal Poison Control Center received more than 167,000 calls related to pet exposure to toxic substances. The top three reasons for pet poisoning included consumption of prescription and over-the-counter drugs (45,616 calls); ingestion of insecticides (29,020 calls); and eating human food (17,453 calls). Many people are unaware that certain foods present a hazard to their pets’ health.

Although any food not specifically designed for cats and dogs can affect the digestive system, resulting in vomiting, diarrhea or intestinal distress, the following foods are particularly problematic for companion animals.

- Alcohol: Alcoholic beverages can cause liver and brain damage because it has the same effects on pets as it does on people — it just takes far less alcohol to negatively affect pets than it does humans. Just a little alcohol can cause vomiting, diarrhea, central nervous system depression, problems with coordination, difficulty breathing, coma, and even death.

- Chocolate: The toxic component of chocolate is theobromine. It’s present in all types of chocolate, but more so in dark varieties and baking chocolate. At its worst, chocolate can cause an abnormal heart rhythm, seizures and death.
- Dairy products: Cats pictured lapping up bowls of milk is a misrepresentation of what they should be consuming. Many cats and even some dogs are lactose intolerant. Eating dairy products can cause digestive upset and may lead to food allergies and discomfort.
- Fat trimmings, raw meat, raw eggs and raw fish: Each of these can cause vomiting, diarrhea or a painful condition called pancreatitis (from excessive fat). Plus, there is a risk of salmonella or E. coli associated with these foods.
- Grapes and raisins: Cats may shy away from them, but dogs can suffer acute kidney failure from these fruits.
- Macadamia nuts: According to WebMD, dogs shouldn’t eat macadamia nuts or foods that contain them because they can be fatal. As few as six raw or roasted macadamias can make dogs seriously ill. Symptoms of poisoning include muscle tremors, weakness or paralysis of the hindquarters, vomiting, elevated body temperature, and rapid heart rate.
- Sweetened candy: Candies, gums, toothpaste, and any product containing “xylitol” can cause more insulin to circulate through a pet’s body, making blood sugar drop. That can result in liver failure and loss of coordination.

Foods that people consume should not be shared with pets unless they have been recommended by a veterinarian. Even then, human food should be shared sparingly. TF16B557
