Clown intimidation trend irks police in Worcester County

'WE ARE ASKING PEOPLE TO USE COMMON SENSE THIS HALLOWEEN'

BY KEVIN FLANDERS NEWS STAFF WRITER

As the spate of clown-related incidents continues across the country, police are warning residents that clowning around in a threatening way this Halloween season could land you behind bars.

In nearby Auburn, charges of disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace will be sought in Worcester District Court against an Auburn father. Police said the man, who was not identified as of press time, got into his car dressed as a clown and followed a bus full of middle school students to their bus stop.

Auburn Police say this man, the parent of an Auburn Middle School student, will face charges after following students in his car while wearing a clown mask. Police had not released the man's identity as of press time.

Police Department to revive color guard

EQUIPMENT DONATIONS NEGATE COST OF INITIATIVE

BY JASON BLEAU NEWS STAFF WRITER

UXBRIDGE — The Uxbridge Police Department is celebrating the return of a department entity that has been missing in action for some time, thanks in part to a donation from the department.

The Uxbridge Police recently announced on social media that after years of absence, the department's color guard would be resurrected. The Uxbridge Police Department Color Guard will be comprised of several officers with flags and rifles in hand. These groups of officers are commonly used by law enforcement and military groups for honors such as the here shot volley and during funerals of honor and parades to show the American and state flags at the front of their group or the parade as a whole.

While the news is exciting to both the officers at the department and the citizens who have long awaited the return of the guard, the move was not within a little anxiety see-

Food banks call for support during stressful time

BY KEVIN FLANDERS NEWS STAFF WRITER

As the holiday season approaches, residents are getting an early start on Christmas shopping and planning out their food lineups for Thanksgiving dinner. But for countless families throughout the area, they are wondering where their next meal will come from.

Food insecurity remains a chronic yet often overlooked problem, and local legislators and volunteers are asking for your support. Congressman James McGovern recently spoke on the House Floor about the important role that food banks play in helping families and communities struggling with hunger.

This past summer, McGovern volunteered at Philabundance, a Philadelphia-area food bank. While there, he saw in action the importance of legislators supporting local food pantries and strengthening federal anti-hunger programs.

"Food banks across our country, like the Worcester County Food

Bank and Food Bank of Western Massachusetts, do incredible work to reduce hunger in surrounding communities," McGovern said. "They employ innovative strategies to fight hunger and increase access to nutri-

Valley towns announce early voting hours

NORTHBRIDGE

NORTHBRIDGE — We are excited to announce that all registered voters will be able to vote before Election Day for the first time ever in Massachusetts.

Early voting will begin on Oct. 24 and continue through Nov. 4. Prior to the enactment of this new law, the only way a registered voter was allowed to vote prior to Election Day was through absentee voting. Although absentee voting will still be available for registered voters who qualify (only those who will be absent from their city or town on Election Day, or have a disability that prevents them from going to the polls, or have a religious belief preventing the same) are legally allowed to vote by absentee ballot.

Unlike absentee voting, early voting is for every registered voter. Registered voters do not need an excuse or reason to vote early. Regardless of whether a voter wants to take advantage of early voting, vote absentee or vote on Election Day, the first step is making sure you are registered. To check to see if you are registered to vote and to find information on how to register to vote, you may visit the Secretary of the Commonwealth's website: www.sec.state.ma.us/e. If you need to register to vote, you may do it online by visiting: www.RegisterToVoteMA.com. All you need is a license or an I.D. issued by the Registry of Motor Vehicles to apply online.

Early voting can be done in person or by mail. In Northbridge, early voting can be done in person at Town Hall, 7 Main Street, in the Whitinsville section of Northbridge, during the following dates and times:

- Monday, Oct. 24: 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.
- Tuesday, Oct. 25: 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
- Wednesday, Oct. 26: 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
- Thursday, Oct. 27: 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
- Friday, Oct. 28: 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.
- Monday, Oct. 31: 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.
- Tuesday, Nov. 1: 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
- Wednesday, Nov. 2: 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
- Thursday, Nov. 3: 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
- Friday, Nov. 4: 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

For public convenience,

Northbridge has also decided to offer weekend hours on Saturday, Oct. 29, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Also, registered voters have the option to request an early voting ballot through the mail. Simply fill out an application and mail it to Town Clerk's Office, 7 Main Street, Whitinsville, MA 01588. You can find the application on the Secretary of the Commonwealth's website: <http://www.sec.state.ma.us/e>.

Please note, however, once a voter has cast an early voting ballot, the voter may no longer vote at the polls on Election Day.

WHITINSVILLE — It was the perfect autumn day for a walk around town, so what better day to hold the 42nd Annual Crop Hunger Walk? The third verse

It's that time of year again, when the colored leaves fall; I would daresay it's the most beautiful season of all.

It's the harvest, when the nights get a little more cool; the jackets come out, and we go back to school.

Playoff baseball, and football of quality highest; and also the day of my birth ... so I'm guess I'm a tad biased.

But it's also time to continue a new-found tradition; it's quickly becoming my most favorite edition.

You see, it's a week in which I can switch things up a bit; and deliver my weekly words with a smidge more wit.

So just like last year, and the year before that, it's time; it's the third verse of my annual column, written completely in rhyme.

The first was a silly experiment, the second a thank you letter; so as you can deduce, this verse needs to be just that much better.

I need these words to be honest, passionate and delivered with tact; it's an earnest call for you, my valued readers, to act.

Because feedback is the lifeblood of any local publication; we don't do this alone — we need reader participation!

Whether it's a letter, picture, or story submission; we covet your stories — after all, local is our mission.

So let this be the beacon — the bat signal, if you will; for you to get involved and show off your skills!

This is your newspaper, after all, so here are some hints; for you to leave on our pages your unique fingerprints.

Schools, sports, events ... it's all fair game to us; even if you think it may seem superfluous.

Because if it's important to you, than it is important to me; because we are a reflection of what you want us to be.

Some may disagree on how it is all presented; we welcome the discussion, it is never resented.

But at the end of the day, this newspaper is yours to call your own; your wish is our command, you sit on the throne!

It's not often I say "No" to someone who sends something in; unless it's libelous, vulgar or otherwise in obnoxious sin.

I've said it before, and I'll say it again, 'til I'm blue in the face; send me your content, and we'll make you the space.

So how do we do this, logistically speaking? How do I provide the answers you are seeking?

The first thing to remember is that my e-mail is updated; thanks to some hackers this summer who left me frustrated.

Instead of ".com" remember to type in the ".news" ending; or else your message will bounce right back to you, never sending.

Although e-mail is preferred, you may also use fax or mail too; you can even visit my office in person when it's convenient for you.

No matter how you do it, the door is always open to submit; stories, pictures, calendar items and obits.

From upcoming events, birth announcements and sports scores; letters and columns and so much more.

The sky is the limit, so don't wait, start now, take the hint; and discover the wonder of seeing your work on newsprint!

Adam Minor may be reached at (508) 909-4130 if you choose; or send me an e-mail at aminor@stonebridgepress.com.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

New Hope: 'We need your help'

To the Editor:
Every October, New Hope staff holds a myriad of events to raise awareness around domestic violence.

For 37 years New Hope has worked with survivors of domestic and sexual violence. It's not easy work, but when we see a survivor take the next step toward healing, we know we have made a difference. Here's what a recent shelter client wrote after leaving our program.

"Just want to send a last huge thank you for everything you have done for us. You have all made this difficult time pass much easier than I could have imagined. Moving forward thanks to you!"

These are the words that keep us engaged in this struggle to end sexual and domestic violence. Yet, for every survivor that moves on, more survivors call or come to our offices seeking services.

Aside from our direct services work, we have come to recognize that issues of domestic violence intersect with larger systemic issues. Here are just three facts from the Centers for Disease Control:

- 37.3 percent of women with a disability were more likely to report experiencing intimate partner violence (IPV) during their lifetime compared with 20.6 percent of women without a disability.
- 41.2 percent of African-American women experience IPV over their lifetime compared to a rate of 30.5 percent for white women.
- Bisexual women report a higher lifetime prevalence of rape, physical violence, and/or stalking by an intimate partner (61.1 percent) compared to both lesbian (43.8 percent) and heterosexual women (35 percent)

Ask yourself, why is this so? Is it coincidental that persons with disabilities, African-American women, and LBGQ women have higher lifetime rates of violence and also experience discrimination, oppression and social stigma? Consider one underlying cause, persons of color, disabled persons, or persons who identifies as LBGQ/T often have limited job resources, resulting in an increased need to stay with an abuser for economic reasons.

This is where you come in. If you believe there is no place for violence in your community, we need you. Educate yourself. Become engaged in community mobilization efforts. Find out who is working on these issues in your town, (faith communities, informal social organizations, and agencies such as New Hope) and join the cause. Speak out when you encounter interpersonal violence and/or norms that encourage such violence, e.g. "boys being boys." Ending interpersonal violence is possible but first we must create new social norms that make such violence unacceptable.

This October, I hope you will take time to think about what you can do and then take action to create communities free from violence and exploitation.

PRESIDENT/CEO, NEW HOPE INC.

Guard against identity theft, and protect your finances

FINANCIAL FOCUS
JEFF BURDICK

More than 13 million Americans were victimized by identity theft, according to the U.S. Department of Justice. What can you do to guard your identity and protect yourself from potential financial losses?

Here are some ideas to consider:
Review your statements. Closely review the monthly statements from your checking and other financial accounts. If you find any unfamiliar charges, contact your bank or other financial services provider immediately.

Order your credit reports. The three credit reporting agencies — TransUnion, Equifax and Experian — are each required by law to provide you one free credit report a year. Make sure your name, address and other information are correct on your credit report, and if you find old or inaccurate information, have it removed.

Place a fraud alert. If you suspect you have become a victim of Identity theft, place a "fraud alert" on your credit reports by contacting any of the three credit reporting agencies. You can choose a short-term or long-term alert. And if you're an active member of the military, you can request a special, one-year alert.

Feed your shredder. Shred all old bank and investment statements, applications for new credit cards and any other documents that contain personal information.

Destroy digital data. If you have a variety of financial accounts, you're not just creating a paper trail — you're also establishing a digital "footprint." So, when you sell or otherwise dispose of a computer system or hard drive, you may want to take steps to destroy personal data. You might think that simply deleting it would be sufficient, but tech-savvy identity thieves can "undelete" files or recover information from a formatted drive. However, products are available that allow you to completely wipe out data on hard drives.

Change passwords. It's a good idea to change your Internet passwords every so often — especially those passwords that provide access to financial accounts.

Leave your Social Security card home. Snagging someone's Social Security number is a real "catch" for identity thieves, so do everything you can to thwart them. And you can start by leaving your Social Security card safely at home — after all, there's probably never a good reason to bring it out, anyway. In fact, be wary of anyone, or any business, that asks for your Social Security number, either in person or online. Except for a few obvious exceptions, such as your tax preparer, most reputable businesses don't need to know anything about your Social Security information.

Watch for "phishers." If you've ever gotten an e-mail, supposedly from your bank, advising you that your account will be "frozen" unless you provide personal details about your account, it's a good bet that someone is "phishing" for this information — and they're using the "freezing" threat as bait. What's particularly alarming is that these "phishers" have gotten quite good at duplicating logos and using official-sounding language. However, a legitimate bank would never threaten you this way with an e-mail, so, if you get such a message, contact the bank's fraud department.

You can go a long way toward protecting yourself against identity theft by following these suggestions — so put them to work soon.

Tapscott: Vote yes on Article 10

To the Editor:
On Oct. 25, Uxbridge voters will have an opportunity to vote for a bylaw that allows our town government to monitor the filling of excavated sites such as gravel pits.

Such activity has the potential to permanently pollute public and private wells. Two sites currently are receiving multiple truckloads of soil daily from metropolitan areas. One site lies over an aquifer and the other is adjacent to a town well recharge area. The soil being deposited at these sites does not meet the legal definition of hazardous or contaminated soil, but because it is from urban sites with a history of contamination, it poses a significant threat to underground water unless it is tested and monitored. The State intervened after these projects were well underway, one of them for two years, but only after public pressure and publicity, and then only with the voluntary consent of the projects' operators.

The bylaw outlines a permitting process that gives guidance to business who want to reclaim excavated areas in a responsible way. There are multiple unrestored pits in Uxbridge that could be used for farmland, recreation, or wildlife habitat. The bylaw protects the water we depend upon for health and hygiene.

We have worked with the selectmen and town manager to craft this bylaw. It is a good example of citizens and government creating a reasonable and effective law to address common needs.

For further information, visit Uxbridge Citizens for Clean Water on Facebook. Vote YES! on Article 10 on Oct. 25.

Is the real estate market seasonal?

In the fall, I always think this is a good topic to discuss. I think most consumers believe the market is seasonal and there is some truth to that. I think it most important to look at the numbers though. We also want to concentrate on our local market rather than nationally because real estate is a local business even though it can be affected by what is going on nationally and internationally, such as interest rate changes and any news that can positively affect consumer confidence and buyers ability to purchase a home.

If we look at the last 12 months then we see 8,080 homes sold in Worcester County according to the Multiple Listing Service Property Information Network, and during the months of December through February 1,545 homes sold, which encompasses just over 19 percent of the homes that sold in the last 12 months. In the previous year, the number was 20 percent. This data tells me that there is a dip in the winter, but the market just doesn't completely stop. So if you are thinking about selling your home and you are thinking about waiting until the spring because homes don't sell in the winter, I would suggest evaluating your goals to see if it makes more sense just to sell in the winter rather than wait.

The interesting thing is that the market that we have been in for the past few years has been one of shrinking inventory. If I actually go back to 12/01/2014, we had 2,861 homes for sale, on 5/01/2015 we had 2,677 homes for sale, 12/01/2015 we had 2,614 homes for sale and on 5/01/2016 we had 2,179 homes for sale. This shows a shrinking inventory and today we are up to 2,341 homes for sale in Worcester County as of today, and on 10/16/2015 we had 3,154 homes for sale. All this data shows that the inventory builds up and sells off in the fall and winter months and shrinks as we go through the winter with homes selling or being taken off the market. This is a great opportunity for a seller who wants to get their home sold now rather than wait until the spring market.

I would suggest if you are thinking about selling your home now or in the spring to start interviewing realtors and find out what they are saying about your local market in your town, neighborhood and price range. If we break down this data to that level, some towns and price ranges are hot and selling quickly while others are not.

This data covers all of Worcester County, and again, real estate is extremely local and you want to hire an agent who understands your local market and can interpret the market to make sure you are making the right decision for your goals.

The beginning of archery season in Massachusetts

.....
RALPH
TRUE

Archery deer season opened this past Monday in Massachusetts and it has numerous archers spending a lot of time in their tree stand or ground blind, waiting for a big buck to present a good shot.

Archers are a special breed of hunter that take their hunting very seriously. Many have also spent a lot of time scouting prior to deer season and get a bit upset with another archer if they set up their stand close to their spot. To avoid this problem, a hunter should look around to make sure that another tree stand or ground blind is not close by. There are a lot of woods out there, and there is no need to encroach on another hunter.

Archers also need to check with landowners prior to hunting their property. It can avoid a lot of problems during the deer-hunting season. Again this year, deer hunters will not be able to do any Sunday hunting in Massachusetts. It is way overdue but the politicians move very slowly in getting any changes made to our hunting regulations. As previously mentioned in last week's column, the crossbow bill is still the same, allowing only disabled hunters the opportunity to use them, although they have relaxed the regulations a bit. Not every archer is a Davie Crockett, and often make poor shots that result in the loss of the animal. The use of a crossbow could have had different results if the hunter was allowed to use a crossbow. They are extremely accurate if they are used properly.

Goose hunting provided some great shooting last week. Setting up in a cornfield last week, I bumped into an old friend that I have known for years. Bob Bromley has been a sportsman all his life and also mentored his son, taking him hunting and fishing, showing him the proper way to enjoy the sport, and he is now working for an outfitter guiding fly fishing and waterfowl sportsmen. More on his new job in the coming weeks.

Locally, trout fishing anglers are catching many of the recently stocked trout from Wallum Lake in Douglas and Webster Lake. The newly stocked rainbow trout average 12 to 14 inches. Bottom fishing anglers are catching most of the fish on power baits. Hopefully some will be left for ice fishing anglers this winter.

Saltwater fishing for tautog has anglers in Rhode Island waters catching limits of legal size fish. It really picked up last week, according to the Snug Harbor fishing report. Crabs are the number one bait at this time of year. Using a pair of scissors to cut the crabs in half, exposing the meat of the crab, I carefully place the half crab on a 3-0 circle hook and lower it to the bottom. It is not long before a bite is realized. Carefully raising the tip of the rod, a sudden surge in the line has the rod tip bending into the water. When using circle hooks you never set the hook. The hook slowly turns and the fish hook themselves. No more jerking the rod with few hook ups. Anglers using circle hooks catch far more fish than the conventional hooks. Love them or hate them, I prefer circle hooks for much of my bottom fishing. Give them a try.

Sea bass continue to provide fast action on the Rhode Island coast and at the Block. Stripper fishing was slow at the Block during the first part of last week but improved substantially during the second half of the week.

Local duck hunters harvested numerous ducks during the opening season last week with a good number of mallards and wood ducks providing some fast shooting. The male wood duck is a magnificent bird that provides great eating and numerous feathers for the fly tying angler.

Tips to carve out a Halloween display

No traditional New England harvest display would be complete without a parade of fat pumpkins and a sprinkling of assorted gourds.

The simple pumpkin, rich in both nutrition and heritage, has long served as an object of intrigue. In the 17th century fairy tale, Cinderella's coach magically appeared from a large, stout pumpkin; and even today, generations of Native Americans hail the pumpkin's healing seeds as a medicinal sedative. Add in the mystique of the annual Halloween Jack-O-Lantern, and its no wonder both pumpkins and gourds remain an autumn wonder, touted for both their culinary and decorative virtues. Here are some tips to "carve out" a fun fall display!

For carving, choose pumpkins with a sturdy stem, as this is the sign of a healthy pumpkin. Never lift a pumpkin by its stem, not only do you risk it breaking off, a stemless pumpkin ages faster.

If you are tracing a design to carve from a pumpkin or gourd, use a chopstick or nut spear to press into the gourd for a foolproof guideline.

To cut out a top lid that won't fall inside the pumpkin, carve a hexagon shape to keep it sitting pretty throughout the night.

Better yet, cut off the bottom of the pumpkin instead of the top. Place the carved pumpkin over a candle safely set on a plate, or for optimum safety, simply use a flashlight.

If you plan to place a pillar candle inside your Jack-Lantern, first cut a hole in the bottom of the pumpkin the same size as your candle to stabilize it.

For a festive twist on traditional Jack-O-Lantern lights or candles, stuff a string of small white Christmas lights inside the carved pumpkin. Make a hole out the back to feed plug through.

Need a creativity boost? Log onto these websites for pumpkin and gourd designs you can download for free: www.pumpkinmasters.com or www.spookmaster.com.

Carving a gourd? Here's a hint to halt the hassle. Simply place a towel inside a large bowl to hold the gourd steady. Place the gourd in the padded bowl to keep it from moving while you trace or cut.

Did you know? The Japanese considered the gourd a lucky token and believed a set of six gourds had the power to improve health and spiritual power. Plus they believed the set of gourds could produce six fortunes!

Want your Jack-O-Lantern or gourd sculpture to last longer? A spray of Lysol or other disinfectant will prolong life of pumpkins and gourds.

THE

TRAINOR

For long term storage, put a thin amount of petroleum jelly on the exposed, sawed edges. This prevents water from getting out. If water gets out, your pumpkin will shrivel.

Stretch the longevity of a Jack-O-Lantern by giving it a bath. Let the pumpkin float for a few hours, or even overnight, allowing the insides fill with water. Put a little bleach in the water if you wish to prevent mold. The pumpkin absorbs the water and become very firm. Anytime your pumpkin shrivels, soak it in a bath of cold water for one to eight hours to rejuvenate it. **

Another way to extend a lighted Jack-O-Lantern's life is to poke a vent hole or two in the top of the pumpkin to vent the heat and slow the rotting process.

FYI: Jack-O-Lantern Lore — Legend has it the Jack-O-Lantern evolved from an Irish tale involving a drunkard named Jack. According to the longtime yarn, Jack was a trickster who playfully deceived family members. His fate was sealed the day he attempted to trick the devil into climbing an apple tree. Once Jack convinced the devil to climb the tree, he placed crosses around the tree trunk, trapping the devil. With the devil cornered, Jack refused let him down until he promised not to take Jack's soul when he died. The story goes that many years later when Jack died, he couldn't get into heaven, yet he was turned out of hell too, because of the devil's long ago promise. Jack found himself with nowhere to go. He asked the devil how to leave the gates of hell as there was no light to guide him. According to the tale, the devil threw him an ember from the flames of hell to help him light his way. Jack put the burning ember inside a hollowed out pumpkin. From that day on, it is said that Jack wandered the earth without a resting place, lighting his way with his lantern, thus the legend of the "Jack-O-Lantern," was born.

More on why people collect

Some of my past columns have offered reasons that people collect. There may be a connection to happy times in their lives, it may be because they couldn't afford things when they were younger and want to own them now or they may just have an interest in historical items from the past.

"The National Psychologist" website provides a further explanation of the psychology of collecting. During the 1700's and 1800's aristocrats scoured the globe searching for "fossils, shells, zoological specimens, works of art and books." They housed their finds in special rooms called "cabinets of curiosities." Some of the more advanced collectors opened museums with all of their finds.

Modern collectors may collect everything from "Cracker Jack toys to manhole covers." The "National Psychologist" says that some collect for the pure enjoyment and others collect to expand their social lives. They enjoy the camaraderie of meeting and sharing information with others who also collect what they do. They claim that building a great collection brings status for others. Some people find security and a calming effect in arranging, classifying and cataloging items.

The United States Mint estimated that

ANTIQUES,
COLLECTIBLES

WAYNE TUISKULA

120 million people set aside quarters that honored the 50 states. Collecting is part of our culture with scouts able to earn merit badges in collecting. Words were coined to identify many types of collectors. A stamp collector is a philatelist. Numismatics is the study or collecting of coins. Deltiologists collect postcards and horologists collect clocks. There are even names for collectors of more obscure items. Phillumenists collect matchbooks or matchboxes and sacrologists collect sugar packets.

The website rewireme.com provides a list of reasons of "why collecting things you love is good for your brain." Collecting builds observational skills. It improves organizational thinking and enhances pattern recognition. Collecting awakens a desire for knowledge. It inspires creativity. They state that it may forge a commitment to a good cause. By prominently displaying collections it may install a desire to work with a cause related to the collection. It fosters social connections. It may pave the way to a career. Mineral collectors may become geologists. They note that a 19th century student at the University of Cambridge collected beetles. His interest developed into his life's work. The student was Charles Darwin.

Moneycrashers.com notes seven reasons to collect coins. The reasons are to make money, for the challenge, it's educational, for the metal content of the coins, the hobby can be passed on to children and it's a way to relax. If you don't already collect something, there are plenty of reasons to start.

My friends at the Finnish American Heritage Society of Canterbury, Conn., were kind enough to invite me to appraise items and speak at the "Finn Funn" event at the Tori (Finnish Marketplace) at the Fitzwilliam VFW, Fitzwilliam, N.H. on Oct. 29. I'll be appraising items from 9 to 11 a.m. and speaking and doing additional appraisals from 1:30 to 3:15 p.m. The second session of the antique radio auction will take place on Nov. 13 in Carlisle, Mass. Statia A. Brouillard, 98

NORTHBRIDGE — Statia A. (Sobon) Brouillard, 98, died on Monday, Sept. 5 (20 days shy of her 99th birthday), in St. Camillus Health Center, Whitinsville, after a short illness.

Her beloved husband of 69 years, Leo H. Brouillard, died in 2009.

She leaves two sons: John L. Brouillard and his wife, Christine O. (Roy) Brouillard, and Paul E. Brouillard, all of Northbridge; four grandchildren: Jane C. Mason and her husband, Jeffrey C. Mason, of Northbridge, Anne E. Ashe and her husband, Joseph F. Ashe, of Dudley, Robert J. Brouillard and his wife, Christine M. (Soden) Brouillard, of Leicester, and Elizabeth M. Bennett and her husband, Brent L. Bennett, of Holden; six great grandchildren: William J. Tashjian and Samuel C. Tashjian, both of Dudley, Catherine M. Brouillard and Sarah A. Brouillard, both of Leicester, and Ethan S. Bennett and Aidan L. Bennett, both of Holden; three nieces and three nephews.

She was predeceased by her parents, Michael and Bertha (Stadnicki) Sobon; two brothers: John Sobon and Frank J. Sobon; and five sisters: Emily S. Montville, Jennie J. Sobon, Alice M. Carron, Louise S. Sobon and Sophie B. Sobon.

Born in Northbridge on Sept. 25, 1917, she was a lifelong resident of the town. She was educated in Northbridge schools and graduated as a class officer of the Northbridge High School Class of 1935.

Mrs. Brouillard was a faithful and devoted member of St. Peter's Catholic Parish. She was a member of the Ladies of St. Anne Sodality and volunteered and served on several committees, including many years on the Bereavement Baking Committee. A homemaker for most of her life, she worked for several years at Whitin Machine Works in Whitinsville and at General Electric in Ashland in order to help pay for her two sons' college tuitions.

She enjoyed cooking, sewing, doing jumble puzzles, watching "Days of Our Lives," "Wheel of Fortune," "Chronicle," the daily Mass, and the Red Sox. She was able to witness four of the eight Red Sox World Series Championships. Her passion was her family and selfless generosity to family, friends and parish guided her throughout her life.

The Brouillard family would like to take this opportunity to publicly express their thanks to all those who helped her in her last years: her doctors: Wayne Trotter, MD, Alan Moss, MD, Eddison Ramsaran, MD, and Irfahan Asghar, MD; the Fifth Floor staff at Milford Hospital; and, especially, the staff at St. Camillus whose loving care for her and her family was truly exceptional.

Her funeral was held Saturday, Sept. 10, from Turgeon Funeral Home, 80 School St., Northbridge, with a Funeral Mass in St. Peter's Catholic Church, 39 Church Ave. Burial beside her beloved Leo in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Whitinsville, followed the Mass.

In lieu of flowers, contributions in her memory may be made to St. Peter's Parish Renovation Fund, 39 Church Ave., Northbridge, MA 01534 or to the Activities Fund of St. Camillus Health Center, 447 Hill St., Whitinsville, MA 01588.

Jeannine Rita Williams, 81

Jeannine Rita Williams, 81, passed away on Saturday, Oct. 8, with her loving family by her side.

She was born in Calais, Maine, and raised in St. Stephen, NB, Canada, with her brothers Harold who predeceased her and his wife Sally, Tracy and his wife Joyce, and Gary with his wife Marie.

Jeannine was the only daughter of the late Edgar and Mary (Tracy) Burns. Upon moving to the U.S. she met the love of her life Bryce R. Williams Sr. who also predeceased her. She leaves behind three sons, Bryce R. Williams II and wife Patty of Westboro, Dwayne E. Williams and wife Paula of Whitinsville, Jon-Gary Williams and wife Rachel of Chicopee, as well as her two daughters Tracy J. Distefano and husband Ralph of Manchaug, Tricia C. Harris and husband Mike of Sutton. She leaves behind ten adoring grandchildren, Bryce III, Shaun, Tyler, Brittany, Miranda-Bryce, Trinity, Domenic, Andreanna, Caleb, and Cadence.

She was an industrious member of the Massachusetts Nurses Association and held a position on the board of directors for several years. She had also served as President of the Massachusetts Nurses Foundation. While accomplishing all of this, she was presented with many accolades including the 2007 Judith Shindul Rothschild Award and the 2012 MNA Retired Member of the Year Award. Jeannine also spent several years playing in the MNA Rosemary Smith Scholarship golf tournament with her son and friends and was crowned champion several times. She retired in 1997 from the former Westboro State Hospital and began spending her winters as a "Snow Bird" with her brother Tracy, sister-in-law Joyce, and her late mother Mary.

She had a colorful past, which included racing cars in Canada as well as being an avid candlepin bowler for several years, playing in many tournaments throughout New England. At the later stages of life she took up golf and as challenging as it was she loved to play with her friends and family right up until the time she left us. Upon retirement, when home for the summers, she was actively involved in volunteerism. She spent many days helping at the Sutton Senior Center, either checking blood pressures for the members or setting up trips and weekly card games. She also ran a cribbage and pitch league for anyone that was interested in attending at the Dudley Gendron American Legion Post 414.

She would like to thank all of her friends and well-wishers for their support during these trying times. She has too many close friends to mention but you know who you are. Her family would also like to thank all that have given support, many of which were invaluable during this time.

A tribute to Jeannine to celebrate her life was held at the Dudley Gendron Post 414, 158 Boston Road, Sutton, on Friday, Oct. 14.

In lieu of flowers we would encourage all to donate to The Jeannine R Williams Scholarship Fund, MNF, 340 Turnpike St, Canton, MA, c/o Cindy Messia. The family would also be remiss without thanking the wonderful staff at the Salmon VNA and Hospice of Greater Milford. Like her; remember that life is short so live it to the fullest!

UPTON — The Blackstone Valley Tech Culinary Arts Alumni will host a dedication ceremony in honor of Mr. Edward Bracebridge, more commonly known as "Mr. B," on Saturday, Oct. 29.

Spartans' football finds winning form, routs Southbridge 35-0

SOUTHBIDGE — Although it took just five seconds off the official game clock, Uxbridge High's Michael Rosa made two crucial plays when the Spartans visited Harry J. McMahon Field to take on Southbridge High on Friday, Oct. 14.

With Uxbridge ahead, 7-0, Rosa (3 receptions, 25 yards) hauled in a 12-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Max White-Cohen — juking a defender and diving into the end zone.

Five seconds and one snap later, Rosa came up from his defensive safety position and pounced on a fumble to give the Spartans the ball back. Although they didn't score on that ensuing possession, field position switched and Uxbridge forced a punt and then scored a touchdown to go into the halftime break ahead, 20-0.

When all was said and done the Spartans blanked the Pioneers, 35-0.

"We needed to put them away quick, this game was huge for us," said Rosa, whose team shook off two straight losses to improve to 4-2. "This week was a little different, everyone was more focused than we usually are but we were still having fun."

As far as the defensive momentum switcher, Rosa called it being in the right place at the right time.

"They pitched it out, the kid tried catching it with one hand, bobbled it, fell on the ground and I just happened to come up with it," he said.

Uxbridge head coach Bob Martellio was proud of the way the entire defensive unit performed.

"We needed to be physical with Southbridge," he explained. "We needed to match their intensity — they have some big boys up front — and we did that today. We hit and we hit and we hit, and we flew around on defense — that was the key."

On the flip side, Southbridge head coach Frank Koumanelis said that his squad may have packed it in when they fell behind.

"I thought we played better and with more enthusiasm against Grafton than we did tonight," he said of another 35-0 setback two weeks prior. "There was no effort tonight whatsoever. After the first quarter they folded their tent and that was it."

Southbridge appeared to grab momentum first when White-Cohen was picked off by Cameron Miranda, who then stiff-armed a defender and charged down to the Spartans' 12-yard line. But the Pioneers only advanced to the 7, where Uxbridge took over.

They then scored on the ensuing drive, a 93-yarder that took just eight plays. It was capped by a White-Cohen 47-yard touchdown pass to Cameron Butler. Ryley Rosborough's extra point kick made it 7-0.

"We had Max back this week, which helped us," said Martellio of White-Cohen (20 of 30, 266 yards, 4 TD, INT), who didn't play in the Spartan's 21-20 loss to Auburn High a week before due to a high ankle sprain.

The Spartans' 'D' then forced a turnover on downs on Southbridge's next possession, and White-Cohen finished the next drive off with the touchdown pass to Rosa.

After Rosa's fumble recovery and turnover on downs, Southbridge punted away and Uxbridge gained solid field position, starting at the Pioneers' 41. Six plays later, White-Cohen connected with Matthew Johnston (4 receptions, 38 yards) on an 8-yard score, which upped the advantage to 20-0.

In the early moments of the third quarter Uxbridge went ahead 28-0 when White-Cohen hit Butler (5 receptions, 104 yards) for the second time, this one a 30-yard score. White-Cohen's two-point conversion pass went to Domenic Cariglia.

The Spartans closed the scoring nearing the midpoint of the third quarter when Scott Kaeller — taking over for White-Cohen at QB — made the most of his two rushing attempts. First, he cruised down the field for 30 yards before scoring from a yard out on the next snap.

Defensively, Kaeller made a fourth quarter interception off a throw by Southbridge's Ethan Champeau (9 of 20, 95 yards, INT).

"It's always better to win than the alternative," Martellio said. "We have a big one next week, we're going to turn our attention to Grafton."

"Four and two sounds a lot better than three and three," added Rosa. "We have two more big games coming up with Tantasqua and Grafton."

Southbridge is now 1-5 and Koumanelis said that a change

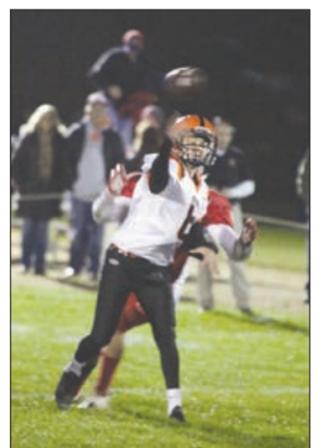

Ryley Rosborough of Uxbridge brings down Southbridge ball carrier Tim Williamson.

Uxbridge's Matthew Johnston wraps up Southbridge's Brian Lopez before bringing him to the ground with a tackle.

Uxbridge's Cameron Butler successfully defends a pass intended for Southbridge's Hayden Blackmore.

Max White-Cohen of Uxbridge launches a 47-yard first quarter touchdown pass en route to the Spartans' 35-0 victory.

is in order.

"You'll take a loss if they played with some effort, but they didn't do that tonight," he said. "We were making a lot of mental mistakes, one after the other. They're going to have to step up."

To add an injury to insult, star tailback Jose "Papi" Miranda rushed 9 times for 29 yards before sitting out the second half with a back issue. Fellow back Brian Lopez carried 6 times for 28 yards.

Whitinsville Christian girls' soccer team sharp in topping Tigers, 5-0

NORTHBRIDGE — The Whitinsville Christian School girls' varsity soccer team took a step closer toward earning a berth in the postseason this week as they upended fellow Dual Valley Conference school Douglas High, 5-0, on Wednesday, Oct. 12.

The Crusaders (6-4-3) rode a strong performance from their defense and their goalkeeper, junior Sarah Moschini, who posted 10 saves in the squad's seventh shutout of the season. Alternately, Douglas (5-7-2) keeper Alisia Guertin made five saves in the defeat.

"I think we're a very capable team, and when it comes to games against good teams — that's a quality team in Douglas over there — our girls are learning to come to play and are starting to believe in themselves," Whitinsville

Christian head coach Beth Cutler said after the victory.

Much of the first half was quiet, with the game going some 33 minutes before the Crusaders finally broke the ice. The goal came off a free kick just to Guertin's left and about 25 yards out, and senior Mikaela VandenAkker hit nothing but net to make it 1-0 with 7:05 left in the half.

"Mikaela scored her first goal on the free kick, the first goal of the game, so that was the game-winning goal," noted Cutler of the nearly perfect shot. "Our offense played really well today and it put a lot of pressure on them. Their keeper made some nice saves too, though. I thought she did a nice job today."

Just 2:05 later, Tatiana Wiersma notched her first of two goals on the day to make it a 2-0 game, taking a nice assist from sophomore Nicolette Scinicariello, and that was how things went into the break.

It didn't take long for the Crusaders to keep the momentum going in the second half of play, as freshman Vicky DeBarros made it a 3-0 game 1:30 into the half. Wiersma then made it 4-0 in the 57th minute, and Scinicariello tacked on the fifth tally for Whitinsville Christian in the waning moments of the contest to seal the 5-0 win.

"That's a great, well-coached team in Douglas, so that's a big win for us, a very big win for us, no doubt about it," Cutler said of the result.

The Tigers' offense put together a flurry late in the game, but Moschini was up to the task, making a pair of top-notch saves to help preserve the shutout victory.

dance — the upcoming Central Mass. Division 4 district tournament.

This week, Douglas visits Blackstone-Millville Regional on Oct. 22 before hosting Nipmuc Regional on Oct. 24 and that same BMR squad on Oct. 27 to conclude the regular season docket.

Whitinsville Christian visits perennial powerhouse Sutton High on Oct. 24 before hosting Trivium on Oct. 26 and wrapping up their season at Tahanto Regional on Halloween afternoon.

"We have committed to ourselves to take it one game at a time," Cutler said of the road ahead. "We keep telling the

Fourth straight win helps Douglas volleyball team inch closer to district berth

BY JON GOUIN
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

DOUGLAS — The Douglas High girls' varsity volleyball team topped visiting South High of Worcester (3-8) on Tuesday, Oct. 11 in a straight set victory, 25-11, 25-18, 25-12. The win was the now 6-4 squad's fourth straight as the Tigers aim for the magic nine-win plateau to earn a berth in the Central Mass. Division 3 district tournament.

"We've had a good stretch," Douglas head coach Ed LaChapelle said after the win over South. "That started with a pretty solid win over Nipmuc where we lost the first set 25-13, then won three straight to take the match. It was big for us. That kind of got our confidence level up."

The Tigers were led by senior co-captain Meghan Carrol (12 service points, 6 aces), Kelcie Novicki (9 service points, 2 aces) and some great backline play from Brynn Hurley, who was filling in for an injured Morgan Mooney.

"Meghan Carroll definitely stood out for us today, she's been playing really well. I thought Brynn [Hurley], a sophomore, played a great back line, she's a good little digger and gets to a lot of balls that in the past we might not have gotten to," LaChapelle said of his top performers on the day.

The Tigers still have matches with strong squads from Sutton High and the Whitinsville Christian School left in their remaining eight games, of which they will need to win three to qualify for districts. This week, the girls head to Blackstone-Millville Regional on Oct. 22, then host Nipmuc on Oct. 24 before visiting Worcester Tech on Oct. 26.

"We've got some very tough opponents coming up, it'll be a good litmus test for us to see just where we're at as we come down the stretch," LaChapelle concluded.

DAR to Salute Veterans

UXBRIDGE — American flags will fly high on Sunday, Nov. 6, as the Town of Uxbridge celebrates Veterans Day with a parade and wreath laying at several war memorials en route to a ceremony on the Town Common.

A special guest, George Mendonsa, of Middletown, R.I., is expected to join political invitees who will speak. His name is unfamiliar to most, but those of a certain age know of the "Kissing Sailor" in the famous Times Square photo taken by Life photographer Alfred Eisenstaedt on VJ Day, Aug. 14, 1945! At age 92, he will be making one of his final public appearances.

In keeping with the DAR mission to promote patriotism and education, the Deborah Wheelock Chapter has invited UPS students to collect 'comfort' items. However, Uxbridge is known as a 'community of caring' so everyone is invited to participate, not just students! Place items — such as personal toiletries (full size only), games, puzzle books, current magazines, "grab-and-go" food like instant oatmeal, crackers, dried fruit/nuts, trail mix — in a gift bag (large or small) and add a thanks-for-your-service note.

Bags will be distributed by the local veterans' agent to patients at the Providence VA Medical Center and clients in their homeless program. Sending many messages of 'we care', we hope to collect hundreds of gift bags and thank you cards at the Simeon Wheelock House on North Main Street during our open house starting at 1 p.m. on Nov. 6. What better way to express thanks?

As a special treat, Mr. Mendonsa has agreed to attend the open house after ceremonies conclude on the Town Common. He will be available for pictures, to autograph a limited number of "Kissing Sailor" photos and sign a book entitled "The ing as the department needed a few new additions in equipment to truly make the color guard work.

“Whether for standing as an Honor Guard or marching as a Color Guard, ceremonial rifles are key as to the finishing touches needed,” the Uxbridge Police Department stated in its announcement on Facebook. “While some departments have modernized and are using M4 style patrol rifles we wished to stay traditional.”

That goal of staying traditional meant the department had to look into purchasing M1 rifles, a traditional weapon used by color guards that, today, are out of date and for many seen as more of a show piece or antique. To buy working and functional M1 rifles would not be a cheap investment and it would also be a difficult task to seek out the rifles on a case by case basis for certain events. So, the Uxbridge Police Department sought the help of the Department of the Army and Civilian Marksmanship Program.

“The Uxbridge Police Department has received nine ceremonial M1 rifles,” the department stated on Facebook. “These rifles have been modified for blank ammunition only. They are on loan and at no cost to the [Uxbridge Police] Department.”

The department is currently seeking membership for the Color Guard from within its fleet of officers and has noted that there is a lot of interest already being generation. Training is expected to commence soon, meaning the guard will soon return as a staple of public events and parades with the flags of the nation and the Commonwealth in hand waving proudly.

Rotary Club announce installation of new members

UXBRIDGE — The Uxbridge Rotary Club is proud to announce the installation of its two newest members — Chris Whitten, owner/broker for Premier Real Estate, Uxbridge, and his colleague, realtor Sheryl Corriveau.

Both are welcome additions to our expanding organization. It’s through our members, we are able to do good in our local community, providing assistance wherever there is a need.

In other local Rotary news, Rotary members Mike Rooney and Nancy Treen, along with members of Uxbridge Student Council worked together to spruce up senior housing in Uxbridge, providing a cheery atmosphere for our elders.

We were fortunate to have Bonnie

Combs of the Blackstone Heritage Corridor speak to us about upcoming events this Fall in our wonder Blackstone Valley and opportunities to make a difference by recycling right here in Uxbridge.

Rotary members Jane Mitchell, Joan McKinnon and Uxbridge Rotary Club President Linn Doll-Butler attended the Billerica, Rotary meeting with special guest Governor Charlie Baker where many issues effecting Massachusetts communities were discussed.

Our fundraiser to provide warm coats for children served by our local food pantries in Uxbridge, Douglas, Northbridge is in full swing, your continued support of this worthy program is greatly appreciated.

It’s not too early to mark your calendars for our highly anticipated Wine and Chocolate Tasting, which is slated for March 2017 at Blissful Meadows Golf Club on Chocolog Road in Uxbridge. The Wine and Chocolate is always a great time for all involved and a fantastic way to help support your local community.

To find out more about how Uxbridge Rotary Club impacts the lives of those here at home as well as internationally, join us for a meeting, Rotary meets the first and third Tuesday of each month at Quaker Tavern, 466 Quaker Highway, Uxbridge, visit our website www.uxbridgerotaryclub.org or like us on Facebook.

Historical Society announces program for upcoming meeting

WHITINSVILLE — The Northbridge Historical Society will meet Monday, Nov. 7, at 7 p.m. at the Whitinsville Social Library. The program for the evening is “Madam Secretary, Frances Perkins,” written and performed by Ann Marie Shea of Worcester.

The one-hour, one-woman performance of Frances Perkins Wilson’s career highlights is based on excerpts from The Roosevelt I Knew by Frances Perkins, used by permission of Curtis Brown Ltd, all rights reserved.

Perkins (1880-1965) was the first woman appointed to the U.S. Cabinet, serving as Secretary of Labor for the Roosevelt administration from 1933 to 1945, where she executed many aspects of the New Deal, which include Social Security, unemployment insurance, forty hour work week, child labor laws, Civilian Conservation Corps & the Public Works Administration.

Her Massachusetts ties are numerous: she was born in Boston, spent most of her childhood in Worcester, and graduated from Mt. Holyoke with degrees in chemistry and physics. The Greendale Branch of the Worcester Public Library is named in her honor, as is Frances Perkins Program at Mt. Holyoke, which allows older married women to complete their bachelor’s degree.

Preceding the performance, a short business meeting, which will include the final arrangements for the Christmas party to be held at the Wayside Inn in Sudbury, will be led by President John W. Walker, Jr.

Police: 'Clowning' around will have consequences

parents reported that their children remained deeply frightened and upset long after the incident.

It was later revealed that the suspect is the parent of one of the students aboard the bus. Even though such incidents may seem to some like harmless pranks, police are hoping residents will think twice before acting in ways that scare people.

"We are hopeful that others will learn from this incident and not repeat these types of behaviors," read a statement issued by the Auburn Police Department. "We sincerely appreciate the assistance of those who contacted us with information that led to this individual being identified."

Reports of threatening clowns have surfaced throughout the country, with the majority of the incidents concentrated in the Carolinas. From clowns accosting pedestrians and drivers, to people in clown outfits posting threatening messages on social media pages, police have received thousands of reports nationwide. Many people are blaming it on a social media firestorm, while others ascribe more sinister reasons to the excessive clown appearances.

Regardless of the cause, police have had enough. As Halloween approaches, law enforcement officials are warning residents that incidents which frighten the public will not be viewed as pranks but crimes.

"Whenever you're putting people in fear – even if you think it's just a prank – the police are going to respond," said Uxbridge Police Chief Jeffrey Lourie.

The Uxbridge PD's school resource officer recently spoke to students about the clown epidemic. Many of the national incidents have involved teenagers dressing as clowns, and reaching out to students has been an effective tool for police. Lourie said the program was well-received by students and their parents.

Meanwhile, police departments across the country are cracking down on social media threats in the wake of multiple schools being threatened nationwide as part of the clown craze. Several of the schools were forced to shut down as investigations ensued.

"We continue to monitor social media for potential issues. We are taking any and all complaints very seriously, and we are asking people to use common sense this Halloween season," said Leicester Police Chief James Hurley.

Police throughout the area will be stepping up patrols this Halloween. They ask residents to enjoy themselves responsibly and recommend keeping the clown garb in the closet – at least for this year.

"Clown costumes may not be the best choice given everything that has happened. We're encouraging people to stay away from that based on what's going on," Hurley added.

McGovern: 'Food banks do incredible work'

tious food for our most vulnerable neighbors."

McGovern commended local food pantries for everything they do to support families, but he knows they can't do it alone. They need constant assistance from donors and volunteers, as well as support from legislators.

"Food banks and food pantries are incredible partners in our efforts to end hunger. They are often the first line of defense in emergency situations," McGovern said. "Ending hunger will take a strong partnership between these organizations and federal, state and local governments."

Volunteers at area food pantries often see families with young children dealing with food insecurity, as well as seniors who forego meals in order to cover other costs. In the cold months, seniors are sometimes forced between staying warm and going hungry.

"A lot of seniors have to decide whether to pay a bill or buy food. We want to do everything we can to help them," said Cheryl Cooney, who has spent the last 15 years as director of the Leicester Food Pantry, in addition to serving as a member of Hearts for Heat.

Working in home health-care, Cooney regularly sees seniors choosing between heat, prescription medications and food. Countless others are one lost job or sickness away from requiring food pantry assistance.

"There is nothing worse as a home care health provider than to go into a cold house to visit a sick senior who has limited funds for food and medications," Cooney said.

For many residents, they don't understand the vital role of food pantries until they require the services themselves.

"I had cancer three years ago, ended up losing my job," said a lifelong Northbridge resident who preferred not to provide his name for this article. "You never think it will happen to you, but there I was – trying to recover, bills stacking up, no job. You can't buy food and pay all your bills without a job, and it seemed like there was nowhere to turn. But the food bank was there for me. That was huge."

In his time spent at food banks across the state and beyond, McGovern has seen countless similar stories of hardship leading to food insecurity. To ensure that food banks continue to have adequate funding and resources, he is promoting the need for support at all levels.

"Many [food pantries] are small and only open on limited schedules. Most are run with the support of dedicated volunteers, some of whom have other full-time jobs," McGovern explained. "Often, these charities operate out of small spaces like basements or closets at houses of worship. And importantly, they rely on donations from members of the community as a primary source of food to distribute."

For a complete listing of food pantries in your area, visit www.foodpantries.org.

NEWS BRIEFS

McGovern announces grants for local parks

SUTTON — Congressman Jim McGovern is pleased to announce $950,000 in federal grant money from the National Park Service's Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF) Grant Program to parks and recreational projects in Worcester, Northampton, Leominster, Northborough and Sutton.

On Saturday, McGovern was in Sutton to announce $150,000 to Marion's Camp Lodge for renovations and woodland trail development. Located on Lake Singletary in Sutton, for nearly 60 years, Marion's Camp served as the Central Mass Camp Fire Camp, hosting youth from all over Worcester County.

The grant money will be used to restore and renovate the camp's historic Goddard Lodge, named after the Camp's namesake Marion Goddard, into a multi-use facility for community events and the Town's summer recreation programs. McGovern was joined for the announcement by Sutton Board of Selectmen Chair John Hebert, Selectman Jesse Limanek, Town Administrator James Smith, State Representative Joseph D. McKenna (R-Webster), and Sutton Town Planner Jen Hager.

"For more than 40 years the Land and Water Conservation Fund has helped Massachusetts protect our parks and open spaces. I have long been a proud champion of the LWCF and the work it does to help cities and towns leverage federal dollars to spur local investment in these vital conservation projects," McGovern said. "Thank you to the Baker-Polito Administration for working to bring these smart investments to our state. I look forward to seeing these federal dollars in action in Worcester, Sutton, Leominster, Northampton, Northborough, and across Massachusetts."

Alternatives seeks public's help in finding historical items

WHITINSVILLE — The Blackstone Valley has a rich history and an important place in the birth of America's industrial revolution. Alternatives is headquartered in one of the region's historic sites, the Whittin Mill in Whitinsville. The agency is in the process of developing a video, as well as permanent signage at the Whittin Mill, to showcase the region's heritage. Plans are also in the works for an historical museum to be housed at the Mill.

Alternatives is now reaching out to the public for help in gathering historical relics to be included in these projects. Specifically, they are seeking photos, drawings, etchings and engravings from the 1800's on, depicting the town of Whitinsville, the Whittin family and their companies, and mill life. This is an opportunity to have your family heirlooms preserved for generations to come.

All works submitted will be scanned and returned to their owners. To find out more, go to www.AlternativesNet.org/WhittinImages or contact Cristi Collari at 508-234-6232. Image submissions are requested by Nov. 4.

VOTING

however, once a voter has cast an early voting ballot, the voter may no longer vote at the polls on Election Day.

For the first time in Massachusetts, the first choice all voters will make is which day to vote. Early voting will make the most fundamental right of our citizens more convenient than ever to exercise. We encourage all of our citizens to exercise that right and take advantage of the opportunity to vote on their schedules.

UXBRIDGE

UXBRIDGE — We are excited to announce that all registered voters will be able to vote before Election Day for the first time ever in Massachusetts. Early voting will begin on Oct. 24 and continue through Nov. 4.

Prior to the enactment of this new law, the only way a registered voter was allowed to vote prior to Election Day was through absentee voting. Although absentee voting will still be available for registered voters who qualify, only those who will be absent from their city or town on Election Day, or have a disability that prevents them from going to the polls, or have a religious belief preventing the same, are legally allowed to vote by absentee ballot.

Unlike absentee voting, early voting is for every registered voter. Registered voters do not need an excuse or reason to vote early. Regardless of whether a voter wants to take advantage of early voting, vote absentee or vote on Election Day, the first step is making sure you are registered. To check to see if you are registered to vote, and to find information on how to register to vote, you may visit the Secretary of the Commonwealth's website: www.sec.state.ma.us/ele. If you need to register to vote, you may do it online by visiting: www.RegisterToVoteMA.com. All you need is a license or an I.D. issued by the Registry of Motor Vehicles to apply online.

Early voting can be done in person or by mail. In Uxbridge, early voting can be done in person at Uxbridge Town Hall, 21 S. Main St, Uxbridge, MA 01569 during normal business hours. For public convenience, Uxbridge has also decided to offer weekend hours on Saturday, Oct. 29, at Town Hall, from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m., and 1-3 p.m., Oct. 27, at the Senior Center, 36 S. Main St, Uxbridge, MA 01569.

Also, registered voters have the option to request an early voting ballot through the mail. Simply fill out an application and mail it to Uxbridge Town Clerk, 21 South Main St, Uxbridge, MA 01569. You can find the application on the Secretary of the Commonwealth's website: <http://www.sec.state.ma.us/ele>.

Please note, however, once a voter has cast an early voting ballot, the voter may no longer vote at the polls on Election Day.

For the first time in Massachusetts, the first choice all voters will make is which day to vote. Early voting will make the most fundamental right of our citizens more convenient than ever to exercise. We encourage all of our citizens to exercise that right and take advantage of the opportunity to vote on their schedules.

Friday's Child

Ten-year-old Yessenia and seven-year-old Jeremiah are a sibling group of Hispanic descent. Yessenia is an energetic fourth grader who enjoys playing with other children, riding her bike, playing outside, and listening to music. She loves fashion and enjoys trying on different outfits and jewelry. Yessenia enjoys school and although behind grade level, she is making progress with the help of her Individualized Educational Plan (IEP). Yessenia is strong minded and at times can become frustrated when things aren't going her way. She is continuing to learn healthy ways to communicate and learn coping skills.

Jeremiah is an independent child with is talkative and has a wonderful sense of humor. Jeremiah enjoys reading books, coloring, and playing with his cars. He plays well with other children and enjoys being with his friends and teachers. Jeremiah is currently in the 2nd grade. In play therapy, Jeremiah receives support around understanding limits, boundaries, and following directions.

Yessenia and Jeremiah are part of a sibling group of three. They will need a family that will allow them continued contact with their brother who is not able to be placed with them at this time. Their social worker is open to exploring families who are prepared for two energetic, funny, and courageous siblings who are ready to be placed with their forever family!

What does Adoption Cost?

It costs little or nothing to adopt a child from foster care. Unlike international or private adoptions, there is no adoption agency fee. There are also a number of free post-adoption support services available to families statewide, including support groups and respite care. Children with special needs who are adopted from the foster care system are eligible for ongoing financial and medical assistance after adoption. These children are also eligible for a tuition waiver to attend a Massachusetts state college or university.

To learn more about Yessenia and Jeremiah, and about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-54-ADOPT (617-542-3678) or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

Put A Great New Face On Your Fireplace

(NAPS)

Here's a hot tip from decorating experts: A small change can have a big effect on the look of a room.

For example, consider refacing your fireplace. It's as easy to do as changing your kitchen countertops—and with today's natural thin stone veneers, it's also cost effective. That's because when you're looking for materials that are beautiful, durable and versatile, natural thin stone veneer can be a surprisingly affordable choice, which can even help to raise the resale value of your home.

From the Pyramids to the Parthenon, natural stone has long provided aspirational design and durability. Now, natural thin stone veneer can be cut from 100 percent natural quarried stone... so even a thin slice offers some of the same durability, low maintenance and aesthetic qualities of the thicker version. In addition, natural thin stone veneer is widely available.

Because of its reduced weight, natural thin stone veneer is extremely versatile. It requires no additional foundation support and installs, often easily, over existing rigid materials such as brick and concrete block, turning a small remodeling project into one with impressive design results. Ninety-degree angles that can be cut from full-thickness stones are used in corner applications, concealing the true thickness of the stone. The overall cost-effective result is a unique fireplace that looks like a traditional full-thickness installation.

Natural thin stone veneer is available in a multitude of stone types, including limestone, granite, bluestone, sandstone and quartzite, and is available in a wide variety of styles, textures, cuts and colors, making it easy to integrate into existing design schemes from modern to traditional.

What's more, unlike its man-made counterparts, natural thin stone veneer doesn't fade in color, so your fireplace will maintain its lasting beauty.

Because custom or one-of-a-kind products often come with a hefty price tag, homeowners are generally unwilling to splurge on renovations. However, because stone is a natural, nonmanufactured product, no two pieces are exactly alike—offering a custom look every time. Natural thin stone veneer makes this opportunity one step more convenient, as it gives you the custom-made look in a most cost-efficient application.

For those who are eco-conscious, natural thin stone veneer offers many sustainable attributes. It is also virtually maintenance-free, which will allow you to spend less time worrying and more time enjoying your “new” fireplace with family and friends.

Tips For Getting Your Outdoor Power Equipment Ready For Winter

(NAPS)

Fall is here, and as cold weather creeps in, it's time to put away your spring and summer outdoor power equipment, such as lawn mowers, leaf blowers, chain saws and trimmers, and get out what you will need for winter, such as snow throwers, generators and other small-engine equipment.

The Outdoor Power Equipment Institute (OPEI), an international trade association representing more than 100 power equipment, engine and utility vehicle manufacturers and suppliers, offers tips to help home and business owners prepare for the weather change.

“Doing good maintenance in the fall means that your equipment will be in good shape when spring arrives and you want to tackle landscaping projects again,” said Kris Kiser, president and CEO of OPEI. “Now is also the time to do snow thrower and generator maintenance and review safe handling procedures so you are ready when the snow flies.”

First, review your owner's manual for your equipment. Re-familiarize yourself with how to handle your equipment safely and any maintenance needs. If you lost your manual, you can usually find it online.

1. Service all your equipment. Before storing equipment, clean and service it yourself or take it to a small-engine repair shop. For instance, drain and change engine oil and dispose of old oil safely. Service the air filter and perform other maintenance activities as directed by your service manual. Check all winter equipment and see what maintenance and repairs are required, as well.

2. Recharge the battery. If your equipment has a battery, remove and fully charge it before storing or to ready your winter equipment for a sudden, unexpected weather event.

3. Handle fuel properly. Unused gas left in gas tanks over the winter can go stale. It can even damage your equipment. For equipment you'll store over the winter, add fuel stabilizer to the gas tank, then run the equipment to distribute it. Turn the engine off, allow the machine to cool, then restart and run until the gas tank is empty. For winter equipment, be sure you know the appropriate fuel for your equipment. Most outdoor power equipment, for instance, was designed, built and warranted to run on 10 percent or less ethanol fuel.

4. Shelter your equipment from winter weather. Store your spring and summer equipment in a clean and dry place such as a garage, barn or shed. Winter equipment should also be away from the weather elements but available for use when needed. Always keep your outdoor power equipment out of the reach of children.

5. Do a yard clean-up. Clear the paths you use regularly, especially during the winter. Make space in your garage or basement before the weather changes so you have room to store larger yard items, such as patio furniture, umbrellas and summer toys.

6. If you are getting out winter equipment, such as a generator or snow thrower, review safe handling procedures. Familiarize yourself with your equipment, making sure you know how to turn the machine on and off and how to use the equipment safely.

7. Find and prepare to fill your gas can. Buy the type of fuel recommended by your equipment manufacturer no more than 30 days before you will use it. Remember, use fuel with no more than 10 percent ethanol in outdoor power equipment. Also, fuel goes stale and will need to be replaced if you have not used it within a month. And remember to use a fuel stabilizer if recommended by your manufacturer.

Get more information on safe fueling for outdoor power equipment at www.LookBeforeYouPump.com and find additional safety tips at www.OPEI.org.

A More Energy- And Cost-Efficient Heating And Cooling Solution

Ductless mini-split systems can save homeowners up to 25 percent on their utility bills and allow for individual, room-by-room temperature control.

(NAPS)

As the temperature plummets, homeowners will crank up the heat to keep warm and toasty—quickly burning through money and energy. In fact, home heating uses more energy and costs more money than any other system in your home, typically making up nearly half of your utility bill. So what's the best way to keep the cold out, the heat in, and your energy bill down?

There are several types of heating systems that range from blowing hot air through ductwork to piping hot water through your floor. Forced-air systems, the most common type, heat quickly and evenly, but many are not energy efficient and some users complain that moving air is noisy and blows allergens around the house. In addition, they require ductwork, which many older homes don't have.

Americans are largely unaware of one heating option called ductless mini-split systems, distributed by several companies including Fujitsu General America. While the majority of HVAC systems in Asia and Europe are already ductless, they are rapidly gaining traction in North America, with mini-split systems projected to enjoy an annual growth rate of 14 percent each year through 2020.

Energy Bill Savings Up To 25 Percent

The high energy efficiencies of mini-split systems can save homeowners up to 25 percent of utility bills simply because they eliminate wasteful ducts. In fact, duct losses can easily account for more than 30 percent of energy consumption, especially if the ducts are not sealed tightly or are located in an unconditioned space such as an attic or crawl space. Ductless mini-splits forgo those energy losses typically associated with forced-air systems. This is particularly good news for older homes, homes without existing ductwork or homes with seasonal additions, such as a sunroom. Installing ductwork is expensive and requires cutting holes in walls, floors and ceilings, or decreasing closet space. Ductless systems require only a two- or three-inch hole just outside the wall and are also whisper quiet.

End Energy Waste And Thermostat Wars

Mini-splits feature custom zone control, enabling homeowners to connect two to eight indoor units to a single outdoor unit. Since each of the zones has its own thermostat, you heat only the areas you want and disregard those that are unoccupied. This can represent a significant savings considering the kitchen, dining room, living room and bedrooms are left unoccupied for at least 40 percent of the time. In addition, everyone can adjust each room to the temperature he or she wants—year-round—virtually eliminating the “thermostat wars,” with family members fighting for their personal climate preferences.

Extra Low Temperature Protection

It's important to choose a reputable heating and cooling system that is equipped to handle your individual requirements. Fujitsu General's line of mini-split systems have a performance success rate of more than 99 percent and come in numerous sizes, styles and rated outdoor temperatures. The Extra Low Temperature Heating (XLTH) Series features outdoor condensing units engineered to operate in temperatures down to -15° F, lower than any other mini-split available today.

Mini-split systems may take as little as a day or two to install, depending on how many units you put in. To learn more or find a contractor nearby, call (888) 888-3424 or visit www.constantcomfort.com or www.fujitsugeneral.com.

Seven Safety Tips For Protecting Your Child

(NAPS)

According to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, some 70,000 children under age 5 are injured every year by common household products and toys—but yours don't have to be among them.

Here are seven ways to keep infants and toddlers safer:

1. Cook safely. Never leave food unattended on the stove. Turn pot handles so curious toddlers can't reach them.

2. Set your water heater to 120° F or lower. Infants and small children may not be able to get away from water that's too hot.

3. Use home safety devices, such as guards on windows above ground level, stair gates and guardrails.

4. Keep medicines, cleaning products and other toxic substances where children can't see or reach them.

5. Make sure children are properly buckled up. With a 90 percent misuse rate for installing car seats and boosters, parents should visit a car seat inspection station in their area to learn how to properly install and use them.

6. Always check the age label on toys. Small parts—whether from toys, pieces of food such as hot dogs or grapes, or anything else—can become a choking risk for children who have small throats and tend to put things in their mouths.

7. Check window coverings for exposed or dangling cords, which can pose a strangulation hazard to infants and young children.

Parents with young children should replace their corded window coverings with the many cordless products.

To assist the consumer, the Window Covering Manufacturers Association (WCMA) created the Best for Kids certification program.

For their products to be eligible for certification as safe for homes with small children, manufacturers must meet specified program criteria and submit their window coverings to a designated third-party testing laboratory.

A few simple precautions—such as installing cordless window coverings—can help you keep your children safe at home.

Throughout the year and particularly during October, which is National Window Covering Safety Month, parents are urged to maximize window cord safety by taking these three steps:

- Install only cordless window coverings or those with inaccessible cords. Replace window blinds, corded shades and draperies with those that are cordless or have inaccessible cords. Look for the Best for Kids label.

- Move all cribs, beds, furniture and toys away from windows and window cords of any kind, preferably to another wall.

- When window cords are present, keep them out of sight and reach by shortening or tying them up and away.
