Brothers Ryan Dugan and Chris Lindstrom will work the sidelines together as part of the Shepherd Hill Regional varsity football team. Dugan is the head coach while Lindstrom, who currently plays for the Atlanta Falcons of the NFL, has the opportunity to be an assistant this spring due to the Fall II season as a result of the Coronavirus pandemic.

DUDLEY — On an unseasonably warm and sunny late winter day in early March, Chris Lindstrom, 23 months removed from being the 14th overall pick in the 2019 National Football League (NFL) Draft, was at Richard Carmignani Memorial Field, giving back to his alma mater. The 24-year-old Lindstrom, a standout at Boston College during his collegiate career, was not there just to meet and greet the latest edition of the Shepherd Hill Regional football team, take a few pictures and give some kind of motivational speech, however. He was there as a member of the Rams' 2021 coaching staff. The six-foot-four-inch, 307-pound former First Team All-ACC offensive guard was taking his coaching responsibilities seriously, too. During the 90-minute practice Lindstrom was in constant motion, coaching all aspects of the game, from the offensive line — his specialty — to the linebackers to the punt team. He could be seen on several occasions taking kids aside following a specific play to provide tips and pointers. "The kids are the best thing about this; I absolutely love the kids," Lindstrom said about his coaching stint. "It's so fun working with them every day. They're giving me more than I'm giving them."

New contract signed with CCL Landscaping

BY JASON BLEAU
VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON — Charlton will be sticking with a familiar name to maintain its recreational properties for the next few years after signing a new contract with CCL Landscaping to continue providing mowing and snow removal services. Selectmen approved the new contract during a meeting on March 9 with CCL Landscaping being the only bidder for the service. Town Administrator Andrew Golas detailed the cost and length of the new contract which will begin immediately. "This bid is for three years, effective Feb. 1, 2021 to Jan. 31, 2024. Mowing services only is for $60,000 each year for three years. Snow removal is based upon the size of the storm and there's a bid sheet for those rates. CCL Landscaping has been maintaining the mowing and snow removal services for the last three years," Golas said. When asked to detail the changes in the contract Golas said the town will be paying less for mowing, but potentially more for snow removal. Taking into account all three years of the contract, the total cost of mowing comes in at $180,000, while snow removal, which could change depending on the number of storms, is projected at $37,000. The previous contract that expired in January cost the town $183,000 for mowing over three years and $33,150 for snow removal. Selectman Stephen Koronis commented that he would have liked to see more than one bidder come forward to provide cost comparisons to the town. However, selectmen noted that the bidding process was an open process for any interested party and that it's not uncommon for only one bidder to show interest in a project. CCL Landscaping is a local business based in Charlton which means that the town is staying local for its mowing and snow removal services.

School officials lay out timeline for return to classrooms

BY JASON BLEAU
VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY/CHARLTON — As of March 15, the Dudley-Charlton Regional School District began the process of inviting students back into the classroom for full-time in-person learning. Since moving to remote learning nearly a year ago due to the COVID-19 pandemic the district has, at most, embraced a hybrid system combining days of in-person learning with designated remote learning days in order to prevent large groups of students from being in the schools at the same time. On March 15, students returned to the classroom for their first full week of in-person learning in the current school year, albeit with a string of five half days. This is just the start for the district as Massachusetts continues to loosen COVID restrictions with the rollout of a vaccine. District Superintendent Steven Lamarche explained in a letter to parents that the district will reopen slowly starting in the month of April when kindergarten and elementary school students will become the first to reenter the classroom for full days of in person learning. "All K-4 elementary students are now scheduled to return to full in-person learning five full days per week starting Monday, April 5, 2021. elementary principals will provide more information as we prepare for this transition. For questions about your child's school, contact your student's respective principal," Lamarche wrote. Next in line will be middle schoolers who will return to the classroom for full in-person learning on April 26. Like the elementary schools, parents will be provided more information on that transition from their respective principals as the date draws near. Finally, high schoolers will transition last with Shepherd Hill expected to return to full-day in-person classes on May 3. "The state has not provided regulatory guidance for full in-person learning five full days per week for high schools, therefore we will maintain the prior School Committee approved date of return to full in-person learning five full days per week starting Monday, May 3, 2021 for Shepherd Hill," Lamarche wrote. "This date is subject to change, and will be revisited at future School Committee meetings. Principal Chaplin will provide more information as we prepare for this transition." With the transition to full-day in-person learning inevitable before the end of the school year the district is also imploring parents and students to continue to exercise safe practices as the COVID-19 pandemic persists. The district's COVID Trees and Protocol document has been made available on the district's website as well as a COVID dashboard with related information about the virus. Parents and students are also requested to continue to complete daily self-certification and screen forms which are also available on the district's Web site. "This is a critical first safety step in the daily management of our schools. We are not just asking families to complete this, it is a staff requirement," Lamarche said of the screening forms. "As a participant, I can share, once the habit is established it is quite easy to remember to do it before entering our schools. Therefore, I plead with all of you to do the right thing to help the advancement of increased in-person learning in the Dudley-Charlton Regional School District for the remaining months of school. Help keep COVID out of our schools as much as humanly possible."

Bay Path Practical Nursing student to receive scholarship from MARILN

Tianna Welcome

CHARLTON — Tianna Welcome, a Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy student, has been named as the 2021 Massachusetts Rhode Island League for Nursing (MARILN) PN Scholarship. In an email by Sheila Blomquist, MARILN Administrative Director, on behalf of the MARILN Scholarship Committee, Welcome was notified and congratulated. Welcome was also invited to attend the MARILN virtual Spring Conference on March 26. A resident of Oxford, Welcome plans to use the $600 scholarship award to further her education. During Term I (ending December 2020), Welcome qualified for induction to the National Technical Honor Society. Welcome and the PN Class of 2021 started in August 2020 with face-to-face learning including clinicals under the strict CDC guidelines of face coverings, physical distancing, and frequent handwashing. "What is great about the Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy is that there are provisions for remote learning, lectures were seamlessly moved to an online format when needed," says Welcome. She is expected to complete the practical nursing certification program in June 2021. A doting mother to 8-year-old daughter, Natalia, Welcome earned her Medical Assisting Certificate at Salter College, Dean's List in 2014. Her future career goals include becoming a Registered Nurse. "I can see myself as a team leader, taking all the skills I have learned and paying it forward. I want to continue building trusting relationships with residents, families, and my team," she stated. Further, Welcome plans to

“Start growing a herb garden,” say local gardening experts

BY GUS STEEVES
CORRESPONDENT

REGION — Even though it hit 65 degrees last week, it’s still too early to plant outside. But many people have food, herbs and flowers started indoors, and now is an ideal time to learn something new about gardening.

That’s the energy behind a regional library collaboration to provide online programs from educators at Blackstone Valley Veggie Gardens. It began Feb. 23 and runs every Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. on Zoom through April 20.

Last week’s session looked at growing herbs.

“If you want to do something easy, no muss, no fuss, start growing a herb garden,” said Kathleen Donovan, who has grown them for food, medicine and gifts for many years. Later, she added, “...If you want to be self-sufficient in the Covid and post-Covid age, you want to save your seeds.”

Starting them from seed “can be tricky because herb seeds are tiny,” but it’s easy from cuttings taken from last year’s plants.

Typically, Donovan said, that should be done “at the end of summer, once the plants are big.” She showed two short videos – one with Donna Emery, the other with an unnamed male gardener – talking about how to do it. He described the ideal cuttings as being “semi-ripe,” with the base “slightly woody,” coming from healthy but not yet flowering plants. If you get a clean four- to six-inch cut just below a leaf joint, they can be stored in the fridge up to 12 hours before dipping them in an organic gel (Donovan later noted unpasteurized honey or cinnamon work well). They generally root in six to eight weeks, but sometimes take up to four months in a greenhouse, cold frame or under a clear plastic bag, provided they’re not in direct sunlight. When the roots form, they can be potted and/or transferred to the garden, he said.

Emery noted best results require pots with a “lightweight cutting mix” of vermiculite and peat (can make it yourself, but it’s also cheap by the bag). That’s also how she starts from seed, a more complex process. Because “many seeds need light to germinate,” it’s very easy to plant them too deep; all they need is a sprinkling of soil atop them and plenty of water, she said.

They should be started indoors in a warm, well-lit area that’s not in direct sunlight until the shoots come up. When outdoor conditions are good, and the plants are big enough, they can be “hardened” over three or four days in warm shade outdoors, but brought back inside at night.

“Basil is probably the easiest herb to grow,” but “it can’t tolerate any cold” and needs night temperatures above 40 degrees, Emery said. Donovan agreed, describing it as “a finicky annual” that comes in many varieties, but is one of the things she “must do every year.”

“I don’t think it’s summer until I’ve had my caprese salad,” made from tomatoes, mozzarella and basil, she said. It’s also a well-known ingredient in pesto (garlic, basil and olive oil with or without pine or other nuts) and can become a tea.

Donovan summarized planting issues and uses of several well-known herbs, both annuals and perennials. One of the former is parsley, which is actually a biennial that is a “reasonably sized plant” which dies with frost; that year is best for the leaves. The second year it’s “a parsley tree, almost”; that’s when you get the seeds.

Also popular is cilantro, a parsley relative which is a perennial in areas warmer than New England (planting zone 6A). The plant goes to seed rapidly in heat. She noted the seed (called coriander, which she likes) “doesn’t have the least flavor profile of the leaf” (which she doesn’t). The leaf is a well-known part of Mexican dishes. When ground to powder, the seeds are a key ingredient in India’s garam masala.

Medicinally, chamomile is good to have around. Donovan said she “take[s] it every day and it really cut down my migraines;” it also helps reduce inflammation and can make sleep come more easily. She said she only uses the dried flowers, but other sources note the leaves are also safe.

Dill provides a good example of alternative uses. Besides its leaves and seeds being good for flavoring, oil distilled from them is used in soap, she said.

For perennials, Donovan focused on the large mint family, which are “extremely hardy.” She noted they’re “extremely aggressive at the root, so I suggest you grow it in its own pot.” One mint is lemon balm, which isn’t quite as aggressive but a “very prolific spreader.

... You never know where it’ll come up.” Like chamomile, it has mild sedative qualities. Several species of mint grow wild in New England.

She also cited sage and oregano – a “hardy perennial, but loses flavor rather quickly;” when fresh “it’s out of this world.” It also “seems to do a good job on colds,” and other sources note sage has antibiotic traits.

Donovan observed that most perennial herb seeds are “very small,” showing a photo of dozens of them dwarfed by a dime. Herbs generally “don’t have huge roots ... they’re very fragile.” That often makes them hard to transplant, and means they do best in “light and fluffy” soil (“far less than a quarter inch”) rather than denser dirt or pure compost. Likewise, “if you plant [the seed] down too much ... before it pops up, it’s going to run out of steam.”

“It’s good to grow herbs right with your veggies, not only because you get the benefits, but herbs also help repel pests,” she noted. She listed several examples, including dill (repels aphids, squash bugs, cabbage loopers), basil (repels flies and mosquitoes, as do several lemon-scented plants), oregano (“repellant to many pests”) and several mints (repels fleas and squash bugs).

When harvested, most of them can be dried simply by hanging loose bundles of them or laying them flat on a cookie sheet. But the catch is to make sure “they’re bone, bone, bone dry,” because storing them afterward in any container will allow mold to develop otherwise. You can also use a dehydrator on the lowest setting, but that will require frequent checking.

“I grow a lot of things I don’t like [to eat],” Donovan added. “I have to grow things just to see I can do it.”

People can sign up for future gardening forums by going to the websites of the Southbridge, Sturbridge, Charlton, Oxford or Sutton public libraries.

Old master paintings — and issues of art restitution — the focus of new exhibit at Worcester Art Museum

WORCESTER — This spring, the Worcester Art Museum (WAM) will present an exhibition of works from the collection of Dr. Richard Neumann (1879-1959), a discerning and prolific Austrian businessman of Jewish heritage who was committed to promoting the important role of the arts in civic life—and whose collection of more than 200 paintings and sculptures was confiscated by the Nazis through forced sales or outright theft.

Titled What the Nazis Stole from Richard Neumann (and the search to get it back), the exhibition includes 12 Old Master paintings and two sculptures and will trace his and his family's efforts to reclaim these works over the last 70 years. The exhibition opens April 10, and will continue through Jan. 16, 2022, after which the loans will be integrated into WAM's existing Old Master collection galleries, further enhancing the Museum's presentation of such works—and in keeping with Dr. Neumann's lifelong desire to have great art accessible and enjoyed by the public.

Born in Vienna to a well-to-do family of textile manufacturers, Richard Neumann was both president of his family's company—which had mills throughout Austria and Bohemia—and a lover of the arts who earned his Ph.D. at the University of Heidelberg. By the age of 42, he had assembled a grouping of works of such quality that 28 of the pieces were given the status of Viennese "landmarks" in 1921. Among these were the left and right wings of a 16th-century triptych by the Dutch painter Maerten van Heemskerck and two sculptures by Alessandro Algardi and Guiseppe Sanmartino. Also included in this exhibition and the loan to WAM are works by Alessandro Magnasco, Giovanni Battista Pittoni the Younger, and Alessandro Longhi.

Following Nazi Germany's annexation of Austria in 1938, Neumann's collection was inventoried in accordance with anti-Jewish laws put in place by the Nazis and most of it was seized through a series of forced sales and the denial of requests for export licenses. Art historian Sophie Lillie documented some 50 of the stolen works in her book "Was einmal war" ("what once was") based on inventories of art works recovered by the "Museum Men" at the end of the second World War. In 1938, Richard Neumann and his wife Alice fled from Vienna to Paris, taking with them some 38 works from their collection. They lived in Paris for a while after the Nazi invasion of France, but in 1942 they managed to escape to the unoccupied zone and eventually to Cuba. At that time, they lost the remaining works of art in their possession.

As a refugee in Cuba during and some years after the end of WWII, Dr. Neumann initially worked as a foreman at a textile factory, while lecturing on art in the evenings to both other escapees and Cuban audiences. Realizing that Cuba lacked a world-class museum, he undertook a major role in the creation of Havana's Palacio de Belles Artes. During this period, he also began an effort to recover his collection but was consistently thwarted by various Austrian museum and cultural officials. In the early 1950s, Dr. Neumann relocated from Havana to New York City to be closer to his daughters. He died in New York in 1959. In the late 1990s, when museums around the world had come to agreements on restituting works of art stolen by the Nazis, his grandchildren resumed the fight for the recovery of his collection. To date, some 16 pieces have been returned to the family, of which 14 are in this exhibition.

"Richard Neumann was clearly a discerning collector with an eye for fine works of art and, at the same time, a connoisseur who believed in the obligation to promote the role of the arts in civic life," said Claire Whitner, the James A. Welu Curator of European Art at the Worcester Art Museum. "While his family's struggle for the restitution of his collection is all too emblematic of the challenges faced by many other Jewish collectors of that period, we are tremendously grateful to his family for their generosity in committing to this long-term loan of these works, which will make it possible for a new generation of audiences to admire them, as well as for us to conduct new research and scholarship."

"My grandfather had a deep love and understanding of timeless fine art, and of its importance to a civilized society," said Tom Seldorff, grandson of Richard Neumann. "It's been a privilege to work on recovering some of his collection and to pass his passion on to our children and grandchildren."

Recognizing the very personal nature of the works in What the Nazis Stole from Richard Neumann, the design of the exhibition will emphasize that the collection was private property kept in the home, by creating a space that evokes what a family parlor in Vienna of this period might have looked like. A floor-to-ceiling reproduction will be created, made from a photograph of the family's Vienna home. Period-appropriate seating will also be included, so that visitors can view part of the collection from the vantage point they would have had as guests of the Neumann's. There will also be books in this parlor seating area that relate to the topic of Nazi-era provenance and restitution claims, underscoring the challenges that many families have faced since the end of World War II.

Throughout the exhibition, information will be presented that engages art history, historical context—in particular, how these works were seen and presented at the time Neumann lived in Vienna—and the process by which the Neumann family was deprived of these works. Because Neumann wrote extensively on aesthetic theory in European art and art historical trends, the exhibition is an opportunity to explore attitudes towards Old Master paintings from the early 20th century—just as Vienna was becoming a center for modern art. Supporting the exhibition's focus on restitution, and the research required for that process, a couple of paintings will be installed so that visitors can view both the front and back, to illustrate how the backs of frames and backing boards can be used as keys to trace a work's provenance.

"What the Nazis Stole from Richard Neumann (and the search to get it back)" is sponsored by Fallon Health. Additional support has been provided by the Jewish Federation of Central Massachusetts, The Strassler Center for Holocaust and Genocide Studies at Clark University, the PEACE Fund, Marlene and David Persky, Carol and Michael Sleeper, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Dean, Dr. Shirley S. Siff, Johanna D. Drooz Yoffie and Alan S. Yoffie, Carol Seager and anonymous donors.

WAM's exhibition builds on an earlier presentation that included two other restituted works from the Neumann collection. In 2010, Martin Johann Schmidt's Saint Florian and Saint Neopomuk—the two outer panels of a triptych by the prolific 18th century artist who was known as the "Kremser Schmidt" after his hometown of Krems—were featured in the exhibition The Secret Life of Art: Mysteries of the Museum Revealed at the Currier Museum of Art in Manchester, N.H. More recently, the large format works (which are not included in WAM's exhibition) were sold to an Austrian museum by Neumann's heirs.

About the Worcester Art Museum
The Worcester Art Museum creates transformative programs and exhibitions, drawing on its exceptional collection of art. Dating from 3,000 BCE to the present, these works provide the foundation for a focus on audience engagement, connecting visitors of all ages and abilities with inspiring art and demonstrating its enduring relevance to daily life. Creative initiatives—including pioneering collaborative programs with local schools, fresh approaches to exhibition design and in-gallery teaching, and a long history of studio class instruction—offer opportunities for diverse audiences to experience art and learn both from and with artists.

Since its founding in 1896, the Worcester Art Museum has assembled a collection of 38,000 objects: from the ancient Near East and Asia, to European and American paintings and sculptures, and continuing with works by contemporary artists from around the world. WAM has a history of making large scale acquisitions, such as its Medieval Chapter House, the Worcester Hunt Mosaic, its 15th-century Spanish ceiling, and the Flemish Last Judgment tapestry. In 2013, the Museum acquired the John Woodman Higgins Armory Collection, comprising two thousand arms and armor objects. It continues to commission and present new works, such as 2019's exhibition With Child: Otto Dix/Carmen Winant, which objectively explored pregnancy and birth in works by the German artist Otto Dix (1891-1969), and contemporary American visual artist Carmen Winant (b. 1983).

The Worcester Art Museum, located at 55 Salisbury Street in Worcester, MA, is open Wednesday through Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is $18 for adults, $14 for seniors 65+ and for college students with ID. Admission is free for Museum Members and children ages 0-17. On the first Sunday of each month, admission is free for everyone. Museum parking is free. Admission is by timed ticket only, which must be purchased in advance at worcesterart.org.

Worcester business leaders fund new scholarship at Nichols College

DUDLEY — A new scholarship at Nichols College to benefit transfer students from Quinsigamond Community College has been created through contributions from two long-term Worcester business and community leaders.

R. Joseph Salois, owner and president of Atlas Distributing Inc., and Robert Vaudreuil, retired president and CEO of The Protector Group, have committed to sponsor the Nichols Connect Scholarship, which will assist QCC graduates who pursue a Nichols degree.

"As the scholarship's name implies, this effort will connect our institutions in a meaningful way and enhance our longstanding partnership with QCC through the Affordable Business and Leadership Education initiative," said Bill Boffi, Nichols College vice president for enrollment. "We are grateful to Joe Salois and Bob Vaudreuil for strengthening our bridge to Worcester and extending Nichols' exceptional educational opportunities to its students."

Students enrolled in a minimum of six credits at Nichols are eligible for the Nichols Connect Scholarship. Award amounts will vary based on status as a resident student, undergraduate evening or commuter student, or student in the Affordable Business and Leadership Education initiative.

"From my experience as a non-traditional student, I understand the motivation of students who want to take their education to the next level and the importance of a scholarship that offers them the means to reach it," said Salois, a 1998 graduate and past trustee of Nichols College.

Vaudreuil, a 1977 graduate of Nichols College and former chair of its Board of Trustees, added, "I see this scholarship as a win for QCC, for Nichols, and for the Worcester business community which will continue to be strengthened by the opportunities and educational resources provided by this partnership."

For more information on the Nichols Connect Scholarship, please call the Nichols College Enrollment Office at 508-213-2038.

Spring comes to Hitchcock Academy

BRIMFIELD — Who doesn't look forward to Spring? This year the season offers a special promise of hope and optimism. At Hitchcock Academy plans are underway for life outside the cocoons forced on us by COVID. Plans to learn new skills, to get into shape, to meet old friends, to make new acquaintances and to develop new routines. Be assured that HFA continues to follow guidelines for social distancing and sanitizing and, as guidelines change, Hitchcock will work to develop new programming.

Now is the right time to work out whatever kinks inactivity might have inflicted on your body with a Pilates Class. Pilates promotes flexibility, good posture, and balance while strengthening the core muscles. Beginning March 24, instructor Karen Larsen will insure all Covid protocols are followed while guiding you to build a stronger, healthier body.

On March 28, Let's Cake Decorate with Sue Gaulin is back to teach you the art of using sugar to create an Easter themed Bunny Tree Stump cake. With the promise of more social gatherings on the horizon, now is the time to develop the basic decorating skills to make your confections the centerpiece of any event. Sue's provides everything you'll need for the class and when you're done you'll be taking home your own perfect creation.

On March 30, Hitchcock is pleased to present Thrive, United Way's personal financial coaching program, created to help people get ahead with an array of free and confidential services. This online, one hour, free program is designed to introduce consumers to the various programs offered by Thrive such as money skills classes, budget creation, credit repair and debt reduction. You must register ahead of time online at hitchcockacademy.org.

As the season progresses Hitchcock Academy is looking forward to expanding their roster to include Astronomy and fencing, while offering new sessions for yoga, dog training, piano, viola, and violin. Martial Arts with Sensei Israel Lopez are a pathway to develop balance, coordination, confidence, and teamwork. Twice a week sessions in this Olympic sport are now being offered at special pricing. On Saturday, May 1, students aged 11 to 15 can enroll in Babysitter Training Class, which will provide instruction in child development, fire safety, emergency procedures, coping with difficult situations, and Heimlich.

With Spring comes the 15th Annual Farmer's Market, which runs from April 17 through October on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. For the latest information regarding class schedules and special events such as the Farmer's Market follow Hitchcock Academy on Facebook and on their Web site, hitchcockacademy.org.

Colin Donovan welcomed into Alpha Lambda Delta National Honor Society

SPRINGFIELD — Colin Donovan, of Charlton was among over 80 students from the Western New England University College of Arts & Sciences inducted into Alpha Lambda Delta in a virtual ceremony held on March 5. Donovan is working toward a BA in Elementary Education/ Psychology.

Alpha Lambda Delta recognizes the best and brightest members of the nation's first-year college students. The mission of the Society is to encourage superior academic achievement, to promote intelligent living and a high standard of learning, and to assist students in recognizing and developing meaningful goals in society. Students in Alpha Lambda Delta must have a grade point average of at least 3.5 after their first semester of full-time enrollment.

University President Dr. Robert E. Johnson, Interim

Provost Dr. Curt Hamakawa, and Vice President for Student Affairs Kerri Jarzabski joined with the Deans of the College of Arts and Sciences, College of Business, and College of Engineering in awarding certificates to new inductees, who recited the Alpha Lambda Delta pledge:

"I pledge myself to accept membership in Alpha Lambda Delta with the understanding that in doing so I accept the responsibility of maintaining its standards of Service, of Industry and of Integrity. I shall do all in my power to maintain high scholarship throughout my life and to use my education always, for the benefit of the Community, my Nation, and the World in which we live. In this spirit I accept the membership into Alpha Lambda Delta."

Alpha Lambda Delta first-year honor society was founded in 1924 at the University of Illinois and has over 280 chapters in the United States.

Having just celebrated its Centennial, Western New England University is a private, independent, coeducational institution. Located on an attractive 215-acre suburban campus in Springfield, Massachusetts, Western New England serves 3,690 students, including 2,486 full-time undergraduate students. Undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs are offered through Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business, Engineering, Pharmacy and Health Sciences, and the School of Law.

Local students named to UConn Dean's List

STORRS, Conn. — The University of Connecticut congratulates Emily Kania, Eric Lehmann, and Gabby Ray of Charlton on being named to the Dean's List for the fall semester of 2020.

At the end of each semester the Dean of each school and college names to the Dean's List those students who (1) were registered for at least 12 credits calculable for grade points, (2) received no grade below "C", including the actual letter grade awarded in any course under the Pass/Fail option, (3) earned at least 3.0 times as many grade points as the number of calculable credits recorded by the Registrar, and (4) were in at least the upper quartile of their school or college.

Country Bank announces virtual Credit for Life program

WORCESTER — Country Bank, a full-service financial institution serving central and western Massachusetts, proudly announces it has partnered with eight local banks to transform the Credit for Life program from an on-site event to a virtual event! Credit for Life, a popular financial literacy program, has been offered for more than a decade within many Massachusetts public schools.

With most, if not all, schools adopting a virtual learning model for students, Credit for Life organizers connected last summer to explore a virtual experience in 2021. As part of the virtual transformation, organizers enlisted FitMoney.org, a non-profit financial literacy organization, to serve as the key fiscal agent, and Stackpole & Partners of Newburyport, for the design and implementation of an interactive website. Contributing partners are Country Bank, Institution for Savings, Cape Cod 5, Bay Coast Bank, HarborOne Bank, The Savings Bank, Rockland Trust, and Westfield Bank.

During the half day online Credit for Life Fair, students will assume the role of a 25-year-old adult and be asked to make financial decisions on how to spend their money.

“The Credit for Life Fair is one of the most important and impactful events we offer every year,” stated Jodie Gerulaitis, Vice President of Community Relations at Country Bank. “We are honored to be able to partner with other local banks to make the fair a reality again for students. The interactive website is a tool that educators and others can use in the current learning environment. Teachers are being asked to do so much right now, this is just one small way we can offer our support.”

Development of the Web site is in the final stages; the group is hopeful that the site will be ready for use by high schools towards the end of March. In addition, the partnership group is also in the process of establishing a 501c3 that will allow for the ability to raise funds and plan for future school financial literacy initiatives similar to creditforlife.org.

For more information, please contact Jodie Gerulaitis, Vice President of Community Relations at 800-322-8233 or jgerulaitis@countrybank.com.

Cornerstone Bank announces promotion of Maria Salvatore

Maria Salvatore

SOUTHBIDGE — Cornerstone Bank, a community bank with 12 locations throughout central Massachusetts, recently promoted Maria Salvatore to a new role within executive management. Effective Jan. 1, she was elevated from Senior Vice President, Human Resources (HR) Director to her new role: Senior Vice President, Chief Culture Officer.

A seasoned human resource professional, Salvatore joined Cornerstone Bank in 2018 after amassing relevant banking and human resources experience from her time spent in comparable leadership roles at financial institutions throughout the Commonwealth. In her previous position at Cornerstone, she was responsible for human resources, training and partnering with management to drive employee engagement. In addition, she negotiated and selected benefits programs and helped to drive company culture.

As Cornerstone’s new Chief Culture Officer, she will build upon the foundation she laid over the past five years, continuing to lead HR functions while overseeing team learning and development opportunities, and facilities and project management activities. In addition, she is responsible for the management of both employee and community relations teams.

Of the promotion, Salvatore shared that, “It is a pleasure to work with a team that embraces positive change. I look forward to embarking on this new journey within an organization that places such an emphasis on both the professional development of its employees and strengthening its ties with members of the community.”

A resident of Sutton, Salvatore is a graduate of Rhode Island College and Northeastern University where she received her master’s in human resources.

Their mindset coming to work every day, the adversity they’re overcoming, it’s really inspiring.”

Because of COVID-19 and the global coronavirus pandemic, high school football this academic year was switched from its traditional place in the fall to March and April, in a season that has been designated as Fall II by the Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association (MIAA). Preseason practice began Feb. 22 and the five-game regular season started March 19.

“The love of the game these kids are showing by coming up here and working hard every day is amazing,” Lindstrom continued. “It’s freezing and they’re wearing a mask. High school football is just completely different than it ever has been for them. To see them come in and take hard coaching and get better every day makes me — and the whole coaching staff — feel incredible.”

Lindstrom, who is the younger brother of Ryan Dugan, Shepherd Hill’s varsity football coach, is only able to coach this season because the high school season was moved to this time of year, which is part of the NFL’s offseason.

“During last season there was a rumor there would be a Fall II season in the spring and that high school football would be played during that Fall II season,” said Lindstrom, who explained he gets his daily workouts in prior to practice. “I joked around with Ryan about it, saying I would help him coach if he needed it. He asked me if I was serious and I said, ‘yeah, absolutely.’”

Dugan said Lindstrom is completely engaged and invested in being a member of the Shepherd Hill coaching staff.

“When Chris first suggested joining the staff, I said to him, ‘Because of COVID our coaching staff is going to be limited to six coaches. So, if you want to come aboard, you have to be a real coach.’ He was all for it,” Dugan said. “Chris is a football junkie, so it’s an opportunity not only to be around the game, but also to give back to the community, and to give back to our program. His knowledge, expertise and experiences in the game of football are off the charts.”

Lindstrom didn’t deny that his coaching position with the Rams could very well be a sneak peek of what his post-playing days may look like.

“I would love to coach when I’m done,” Lindstrom said. “Along with coach Dugan and the rest of the staff, I’m giving the kids everything I have. I’m giving them all the knowledge I have and all the intensity I can give them to be completely prepared to go out and play their best on Friday. That’s what I’m trying to do.

“This is only possible because of this Fall II season,” Lindstrom continued. “This is a unique, fortunate circumstance that I’m so glad happened. If [football in the spring] was the case year-round, I would definitely be coaching year-round because I love football and love sharing my knowledge of the game with the kids.”

And Shepherd Hill’s players love receiving the aforementioned football knowledge from Lindstrom.

“It’s super special,” Rams senior captain George Karamanakis said. “Chris Lindstrom has been on a pedestal for so many of us for so long, and now with him actually here coaching us, we’ve kind of bridged that gap. It’s an even closer relationship now.

“The things he’s teaching us are insane,” the starting linebacker continued. “He’s letting us in on the things they talk about in the NFL. He’s explaining techniques to us, and how in the NFL the players are always thinking about the smallest details. But it’s not just about the insights he provides. It’s about the relationship that we’re getting to build with him. He’s one of the best players, if not the best player, ever to come out of Shepherd Hill.”

Friday’s Child

Mariyah
Age 9

Hi! My name is Mariyah and I have a contagious laugh!

Mariyah is a playful girl of African American, Hispanic, and Caucasian descent. Those who know Mariyah best would say she is helpful, bright and very caring. She has strong communication skills and is a great advocate for herself. Mariyah has a wide variety of interests which include arts and crafts projects, dance classes, puzzles, and reading. In school, she is very social and has made quite a few friends.

Mariyah is legally freed for adoption and would do well in a one or two parent family. If there are other children in the home, it is recommended that they are high school aged or older. Mariyah would do best in a home where there is previous parenting experience. The placement should also have a predictable and consistent schedule for Mariyah but also maintain flexibility. Interested families should be open to maintaining visits and contact with Mariyah’s birth parents and siblings.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you’re at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have a permanent place to call home.

Blooming Signs of Spring: Part II

Ice safety tips

Naturally, warmer temperatures in the afternoon means the lakes, ponds and rivers will start to melt; however, the cooler mornings could be deceptive as to how thick the ice actually is. More people fall through ice this time of year than in any other.

We wanted to offer some awareness, and a reminder of what to do should you find yourself or anyone else in this unfortunate situation, albeit, completely unavoidable.

First, remember to stay calm. Try not to let the shock of the freezing water take over; it'll take your breath away and is painful, which is frightening. At this time, you will have roughly ten minutes before you get too cold to pull yourself out. Experts say to leave your winter clothes on and let them act as a buoy. These clothes tend to hold onto warm air and can help you float.

Next, turn back toward the direction in which you came and use solid ice to try to pull yourself out. The ice is likely thicker where you were just standing, meaning chances are it is strong enough to hold you while you pull yourself out. If you find that your clothes have trapped too much water, lift yourself up part way and lean on your elbows while the water drains out. You then want to extend your arms flat on the ice and start to shimmy yourself back onto the surface. Remember the two words "kick and pull."

If you do find yourself in a situation where ice could be an issue, carry an ice pick. Avid fishermen have been known to carry screwdrivers or nails on them just in case, as they make for better claws than gloved or bare hands.

Remember to stay flat when you are back on the surface, and don't stand up too soon, as you may cause the ice to crack again. Begin to roll away from the spot where you fell through to keep your weight distributed across the ice.

Once you are in the clear, get into dry clothes and a warm place immediately. Hypothermia kicks in roughly after 30 minutes of being submerged in ice water. Seek medical attention as your body may go into shock as the cold blood from your extremities can reach your heart, causing a heart attack.

If you are with someone who falls through the ice, do not get too close as you may be the next one to fall through. Instead yell instructions to them, on what to do, to get to safety and remain encouraging.

Reaching out to the victim without stepping onto the ice is best if at all possible. Use anything you can such as a pole, ladder or anything else that you can extend to them. If you can't reach the victim this way, try throwing them a rope or anything that you might be able to use to pull them to safety.

If none of the above are options, try to find something to float on so that you can reach the victim yourself. If a floating device is not available, do not walk upright to the victim, try instead to lay flat and roll out to the edge.

Whatever situation you are in, it will require fast action and quick thinking. The best advice is to be prepared with the proper knowledge and equipment if you do plan on spending time on the ice.

Last week's column reviewed two flowering signs of spring: Forsythia and Pussywillows. Expanding on that theme, this column with highlight two more favorites, crocus and my all-time favorite – lilacs! Read on for more on these nostalgic favorites:

heirloom flower. The Governor Wentworth Estate in Portsmouth, NH boasts the oldest surviving lilac bushes, said to have been planted circa 1750. While there are many strains of the flower, the most nostalgic is the common lavender hued lilac (Syringa vulgaris), which was brought to America in the mid 1700s from eastern Europe.

Lilac Legends: Legend has it lilac drives away evil wherever it is planted or strewn. It is said that lilac bushes were planted on the homestead by colonists in an effort to protect the inhabitants from bad forces.

Immigrants from Europe brought tales of lilac folklore from the "old country" to America, including the belief that finding a white lilac blossom with five petals is a sign good fortune would follow. Meanwhile, in certain sections of England it was considered bad luck to bring blooming Lilacs into the house and all white Lilacs were especially banned from display inside the home.

Growing Lilacs: New England is the perfect climate to grow lilacs, as it is very cold hardy, requiring a frost to prompt bud blooming. For optimum blooms, a lilac bush should be planted in areas that receive full sun (at least six hours per day). Lilacs like a slightly alkaline soil. Spread roots out vertically and cover with topsoil. A newly planted lilac bush should be kept well watered. Add a loose mulch above the roots to help with water absorption. Keep in mind different varieties of lilacs bloom at different times. When lilac flowers have finished blooming, prune the dead flowers back to just above where new buds are forming. Be prudent with pruning, as over cutting can result in a decrease of blooms next year.

Time for some financial spring cleaning

In just a few days, we will experience the vernal equinox – one of the two times in the year when the sun is exactly above the equator. Apart from this astronomical anomaly, though, the equinox is mostly known as the beginning of spring – a fresh beginning and the time to spruce things up. This year, as you tidy up your home and surroundings, why not also consider some financial spring cleaning?

BURDICK

Here are a few ideas for getting your financial house in order:

"De-clutter" your portfolio

Over the years, many of us tend to pick up duplicate items that find their way into the nooks and crannies of our homes, gathering dust and remaining unused. Over time, your investment portfolio can also accumulate redundancies – that is, you might own several investments that are essentially similar. It might be appropriate to replace some of these and broaden your holdings.

Own your investments purposefully

You own certain things for certain reasons – a broom to sweep the floors, a microwave to heat the food and so on. As an investor, you should be following a goal-based strategy that includes the matching of certain investments with certain objectives. For example, you might own stocks or mutual funds to eventually provide the capital appreciation potential you'll need to retire comfortably. But you might also own other vehicles, such as bonds or other fixed-income investments, to provide you with a source of regular income.

"Dust off" your investment strategy

Over a long winter, your windows can get dirty and grimy, so, when spring arrives, you may want to get out the glass cleaner – and when you're done, you'll be able to see out more clearly. Over time, your investment strategy may get somewhat "dusty," too, especially if you've experienced significant changes in your life, such as a new job, a new child or even a new plan for retirement. By periodically reviewing your investment strategy, you'll be able to clarify your vision for the future.

Protect yourself from hidden dangers

If you poke around your garage, shed or other storage area, you may well find some objects – gardening tools, paint thinners and engine fluids, leaning ladders and so on – that could be dangerous, either because they aren't stored properly or they're hard to see and can cause trips and falls. As part of your spring cleaning, you'd want to get these objects out of harm's way to safeguard yourself and your family. But when you think of your financial situation, are you also exposing yourself and your loved ones to risk? If something were to happen to you, could your family members stay in their home? Could your children still go to college? To help keep their lifestyle intact if you weren't around, you'll need adequate life insurance. And to avoid burdening your grown children with potentially huge expenses should you ever need some type of long-term care, such as an extended nursing home stay, you may want to talk to a financial advisor about protection strategies.

By taking some spring cleaning measures, you can brighten your living space for the seasons ahead. And by applying some of the same principles to your financial environment, you can help improve the prospects for meeting your important goals.

Is hope the anchor of our soul?

One of my first business lessons came after explaining my sales plan to my father. He asked for the details and at the end I said, "I hope it all works." Dad smiled and said, "that's fine, but hope isn't a plan."

Dad was right. Hope isn't a plan but is an essential part of living a happy life. Hope is the foundation to making your dreams come true. So, what is hope and why is it important?

Having hope is wanting an outcome that makes your life better in some way. We all hope for a better life. Not only can hope help make a difficult present situation more bearable but it can also eventually improve our lives. Envisioning a better future motivates us to take the steps to make it happen. Hope alone isn't enough, but hope inspires belief and action. As my dad said, hope isn't a plan, but having hope for a better outcome is the beginning of a happier life.

I also believe that hope is where your body and soul begin to conspire to make your hope become your reality. Hope is more than just looking at the bright side

MOORE

of issues. Hope is where dreams are born, and our desires begin to take root.

A life without hope is a sad life. As a history buff, I've read numerous accounts of Jewish life in Nazi internment camps. Almost every retelling of their time in captivity mentions that it was only hope that drove them to remain alive. I cannot imagine living a hopeless life.

While writing this, Arlene asked me what the difference was between hope and optimism. I believe hope is wishing for a better outcome and optimism is believing a better outcome will happen. I believe hope is the beginning that inspires optimism, which creates the plan to make our hopes our reality.

Hope, Optimism, Plan and Execute = H.O.P.E.

Hope for a better outcome, creates optimism that tells you that one is available, followed by the plan to achieve what you hope for; finally followed by executing the plan to make it so. As I said, it all begins with hope.

I hope to beat cancer and extend my life to spend more time with my family. My hope has driven me to seek out a world-leading expert at a world-renowned cancer center to have access to cutting edge information and treatment. My hope and optimism created the beginning of the plan that brought me to Dr. Kasi and the Holden Comprehensive Cancer Center at the University of Iowa Hospitals. There, Dr. Kasi created the plan to extend my life and together we are now executing our plan.

Beware of those who will try to steal your hope. We all have naysayers in our lives, so we must be strong enough to cling to our hope. I've run across several in the medical profession who have tried to extinguish my flame of hope. So far, I've proven them all wrong and defied the odds. And why not? Someday, someone will be the first to beat stage four gastric cancer. Why not me? And if not, I can certainly go the distance and continue to surpass their predictions. No one has the right to steal your hope and shame on those who may try.

Now to you ... what is it you hope for?

Preparations for spring fishing

Now is the time to start planning your spring fishing trips, weather it will be saltwater or freshwater. Making sure all of your fishing gear is ready, and what type of bait you will be using, cuts the cost of your fishing trips. Freshwater anglers are finding live bait is becoming very expensive, and there is a way to cut the cost dramatically. Catching shiners only requires a little bit of research to locate a body of water that still has a good population of shiners. Purchasing a small shiner trap at a local bait & tackle shop, will run you around $12. A piece of light rope will need to be attached to the trap, and a small amount of bread placed into the trap before lowering it into the water.

You should place the trap a foot or two from the bottom of the pond or river, and secure the rope to something solid so that you can easily pull the trap up. After a couple of days, you need to check the trap for any shiners. If the trap is empty, you should find another spot. It may take a few try's before you locate them, but once you do you will have plenty of live bait to fish with. If you can locate a place to store them, you will need to build a small box with wire on all four sides, that you can keep them in. Running water like a brook or small stream is ideal, but you will need to place it out of the way, from other fishermen.

Locating worms and Nightcrawlers is another way to save money. They are easy to catch after a day of rain in the springtime, after the frost leaves the ground. All that is needed is a small pail and a flashlight. After dark, you need to find a good lawn or golf course to pick your nightcrawlers on. Be sure to ask for permission before going on private property, and be sure to bring the youngsters along. They will have a great time trying to catch them. The trick is not to shine the flashlight directly onto the crawlers or they will quickly retract themselves back into their hole. After picking a couple hundred crawlers, you need to properly store them. A small refrigerator like they use for college is ideal. Locate a couple of Styrofoam boxes that will fit into the refrigerator.

There are many small refrigerators at yard sales that can be purchased cheap. Using a few sheets of damp newspaper on the bottom of the box, you will need to add a few inches of good top soil. Be sure not to get the soil too wet. Place the nightcrawlers on top of the soil and cover them with a piece of an old ragbag , slightly moistened. Set the temperature at 45 degrees, and check them regularly. Adding a few used coffee grounds to the mix works very well.

With trout season starting any day now, many anglers prefer to practice catch & release. Trout need to be handled very carefully if they are going to be released. Try to keep the trout in the water after they have been netted. Anglers that handle the trout that are going to be released, often do not realize that handling them removes the slime coat of the trout leaving them vulnerable to fungus and disease. Saltwater fish like haddock suffer high mortality after being handled and then released. Catch and release of stripers, has fishermen questioning the practice.

Studies have shown a high mortality after releasing big fish. They are often fought and played with until they are exhausted. Reviving the stripers to be released, has proved to still have a high mortality, especially if the angler has a period of photo shoots before releasing the fish! Allowing anglers to catch and keep a big striper makes more sense than catching and releasing numerous fish which some will die, until he catches and retains his legal striper. It looks as though the same regulations on all species of saltwater fish will remain the same as last year, in Mass. & Rhode Island. Circle hooks may be required for both commercial and recreational anglers fishing for stripers in both Mass. & Rhode Island!

Charter boats are hoping for a good season this year, after strict regulations from last year on limited patrons per trip. Unfortunately, some charter boats went out of business, and will not be reopening. The Clipper Fleet in Salisbury sold their boats and will not return. It had a great family business for many years, and was run by the Grady family, originally from Millville. Many local anglers including this writer, fished many years with Captain Joe Grady. Unfortunately, many of his patrons decided it was not worth the expense and time to fish, because of the limits placed on legal size fish, and daily bag limits.

Catching numerous limits of haddock which needed to be released because of their size, and a complete shutdown of cod and wolffish left little for anglers to retain for the dinner table. We do have great memories of the good times, as this week's two picture show. First picture shows a huge wolffish taken aboard the Clipper Fleet and the second picture shows some local boys that caught some huge cod aboard the "Challenger " which was also part of the Clipper fleet. Only one cod is allowed in the daily bag limit this year, and the season is short. Haddock limits have been relaxed somewhat and there populations are higher than in previous years.

Expand your planting space

MELINDA

When your plant list is longer than the available gardening space it is time to expand your planting options. Create new gardening space by adding raised bed gardens, elevated planters, and containers wherever space allows.

Convert the end of the drive or edge of the patio into raised bed gardens. Just use a raised bed liner to contain the soil. Raising the garden makes planting, maintaining and harvesting easier on the back and knees. It also allows you to create the perfect soil foundation by filling your raised bed with a quality planting mix.

Long lasting cedar is a traditional choice for raised beds. Now you can also find them made of a wood and plastic composite or metal and in a variety of shapes and sizes. Finding one to complement your gardening style and space is much easier these days.

Reduce time spent watering with a self-watering metal raised bed (gardeners.com) or similar product. Self-watering raised beds have built-in water reservoirs to extend the time between watering. Or use a raised bed drip or soaker hose irrigation system to easily apply water right to the soil where it is needed.

Elevated gardens are just containers on legs. They are perfect for patios, balconies and other hard surfaces. Use them to define space, create privacy and of course grow ornamental and edible plants. Those on wheels can easily be moved out of the way when guests arrive. Or wheel them into the gathering, so everyone can harvest and dress up their meals with garden-fresh herbs and veggies.

Just pull up a chair and start planting or weeding your elevated garden. Grow vines in those with built-in trellises and extend the season by protecting plantings with frost and insect covers. Select elevated planters with a shelf below to conveniently store gardening tools and accessories.

Even small space gardeners can expand their planting space with the help of containers. You'll find plenty of attractive options to fit your front steps, patio, balcony or deck.

Railing planters and window boxes don't take up floor space yet dress up any outdoor area. Grow herbs in planters located near the kitchen and flowers wherever additional color is needed. Add a few pollinator-friendly plants to attract butterflies and hummingbirds to watch and enjoy.

Extend your time outdoors with outdoor lighting. Or look for multi-functional options like solar illuminated planters. Powered by the sun and with a flip of a switch, you can choose a single or multi-changing light color display.

Don't let the thought of frequent watering stop you from growing in containers and elevated gardens. Self-watering options are available in a variety of shapes and sizes including the classic, yet curvy self-watering Valencia window box.

Once you select your raised bed, elevated garden, or container, you will need to fill it with a planting or potting mix. Figure out exactly how much is needed with a soil calculator. Just plug the size and shape into the form. It tells you how many cubic yards or cubic feet of soil are needed for raised beds and the number of quarts for containers and elevated gardens.

Expanding the garden doesn't have to mean a lot more work. Selecting the right option that provides convenience and ease of care can help you grow more flowers and garden-fresh produce this season.

Longer life? Better health? Higher income? A new career? Regardless of where hope leads you, life is more enjoyable and fruitful with hope. Without it, you have accepted status quo and have no dreams of a brighter future.

Hope brings beauty into our lives. Never give up your hope. Hope is the seeds of greatness living within you waiting to be planted and nurtured. Your dreams can become your reality beginning with hope.

I hope for more time with family. I hope for more time to write to you.

I believe hope is the anchor of our soul.

What do you hope for?

Preparing Your Estate Plan

You're Invited

It's a topic people tend to put off or ignore, but one of the most important things you can do is develop a sound plan for your estate. Doing so lets you take a giant step toward a more secure future for yourself and generations to come.

Attend our Preparing Your Estate Plan presentation and you'll learn more about:

- What to consider when creating your will
- The benefits of trusts in estate planning
- How to help reduce taxes on your estate
- How insurance can help protect your family

Jessica Pesce from Ladimer Law will be available to answer questions.

Call (508) 347-1420 or email trevor.nielsen@edwardjones.com to RSVP and receive webinar details.

BELCHERTOWN LAND:
Check out this great lot, just waiting for your new construction project. Take advantage of the excellent interest rates to build your dream house! Easy access to Route 9 and Bay Road.
$75,000

HARDWICK LAND: Beautiful piece of land with all the privacy you could ever ask for. Frontage on 2 roads, abuts Quabbin land, and has the potential to be subdivided into 3 lots (buyer to verify with town). Percs were done in several locations a number of years ago and they all passed. $75,000

BROOKFIELD: The historical "Francis Howe House" circa 1810 right in the heart of Brookfield offers a 4 unit rental property w/ (3) one BR apartments & a huge owners unit with over 2,500 sq ft! Massive 7,500+ sq ft barn which is currently being used as a local gun shop with plenty of room for further expansion or the opportunity to build out more business spaces! Oversized parking lot, brand new septic & town water! This mixed use commercial/residential property has great income potential and would be a wonderful spot for many different businesses! Very high visibility located right on Rt 9 with easy access to the MA Pike, Rts 20 & 84! Tantasqua School district! (business is not for sale, only Real Estate/Buildings being sold) $595,000
