Schofield Avenue fire displaces families

BY JASON BLEAU
TIMES CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY – First responders made quick work of an early morning fire on Thursday, Feb. 1 as numerous departments responded to 12 Schofield Ave. where an apartment building was found to be spewing smoke and flames.

All tenants of the building and their pets made it out safely as firefighters from Dudley, Charlton, Oxford, Southbridge and Quinebaug worked to control the situation, saving the building from becoming a total loss at least in the eyes of first responders.

Dudley Fire Chief Dean Kochanowski said everyone did a great job controlling the blaze.

“The fire was reported around 2 a.m. and everyone did a good job putting it out. It was a pretty fully involved fire and they knocked it down and were able to stop it. We’ll see what the insurance company says, but in our eyes the building was saved. It could have very easily burned to the ground and it didn’t. The guys did a real good job,” said the chief.

The cause of the fire remained unknown as of press time, but fire officials have a good idea of where the blaze started. One of the most involved sections of the home was the back section where a wooden porch leading up to each apartment was fully involved.

Town clerk seeking raise for assistant

BY JASON BLEAU
TIMES CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY – Adding on to recent conversations about competitive pay in Dudley, the town clerk Ora Finn is also seeking higher wages for a member of her staff after the town assessor’s office made a similar request to the Personnel Board.

Both requests came during a meeting in mid-January with Finn noting it wasn’t her first time coming before town officials to seek higher pay for the assistant town clerk Jacqueline Phelps. About a year ago Finn worked with the personnel board to finalize a job description and recommended a $16 wage that was approved. However, it was made clear Finn would be back before the board in the near future and, as promised, she made her appearance last month requesting a higher salary for Phelps to allow Dudley to remain competitive in the job market.

“I do have a comparison. I called all the clerks in our area and the minimum starting wage in comparative towns was $19. It’s gone up since then so it’s really $21 to $23. That’s what they’re making now. The inexperienced town clerk coming into offices is making $19,” Finn told the Personnel Board. She added she believes a raise is warranted because Phelps has committed to Dudley in many ways, working as clerk in Finn’s absence, making progress on certifications and census training, and even gaining knowledge of other departments within the town hall through cross training. With Finn set to leave the town clerk position soon she also noted that keeping someone on board who knows how her office works should be a priority for Dudley.

“I am retiring in 2019. You have someone here that’s being trained, and I would hate to see her go because of a lack of hourly wage. These wages are not competitive. They’re just not. They’re making at least three dollars less and hour than other communities,” said Finn.

While Phelps is not eligible to replace Finn, as she does not live in Dudley, Finn explained having an assistant town clerk who knows the office and can assist in the transition will make life easier for whoever inherits the duties in the next election.

“I’m training her for when I leave. You’re going to expect someone to train your new town clerk and this position needs to be brought up to a competitive wage,” said Finn.

Guidelines established for live animal shows

The Oxford Cultural Council established a sub-committee on funding live animal programs. The subcommittee met on Jan. 6 at the Oxford Public Library and developed a proposed guideline. This proposed guideline will be voted on at the next Oxford Cultural Council meeting. Guideline is as follows:

The purpose of this document is to provide guidance for those submitting grant applications to the Oxford Cultural Council on projects involving live animals. The Council takes seriously weighing the educational benefit and the welfare of the animals. The Council will consider proposals involving domestic and farm animals which are brought to a public space (i.e. school, library, senior center) for an educational program and are then returned to their home or farm. The Council does not support travelling animal shows involving exotic or wild animals. With regard to live animal acts, the Oxford Cultural Council will consider funding visits to animal rescues/sanctuaries or exotic habitats (i.e. reptile); however, we will not consider proposals for these animals visiting schools and other public spaces.

Any constituent who wishes to provide input on the proposed guideline may e-mail us at oxfordculturalcouncil@gmail.com.

Dudley contemplating involvement in opioid lawsuit

BY JASON BLEAU
NEWS STAFF WRITER

DUDLEY – In 2017 numerous communities in Massachusetts began to come together to explore the possibility of taking legal action against pharmaceutical companies in response to the opioid epidemic in the state. Now it seems Dudley could become the latest community to join that movement.

Dudley Town Administrator Greg Balukonis spoke with selectmen on Jan. 22 and said after speaking with representatives of other municipalities during the Massachusetts Municipal Association Conference that Dudley should at least consider joining in the lawsuit. Southbridge and Webster are also discussing the possibility of joining the lawsuit while Charlton has approved filing a mass tort lawsuit in joining with Greenfield, the first major community to announce its suing of big pharmaceutical manufacturers.

While selectmen did not make any precise decisions in January, the idea was not ignored either. Selectmen offered few comments but did not deny the possibility of joining in the lawsuit with the expectation that the town could discuss its stance on the issue at a future meeting. Town Administrator Balukonis said the lawsuit has gained steam that the communities involved are looking to hold the offenders accountable for the opioid epidemic.

Oxford planners seek public input

BY GUS STEEVES
TIMES CORRESPONDENT

OXFORD – Local marijuana issues are still bubbling as the Planning Board faces potential changes to the medical marijuana facility they’ve already approved as well as still trying to understand what’s happening with state and federal pot laws.

Patrick Jonsson, CEO of Curaleaf Massachusetts, came forward last week to request the board “defer some of requirements of our special permit,” based on his firm’s “experience of having run [a facility in] Hanover for three months.”

He noted he isn’t proposing changes to the site plan that was approved last April, but seeks changes to five of its conditions. The board agreed to put Jonsson’s proposal on its next meeting agenda for Feb. 12, noting they didn’t believe it required a formal public hearing.

Jonsson said his firm’s goal is still to open by March 1, but particularly wants to change a condition requiring patients to set up appointments first. They tried doing that in Hanover, but saw “just three days of more than 100 patients,” and he doesn’t think eliminating it will significantly change the traffic.

Member Norman LeBlanc,

however, noted traffic was a major concern from Oxford residents, and Chairman Richard Escolas said he might be willing to reduce the six month traffic observation period to one month.

They were somewhat more concerned about where the law is going.

“I’m confused as to the interplay between the state and the federal government on this topic,” admitted member Mark

Lee, to general agreement. “We’re investing all this energy into the subject matter and you still can’t put the money into federally-insured depository institutions. We need to get clear on this.”

One key issue is still whether medical pot facilities will be able to sell recreationally. LeBlanc noted Curaleaf’s special permit specifically prohibits that, but he expects the state

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

In an effort to make known the full costs of attending a college in the Massachusetts university system, State Senator Ryan C. Fattman (R-Sutton) filed legislation that would provide students with information about expected financial assistance and anticipated debt incurred from getting a college degree.

The "Student Know Before You Go Program" established under the legislation would give important financial metrics to current and prospective students who elect to attend the Commonwealth's higher education system.

"As a millennial with college debt, I understand how student loans are handicapping an entire generation. We need to make sure students attending college have the full financial picture while obtaining their degree," said Fattman.

The amendment would mandate state universities publicly post financial information including the percentage of students who receive financial aid, the student transfer rate, and the average amount of federal loan debt assumed by students.

Constituents with questions or comments on the bill may call the Senator's office at 617-722-1420 or email joseph.zarrella@masenate.gov.

Car Buying Tips

Customers ask place: When is the best time to buy a Car or Truck?

The RIGHT answer: (Part 2) There are some times of the year that seem better than others. I already spoke about the end of the year. Another good time is toward the end of winter going into spring. We all know about the Presidents Day sales in February. Customers, dealers and manufacturers all are beginning to feel a little stir crazy from the long cold days of January and early February. As this holiday comes along there is a bit more excitement and a strong desire on the dealer and manufacturer to get selling for the spring and summer markets. Usually this is also a time in which the manufacturers step up their advertising and incentives to support this goal. The model year changeover is a good time to buy. This is normally the September, October time frame. Incentives on the current model year are usually strong and inventories are still pretty good as the new model year is beginning to show up. Dealers will be making room for the next years vehicles and starting to trim inventories approaching the year end and holiday seasons. At Place Motor we will always do our best to save our customers as much as possible whenever you decide to buy. We will lay out all your options for you to see and make your best decision. We want the time you choose to be the right time to buy your new car or truck.

Porch on a home on Schofield Avenue are engulfed in flames. Fire officials suspect this is where the fire may have started.

The chief said this is the suspected point of origin.

With the fire taking place on a very chilly February morning the chief said the weather certainly took its toll, but crews braved the cold to get the job done effectively.

"The weather is definitely an issue," Chief Kochanowski said. "Obviously when it's cold out it's a lot harder. We didn't have any water issues, but that's always a possibility when it's this cold. It's harder to keep people going. They get tired quicker in the cold, believe it or not. You can face some challenges, but the guys are well trained, and we got assistance from some other towns that helped greatly."

The chief also gave credit to Dudley Fire Captain Paul Konieczny who was in charge of the scene as the chief was away on a fire training exercise out of state at the time of the incident. Chief Kochanowski also credited the other crews involved to always stepping up to help Dudley in their time of need.

"It just shows that we have a good working relationship with our neighbors and we have a very good mutual aid system," said the chief. "Everybody did a good job. We do the same for them. One hand feed another and we're very fortunate all the towns are very professional and well organized. My captain, who was in charge, did an excellent job."

The American Red Cross has announced they are organizing assistance for the tenants of the home in the form of clothing, meals, and short-term housing. The owners of the property are working to help relocated the tenants as they await the fate of the building which did receive water and smoke damage in addition to the damage done by the fire.

Changes in management at Tri-Valley

Tri-Valley, Inc. has promoted Elisabeth "Lisa" Prince to fill the position of executive director and CEO at the Dudley-based non-profit organization which provides services to older adults, individuals with disabilities and caregivers.

Lisa joined Tri-Valley as an adult family care case manager nearly 20 years ago. During her tenure, Lisa held the position of president of the Massachusetts Council for Adult Family Care for nine years, and has been a strong advocate at the state and local level for the programs that support those in need within the Commonwealth.

Lisa earned her Bachelor's degree from Old Dominion University and her Master's degree from Worcester State College in non-profit management.

Marilyn L. Travinski retired at the end of January after 25 years as executive director/CEO of Tri-Valley, Inc.

Marilyn began her career in education and served eight years as a Massachusetts State Representative before coming to Tri-Valley. With four years as chairman on Commerce and Labor, Marilyn was the first woman in the history of the legislature to chair this powerful committee. Marilyn received her Bachelor's degree from Albertus Magnus College and her Master's from Wesleyan University.

"A bunch of communities are banding together to file a class action suit against the opioid manufacturers because of the cost of dealing with overdoses and the cost of policing and dealing with social issues that are associated with that," Balukonis said.

The town administrator compared the lawsuit to a similar situation years ago where a water supply issue led to hundreds of thousands of dollars coming through communities.

"I'm not going to say that will happen in this instance, but if we don't look into it perhaps that passes us by and I don't want that to happen," Balukonis said.

The lawsuit would not be any cost to the town and would be targeting the pharmaceutical manufacturers deemed at least partially responsible for the rise in opioid abuse through the irresponsible distribution of addictive over-the-counter or prescription drugs.

Greenfield became the first major community in the commonwealth to join entities nationwide in the endeavor. Defendants targeted by the lawsuit that have been named to date include Teva Pharmaceuticals, Johnson & Johnson, Janssen Pharmaceuticals, Purdue Pharma and numerous wholesale drug distributors.

How long should you keep tax records?

Keep your tax records for as long as you might be audited. Generally, that's three years after you file the return, though the IRS has six years to audit you if you've omitted more than 25 percent of your gross income from a return. There is no audit limit for fraudulent filings or for returns that were never filed.

February Real Estate Market Update

Interest rates have increased compared to where they were a couple months ago. According to Bankrate.com as of 2/5/2018 the rate on a 30 year fixed loan was 4.3% which is up 0.50% in the last 60 days or so. Refinancing is still possibly an option but not as good of an option if you have purchased your home in the last few years. Since values continue to rise you may have a higher rate but have not been able to refinance due to not having enough equity. If this is the case for you, then you should explore the option to get the lower rate and free up the money for something else or continue to pay down your mortgage at a faster rate. The other options is that the 15 year fixed rate is at 3.63% as of today which if you can afford a slightly higher payment then switching to a 15 year loan will also help you pay off your loan much quicker.

Today we have 1203 single family homes for sale in Worcester County compared to 6 months ago where we had 1804 homes for sale or about a 33% decrease in homes for sale over that 6 month period. If we look back to 12 months ago we had 1468 homes for sale in Worcester County which shows a 18.1% decrease in inventory year over year. This time of year typically has low inventory but as you can see even compared to last year there

is a drastic drop. This will continue to have an affect on prices and days on market even with interest rates rising. The average days on market is currently 149 days while it was 116 days in August which tells me we are continuing to cycle through the inventory but slightly slower than over the summer time. If we look at homes sold over past 12 months compared to the same time for the previous year there is an almost 0.8% increase in sales and a 5.4% increase in sales price while it is taking over 20% faster to sell the homes this year than last year in Worcester County. This shows that prices are still rising and homes are still selling quicker than a year ago. The increase in amount of sales was not as high as a couple months ago. This continues to show that even with these harsh New England winters, the market continues to thrive in spite of it.

I know I have been saying it every month but these number again are all positive and showing continued growth with no immediate signs of a change in the market. The rising interest should eventually help stabilize the market As always hire a Realtor that knows your market and can tell you how this data directly affects you and your home buying or selling decisions.

Poaching prevention bill clears Senate

BOSTON — The Massachusetts Senate passed legislation on Thursday to enhance wildlife protections and to strengthen penalties against poaching in the Commonwealth. The bill, filed by Senator Michael O. Moore (D-Millbury), updates existing anti-poaching laws which have remained widely unchanged since the 1930s.

“As a former environmental police officer, and as an avid outdoorsman, I recognize that poaching is not only a concern for animal protection advocates and conservationists, but also law-abiding hunters,” said Senator Moore. “Poachers cheat the system and gain an unfair advantage over lawful hunters. This bill will give law enforcement officers new tools to prevent poaching and to hold offenders accountable for their criminal acts.”

In an effort to adequately deter illegal hunting practices, the legislation elevates existing penalties for individuals convicted of illegally harming or killing wildlife. The legislation also requires the Commonwealth to enter into a nationwide law enforcement network known as the Interstate Wildlife Violator Compact. Massachusetts remains one of only two non-member states. The Compact allows for reciprocity with other states for the purpose of license suspensions to prevent wildlife violators who have lost their hunting, trapping or fishing privileges from circumventing license revocations

“This legislation is an essential effort to modernize the Commonwealth’s hunting laws,” said Senate President Harriette L. Chandler (D-Worcester). “It’s time for Massachusetts to join the ranks of the forty-eight other states who have come together to better enforce poaching laws across the country.”

“I appreciate the leadership of Senator Moore and I was glad to work with him on this important measure,” said Senator Anne M. Gobi (D-Spencer), who serves as Senate Chair of the Joint Committee on Environment, Natural Resources and Agriculture. “This bill updates poaching laws and sends a clear message that ethical hunting is of paramount importance and protects the rights of sportsmen and women in Massachusetts.”

Additional provisions of the legislation include:

- Requiring the borders of wildlife sanctuaries to be posted to provide notice to the public of the designation of the land as a sanctuary;
- Elevates penalties for illegally hunting bears, bobcats and endangered species, including the penalty for hunting bears and bobcats with the aid of a dog or baiting to a range from $1,000 to $5,000 and up to one year imprisonment;
- Distinguishes between violations of hunting laws when determining the length of time a license may be suspended;

and,
• Any person who hunts, traps or fishes in Massachusetts after the person’s privilege has been revoked anywhere else in the United States or Canada shall be considered in violation of the General Laws of the Commonwealth.

The bill will now go to the House of Representatives for consideration. A similar legislative initiative passed the Senate in 2016, however, the bill was ultimately not considered by the House of Representatives. Crossbow hunting expansion passes Senate

BOSTON —The Massachusetts Senate passed Senate Bill 2249, An Act relative to the use of crossbows in hunting. The bill, filed by Senator Anne M. Gobi (D-Spencer), aims to expand the eligibility for crossbow hunting.

Current hunting laws only allow the use of crossbows for individuals with documented medical disabilities. Under this legislation, Massachusetts would join 32 other states that currently allow crossbow hunting for non-disabled individuals.

“I appreciate the support for moving this forward,” said Senator Gobi. “Crossbows have been used for years and this commonsense change will allow sportsmen, who have been unable to hunt, due in part to father time, get back outdoors and do what they love.”

“In recent years, interest in crossbow hunting has grown as the technology has become more user-friendly and safe,” said Senator Donald F. Humason, Jr (R-Westfield). “I have long worked alongside the hunting community in Western Massachusetts to move this legislation forward so I am very happy the proposal has received the approval of the Senate.”

“Central Massachusetts has a robust hunting community,” said Senate President Harriette L. Chandler (D-Worcester). “Crossbow hunting is an accessible option for hunters across Massachusetts, and I am happy that the Senate has opened this opportunity.”

Significant technological and safety improvements have increased the popularity and use of crossbows as a hunting device. Lifting the prohibition on crossbows would open up hunting to individuals who lack the ability or strength to pull back a traditional bow and arrow, yet who do not have a documented medical disability.

to overrule the town. So does Escolas, who said he'd like to see no more than two recreational facilities in town besides Cureleaf's if that does happen — "one on the south side of town, one on the north side."

The latter is still being ironed out, and the board is trying to put a zoning bylaw together for the spring town meeting that will probably assign recreational pot to the same zones that adult entertainment can now go to. That partly depends on what the state's regulations end up being. Clerk Mary Herriage noted the draft rules were recently released, but Escolas said he wants to see more input from the town on Oxford's zoning and might have to hold the changes until October if the state rules conflict.

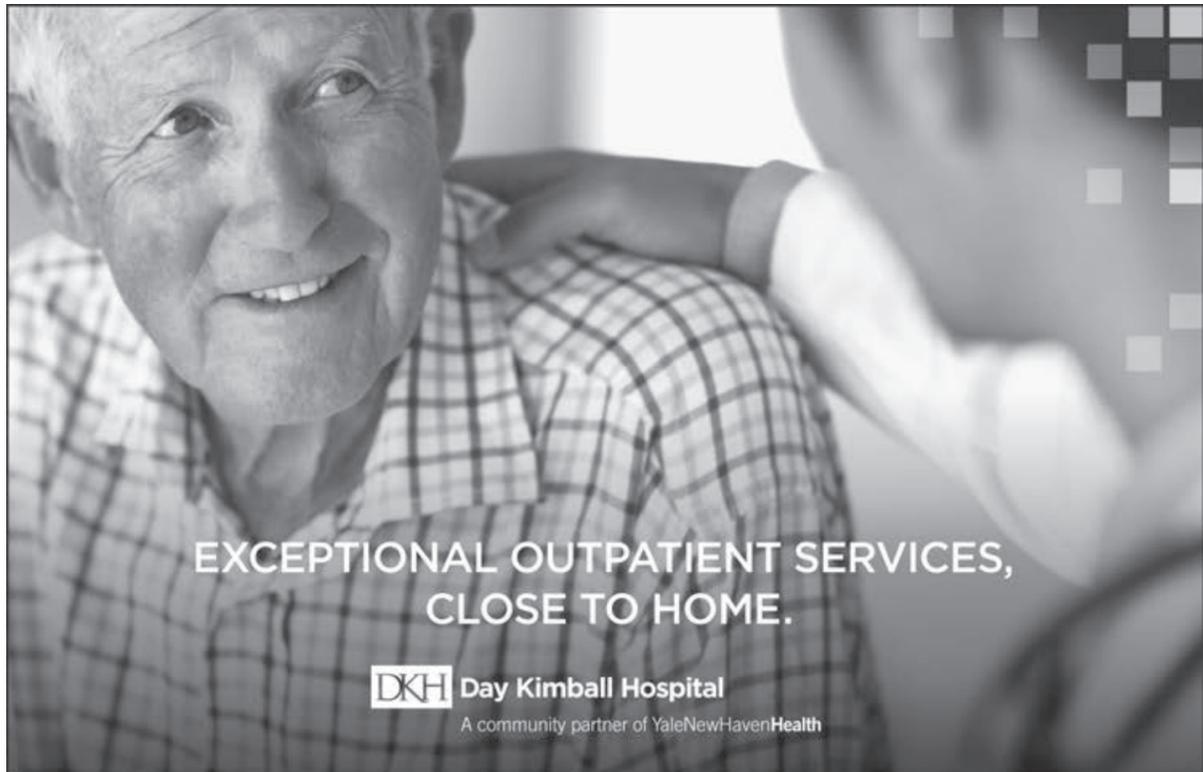

"I thought if it was good enough for adult entertainment, it's good enough for marijuana," Leblanc said. "It is adult entertainment."

The board is also looking more generally at making some zoning changes to downtown to make it a "village"-style district, and plans to mail area residents letters seeking their input at a public forum Feb. 26. Ultimately, they also intend to send this to the spring town meeting, which will require a formal public hearing later in the process.

Leblanc said they're "strictly working on the zoning part of it" now, and will address parking and other issues later.

"People who own property in this area can do more with their property [if this happens] than they can now," he added. "We're looking for your input to see how you people feel about that."

Escolas said one thing he wants to avoid is creating it as an "overlay" district. The board tried that several years ago, but town meeting shot it down, and Leblanc observed it "went over like a lead balloon."

LEARNING

St. Joseph School announces Partners in Education award recipients

It has been a tradition since 2003 that during the celebration of Catholic Schools Week, St. Joseph School presents a special "Partners in Education" award to a person or persons who've made a significant impact on the school community. This year we are pleased to present this award to Mary Ann Weaver and Donna Recko.

Mrs. Weaver, a graduate of St. Joseph School, has been an educator here for 38 years. She is the 8th Grade home room teacher as well as the Grade 6-8 literature teacher and Grade 8 religion and social studies instructor. Previously, she taught Grade 6 for 16 years. Mrs. Weaver strives to challenge each student to become an active learner by instilling a desire to use their skills of investigation and providing a variety of learning options to accommodate the differences in how they learn. As advisor to the Student Council and the Grade 7 and 8 Food Share volunteers, Mrs. Weaver promotes serving God by serving others in the school, parish, and local communities.

Mrs. Recko, also a graduate of St. Joseph School, has been an educator at the school for 36 years. She is the 3rd Grade home room teacher and assistant athletic director. Although most of her time has been spent teaching in the 3rd grade, she has also taught preschool, 1st Grade science and social studies, and 4th Grade language arts. Her interaction with students continues outside of her 3rd Grade classroom, as she supervises the homework room daily. As the assistant athletic director and assistant cheerleading coach, Mrs. Recko enjoys watching and helping the children grow, not only in their athletic ability, but to become positive role models displaying good sportsmanship and showing respect for others.

The awards were presented to Mrs. Weaver and Mrs. Recko by Bishop Robert McManus.

On behalf of the St. Joseph School family, we extend our congratulations to these two special ladies! May they enjoy many of God's blessings in their ministry to serve St. Joseph School and Parish.

Antique sales before the internet

The internet has changed our lives in both positive and negative ways. Many brick and mortar businesses have folded, as more people purchase items online. The internet has also changed the way antiques are purchased.

ANTIQUE,
COLLECTIBLES
WAYNE TUISKULA

Prior to the internet, having antique knowledge was much more important than now, in my opinion. Many dealers and collectors had large collections of price guides on many subjects. There are many price guides, auction sites and dealers selling antiques online where you can still find antique information, including prices. Auctions were another good way to learn the value of antiques. Some dealers and collectors were pleased to share their knowledge with you. Many others were less willing to part with knowledge that took them decades to learn and which gave them an advantage over their competition. Many of the items that sold at local auctions, found their way into local shops. Shop owners also bought "new to the market" and "estate fresh" items directly from estate administrators to draw customers to their shops. Shop owners also often frequented estate sales and shopped at yard sales to obtain inventory.

Brimfield is always worth a visit, but the excitement level was even higher prior to the internet. Dealers would bring truckloads of antiques from throughout the Northeast packed with items picked from estates in their area. If you specialized in an area like art glass, oak furniture or early photography you could find dealers pulling items you wanted from their trucks, typically at reasonable prices. Buyers wore t-shirts, hats and even sandwich board signs announcing they wanted gambling memorabilia, phonograph horns or sports memorabilia. Pickers on bicycles scooped up as many deer mounts and wooden skis as they could. Much of it was shipped to the Western United States. Buyers from California filled tractor trailers with merchandise to sell in their shops on the West Coast. We sold some European furniture to a couple that was gathering other European furniture to fill a container bound for Austria. Items often went through multiple dealers before reaching the final buyer. An antique dealer once told me a joke about three antique dealers being stuck on a deserted island with only two antiques. They made a living selling the antiques among themselves. With increasing work demands and the fast pace of today's society, it isn't a surprise that more people are buying antiques and collectibles online. There are virtual antique shops to purchase items online. eBay and other online auctions allow you to bid on items 24 hours a day. Many auction houses also offer online bidding. Even many estate sales are run only online now, in a timed auction format. Despite the changes brought on by the internet, there are people who still prefer going to a shoe store and trying on shoes instead of buying them online. Many antique buyers also prefer buying items at an antique shop, show, auction, flea market or estate sale. Some buyers like to carefully inspect antiques and collectibles before purchasing them. Buyers are also able to bring their purchase home with them instead of having to wait to have it delivered. The internet has provided additional options, but many people are happy with the options they've always had. Registration is taking place for my Evaluating your Antiques class at Bay Path Evening School on March 5th. Other events are being scheduled. Keep checking www.centralmassauctions.com for details. "(Phelps) is an incredible worker. I get compliments about her all the time. I don't have to look over her shoulder. If something's done she knows enough about her job is to take the next step and do what needs to be done. I have been able to do something that I have been unable to do in my entire career and I can leave and take vacations and go to a doctor's appointment and know, with complete confidence, that office is taken care of."

Finn stated that she understands the $19 she wants Phelps to make might be unrealistic and implied her willingness to settle for a raise to $18. She also stated she doesn't want cost of living to be part of the $18, but rather in addition to that salary. Members of the Personnel Board voted in support of Finn's recommendation, although they are not the only entity Finn needs to convince as selectmen also must vote on the raise. Planning Board member and retired selectman Peter Fox restated his perspective that Dudley needs to step up and pay its employees accordingly.

"I think the town employees are underpaid and have been underpaid for quite some time. I see numbers where an employee that has experience and the training and is earning less money than some employees coming in with zero experience. I just don't think that's correct," said Fox. "I think the town clerk position and assistant town clerk position are positions that are part of the backbone of a town. I believe that the position needs to be supported."

Friday's Child

HI! My name is Douglas.
"I love to be held!"

Douglas is an affectionate one-year-old boy of Caucasian descent. His personality is constantly developing, and he has typical interests of a boy his age. Douglas is very curious and he loves looking around at all of his surroundings. He also likes bouncing around and being held. Douglas is not presently in daycare, but rather stays at home with his foster parent where he is doing well. Legally freed for adoption, Douglas needs a family that is open to caring for a child with medical needs. Douglas has an Open Adoption Agreement with his birth parents consisting of quarterly visits until his adoption finalizes, and then two visits per year. Douglas also has two sisters whom he is very close to. An ideal family should be willing to maintain Douglas' connection to his siblings.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples. The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for. To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

Tips and techniques to industrialize your space

Sleek stainless steel, cold concrete and "just enough" rust are what industrial decorating dreams are made of. What to do if you don't have a wallet as deep as your love of the distressed decor that has ushered in the second industrial revolution? Improve. All it takes are some readily available supplies, a bit of elbow grease and a bit of inspiration to create a look inspired by factories of yore. Read on for quick and easy ways to achieve faux designer finishes that mimic the unique modern and rustic look of industrial decor.

TAKE THE HINT

item, simply repeat the process.

 Aged Bronze: Vintage bronze metal furniture, garden accessories, and aged sculptures often boast an aged green patina referred to as verdigris. This aged bronze finish is hard to duplicate, but not impossible. This faux verdigris finish technique is a good alternative to the real thing. Best of all, it covers up imperfections on metal furniture and accessories and is right at home in an industrial space.

Materials: Paints needed are: rust proof primer; oil based enamel semi gloss in a bronze color; three oil based enamel green colors for finish such as verdigris green; sage green and pine or hunter green; foam brush, regular paint brush; kitchen sponges, rags or paper towels.

Instructions: Make sure surface is prepared carefully by sanding and removing any rust. Paint with primer. Paint base coat with a good foam brush. Dip a piece of kitchen sponge into first green paint and dab off excess color. Then apply to surface, varying pressure to create light and dark marks. Leave gaps in coverage for other paint colors. Repeat with last two green colors. When done, reapply a bit of the bronze base coat if needed. Allow to dry.

Cement: Concrete is the cornerstone of industrial decor. From substantial patio planters to concrete counter tops, getting the look for less is literally at your fingertips, thanks to new textured spray paints. These paints make it easier than ever to create faux finishes for modern industrial decor.

Idea Spray: wooden beams to mimic concrete supports; Spray inexpensive plastic pots and garden sculptures to look like pricey concrete pieces; Spray wooden benches to create charming garden seats.

To Try: Rust-Oleum Grey Stone Effect spray paint; Krylon Stone Course Texture spray paint.

It's the season for scams for the unwary

CHIEF'S CORNER
STEVE WOJNAR

It is tax season. Due to a variety of "scams" in today's society, people can unwittingly become a victim of a larceny or identity theft. With this in mind, the IRS tries to provide warnings to citizens. I wanted to remind the readers of this column of some precautions to take during tax time.

According to the Internal Revenue Service, victims have been called, or notified electronically, and told they owe money to the IRS. Generally, victims are informed they must pay promptly, for example through a pre-loaded debit card or wire transfer. If the victim refuses to cooperate, they are then threatened with arrest, deportation or suspension of a business or driver's license. In many cases, the caller becomes hostile and insulting. These scams have occurred in nearly every state in the country. The IRS warns of the following:

Scammers may use fake names and IRS badge numbers.

They generally use common names and surnames to identify themselves.

Scammers may be able to recite the last four digits of a victim's Social Security number.

They can spoof the IRS toll-free number on caller ID to make it appear that it's the IRS calling.

Scammers sometimes send bogus IRS emails to some victims to support their calls.

Victims hear background noise of other calls being conducted to mimic a call site.

After threatening victims with jail time or driver's license revocation, scammers hang up and others soon call back pretending to be from the local police or DMV, and the caller ID supports their claim.

The IRS provides the following recommendations: If you know you owe taxes or you think you might owe taxes, call the IRS at 1.800.829.1040. The IRS employees at that line can help you with a payment issue - if one really exists. If you know you don't owe taxes or have no reason to think that you owe any taxes (for example, you've never received a bill or the caller made some bogus threats as described above), then call and report the incident to the Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration at 1.800.366.4484. If you've been targeted by this scam, you should also contact the Federal Trade Commission and use their "FTC Complaint Assistant" at FTC.gov. Please add "IRS Telephone Scam" to the comments of your complaint. More information on this subject can also be found at IRS.gov.

The IRS reminds everyone they do not initiate contact with taxpayers by email, text messages or social media channels to request personal or financial information. Additionally, the IRS does not threaten taxpayers with lawsuits, imprisonment or other enforcement actions. Being able to recognize these tell-tale signs of a tax scam could save you from becoming a victim. You can always contact your bank, tax professional, the police, or other organizations before you conduct any transactions. If everything is legitimate, there should be time to research any request or demand. Some simple steps can allow you to make informed decisions and avoid becoming a victim.

Thanks again for your questions and comments. Please send them to me at the Dudley Police Department, 71 West Main St., Dudley, MA 01571 or email at swojnar@dudleypolice.com.

Opinions expressed in this weekly column are those of Chief Wojnar only and unless clearly noted, do not reflect the ideas or opinions of any other organization or citizen.

EDITORIAL

Learning how to help one another

There is no question the world has changed. And continues to change all around us.

There was once a different sense of community, one in which people had more connection directly with one another face to face rather than electronically; that is a given; but it was more than that.

It was an age when there was more interaction because people wanted it. There were ways to get it more easily too.

There were organizations specifically intended to give people ways to connect with one another.

Social, yes, but also with motives.

As an example, churches had much more activities for all ages; and they were attended. There was more than just the required Sunday services, there were youth groups and mother's groups and men's groups and choirs and study groups and bowling leagues and sewing circles and scout troops and basketball teams and baseball and softball teams for all ages, and all of them were done under the aegis of a local church.

Then there were gender specific service groups like Lions and Rotary and Jaycess and Kiwanis; who didn't let women in for years although they did have adjacent groups like the Lionesses. But women created their own Women's Clubs and did their own fundraising and good works.

Then there were the sports related groups like bowling leagues and softball leagues and horseshoe leagues and bocci leagues and darts clubs and golf and tennis clubs. And if you weren't good at sports, just join and play cards every afternoon.

So for whatever reason, there were ways to find to interact with others. And then there were ways to find out about problems in the community or about people having difficulties. Quietly, without a lot of fuss and feathers. And somehow, a church or a service group or just friends, would get together and help.

The new crises, opioids, drug addictions, broken families, we are dealing with in all our communities at present aren't new. They are increasingly apparent, but aren't new. What is new is how we deal with this.

We expect somehow it is up to government agencies and health departments and medical gurus and "someone" else to cure it all.

It doesn't work that way. Never has. Never will.

It's a people problem and people are what will help. Families are broken. We've insulated ourselves into such nuclear bodies we don't connect; even within households. And there certainly isn't much intergenerational interaction. We have become dependent on experts to cure our ills, instead of talking to others and talking out problems (not to professionals, but to one another); and instead of 'cures' we find new problems in addictive medications.

The opioids are the results of dependence on big pharmaceuticals and allowing them free rein; they even advertise their stuff freely on TV though they do indeed rattle off a laundry list of possible side effects (even death), that is usually ignored.

Pain, suffering, loneliness, self-worth, depression, learning problems, life skills, addictions, weight problems...

Sound familiar?
 Connecting with one another on a different plane of existence would be a start. Talking rather than texting, face to face. Finding out what makes on another tick without a screen separating one from another.

Stainless Steel: From wastebaskets to washing machines, stainless steel epitomizes the sleek, clean look of modern interior design. The bad news is stainless steel goods typically cost significantly more than their traditional counterparts; the good news is, a faux stainless finish can mimic the expensive look for mere pennies on the dollar. Here are two DIY methods to try:

Stainless Steel Paint: Dubbed "liquid stainless steel" this paint, sold in gallon pails beside the regular latex, is far from ordinary. Its application with a paint brush has the power to give old, dreary appliances a literal facelift. Earning rave reviews, this paint is a readily available and affordable alternative to the real deal.

To Try: Thomas' Liquid Stainless Steel Paint (the company also offers a refrigerator kit with paint and tools to redo appliances like a pro); Giani Liquid Stainless Steel paints.

Sticky Stainless Steel: Remember contact paper? New, high tech textured stainless steel adhesive paper is nothing like the sticky stuff that covered everything from walls to text books during its heyday in the 1950s and '60s. Today's modern version of stainless steel "contact paper" produced by the familiar Con-Tact Brand and others, can literally transform everything from tabletops to kitchen backsplashes in minutes.

To Try: Con-Tact Brand Metal FX Creative Covering Self-Adhesive; EZ Faux Decor Stainless Steel.

Instant Rust: Nothing adds an edge to the industrial look than authentic rust. Almost anything metal from rural mailboxes to steel buckets can benefit from a little (or a lot) of weather-worn rust. While there are many paint applications to mimic oxidation, this easy method results in real rust almost instantly, simply by chemically speeding up the process!

Materials: Item to be rusted; hydrogen peroxide; spray bottle; table or coarse salt.

Instructions: Fill a spray bottle with hydrogen peroxide (be sure to use this method in a well ventilated area or outside if possible). Spritz the surface of the item in the area you wish to be rusted. Generous sprays will result in more effective (and speedy) results.

While surface is still wet, sprinkle salt over the area. Allow to completely air dry without disturbing the piece. Rust will typically form right before your eyes! If you desire a more heavily rusted

What should you do with your tax refund?

You may not get much of a thrill from filing your taxes, but the process becomes much more enjoyable if you're expecting a refund. So, if one is headed your way, what should you do with the money?

The answer depends somewhat on the size of the refund. For the 2017 tax year, the average refund was about $2,760 - not a fortune, but big enough to make an impact in your life. Suppose, for example, that you invested this amount in a tax-deferred vehicle, such as a traditional IRA, and then did not add another penny to it for 30 years. At the end of that time, assuming a hypothetical 7 percent annual rate of return, you'd have slightly more than $21,000 - not enough, by itself, to allow you to move to a Caribbean island, but still a nice addition to your retirement income. (You will need to pay taxes on your withdrawals eventually, unless the money was invested in a Roth IRA, in which case withdrawals are tax-free, provided you meet certain conditions.)

Of course, you don't have to wait 30 years before you see any benefits from your tax refund. If you did decide to put a $2,760 tax refund toward your IRA for

FINANCIAL FOCUS
DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

2018, you'd already have reached just over half the allowable contribution limit of $5,500. (If you're 50 or older, the limit is $6,500.) By getting such a strong head start on funding your IRA for the year, you'll give your money more time to grow. Also, if you're going to "max out" on your IRA, your large initial payment will enable you to put in smaller monthly amounts than you might need to contribute otherwise.

While using your refund to help fund your IRA is a good move, it's not the only one you can make. Here are a few other possibilities:

Pay down some debt. At some time or another, most of us probably feel we're carrying too much debt. If you can use your tax refund to help reduce your monthly debt payments, you'll improve your cash flow and possibly have more money available to invest for the future.

Build an emergency fund. If you needed a new furnace or major car repair, or faced any other large, unexpected expense, how would you pay for it? If you did not have the cash readily available, you might be forced to dip into your long-term investments. To help avoid this problem, you could create an emergency fund containing three to six months' worth of living expenses, with the money kept in a liquid, low-risk account. Your tax refund could help build your emergency fund.

Look for other investment opportunities. If you have some gaps in your portfolio, or some opportunities to improve your overall diversification, you might want to use your tax refund to add some new investments. The more diversified your portfolio, the stronger your defense against market volatility that might primarily affect one particular asset class. (However, diversification, by itself, can't protect against all losses or guarantee profits.)
Clearly, a tax refund gives you a chance to improve your overall financial picture. So take your time, evaluate your options and use the money wisely.

Locals involved in Midwinter Mischief

BY TARA VOCINO
VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

STURBRIDGE — Set in a rural New England village in 1838, audience members had the chance to be characters in Midwinter Mischief: A Yankee Peddler by P.J. Griffith, of New York, at Old Sturbridge Village on Saturday.

OSV interpreters were based on 30 real-life characters from the 1830s who could have crossed paths in Sturbridge, including Sturbridge physician Ephraim Lyon in 1785, Sturbridge stagecoach driver/farmer Silas Marsh Freeman in 1803, and Sturbridge farmer/wheelwright Ezekiel Mayo in 1793, and Sturbridge farmer's daughter Beulah Freeman in 1807, according to Griffith.

As guests arrived, they boarded a horse-drawn carryall, transporting them from OSV Visitor's Center of 2018 to Bullard Tavern of 1838.

"Step on up! We're going to be late!" the stagecoach driver said. "Fortune favors the bold, so don't hesitate! There's a revel at the tavern by the owner's request — Mr. Bullard's excited to have you here as his guest! A "Midwinter Frolic" with food and with spirits. And a fire to warm up your soul while you're near it! The fiddler will play and the cider will flow. So hold onto your sweetheart, to the tavern we go!"

The Stagecoach Driver pulled the reins and the carryall took off down the path to Bullard Tavern.

The tavern keeper's wife said, "If you are in the 10:30 party, meet me by the fire!"

She then proceeded to individually greet each guest in the group, as if she recognized them as regulars at the tavern, handing them a corresponding character card with their name on it. All guests participated in this activity.

She asked Ms. Crandall, "You haven't aged a day since I saw you last! How's the Cause?"

The tavern keeper's wife hands a female guest the card for: "Prudence Crandall, b.1804, schoolteacher/abolitionist." Crandall was an abolitionist and schoolteacher in Rhode Island in 1803, Griffith said.

The minister's daughter gave audience members hot chocolate in front of the fire.

"This hot drink will warm you right down to your soul," she said. "Just milk, pounded sugar and grated cocoa. Step up to the hearth here and give it a try—Heavenly treats await those who aren't shy."

The printer's wife and her daughter have three to four minutes of interpretation, where they taught the guests Prudence Crandall and Fanny Osgood to make candles while explaining the process along the way.

Olivia Barrett, age 12, of Worcester, was one of the volunteers who made candles.

"I apologize for the mess," the Printer's Wife said. "Come join in the dipping! We're making our candles and the tallow is dripping! Some of your mothers said you'd be by to assist Prudence and Fanny — help us out, I insist!"

In the schoolhouse, an audience member read the mysterious handwritten note left on the desk aloud, next to the unwrapped candies.

"Read, child, read!" the school teacher commanded.

Nearest student to the paper (reading the note out loud) "Thank you for helping me pilch that wood for heat," she read. "As per our agreement, here are your sweets. I'm taking it right across the way to the Potter. His clay is all freezing and his shop must be hotter!"

The school teacher separated the men and women in the audience and asked them to bow or curtsy.

She asked which student was guilty of taking the empty woodbox by the stove. One audience member jokingly said that he stole it. That line wasn't in the script.

The school teacher told audience members to take peppermints on their way out.

Warren resident Mark Holmes played the potter, "Elijah."

The potter instructs "Elijah" on the fundamentals of how to throw the clay as part of a few minutes of interpretation. Elijah gets his hands dirty. The potter corrects his mistakes, then kicks him off the wheel and quickly molds the lump of clay into a mug himself.

"Is Elijah with you all? Elijah Osborn?," the Potter asks. (The Potter looks around and identifies the guest playing "Elijah".) "Son, I hear you're an aspiring potter! Well... time to earn your keep. Step up to the wheel."

Holmes steps up to the wheel. Osborn was a potter's apprentice in New Hampshire in 1806, Griffith said.

The guests playing "John Colt" and "George Davis" join the farmer in interpretation in the barn, where they are taught how to use a 2-handed saw. Other guests were assigned other maintenance tasks around the barn or shelling corn or feeding livestock.

in Connecticut in 1810, and Davis was a lawyer in Gloucester in 1799, Griffith said.

"Hurry, friends, hurry!," the farmer demands. "We need hands on the farm— we just took down a tree and could sure use your help, so come follow me!"

Over in the kitchen, Charlton resident Pam Breinlinder chops meat.

"The meats here are minced and the intestines are scraped," the farmer's wife said. "Then the casings are filled to give them some shape. (seeing "Beulah" in the crowd of guests) Enough playing out in the cold, Beulah Freeman! I need your help now! Chop up this meat, I'll show you just how."

The guest playing "Eliza Bixby" washed and rinsed the "slightly-chipped pie plate."

"Welcome, weary travelers!" the blacksmith's daughter said. "It's bake day at our home, for those who inquire— We've got beans, breads and pies baking here by the fire. Come help with our effort, or take a seat if you wish, Eliza, we've been waiting! Please wash out this dish!"

The guests followed Mrs. Bullard or a tavern patron through the rest of the woods along the path back to Bullard Tavern where they are all invited to celebrate together with food, drinks and music.

"May this journey inspire us to reach out and connect," the peddler said. "And follow the road that we didn't expect...We hope your adventure was all you desired—Now come join us for a meal and a dance by the fire!"

The tinner and his apprentice are hard at work pounding/soldering tin at their respective benches.

Charlton resident Pam Breinlinder chops meat to make sausage.

Worcester resident Olivia Barrett, age 12, in the center, played Elijah Osborn, a potter's apprentice in 1806.

The guests played "John Colt" and "George Davis" join the farmer in three minutes of interpretation in the barn, where they are taught how to use a 2-handed saw. Colt was a fur trader and law clerk in Connecticut in 1810, and Davis was a lawyer in Gloucester in 1799, Playwright P.J. Griffith said.

Strong start helps Bartlett boys' basketball beat Pirates

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER — The Bartlett High boys' varsity basketball team, using a balanced offensive attack that featured four players scoring in double figures, got off to a quick start and then rolled to its fifth win in its last six games, defeating Oxford High, 70-58, on Wednesday, Jan. 31.

The Indians improved to 7-8 with the win, while the Pirates dropped to 6-9 with the loss, their fourth straight.

Bartlett was led in scoring by junior Dylan Paddleford, who scored 14 points. Sophomore Logan Paranto and freshman Brandon Boucher each scored 13 points and senior Johnny Torres added 12. The Indians hit nine 3-pointers in the game. Paranto and Dom Palmerino (nine points) hit three each, while Boucher added two.

"We're not one-dimensional," Bartlett head coach Tony Paranto said of his team's balanced offensive attack. "Everybody, at certain times — if we work our offense properly — will get open shots, and they can make open shots."

Logan Paranto gave Bartlett a 2-0 lead 64 seconds into the game on a 12-foot jumper, sparking a streak of eight straight points that put the Indians ahead, 8-0, with 5:32 to play in the first quarter. Wilson Aybar, Paddleford and Logan Paranto a second time, scored in the spurt.

"The fast start was nice to see," coach Paranto said. "Playing in your own gym you should shoot the ball well. We have some kids that are capable of putting up some points in a hurry for us and they did that tonight. We also shot the 3 a little bit better than we have previously."

Klaytin Silva (13 points) got Oxford on the board with a tip-in with 4:47 left in the period to cut the Pirates' deficit down to 8-2. Bartlett held that eight-point lead (17-9) as play headed into the second quarter, which the Indians opened with a 9-0 run to surge ahead, 26-11. Senior Corey Harrington hit a 3-pointer in the spurt while Paddleford and Zach Candito added baskets and Boucher hit a pair of free throws.

Bartlett, which led by 13 (36-23) at halftime, blew the game open to start the third quarter, scoring 11 straight points to grab a 47-23 lead with 5:33 left in the period. Logan Paranto hit a pair of 3's sandwiched around a trey by Palmerino, and Aybar added a baseline drive. The Indians took a 53-34 lead into the fourth quarter.

The Pirates made things interesting in the final quarter, cutting the Bartlett lead down to 10 points, 63-53, with 1:59 to play.

"We're still in the process of learning how to close games out," coach Paranto said. "We don't value the basketball as much as we should right now. Their pressure gave us some trouble. We need to know what spots we need to be in on our press breakers. We're just not smart enough sometimes because of our lack of experience. Fortunately we had a big enough lead tonight to weather the storm."

The Indians answered Oxford's run, however, with a 7-1 run of their own that pushed their lead back to 16, 70-54, with less than a minute to play.

Junior McAddai Owusu (13 points) led the Pirates in the fourth quarter, scoring seven points. Freshman Eli Guivas (a game-high 16 points) scored six points on two 3-pointers, while Silva and senior Jared Perkins (11 points) added four each.

"Our slow start did us in. The first four minutes of the game was the story," said Oxford head coach Anthony McDonald, who dismissed the notion that his team may have been a little flat when the game started. "I don't think we were flat, not at all."

"We've had three tough losses in a row," McDonald explained. "We lost by three to Grafton, by one to Northbridge and then on Monday night by two to Southbridge. They were all close games and we battled in all of them and all three took a lot out of us."

Rams kick game into up-tempo mode late to rally by Shrewsbury

SHREWSBURY — It's not how you start, it's how you finish.

The Shepherd Hill Regional boys' varsity basketball team showed how true that sports cliché can be at times, rallying from a 15-point third quarter deficit to defeat Shrewsbury High, 62-56, on Tuesday, Jan. 30.

With the win the Rams improved to 9-5 overall and 3-3 in the Mid-Wach A, while the Colonials fell to 6-8 overall and 2-5 in league play with the loss.

Shepherd Hill junior Cody Adams (19 points, two 3-pointers) scored on a twisting drive through the lane with 2:27 to play to give the Rams their first lead of the game, 53-52. He was fouled on the play and went to the line and swished the free throw, pushing the lead to 54-52.

Senior Kenny Flynn (eight points) extended the Rams' lead to 56-52 just 30 seconds later on a dunk set up by an Adams steal and great lead pass.

Shrewsbury cut the Shepherd Hill lead down to two twice in the final minute of play, but the Rams answered each time and then sealed up the victory with four free throws in the final 18 seconds, two each by Adams and Jason O'Regan (19 points, three 3-pointers).

Shepherd Hill trailed, 35-20, with 13 minutes to play when Rams' head coach Mike Byrnes decided to switch on defense to a full-court press.

"We started to press them and that got them starting to play our game; the game started to go up-tempo," Byrnes said. "They like to slow the game down; we like to play fast. We figured [pressing them] would bring the tempo up. The last time we played them [a 48-45 Shepherd Hill win] they kind of shredded our press. So, I didn't think that was going to change the game, but luckily it did. The press got us going."

After turning their ball-hawking, double-teaming, harassing press on the Colonials, the Rams scored the next 11 points, cutting the Shrewsbury lead to four, 35-31, with 2:10 to play in the third quarter. O'Regan had six points in the run while senior Danny Cavic (10 points) added five.

Shrewsbury ended its scoring drought on an inside post move by Cole Nelson (13 points) with 1:49 left in the third, pushing its lead back to six, 37-31, but Adams answered with a 3-pointer with 1:32 left in the quarter to pull the Rams to within three, 37-34.

After the Colonials upped their lead to 40-34 with 56 seconds left in the quarter on a drive by John West (21 points), Adams cut it back to three, 40-37, on a left-side trey with 44 seconds to go in the third.

Shrewsbury scored the first six points of the fourth quarter to take a nine-point lead, 46-37, with 5:50 left in the game. The teams essentially traded baskets for the next two minutes, and the Colonials led by six, 52-46, with four minutes remaining.

Shepherd Hill made its final — and most important — run at that point, scoring 10 straight points, ending with Flynn's dunk, to lead 56-52 with 1:57 left. O'Regan hit a 3-pointer and Adams scored his three-point play in the run, while Flynn scored the other four points.

Adams seemed to be everywhere on the court in the final 13 minutes of the game. He scored 15 of his 19 points in that span and had a handful of steals and assists as well.

"Cody's a gamer, that's just what he is. He's a very ridiculous athlete; he's a great football player as well," Byrnes said. "He just comes to play every night. He played great for us. He plays well with these guys."

Adams said he didn't think the game was over when the Rams went down by 15 points in the third quarter.

"We never doubted ourselves. We're an up-tempo team and they tried to slow the game down. We thought if we could up the tempo we could pull it out," Adams said. "The last time we played them the last time we were down 18 at one point, so we knew we could pull it out."

Byrnes was asked after the game if he thought his team had "stolen a win."

"I think we did. We didn't come out and play the way we wanted to tonight, but we figured out a way and found a way to get it done," Byrnes said. "This is a big win for us, very big. We should have a spot in the Clark now and we're one win away from clinching a district spot."

Buzzer-beater burns Bay Path in loss to Aztecs

CHARLTON — Hoping to inch one step closer to locking down a berth in the Central Mass. Division 4 postseason tournament for the fourth straight season, the Bay Path Regional girls' varsity basketball team hosted Assabet Regional on Wednesday, Jan. 31 looking for a victory.

Although the Minutemen trailed after the opening quarter, they held leads through halftime and the third period. But, when all was said and done, the Aztecs edged Bay Path, 46-45, thanks to a buzzer beating 3-pointer.

The loss dropped the Minutemen's record down to 7-5. They must finish at 9-9 or better to qualify for the playoffs.

In the game with Assabet the Minutemen fell behind, 11-5, after the initial eight-minute quarter. But Bay Path won second quarter scoring, 16-7, to lead by a 21-18 count at the halftime break. The Minutemen's Savannah Vangel had already registered a double-double at that point with 10 points and 11 rebounds by intermission.

Both teams then scored seven points in the third quarter as Bay Path still led by three — now at 28-25 — heading into the final frame.

But the Aztecs won fourth quarter scoring, 21-17, to rally for the victory. One problem for the Minutemen was their free throw shooting. Bay Path sank just 19 of 46 attempts (41 percent) during the course of the game and were 9 of 19 (47 percent) in the fourth quarter alone.

Vangel finished with 14 points and 19 rebounds for the Minutemen, while Madison Paulhus was effective driving to the basket and finished with a team-high 16 points. Kiara Coates was strong on the glass, pulling down 11 rebounds.

As winter winds down feeding deer isn't helpful

.....
TRUE

With the deer season now over in Massachusetts, I have decided to train my Labrador retriever to find shed deer antlers. Most deer have already shed their antlers, and are just lying on the ground waiting to be picked up. If you find deer antlers, they can reveal how big a deer is, that is still left in your deer hunting spot. Locating new deer habitat with shed antlers, could have you hunting there next year, and just maybe it will lead you to a trophy buck. The more time you put into scouting deer habitat during the off season, the better your odds are at harvesting a trophy deer. Hopefully 2018 will see a large acorn crop which is overdue. Gypsy moths have destroyed oak trees for close to three years, but the absence of moth egg sacks on trees this year are far fewer than last year. Other hunters also noticed the decrease in moth eggs on trees.

The harvest report on deer last year broke all records. 13,000 + deer were reported for 2017!!! This week's picture shows Janet Harper of Uxbridge with a nice 8 point buck she harvested this past fall in the valley. Janet also hunts alongside her husband Phil, and both have done well over the years. They both enjoy hunting big game animals together, and have numerous trophies on their wall, from around the world.

There are numerous husband and wife teams that hunt together in the valley. Frank Daigneault and his wife also hunt together, and Frank's wife had been more successful than he has up until this past deer season. Frank harvested two deer to her one!!!

This past weekend this writer captured six deer with my camera, feeding in a local field on winter rye that a farmer had planted this past fall. It was just what the deer needed to help sustain them through the rest of the winter.

"Feed or not to feed deer in your back yard" is a big question many hunters are asking? In most states it is illegal to feed deer at all, as the deer's digestive system cannot handle the change in their diet. Many people are feeding deer a corn diet that could result in the death of our deer. It is recommended you purchase a feeder and give the deer the proper feed that will help sustain them through the next few weeks of winter if you feel the need to do so. Otherwise it is best to let them eat through browsing on woody plants which is part of their normal diet this time of year. The deer cannot digest the corn and develop acidosis at this time of year, and it can be fatal.

Hunters are hoping for a big acorn drop this year as wild turkeys also feed on them. Wild turkeys can go without much food for a number of days, and can stay on their roost for days also. If the weather is severe and the food source is limited, they find a way to survive. Turkeys roost in hemlock and pine trees when the weather gets nasty at this time of year. Both wild turkey and deer do better on their own year around. Feeding waterfowl can also be dangerous when they are fed for a month or two and then the feeding stops. The birds become dependent on the feed and often do not look for their natural food leading to starvation of the birds. Even small back yard feeders need to be kept full throughout the winter, as they to become dependent on the food.

An annual back yard bird count will be held on Feb. 18 at West Hill, with a snow date of Feb. 24. Cornell University is looking for volunteers to assist in the annual bird count. Contact Ranger Viola Bramel at (978) 318-8417 for more information. Bring along the family!!

The late Canada goose season will end this Saturday, Feb. 10 in the Central District. Some goose hunters did very well during the late season, but most of their action was south of our area. For some reason the birds do not congregate in the valley area during the winter months.

At one time hundreds of geese wintered in the Rice City area and were hunted on a daily basis. It was the place to go 25 years ago. A group of goose hunters met at the old Rice City parking lot every morning and worked together to pick the best spot for some action. First light had the birds taking flight to visit local fields and rivers to find food. The sound of a couple hundred geese taking flight was exciting. Some birds flew up river and some went down river. If you were lucky and you picked the right spot you harvested a few birds or at least got some shooting.

We had so many hunters meeting at the parking lot, we formed a Valley Goose Hunters Ass., still have my old membership card. Eight or ten goose hunters reassembled at the parking lot, and we visited other areas that had geese in them. A local Game Warden at that time was doing a great job keeping everyone in line, to ensure that we all followed the hunting regulations. He often met us at a local diner to have breakfast after the hunt. We had a lot of laughs. Yes, those were the good old days. This writer was checked by the local warden to ensure that my shotgun only had three shells in it. He did not have a tool to check the gun properly, so I offered to have one made for him. After having the tool made I gave it to him and showed him how to use it. It worked great!

The following year I was hunting woodcock and forgot to place the plug in my gun, as you also can only have three shots in the gun while hunting woodcock. A couple of hunting buddies made me aware of the warden's presence, and we all met him at the parking lot.

"Hey Ralph, I need to check your gun magazine for a plug." No problem.

He pulled out the tool I had made for him and it went past the legal limit. One guy was rolling on the ground laughing, while the others recommended I be arrested! After everyone was done laughing I was given a verbal warning. Hey, at least the warden found out his new tool worked. We all went for breakfast, but the I had to listen to all of the "BS"!!

Seven questions approved for fall ballot...so far

BY JERRY CARTON
COURIER CORRESPONDENT

Election years bring referendums and so it is that seven questions (thus far) appear to be set for Massachusetts voters to determine their fate come November.

That's the word from Jason Tait at the state office of Campaign and Political Finance. There's still plenty of time for advocacy groups to organize and get on the ballot if they acquire enough signatures but Tait identified seven issues about which fund-raising reports have been filed, signaling their seriousness.

While specific wording of the referendums won't be done until later this year, topics include:

- Patient Safety and Hospital Transparency;
- Reduce Burden of Sales and Use Tax - Law Requiring Sales Tax Free Weekend;
- Paid Family and Medical Leave;
- Increase in Minimum Wage;
- Citizens Commission to Change Citizens United;
- Millionaire Tax (constitutional amendment - already on ballot);
- Repeal of Transgender Bill.

Supporters and opponents of the Patient Safety and Transgender referendums have filed but only backers of the others have reported raising money.

The OCPF recommends citizens looking to get a referendum initiative on the general election ballot form committees to conduct fund-raising efforts.

The final ballot order and the total number of ballot questions will be determined over the summer.

More information regarding how to get a question on the ballot can be obtained from Tait at the OCPF at (617) 979-8300. Groups thinking about raising money regarding a question can reach Mike Joyce at the same number.

Shop eco-friendly Valentine's Day ideas

Red may be the color most often associated with Valentine's Day, but those who want environmentally friendly ways to celebrate this day of love can tint the occasion with a little green. This list of earth-conscious Valentine's Day gifts can provide inspiration for loving couples.

- Give organic chocolate. Eco-conscious chocolate connoisseurs will appreciate indulgent fine chocolates crafted with the planet in mind. Some of the world's best chocolate is produced from small cacao farms that do not employ fungicide or insecticide in their farming practices. Choose chocolate artisans that produce their chocolate from responsibly-sourced ingredients for a sweet Valentine's Day treat.

- Plant a live gift. A living gift can be a symbol of enduring love and one that gives back to the environment. Couples can explore their options at local nurseries and plant a shade tree, shrubbery or even a fruit tree. This is certainly a gift that can give every year.

- Write it down. Love notes are a simple, heartfelt gift. Choose to scribe down sentiments on recycled paper with non-toxic inks. Give that love note even more traction by framing it for a lasting gift.

- Adopt an animal. Animal lovers crusade for their favorite mammals, reptiles and amphibians every day. Rather than exchange-ing a stuffed animal on Valentine's Day that will only take up space on a shelf or bed, consider saving the life of a real animal. Conservation agencies can always use helping hands. Donations can be used to feed and shelter pets or to restore habitats for wild animals.

- Give living plants. Flowers can express all types of emotions, but those cut blooms will begin to fade after a few days, especially when some flowers are flown in from all over the world. Gifting a potted plant from a local nursery is a more eco-friendly idea, and one that can last for many years to come.

- Create a free-range, organic meal. Homemade food can be a nice gesture, especially when cooks select fair-trade, organic and free-range products. Don't forget to extend the specialized shopping to include wine or other beverages that are locally sourced.

- Give gifts of sustainable comfort. Practical but luxurious linens and clothing made from sustainable materials are great eco-friendly gifts. Bamboo bedding or organic cotton shirts offer comfort and promote environmental stewardship.

Gifting green for Valentine's Day is easier than one may think. Eco-conscious gifts are a smart idea for anyone who wants to impart minimal impact on the planet this February and beyond.

Give the gift of homemade fudge

CAPTION: Chocolate treats make the perfect accompaniment to Valentine's Day celebrations.

Looking for some sweets for your Valentine's Day sweetheart? Chocolate is one of the most universally beloved confections and is especially popular come Valentine's Day. While others may line up to purchase chocolate treats this February 14, it's easy to recreate some of the magic at home with ingredients you already have on hand.

Fudge is a chocolate dessert admired by many. Easy to prepare and even easier to devour, fudge can be made earlier in the day and served after your Valentine's Day dinner. Enjoy this recipe for "Easy Chocolate Fudge" courtesy of Nestlé's "Very Best Baking." According to Nestlé, this glossy combination of chocolate morsels and sweetened condensed milk is even better when it's embellished with vanilla and chopped nuts.

EASY CHOCOLATE FUDGE

- 2 cups (12-oz. package) Nestlé® Toll House® Semi-Sweet Chocolate Morsels
- 1 can (14 oz.) Nestlé® Carnation® Sweetened Condensed Milk
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Line an 8- or 9-inch square baking pan with foil.

Combine the morsels and sweetened condensed milk in a medium, heavy-duty saucepan. Warm over the lowest possible heat, stirring until smooth. Remove from heat; stir in the nuts and vanilla extract.

Spread evenly into the prepared baking pan. Refrigerate for 2 hours or until firm. Lift from the pan; remove the foil. Cut into 48 pieces.

Decadent chocolate makes the perfect Valentine's gift

Valentine's Day would not be the same without chocolate. Men and women who want to go the extra mile for their significant others on Valentine's Day this year but still incorporate chocolate into the festivities can try their hand at concocting a homemade confection such as the following recipe for "Chocolate, Port and Pear Upside-Down Sponge" from Maxine Clark's "Chocolate: Deliciously Indulgent Recipes for Chocolate Lovers" (Ryland, Peters & Small).

CHOCOLATE, PORT AND PEAR UPSIDE-DOWN SPONGE

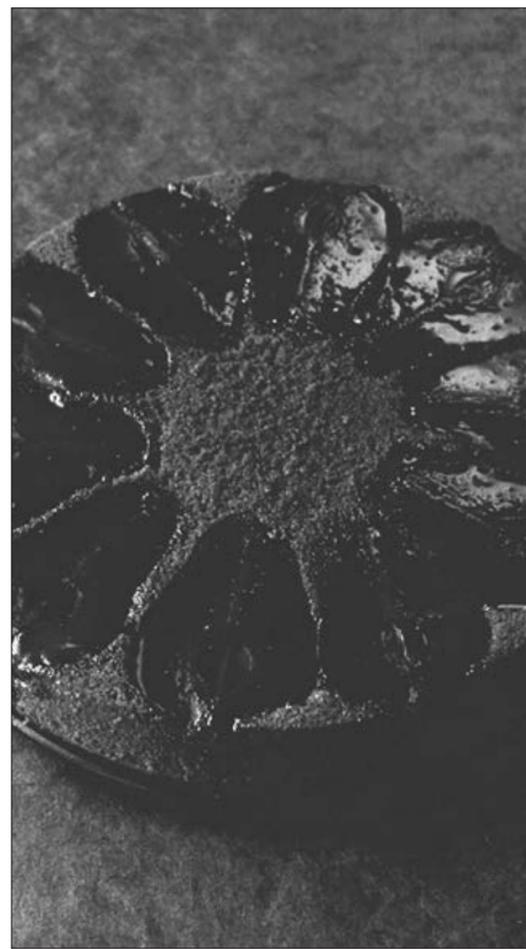

Serves 6
Crème Anglaise, to serve (see below)
6 to 8 medium, underripe pears, peeled
1 cinnamon stick
6 tablespoons sugar
2/3 cup Ruby Port
2 cups full-bodied red wine

Cake Batter
3/4 cup all-purpose flour
3 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa
1 teaspoon baking powder
Pinch of salt
1/2 cup fine cornmeal
6/2 tablespoons unsalted butter, softened
3/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
3 large eggs, separated
1 teaspoon pure vanilla essence
6 tablespoons milk

1 9 x 2-inch heavy round cake pan, greased

Halve the pears lengthwise and carefully scoop out the core with a teaspoon or melon baller. Put the pears in a wide, shallow sauté pan with the cinnamon and the sugar. Pour over the port and red wine and bring to a boil. Cover and simmer gently for 20 minutes (after which they will be a little less firm). Lift the pears out of the pan with a slotted spoon. Let cool. Boil the reserved wine juices hard until well reduced and syrupy.

Arrange the pears cut-side down around the base of the prepared cake pan (wide ends outward, points toward the middle). Pour over half the wine syrup, reserving the rest. Let cool.

CAPTION: Chocolate, Port and Pear Upside-Down Sponge

Preheat the oven to 375 F.

To make the cake batter, sift the flour, cocoa, baking powder, and salt in a small bowl and stir in the cornmeal. Using an electric beater, cream the butter and sugar in a large bowl until pale and fluffy, then beat in the egg yolks and vanilla essence. Fold in the flour mixture, then beat in the milk.

Using the electric mixer with clean beaters, beat the egg whites in a clean, dry bowl until they form soft peaks. Using a metal spoon, quickly stir a large spoonful of whites into the cake mixture to loosen it, then gently fold in the remainder. Spoon the cake batter over the pears and smooth the surface.

Bake for 45 to 60 minutes, or until a metal skewer inserted into the center comes out clean. Remove from the oven and let cool for 10 minutes in the pan. Just before serving, put the pan over low heat for 1 minute to warm the pears and help loosen them from the bottom. Run a knife around the edges to loosen the cake and invert onto a warm serving plate. Brush the pears with the reserved syrup. Serve warm or at room temperature with Crème Anglaise.

CRÈME ANGLAISE

Serves 4 to 6

- 1 vanilla bean, split lengthwise
- 1 1/4 cups milk
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 egg yolks
- 2 tablespoons brandy, Armagnac or bourbon (optional)

Put the vanilla bean, milk and sugar in a small pan and heat gently. Bring almost to a boil, then set aside to infuse for 15 minutes. Remove the vanilla bean. (Rinse and dry the vanilla bean and store in a sugar jar to make vanilla sugar.)

Put the egg yolks in a bowl, beat well, and then pour in the infused milk. Mix well and return to the pan. Stir with a wooden spoon over gentle heat until the custard coats the back of the spoon. Pour into a cold bowl and stir in the brandy, if using. Cover the surface with plastic wrap, let cool, then refrigerate until needed.

Gail A. (Clark) Quigley, 82

WEBSTER - Gail A. (Clark) Quigley, aged 82, passed away peacefully Monday surrounded by the large and loving family that defined her full and vibrant life. Gail was predeceased ten years ago by her husband Donald, and leaves her beloved sister Barbara as well as her 4 unique children: Paul and his partner Anne of Boulder, CO, Timothy and his wife Sandy of Natick, MA JoEllen and her husband Tom of Princeton, MA and Sheila and her husband John of New Bern, NC; a daughter-in-law, Susan of Hopkinton; as well as ten beloved grandchildren, Brie, Katie, Dan, Jared, Zachary, Mikayla, Abby, Bobby, Luke and Juliana and two precious great grandchildren, Sawyer and Madison; her sister-in-law Arlene; and close friends, Allan, Rae and Herbie.

A life-long and proud resident of Webster, MA, Gail used her innate curiosity, keen intelligence, warm soul and dry wit to quickly connect with people of all ages and cultures in addition to four legged creatures of all types. Gail was employed as a Surgical Technician for over 30 years with a great team of skilled colleagues at Hubbard Regional Hospital and also served in a wide variety of roles at her beloved St. Louis Parish, where she found great friendship, comfort and nourished her deep spiritual beliefs. Gail was especially proud of her work in Serra Club which recently honored her for her valued service. Gail's house was the defacto neighborhood athletic facility, combination health and veterinarian clinic, botanical garden as well as an unlicensed gourmet bar and grill. Many stitches were avoided and souls were comforted in that warm and boisterous home.

Gail approached life by always wanting to know the "how" in addition to the "why" of all things. This inquisitive nature, combined with a philosophy of "let's try it" evolved into a deep expertise in all things but especially gardening and cooking. "Cool Nana Q" attended countless events in which her grandchildren participated over the years. She also became quite proficient with technology and used it frequently to stay in touch with her widely dispersed friends and family. Gail was a great, loyal, non-judgmental and honest friend to many, and modeled an unyielding work ethic that her children have embraced. She will be sorely missed but we who knew and loved her find great comfort in the fact that she will be united with the God she loves, and reunited with Donald and her many friends and family that have made that same journey before her.

A wake was held at Scanlon Funeral Service, 38 East Main Street, Webster, MA on Friday, February 2 from 4-8 pm and a Mass in her honor was held at Saint Louis Parish, 14 Lake Street, Saturday, February 3rd, at 10:00 AM. Private interment will take place at a later date. A celebration of Gail's life was held at Point Breeze Pavilion, 114 Point Breeze Road, Webster immediately after the Mass. Donations in her name can be directed to Saint Louis Endowment Fund, 15 Lake Street, or to the Serra Club of Southern Worcester County, c/o Roland P. Malboeuf, Treasurer, 36 Hillside Avenue, both Webster, MA 01570.

About half of our members also like to eat. Each month we have a simple dinner with dessert and refreshments just prior to our meeting, which allows us time to socialize too. We meet the fourth Wednesday of each month starting at 6:30 p.m. in the Oxford Senior Center located at 323 Main St. in Oxford. It is the building directly behind the Oxford Town Hall building. HELP FOR HELPERS: Do you have a family member struggling with addiction or alcoholism? You are not alone. Join Families Helping Families Support Group. Meetings at Dudley Senior Center every first and third Monday of the month, 6:30-8 p.m. We spend so much time with our addicted loved one, that we become victims ourselves. Join us. HOLISTIC HEALTH: Chair Yoga and so much more every Tuesday from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. at The First Congregational Church, 135 Center Road, Dudley (please park and enter through the right side basement entrance). Class Fee: $5/class voluntary contribution (Cancer patients always free). Proceeds donated to the First Congregational Church of Dudley. Instructor: Joanne LaLiberte, Holistic Health practitioner. This class of chair yoga is to expand the lungs and strengthen all the body's major muscle groups, for stability and mobility, balance, increasing flexibility, muscularity of hip and legs and increasing range of motion with our "rear view mirror" twists. We work through the entire body, quieting the nerves, relieving stress, realigning posture and we leave renewed. Chair yoga is open to adults of all ages. It is kept light-hearted with respect for every member of the class. We honor the body as it is right now and work to improve its overall health. We come to class as individuals and leave as family. Get to know yourself through the eyes of chair yoga and build a body that serves you better. Wear comfortable clothing. As with any exercise program, check with your healthcare professional before starting.
