BOH hears bag ban plan

BY GUS STEEVES
NEWS CORRESPONDENT

AUBURN – The Board of Health got a first look at Selectman Tristan Laliberte’s proposal to ban plastic shopping bags Monday, with board members largely focused on how they’d enforce and educate about it.

“My only hesitation as a board is that I don’t want to be the only ones saying to the whole town ‘You have to do this,’” said Vice-Chair Carolyn Griffin, who noted she prefers it be done as a bylaw – that is, through the selectmen and town meeting – rather than as a BOH regulation. Laliberte said he aims to present it to the selectmen at the Feb. 22 meeting, with a goal of sending it to the May annual town meeting for approval.

Laliberte said the bylaw route is the one followed by most of the communities that have approved such bans. In most cases, such bylaws have come from citizen petition, not as an idea born within town government, although most do assign enforcement to the BOH. In only a handful of places are the rules actually BOH regulations.

He said he has spoken to representatives from several communities with such bans, and found several common features. Generally, they eliminate all plastic shopping bags (in some, it only affects bigger stores) and require any plastic alternative that’s offered meet the “ASTM 6400 standard, which is for compostable [bags],” he said. In practice, most also allow recyclable paper and encourage people to bring their own reusables, which he described as “the best case scenario for the environment and the retailer.” He noted, however, that Shrewsbury and some other towns require bags that are “biodegradable, marine-degradable and compostable.” At present, nothing on the market meets all three standards.

“It was written that way on purpose, to create a demand for that kind of product,” he added, noting his bylaw requires bags to meet one of the three. But they “must be clearly labeled.”

From what he’s read, such bans tend to produce a brief uptick in the number of paper bags used, but those cost retailers more, so they tend to promote reusables.

Health Director Darlene Coyle said she’d like to see more community feedback regarding how well the idea is supported by residents, since opposition “makes it a little more challenging” to enforce. Beyond that, she said she’d like to know how other towns

AHS artists tapped for statewide show

BY GUS STEEVES
NEWS CORRESPONDENT

AUBURN – Two Auburn High School juniors are representing the town’s art program in this year’s statewide Emerging Youth Artists exhibition at UMass-Dartmouth.

Rebecca Chamberland and Obiamiaka Igwenagu were recently chosen to be among the 67 young Bay Staters participating in the show. Organizer Elena Peteva said by email that the college received more than 800 submissions from 493 artists; they and the public were invited to the show’s reception Feb. 10 in North Dartmouth.

In both cases, the art in question came from an assignment to do something on a social issue by teacher Amanda Bastien.

“This show is quite an accomplishment,” she said. “I want them to put themselves out there and see they’re perfectly capable of participating.”

Bastien noted Igwenagu was inspired by her favorite show, the Japanese manga series “Dragonball Z.” There, a character uses certain hand positions, and she said she wanted to challenge herself by trying to foreshorten it using chalk pastels. She came up a giant pair of hands.

To Chamberland, her piece was “really challenging.” Normally, she reads an assignment and an image forms in her mind, but that one took a few sketches and even then, it took a friend’s words to make things fall into place. In the end, what came out was very personal –

Auburn joins opioid lawsuit

BY GUS STEEVES
NEWS CORRESPONDENT

AUBURN – Selectmen unanimously voted to join a nationwide opioid lawsuit Monday, one of a growing number of area communities doing so in recent weeks.

“It is out of control,” observed Selectman Lionel Berthiaume of the opioid crisis. To him, participating in the suit is a way to “take a responsible stand and, if nothing, scare the wits out of the manufacturers and distributors.”

The proposal came to Auburn by way of attorney Richard Sandman, whose firm is one of several representing communities in the case. He said the suit is entirely on “a contingency basis,” meaning the town pays nothing until an award is made, at which time the lawyers get a percentage of the funds. Such an award isn’t likely to come for several years.

“When you fight the opioid manufacturers and distributors, you’d better be well-funded, you’d better have a lot of people on your staffs, you’d better be prepared for a fight,” he said. “I believe we are well positioned in all of those areas.”

Sandman summarized the case as being an effort to hold

Big Pharma accountable for “various violations,” including negligence, “misrepresentation as it relates to the addictive nature of the opioids,” and failure to report or stop “unusually large orders.”

For the latter, he cited a West Virginia town of about 500 people who received nearly 10 million pills over two years.

Locally, he said Auburn saw 27 emergency response calls related to overdoses in 2016 with one death. “You’re controlling the issue pretty well from the sound of it, but it’s still getting away from all communities.”

The case is going to be complex, with evidence pulled from hundreds of towns and united in a process before an Ohio federal court. But individual towns have the right to pull out whenever they wish and pursue their own case in a Massachusetts federal court with continued representation from the same coalition of attorneys under the same contingency conditions. (He didn’t mention it, but the coalition’s website is www.mass-mola.com, where the attorneys intend to post a wide range of documents related to the case.)

Ultimately, Sandman

Sen. Moore secures state bond funding for local priorities

BOSTON — Senator Michael O. Moore (D-Millbury) announced the Senate voted to authorize up to $3.65 billion in bonds for repairs and improvements of capital facilities across the Commonwealth.

Spending authorizations in the bill include bonds for state university and community college campus improvements, public safety and security facilities, clean programs, and priorities for central Massachusetts.

“This bill will allow the Commonwealth to maintain and improve capital facilities across the state ultimately benefitting local residents,” said Senator Moore. “The legislation authorizes investments in sectors that are critical for the continued success of our communities.”

The bill authorizes the issuance of bonds for the improvement of capital facilities and for general government operations, including:

- $6.1 million for public safety improvements in the towns of Auburn, Millbury, Upton and Shrewsbury;
- $4.3 million for engineering, design and construction of commuter parking enhancements between Shrewsbury Street and Grafton Street in the city of Worcester;
- $1 million for repairs and improvements to the Route 146 pedestrian bridge at the

Independent bookstore in Webster celebrates 23 years in business

Booklovers’ Gourmet, located in Webster will celebrate 23 years in business this March. A destination store, which consists of a 1,000 square foot independent bookstore, coffee house & gift shop, Booklovers’ Gourmet opened its doors in early March of 1995 by owner-operator Debra Horan, a Webster native and graduate of The Rhode Island School of Design.

From the very beginning, the shop was envisioned as a central gathering place where people could enjoy good books, local art, poetry & music and other cultural happenings in a cozy, inviting space. Still in its original location at 55 East Main St., Booklovers’ Gourmet carries a wide variety of new & used books on all subject matters and interests as well as hand selected gift items, many locally made, including pottery, garden & home decor, jewelry, candles, incense and greeting cards. Educational puzzles & toys by “Melissa & Doug” are featured prominently in the children’s room.

The café offers homemade pastries by Phyllis’s Bakery in Putnam, CT and organic, micro-roasted coffee from Hogan Brothers Coffee Roasters in Framingham, plus other specialty beverages like smoothies, matcha green tea and apple cider.
There are many opportunities to socialize on a monthly basis-book discussion groups, writers’ groups, open mics, author readings & signings, special workshops and artist receptions.
“The heart and soul of this type of community-based business is being able to offer cultural opportunities for everyone to enjoy without having to travel to the big city. To be able to experience different ideas and viewpoints through these events or viewing art is vital and enriching for everyone,” said Horan.

Another example of this priority is showcasing the work of local and student artists throughout the year. Booklovers’ Gourmet is a longtime member of trade organizations The American Booksellers Association and The New England Booksellers Association. Closer to home, Debra is active in the local business community as president of The Webster Dudley Business Alliance.
A special event is planned to mark the occasion and thank the community for their continued support. The celebration will take place all day on Saturday, March 3 with discounts, giveaways, raffles & refreshments from 10a.m.-5 p.m. Live music with The Grey Whisker Pickers will take place from 12-2 p.m.
Winter hours for Booklovers’ Gourmet are Tuesday-Friday 10 a.m.-6:30 p.m., Saturday 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

PRESIDENTS DAY

Car Buying Tips

Customers ask place: When is the best time to buy a Car or Truck?

The RIGHT answer: (Part 2) There are some times of the year that seem better than others. I already spoke about the end of the year. Another good time is toward the end of winter going into spring. We all know about the Presidents Day sales in February. Customers, dealers and manufacturers all are beginning to feel a little stir crazy from the long cold days of January and early February. As this holiday comes along there is a bit more excitement and a strong desire on the dealer and manufacturer to get selling for the spring and summer markets. Usually this is also a time in which the manufacturers step up their advertising and incentives to support this goal. The model year changeover is a good time to buy. This is normally the September, October time frame. Incentives on the current model year are usually strong and inventories are still pretty good as the new model year is beginning to show up. Dealers will be making room for the next years vehicles and starting to trim inventories approaching the year end and holiday seasons. At Place Motor we will always do our best to save our customers as much as possible whenever you decide to buy. We will lay out all your options for you to see and make your best decision. We want the time you choose to be the right time to buy your new car or truck.

Read on for the latest submissions, and remember readers, send in your favorite hints and you could win dinner for two at the Publick House!

This reader has the solution for a generations old household challenge:

I FINALLY figured out how to fold a fitted sheet by myself!

I lay it in half the long way on a queen bed. Then fold the edges in on the top, bottom, and the open side. Usually about nine inches when matching the seams. Then it is so easy to fold the sheet in a perfect size for storage. I like to store the set together with the pillow cases in the center!

Happy and healthy New Year to all your readers.

aiming to please and simplify our lives, at least I am hence always organizing. Moving photographs beneath a sheet of glass at my work space is much less cumbersome as I took a wine cork (now recycled), sliced it into x 4 equal eighth inch round slices. I installed one beneath each corner of the sheet of glass and can now update and rearrange photos easily.

I love looking at family member and friends' photos or can add an affirmation there for the day or a memorable poem etc.

Tip #2: With a 30 minute lunch break I often bring vegetables etc. on the run and then find myself in a crunch at lunch time, Today it took only one to two minutes prep and seven minutes on high in the microwave to cook two acorn squash halves I cut, removed the seeds, added olive oil and spices, then turned them face down on a dinner plate. I put about an 1/8 cup of water on the plate and inverted a ceramic mixing bowl over the top of both squash halves. In seven minutes, a healthy meal side was ready!

Help your loved one quit smoking

February is American Heart Month, so before you think about what kind of flowers or type of candy to buy for Valentine's Day, choose the Valentine that is better than any bouquet of expensive red roses or box of chocolates: show your love by supporting your sweetheart in quitting smoking.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, smoking is a leading cause of heart disease; it can lead to the narrowing of blood vessels and high blood pressure. Quitting smoking greatly improves heart health.

Give Valentine's Day new meaning by helping your loved one become a nonsmoker. If your sweetheart is thinking about quitting, here are some ways your gift of support can encourage them along their journey:

1. Let your sweetie know you'll be their quit partner for as long as it takes – a smoker usually tries to quit many times before they quit for good.

2. Remind them that going cold turkey is not always the best option. Recommend that they talk to their doctor about stop-smoking medications. Smokers who use stop-smoking medicine are twice as likely to quit for good!

3. Help them celebrate the small victories – like the first 24 hours of being smoke-free, the first week, or the first time they make it through a stressful event without smoking.

4. Bring them little treats like sugar-free gum, mints, and healthy snacks to help keep their hands and mouth busy.

5. Distract them from cravings and help them relieve stress – take a walk with them, send them a reassuring text, or just run an errand together.

If it seems like your loved one is in a bad mood, try not to take it personally – nicotine is a very addictive drug! Quitting smoking is one of the most difficult things they will ever do.

Lastly, it is common for those attempting to quit to slip up and have a cigarette. If this happens to your loved one, don't be discouraged or critical. Help them think about what they learned from that quit attempt and remind them of all of their good reasons for quitting. Most importantly, let them know you're there for them when they're ready to try again.

To learn more about how you can help your loved one quit smoking, visit makesmokinghis-

tory.org and click on the "Quit Now" tab. And, while you're there, click on "What is the Helpline?" to learn more about how the Massachusetts Smokers' Helpline can provide online and phone support.

This Valentine's Day and American Heart Month, give the perfect gift; show your beloved just how much you care with the gift of support, and, ultimately, heart health.

The Central Massachusetts Tobacco-Free Community Partnership supports communities' efforts to lower smoking prevalence and exposure to secondhand smoke; enhance state and local tobacco control efforts by exposing tobacco industry tactics, mobilizing the community to support and adopt evidence-based policies, and changing social norms. Funded by the Massachusetts Tobacco Cessation and Prevention Program, Community Partnerships serve as a resource for local coalitions, health and human service agencies, municipalities, and workplaces on tobacco intervention efforts.

BAG PLAN

do enforce it, and recommended "a huge educational piece before you get to banning anything. You can't have retailers [be] deer in the headlights."

"The heavy lifting...is in the beginning of getting this going," she observed. That needs to include helping them learn what alternatives comply with the law, although the town cannot direct people to certain sources.

"It's uncharted [territory], really," Assistant Health Director Eileen Dyson said. "We don't really know what the enforcement will be or what it will take."

Laliberte said most towns he's spoken with just include bag compliance checks into their semi-annual inspections, so "The only extra time they spend on it is when they get a call."

His research so far has shown retailers in other towns have generally complied; very few chose to ignore such rules and only violated them because they didn't know in time. Typically, more issues regarding outreach occurred when the bylaws came from citizen petition, which meant "the town was learning while the retailers were learning," and he has already begun talking to local retailers, he said.

In his proposal, there is a six month delay for more public education until it takes effect. After that time, it calls for giving first-time violators a warning, followed by a $25 fine.

To member Eric Otterson, the BOH's only function here is enforcement, so he sees no need for his board to debate other aspects of the bylaw. In that vein, he also requested more information.

Griffin noted Laliberte's bylaw doesn't mention the concept of charging customers for bags, as some towns do. Laliberte said he wasn't recommending that, in large part because retailers find it "a really unpopular idea. They don't want to charge customers [for bags]."

A few communities do it, though – including Boston, where the ordinance calls for 10¢ per bag, but it has yet to take effect. Coyle added the Legislature's Committee on Environment and Natural Resources recently voted 13-1 in favor of a bill banning such bags statewide.

Homes have more than one price

They say beauty is in the eye of the beholder and when looking at a home there are typically several views on the value of the home. One price is the value a seller is willing to sell their home for. They may have what is called emotional equity in the home which causes them to believe the home is worth more than a ready, willing and able buyer would pay for the home. They may love the 30 year old carpeting and the newly wallpapered rooms. I am not saying that there are not buyers that would prefer these features but the majority of buyers are looking for hardwoods or tile floors and painted walls. If the buyers love the home except for those things then they will see the value as lower because they are considering the cost of making the changes to the home to make it work for them. They usually will assume a much higher number than the actual cost of the updates to take on risk of other repairs being needed to be made.

If inventory is low then you may have buyer overlook these features just to get the home so they don't lose it to another buyer. The Real Estate Agent that represents the seller will be pushing to get the value the sellers wants for the home and may even feel the home is closer to the value the seller believes the home to be while the agent representing the buyer will believe it is lower than the sellers agent. This is due to the agents clients many times will influence their opinion of value and they will buy into some of that emotional equity. The best buyer for the home that will pay the most money is the buyer that is similar to the sellers and values the same features and that is why highlighting the features that the seller fell in love with is the best route to go to find the best buyer for the home.

Another value is the appraised value which is an objective view of the appraisers professional opinion of the home. However, this is based on their opinion so I have seen an appraiser look at the home and give their opinion of value and another appraiser come in a week later with a value that is 10% off of the other appraised value. The challenge is many times the appraiser is only using data of sold homes which shows the past but if you are in an appreciating market then the market value will end up being higher than the appraised value of the home is.

I think most consumers look at the assessed value by the town which is used for tax purposes and is not usually representative of the true market value of the home. You also have websites such as Zillow or Trulia or Redfin which just pull data from the local area for similar homes and come up with a value. If the data is incorrect the value will be incorrect, if your condition is inferior or superior to the similar homes it will be incorrect or if you have homes close to you that are in neighborhood with different values than your neighborhood it will make the value incorrect.

Local advertising memorabilia

ANTIQUES, COLLECTIBLES

WAYNE TUISKULA

In previous columns, I've discussed how popular vintage and antique advertising signs and other advertising memorabilia are with collectors. Most people are aware that there are advertising collectors who specialize in large national companies like Coca Cola. There are many advertising items from factories, stores, farms and other local businesses that also have collector value.

I discussed Worcester breweries in a February 2017 column and will just touch upon beer advertising here. Bowler Bros., Brockert and Worcester Brewing Company were some of the larger breweries in Worcester. Oldbreweries.com lists some lesser known Worcester breweries including Gindele & Reuther Brewing Co., N. Hines Brewery John McNamara Brewery, S. B. Thomas Hotel & Brewery and Geo. Warren Webster Brewery.

Advertising memorabilia from local breweries is popular with both local memorabilia collectors and those who collect all types of breweriana. Even though Bowler Brothers celluloid (old form of plastic) and metal matchesafes aren't uncommon, they can sell for over $100 in nice condition. Tadcaster Beer trays by Worcester Brewing Company often sell for $100 or more. We recently sold a Worcester Brewing company keg that brought over $125 at auction.

White and Bagley began producing Oilzum motor oil in 1888 in Worcester. The Oilzum logo picturing a driver with goggles is very popular with automobile memorabilia collectors. "Oilzum Motor Oils Lubricants" is written across the driver's cap. A later version of that logo features the driver inserted in a wedge design. Prior to the driver with goggles, Oilzum used "Bucky" "the bucked tooth kid" as an advertising character. You can sometimes find Cleanzum hand cleaner tins by Oilzum for under $25. Older oil cans, in fine condition, typically sell in the hundreds of dollars. There are many reproduction signs, but if you have an original, it should also sell for three figures. An Oilzum curb sign (shaped like a lollipop on a base) can bring thousands of dollars.

The Worcester Hoop Skirt Company was founded by David Hale Fanning in Worcester in 1861, according to the Metropolitan Museum of Art website. The company shifted production in 1872 and became the Worcester Corset Company. Fanning became president in 1888 when the company went public. The company was renamed to the Royal Worcester Corset Company in 1901. Paper ads promoting "Queen Bess" and "Bon Ton" corsets are fairly common and typically sell in the $20 range. An original Royal Worcester corset in excellent condition can sell in the low hundreds. As I write this column, there is a Royal Worcester corset advertising poster for sale priced at $900 online.

Table Talk Bakery still sells pies in Worcester, but Town Talk Bread is no longer in business. The Worcester Historical Museum website states that Town Talk was in business from 1912 to 1973. Town Talk employed 125 people in Worcester and 50 in Dedham after World War II. A search of past auction records shows some signs selling for $75. The highest sold for $550, which is quite a bit of dough.

My Evaluating your Antiques class takes place at Bay Path Evening School on March 5th. Other events are being scheduled. Keep checking www.centralmassauctions.com for details.

a story in paint of a little girl trying to shut out the sound of her parents' conflict and divorce.

"I had no intention to submit it. It's an honor, but I have no intention of going out there," she said. "I'm an image painter rather than trying to give it other meanings."

At this point, though, neither of them are really considering going to college for art. Both like doing it largely for themselves, for fun and relaxation.

Of course, some projects aren't necessarily fun or relaxing themes. Their current assignment involves taking pieces of poetry and representing them visually. For Chamberland, it's a blue piece, literally and figuratively, as in largely blue in color fueled by a poem on suicide. For Igwenagu, it's multi-media, inspired by "conquering my foes, being stuck behind a wall and finding the light," she said.

"Some students really like working from a place where there's an assignment. Some really want to do their own thing," Bastien said. "But, statistically, more students like a jumping-off point."

Both said they have been artists for years. Chamberland recalled finger painting "as a little kid," but noted her tendency has always been to finish pieces then "think of a way I can do it better."

Igwenagu recalled being in a show in middle school, and noted she wants to focus on "doing art more efficiently, not so slow."

Both also noted they have family members with a creative streak. For Igwenagu, that was her brother; he was "really good, but he dropped it when he came to high school" to focus on sports. He still encourages her art, though.

For Chamberland, that was her older sister, who "was wicked good at art," particularly drawing. They shared an approach that was "more formal than symbolic," drawing things they could see.

According to Peteva, the EYA show will feature artists from 35 public, voke and private schools. They were chosen by the UMD's College of Visual and Performing Arts Dean David Klamen. He will present awards Feb. 10 at 2:30 p.m. (Feb. 11 in case of snow). The gallery is at 285 Old Westport Road, North Dartmouth, and is normally open 10-4 Monday to Thursday and 10-12 Fridays. More information is at www.facebook.com/UmassDartmouthGalleries.

"The result is a marvelous exhibition that showcases the talents of New England's young artists," she noted by email.

Light ‘em up now for better garden results

Gardener's Supply Company photos

From a shelf system to a table top, LED grow lights provide greater light intensity, making it easier to grow strong transplants for your gardens and containers.

It's time to break out the seeds and potting mix to start your garden plants indoors. It's a great way to keep your green thumb in shape over winter. Plus, you'll save money, increase your variety of plants and jump start the growing season when you start seeds under LED grow lights.

Indoor growing conditions often offer limited light and that can mean tall leggy transplants with weak stems. You can greatly increase your success by investing in quality grow lights. Adding artificial light to your seed starting regime results in stout transplants with strong stems and deep green leaves.

Invest wisely when shopping for indoor plant lights. Fluorescent tubes used to be the standard because they provided a wide spectrum of light needed for plant growth and flowering, were relatively inexpensive and readily available. Unfortunately, they used significant amounts of electricity and needed to be replaced every few years. Then many gardeners shifted to full spectrum fluorescent grow lights. Many last longer than the older and larger fluorescent tubes, but new LED grow lights (gardeners.com) provide even better light intensity with much less energy.

If you've looked at LED lights in the past, you may have suffered sticker shock. Fortunately, the prices have dropped. And if you consider LED plant lights typically use half the energy of fluorescent tubes, provide consistent light quality and last up to five times longer, the long-term savings outweighs the initial investment. Plus, they're mercury-free and won't add contaminants to landfills.

When replacing fluorescent tubes with LED grow lights, look for compatibility. Some of the newer LED grow lights are compatible with existing T-5 light setups. You just replace the bulb, not your whole lighting system.

You will get the most out of your investment and grow better transplants with proper use. Move seedlings under lights as soon as they start breaking through the soil surface. Keep the lights about six inches above the top of seedlings. This means you'll need to raise the lights or lower the plants as the seedlings grow. Make your own light stand using adjustable supports to raise and lower lights as needed. Use a reflector above grow light tubes to direct the light downward toward the plants. Bounce light back onto seedlings by using reflective surfaces under and around the plants. Even easier, invest in a quality grow light stand like the SunLite® Garden.

Set the lights on a timer. Seedlings need about 14 to 16 hours of light. Plants do need a dark period, so running the lights longer wastes electricity and is not good for the plants. If you are using grow lights to supplement natural daylight, you may only need to run the lights a few hours a day. Monitor plant growth and increase the duration if plants appear leggy or pale.

Increased light along with proper watering, fertilizer and growing temperatures will ensure you have a bumper crop of transplants for your gardens and containers.

Friday's Child

"I love to play sports!"

Tyvon is an active ten-year-old boy of African American descent who loves being silly and making people laugh. Tyvon is also very artistic and can often be seen drawing and creating things on paper. During times of leisure, Tyvon likes playing video games and watching television. When he gets a bit older, Tyvon says he wants to be a professional football, baseball or basketball player. In school Tyvon is working towards reaching his fullest potential. He proudly entered into the fifth grade this school year.

Tyvon is ready to find his forever family. Tyvon does well in family settings and could be placed with either a two-parent or single parent family. It would be best that if there are other children in the home that he is the oldest child and there are no children of competing ages.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org.

The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

OPIOID

said, the goal is to get towns money for past costs — including police, fire, ambulance, Narcan, needle exchanges, health insurance issues and "anything they can link to opioids" — as well as "future damages" — including funds for education, treatment and emergency services. Among those who have signed on in our area are Leicester, Douglas, Charlton and Southbridge.

Citing her three-year involvement with the DA's Drug Task Force, Chairman Doreen Goodrich said she feels the situation is "still at a crisis level" despite a lot of effort. In Auburn, it largely manifests in the form of car- and house-break-ins by people "who are desperate to get $20, 40, 60 to get through the night," she said. "They're not horrible criminals. They're people who are addicted to opioids who just need that next fix."

Berthiaume asked what the chances of needing local officials to go to Ohio for depositions. Sandman said that's not likely, in part because the judge has already indicated he wants the sides to seek some kind of agreement, preferably without trial. If a trial does come, though, it'll be years away.

Responding to a question from Selectman Tristan Laliberte on whether the firms knew the drugs were addictive, Sandman said, "They actually coined a term 'pseudo-addiction' and recommended you treat the continued pain you get and continued drive you get by taking more opioids." He also cited the recent decision by Purdue Pharmaceuticals to stop marketing directly to doctors as an early sign the case may be having an effect.

In other business, CFO Ed Kazanowicz gave the board a quick overview of the proposed Fiscal 2019 budget before they voted to send it to the Finance Committee for hearings. Kazanowicz said the plan calls for a total of $66.8 million, which is $1.68 million above this year's budget and calls for a tax increase of 1.55 percent. In it are requests for three new firefighter/paramedics, one police officer, one dispatch communications director, one DPW equipment operator and 10.4 "full-time equivalent" people for the school system (several of them special ed aides).

Kazanowicz said the schools agreed to reduce their request to free up funds for some of those other posts, but education still comprises 40.64 percent of the total and makes up the bulk of this year's debt payments (for the high and middle school projects). He also noted he expects state aid to increase by $987,000, the vast majority going to the schools.

The budget will be one of many items on the May 1 annual town meeting warrant, which selectmen voted to open Monday as well. It will close March 2 at 1 p.m.

Selectmen also unanimously accepted a donation from Total Outdoor Media related to the zoning change town meeting approved last fall. Specifically, it calls for payments of $1 million over 20 years, with $250,000 upfront and the rest in $50,000 installments starting in five years; a new electronic message board; and use of Total's big MassPike boards for 20 hours a month. Those will begin once necessary permits are approved.

Lastly, the board voted to apply for a grant to fund replacing a radio repeater system for the CERT team ($3500) and accepted one to undertake a feasibility study of a town swimming pool ($30,000).

STONEBRIDGE PRESS PRESIDENT AND PUBLISHER

EDITORIAL

All you need is...

It's two days after Valentine's Day, and the week of Presidents' Day. We honor both George Washington and Abraham Lincoln in a single holiday; keeping it to a Monday holiday for the sake of workers and school children, but at least we do still remember two of the presidents who made huge marks on American history.

Washington was the first duly elected president, he didn't really want it, but felt he was honor bound to take the office because someone needed to guide the fledgling country into being. He had helped create the atmosphere for the Revolution, he had helped draft the new laws taking shape to create the country, the baby constitution was still barely taking steps and a lot of people were already trying to dismantle it, saying the whole idea just wasn't going to work.

He had a lot of support, he had been a war hero in several wars, not just the revolution but the earlier scrimmages with the French too. And he was well liked by politicians, military people, and even the not so well known but able to vote bourgeois. He helped keep the country going those first few years, and the grand experiment was held together to take a few more steps under a new regime, changing hands without revolution or rancor just as it was meant to.

Lincoln stepped into a minefield not of his making. Nor was he comfortable with much of his own presidency. There are multiple biographies of the man, who describe him as "conflicted" and "ambiguous" about the questions that ultimately took the country into its civil war. He wasn't necessarily anti-slavery; nor was he pro-slavery. He was hoping for some sort of compromise. But when that didn't look promising, he chose. And he backed it up. Then he made every effort to reunite the country in some manner.

He didn't want the war; but he supported his troops and his men. He quietly wrote about the losses, to both sides in the conflict, and reminded others that they were fighting "ourselves."

His work, though unfinished, kept a presidency alive through a difficult time, and moved it thorough what could have been the end of the entire country as we now know it. We could have been two countries, perhaps even more, had the fight among ourselves gone much differently or the pieces reunited been done so in a different manner.

Then of course, we have Martin Luther King Day and the entire month paying homage to a people who for many years were less important in our history. Not because they didn't do valuable work, but because their work wasn't valued. That has changed, or is changing rather, because it isn't finished. And while we might choose to honor Black History Month, what about Asian History Month? Or Scandinavian History Month? Or Indian History Month? Or Icelandic History Month? Or Australian History Month? Or Uruguayan History Month?

See, we have a habit of over reaching. We bend over too far in attempting to right wrongs sometimes. Yes, people were ignored when they shouldn't have been; text books and histories and television shows were way too narrow in showing diversity for way too long, and still are. But we can't fix that with a single fix. We can't say, 'here, we'll celebrate everybody's everything for one week this week and another next week and there, everybody's recognized.'

Let's celebrate real accomplishments by real people no matter who they are. When someone does something...good! Hurray! We don't care if you are purple!

Let's not rewrite all the books, some of them very good books; or put movies out of circulation, very good movies; because someone somewhere isn't well represented. That isn't real life.

It isn't always going to be entirely fair; or righteous. But we can celebrate the goodness. And admire the ones who we missed when we weren't aware.

25 years of ed reform...where are we?

This year, 2018, marks the 25th anniversary of the passage of the Massachusetts Education Reform Act of 1993. As noted in "Building on 20 Years of Massachusetts Education Reform," a white paper prepared in 2014 by then Commissioner of Education, Mitchell Chester, Ed.D., the Massachusetts Education Reform Act, "was the most dramatic change in generations in how the Commonwealth supported and oversaw the delivery of education services by local school districts, and it continued Massachusetts reputation for public education leadership that Horace Mann established in 1837."

To celebrate this anniversary, the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education has launched a campaign they have aptly named, "Leading the Nation." As the information on DESE's website dedicated to this initiative states, "The Leading the Nation campaign...coincides with the 25th anniversary of the Massachusetts Education Reform Act, which increased and stabilized state aid to districts, established common learning expectations statewide, and made it easier to see where schools were doing well and where changes might be needed. Massachusetts' recent successes reflect an enduring bipartisan commitment to those principles."

The public schools of the Commonwealth have been recognized as national leaders in many regards, this the result of the concerted efforts of teachers, administrators, parents and community members working together to support their youth. Additionally, local and state officials demonstrate their support of education by providing the necessary funding to ensure that our students have the materials, textbooks, technologies and resources to achieve at high levels.

Did you know that Massachusetts truly does lead the nation in a variety of ways? The students of the Commonwealth rank #1 in the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP), known as the nation's report card. In fact, in a 2015 press release

.....
DR. MARYELLEN
BRUNELLE
SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Some other impressive statistics as reported on the Leading the Nation website include the fact that Massachusetts' students, in 2016, were number one in the world in reading on the PISA international assessment; the Commonwealth's students were, in 2017, number one in the nation on Advanced Placement success; and the state's four-year graduation rate has increased each of the last 10 years while the dropout rate has decreased during the same period of time.

As shared previously, the Auburn Public Schools continues its quest toward educational excellence, with local, state and national recognitions coming as a result of the collaborative efforts of many in supporting our amazing students. The Auburn Public Schools will join with districts from across the Commonwealth in celebrating the 25th anniversary of the Education Reform Act, highlighting our successes and achievements of our students and staff. The weeklong celebration is scheduled for May 7-11th, coinciding with Teacher Appreciation Week, a most appropriate time to do so.

Consider financial gifts for all your Valentines

.....
DENNIS
ANTONOPOULOS

Valentine's Day is almost here – and it's a pretty big business. In fact, U.S. consumers spent about $18 billion on their valentines in 2017, according to the National Retail Federation. Of course, recipients certainly appreciate flowers, candy, jewelry and so on, but this year, consider going beyond the traditional favorites to give your loved ones something more long-lasting – a financial gift.

And, while you're doing so, why not also go beyond the traditional definition of a "valentine"? After all, not all that $18 billion went to spouses or significant others. A sizable amount also went to non-romantic connections, including children, parents, friends, teachers – even pets. So, in the spirit of ecumenical Valentine's Day gift-giving, here are some suggestions for financial gifts for your loved ones:

For spouse or significant other – One valuable gift to your spouse or significant other might be an IRA contribution. While you can't directly contribute to someone else's IRA, you can certainly write a check to that person for that purpose. This gift is particularly valuable because many people have trouble coming up with the maximum annual IRA contribution, which, in 2018, is $5,500, or $6,500 for individuals 50 and older. As an alternative to an IRA contribution, you could give shares of a stock issued by a company whose products or services are enjoyed by your spouse or significant other.

For your children – It's never too soon to start saving for college for your children. Fortunately, you have a few attractive college-funding vehicles available, one of which is the 529 Savings Plan. You can generally invest in the plan offered by any state, even if you don't live there. If you do invest in your own state's plan, you might receive a tax incentive, which could include a deduction, match or credit. Plus, all withdrawals from 529 Savings Plans will be free from federal income taxes and, in most cases, state income taxes as well, as long as the money is used for qualified college or graduate school expenses of the beneficiary you've named. (If a withdrawal is taken from a 529 Savings Plan but not used for a qualified expense, the portion of the withdrawal representing earnings is subject to ordinary income tax and a 10% federal penalty.)

For your parents – You can probably find a number of thoughtful and valuable financial gifts for your parents. You could, for example, offer to pay a month's worth of their premiums for their auto or health insurance. Even if they are on Medicare, they may still be paying for a supplemental policy, so your gift may well be appreciated. But you might want to go beyond helping them with just a single component of their financial situation and instead provide them with assistance for their "big picture." To do so, you could arrange a visit with a trusted financial professional, assuming your parents aren't already using one. This person could look at all issues, including investments, retirement accounts, long-term care and estate-related financial strategies, and then make appropriate recommendations and even referrals to other professionals.

Everyone likes the hearts, flowers and sweets of Valentine's Day. Nonetheless, give some thought to making financial gifts – they can make a difference in your loved ones' lives long after the chocolates are eaten and the roses have faded.

Waxing nostalgic over good rabbit hunting

• • • • •
TRUE

This past Saturday had numerous anglers ice fishing on local ponds, hoping to catch a few fish for the dinner table. The Whitinsville Fish & Game Club also held its annual ice fishing derby this past Saturday and had a good turnout of members that enjoyed the warm weather, and they caught some nice trout. John Meagher of Whitinsville brought along his granddaughter Hanna Dunohue shown in this week's picture holding a rainbow trout. The fishing derby ended at 11:00 a.m., but Hanna was still fishing, hoping to catch a larger trout than her granddad. A large group of ice fishing anglers converged on Lake Nipmuc this past Saturday, and had a great day of fishing and eating some great food from the grill. The heavy rain of this week sure took a toll on the ice thickness, and totally wiped out all ice on the Cape. Anglers will need to head out to the western part of the state to find safe ice.

Local fishing legend Dan Southwick hauled in a few more pike in the last two weeks at his favorite fishing hole. Dan caught two more pike that were larger than the ones I reported on a few weeks ago. Setting in at his fishing hole at 3:00 a.m. is common practice for Dan, and the bait that he uses remains the secret for catching big pike.

What a monster!!!!

This is the time of year to do some rabbit hunting, if you are fortunate enough to have a couple of good beagles. Although the local rabbit population is down considerably from earlier years, they seem to be making a comeback. Local hare populations are also down locally, but a short trip to the western part of the state could have you enjoying some good hunting for these elusive rabbits. The bare ground that we are enjoying can only add to a day of great rabbit hunting. Listening to the hounds baying as they trail a rabbit is music to my ears. Only a true rabbit hunter can appreciate the sound of a couple of beagles as they chase a rabbit through swamps and fields. I sure do miss the rabbit hunting that I enjoyed through my earlier years. The Cape can also provide the rabbit hunter with some good hunting, but you need to do your homework. Rabbit hunting out of state is another option.

This week's picture shows my two sons David and Ralph Jr. with pheasant and rabbits taken locally with my first beagle Joe, which was purchased from the late John Bolanzo, of Douglas many years ago. My Joe dog won numerous trials that were held at the Blackstone Valley Beagle Club in Douglas. The Beagle Club was formed in 1962 by a group of sportsmen that enjoyed running their dogs on snowshoe hare, that were purchased live by area clubs from a trapper in Canada. At the height of the trapping season, area clubs purchased 1,500 hare annually, and stocked them in areas like the Douglas State Forest. The continued stocking of snowshoe hare kept a good population of hare in the area for sportsmen to train and run their dogs during the off season.

We spent many nights at the Douglas State Forest running our dogs at Bear Swamp, and at what was called the "old pine tree" on the old Thompson Road in Douglas.

Listening to the hounds baying as they trailed the hare was indeed the most enjoyable and exciting time of our lives, which has left me and my buddies with many great memories.

The Beagle Club purchased a large tract of land for unpaid taxes back in the '60s and it is still being maintained by a group of local sportsmen, however the beagles are now absent from the clubs running of snowshoe hare, due in part to the elimination of snowshoe hare being imported to Massachusetts. Anti-hunting groups voiced strong opposition to the importation of hare into Massachusetts and succeeded in stopping the annual stocking of hare called "Operation Snowshoe"! Because of new predators like fisher cat, bobcat, and coyotes it is unlikely many hare would have survived today in local covers.

With all of the complaints of coyotes killing residents' pets, and attacking a couple of young children recently (which is extremely rare) a group of sportsmen decided to hold a contest for the largest coyote harvested in the area, hoping to eliminate the threat. It did not take long for a couple of anti-hunting groups to oppose the event. SAD!!!!

Do not forget the upcoming sportsmen's show at the Big-E in Springfield Feb. 23-25. More on the show next week.

One day boating course scheduled

On Saturday, Feb. 17, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Webster Fire Department classroom, 55 Thompson Road Webster, the local United States Coast Guard Auxiliary Tri-State Flotilla 1002 will be instructing a one-day ABOUT BOATING SAFELY course developed to provide the skills and confidence needed to explore the coast and inland waters by boat.

Basic knowledge and skills are needed to have safe and enjoyable boating experiences. This course is perfect for families that have just purchased any type of boat or are planning to in the future, and also for the boater keeping up with changes to boating regulations and laws. Successful completion of the course will also certify a minor, from 12 to 16 years of age, to operate a powerboat, including a personal water craft or Jet Ski for 16 & 17-year-old operators, on all Massachusetts waters; in conjunction with the Massachusetts Environmental Police. Rhode Island residents born in/or after 1986 can also take the Challenge Exam for certification to operate motor vessels over 10 HP along with anyone, any age, from any state, wanting to operate a PWC on

RI waters.

It will also cover the requirements to operate a vessel in most other states & many countries where boating safety education is mandatory. Several of the boating insurance companies offer a discount on premiums for successful completion of this course.

This location and one Saturday format has been well received by the local boating community, filling several classes in the past years. Please come and find out how much more there is to know out on the water, and the reality of operating any vessel safely on Webster Lake.

The USCGAux. offers all public education courses at no charge however there is a $40 fee for the cost of materials, ABS textbook, study guide, and certification(s); and only $20 for each additional family member attending with a $100 maximum for families with more than four attending the course.

Ye Olde Tavern throws another party for George Washington

WEST BROOKFIELD — History continues to keep on keeping on in this happenin' town. Last year, Cindy Larson decided to throw a party in honor of George Washington, and she and her husband own, she reasoned, a great place for it to take place. Ye Olde Tavern, a centerpiece in this town since 1760, hosted the country's first president in 1789. He wrote about it in his diary; his horses were fed and watered whilst he enjoyed lunch.

"We've had calls throughout the year, requesting another birthday bash for George," Larson recently remarked. "We had a great time doing it; it's history, it's fun. People haven't stopped talking about it. Rob Lyon will welcome and entertain with period military music on historic instruments; every item on our menu is appropriate to Washington's time. The toasts, well, you just have to be there."

Due to the popularity of the observance last year, the tavern offers two evenings in which to celebrate this year: Monday, Feb. 19, and Thursday, Feb. 22. Dinner, $24.99, will be served from 5:00 to 8:00 P.M. each evening. For reservations, call 508-867-9709. The seven-course meal will include hot cider with rum, served in a commemorative take-home mug. The room in which Washington would have dined, appropriately decorated for the occasion, may be visited.

The tavern was built by 18th century prominent citizen David Hitchcock, who also donated to the town a substantial portion of the land now the town common. Washington noted, in his diary account of his stop there, the still-rugged landscape; he compared the homes here to some he'd seen in Connecticut. He enthused over the beautiful Wickaboag Pond, and record-

Rockets impressive in win over Hudson

MARLBOROUGH — On Saturday, Feb. 10, the New England Sports Center played host to one of the fiercest rivalries in all of high school hockey throughout Central Mass. when the Auburn/Millbury/Shepherd Hill/Tantasqua varsity squad took on Hudson High. The Rockets officially tied the Hawks to open the season, 1-1, but it was in the Dana Willard Memorial Christmas Tournament so a winner had to be determined to move on. Hudson won in the shootout, leaving a sour taste in Auburn's mouth. But the Rockets exacted some revenge and took home a 3-1 win over the Hawks, as Auburn moved to an impressive 10-5-3. They close the regular season at the Wallace Civic Center versus Leominster High at 4 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 15 before hosting North Middlesex Regional at the Horgan Arena on Saturday, Feb. 17 at 7 p.m. The Rockets will then partake in the Central Mass. Division 3 sectional tournament.

Bay Path plays well, but falls late to Aztecs

Dan Keefe of Bay Path reaches back to hoist up a shot away from the reach of an Assabet defender.

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON — The Assabet Valley boys' varsity basketball team scored the final 13 points of its game with Bay Path Regional, turning a tense and taut one-possession lead into a 69-53 final, a score that made the game look like a blowout when it was anything but.

With the win, their ninth straight, the Aztecs improved to 15-1 overall and 12-1 in the Colonial Athletic League Large Division. Bay Path dropped to 12-7 overall with the loss. The Minutemen are 8-4 in league play.

With five minutes to play in the game Assabet led by six points, 56-50. With 4:21 to go Bay Path's Joren Ellis (a team-high 17 points, three 3-pointers) cut that lead in half when he capped a trey from the top of the arc.

The Aztecs' Gerry McManus (18 points, three 3-pointers) answered Ellis's triple with one of his own, pushing the Assabet lead back to six, 59-53, with 3:22 to play. McManus's 3-pointer started Assabet's game-ending string of 13 straight points. Jeff Hunter, who scored a game-high 23 points, had seven of the points in the run while McManus scored the other six.

"It was anybody's game early in the fourth quarter, but down the stretch we couldn't hit a shot and they couldn't miss," Bay Path head coach Al Greenough said. "The last couple of weeks, before tonight, we had fallen into a rut offensively and defensively that I didn't really like. That was really the goal tonight, to get out of that rut, and I thought we did that."

"Assabet is a quality team, one of the best teams in Division 4," Greenough continued. "These kids came out tonight and did pretty much everything I asked them to do. It was back and forth the whole game, and it was an exciting game. Then, in the fourth quarter, there was that one stretch where they hit five shots in a row and we missed five shots in a row and that was the difference in the game."

Also scoring in double figures for the Minutemen, with 11 points, was Kody Sandgren. Caiden Ellis added nine points, while Cory Cotton and Pat Dyer scored five points each.

Assabet began to take control of the game — which had 11 lead changes and eight ties in the first half — at the beginning of the second half. The Aztecs scored the first five points of the third quarter, turning a one-point (30-29) halftime deficit into a four point lead, 34-30, less than a minute into the quarter.

The third quarter lead for Assabet got as high as nine points (48-39, 1:12 left in the quarter) but Dan Keefe hit a pair of free throws and Dyer banked home a shot to cut the Bay Path deficit down to five, 48-43, as play entered the fourth quarter.

The Minutemen cut the lead down to three, 48-45, 30 seconds into the period on a post move my Jamie Rodriguez, but Hunter answered with an old school three-point play to push the Assabet lead to six, 51-45, with 7:12 left.

Bay Path scored the next five points to pull to within one, 51-50, with 6:37 remaining. Joren Ellis hit a right side 3-pointer to begin the mini-run and Caiden Ellis finished it with a layup off a drive through the lane.

Assabet answered the Bay Path run with one of its own, scoring the next five points to take a 56-50 lead with 5:13 to play. D.J. Bass scored his only basket of the game, on a drive and layup, to make it 53-50, and McManus followed with a left side 3-pointer to extend the Aztecs' lead to 56-50.

Assabet head coach Bob Corazzini said he was pleased with the poise his team showed in a tight game, in the fourth quarter, on the road.

"That's something we're learning as the season goes along; that's something we had to learn this year," Corazzini said. "I think last year and in seasons' past, we may have lost this one. But I think the guys are starting to understand that they have to keep their composure in those situations."

"I told the guys, the harder you play the luckier you get," Corazzini continued. "If you keep the intensity up and you continue to play hard, you're going to get those close calls, you're going to get those loose balls, and you're going to get those long rebounds. That's what this game came down to."

Caiden Ellis of Bay Path slices through Assabet's defense and floats toward the basket for a layup.

Kaeller impressive as Spartans beat Auburn, clinch tournament berths

ROCKETS THEN DEFEAT OXFORD TO REMAIN ALIVE FOR DISTRICT BERTH

AUBURN — Back on Jan. 27, the Auburn High boys' varsity basketball team got the better of Uxbridge High, 55-51. But the Spartans exacted some revenge in the rematch played Thursday, Feb. 8, as they led from start to finish en route to a 50-26 victory.

"They [Auburn] played well and they deserved to win that game, but for us to come back tonight and a little revenge...I couldn't be prouder of the kids," said first-year Uxbridge head coach Ryan Hippert, a 2007 UHS graduate. "They played with great defensive intensity. Our goal is to make it tough for them to get into their offense."

But that wasn't the only positive to come out that day for the Spartans. Hours before they learned that they had clinched a berth in the upcoming Clark Tournament. Then, following the win against the Rockets, Uxbridge improved to 10-6 to punch their ticket into the Central Mass. Division 3 sectional tournament. Their record inside the Southern Worcester County League (SWCL) also improved to 8-1, which is officially good enough to clinch the SWCL B Division title.

"We want to be playing our best basketball at the end of the year," said Hippert, who believes that the Spartans are doing just that.

"We're all excited, but we're ready to keep it rolling," added senior Scott Kaeller, who had a monster game versus Auburn. "We're not done yet, not even close."

Kaeller nearly outscored the Rockets, finishing with 25 points to Auburn's 26. Kaeller also pulled down 5 rebounds, which tied for a team-high total with junior Andrew Goyette.

"He's been having a great year for us," Hippert said of Kaeller. "He's a tough football kid."

Kaeller was involved in what may have been a backbreaking play for the Rockets late in the first half. Auburn senior Craigon Confer (a team-high eight points) made a pair of free throws with 3.6 seconds to play until halftime to trim Uxbridge's lead down to 26-15. But the heady Spartans made the most of their available time as junior Tyler Tedford made the inbound pass to junior Harrison Mansfield, who found a streaking Kaeller down the court. Kaeller then finished a layup as the buzzer sounded to send Uxbridge into the locker room ahead, 28-15.

"I think that was just on their own being athletes," Hippert said of the play, which was not drawn up. "That was a big play at the time and it gave us a little momentum going into the locker room."

"Harrison and I just made eye contact, I was sprinting right next to him," added Kaeller. "I got a little ahead of him and [he made a] bounce pass and kept going."

Kaeller then scored the first two baskets of the third quarter as the Spartans surged ahead, 32-15, and they led by 20 points, 41-21, heading into the final frame.

Uxbridge then won fourth quarter scoring, 9-5, to account for the 50-26 final.

Kaeller was especially proud of his team's defensive performance.

"It's been our focus all year. Sometimes it's been up, sometimes it's been down, but the past couple of games the intensity has been there from start to finish," he mentioned.

The Spartans will finish up regular season play before entering the Clark Tournament as the No. 8 seed in the Small Schools bracket. They are scheduled to play top-ranked Maynard High on Sunday, Feb. 18 at 7:45 p.m.

Meanwhile, the loss dropped Auburn's record down to 8-10. Andrew Niedzwiecki, head coach of the Rockets, commented on the loss, noting, "obviously missing Tyler hurts us offensively. He's our leading scorer and it's more than just the points. It's a senior leader — when you lose that it hurts. It messes up our rotation."

Niedzwiecki was speaking of Tyler Judice, who went down with an injury in the previous game and is now out for the season. With Judice gone, the Rockets are down to just seven players who began the season on the varsity roster.

"We didn't seem like ourselves," said Niedzwiecki.

Auburn's day was salvaged, though, as they found out they will also be taking part in the Clark Tournament as the final seed to be included. They are the No. 8 seed in the Large Schools bracket and will play No. 1 Quabbin Regional on Monday, Feb. 19 at 7:45 p.m.

"We're excited about the Clark...we've had a successful year, but our goal is to get to the districts," said Niedzwiecki.

To do so, the Rockets had to win their last two games for seeding, versus Oxford High and then versus Quabbin at the Clark. Auburn got the first part of the job done, defeating the Pirates, 52-42, on Monday, Feb. 12 to improve to 9-10.

The Rockets also have a game with Tewksbury High sandwiched in between the Oxford and Quabbin contests, but it is an endowment game and does not count toward the team's win-loss record.

Auburn's Max Joncas splits Uxbridge defenders Andrew Goyette (10) and Harrison Mansfield with a drive across midcourt.

U.S.-Made Parts Can Be Key To Positive Car Repair Experience

(NAPS)
The next time you have someone work on your car, it may pay to ask the technician why he or she chose a specific brand of replacement parts.

That's because a brand name can be a strong indicator of product quality. It can also provide added assurance that the manufacturer will stand behind the product. It might even increase the likelihood that the part was engineered and manufactured in the U.S.A.

"U.S. manufacturing can be a strong competitive differentiator in the replacement parts industry," explained John Perrin, executive director of product management for the North America Aftermarket business of Tenneco, Inc., which manufactures Monroe shock absorbers, struts and other ride control products. "Many consumers are attracted to U.S.-based manufacturers because of the perceived quality, performance and durability advantages of these parts as compared to products imported from offshore manufacturers."

A vast majority of Monroe ride control products sold in North America are manufactured or assembled in the company's plant in Paragould, Ark. Last year, the massive facility, with adjacent warehousing and strut assembly manufacturing operations, produced nearly 19 million shocks, struts and Monroe Quick-Strut modular strut assemblies. Why Quality Matters The choice of one parts brand over another can affect how your vehicle will perform following the repair. In the case of shocks and struts, the differences could include ride quality; handling precision; noise, vibration and harshness (NVH); component durability; and even tire wear. Quality differences can be even more profound in preassembled modular strut assemblies, which include all the subcomponents—strut, coil spring, upper strut mount, spring seat, isolator, boot kit, and more—needed for a comprehensive strut replacement. While many assemblies might look alike, a single poorly designed or mismatched part could lead to a performance problem or premature failure. "There's a lot of science in a quality strut assembly," Perrin explained. "You need a coil spring with the proper metallurgy, coil configuration and spring rate for the vehicle. The damper needs to be tuned to the proper ride and handling profile. Every component can either contribute to or detract from the consumer's driving experience."

Given that hundreds of unique strut assembly configurations are required to cover the passenger vehicle population, maintaining U.S.-based engineering and assembly operations helps companies more closely control product quality and performance. For example, each Monroe assembly is both fit- and ride-checked on the corresponding vehicle model prior to introduction.

"That would be very difficult to do if we weren't designing, engineering and manufacturing in the U.S.," Perrin said. "We believe that's an important message for consumers, who deserve to know why a specific brand was chosen for their vehicles."

Some 34 million vehicles need their air bags repaired. Yours may be among them.

(NAPS)
A few simple steps protect your family and loved ones. You may be driving a vehicle with a defective driver's side air bag, passenger's side air bag or both. If you have one of the following vehicles, please call your local Chrysler, Jeep®, Dodge or Ram dealership to schedule a FREE repair:

THE PROBLEM

Here's why: According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), 34 million vehicles have defective air bags, which can cause serious injury or death in the event of a crash. Even a minor fender bender can cause these air bags to explode, spraying metal fragments into drivers and passengers.

A SOLUTION

Fortunately, there is a solution, repairs are FREE and Chrysler, Jeep, Dodge and Ram dealerships have plenty of new air bags available to replace them. You don't even have to take the vehicle back to the same dealership from which you bought it; any authorized dealer can make the free repairs.

It's A Myth That Only New-Car Dealers Can Service Vehicles Under Warranty

(NAPS)
True or false: Until your vehicle is out of warranty, it must be serviced by the new-car dealer or the factory warranty will be void. Although many people would have answered "true," the correct answer is "false," according to the Car Care Council. By law, independent repair shops can also provide services to maintain your new-car warranty. Consumers are protected by the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, enforced by the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), which prohibits a manufacturer from voiding the vehicle warranty because service was done by a nondealer. According to the FTC, "It's illegal for a dealer to deny your warranty coverage simply because you had routine maintenance or repairs performed by someone else. Routine maintenance often includes oil changes, tire rotations, belt replacement, fluid checks and flushes, new brake pads and inspections." It's also important to note that the "Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act makes it illegal for companies to void your warranty or deny coverage under the warranty simply because you used an aftermarket or recycled part."

When using a nondealer, independent aftermarket shop to maintain your vehicle, the council strongly recommends you keep records and receipts for all maintenance done to the vehicle and adhere to scheduled maintenance requirements. If a warranty claim arises, these records will provide proof that maintenance has been performed in accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations and requirements. "It's a common misconception that only car dealers can perform the routine maintenance and repairs on a newer vehicle that is under warranty," said Rich White, executive director, Car Care Council. "The truth is that consumers can have routine repairs performed by their local independent repair shop or do the work themselves without affecting the warranty."

The nonprofit Car Care Council is the source of information for the "Be Car Care Aware" consumer education campaign promoting the benefits of regular vehicle care, maintenance and repair to consumers. Learn More

New skills workshops enhance the volunteer experience

A series of workshops designed to enhance the volunteer experience with Blackstone Heritage Corridor, Inc. (BHC), and the Blackstone River Valley National Historical Park (BRVNHP) is bolstering the Volunteers-In-Parks (VIP) program which the two entities co-manage. The VIP Skills Workshop Series launched last fall, and already nearly a dozen workshops have provided unique education and skills training for nearly 200 volunteers, with some of the workshops being made available to the general public.

“Our volunteer program continues to grow and is attracting a wide-range of different interests,” explains Megan DiPrete, Executive Director at BHC. “By offering these Skills Workshops, we’re able to give volunteers education and training which will enhance their skill sets and their ability to share their knowledge and passion with others when they lead program activities throughout the year.”

The workshop series launched in October with an Enviroscope™ training, which is a table-top model designed to educate people of all ages about how pollutants affect a watershed. The Enviroscope™ can be used in school settings, libraries, community events, and more. VIPs who attended the workshop are now eligible to sign out the Enviroscope™ model and take it to events to continue to foster stewardship for the environment. America Recycles Day on November 15 was celebrated with a public-offered Skills Workshop at Casella Waste Systems in Auburn. People from all over the National Heritage Corridor were provided a behind-the-scenes experience and now have additional tools to teach others to be better recyclers.

In December, VIPs received a behind-the-scenes tour at the Ladd Observatory in Providence, RI, to learn how to read the night sky and learn the history of the telescopes housed at the centuries-old observatory managed by Brown University. Also in December, BHC offered a free sewing workshop, giving instruction on how to make a repurposed tote bag made from plastic seed and feed bags. The latter skills workshop was open to the public and was held at the new Blackstone Valley Education Hub at the Linwood Mill in Whitinsville.

In January, BRVNHP Ranger Joshua Boles offered an open-to-the-public oral history skills workshop at the Little Red Shop Museum in Hopedale, so participants could learn new skills on how to best interview people to capture important history.

CPR and First Aid training was offered to volunteers of BHC’s Bikeway and Trail Ambassadors, as well as the Blackstone Valley Paddle Club in February, followed by open-to-the-public training on Maple Sugaring at Blackstone River & Canal Heritage State Park in Uxbridge. These volunteers will put their skills training to immediate use by providing assistance to MA DCR staff at the upcoming Maple Sugar Days event at the Park March 3 and 4.

In March, a Visitor Services Skills Workshop is being provided by BRVNHP Ranger

Joshua Boles, and later in the month VIPs will have an opportunity to learn about Cemetery Conservation Skills. This training opportunity is being offered by VIPs Betty and Carlo Mencucci at the Burrillville Historical and Preservation Society. The Mencuccis are professional gravestone conservators and members of the Association of Gravestone Studies and the Burrillville Historical Society. The workshop will be open-to-the-public and will provide training on the proper method of conserving gravestones. Participants will learn about various stone types as well as different techniques and materials used in the conservation process. The training precedes Cemetery Awareness/Preservation Day in Rhode Island on April 14th and the Mencuccis and other historical groups will be hosting volunteer cemetery restoration events at which these skills and knowledge can be put to use.

Additional upcoming skills training opportunities include a workshop on accessible cycling. Training will include information on disability etiquette, the types of cycles that are available, adjusting the cycles to individual participants, and learning to ride the variety of adaptive cycles. BHC partnered with All Out Adventures in October, 2017, to present an assisted bicycle ride for VIP Margaret Carroll of Millville, MA, and this skills workshop will prepare the Bikeway Ambassadors for future events in the National Heritage Corridor.

America Is Seeing A Flood Of ‘Flood Cars’

(NAPS)
Recent research suggests drivers may be behind the wheel of more than 325,000 previously flooded vehicles. That's a 20 percent increase from 2016 and a stark reminder to consumers to do due diligence when used-car shopping.

One Woman's Story
“I bought a car last year and the seller never told us anything about it being a flood car,” said Charlene Geiger from Pennsylvania. “When we got home and ran a Carfax, there it was—a flood car from Hurricane Sandy. It showed that the seller bought it as a salvage car and the title was washed when he brought it to Pennsylvania. We lost $16,000 over all of it.”

Where To Be Most Wary
Vehicles reported as flood damaged by a state's Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV), insurance companies and more have washed up in every state. These 10 have the most:

1. Texas—51,000
2. Louisiana—29,000
3. Pennsylvania—20,000
4. Florida—19,000
5. Kentucky—16,000
6. Illinois—15,000
7. South Carolina—13,000
8. Virginia—13,000
9. North Carolina—13,000
10. Michigan—11,000.

In addition, several hundred thousand more flooded cars may emerge from Hurricanes Harvey and Irma.

Historically, about half the vehicles damaged by floods end up back on the market. Flooded cars rot from the inside out as water corrodes the mechanical parts, shorts the electrical system, and compromises safety features like air bags and anti-lock brakes. Health concerns are an added problem, as mold and bacteria permeate the soft parts of the car.

“Our data shows there's still much work to be done in helping consumers avoid buying flood-damaged cars,” said Dick Raines, president of Carfax. “They can, and do, show up all over the country, whether it be a few miles or hundreds of miles from where the flooding occurred. With two devastating storms like Harvey and Irma, it's vital for used-car buyers everywhere to protect themselves from flooded cars that may wind up for sale. Start with a thorough test-drive, a vehicle history report and a mechanic's inspection before buying any used car.”

FREE ASSISTANCE AND ADVICE
With the world's largest vehicle history database, Carfax helps millions confidently buy, own and sell used cars. Now, in the wake of Hurricanes Harvey and Irma, it's letting consumers check for flood damage free of charge at www.carfax.com/flood.

Don't let a flooded-out used car put a damper on your driving.

Editor's Note: Localized flooded vehicle statistics are available upon request. An infographic is also available for use at www.carfax.com/press/resources/flooded-cars.
