SPENCER – The community rallied around a local family last month during the memorial dedication of a pavilion at Powder Mill Park. On Aug. 24, residents looked on as the Cole William Victor Memorial Pavilion was dedicated during a ceremony at the park. The program honored the life and legacy of Cole Victor, who passed away in a vehicle accident in December 2018. He was 25 years old. The dedication ceremony took place during the Saturday in the Park event hosted by the Spencer Exchange Club. The memorial pavilion includes a gazebo that was reconstructed over the summer, an effort led by Victor’s father, George Victor, who owns Victor Contracting. With assistance from several local businesses, Victor and his family completed a project that improves the town’s 100th Anniversary Committee. “We are so excited to be the recipients of this support,” said 100th Anniversary Committee member Heather Gablaski. “The year-long series of events we have planned for 2020 are designed to appeal to a variety of audiences.” The two major events planned for next year are a Roaring Twenties-themed dinner dance in April and a two-hour parade and subsequent family fun day at Connie Mack Field. Thanks to the recent funding, the costs associated with the celebration will be significantly defrayed. “We are grateful to both Sen. Gobi and Rep. Berthiaume for their continued support and advocacy of local events,” Gablaski added. The many events slated for 2020 are designed to bring residents and families of all ages into the celebration, from newcomers to lifetime residents. As the newest town in the Commonwealth – incorporated in March of 1920 – East Brookfield has seen many changes, but several facets of the community remain the same. Looking ahead, residents and officials can’t wait to celebrate 100 years in style. Berthiaume and Gobi are looking forward to joining residents as they celebrate their community’s milestone. EAST BROOKFIELD – With significant help from local officials, the town will be able to bolster its centennial celebration next year. On Aug. 27, town officials were joined by Sen. Anne Gobi and State Rep. Donald Berthiaume for a check presentation. The legislators teamed up to submit requests for state funding to support East Brookfield’s 100th anniversary celebration in 2020. Earlier this summer, Gov. Charlie Baker approved $60,000 in this year’s budget to support the East Brookfield celebration. Both Berthiaume and Gobi presented the check to members of

Leicester officials move ahead with Warren Ave. drainage study

BY KEVIN FLANDERS

LEICESTER – Selectmen voted last month to request that an engineer study the drainage problems affecting several residents’ properties in one neighborhood. At their Aug. 22 meeting, three of the five board members were present for the Thursday night discussion with affected residents in the Warren Avenue neighborhood. The drainage problems began during the construction of the new fire station on Paxton Street. Residents said the problems have worsened since the completion of the project in May 2018. Selectmen confirmed that they currently have limited options for addressing the drainage problems, as litigation is ongoing between the town and the contractor for the fire station project. The completion date for the project was delayed several months due to a series of setbacks, and officials aren’t sure what is causing the retention basins to continually fail. Selectmen don’t want to make changes regarding the drainage structures until the litigation is completed. At the Aug. 22 meeting, selectmen voted 3-0 to proceed with a third party engineer to analyze the problems and work with Town Administrator David Genereux and other officials to seek a solution. Selectmen Sandra Wilson and Dianna Provencher did not attend the meeting. For affected residents of the Warren Avenue neighborhood, the drainage problems present an array of risks, including Sarah Priestley is the new principal of North Brookfield Elementary School.

New Principal takes the reins at NBES

BY KEVIN FLANDERS

NORTH BROOKFIELD – Having taught at all levels within the school district, Sarah Priestley was the perfect choice to become North Brookfield Elementary School’s next Principal. A member of North Brookfield Public Schools since 2008, Priestley initially served as an English teacher at the high school. Subsequent stops at the middle school and elementary school helped broaden her experience and prepare her for an administrative role. With a Master’s degree and a certificate of advanced graduate studies, Priestley always hoped to eventually rise to the administrative level. And she got her chance far sooner than expected. “I had no idea an opportunity like this would come up so quickly, and I am very excited about it,” Priestley told the New Leader. “I fell in love with the elementary school during my time there. So much is taught in elementary school that lays the foundation for future success.” During her advanced graduate studies, Priestley focused on several areas of school leadership, including staff management and preparing budgets. She knows it will be a big transition from teaching to administration, but she still plans to log plenty of time in the classroom. “It’s important to have an environment where kids are excited to come to school every day,” said Priestley, who lives in Hardwick. “I want to always be working with the teachers to improve instructional practices. In a small district, you get to know everyone really quickly and all students get the attention they deserve.” School officials were excited to name a principal who Turn To PRIESTLEY, page A3

Spencer residents to participate in Boston Marathon® Jimmy Fund Walk

SPENCER — Twelve residents from Spencer will walk one of the four designated distances along the historic Boston Marathon® course this September in the Boston Marathon® Jimmy Fund Walk presented by Hyundai, which raises the most money of any single day walk in the country.

Caryn Byrnes, Stephen Shamoian, Paula Romano, Debra Lavallee, Maria Romano, Allan Miner, Marcia Doherty, Evelyn Cesary, Sandi Premo, Richard Lavallee and two other Spencer residents will join 9,000 expected participants in the annual event, which takes place Sunday, Sept. 22. Money raised from the Jimmy Fund Walk will support adult and pediatric patient care and cancer research at the nation's premier cancer center, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. The event has raised more than $135 million over 30 years. The Boston Athletic Association has supported the event since 1989, and Hyundai has been the presenting sponsor since 2002.

“The Boston Marathon® Jimmy Fund Walk presented by Hyundai gives participants the opportunity to personally support breakthroughs in cancer care and research at the renowned Dana-Farber Cancer Institute,” said Zack Blackburn, director of the Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk. “Every step taken in walking and fundraising in our 30-plus year history is a step forward in the journey to conquer cancer.”

- There is a distance option for everyone. Participants can choose from any of the below four distances along the historic Boston Marathon course:
- 5K Walk (3.1 miles) from Dana-Farber Cancer Institute; starting at 1:45 p.m.
 - 10K Walk (6.2 miles) from Newton; rolling start from 10 a.m. to noon
 - Half Marathon Walk (13.1 miles) from Wellesley; rolling start from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m.
 - Marathon Walk (26.2 miles) from Hopkinton; rolling start from 5:30 to 7:30 a.m.
- Walkers are treated to 12 refueling stations along the course, as well as poster-sized photographs of inspiring Walk Heroes at each mile and half mile marker.

All distance options conclude at the Copley Square Finish Line where participants receive a commemorative 2019 Jimmy Fund Walk medal and celebrate with teammates and volunteers. As Walkers cross the finish line, they will be cheered on by volunteers and fellow Walkers. There will be inspiring speakers, games, music, food, and other fun activities.

All walkers must raise a minimum of $325, except for walkers 12-years-old and younger whose fundraising minimum is $125. Pacesetters are extraordinary fundraisers who raise $1,500 or more, or $500 or more for those 12-years-old and younger. There is also a Virtual Walker option for those unable to attend the event on September 22, who still want to support the cause.

To register for the Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk (#JimmyFundWalk), to support a walker, or to volunteer, visit www.JimmyFundWalk.org or call (866) 531-9255. Registrants can enter the promo code NEWS for $5 off the registration fee. DRAINAGE mold growth and mosquito breeding. Residents regularly deal with standing water in their yards due to a failure in either the design or the construction of drainage basins on the fire department property. A few residents have taken videos of torrents surging onto their properties during storms.

"When we get rain, it overflows into the properties along Warren Avenue. It has made our back yards uninhabitable for an entire year," said Joel Hart, who has resided on Warren Avenue since 1996. "We started noticing the problem right after the project began, and it has been terrible ever since. It floods our back yards and makes it unusable."

The Warren Avenue neighborhood has always had minor flooding problems due to a naturally high water table in the area, residents said, but the drainage problems have become severe since the fire station construction.

Properties on Paxton Street have also been affected. With the elevated EEE risks throughout much of the state, residents are concerned about standing water on their properties. Residents have also complained about the incomplete fencing around the perimeter of the drainage basins.

Officials said they share the frustrations of residents but are unable to move forward with immediate action to improve the retention ponds.

"We have to wait until the litigation is finished before we can do anything physically. We are going to work to bring their properties back to the way they were," said Selectman Rick Antanavica. "Once there is a settlement, we can move forward at a faster pace. This is very frustrating for the people and for us."

The site has received MassDEP approval enabling the basins to continue operations for drainage, officials said. The DEP also greenlighted officials to regularly drain the basins with sump pumps, which could provide temporary relief for residents in the fall months.

The third party engineer will analyze all design specifications of the retention ponds, Town Administrator Genereux said. This will determine where flaws exist and how best to improve them.

Responding to residents' concerns over the incomplete fencing around the ponds, officials said the Planning Board approved the current enclosure. Hart and other residents feel that more needs to be done to secure the property.

"It's a big safety threat, especially for children," Hart said.

Residents are hoping to have an article placed on the Fall Special Town Meeting warrant seeking assistance with the problems. This could help provide more timely relief if the town's legal proceedings get tied up, residents said.

understands the district at all levels. Additionally, Priestley has served on the district's instructional leadership team, which worked with teachers, administrators, and community members to create an improvement plan for both schools.

Goals emerging from the improvement plan focus on curriculum, wellness, and community involvement.

"We want to make sure the schools share the same goals and are moving in the same direction," Priestley said. "I am very excited about working with the leadership team."

At the elementary school, reading and math will be heavy points of emphasis this year. The school will continue to employ the Eureka math program, as well as Units of Study for reading. Moreover, the school will build on popular traditions like Camp Read-a-Lot, which engages students in fun activities before vacations.

New this year, the school will feature a wellness area that focuses on sensory activities, movement, and mood. A math hallway will also provide kids with creative new opportunities for instruction. The goal, Priestley said, is to give students a chance to learn outside the conventional classroom environment.

Like the overall district, the elementary school continues to make strides in technology. Priestley hopes to add a makerspace section in the library this year to augment student learning. In addition, the district's newly hired STEM teacher, Stephanie Martin, spent much of the summer preparing to hit the ground running.

"We have a lot of very creative, dedicated staff members here. Many of the teachers buy their own materials for classrooms," Priestley said.

When she isn't in school, Priestley enjoys spending time with her three children.

the park while honoring Cole's life.

Family members were thrilled by the outpouring of support during the dedication ceremony.

"My family and I were beyond thankful for everyone who showed up for the event and dedication. We couldn't have asked for a more perfect day," said Mikaela Victor, Cole's sister.

Several businesses assisted the Victor family with the construction of the gazebo. Members of Victor Contracting donated materials, while Jesse Kady and his crew at J.C. Kady Builders donated time to work on the project. Howe Lumber in East Brookfield offered discounted materials, and Joseph Faucher with Brimfield Sign and Company helped construct the dedication sign above the gazebo.

Family members thank everyone who took time out of their schedules to get involved. Many individuals who assisted the project were on hand during the dedication ceremony. The Saturday in the Park event also included live music and food trucks.

Moving forward, the Victor family will take leadership of maintenance for the gazebo, which was completed last month. The site will serve as a place where residents of all ages can enjoy activities and remember Victor's legacy.

Cole Victor grew up on a small beef farm in East Brookfield. He is a triplet along with Jacob and Mikaela Victor, and he also has an older brother, Zachary. Moreover, he always enjoyed spending time with his stepsiblings, Michael, Shawn, and Stephanie Cote.

Victor was also a skilled contractor who worked for his father's company for many years along with his brother, Zachary.

AAA reminds motorists to drive carefully with school back in session

REGION — As the new school year begins, AAA Northeast reminds both motorists and families that extra caution is needed as children make their way to school by walking and riding in areas where they weren't seen over the summer.

The greatest risk to children isn't when they're riding the school bus; it's approaching or leaving them. Between 2008 and 2017, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) reports 264 school-age children were killed in school transportation-related crashes, primarily when they waited at bus stops or crossed streets before boarding or getting off school buses.

"Children can get caught up in the excitement of back to school time and might forget to look for cars even though motorists are required to yield and stop for school buses with activated lights," said Mark Schieldrop, AAA Northeast Massachusetts spokesperson. "Drivers need to be aware especially in school zones, near playgrounds and at bus stops that kids might dart into streets."

Through its annual School's Open C Drive Carefully campaign, AAA offers tips to drivers to keep children safe:

Slow down. Speed limits in school zones are reduced for a reason. A pedestrian struck by a vehicle traveling at 25 mph is nearly two-thirds less likely to be killed compared to a pedestrian struck by a vehicle traveling just 10 mph faster.

stop. Research shows more than one-third of drivers roll through stop signs in school zones or neighborhoods.

Look for clues, such as AAA School Safety Patrolters, crossing guards, and school zone signs that indicate children are in the area.

Keep your eyes moving. Scan between parked cars; look for shadows on the ground. Since children can be quick crossing roadways unexpectedly or emerging suddenly between parked cars, understand that taking your eyes off the road for just two seconds doubles your chances of colliding with another car or pedestrian.

On the other hand, parents and guardians should teach school-aged children to:

Cross at corners, not in mid-block. Use crosswalks if they're available.

Use your 'eagle' eyes: look left, right, then left again before crossing streets.

Right on reds can be dangerous; watch for turning vehicles when crossing at corners.

Eliminate electronics such as headphones and cellphones when crossing streets.

AAA Northeast reminds drivers that flashing yellow lights on a school bus means slow down because the bus is preparing to stop. Red flashing lights means stop, including cars in the opposite lane on undivided roads. In Massachusetts, the law requires drivers to stop at least 100 feet behind a school bus and stay stopped until the bus light stops flashing, the extended stop-arm is retracted and the bus begins to move.

"Safe driving habits are important year-round, but extra diligence is required when children are heading to and from school," Schieldrop added.

AAA Northeast is a not-for-profit auto club with 64 offices in Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, New Hampshire and New York, providing more than 5.7 million local AAA members with travel, insurance, finance, and auto-related services.

Sex: Spayed Female
Age: 3 Years

My name is Lottie. I am a very sweet natured cat who is a little shy initially with new people. But once I feel comfortable with you, I want to be your new best friend. I am a very pretty tuxedo girl. I am strictly an indoor companion. I came to the shelter with Bella but the shelter staff thinks that we can be adopted separately. I am very compatible with other felines (no history of dogs). I hope I am adopted soon.

Cornerstone Bank donates to Stuff the Bus Campaign

WORCESTER — Summer is winding down, and students are beginning to prepare for the school year ahead. This can be a financially difficult time for parents having to provide not only new school clothes, but also school supplies. Cornerstone Bank helps students in need by holding its annual “Stuff the Bus” drive to gather backpacks and school supplies for students in the surrounding communities.

From July 31 through Aug. 9, Cornerstone Bank customers and employees generously donated many back to school items to Planting the Seed Foundation of Worcester and the YMCA of Southbridge. The Planting the Seed Foundation will distribute the donated supplies to needy children in Worcester while the YMCA of Southbridge will donate items to children that they service throughout the Southbridge Public School system. These items will help students succeed during the school year—both academically and socially.

“We are happy to be able to support students throughout our community,” stated Cornerstone Bank Chairman and CEO K. Michael Robbins. “Thank you to all of our customers and employees for making this year’s Stuff the Bus drive a success.”

Alex Cordy Golf Tournament kicks off Sept. 21

OAKHAM – Knights of Columbus Council 11080 will hold its Second Annual Alex Cordy Memorial Charity Golf Tournament at Quail Hollow Golf and Country Club (1822 Old Turnpike Road, Oakham, Massachusetts). The event will take place on Saturday, Sept. 21. Check-in begins at 7:15 a.m., with a shotgun start at 8 a.m. Awards and lunch will follow in the clubhouse.

Cordy was an integral part of the West Brookfield community for many years. In memory of his outstanding service to his community, his church, and being a founding member of Knights of Columbus Council 11080, the tournament will once again benefit the Youth Activities Fund to support the youth in our local community, a cause that was very important to Cordy. Last year, the organization was able to award two $1,000 scholarships to local high school seniors thanks to proceeds from this event.

Residents are once again asked to support the event by participating in the tournament individually or with a foursome. You can also sponsor a tee sign for $100, a cart sign for $50, or make a corporate donation of $250. Tournament raffle items and general donations to the Knights of Columbus 11080 Charities Account are also welcome.

Moreover, the family fun day will feature such activities as tug-of-war, sack races, three-legged races, a movie, and several other offerings. Additionally, a community baseball game will be played using old-time rules.

The year of celebration will also include historical discussions, tours of local sites, and a cemetery walk. Additional events will continue to be planned leading up to the milestone year.

A close call on the Salmon River

With the Labor Day week-end over, fishing pressure on fresh water lakes ponds and the saltwater will be less crowded. It is also the time that fishing picks up, as the waters cool down, making the fish a lot more active during their feeding cycles. Despite negative reports by some anglers fishing on the canal last week, some anglers were reporting great action, catching some impressive fish. These guys follow the action very close and make the trip to the canal almost on a daily basis. Sebile fishing lures are one of the best producing surface plugs, when the fish are feeding on or close to the surface.

One angler shared his technique for catching big fish using an Al Gags rubber jig, with this writer last week. Many anglers fishing the canal for stripers often keep there bait or jig on or close to the bottom, but sometimes this angler insist that moving his bait or jig a few feet off the bottom, works for him. This writer often uses the same Technique on seas bass and other bottom feeding fish.

Fat Nancy's Bait & Tackle in Pulaski revealed the following information. Although there are some salmon in the river, he predicted that some of the best fishing will be in the middle of September and early October. Unfortunately, hundreds of anglers will be on the river at the same time. Taking a walk up or down the river away from the large crowds can be rewarding, giving an angler some piece and quiet, and the chance of landing a large King salmon. Finding small creeks can also hold some large fish and will also provide some great fishing. This week's picture shows an angler with a nice salmon from the Salmon River. Photo courtesy of Fat Nancy's Tackle Shop.

An angler that is fishing in New York's Salmon River needs to be very careful when navigating up or down stream along the river banks or in the water. New York law can have you in trouble with private property owners if you trespass on their property. The private property owners own the property on the river bank and also under the water! Setting foot on the property can get you in trouble with the law. My brother Ken and I navigated a canoe upstream a number of years ago, and stepped out onto a gravel bank to do some fishing.

We were only fishing a few minutes when I saw a gold badge flashing on a person upriver a hundred yards or so away. He slowly worked his way down to us and identified himself as a deputized warden hired by the landowner. After introducing himself, he went on to tell us that we were trespassing on private property.

"Do you realize you are fishing on private property?" "No, sir," I replied.

He went on to tell us about the laws regarding privately owned property. When he was done, I apologized, and we started to retrieve our canoe to go back down river. He pulled out a citation book and questioned us some more about our actions.

I figured it was time to tell him that I was an outdoor writer and always tried to obey all of the fishing regulations. Phew. It worked. He quickly changed his method of questioning, and put his citation book away. "Just do me a favor and write about the laws in New York pertaining to trespassing on private property."

I apologized to him for our ignorance of the law. As we started to climb into the canoe, he gave me one of his cards and asked us if we would like to get a free pass to the property upriver, which was owned by a Senator.

"Yes, sir."

After thanking him, we quickly boarded our canoe and headed back down river to the area we had launched the canoe, and where our fishing party was.

My oldest son, Ralph, Jr., was standing in the water fishing, but was not on private property.

"How come you came back so soon?" he asked.

Planning to have a little fun with him and his buddies, we dreamed up a story about being arrested, and that we needed to meet the officer at a designated place.

"That's what you get for not staying with the fishing party!"

Everyone was ribbing us, but we would have the last laugh. After loading the canoe on our truck, we headed off to the Senators property up stream that has a couple of wardens occupying a small booth for anglers wishing to pay for the right to fish the river. I showed the wardens the card that I had received from one of their other officers.

"Yep," he called us. "You are all set; park your car over there and follow these two other anglers to the fishing site. Have fun."

As my brother Ken and I followed the two anglers, I started laughing out loud about our other fishing buddies we left at the river with my son. We spent the next few hours catching some nice salmon, and laughing about the whole ordeal. It was starting to get dark, so we left the area and headed back to the camp site, thanking the officers for a great day of fishing. My kid was most likely thinking the worst — was my dad locked up? As we entered the camp site, everyone was laughing and having a few beers. After a lecture from my kid, we finally broke the news about where we were, and the great salmon fishing we had.

It was a good thing that I had taken my car because everyone else was not talking to us, and more than likely would have left us there. The good old days. Memories!

Do not forget the Singletary Rod & Gun Club field day this Sunday, Sept. 8. Good food and entertainment is sure to make for a great day in the outdoors.

Wallum Lake Rod & Gun Club will also hold their field day this Sunday, Sept. 8, at there club grounds in Harrisville R.I.! Don't miss it!

Take A kid fishing & Keep Them Rods Bending!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Socialism is not American

To the Editor:

Capitalism and socialism is a battle of economics, and economics is an area where much of our everyday life takes place. We should and need to evaluate it from a Biblical perspective. God is the creator of this world and all living matter, and God knows how it was created to work. When we use the Bible as our framework, we can begin to construct the model for a government and an economy that liberates human potential and limits human sinfulness.

In Genesis 1:28, God says we are to subdue the earth and have dominion over it. One aspect of this is that humans can own property in which they can exercise their dominion. Since we have both volition and private property rights, we can assume that we should have the freedom to exchange these private property rights in a free market where goods and services can be exchanged.

God has given us dominion over

His creation; we must be good stewards of the resources at our disposal. Historically, the free enterprise system has provided the greatest amount of freedom and the most effective economic gains of any economic system ever devised.

From a Christian perspective, the basis of private property rests in our being created in God's image. We can make choices over property that we can exchange in a market system. The fact is that economic justice can best be achieved if each person is accountable for his own productivity.

Now, when capitalism is wisely controlled, it generates significant economic prosperity and economic freedom for its people; however, one of the major moral arguments against capitalism is greed — but then, we must ask whether capitalism makes people greedy, or do we already have greedy people who use the economic freedom of the capitalistic system to achieve their ends?

In light of the Biblical description of human nature [Jeremiah 17: 9], it is the latter. We already have greedy people, and because most people are sinful and selfish, some are going to use the capitalist system to satisfy their greed. Capitalism works best with moral individuals, but it also functions adequately with selfish and greedy people.

What is most important is to realize that there is a difference between self-interest and selfishness. All people have self-interest, which can operate in ways that are not selfish — it is our self-interest to get a job and earn an income so that we can support our family. We can do that in ways that are not selfish.

As for socialism, it ignores the Biblical definitions of human nature, and as a result, it allows economic power to be centralized and concentrates power in the hands of a few greedy people, governmental bureaucrats who control every aspect of our lives. Greed is part of man's sinful nature. The solution is not in changing the economic system, but in changing the heart of mankind through the power of the gospel of God, Jesus.

So, bottom line, according to the God's Word, the Bible; socialism is not American, Godly, and not Christian.

Socialism is based on a worldwide materialistic. According to democratic socialistic front-runners, the greatest problem in the world is the unequal distribution of wealth. To socialists, all that really exists is the material world. This belief enables socialists to eliminate the need for a creator, God, essentially erasing the existence of anything non-material.

Socialism punishes virtue. Socialism wants to distribute wealth to individuals according to their need, regardless of virtue.

Whenever any institution provides aid, it runs the risk of removing God's designed rewards and consequences. Socialism can punish those who are industrious by giving the less fortunate the fruits of the industrial person's labor. This is precisely what socialism does. Completely contrary to the Bible, 2 Thessalonians 3:10, which states that the one who is unwilling to work will not eat.

Socialism endorses stealing, complete opposite of what the Bible teaches.

How is socialism endorsing stealing, by forcibly taking an item from one person and giving it to someone else? For example, if you, as a neighbor, have three cars and your neighbor has none, the government has the right to take one of your cars and give it to the neighbor. That is stealing. Socialism does not believe in private property.

Socialism encourages envy and class warfare. Socialists demonize the rich, blaming all of society's problems on them.

One of the democrat's front-runners said, "Let us wage a moral and political war against the billionaires and corporate leaders on Wall Street and elsewhere, whose policies and greed and destroying the middle class of America."

Proverbs 14:31 says, "Whoever oppresses the poor shows contempt for his or maker."

Some Democrat front-runners and their supporters go far beyond specific acts of injustice. They basically condemn an entire class of people simply for possessing wealth. And, they encourage those who are poor

Which voice will you believe?

I was perspiring even though it was bitterly cold. I locked my gaze down the long slope and was stunned by the difference in perspective. From the base of the mountain, the run looked shallow and manageable but from this vantage point ... it seemed nothing short of treacherous. Falling and breaking a leg, or worse, were the thoughts coursing through my mind.

I took a breath, dug in my ski poles and pushed off. Just as in my lessons, I moved cautiously, slaloming from side to side, enjoying the experience. The bright sun, blue sky and white powder created a picturesque and perfect moment. A smile played across my face. I was in Vail, Colo., and somewhat gracefully enjoying a picturesque moment, balanced perfectly on top of my skis.

Then it hit me. I'm inexperienced and potentially in a dangerous situation. I felt the downward momentum increasing. My heart raced. A picture in my mind replaced the beauty before me. As though it was real, I could see the ski patrol in their bright orange clothing, placing me in their stretcher and pulling me down to the base of the mountain to the waiting helicopter and the short flight to the local trauma center.

I visualized the danger so vividly, I began scanning the snow ahead, searching for a place of my choosing to execute a controlled fall and I did.

I laid on the ground as other skiers whisked by, enjoying their day. I took inventory of my limbs and found everything was in working order. I was not paralyzed. Nothing was broken except my confidence and pride. I removed my ski's and spent the next few hours walking down the access road from an 11,000-foot peak.

I never put skis on my feet again.

Fear is a natural emotion that is ingrained into our DNA, and can be useful in some situations but can also be an irrational response to events that are unreal and only imagined. Fear may someday save your life, but more often, this strong emotion will limit your experiences, success and fun.

The late great Zig Ziglar taught us that F.E.A.R. is nothing more than False Evidence Appearing Real. A perceived danger amplified in our minds that pushes us to have an irrational response.

I'd taken ski lessons every year, while visiting slopes in Wisconsin and Michigan. Tall hills to be sure, but nothing like the ski resorts of the Rocky Mountains. I mastered the midwestern slopes with ease and felt assured that I was ready for Vail. Physically and technically I was prepared. Mentally ... not so much.

I allowed doubt in my experience and ability to seize control over my thoughts and destroy my ski trip. I suddenly found myself expecting to fall and did so.

What if I would have expected to make it the bottom of the mountain, safe and sound and feeling the exhilaration of accomplishment and success?

POSITIVELY

By GARY W.
MOORE

My vacation was sabotaged. Not by an enemy that decided to steal my enjoyment, but by the voice in my head telling me all the ways I was going to be hurt. The only voice in my head is mine.

Skiing isn't an essential part of my life, but how many important life events or opportunities are destroyed with the same negative self-talk?

My skiing experience was almost 30 years ago. Life has taught me many lessons since then. If I were atop Vail Mountain today, looking down that breath-taking slope, I wouldn't listen to the voice of fear.

What is the voice telling you not to try? What job opportunity is the voice telling you that you are not qualified to take? What risk are you restricting yourself from taking that may be positively life changing?

The voice of truth.

You have the power within you to achieve greatness. Why should others enjoy the fruits of risk- reward? Why shouldn't the thrill of victory be experienced by you? Do you really believe the best of life is reserved for others or is it possible that the only person keeping you from living your dreams is you?

The best of life is only found on the other side of your fear.

Let me share the words of one of my favorite songs by a group called Casting Crowns ...

Oh, what I would do to have
The kind of strength it takes to stand before a giant
With only a sling and a stone.
Surrounded by the sound of a thousand warriors shaking in their armor
Wishing they'd have had the strength to stand.

But the giants calling out my name and he laughs at me
Reminding me of all the times I've tried before and failed
The giant keeps on telling me time and time again
"Boy you'll never win! You'll never win!"

But the voice of truth tells me a different story.
The voice of truth says, "Do not be afraid."

A beautiful song. Wise words.

Where is your mountain? Who or what is your giant?

Will you stand or will you run?

Now ... put down this newspaper and ...

Pick up your sling and stone.

to overthrow them. In fact, a certain Democratic individual once said the U.S. economy requires a "toppling" of the wealthiest.

It is the belief and concession of Democrats that it is the rich that are causing all the problems in American society. Do your research — many of the rich are not acquiring wealth by stealing; they are creating great products which produce wealth, and actually providing jobs for many people.

Socialism seeks to destroy marriages and families. A little known fact about socialism is that, from the beginning, it has sought to destroy marriage and family. What socialism seeks is for the state to replace the family; that way, it can indoctrinate children in its leftist way of thinking, and remove from them any notions of God and religion. Once again, there is a member of the democratic presidential front-runner who calls for a "revolution" in childcare and for the government to provide early childhood education beginning with children as young as six-weeks young, and, he is also a proud supporter of gay marriage.

What this Democratic front-runner describes is a utopia, an imaginary island [country] having a perfect political social system. Come on, people, Christians — what this Presidential candidate is describing is a dystopia to Christians. It is hypothetical a place, state, or situation where there quality of life are dreadful, that is because there is nothing godly or Christian about socialism. Come on, people, do your own research; socialism is not American, Godly or Christian.

PLACE MOTORS IS PROUD TO SPONSOR

Hi! My name is Chloe and I am open to trying new things!

Chloe is an outgoing, friendly and social teenage girl of Caucasian descent. Her social worker describes her as personable and kind, and notes that she will engage in conversations on various topics with ease. Chloe's favorite activities are listening to music, working on arts & crafts projects, attending dance classes, and spending time with her friends. She also loves animals and would like to go horseback riding one day. Overall, Chloe is an adventurous girl who is open to trying new things.

At school Chloe has made friends and is successful in class with extra supports. Chloe is hoping to attend college, and is interested in working with animals or practicing law.

Legally freed for adoption, Chloe will thrive in an attentive and supportive home of any constellation that can provide her with consistent boundaries and structure. Chloe will do best in a home where she can be an only-child or have older siblings. A family should be open to helping Chloe maintain contact with her biological siblings and other birth family, as these relationships are important to her.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mare-inc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

The other most wonderful time of the year

The first day of fall is nearly upon us. Sept. 23 will officially usher in the season when it becomes socially acceptable to drink apple cider and pumpkin flavored coffee, doughnuts, bread...even Spam has apparently gotten in on the act now, although we must personally draw the line there; and burn fall scented candles. Starbucks and Dunkin' Donuts already began spotlighting their fall menus roughly two weeks ago.

Pumpkin enthusiasts beware, however...on the flip side, there are several people who think it is too soon. A survey that posed the question, 'When is it OK to start drinking and eating pumpkin?' responses including the following:

'Right now!'
'First day of fall.'
'I always strive for after Labor Day, but often start on July 12th.'
'I'm waiting until Sept. 1st.'
And our favorite...
'After zucchini season.'

It is true, there are more people in New England who are holding on to every last bit of summer than those looking forward to fall. To those people, we get it. We do live, after all, in a part of the country where the populace has become famous — or is that infamous? — for refusing to swap their flip flops for boots until the first snow fall.

The end of the summer season really isn't so bad, though. With fall comes hearty crock pot recipes, crisp evenings, sweaters, boots, homecoming and Halloween. The closer to Halloween we get, the closer to snow, which means the ski resorts will soon be open for businesses. What could be better?

Perhaps the best part about fall is the foliage. The leaves are already beginning to change, and soon, our little corner of New England will be swarming with tourists fixated on taking in the vibrant reds, yellows, and oranges, cameras in tow. Peak foliage will hit during the last week of September through the first week of October.

The Old Farmer's Almanac predicts a snowier than ever winter, but we're also fine with that. From our perspective, the more powder days Mother Nature provides to keep New England's skiing industry alive, the better.

Within the next several weeks, temperatures will drop drastically, with some hot days still sprinkled in for balance. The good news is that there is still plenty of time to sneak in a few more summer hikes, a few final kayaking sessions on the lake, a few more backyard barbecues, or a day reading out on the hammock before the time will come to break out the flannel again.

So, whether you're still sipping piña coladas or drinking a pumpkin spiced latte and dreaming of Jack O' Lanterns and the smell of wood stoves, we encourage you to savor the moment.

VIEWPOINT

OPINION AND COMMENTARY FROM SPENCER, LEICESTER AND THE BROOKFIELDS

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A few thoughts on some recent letters

To the Editor:

Mr. John McRae, you should be ashamed of yourself. Your attacks on poor Mr. Emerson were uncalled for. Shame on you!

Mr. Emerson, please accept my apology for ruffling your feathers. I hope you will accept some constructive criticism regarding your rant.

The lid of my ignorance is securely in place and my facts, I believe, are well established. Of course, my opinions may not meet the professional standards of a practicing meta-physician. Progressive positions have no lid to be blown off. Although most are absurd, they are constantly progressing (hence the name). They are like cockroaches – kill one and many others appear. But, thank you for your concern.

Politicians should avoid using euphemisms (a rose by any other name). If they are promoting universal healthcare, and they truly believe it has merit, they should call it that and not be ashamed to do so. Average Americans understand far more than you think. It is not a descriptor, it is deceiver. Socialism is a school of economic thought. As a proud Catholic, I am a member of the largest Socialist institution in the history of the world. If it works for you, and doesn't infringe on the rights of others, it is perfectly okay with me. However, keep your hands off my Medicare. We should look to the original Mass Health plan as a guide while removing the mandate (or person-date). President Obama would have solved the problem, at much less cost, if he had only asked Mitt for his help.

Your comments on climate change were mind-blowing. A cup of [bunk] is too much to take in, but a truck load of it is unimaginable. As for climatologist, they will say anything to keep the grants rolling in – left to their own resources they would give up their new aspects of material reality in a nanosecond.

Slavery, as most metaphysicians should know, did not begin 200-300 years ago. If we should look to make reparation, from a metaphysical stand point, we should go back to the origins of slavery and take care of those examples first – we are after all brother and sisters in the development of humanity.

I have always chosen sappy over stupid. However, I will admit to a bit of fake news. I was actually 13, and not 14. My point was, we are pricing the young, disabled and non-productive out of the market. Most Progressives solve a problem by creating a new problem – it keeps them relevant but it injures the ones they hope to help.

When someone uses the Southern Poverty Law Center as a reference regarding any issue, my mind automatically shuts down and I read no further. Enough said!

Although everything is relative, anyone who believes that Compton, South Central LA, the Southside of Chicago, parts of Baltimore, New York and Miami (to mention just a few) are safe havens for immigrants (especially the young and sex trafficked) should have their heads examined. The Bloods, Cripes, MS 13 and a wide variety of other gangs spread across the USA should not be the welcome wagons to the helpless.

Just a few random thoughts — Mr. Rosenberg, as a Jewish American, if the duly elected leaders of the world's terrorist groups wanted to enter the USA for a global convention, would you welcome them with open arms?

Mr. Blais, a Shamrock has three leaves used to explain the Holy Trinity. You consistently refer to God, Jesus, in your letters. Do you have something against the Holy Spirit? Remember that God is in three persons, Father, Son and Holy Spirit. If you mention God, you include the others automatically. Please stop embarrassing yourself – you're better than that.

Ms. Jackman, do you really think that misleading views make dialogue difficult or do you think that opposing views make you uncomfortable? Dialogue is only difficult if you make it so.

Mr. Belton, be careful what you wish for. Changes usually don't reap what they sow. I think the Congress is just fine the way it is.

I sincerely wish all well and I look forward to the next round of letters. Mr. Emerson, keep practicing your metaphysical skills – practice makes perfect and someday you may catch on – hope springs eternal. God Bless You.

Leaving your job? What happens to your 401(k)?

If you're in the early stages of your working life – or even in the not-so-early ones – the chances are pretty good that you will change jobs at some point. When that happens, you'll probably leave a few things behind – but will one of them be your 401(k)?

Of course, you wouldn't really forget about your 401(k). (It does happen, however – over the period from 2004 through 2013, more than 25 million people left at least one 401(k) or similar plan behind when they left their job, according to the U.S. Government Accountability Office.) But you will have to do something with your account.

FINANCIAL
BURDICK

Essentially, you have four choices:

You can cash out your 401(k). It's your money, but if you take it out before you reach 59 ½, you will owe federal income taxes, plus any applicable state and local taxes.

Also, you will likely be charged a 10 percent penalty for early withdrawal. Perhaps even more important, if you liquidate your 401(k) when you change jobs, you'll be reducing the amount you'll have left for retirement.

You can leave your 401(k) with your old employer. If your former employer permits it, you can leave your 401(k) intact, even after you move to a different job. This might be appealing to you if you like the investment choices in your account, but you won't be able to make any new contributions. Plus, you won't face any immediate tax consequences.

You can move the money to your new employer's 401(k). You can consolidate your old 401(k) with one offered by your new employer, if allowed. You won't take a tax hit, and you might like your new plan's investment options. And you may find it easier to manage your funds if they're all held in one place.

You can roll your 401(k) into an IRA. You don't need the permission from any employer – old or new – to move your old 401(k) to an IRA. Your money will continue to grow on a tax-deferred basis, and an IRA offers you a virtually unlimited array of investment options – stocks, bonds, mutual funds and so on. You can make either a direct or indirect rollover. With a direct rollover, the administrator of your old 401(k) sends your money directly to the financial provider that holds your rollover IRA. No tax is withheld because you never actually take possession of the money. With an indirect rollover, you're technically withdrawing the money and moving it to the IRA provider yourself. (You've got 60 days to make this transfer.) You will face a withholding of 20% of your account's assets, but you may be able to recover most of this amount when you file your tax return. Still, for the sake of ease of movement and avoidance of all tax issues, a direct rollover may be more advantageous.

Which of these options is right for you? There's no one "right" answer for everyone. You'll have to consider several factors, and you'll certainly want to consult your tax professional before making any decision. But in any case, do whatever you can to preserve – and hopefully grow – your 401(k) assets. You'll need these resources to help fund the retirement lifestyle you want and deserve.

Forest management project underway in North Brookfield

To the Editor:

Mass Audubon owns approximately 1,100 acres of land in Brookfield and North Brookfield known as Elm Hill Wildlife Sanctuary. During the next few weeks, Mass Audubon will begin a forest management project at Elm Hill designed to promote broader biodiversity and improve overall forest health on the property.

Beyond Elm Hill, Mass Audubon owns and manages over 30,000 mostly forested acres across the state, and we generally manage these forests passively, allowing them to mature to provide wildlife habitat and to sequester carbon. Mass Audubon recently committed to retaining forest carbon on 10,000 of our acres for the next 100 years.

Elm Hill is covered by an Agricultural Preservation Restriction (APR) which requires an agricultural use of the property. To align with the requirements of the APR and to enhance specific habitat values, our scientists are partnering with a licensed forester to complete a carefully planned multi-year forest management project. Work during the 2019/2020 management cycle we will focus on approximately 225 acres in the northern section of the property with primary access via a gate off Brookfield Road/Route 148.

In the coming months, we will control invasive species, cut and remove trees on a limited section of the property to meet specific habitat management goals, recover overgrown field edges, and remove windrows to increase the effective size of several fields.

Specifically, the work will include:

- Removing most trees from several sections totaling approximately 40 acres—less than four percent of the 1,100-acre property. This clear-cut area will then be allowed to regrow to provide young forest habitat for a number of declining bird species and other wildlife.
- Eliminating an eight-acre red pine plantation that currently provides very little habitat value.
- Cutting a smaller fraction of trees from a 70-acre portion of the forest to support future management goals.
- Enhancing forest structure on 30 acres, to mimic old-growth forest conditions.
- Controlling invasive plants on more than 90 acres of forest and field edges.

Active forest management by Mass Audubon may come as a surprise to many. However, our State of the Birds series has documented precipitous declines in the populations of birds that nest in young forests due to lack of habitat. The Elm Hill project will create more biodiversity by addressing the urgent need for more young forest habitat in New England.

The project will also serve as a demonstration site for our Foresters for the Birds program, which teaches private landowners and professional foresters how to improve wildlife habitat when planning forest management activities. The project is being planned by a Massachusetts-licensed consulting forester, and is funded in part through grants provided by the federal Natural Resource Conservation Service and the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation.

Planning has benefitted from guidance provided by MassWildlife staff and other experts, and draws on Mass Audubon's own experience with young forest habitat creation in the Connecticut River Valley and the Berkshires.

If you have any questions about the project, please contact me at: tlautzenheiser@massaudubon.org.

ATHLETE of the WEEK

Rachel Crowley

A Bentley University senior, Crowley — a Leicester native and Notre Dame Academy graduate — has been named a tri-captain of the Falcons' field hockey team. It's the second time around as captain for Crowley, who also helped lead the team last year when Bentley posted an 11-8 record.

Crowley, after being sidelined during the 2017 campaign, bounced back to start all 19 games last season. She established career bests in the scoring columns with five goals, five assists and 15 points. During her career, she has 11 goals, 10 assists and 32 points in 54 contests.

"Rachel made an impact right away as a freshman," said head coach Jessica Spencer. "I expect her to have a fantastic year."

WINDOW REPLACEMENT an Andersen Company

SOME CHANGES ARE HARD, BUT AT LEAST WE MAKE REPLACING YOUR WINDOWS EASY.

The most hassle-free home improvement project you'll ever have. You won't have to deal with a manufacturer or chase down an installer. We manage the entire process—from building to installation to the warranty—on our windows and patio doors.

Andersen is the window that every homeowner wants. Renewal by Andersen is the full-service replacement window division of Andersen, and our window is engineered to help save you money on your energy bills and make your home more comfortable.

56,950 other MA and Southern NH area homeowners have trusted us. That means we understand the window and patio door problems in this area. And our installers are true craftsmen who will completely and thoroughly clean up after your upgrade is complete.

We won't try to "sell" you on vinyl. Poor-quality vinyl windows can discolor, leak and warp just a few years after they're installed, so we refuse to sell them. Our window's Fibrex® composite material is twice as strong as vinyl.

I hope you all had a nice Labor Day Weekend and got your fill of delicious fair foods. We couldn't have asked for better weather Sat & Sun and Monday, oh well, two out of three is pretty good!

Check out 308 LAKESIDE'S ad this week for their list of entertainment for the month. There's still time to enjoy lunch or dinner on the deck overlooking the lake, and listening to some great music on the weekends!

One of my favorite craft fairs is coming up this weekend... BROOKFIELD ORCHARDS HARVEST CRAFT FAIR. It's happening Saturday and Sunday, September 7 & 8 from 10-4 pm. Before or after you've shopped the many local vendors displaying their homemade items, artwork and goodies, stop by the snack bar for some delicious food, or take a wagon ride around the orchard. There will also be live music each day.

If you know of a mechanic looking for a job, THE FIRE TRUCK AUTHORITY on Meadow Road in Spencer is looking for a mechanic's helper full time Monday through Friday. Check out the ad in the Classifieds section this week for all the details.

SALEM CROSS INN is also hiring servers and a full time bartender. Apply in person or at salemcrossinn.com.

There is still time to become a member of the SPENCER RESCUE & EMERGENCY SQUAD. This is something that I've supported for many years. With membership, the cost of ambulance services not paid by your insurance is covered. See the sign-up form in this week's issue and support this non-profit community supported organization, and the dedicated staff of highly trained paramedics and EMT's who care about the well-being of their community.

There is still time to get the EARLY BIRD DISCOUNT for the 2020 BUSINESS, COMMUNITY & RESTAURANT GUIDE. Just email or call and mention this column and I'll give you the discount after the deadline. The 2020 Guide is going to be distributed TOTAL MARKET COVERAGE... to every household & business in Spencer, Leicester & The Brookfields... that's huge to an advertiser! Prices are the same... take advantage of this bonus circulation of this great Guide that will feature East Brookfield's 100th Anniversary! Place a congratulatory business ad in this section! Please call me or email me with any questions. It can all be done by phone or email. Easy peasy!!

Have a great week!
