Amazon seeking TIF agreement

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – As the process for Amazon to bring its newest distribution center to Charlton gets underway, the town’s Board of Selectmen is looking to be as involved as possible in what’s to come.

Selectmen briefly discussed a request from Amazon to enter a Tax Increment Financing, or TIF, agreement, a popular agreement between a town and a new entity that subsidizes companies by refunding or diverting a portion of their taxes to help finance community development. Town Administrator Andrew Golas told selectmen that on July 15 the first meeting to discuss the TIF would be held with the goal of bringing the agreement to the fall special town meeting at the end of October. He sought a representative of the board to take part in those discussions.

Eventually, Selectman Stephen Koronis agreed to take part in the July 15 meeting acknowledging that this will be a fast-moving project.

“Although it’s still in the Planning Board they’re also looking to fast track this a little bit. We kind of don’t want to delay that,” Koronis said.

The discussion as a whole showed a desire from all selectmen to be involved in the process as it plays out. After briefly debating whether or not specific individuals from the board should be appointed to represent the selectmen it appeared that every member present, Selectman Bill Borowski was absent for the meeting, was interest-

SOUTHBRIDGE — In 1959, the Harrington Auxiliary awarded its first scholarship to a student planning to pursue a career in health-care. Since that time, the Auxiliary has been proud to carry on the annual tradition.

In spite of scaled-down fundraising during 2020, the Harrington Auxiliary Scholarship Committee was honored to award $10,000 in scholarships this year. Students residing in the communities served by the Harrington Health Care System were invited to apply for one of the scholarships. More than 40 students submit-

QCC continues to adapt to the needs students

WORCESTER — Quinsigamond Community College has begun transitioning to more in-person services and courses as it readies for a robust in-person footprint this fall.

One of the recent additions to facilitate an easy back-to-school transition is QCC's new virtual waiting line service. Designed to offer students a unique way to make appointments at various college offices, the Easy Queue (EZQ) system enables students to join virtual waiting rooms for the offices they need to meet with such as Admissions, Advising and Financial Aid.

Through a text messaging system, students will receive reminders and wait time updates as their appointment gets closer.

"Our students are often juggling multiple responsibilities. This support service should be a game changer for many who do not have the time to stand in line and wait for their appointment," said QCC President Luis G. Pedraja, Ph.D.

In addition to this new support service, QCC will continue to offer remote support services and online courses, as well as in-person services and courses beginning this fall.

"The pandemic reinforced that our students need a variety of learning modalities that align with their needs," Dr. Pedraja continued. "We have kept our extensive remote classes and support services, while bringing back in-person classes and continuing to look for ways to assist our students. Removing the barriers that prevent students from attaining their dreams of a better future through higher education is our number one priority."

To learn more about visit www.QCC.edu/EZQ.

For more information on QCC, contact Josh Martin, Director of Institutional Communications at 508-854-7513 or jmartin@qcc.mass.edu

Spirited Tantasqua comeback falls just short in Summer Basketball League final

Tantasqua's Shea Coleman drives to the net while being guarded by a Grafton defender.

Maggie Johnson of Tantasqua fights with a Grafton player for control over the ball.

Tantasqua's Sophie Law attempts to drive to the basket for a layup while being guarded by Sofia Hillerstrom.

Tantasqua's Gabby Scanlon drives past a Grafton defender in an attempt for the hoop.

Alexis Cutler of Tantasqua tries to steal the ball from a Grafton opponent.

Valley Tech, 36-27, in the other semifinal. Tantasqua finished Tantasqua trailed, 23-15, with 1:40 remaining in the game.

WEBSTER — Trailing by eight points with less than two minutes to play, the Tantasqua girls' basketball team staged a spirited comeback, cutting its deficit to a single point before falling in the championship game of the annual local summer league, 29-21, to Grafton, at All Saints Academy on Thursday, July 22.

For many years, the league has been played at Auburn High School, but after not being held in 2020 because of COVID-19 and the accompanying global coronavirus pandemic, the league was moved to Webster for 2021. The league is expected to return to Auburn High next summer.

Tantasqua, the top seed, advanced to the final by defeating eighth-seeded Leicester, 32-21, in a semifinal round game played earlier on July 22. Grafton, the No. 6 seed, punched its ticket to the title game by upsetting fourth-seeded Blackstone with an 8-2 record while Grafton ended the season 6-5.

With 1:32 to play, Warriors' sophomore Gabby Scanlon (a team-high eight points) cut the Gators' lead to six (23-17), by hitting a pair of free throws. With 1:24 left, following a Grafton miss, Tantasqua rising senior Sophie Law (four points), scored on a layup after a left-to-right drive through the lane. Law's basket pulled Tantasqua to within four points of the lead, 23-19.

With 1:06 to play, after a Grafton turnover, Kelsie Wotton, a rising junior for the Warriors, made it a two-point game, 23-21. After a strong drive to the basket, Wotton laid the ball in softly off the glass.

Grafton called timeout following the Wotton basket, regrouped, and hit six consecutive free throws, four by Kait Cahill, to seal the victory. Cahill, a soon-to-be senior for the Gators, finished with a game-high 11 points, 10 coming in the second half.

Tantasqua was coached in the summer league by Emmy Cherry and Ainsley Way, who along with Madison Varney, would have been seniors on last year's Warriors' team, had the team been allowed to play. While Cherry acknowledged that defeating Grafton would have been great, it was not the true focal point of Tantasqua's summer league season.

"Throughout this whole entire summer league the team played tremendous defense," Cherry said. "But playing in this summer league was more about the players getting to know each other and learning how to play with each other. This summer league was about building for next year."

Tantasqua played its semifinal and final without two rising sophomores, Nicole Veach and Angelina Reno, who were away on vacation.

Way agreed with Cherry about the fact that team bonding was the ultimate goal of participating in the summer league.

"It's about getting the girls used to each other. There's a lot of new, younger girls that are probably going to be on varsity next year, on this team, and a lot of new freshmen, too, who may be on the varsity," Way said. "It was a great season. It was really fun to coach these girls."

Way is headed to the University of South Carolina to further her education while Cherry is headed to Curry College in Boston, where she is planning on being a member of the Colonels' women's basketball team.

Law spent her spring season participating in track and field. Despite never having thrown the discus before, Law finished first in the event in both the SWCL meet and the Central Mass. championships, and came in fifth in the state meet. She was pleased the school decided to enter a team in the summer basketball league.

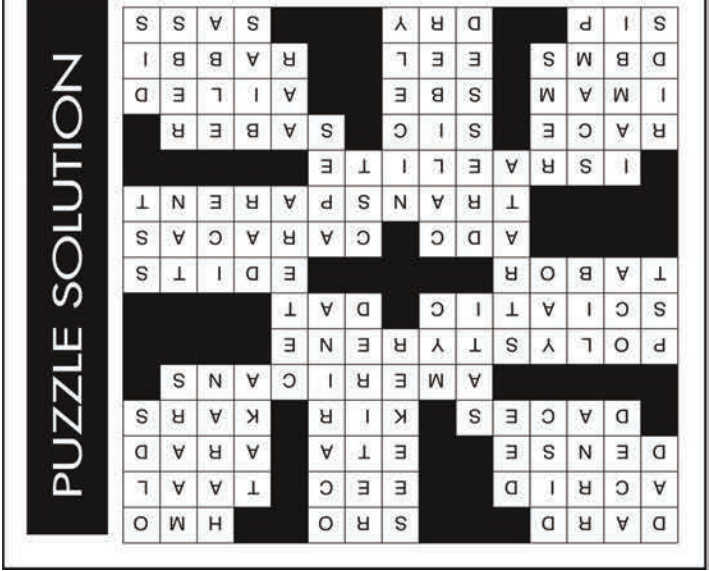

"Normally we don't do the summer league, but this summer season was really a lot of fun. There are going to be a lot of new players on next year's team, so it was good to play with them and get to know them," Law said. "It was good to be doing something, basketball-wise, this summer. Because of COVID no one is really in the shape they want to be in."

Other teams that took part in the summer league included Northbridge High, David Prouty Regional, Auburn High and Quaboag Regional.

Country Bank, Worcester Red Sox announce community giving campaign

WORCESTER — Country Bank and the Worcester Red Sox have announced a community giving campaign to support non-profit leaders throughout the region.

To kick off the campaign - dubbed “WooStars,” Country Bank recognized 11 local non-profits at Polar Park to include Springfield based organizations: Friends of the Homeless, Ronald McDonald House, Christina’s House, and Habitat for Humanity (Springfield/Worcester), along with Worcester based organizations: The United Way, Why Me, Sherry’s House, Provision Ministry, St. John’s Food Pantry for the Poor, and the Boys and Girls Club. Each non-profit was presented with a $5,000 check from Paul Scully, President, and CEO of Country Bank. Representatives of the non-profits also participated in a television commercial to support the campaign.

Country Bank and the Worcester Red Sox Foundation will continue the excitement by selecting nine additional recipients. The deadline for nominations is Aug. 15. Each winner will also receive a $5,000 donation to their non-profit and will be recognized at a presentation in Polar Park on September 9, 2021. A total of $90,000 will be donated this year through the WooStar campaign. “One of the most important goals of our partnership with the Worcester Red Sox is to find ways for us to collectively give back to our communities in an impactful and meaningful way. Country Bank is deeply rooted in supporting its communities and a value that we have lived by for 171 years. We are delighted the Worcester Red Sox is equally committed to supporting its communities. This campaign rewards those doing the life changing work out there,” stated Shelley Regin, Senior Vice President of Marketing at Country Bank.

In addition, they have also launched a Most Valuable Teacher (MVT) campaign that recognizes the outstanding work teachers do every day to educate and support students. Country Bank has a long-standing Teacher of the Month campaign to support teachers in the region, so it is exciting to partner with the WooSox to make the MVT campaign even more rewarding for the teachers and students.

“We are continually inspired by the unrelenting community outreach of Country Bank,” said WooSox President Dr. Charles Steinberg. “Our shared interest in education is leading us to recognize some of our unheralded heroes—our MVTs, or Most Valuable Teachers. We look forward to shining the spotlight in the sunlight on our educators, and we thank Country Bank yet again for their splendid partnership.”

The public is invited to nominate a WooStar or Most Valuable Teacher by visiting <https://www.countrybank.com/about-us/woostars/> or <https://www.countrybank.com/personal/youth-accounts/most-valuable-teacher/> to complete a simple nomination form.

Charlton EDC hits the ground running

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON — Charlton’s Economic Development Commission has hit the ground running in the first half of 2021, at least according to Town Administrator Andrew Golas and Selectman Stephen Koronis who represent the Board of Selectmen on that commission.

Golas and Koronis each shared updates from the commission’s July meeting with selectmen on July 13, noting that the EDC is working on a survey that would focus on the wants and needs of both businesses and citizens when it comes to economic development and growth.

“The EDC is working to develop a survey of both businesses and residents of things that help business, things that could be better in Charlton and basically way to try to help improve businesses but then from a residents survey perspective doing it concurrently to see what residents want to do,” Golas said, noting that this goes hand in hand with the town’s Master Plan. “They’re still working on developing it, but they’re going to be doing it as a Google form and then trying to, specifically the business ones, sending that through the chamber of commerce.”

Selectman Koronis said he expects good things from the commission, which reconvened at the start of the year and has met an average of once a month over that time.

“We just started meeting in January, so I think we’ve had four or five meetings. There’s a lot of really bright people in that group. They’re fun meetings,” Koronis said.

Selectwoman Barbara Zurawski asked if the EDC was considering updating a pamphlet or brochure to help advertise Charlton to potential businesses. Zurawski noted Dudley had recently worked with students from Nichols College on the project. Selectman Koronis said some local students had, in fact, show interest in putting together a video comprised of areal shots of the town while Town Administrator Golas said the EDC is just getting started.

“What they’re doing at this point is generating the leg work to get some advertisements together. A lot of the former EDC had focused on advertising properties that were vacant. As the EDC has kind of kicked off, they’re doing some of that leg work to take some of the pamphlets that had been done back five or ten years ago and translate that into online marketing. They’re working forward but haven’t officially hit full throttle,” said Golas.

The Charlton Economic Development Commission typically meets on the first or second week of each month. Agendas and meetings times can be found on the Town of Charlton Web site.

Moon madness

Is what ‘they’ say really true regarding the full moon? Do people actually turn into ‘lunatics?’ We’re not so sure, but science has much to offer on the topic, with the next full moon now literally on the horizon.

Some people claim that they become unexplainably moody for a few days or have trouble sleeping. Some say they experience breakouts or other aches and pains that affect the joints. Typically, when people are observed acting slightly less than normal, you will hear the phrase “it must be the full moon.”

Logically, it makes sense that because the tides are higher during the full moon phase due to the pull of gravity that our bodies which are made up of 80% water would experience some sort of side effect as well.

Studies show that tides in large lakes undergo minimal tide changes during the full moon. Tides take place twice a day in the ocean, which could mean that we would be ‘off center’ twice a day, however that isn’t the case from what we currently know according to science.

Some myths claim that the full moon can incite epileptic seizures in people, however a study in 2004 showed no such connection.

As far as bouts of psychiatric outbursts, one study in 2014 showed an increase of emergency room visits within 24 hours of the full moon however a study in 1996 showed no significant difference. The term ‘lunatic’ is derived from the word ‘Luna’ the name of the ancient Roman goddess. Aristotle and Hippocrates once implied they thought the moon was at fault for abnormal behavior.

Interesting was the study that took place in Colorado, where researchers found that the risk for pet injuries increased by 23 percent during the full moon phase. Proven is that wild animals behave differently during the full moon in that the light effects their hunting habits.

As for sleep deprivation, we all know that before modern times the moon provided light during the nighttime hours. During the full moon, the increased amount of light was said to have wreaked havoc on those with bipolar or seizure disorders. Many people say they have trouble sleeping during a full moon however no studies have indicated a scientific correlation as of yet.

As far as myths go, the claim that a full moon increases fertility and births is as old as time. The truth is that fertility methods based on moon phases have proved inconclusive, as did the effect on gravitational pull to induce labor.

February is the only month that may not experience a full moon because each full moon appears every 29.5 days. A super-moon takes place when a full moon coincides with the moon’s closest approach to earth. The last time we witnessed a super-moon was in 2015. The next one will occur in 2033. Some say that the full moon is an unlucky sign if it happens on a Sunday. Interesting to note is that the name ‘Monday’ is from the Old English word Monandaeg, which means ‘moon day’. Another fact is that on March 28, the Royal Air force used the light from a full moon to attack Lubeck in Germany during WWII.

When there are two full moons in one month, the second one is called a ‘blue moon.’ This occurrence takes place every three years. A red moon happens when the full moon phase occurs during the same time as a lunar eclipse.

The man on the moon that we often see during a full moon, is nothing more than dark areas called basaltic plains and the lighter colored highlands of the moon’s surface. Making sense, and interesting is that between 1765 and 1813, the Lunar Society of Birmingham, England met during the full moon because the extra light made the walk home safer.

July is said to be the best month to get married because it falls between the planting and harvesting of crops. The term ‘honeymoon’ is named after the first full moon in June for this reason.

We can’t mention a full moon and not mention werewolves. Old folklore claimed that if you slept outside under a full moon on a Wednesday or a Friday you could turn into a werewolf. Perhaps the most entertaining spin on this myth, aside from the Universal Pictures’ influential 1941 classic “The Wolf Man” with Lon Chaney, Jr. is the 1985 film “Teen Wolf” starring Michael J. Fox. If you haven’t seen it, you might want to pull it from the dusty archives during the next full moon for a celebratory showing. For those with prefer straight-up horror, we also recommend “The Howling,” “Wolfen,” and of course, “An American Werewolf in London” (but make sure you’ve sent the little pups to bed first!).

Readers Share Favorite Tips and Tricks

As summer peaks and life becomes busier this time of year, finding ways to make life a little easier is especially appreciated! From timely tips to cleaning strategies, the following submissions from readers are sure to save you time and money this season!

A backyard gardener takes recycling to the next level with this ingenious tip!

I found the hot sleeve on my morning coffee cup is useful for more than just protecting my hand. I have a lot of collard greens growing in my garden. One issue I have come across while growing collards is the cutworms – they emerge from the soil and eat through the stems of the plant. I used to wrap the stems of my collard plants with newspaper to prevent cutworms from killing my plants, but I discovered the sleeve from my morning coffee cup is a perfect size and material for the task. When young plants have just begun to sprout, simply stick the coffee sleeve into the dirt encompassing the base of the plant, pushing it one or two inches down into the soil. For mature plants, detach the seam of the coffee sleeve and wrap it around a cluster of stems, reattach at the seam again, and push the sleeve down 1-2 inches into soil. This can also be done with tomato plants.

This busy mother offered the following trio of tried and true tips:

For a quick breakfast I use Birchbenders (just add water) non GMO pancake mix and use a table-spoon to make lots of little quarter size pancakes. I use coconut oil to give them a cake flavor and portion a bunch of snack bags with five or six in each. I keep them in the refrigerator and the kids just grab a bag and eat them cold without syrup or you can heat them up and offer a little ramekin of syrup or honey for dipping.

I always keep a bag of dollar tree party balloons on hand. My kids constantly get their hats wet all summer. The trick I use to keep the hat shape is to blow up a balloon into a wet hat and let it dry.

Window cleaning is a pain, so I made my husband do it and could not believe his method!

He used one of those garden gallon containers with pump hose spray handle and filled it with water, a cup of vinegar and 2 Tbs. of Dawn dish detergent. He opened the screens and just power washed all the dirt right off of the window! They looked new!

Instead of stockpiling your freezer with overripe ripe bananas for banana bread, try this reader’s easy, yet effective trick to keep the fruit fresher longer:

If you want to keep bananas from ripening too soon, simply wrap stem with aluminum foil.

This super simple kitchen tip solves a common culinary challenge:

For a quick way to separate hot fat from the broth, pour it in a paper or foam cup and pierce the side of the cup with a sharp point near the bottom. Drain the liquid into a pan until you see the fat come out then tip the cup back to stop the flow.

Paul Davignon

This trick eliminates the dirty work when it comes to the most dreaded household chore:

To freshen up your toilet bowl and to remove mineral deposits/stains from hard water drop one or two Polident denture cleaning tablets in the toilet and let sit for about 20 minutes. Run a quick brush around the bowl and flush. The tablets will kill germ and remove stains from the bowl with no harsh chemicals or smell.

Rather than struggling with scissors you can safely open a plastic clamshell package by using a can opener the same way you use it on a can.

This reader’s tip for drying sneakers not only prevents tangling laces, but keeps shoes in tip top shape:

If you dry sneakers in the dryer, you know that laces can come untied and tangled despite your best efforts. Even if you remove the laces, they still get twisted. In addition, the shoes get banged around as the dryer turns. This method solves both problems:

Keep laces in the shoes and tie laces together at the top and hang sneakers in the inside door of the dryer. Leave the knot outside the door and close. The sneakers will dry from the heat of the dryer, yet will not tumble. Problem solved!

Here’s a look at the “new retirement”

FINANCIAL FOCUS

DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

Once you retire, what can you expect from your life? You might be surprised by the things that current retirees are saying about their lifestyles, priorities, relationships and hopes for the future. And you also might find this knowledge quite helpful as you prepare for the day when you become a retiree.

First of all, retirement today is far different – and potentially far more rewarding – than was the case a generation or so ago. Of course, people are living longer now, but the new retirement environment isn’t just about longevity – it’s also about using one’s time in a meaningful way, deepening connections with family and contributing to communities. All these capabilities fit into a framework of four key “pillars”: health, family, purpose and finance, described in a study by Edward Jones and Age Wave called Four Pillars of the New Retirement: What a Difference a Year Makes, which also looks at how attitudes and opinions have changed during the COVID-19 pandemic. Among the study’s findings is a piece of good news: 76 percent of Americans credit the pandemic with causing them to refocus on what’s most important in life.

And one important element in the life of retirees is, not surprisingly, their optimal well-being in their retirement years. The overwhelming majority of retirees say that all four pillars are essential to this well-being. Let’s look at these pillars and see what you can do to support them:

Having good physical/mental health – Health care and long-term care costs are the greatest financial worries in retirement, according to the Four Pillars study. A financial advisor can recommend ways of addressing these expenses, but you can also take familiar steps, such as getting regular exercise and following a well-balanced diet, to maintain and improve your health.

Having family and friends that care about me – Retirees say that the top contributor to their identity in retirement is their relationships with loved ones, again according to the Four Pillars study. Clearly, it’s important to keep up your relationships with family and friends, before and after you’re retired.

Having a sense of purpose in life – Those with a higher sense of purpose have better overall health, greater cognitive functioning, higher life satisfaction, increased mobility/functioning and longer lifespans, according to the Four Pillars report, citing research from the International Journal of Aging and Human Development. So, by volunteering and getting involved in community activities, you’ll not only be helping others, but also yourself.

Being financially secure – During the pandemic, retirees fared better than other demographic groups because they had stronger financial safety nets, including Social Security, Medicare and a high degree of home ownership. Still, just 56 percent of men and 40 percent of women are confident about their retirement savings, according to the Four Pillars survey. So, if you haven’t yet retired, you’ll still want to bolster your finances by contributing as much as you can to your investment accounts. And once you do retire, you’ll want to make sure you don’t take too much from these accounts too soon, helping you avoid the risk of outliving your money.

As you can see, it’s important to take a holistic approach to retirement in the 21st century. And when you do, you can find your days as a retiree to be greatly fulfilling.

The closing days of summer

July is almost gone, and with four weeks left in August, summer is quickly coming to an end. Fishing on all fronts will be fantastic as the waters cool and fish become a lot more active. Hopefully, strong storms like they are having out West will not materialize in the Northeast. With Covid on the rise again & with different variants, another winter like last year would be hard to deal with on all fronts. Vaccines are still available and residents that have not received their shots of the vaccine for covid, need to step up to the plate and receive them ASAP.

While fishing on the Westport River last week we observed numerous osprey diving into the water to catch a meal. It is amazing how the huge birds can soar more than a few hundred feet in the sky and spot a potential meal. The force that they hit the water to grab their prey is also amazing. A few weeks ago, while fishing the Providence River, my brother and I were live lining porgies. Normally, when a porgy comes to the surface while fishing, it is a sign that a fish is chasing it and a strike is imminent.

Suddenly, from above, a large osprey spotted the floundering porgy on my line, and within a second, he had the live porgies in his grasp, and was flying away with it. I found myself reeling in an osprey from above. I gave the rod a good hard tug and the osprey dropped the fish. I quickly reeled in the live porgy, that was not in good shape, after being held with the osprey's talons. My brother Ken and I had a good laugh, and moved to another location to fish away from the osprey. Fortunately, the large bird did not become entangled in the line, or have the hook become imbedded in his feet. Cutting the line would not have been an option, as the bird could become entangled in the line at a later time.

Update! The Port-o-Potty at Westport boat ramp has been brought up to healthy standards, and will hopefully stay that way. It also put all towns on notice that manage boat ramps for the state, that their portable restrooms need to be kept clean for their residents and guests. Enough for that subject!

Bear sightings are becoming more frequent in the valley area! Local residents need to be aware of the sightings, but do not need to be too concerned about their presence. Keeping rubbish and bird seed under cover, so that they are not attracted to it, should keep them moving out of your area. Many people love to see the bears in their area, but need to keep a safe distance from them. All zones in Mass. now have hunting seasons for bear. You need to check the Mass. Hunting abstracts for dates and zones that you plan to hunt. A bear hunting permit is also required.

Saltwater fishing has been good for some anglers, and frustrating for others. One local angler took a trip to Block Island this past week and caught a couple of stripers that were either too big or too small because of the slot limit. He tried bottom fishing and could only catch a few undersize fluke. He traveled from one side of the Island to the other. Fished around the windmills and numerous other spots that often yielded a few fish for the dinner table.

When all was said & done, they headed back to the boat ramp. He told me he had put 60 miles on his boat that one trip when he had returned back to the boat ramp. He did retain a couple of fish that yielded him one and a half pounds of fish. It figured out to cost the two anglers close to $100 per pound. Constant fishing by draggers in the areas, sure had him frustrated. Seabass fishing on the Cape is still yielding some nice fish, but this past week had anglers catching a lot of shorts. I know I was there! One local angler from Douglas was Jig fishing for seabass and managed to catch his limit, but he also had a hard time catching his limit of five legal-size fish. Large scaup were also caught. Every day is different. That is why they call it fishing and not catching!

Hanging around a couple of Bait & Tackle Shops in the area, sure gives this writer a wealth of information. While I was sitting at one shop, a customer received a call from an angler that was tuna fishing a number of miles off of Block Island this past Sunday. He was battling a giant tuna that was hooked up almost two hours. Just listening to the angler had my back aching! I do not know if the angler landed the huge tuna, but anglers have already had a great tuna fishing season.

Antiques, collectibles and estates profile: Kris Casucci

This week's column will focus on a local antique dealer. Kris Casucci of Brookfield, Mass. runs an antique shop, an auction house, antique shows and antique tailgate shows. She also sets up at antique shows in the Midwest and Mid-Atlantic states. Somehow, she still finds time to garden in her spare time.

Along with her husband Paul, Ms. Casucci ran successful antiques tailgate shows at the Walker Homestead in Brookfield, Mass. The pandemic led them to move the tailgate shows to New Hampshire. Their Flying Pig Antiques group shop and Flying Pig Auctions were already located in Westmoreland, New Hampshire, about 20 minutes from Keene, New Hampshire and Bellows Falls, Vt.

In a recent phone interview, Casucci traced her love of antiques back to her youth. Growing up in her parents' mid-century home, she was surrounded by antiques that had been passed down through her family. In 2008 or 2009, she made a career change from her real estate title examiner job and opened an antique shop. Casucci said that she has a passion for antiques and the personalities of each item. She specializes in country and primitive antiques with stoneware as one area of focus.

Like all types of antiques, the country and primitive antiques market is always changing. Casucci said that "Simple Life" magazine was popular with her customers. She would see items in "Simple Life" and know that her customers would be looking for those items. "Simple Life" went out of publication and things are less predictable now, but she did note sever-

& ESTATES
WAYNE TUISKULA

al recent trends. She finds customers have "a greater interest in early stoneware." Her businesses sell a lot of painted furniture and she told me that "blue seems to be making a comeback." She also noted that shaved brooms (from the 18th and early 19th centuries) have been selling well, with some bringing over $1,000.

Casucci had some good advice for collectors, suggesting that "they buy what they love," adding that "someone else is going to like it too." She also offered helpful perspective when looking for items saying collectors should look for "something that makes that piece more special than the one next to it."

Beginning with her own grandchildren, Casucci finds time to help young people who are interested in antiques. She believes it's important to "encourage each child that's in your life to appreciate old things." She added, "I think it is really important, especially in this technical age where everything is instantaneous." Casucci also helps mentor young people who are interested in antiques. For example, she and her husband have been helping a young man who is about 20 who has been picking since he was 12 to pursue his interest in antiques.

Casucci's next antiques and primitive goods show will take place at the Walker Homestead on Sept. 25. You can see the 1698 estate and you could even find that special piece that will be perfect for your home.

We have three upcoming auctions. We'll be auctioning a 1962 Corvette, two 1950s Corvette project cars, boat motors and other memorabilia. We will also be running a sports card & memorabilia auction as well as a model railroad and die-cast car auction. I'll be appraising items at the John B. Gough House in Boylston, Mass. on Saturday, Aug. 7 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Later this year, I'll be virtually appraising items on Nov. 13 for the Townsend Historical Society. My "Evaluating your Antiques" class will take place at Bay Path Evening School in Charlton on Wednesday, Nov. 10. ## Memories my father gave me

BY TOBY MOORE

As Gary Moore's son, I had a unique vantage point to get to know my father in a way that almost nobody else could. He was a fantastic father!

I observed how he treated his family, close friends, distant friends, business associates, and strangers. He treated everybody with respect.

As a boy, I sat in his office, playing with toys, listening to his phone calls, and watching how he conducted his meetings. He was filled with enthusiasm.

He was at almost all of my Karate tournaments, soccer games, and swim meets. When I failed, he brought me up. When I succeeded, it was a celebration. He was a source of constant encourage-

Every day, he said to me, "Toby, you can do anything you want in this world and be successful, as long as you don't hurt others in the process." I usually rolled my eyes, "I know, dad," sometimes taking for granted that I had a father who believed in me.

I watched as he crawled his way from the bottom to the top of one business and then did it again with another. I watched him succeed, and I watched him fail; I observed how he dealt with it all. I didn't always understand, but the memories remain, and upon reflection; I couldn't have asked for a better role model.

The phrase "practice what you preach," goes back thousands of years. The Roman playwright Plautus said, "Practice yourself what you preach." I can say with complete confidence my father practiced what he preached. Did he have his failings? We all do, but even in his failings, he was quick to get back on track.

How was he able to do this? Was it because he listened to Zig Ziglar, Tony Robbins, Jim Rohn, and other motivational speakers? Was it because of the hundreds of books he studied on human excellence? Was it his belief in what Jesus taught in the gospels?

Actions speak louder than words, and you can usually tell what somebody believes by their actions. My father's actions displayed precisely what he believed.

When I was a child, there was a mother and her son who rode their bikes by the office every day. There was a barber-shop next door, and one day the mother took her son for a haircut. When finished, they walked out to find the boy's bike was stolen. With tears in their eyes, the mother explained to my dad that she didn't have money to buy him a new bike. My father was struggling financially during those days, but still, he bought her son a new bike the very next day. He and his mother were overjoyed from this act of kindness.

My father had hundreds of employees throughout the years. Every once in a while, he'd catch one of his employees stealing. When caught, they were brought into the office for a meeting, and a couple of them cried and begged him for forgiveness. He forgave all of them and usually gave them a second chance. They became his very best and most trustworthy employees.

He performed in the Drum & Bugle Corps as a young man. As an older man, he partnered with a ministry in town and helped to teach dozens of middle school and high school kids how to play. One early morning he received a call from one of the kids who had nowhere else to turn. He was in jail and needed help. My father woke up, drove his car a couple of hours to the other side of Illinois, bailed him out, and brought him back home.

My father truly believed in all the principles he wrote about in this column. He believed in people. He believed in love, peace, kindness, generosity, compassion, mercy, second chances, and the ability for anyone to change. No matter how low somebody sank, he believed they could turn it around and become a shining light in the darkness.

Perhaps that's why his funeral had hundreds of people who came to give their condolences. He impacted the world around him in a positive way. He wanted the best for everyone. His actions will echo into eternity and confidently testify that he practiced what he preached.

Theodore J. Polenski, 95

AUBURN — Theodore J. Polenski, 95, longtime Auburn resident, passed away peacefully on the morning of Thursday, July 15, 2021 at St. Francis Rehabilitation & Nursing Center, Worcester.

Born in Worcester, raised and educated in Leicester, Theodore was one of eight children born to the late Joseph Polenski and Ladislava "Viola" (Mierzejewski) Polenski. He proudly served in the U.S. Navy during WWII, on the Destroyer USS Vogelgesang. He then met and married the love of his life, the late Anna M. (Adamonis) Polenski, with whom he shared 72 wonderful years of marriage before her passing in July of 2020. They settled in Auburn to raise their family, and loved their little town they called "home." Theodore worked at the former Thompson Wire Co. for most of his life as a Wire Drawer. When they closed, he worked in Millbury in Maintenance – he was proud that he was in charge of raising and lowering the flag each day at the Willows Mill.

Theodore was a faithful parishioner of St. Joseph's Church for many years, and was a member of the Knights of Columbus and Auburn Lodge of Elks #2118.

He was an avid bowler, USBC 140 pins over series, a skilled cards player, loved hunting, fishing, golfing, gardening, and cooking in his cast iron pans. Theodore loved Westerns and the classic music in Westerns. He embraced being Polish, with the music, the people, and the food. One thing is for sure: he always had a smile, a handshake, and a wink!

Theodore is survived by his children: Patricia Skerry, of Whitinsville; Theodore Polenski, of Auburn; Daniel Polenski, of Auburn; and Joseph Polenski, of Auburn; his grandchildren: Kimberly Harryman, of North Carolina; Victoria LaTour, of Phoenix, AZ; Adam Polenski, of Auburn; Gina Polenski, of Washington; Katie Polenski, of Southbridge; and Gabrielle Polenski, of Worcester; 11 great-grandchildren; his sister, Virginia Morin; and many nieces and nephews.

Along with his wife and his parents, Theodore was predeceased by his siblings: Edward Polenski, Roger Polenski, Jennie Thomas, Helen Caissie, Stacia Bruno, and John Polenski.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to Veterans, Inc., 69 Grove Street, Worcester, MA 01605 (www.veteransinc.org/).

A graveside service, with military honors, will be held privately for the Polenski family in Hillside Cemetery, Auburn. The Britton-Wallace Funeral Home is honored to be assisting with arrangements. ## Friday's Child

Bacari
Age 14

Hi! My name is Bacari and I can tell you about space and meteorites!

Bacari is a healthy and happy teen of African American descent. He is active and energetic and enjoys walking, playing basketball, and participating in other outdoor activities. Bacari warms up to people as he gets to know them and enjoys socializing with others. He enjoys art and crafts and expressing himself through narrative writing. Bacari also enjoys discussing space and meteorites. People who know him say that he has a great sense of humor.

Bacari does well in school, and although he is currently unsure of the type of career he would like to pursue, he enjoys animation and creating cartoons and comics.

Legally freed for adoption, Bacari is looking for a forever family that he hopes will be loving and structured, but not too strict. All family constellations will be considered, including those with older or younger children in the home. Bacari does have biological connections that an adoptive family would need to help him maintain. He also feels connected to his community and would love to have that fostered as well.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mare-inc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have a permanent place to call home.

Beautiful and tasty blueberries

Melinda Myers

Blueberries are one of the most nutritious foods with antioxidants that fight cancer, disease, and the effects of aging.

Blueberries are a summer favorite, great for snacking, baking, topping your oatmeal and so much more. This nutritious fruit also adds a bit of brain power to your diet and beauty to your landscape with spring blooms, fall color, and of course tasty and colorful fruit.

Blueberries are one of the most nutritional foods loaded with antioxidants that fight cancer, disease, and the effects of aging while helping preserve your eyesight. Boost the benefits by growing your own blueberries. The act of gardening helps strengthen our muscles, increase flexibility, fights stress and boosts our mood.

Do a bit of research to find the best blueberry for your garden and dining pleasure. Planning ahead prepares you for placing your order when you are ready to plant. Anxious gardeners can put their research to work immediately. Blueberry plants are still available from some nurseries for those who are ready to plant now.

Select the blueberry plants suited to your growing conditions. Northern highbush blueberries are productive and suited to moderate climates with at least two months of temperatures below 40 degrees Fahrenheit. Southern highbush blueberries only need 200-300 hours of 32-45 degrees Fahrenheit in winter to produce fruit. This makes them a good choice for those gardening in milder climates. Lowbush blueberries are low-growing varieties native to Northeastern United States. Half-high blueberries are a cross between low and high bush blueberries, tolerating -35 to -45 degrees Fahrenheit, making them a good option for colder climates. Rabbit-eye blueberries are large shrubs and suited to areas with long, hot summers and mild winters.

Newer compact varieties allow small space gardeners, apartment dwellers and those with less-than-ideal soil the opportunity to grow their own blueberries. These smaller plants are suitable for containers as well as the garden. In addition to their compact size and tasty fruit, several have attractive foliage, adding to their ornamental appeal. The Leaves of Pink Icing variety is a mix of pink, blue and deep green. Boxwood enthusiasts will enjoy the foliage and dark blue fruit of Blueberry Buckle. And for those who cannot get enough fruit, check out Perpetua that produces two crops a year.

GARDEN MOMENTS

Find a sunny, well-drained location where your plants will thrive, produce a bountiful harvest and you can enjoy their beauty. Although most blueberries are self-fertile (you only need one plant to produce fruit), you'll get better results when growing several in your landscape or containers. Consider including several varieties with different ripening dates to extend the harvest season.

Blueberries are particular about their growing conditions. They prefer moist, well-drained and acidic soils. Properly prepare the soil by adding organic matter like compost, aged manure, or peat to the planting bed. Or grow your blueberries in a container filled with quality potting mix. Water in-ground and container plantings often enough to keep the soil moist. Mulch the soil with shredded leaves, evergreen needles, or shredded bark to keep the roots cool and moist and add organic matter to the soil as the mulch breaks down.

And don't forget to protect your harvest from hungry birds. Cover plantings with netting or try scare tactics to keep the birds and other wildlife from devouring your harvest.

Once you harvest your first ripe blueberry, you will discover there is nothing better than the flavor and satisfaction of consuming something you grew yourself.

Melinda Myers has written more than 20 gardening books, including The Midwest Gardener's Handbook and Small Space Gardening. She hosts The Great Courses "How to Grow Anything" DVD series and the nationally-syndicated Melinda's Garden Moment program. Myers' Web site is www.MelindaMyers.com.

30 YEARS OF TRADITION GOING STRONG

On Saturday, July 24, Quinebaug Masonic Lodge and Doric Chapter of Southbridge held its 30th Annual Family Outing at Westville Dam Recreation area in Sturbridge. Members, family, and friends attended this tradition of gathering, comradery of fellow brethren between both highly respected organizations. The weather was perfect on this day, and it was good to see the children running around playing laughter by both young and old. Cornerstone Bank donation contributes to success of Worcester State’s Bridge to Excellence

WORCESTER — Cornerstone Bank, a community bank with 12 locations throughout Central Massachusetts, is proud to announce the success of a significant multi-year contribution to Worcester State University’s Bridge to Excellence: Summer STEM Retention Program. The $18,000 donation helped the program to support incoming science, technology, engineering and math majors, strengthening the school’s retention in these important fields and helping more students to complete their degree.

“The STEM fields are so important but also can be intimidating for many students in their first years of college,” said Cornerstone Bank CEO Todd

Tallman. “In 2018 when we had the opportunity to help sponsor this pilot program, we jumped at the chance to give students more of a fighting shot in these difficult STEM courses.”

The program included three main elements to help students succeed. The first involved allowing students to take their first-year seminar course over the summer to lighten their first semester course load. Second, students were offered extra support with math courses through exclusive tutoring services. And third, students participated in a service project to give back to the community that supported them. Over the multi-year project, Worcester State has supported 60 students and views the program as a great success.

“We enjoy helping people in our community succeed, especially young people,” continued Tallman. “To learn of the successes these students have achieved thanks to this program is inspiring. If our contribution was able to help even one student stick with the major they have dreamed of, we would deem it a success. But to see that dozens were helped was incredible.”
