

Local libraries introduce automatic renewal

BY KIMBERLY PALMUCCI
TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

REGION — CW MARS, the largest library network in Massachusetts, has recently announced that all libraries in its network will have automatic renewal, meaning patrons will no longer have to remember to log into their account to renew physical items they have checked out.

Now, not only can residents use their local library card to check out materials at any CW MARS public library across the state, but checked out items will be automatically renewed. “If an item has a renewal then it will just magically renew without any one’s intervention. Patrons no longer have to log into their library account, use the CW MARS app, or call the library to renew items,” said Rebecca Sasseville, Library Director at the Whitinsville Social Library. “We’ve already heard some great feedback from our patrons about how much they enjoy auto renewal. Not only is it a time saver for library users but also for library staff.”

If a checked out item can be renewed it will automatically be renewed on the due date. Every Douglas, Northbridge and Uxbridge library is a part of the CW MARS network, added Sasseville.

“With auto renewal patrons and staff are able to focus a little bit more on the reason why they use the library in the first place.”

An email notification will be sent on the due date alerting patrons of renewal status for checked out items. It will indicate if their items were successfully renewed or unable to be renewed. Patrons can also log into their account via the CW MARS Libraries app to view the status of all checked out items.

All 147 CW MARS member libraries are participating in auto renewal, according to a statement from the organization. This means that no matter where in CW MARS your materials were borrowed from, they will automatically renew on the due date if a renewal is available.

“We want to make borrowing materials as convenient and easy as possible for our patrons” said CW MARS Executive Director Jeanette Lundgren.

Network membership gives residents access to more than eight million physical items, including books, DVDs, audiobooks, and more. A shared library catalog and information about accessing resources can be found online at <http://catalog.cwmars.org>.

CW MARS was founded in 1984 to promote the sharing of resources between libraries in Massachusetts. It is the largest library network in Massachusetts and is made up of 147 member libraries with 174 branches throughout Central and Western Massachusetts.

Blackstone Heritage Corridor Photography Ambassadors to host gallery show

WHITINSVILLE — Volunteer photographers with the Blackstone Heritage Corridor Photography Ambassadors will present their first ever gallery show at the Museum of Work & Culture (42 S. Main St., Woonsocket, R.I.) throughout the month of September. A free, opening reception will be held on Thursday, Aug. 29 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. where the public can come and meet the photographers and discuss their work.

The Photography Ambassadors are a volunteer group with the Blackstone River Valley National Heritage Corridor Volunteers-In-Parks program. For this show, the group traveled to 19 different locations throughout the National Heritage Corridor, capturing images of the many historical sites and mill villages between Worcester and Providence, R.I. The gallery show is being led by BHC volunteer and photographer Carol Dandrade who reveals that there will be four photos from each of the 19 sites and a special “Photographer’s Choice” wall will feature about a dozen more.

“Our group of photography enthusiasts has thoroughly enjoyed exploring history through our lenses,” Dandrade shared. “Winding our way through barns, attics and basements looking for treasure to photograph is as fulfilling as capturing the historic main floors of the sites. We like knowing that these non-profit locations receive all of our images for their use at no charge.”

The 19 locations the BHC Photography Ambassadors selected to visit include Blackstone River State Park, Lincoln, R.I.; Blackstone Valley Historical Society, Lincoln, RI; Daniels Farmstead, Blackstone; Dorr Rebellion Museum, Chepachet, R.I.; E.N. Jenckes Store, Douglas; Hearthside House Museum, Lincoln, R.I.; Hopedale; Hunts Mills, E. Providence, R.I.; Moffett Mill and Hannaway Blacksmith Shop, Lincoln, R.I.; Museum of Work & Culture, Woonsocket, R.I.; Riverdale Mill, Northbridge; Salisbury Mansion, Worcester; Slater Mill, Pawtucket, R.I.; Slatersville (N. Smithfield, R.I.); Smith-Appleby House Museum, Smithfield, R.I.; Uxbridge Antique Fire Museum and John Farnum House, Uxbridge; Valentine Whitman House, Lincoln, R.I.; Whitin Lasell Manor, Whitinsville.

Dandrade has had several of her photos featured in BHC’s calendar over the years and started volunteering with BHC in January of 2017 to share her photography skills. She is a longtime member of the Stony Brook Camera Club of Franklin, MA, where many members decided to join her as Photography Ambassadors with BHC. Throughout the year, volunteers take photos at BHC’s events, including the annual GO! event in September, which is where many of the ambassadors were introduced to locations in the show for the first time.

Suzanne Buchanan, volunteer coordinator at BHC, helped facilitate some of the photo shoots by reaching out to the various venues to get permission and arrange a time when there were no visitors. After the photos are taken and edited, the volunteers share them with the location to use on their website and marketing materials.

“It’s incredible to open the digital photo albums after their visit and see these venues in a whole new light,” Buchanan remarked. “We are so excited to showcase their work and celebrate what makes the Blackstone River Valley National Heritage Corridor so special.”

All photos in the gallery show will be available for sale. The photos will be displayed in 11-by-14-inch mats, ready for framing. A portion of the proceeds will benefit BHC. Additional sizes are available by contacting the individual photographers.

The criteria for the WPI Dean’s List differs from most other universities as WPI does not compute a grade point average (GPA). Instead, WPI defines the Dean’s List by the amount of work completed at the A-level in courses and projects.

“WPI’s academic programs are rigorous and require a level of independence beyond what is required in traditional courses. WPI students go beyond the classroom to work on open-ended problems in and for communities around the world. The problems are important and the impact is real,” said dean of undergraduate studies Arthur C. Heinricher. “Some of this nation’s best and brightest students come to WPI to study engineering and science and business and the humanities. Those named to the Dean’s List have excelled in all of their work, and we are exceptionally proud of these outstanding students.”

About Worcester Polytechnic Institute

WPI, a global leader in project-based learning, is a distinctive, top-tier technological university founded in 1865 on the principle that students learn most effectively by applying the theory learned in the classroom to the practice of solving real-world problems. Recognized by the National Academy of Engineering with the 2016 Bernard M. Gordon Prize for Innovation in Engineering and Technology Education, WPI’s pioneering project-based curriculum engages undergraduates in solving important scientific, technological, and societal problems throughout their education and at more than 50 project centers around the world. WPI offers more than 50 bachelor’s, master’s, and doctoral degree programs across 14 academic departments in science, engineering, technology, business, the social sciences, and the humanities and arts. Its faculty and students pursue groundbreaking research to meet ongoing challenges in health and biotechnology; robotics and the internet of things; advanced materials and manufacturing; cyber, data, and security systems; learning science; and more. www.wpi.edu

DOUGLAS — The next meeting of the Douglas Library book group, Aug. 13, 6:30p.m., the Intrepid Readers will be discussing Stephen O'Connor's "Thomas Jefferson Dreams of Sally Hemings."

In hundreds of brief, pointillist chapters, Mr. O'Connor reimagines their decades-long relationship. The effect is prismatic and utterly arresting.

Chemical-free options for managing mosquitoes in your landscape

• • • • •
MYERS

It's time to get outside and enjoy summer BBQs, gardening, hikes and much more. Don't let mosquitoes keep you inside; Instead enlist these chemical-free strategies to manage these pests in your landscape.

Start by eliminating the mosquitoes' breeding grounds. Drain the water out of buckets, old tires and clogged gutters and downspouts that hold water needed for mosquitoes to reproduce.

Check kids' toys, tarps and pool covers that also retain water. Drain the water and store these items in the garage or turn them over to keep them from becoming a mosquito breeding ground. Even small containers hold enough water for hundreds to thousands of mosquitoes to breed.

Change the water in birdbaths at least once a week. Make it part of your routine maintenance; rinse birdbaths when watering containers. Or install a small pump to keep water moving to prevent mosquito breeding.

Use organic mosquito control like Mosquito Dunks and Mosquito Bits (SummitResponsibleSolutions.com) in birdbaths, rain barrels and water features. Mosquito Bits quickly knock down the mosquito larval population, while Mosquito Dunks provide 30 days of control. They both contain a naturally occurring soil bacterium Bacillus thuringiensis israelensis that kills mosquito larvae, are certified organic and safe for pets, fish, wildlife and children.

Use Mosquito Dunks to manage these pests in areas subject to periods of standing water. One dunk provides control of 100 square feet of water surface for 30 days. Slide a dunk over a stake secured in the problem area, preventing it from washing away in heavy rains. It remains in place and provides control when the area is flooded again.

Attract insect-eating birds to the landscape with a few birdhouses. You'll enjoy their beauty and benefit from their diet of insects, including many garden pests and mosquitoes.

Reduce the mosquitoes' daytime resting spaces by keeping your garden weeded. Removing weeds and managing neglected garden spaces will make your landscape less inviting to these pests.

Keep mosquitoes away when hosting a party, gardening or relaxing outdoors. Use a fan to create a gentle breeze that keeps the weak-flying mosquitoes away from you and your guests. Some gardeners even take a small fan into the garden while weeding.

Light a few citronella candles for a bit of ambience and mosquito control at your next evening party or event. Citronella oil and the scented candles do have some mosquito-repelling properties. Scatter lots of candles throughout your entertainment space. Position the candles within a few feet of your guests for some short-term relief from these pests.

These strategies and some personal protection will help you increase your summer enjoyment. Wear light colored, loose fitting clothing, covering as much of your skin as possible with long sleeves and pants.

For Deet-free personal repellent options, the Center for Disease Control and Prevention has also approved products with the active ingredient picaridin (found in Skin So Soft products), IR3535, and the synthetic oil of lemon and eucalyptus. Avoid products that contain both sunscreen and insect repellents as you need to apply the sunscreen more often than the repellent.

Using a combination of these mosquito-management strategies is sure to provide a summer filled with more enjoyable gatherings with family and friends.

Let’s not forget our elders

Does it seem that our elderly population in America has been forgotten? We all, of course, have elderly family members, and far and wide, most families do a great job of taking care of the elders in their families, but what about the way the rest of society views a stranger who is in their golden years? Do we brush them off because they have ‘lived their lives already?’ How can we change the way we approach and interact or even view our elderly population? We each strive every day to extend our lives, but what happens when we get ‘there?’

We’ve all heard horror stories of how the elderly are abused and neglected. One viewpoint is that this population is left behind because people don’t want to face their own mortality. One thing to keep in mind is that people are living longer than in previous time periods thanks to the progression of medicine.

One way to understand how to approach the aging population is to research how other cultures care for them. In America, many older people can feel the negative outcomes of ageism. According to reports, America is one country where elders are not always given the respect they deserve. It has been reported in the work place as well as in society in general. In recent years, however, more and more people are volunteering their time at senior centers, and those who work with the elderly report that those people are suffering less loneliness. In America, seniors are being celebrated through Senior Citizens Day and Older Americans Month.

Japan is one of the kindest countries to live in as an elder. Appreciating your elders is a huge part of family culture. One study showed that Japanese seniors live longer due to the fact that many generations are living in one home. In Japan, there are more people over the age of 65 than any other age group. A strong sense of community that includes a healthy diet and exercise has led to happiness and longevity.

In Scotland, the voices of seniors are valued and still heard. The Scots have made it a tradition to regard the elderly as valued members of society. Homes are also adapted so that the older population can live in them for longer.

Interesting is the fact that on the Greek island of Ikaria, spirituality is used to extend lives. It is said that the soil contains life extending magic. Folks from this island are said to live eight to 10 years longer than those from the United States. In the Greek culture, the idea is not to rush through life, but to savor every second.

Some tips in interacting with the elderly include not treating them like they are a child. These people are the wisest in our society; they have been where we are now, and have arrived at a destination we are all going to. There is nothing they can’t possibly ‘get.’ Many times, we fear that the elderly are stuck in the past with their beliefs but you would be surprised to know that this is simply not true. As time passes, just like practicing an instrument, we tend to get better at life. The elderly have more nuggets of wise to offer than any other population; what better way to learn a lesson than from someone who’s experienced it? Some wisdom can only come from age and that is a priceless treasure.

Look for signs of depression. If we fast forward our lives to our golden years, we will be experiencing ailments, and the constant loss of loved ones. The elderly quite possibly could be in a constant state of grieving. Watch for signs that they are losing interest in things they once were happy doing. Don’t be afraid to come right out and ask what you can do to make things better.

Think about it — as we get older, our minds, for the most part, are still in tact. Many members of the elder population are still sharp, even though their bodies are declining. Imagine how you would feel, mind still intact, yet people are brushing you off like you are invisible. This isn’t necessarily the case all the time, but it is the case often. When talking to the elderly, keep in mind that they are smarter than you; they have seen more, they have experienced more, and they want to share this with you. Try to picture them when they were younger if you are just meeting them, try to imagine what they did for work and how they viewed the elderly when they were where you are now. They want to be a part of the pulse in your community. If their minds are declining, they know it, and it frustrates them, keep talking to them anyway. If they are less mobile then go to them and volunteer your time. It is sad to think of someone alone and depressed as they age, however it can be a celebration of the life they lived. Celebrate with them. Any one of us can bring light and happiness to another human being, and it is so simple, a smile, some understanding and a listening ear is all it takes.

Never too old or young to find your passion

Last week I wrote about finding your passions in life and wow ... I received many passionate responses! I love hearing from you, so thank you for sharing your thoughts.

POSITIVELY SPEAKING

BY GARY W. MOORE

As I sorted through the many responses, there seemed to be a reoccurring theme. In some form or another, many people feel there is a window for finding something in life to be passionate about and if you are an adult, the window is closed.

First, let’s deal with the idea that anyone is too old. I authored my first book when I was fifty-four years old. I was told by many people that I’m not a trained author and I am too old to learn. It never occurred to me that they were right. I ignored the naysayers and began writing. Three years ago, I was told that becoming a columnist without a journalism degree was a bridge too far, and besides, the newspaper business is dying. Again, wrong on both accounts and today, this column will be read in thirty-four thriving publications. What is the moral to this story? There will always be more people telling you that you can’t do something than supporters telling you that you can. Ignore the naysayers and pursue your dreams.

You are never too old or too young!

As a young music teacher, I remember having a stellar student. From a very young age, this young trumpet player told her parents that she wanted to go to college to become a music teacher. The mother told me, “I keep telling her she’s too young to know what it is she wants to do, and besides, who can make a real living playing a horn?” In high school, the young lady dropped out of band and sold her trumpet. I asked her why and she said, “My mom said its time to put away my dreams and realize life isn’t about having fun. She wants me to be a nurse.” I asked her what she wanted to do, and she responded, “What I want isn’t important. Mom says I need to prepare for a real job.”

Where is it written that your passion and your vocation must be one and the same? I am not a professional drummer, yet I play almost every day. This very well intended mother extinguished the flame of her daughter’s passion and crushed her dreams. Mom did not understand that ...

“Pursuing excellence in any way, makes us better in every way.”

I am using music as an example, but it is applicable in any situation. When we are passionate about anything, it drives us to learn more, do more and be more than we would without passion. By allowing our passions to drive our pursuit of excellence, we are learning habits that will serve us in any endeavor. I wish this mom could have understood that by supporting and encouraging her daughter’s passionate pursuit of musical excellence, that same pursuit could become a habit that can drive her passionate pursuit of nursing. My experience tells me that if I am good at one thing, I am often good at several, often unrelated skills. The connection isn’t the skill, but the passionate pursuit.

It’s also true as we age.

You are never too old to learn a new skill or develop a new hobby. And you are also never too old to reinvent yourself into something new. Learning new things keeps our minds working and our imaginations alive. I have never been a fan of retirement and I have no plans to ever stop working, but that is me. I’ve always believed that if a rocking chair is your goal destination, you are wasting all you’ve experienced and learned in life. Why not get out of the chair and share your knowledge and experiences? Be passionate about what you have learned and equally passionate about sharing.

If you believe the window of opportunity has closed, reopen it!

If that window has closed, most of the time we closed it ourselves. Our belief systems may be believing the lie that says the time for opportunity has passed. Reopen the window ... and if you can’t get the window open, throw a chair through it!

Think about your passion, then say aloud ...

- I will not be detoured ...
- I will not be denied ...
- I will embrace my passion and ...
- I will live my dream!

July is National Blueberry Month

Blueberries are touted as an antioxidant rich snack, and in addition to its many health benefits, the tiny fruit tops of the list of “anti-aging” foods. But the delicious, sweet berry has been pleasing palates for many centuries. In fact, according to botanists, the oldest plant on earth - estimated to be more than 13,000 years old - is related to the blueberry plant.

Blueberries are grown in 35 states and our country produces over 90% of all of the blueberries in the world. In celebration of both the extraordinary taste and health benefits of blueberries, July has been proclaimed National Blueberry Month. Since 1999, the virtues of wild blueberries have been touted by the blueberry industry each July, while the delicious berries make their annual appearance at picnic tables across the country.

Blueberry History

Early explorers found wild blueberries growing in America, and famed expeditioners Lewis and Clark reported being served meat by Native Americans that had been rubbed with blueberries, then smoked and dried. The Indians also dried blueberries and ground them to a pulp to be mixed with cornmeal and honey to make a sweet pudding.

Here in the Northeast, Native American folklore includes a legend how the great spirit sent “star” fruit, named for the star shaped end of the blueberry, to feed children during a famine.

But for the American Indian, perhaps the most valuable use of the blueberry was its healing properties. Native Americans would steep a tea from the root of the blueberry plant to be used to calm and relieve the stress of women in labor. The juice of the blueberries was also used as a remedy to cure ailments that ranged from a stubborn cough to blood conditions.

Healing Fruit

The virtues of blueberries are many. One of nature’s most amazing and powerful antioxidants, blueberries offer a variety of health benefits, from to lowering cholesterol to building up urinary tract health, improving vision and much more. In fact, research conducted at the USDA center has found blueberries rank hands down number one in antioxidant activity! The blueberry’s secret weapon? It’s deep-blue pigment, which is a potent phytonutrient that acts as an antioxidant and anti-inflammatory. Read on for more reasons to help yourself to a handful of blueberries this season and beyond.

*Out of 40 different fruits, juices and vegetables, the blueberry comes in with the highest antioxidant level, according to the North American Blueberry Council. Just three and a half ounces of blueberries are equivalent to over 1700 International Units of vitamin E. Wild blueberries pack up to three times more berries per pound than cultivated, making them the optimum choice for

Estate plans can help you answer questions about the future

FINANCIAL FOCUS

DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

The word “estate” conjures images of great wealth, which may be one of the reasons so many people don’t develop estate plans – after all, they’re not rich, so why make the effort? In reality, though, if you have a family, you can probably benefit from estate planning, whatever your asset level. And you may well find that a comprehensive estate plan can help you answer some questions you may find unsettling – or even worrisome.

Here are a few of these questions:

What will happen to my children? With luck, you (and your co-parent, if you have one) will be alive and well at least until your children reach the age of majority (either 18 or 21, depending on where you live). Nonetheless, you don’t want to take any chances, so, as part of your estate plans, you may want to name a guardian to take care of your children if you are not around. You also might want to name a conservator – sometimes called a “guardian of the estate” – to manage any assets your minor children might inherit.

Will there be a fight over my assets? Without a solid estate plan in place, your assets could be subject to the time-consuming, expensive – and very public – probate process. During probate, your relatives and creditors can gain access to your records, and possibly even challenge your will. But with proper planning, you can maintain your privacy. As one possible element of an estate plan, a living trust allows your property to avoid probate and pass quickly to the beneficiaries you’ve named.

Who will oversee my finances and my living situation if I become incapacitated? You can build various forms of protection into your estate planning, such as a durable power of attorney, which allows you to designate someone to manage your financial affairs if you become physically or mentally incapacitated. You could also create a medical power of attorney, which allows someone to handle health care decisions on your behalf if you become unable to do so yourself.

Will I shortchange my family if I leave significant assets to charities? Unless you have unlimited resources, you’ll have to make some choices about charitable gifts and money for your family. But as part of your estate plans, you do have some appealing options. For example, you could establish a charitable lead trust, which provides financial support to your chosen charities for a period of time, with the remaining assets eventually going to your family members. A charitable remainder trust, by contrast, can provide a stream of income for your family members for the term of the trust, before the remaining assets are transferred to one or more charitable organizations.

As you can see, careful estate planning can help you answer many of the questions that may be worrying you. Be aware, though, that certain aspects of estate planning, especially those related to living trusts and charitable trusts, can be complex, so you should consult your estate-planning attorney or qualified tax advisor about your situation. But once you’ve got your plans in place, you should be able to face the future with greater clarity and confidence.

A Viking chess piece recently sold at a London auction house,

It's been two months since my last update on antique, auction, and collectibles news. Much has transpired since then, beginning with a 900-year-old find.

according to the Washington Post. Dozens of chess pieces were originally found on the Isle of Lewis in 1831. There were enough for four chess sets, but five of the pieces were missing. The figures, in the shape of Norse warriors, were intricately carved from walrus ivory during the 12th century. An antiques dealer in Scotland purchased a more recently found piece, a 3 ½ inch figure (which would be a rook in a modern chess set) in 1964. It was passed down to his family before it was determined to be a "Lewis chessman." The family auctioned it and it brought 735,000 pounds ($927,000) this month.

Pokemon cards are something we don't offer in our auction, but some rare cards can bring 5 figure sums. A Business Insider article states that a seller is offering a $1,000 reward for a card that never reached the buyer. The "Trainer No. 3" card is "an exclusive card given to the third-place finalist of a Japanese competition called Super Secret Battle in 1999." It is one of the rarest cards in existence and sold for $60,000 in an online auction. The card was insured for the maximum allowable value of $50,000 by the U.S. Postal Service. The card was sent to the Dubai-based courier Aramex, who was to deliver it to the buyer. Aramex signed for a package, but they said it was for a bulk package and not the card. Because Aramex signed for the package, the seller is unable to collect the insurance. The seller is unsure if the package was lost or if an employee stole the package with the card. Because of its rarity, the card won't be able to be sold publicly without drawing attention. The owner is hoping the $1,000 reward will result in its return.

An auction of Burt Reynold's estate generated some strong results according to KTLA TV. A "Smokey and the Bandit" original Reynolds signed script sold for $37,500. KTLA reported that "Reynolds wanted a Trans concentrated antioxidant capacity.

*According to the New England Journal of Medicine, the Rutgers Blueberry Cranberry Research Center in Chatsworth, N.J. found that blueberries help prevent infections in the urinary tract in much the same way that cranberries do. They may also help to prevent macular degeneration according to Ronald L. Prior, Ph.D., director of the USDA.

* The antioxidant and anti-inflammatory effects of blueish purple foods like wild blueberries may have the potential to help prevent Alzheimer's disease, cancer and heart disease, according to Susan Davis, MS, RD, Nutrition Advisor to the Wild Blueberry Association of North America.

*Studies show blueberries (and grapes) contain properties which can increase night vision. In fact, a cup full of blueberries has been known to improve dark adaptation within 30 minutes of consumption. According to Ronald L. Prior, Ph.D., director of the USDA, blueberries may also help to prevent macular degeneration, which is the leading cause of vision loss in Americans 60 years of age and older.

* Research suggests that blueberries may reduce the build-up of the bad cholesterol that contributes to heart disease. In fact, a compound discovered in blueberries seems to act as effectively as commercial drugs used to reduce levels of "bad" cholesterol in rodents.

* Laboratory tests reveal the anthocyanins in blueberries could act to boost brainpower and halt the signs of aging.. When fed blueberry extract for nine weeks, elderly rats outperformed a control group at such tasks as navigating mazes and balancing on rotating logs. And when aging rats ate a blueberry-enriched diet for four months, they performed as well in memory tests as younger rats, a finding that has important implications for humans.

* In Canadian studies, blueberries reduced stroke damage in lab animals. Researchers credited blueberries' anti-inflammatory and anti-clotting activity.

Friday's Child

Jermani ~ Age 5

Hi! My name is Jermani and I like to explore the outdoors!

Jermani is a friendly, outgoing five-year-old boy of African American/Hispanic descent. He has a great sense of humor and enjoys showing affection towards those he cares about. Jermani is a very energetic child who likes to be active in the outdoors. His other interests include books, art, building and music. Jermani is developmentally on target and he enjoys school. He is well liked by his teachers and his peers.

The ideal family for Jermani is one that is active and patient. He can be placed in a one or two-parent family as the youngest or only child in the home. Jermani is legally free for adoption and his social worker is currently exploring in-state and local families given his need for a lengthier transition.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org.

The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

Rabbits on the rebound

The cottontail rabbits are making a huge comeback locally, invading backyard gardens, etc., but they are still a pleasure to see after years of almost becoming extinct locally. The rabbits seem to be adapting to the local covers, despite the loss of there prime habitat. My wife's beagle Molly who I have adopted after her passing, has become a joy to have around the house, and has become tolerant of my yellow lab Twig, after I moved her into the house. Twig was mostly an outside dog and was used for hunting, but was brought into the house to keep Molly and this writer company.

Taking the two dogs for a walk at the Uxbridge Rod & Gun Club daily, I have noticed Molly become more involved with sniffing the ground for scent, and I had hoped she would bump into a rabbit soon. I just wanted to hear her driving a rabbit. I did not need to wait long to have my wish realized, but it did not happen at the club. A few weeks ago, she managed to dig out under the back gate at the house and she found a cottontail rabbit. The hunt was on, and the sound of her baying as she trailed the rabbit was music to my ears. My only concern was the traffic on Route 16. As she started to circle back to the house, I managed to step in front of her and place her on a leash.

Trying to keep her in the back yard is a big problem now, with numerous escape holes being dug out daily. Luckily, the rabbits do not run far, and they quickly find there hole some were in the backyard. It's a big difference from running beagles on snowshoe hare many years ago, but it is still a joy to hear them track the elusive rabbit. The rabbits seem to enjoy the hunt also. This week's second picture shows Molly after a long day, resting on her blanket.

New turkey regulations for 2020 have been passed and updated as of this past week. The daily spring turkey season allows a hunter to harvest two tom birds in one day, and a total of three toms may be harvested in the spring. A tom or hen may be harvested in the fall if a hunter has not filled his three tags. Also the fall turkey season has been expanded to coincide with the fall archery deer season. For a complete list of all changes in the Mass. Wild Turkey season for 2020 go to the Mass Wildlife Web site.

The instant award system for deer permits will start on Aug. 1. It is the time for licensed deer hunters to apply online to see if they were successful in winning a doe permit for the zone of there choice. Surplus deer permits will be sold on line starting in September. The popular zones in the valley area include Zone 8, which has 2,600 permits available, while Zone 9 has 5,500. Statewide, 47,300 doe permits are available this year . Zone 10 has 12,000 permits available. The Quabbin and Wachusett Res. deer hunting permits are available now through Aug. 31. A controlled hunt at Camp Edwards will also be held this year. The youth deer hunt will be held on Sept. 28.

Striper fishing continues to provide some lunker fish in both Mass. & Rhode Island. Last week, Jim Lavallee and his daughter went fishing on the Cape, and his daughter Kayla caught the first striper of her life on a live mackerel. This week's picture shows Kayla with her striper which although a bit short, provided her with a day on the water with her dad with her first striper, that will never be forgotten. She is now hooked on fishing! The fish was released after a couple of photos.

With the summer providing enjoyment in the outdoors for many family's for the next two months, they should always be aware of some of the dangers that can ruin a good day in the sun. Bees are finding places to make there nests, and yellow jackets are on the top of the list. A couple of weeks ago, a local sportsmen was working in his back yard and disturbed a nest of yellow jackets that attacked him sending him to the hospital. With more than 20 bee stings he went into shock and was transported to the emergency ward.

It was none to soon as his breathing was deteriorating and his blood pressure had dropped to 80 over 50? Thankfully, he has had a complete recovery and is out enjoying life. It is just a reminder how fast things can happen. Carrying first aid with you at all times can be a life saver. Any insect bites can be dangerous, including spiders.

Late-game heroics help Northbridge top East Side, advance to playoffs

Northbridge pitcher Zach Hayes chases a grounder in the infield during a game against Shrewsbury.

BY KEN POWERS
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

Editor's Note: The accompanying photos are from Northbridge Post 343's American Legion game versus Shrewsbury Post 397 this past Wednesday, July 10.

NORTHBRIDGE — After managing just four hits through the first six innings of its game with the East Side American Legion baseball team, Northbridge Post 343 strung together five straight hits in its last at-bat, scoring a pair of runs and earning a come-from-behind 5-4 win over Post 201 on Tuesday, July 9 at Northbridge Middle School.

"We got it done. We fought back. We needed that. It's good that we can have a comeback like that because we've struggled all year hitting the ball. We haven't had a big inning all year, so it was good to see," said Northbridge manager John Demagian, who added that the team's collective hitting has been a point of emphasis this season. "We've been working on our hitting mechanics every day, just trying to get better. And we're getting better at it. We're in the cage every day. Hopefully an inning like we had in the seventh will carry over."

Post 343, which improved to 6-10 with the win and qualified for the 10-team Zone 4 playoffs, trailed, 4-3, when it came to bat in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Dave Meech (double, triple) got the comeback started with a leadoff double to center field. He moved to third on a single to right field by Derek Angell (single, RBI) and scored to tie the game, 4-4, on a single by Zack Roberts (single, triple, RBI).

"The key hit in the inning was Meech's double," Demagian said. "That got us going. That got the ball rolling. You make an out there and they get some confidence and we're struggling. Instead, we got a leadoff double and everyone in the lineup believes we're going to win this thing and [East Side] starts doubting themselves. Zack had the big hit of the inning because that tied the game. We knew at that point we were going to either win the game or go on to the eighth inning."

East Side (3-16) changed pitchers to start the seventh. Jose Curet, a hard thrower, relieved Artie Papandrea, whose out pitch was a painfully slow curveball that had a big break to it.

"He was living low and away and he threw a heavy ball," Meech said of Papandrea. "[Curet] was just the opposite; he was a fastball-heavy pitcher. We were waiting the whole game to see some faster pitches, so the speed [Curet] threw worked in our favor. Going from curveball, curveball, and curveball to now seeing a fastball, that definitely helped us.

The double I hit was on a low and away fastball. I just saw it and hit it."

The next batter for Northbridge — after Roberts' RBI single — was Jon "Buck" Cray, who singled to left. Angell moved to third on Cray's hit and Roberts scooted over to second. Jake Stuczynski was up next and he sent the Northbridge fan contingent home happy, lacing an RBI single to center field that scored Angell with the winning run.

"All I wanted to do was put the ball in play, get it past the infield," Stuczynski said. "Even if I popped out, there were less than two outs so [Angell] was going to tag and score anyway. So, my objective was just to make contact [and not strike out]."

Stuczynski said he didn't feel a lot of pressure being at the plate with the game on the line.

"I've been swinging the bat pretty well lately; the last few games I've been feeling it, so I wasn't that nervous. I felt like I could at least get the ball into the outfield," said Stuczynski, who thinks the win could key a late-season push for Post 343. "It definitely felt good to get this win. I was really happy that we didn't give up. We just kept our heads in it and kept playing. To a man we knew we were going to do whatever we had to do to come out of here with a win."

Tommy George picked up the win on the bump for Northbridge with a complete-game seven-hitter. He allowed just three earned runs and struck out one and walked one.

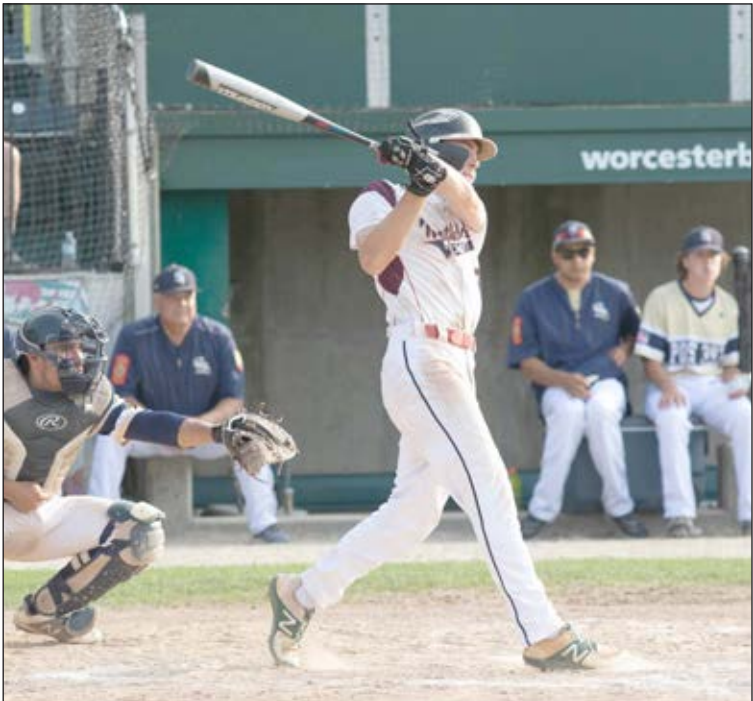

Post 343 jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning.

Meech led off with a triple to center and then scored to make it 1-0 when Angell followed with a sacrifice fly. Roberts was up next and he tripled to the gap in right-center field. Cray then walked — the first of three free passes he was issued in the game. During Stuczynski's at-bat Cray stole second. On the play Roberts raced home with Post 343's second run.

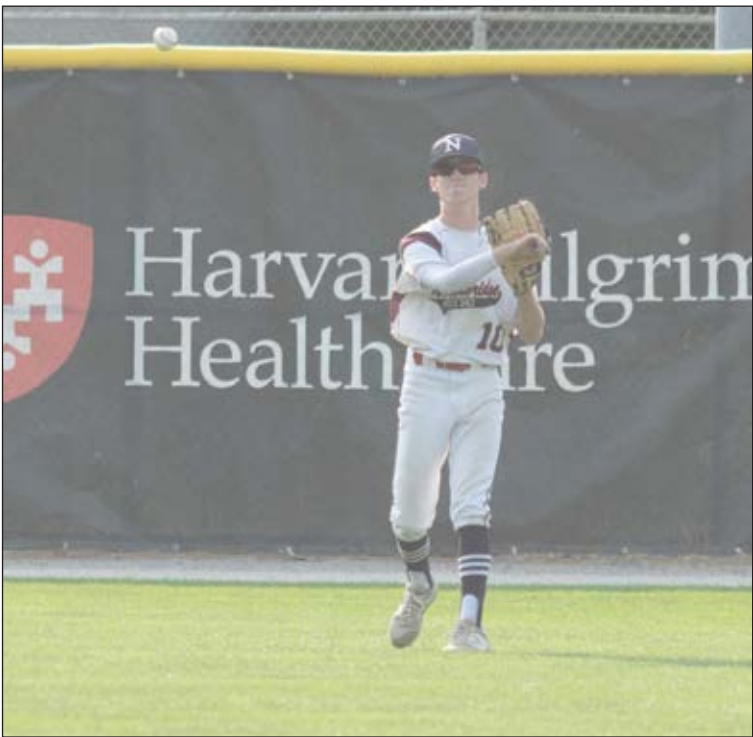

After East Side scored in the third inning to cut its deficit to 2-1, Northbridge went ahead 3-1 in the bottom of the fourth. Caleb Visbeek led off with a walk, stole second and then scored on an RBI single to left-center field off the bat of Connor Gniadek.

Post 201 tied the game, 3-3, with a pair of runs in the fifth and then took a 4-3 lead with a run in the top of the seventh. East Side still had to play the bottom of the seventh, however, and that's when Post 343 made its winning move.

Northbridge finished its season with a record of 9-13 and ended up with the No. 8 seed, where they hosted No. 9 Main South Post 341 (8-14) in a first round play-in game (after press time on Tuesday, July 16).

After fielding a grounder in the outfield, Northbridge's Caleb Visbeek returns the ball to the infield.

FOOD

Celebrate summer with a picnic

This year the summer solstice, which marks the official start of summer, falls on June 21. During this time of year, schedules become lax and meals often occur on-the-fly — and usually outdoors.

When firing up the grill or packing picnic essentials, home chefs should consider which dishes they'll serve alongside the main course. Of course, no summertime meal would be complete without a tasty potato salad in the mix. This recipe for "Potato Salad with Bacon and Parsley" from Allie Lewis Clapp, Lygeia Grace and Candy Gianetti's "Real Simple: Easy, Delicious Home Cooking" (Time Home Entertainment) offers a tasty take on this classic dish.

POTATO SALAD WITH BACON AND PARSLEY

112 pounds new potatoes, about 15
Kosher salt and black pepper

4 slices bacon
3 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
2 teaspoons Dijon mustard
1 cup fresh, flat-leaf parsley, roughly chopped

Place the potatoes in a pot with 1 teaspoon salt and enough water to cover and simmer until tender, 15 to 18 minutes. Drain and run under cold water to cool. Cut into quarters.

Meanwhile, cook the bacon in a medium skillet over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until crisp, 6 to 8 minutes. Transfer to a paper towel-lined plate. Let cool, then crumble.

In a large bowl, whisk together the oil, vinegar, mustard, 3/4 teaspoon salt, and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Add the potatoes, bacon and parsley and toss to combine.

Tip: The potatoes can be cooked and tossed with the dressing and parsley up to 1 day in advance; refrigerate, covered. Bring to room temperature and add the bacon just before serving.

A simple salad is a summertime staple

When the warm weather beckons, people are apt to spend more time enjoying the great outdoors. Many people also are less likely to prepare heavy meals when the weather warms up. Rich, filling foods can make people feel sluggish, especially on hot days and nights. That's why salads and summer are such a perfect match.

Salads can be made with whichever ingredients home chefs prefer or have on hand. What better way to maximize the summer season than by incorporating summer berries into the salad mix? In this recipe for "Blueberry Spinach Salad with Grilled Chicken" from "Cooking Light: Fresh Food Superfast" (Oxmoor House) from the Editors of Cooking Light, iron, folate, vitamins, and rich antioxidants combine to create a light, tasty meal that's perfect for summer evenings.

BLUEBERRY SPINACH SALAD WITH GRILLED CHICKEN MAKES 4 SERVINGS

3 6-ounce skinless, boneless chicken breast halves
Cooking spray
1 6-ounce package fresh baby spinach
1 cup crumbled goat cheese
1 cup blueberries, optional

Blueberry-Thyme Dressing (see below)

Prepare Blueberry Thyme Dressing. Place chicken breasts in a medium bowl. Add 1/3 cup dressing, toss to coat.

Heat a nonstick grill pan over medium-high heat. Coat pan with cooking spray. Add chicken mixture to pan; cook 5 minutes on each side, or until desired degree of doneness. Let chicken stand 3 minutes before cutting crosswise into 1/2-inch slices. Cover and keep warm.

While chicken cooks, place 1 1/2 cups spinach on each of four plates. Top salads evenly with chicken slices; sprinkle evenly with goat cheese and, if desired, blueberries. Drizzle evenly with remaining dressing.

Blueberry-Thyme Dressing

Makes 5 servings
1 cup blueberries
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
2 tablespoons honey
2 teaspoons chopped fresh thyme
1/2 teaspoon salt

Place all ingredient in a blender; process for 30 seconds or until smooth.

Fresh veggies add spark to salad dishes

Salads are a dietary staple across the globe. Salads are traditionally served chilled or at room temperature, and many are enhanced by oil, vinegar or another dressing. Many people are quick to think of certain varieties of lettuce as the prime base for salads. However, just about any fruit or vegetable can serve as a foundation for a tasty salad.

Zucchini and tomato provide excellent nutrition and can be hydrating, which can come in handy once the weather starts to warm. These versatile ingredients can be combined to form a robust salad to accompany any meal or one that can be enjoyed on its own. Such is the case with this recipe for “Raw Zucchini Salad” from “The Mediterranean Diet Cookbook” (Rockridge Press) by the editors of the Rockridge Press. Refreshing and filling, this salad may quickly become a staple

RAW ZUCCHINI SALAD
(SERVES 2)

1 medium zucchini, shredded or sliced paper thin
6 cherry tomatoes, halved
3 tablespoons olive oil
Juice of 1 lemon
Sea salt and freshly ground pepper, to taste
3 to 4 basil leaves, thinly sliced
2 tablespoons freshly grated low-fat Parmesan cheese

Layer the zucchini slices on two plates in even layers. Top with the tomatoes. Drizzle with the olive oil and lemon juice. Season to taste.

Top with the basil and sprinkle with cheese before serving.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
