Lisa Meunier honored with Service Above Self Award

STURBRIDGE — Sturbridge Rotary Club President David Zonia presented Lisa Meunier. Lead Nurse for the Union 61 School District, with the Sturbridge Rotary "Service Above Self Award"

Event planned to raise funds for bandicapped rescue dogs

STURBRIDGE – Residents are invited to join Our Angel Foundation at an upcoming event to raise awareness and funds for handicapped rescue dogs.

The event will take place on Saturday, Sept. 25, at the Westville Dam Recreation Center (125 Wallace Rd. in Sturbridge). From 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., residents are welcome to stop by and show their support for an urgent cause.

"My daughter [Noelle] and I started this foundation to honor the memory of our first wheelie dog, Angel, who was from Egypt," said co-founder Sue Haslam. "She had been injured, and couldn't walk and was dying in a shelter there. Through a rescue in New York, we were able to foster and then adopt her. Sadly, she passed from a brief unrelated illness two years

In Angel's memory, Sue Haslam and her daughter established the nonprofit organization two years ago and have already been able to help several dogs. At the Sept. 25 event, you and your family have an opportunity to join the mission to help animals in need.

The event will include a cookout, photo scavenger hunt on the trail, craft project, lawn games, and a silent auction. It will also feature volunteers from Eastern Insurance, Eastern Bank, and Hanover Insurance.

Our four-legged friends are also invited to join the event. Social distancing and other safety measures will be in place.

"Because it's outdoors, we plan on maintaining safe distances, and folks can bring their dogs and their kids, or just themselves, Haslam added. "We are so excited about this fundraiser. We look forward to sharing the day with pet owners and families, and raising awareness about the joys of having a special

While pets with special needs are often overlooked in shelters, Haslam and her daughter are helping to show the special bonds they share with owners when given an opportunity for a "fur"-ever home.

Friends of the Sturbridge-Fiskdale Seniors, Inc. kicks off new season

STURBRIDGE/FISKDALE — The Friends of household items from two local estates, including the Sturbridge-Fiskdale Seniors, Inc. group has announced the start of its new member year on Sept. 1, with details about a number of upcoming events, according to Kenneth Benson, newly appointed president of the Friend's board of direc-

From Thursday, Sept. 9 through Saturday, Sept. 11, the Friends will conduct an antique sale under tent on the front lawn of the Sturbridge Senior Center at 480 Main St., Fiskdale. Sale hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday. The sale, scheduled to coincide with the September Brimfield Flea Market, will feature more than 60 antiques and a Hoosier cabinet, a china cupboard, a pair of Hitchcock chairs and other antique chairs and rockers, two small Nantucket baskets, a small four-poster bed, a drop-leaf table, and many other small and interesting items.

On Sunday, Sept. 12, the Friends and the Sturbridge Council on Aging (COA) will host an information table at the Sturbridge Farmer's Market on the Town Common from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. to familiarize local residents with the group and to enroll new members.

'We are eager to get our message out there to the general public," said Benson, "and to make every-

Southbridge seniors celebrate at Sheriff's Senior Picnic

Sheriff's Annual Senior Picnic held on Saturday, Aug. 21 at SAC Park in Shrewsbury. The Sheriff's picnic has become a highly anticipated and beloved annual event for the county's senior community and drew another record crowd. "As Sheriff, hosting the senior picnic is one of the great days of the year. Unable to do it last year due to Covid, we were determined to put on a safe picnic that would bring everyone together to celebrate. We were able to pull off a first of its kind drive-through picnic. People had such a wonderful time. I am so grateful to our volunteers and all the seniors who came out and made the day so

SHREWSBURY — Worcester County Sheriff Lew Evangelidis had the distinct pleasure of hosting more than 1,000 senior citizens in 600 vehicles from throughout Worcester County for the special," said Evangelidis.

The drive through picnic was sponsored by the Worcester County Reserve Deputy Sheriff's Association including donations by many local businesses and featured a BBQ box lunch, raffle prizes, complimentary gift bags, music and entertainment. More than 250 volunteers, including over 100 members of the Nichols College football team, were also on hand to assist with the high turnout.

'We couldn't have been more pleased with how the day went and we are thrilled that it has become such a beloved annual tradition. We fulfilled our goal of getting seniors out and about in a safe way and it's fantastic to see such a great turnout with everyone having such a great time," said Evangelidis.

P.A.L. of the Week

Sponsored by Cormier Jewelers

Name: Archie Breed: DSH Sex: Male Age: Kitten

Archie came to the shelter as a stray from a local town. He was found sitting in the middle of the street and was rescued by a member of the highway department. Archie is a sweet, playful and cute little guy.

He LOVES attention and he loves to play with the other cats at the shelter. Besides playing; his other favorite activity is eating. We would love to find Archie a home with another kitten.

His playful antics bring a smile to your face.

Southbridge Rotary honors youth award recipients

SOUTHBRIDGE — The Southbridge Rotary Club had the pleasure of hosting the 2020 and 2021 Rotary Youth Leadership Award (RYLA) recipients at their recent club lunch meeting at the Southbridge Hotel and Conference Center.

Each year, the Club selects students from Southbridge Middle/High School and Bay Path Regional Vocational Technical High School who are in the 10th grade to receive this opportunity. Due to Covid-19, the 2020 conference was postponed, and all awardees were offered the chance to attend in 2021. Additional 2021 awardees were selected to attend this year, as well. RYLA is a youth leadership conference held in June.

The Southbridge Rotary had four attendees as part of 200 students from 50 clubs in Rotary District 7910 who attended a virtual three-day event. Geared primarily on leadership training, the sophomore and junior students learned conflict management, problem solving, important communication skills with breakout sessions and presentations. The students shared their experiences on everything they learned, the challenges of the programs, the friends they made an expressed interest in being a program facilitator has a Web page for "coastal citizen science" seeking people to do a variety of things "advanc[e] scientific knowledge about the Massachusetts coast."

"Community-

based data collection helps fill gaps left by government, private, and nonprofit groups with limited funds to research, explore, and protect vast natural systems," the mass.gov page states. In Hubacz's case, such assistance would fill gaps in understanding the effects and outbreaks of such things as beech leaf disease, which she said is new in this area but "we're seeing it all over the place." The illness afflicts all kinds of beeches: it's most noticeable symptom is dark bands on the leaves that later become distorted.

She said it's caused by a nematode, and was first observed two or three years ago. DCR has "no idea how it's being spread," but suspects birds.

A similar relative newcomer is the emerald ash borer, but that has become so common it's "no longer a priority for the DCR," Hubacz said. She showed a map which indicated the insect's first pocket was in the Berkshires in 2012, but "we're iust considering it everywhere" today. It's too new in our area for the trees to have developed a resistance, but she noted foresters are seeing resistant trees in Michigan. agency uses three kinds of parasitic wasp as biocontrol, with five test sites in progress. By contrast, the gypsy moth-sometimes now termed "LDD" after the abbreviation of its Latin name – has been well-known for decades, but still strikes in cycles. This year, "almost all gypsy moth damage is in the Berkshires," where it's causing "lots and lots defoliation," of Hubacz said. Trees thus weakened tend to fall prey to various kinds of beetles and other attackers, the moth's annual range is typically determined by weather.

also affects the wooly adelgid, a tiny insect that's been particularly harmful to hemlocks. Hubacz said they saw a "heavy dieoff" in the winter of 2017-8, but last winter did not get "enough of a temperature drop to see these guys drop in population. Ironically, she noted, these insects are almost all asexual female clones because our area doesn't have the spruce species they normally breed in. A few of the species' winged males have been found in Massachusetts. though. One troublesome insect DCR is "making good progress" against is the asian longhorned beetle. That has required cutting down a large number of trees, especially in the Worcester area, which was hard hit. Last year DCR found one infested tree on an Auburn golf course, but it did not seem to spread to others nearby. This year, they found one in Worcester, but the damage "looks older." The agency set many ALB traps in the Worcester area, "but we haven't found an ALB in a trap since 2015," she said.

DCR is tracking several tree diseases, particularly white pine needlecast disease and red pine scale, both of which have become more common due to climate change. The agency is also watching a few "possible future threats" that are not yet in our area, but have been reportedly relatively nearby. One is the spotted lanternfly, a southern insect that feeds on tree of heaven (itself an invasive), but also several kinds of fruit trees or vines. According to a map Hubacz showed, the closinfestation was in southwestern Connecticut as of August 2020, although individual insects have been spotted in Massachusetts. Part of the problem here is that the insect "will lay eggs anywhere" on trees, on rocks - and its egg masses can be mistaken for lichens in early stages of development. Similarly, DCR is concerned about the possible arrival of oak wilt infection, a systemic fungal disease that can spread both by a beetle attracted to the spores and by root contact. It's now in New York, and she said, "If it's found in Massachusetts, it's going to be a real pain in the butt."

Despite all these threats, she noted, "We'll always have trees, even if they're maybe not the ones we really want.'

Southbridge residents to participate in Boston Marathon® Jimmy Fund Walk

SOUTHBRIDGE — Two residents from Southbridge will choose their own route on October 3 for the Boston Marathon® Jimmy Fund Walk: Your Way presented by Hyundai. Participants are encouraged to "Walk Your Way" from wherever they are most comfortable whether that be from their neighborhood, favorite trail, or from a treadmill in their own home.

Aida Arroyo and Yermy Arroyo, along with thousands of other walkers, will participate in virtual programming during the Walk that aims to recreate the most inspiring elements of Walk day. While the event will not physically bring walkers together along the famed Boston Marathon® course, it will unite the community to raise funds to support all forms of adult and pediatric care and cancer research at the nation's premier cancer center, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. The event has raised more than $150 million for Dana-Farber Cancer Institute in its more than 30 year history.

"While we can't see everyone in person this year, we are excited for the virtual programing which will give participants the opportunity to support breakthroughs in cancer care and research at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute," said Zack Blackburn, Director of the Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk. "Together, from a safe distance, we will take critical strides in the journey to defy cancer."

This year's event will have a lower fundraising requirement, $100 for adults and $25 for those under 18, with a $5 registration fee. All registered walkers will receive a bib and medal and the first 5,000 to register will receive a Jimmy Fund Walk T-shirt. Anyone interested in additional information can reference the Jimmy Fund Walk: Your Way frequently asked questions or can send an email to JimmyFundWalk@ DFCI.Harvard.edu. Funds raised from the Jimmy Fund Walk support all forms of adult and pediatric patient care and cancer research at the nation's premier cancer center, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. The Boston Athletic Association has supported the Jimmy Fund Walk since 1989, and Hyundai has been the presenting sponsor since 2002. To register to walk (#JimmyFundWalk) or to support a walker visit www. JimmyFundWalk.org or call (866) 531-9255. All Jimmy Fund Walk participants are encouraged to utilize the Charity Miles App to help with training and fundraising, engage with Dana-Farber patient stories and podcasts, and much more!

WORCESTER — Cornerstone Bank, a community bank with 12 locations throughout Central Massachusetts, has been named as an honoree in the Boston Business Journal's 2021 Corporate Citizenship Awards, a recognition of the region's top corporate charitable contributors. The Business Journal annually publishes this list to showcase companies that promote and prioritize giving back to their commu-

"We are honored to have been recognized for our charitable contributions throughout 2020," said Cornerstone Bank CEO Todd Tallman. "Our giving efforts last year included nearly $400,000 in donations to local organizations. This included funds to purchase PPE for Harrington HealthCare System, donations to three local United Way chapters, the Worcester County Food Bank and the Worcester Community Action Council, 16 scholarships to graduating seniors and many more."

This year, only 98 companies qualified for the distinction by reporting at least $100,000 in contributions to Massachusetts-based charities last year. The honorees this year include companies from such industry sectors as financial and professional services, health care, technology, retail and professional sports.

"During a year filled with unprecedented events and change, it's incredible to think that so many companies, as represented by those on the Boston Business Journal's Corporate Charitable Contributors list, still gave so generously to charities in Massachusetts," said Boston Business Journal Market President and Publisher Carolyn Jones. "These companies give back at least $100,000 to the local community, and now we are in a time when giving back and helping one another is more important than ever. The philanthropic companies prioritize the welfare of our communities, and we are excited to be able to honor them."

Cornerstone Bank and other honorees will be celebrated at the Boston Business Journal's 16th Annual Corporate Citizenship Awards on Sept. 9, a commemoration of honorees that will be virtual to ensure everyone's health and safety.

"With the hardships many faced in 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic, it was more important than ever for us to continue to find ways to give back," continued Tallman. "Despite restrictions on gatherings, in-person events and other traditional opportunities for volunteering, we were still able to help better our own backyard, a commitment we will continue to pursue in 2021 and in the future."

State officials reverse course on masking in schools

BY KEVIN FLANDERS

REGION – Less than a month authorizafter ing local school boards to approve their own mask policies for the upcoming year, state leaders reversed

At a special meeting held 24, the on Aug. state's Board Elementary and Secondary Education voted 9-1 to give Commissioner Jeffrey Riley the authority to mandate masks in all K-12 public schools through at least Oct. 1.

When students left school in June for the summer break, they assumed they were also leaving mask mandates behind. COVID-19 conditions were rapidly improving at the time, but the highly contagious Delta variant caused a significant reversion over the last month.

Now, as students head back to school, they'll once again have to include masks their daily preparations.

"In light of

of COVID-19 in illation among Massachusetts. I believe a mask mandate be an importadditional measure to the keep students in school safely at this time," Commissioner Riley said. "Masks remain a simple and effective mitigation measure to prevent the spread of COVID-19. The late changes in policy at the state level frustrated local school officials, parents, and students. school committees had already voted on masking guidance for the fall of 2021, only to have state leaders override local policies at the last minute. "If you look at what has played out in other states where the government has taken away the authority for locals to make their own decisions, that's the right way to play this game."

The latest mask mandate from DESE aligns with similar orders in schools and workplaces across the country. Now that the Pfizer vaccine gained full FDA approval, the nationwide push increased vaccination rates received a major shot in the arm. Last week, several companies and agencies joined the list of employers requiring staff members to be vaccinated.

For Riley and his team, the push for increased vaccinations continue through the fall. Officials are heavily promoting vaccination clinics as the cold and flu season looms. For now, state leaders are relying on the mask mandate to maintain safety. "I believe having these measures in place will allow for a strong start of the school year and provide additional safety measures until more students and staff are vaccinated," Riley said. "As always, we will continue to monitor developments, consult with medical experts and public health officials, and adjust requirements as appropriate."

* * Triday's Child

Jayven Age 14

Hi! My name is Jayven and I like to play board games and football!

Javyen is an inquisitive boy of African-American and Hispanic descent. He loves board games and is always happy to play one, either with his friends or with an adult. Jayven also likes to be outside, and his favorite outdoor activity is playing football, which he is currently doing with Pop Warner Football. Jayven likes playing football so much that when he grows up, he would like to play for the NFL. Just in case he isn't drafted, though, he is also considering careers as a detective or as a piano teacher. Jayven is currently doing well in

Legally freed for adoption,

Jayven is looking for a loving and patient family of any constellation, with or without other children in the home. Jayven is very close with his younger brother and has expressed a desire to be a role model for him. An ideal family for Jayven will be open to helping him maintain this relationship.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have a permanent place to call home.

Get a hobby

Although we typically hear the phrase 'get a hobby' as a sar-castic way of putting someone down, there is also some truth to it. It's important, especially for students to get involved in extracurricular activities.

Even as adults, when looking for work, it's important to showcase experience as well as other aspects of your life. Most employers are looking for candidates who have a range of skills.

We learn this from a very young age. Striking a balance between work, school and taking time for yourself is key to a happy life. These days however, time seems to be something there is just never enough of. In fact, over the past several years, there has been a decline in civic engagement including neighborhood get togethers and leagues such as bowling, softball etc. Time seems to get eaten by social media or binging tv shows. Experts say the term 'busy' has been used as a badge of honor to make us feel important, not that we need to be busy, to actually be important.

Hobbies tend to make us more efficient. If we have a meeting to attend, or workout class to go to, we will check things off the list for work, to make time for what we want to do. When we feel like we have more time ahead of us to finish work, with nothing else to do, that time will get eaten up by work.

People tend to be more energized by active leisure, as opposed to watching movies or scrolling through social media. Active engagement allows us to be more present.

Hobbies are great for both students and adults alike in that it chance to make friends and create new connections. We all know that social connections are key to creating happiness. People want to feel like they're a part of a community.

Further, learning new things gives you more to talk about it, therefore making you more of a unique person. It makes you a more well rounded. Whether you hunt, mountain bike, play music, collect stamps, or Doors memorabilia, you'll always have an interesting story to tell

Being involved in other things besides school and work does relieve stress. Experts say to allocate one hour per day or a few hours per week to do something you feel inspired by. If there's something you've always wanted to do, don't wait for 'someday' do

In our office, there are all sorts of conversations that take place because we all have different hobbies. We have history buffs, runners, musicians, hikers, snowboarders, actors, artists, movie buffs, podcasters and so much more. As Dale Carnegie said, "Make the most of today. Get interested in something. Shake yourself awake. Develop a hobby. Let the winds of enthusiasm sweep

VIEWS AND COMMENTARY FROM STURBRIDGE, BRIMFIELD, HOLLAND AND WALES

Harvest Canning Tips

It's harvest season and Farmer's Markets are selling tomatoes and cukes in bulk, workshops on preserving produce are filling up fast and canning jar manufacturers report double digit hikes in sales. There's no doubt about it, canning continues to make a comeback!

Whether canning in bulk to use up garden vegetables or filling a few jelly jars for holiday gifts, the following information is geared toward helping your preserving efforts pay off in both financial and "feel good" benefits.

Not sure if canning is worth the work? Consider the many "perks" of processing food at home, which include:

*The ability to control the salt, sugar and additive content of the foods you intend to preserve.

Studies show foods canned at peak ripeness offer superior nutrition and flavor despite the typical loss of vitamins during the heating process *Processing foods also allows seasonal fruits and vegetables to be enjoyed throughout the year.

*Since the canning process doesn't rely on refrigeration for preservation, canned foods are readily available and safe during power outages or appliance shut downs.

One of the joys of canning is the ability to literally put the fruits of your garden labor on the dinner table. For those who don't grow their own foods, a trip to a farmer's market or neighborhood farm stand can reap bushels of freshly picked produce. Don't be afraid to ask for "seconds" and/or discounts on less than perfect but perfectly fine produce. Just be sure to overlook those with obvious bruises or major imperfections.

Common backyard garden vegetables such as tomatoes and cucumbers are popular candidates for canning as they offer a variety of finished products from condiments to side dishes. Best of all, a few old fashioned canning recipes can transform the versatile garden favorites into glistening jars of pantry staples. For example, tomatoes can be prepped to be canned as tomato sauce, tomato soup, tomato juice, salsa, ketchup, and more. Cucumbers transform into sweet gherkins, dill pickles, chow chow and a variety of relishes. Orchard fruits such as apples and peaches can be processed as jelly, butter, chutney, pie filling, syrups and sauces.

Before choosing a preferred method of processing be sure to study the options, all of which are available in canning "how to" books or online. For safety's sake be sure your resources are up to date, since processing recommendations have changed in the past several years. A new edition of the classic Ball Blue Book is always useful. Online, a reliable and free resource titled "U.S. Department of Agriculture's "Complete Guide to Home Canning," is available and can be accessed by visiting www.uga.edu/nchfp/publications/publications_usda.html.

Here are some simple canning "tips from the pros" worth noting:

*Never use overripe fruit. A good rule of thumb to remember is that canning can't improve the quality of food, so always begin with top quality fruits, ripe and free of bruises.

* Don't be tempted to over do the celery, peppers, onions and other low acid ingredient in pickles or other recipes. Stick to the recipe to avoid creating an unsafe product.

*Never add considerably more spices or seasonings than a recipe calls for. Some spices can be high in bacteria and too much of a good thing can put your safety at risk.

*Be sure to wash hands and all food prep surfaces and all canning supplies thoroughly before starting the canning process,

Pepper Jelly

This jelly, which uses up the last of the season's garden peppers, makes a festive holiday gift.

Ingredients: 3 green bell peppers, minced; 2 (4 ounce) cans diced jalapeno peppers

1 1/2 cups distilled white vinegar; 6 1/2 cups white sugar; 1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper; 1 (6 fluid ounce) container liquid pectin; 5 drops green food coloring.

Directions: In a large, stainless steel saucepan, combine peppers, vinegar, sugar, and cayenne pepper. Cook over medium high heat. Stir frequently until mixture begins to Stir in pectin; boil 5 minutes longer, stirring constantly, and mix in food coloring. Skim off foam, and remove from heat.

Ladle into sterilized jars. Seal and process in a boiling-water canner for 5 minutes.

Apple Chutney

It's apple season in New England and this chutney, made from freshly picked fruit, will be the perfect accompaniment to upcoming holiday feasts.

Ingredients: 2 quarts chopped, cored, pared tart apples (about 10 medium); 1 cup chopped onions; 1 cup chopped sweet red bell peppers (about 2 medium); 2 hot red peppers, seeded and chopped; 1½ pounds seedless raisins; 4 cups brown sugar; 3 tablespoons mustard seed; 2 tablespoons ground ginger; 2 tablespoons ground allspice; 2 teaspoons canning salt; 1 clove garlic, crushed; 1 quart white vinegar (5%).

Directions: Combine all ingredients; simmer until thick, about 1 hour and 15 minutes. As mixture thickens stir frequently to prevent sticking. Pour boiling hot chutney into hot jars, leaving ½ inch headspace. Remove air bubbles and adjust headspace if needed. Wipe rims of jars with a dampened clean paper towel; adjust two-piece metal canning lids. Process in boiling water canner according to the altitude recommendations below. Makes about six pint jars.

Recommended process time for Apple Chutney pints in a boiling water canner (altitude chart): 1-1,000 ft, 10 minutes; 1,001-6,000 ft, 15 minutes; above 6,000 ft, 20 minutes.

Are your loved ones prepared to be caregivers?

FINANCIAL Focus

> JEFF BURDICK

Once you're retired and your children are grown, they are likely "off the books," as far as your financial responsibility for them is concerned. Yet, you're probably still prepared to do anything to help them – but are they ready to take care of you if the need arises?

Consider this: Almost half of retirees say that the ideal role in retirement is providing support to family and other loved ones, according to the Edward Jones/Age Wave study titled Four Pillars of the New Retirement: What a Difference a Year Makes - and a slightly earlier version of the same study found that 72 percent of retirees say one of their biggest fears is becoming a burden on their family members.

So, if you are recently retired or plan to retire in the next few years, you may need to reconcile your desire to help your adult children or other close relatives with your concern that you could become dependent on them. You'll need to consider whether your loved ones can handle caregiving responsibilities, which frequently include financial assistance. If they did have to provide some caregiving services for you, could they afford it? About 80% of caregivers now pay for some caregiving costs out of their own pockets - and one in five caregivers experience significant financial strain because of caregiving, according to a recent AARP report.

One way to help your family members is to protect yourself from the enormous expense of long-term care. The average cost for a private room in a nursing home is now over $100,000 a year, according to the insurance company Genworth. Medicare won't pay much, if any, of these costs, so you may want to consult with a financial advisor, who can suggest possible ways of addressing long-term care expenses.

Even if you don't require a long stay in a nursing home, you still might need some assistance in the future, especially if your health or mental capacities decline. So, start talking to your loved ones about their possible roles if you should ever need caregiving. You may want to create a caregiving arrangement that specifies payment for caregiving services and outlines the expenses to be reimbursed if paid out of pocket by a caregiver. Also, you may want to create the appropriate legal documents, such as a durable power of attorney for health care, which enables someone to make medical decisions on your behalf should you become incapacitated, and a durable power of attorney for finances, which allows you to name someone to make your financial decisions if you become unable to do so yourself. A legal professional can help you make these arrangements and incorporate them into your overall estate plan. A financial advisor can suggest ways of preparing for the costs involved with caregiving and can direct you to relevant resources, such as social services provided by your city or county.

Clearly, there's much you can do to help shield your family from the financial strain of caregiving. But you are not alone: By drawing on other resources and outside help, you can ease the burden on your loved ones. And everyone will feel more secure when you have your arrangements in place.

Fall means trout fishing

THE GREAT OUTDOORS RALPH TRUE

As we enter the month of September, many freshwater anglers are thinking about the fall trout fishing season in Massachusetts. As the waters start to cool from the extremely warm temperatures of this summer, anglers need to be aware that Massachusetts Fish & Wildlife will not stock trout until the waters are suitable to sustain the freshly stocked trout. It may be until October before the waters are cool enough to see a trout stocking. It is hard to believe that the Gulf has 90 Degree surface water temperatures this past week, prior to Hurricane Ida!

Saltwater fishing continues to improveon all fronts in both Massachusetts and Rhode Island, with schools of mackerel along the South shore of the Island. Fluke & seabass fishing also remains very good at the Island. Tuna were being caught around the Gully! Albi are showing up in both Mass. & Rhode Island waters. These hard fighting fish provide some great fishing for anglers using light tackle and fly rods. They do not provide good eating; however, some anglers do take a few home for table fare. Saltwater fishing should explode with action on all fronts in the coming weeks.

Ten local sportsmen left for Maine this past weekend to enjoy a bit of bear hunting that opened up this past Monday statewide. Bear hunters are allowed to set up bait hunting spots prior to hunting season. Hunters are allowed to use crossbows, compound bows, shotgun, etc. to harvest their bear in Maine. It should be a good year for hunting bear in Maine, if the weather cools off. Hunting bear in Massachusetts is open in all zones again this year, and a permit that costs only $5 is required. Be sure to check all hunting

Have you checked your status for an antlerless deer permit? Go to the Mass.

Fish Hunt Web site to see if you have won a permit. If you did, you will need to pay a $5 fee. If you did not win a permit, you can still apply for an antlerless deer permit starting on September. The antlerless surplus deer permits go fast. The permits will be in zones 9, 10, 11, 13 &14. Zone 11 will go on sale Tuesday, Sept. 28 at 9 a.m. It will be a staggered system. Zone 10 will go on sale Wednesday, Sept. 29 at 9 a.m. Zone 9, including 13 & 14, Tuesday, Sept. 30 at 9 a.m. Number of surplus deer permits available in zone 9, 1,410 - Zone 10 - 9,092 & Zone 11 7,770 Zone 13 2,526 and Zone 14, 2,619.

Last week's picture of a huge whale cod was caught a number of years ago, prior to the recreational cod fishery being shut down, causing numerous charter boats to close. Starting Sept. 15, recreational anglers can retain one cod daily with a minimum length of 21 inches. Fifteen haddock can now be caught daily by recreational anglers.

Designing gardens for year-round color and protecting your investment

GARDEN MOMENTS MELINDA MYERS

Create a colorful year-round garden filled with flowers, greenery, colorful fruit, fall color, winter interest and a few surprises. Consider seasonal interest when planning a new garden or landscape. Adding a few key plants to existing gardens can help boost your landscape's seasonal appeal.

Include a variety of plants with multiple seasons of interest as well as bird and pollinator appeal. You will look forward to the change of seasons as your landscape transforms throughout the year.

Use trees and shrubs to provide the framework and longevity in your landscape. Serviceberries, crabapples, dogwoods, and many others have flowers, fruit, pollinator, and bird appeal and add winter interest with their bark or form. Look for those with colorful exfoliating bark like paperbark maple, heptacodium, and river birch for a beautiful statement in the winter gar-

Include a few summer blooming shrubs like St John's wort, buttonbush, panicle hydrangeas and Rose of Sharon. They add an unexpected fresh look to your summer landscape.

Perennials combine nicely with trees, shrubs, and annuals, adding seasons of color and texture. Include those that also attract songbirds, bees, and butterflies by creating a beautiful habitat. Blue star (Amsonia), Siberian iris, sedum, Rudbeckia, coneflower, and grasses are just a few that can brighten any garden with several seasons of color, provide homes for beneficial insects and food for the birds.

End the season with fall bloomers like goldenrod, asters, and hardy mums. These provide food for late season pollinators. Leave healthy plants stand, providing homes for many beneficial insects, winter interest in the garden, and food for the songbirds.

Use annuals to fill any voids, add season long color and yearly changes in the landscape. Containers on steps, decks and patios help bring the garden to your front and back door.

Include spring flowering bulbs like tulips, daffodils and hyacinths planted in fall for a colorful welcome to spring. These and many of the earliest bloomers like winter aconites, grape hyacinths, and crocus provide needed nectar for early season pollinators.

Evergreens are always a welcome addition to any landscape. They provide shelter for the birds and yearround greenery. Find new and interesting ways to include them in your landscape.

Use taller evergreens for screening

Include shrubs like this Blue Satin Rose of Sharon to add color and interest to the garden. bad views, buffering traffic and other noises, or creating privacy. Use evergreens with interesting form and texture to create a focal point in a garden bed or landscape. Combine them with perennials and flowering shrubs for added seasonal interest.

Then keep your landscape looking its best by protecting key plants from hungry critters like deer, rabbits and voles. Skip the fencing and scare tactics by applying a rain resistant, organic repellent like Plantskydd (plantskydd.com) at planting. You will need fewer applications and the odorbased repellent sends animals dining elsewhere before taking a bite out of your plants. Apply repellent before animals start feeding and follow the label directions for best results.

Continue to gather ideas with visits to public gardens and partaking in garden tours. Be sure to take notes and pictures that you can reference later. Creating a year-round landscape is an ongoing process that is part of the fun and adventure of gardening.

You are not your past

Many people feel like they can't have the life they want because of their past limitations or failures.

Maybe your family wasn't there for you; you didn't get the proper education, you've been fired from multiple jobs, or mistreated in relationships.

Many things aren't fair and can cause a chain reaction of events that may take us far off course. There are also many bad choices we make, and as a result, we end up missing out on the life we want.

You may have made mistakes, gotten into trouble, fired from a job, lost a relationship, but that doesn't mean it always has to be that way.

George Washington Carver said, "Where there is no vision, there is no

I agree with his quote completely. George Washington Carver was a more brilliant man than I will ever be. For today's column, I would like to modify the selection to say, "Where there is no positive vision of the future, there is no hope."

It seems most people's vision of the future is dictated by the failures and limitations of their past, and therefore, they do have a vision, but it's a negative one.

One trait of a successful person is they don't allow themselves to be defined by their failures or their present unfavorable circumstances. Instead, they define themselves by a positive vision of their future.

That seems odd when you think about it. They define themselves by something that hasn't even happened

It's easy to look at a great person and assume they had everything handed to them or that somehow life was much easier on them than it was you.

I have many fond memories of my parents taking me to Disney World. I've been on the rides, seen the movies, and heard about the man who built it all, Walt Disney. I've driven past the Disney skyscraper in Burbank, California, hundreds of times; I've auditioned at Walt Disney Studios dozens of times. When surrounded by all that accomplishment, it's hard to imagine that Walt ever faced any hard-

Positively SPEAKING TOBY MOORE

Most don't know that Walt Disney was fired from his job at the Kansas City Star after his newspaper editor told him that he didn't have enough imagination or creativity!

What if Walt Disney allowed himself to be defined by that moment, and for the next 20 years, he wandered from job to job, telling himself, "I'm not creative, I don't have a good enough imagination...'

If he would've, he never would have created Laugh-O-Gram. Laugh-O-Gram was an animation studio that Walt was contracted to run. The studio was supposed to make twelve cartoons. Although the company started promisingly, it wasn't long before Walt was living at the office, taking weekly baths at Union Station in Kansas City, and finally bankrupting the studio; what a disaster.

He sold his camera, which gave him enough money for a one-way train ticket to Hollywood, Calif., and the rest is history.

I wonder how many potentially great people never accomplished their vision because they believed in their failures more than their vision of the future. They accepted what their present circumstances were telling them, rather than what their future vision was telling

If Walt Disney was one of those people, we'd have missed out on one of the most creative minds of the 20th century. Most obviously, he chose not to allow those negative experiences to define him because he became one of the most influential people of all time.

Like all great people, Walt Disney didn't allow his future to be dictated by the failures or limitations of his past.

The Class of 2025 includes students from 33 states and 15 nations across the globe. This year's incoming class is made up of 54 percent women and 46 percent men, with 23 percent of students coming from ethnically diverse backgrounds and 16 percent as proud first-generation college stu-

These newly minted Crusaders have distinguished themselves through community service, leadership roles, and diverse participation in areas like the arts, music and

The new Crusaders will arrive on campus and move into the residence halls starting at 8:30 a.m., Saturday, August 28th, where they will be welcomed to Mount St. James by an enthusiastic purple crew of current students, staff, faculty and alumni.

Fall classes are set to begin Monday. September 6th.

"I am thrilled to welcome Holy Cross' Class of 2025 - a vibrant and diverse group of exceptional students who are also one of the most academically accomplished classes in the College's history. I can't wait to see what you do and how you will grow ethically, spiritually and intellectually on The Hill," said Holy Cross President Vincent Rougeau.

About Holy Cross

The College of the Holy Cross, in Worcester, Mass., is among the nation's leading liberal arts institutions. A highly selective, fouryear, exclusively undergraduate college of 3,100 students, Holy Cross is renowned for offering a rigorous, personalized education in the Jesuit, Catholic tradition. Since its founding in 1843, Holy Cross has made a positive impact in society by graduating students who distinguish themselves as thoughtful leaders in business, professional and civic life.

QCC and MWCC collaborate on new program partnerships

WORCESTER — Quinsigamond Community College (QCC) President Luis G. Pedraja, Ph.D. and Mount Wachusett Community College (MWCC) President James L. Vander Hooven, Ed.D. have forged a new transfer agreement between the two Central Massachusetts community colleges, strengthening an already strong partnership.

The agreement will enable QCC students to seamlessly transfer to MWCC after they have completed their general education courses, in order to earn an Associate Degree in either Physical Therapist Assisting or Veterinary Technology. MWCC students will have a similar reciprocal transfer opportunity with QCC. MWCC students interested in an Associate Degree in Radiologic Technology or Respiratory Care can transfer into QCC's programs once their general education courses are

"We serve the community and our communities are not defined by rigid boundaries; they blend into one another," President Pedraja said. "I think it is critical to create partnerships such as this one that will allow us to provide services to a greater number of students."

"One of the areas in Massachusetts that all community colleges are looking for are ways to partner with one another so that we are not duplicating all of the services we offer. I think the proximity of QCC and MWCC offers us an opportunity for unique partnerships and this is a perfect example of how we can do that," said President Vander Hooven.

Both presidents see these types of agreements only increasing in the future to meet the needs of a diverse student population that community colleges such as MWCC and QCC historically serve.

"It can't be about competing against one another. We're all part of the Commonwealth and we are all working to help our students to ensure they are successful," said President Pedraja.

A closer look at the autumnal equinox

Each September, the Northern and day equal in length. Hemisphere experiences the autumnal equinox, which marks the official beginning of fall. In the Southern Hemisphere, spring is arriving at this time.

Each year there are two equinoxes, the vernal and the autumnal (March and September, respectively). Shortly after the autumnal equinox, days begin getting shorter and the nights get longer. The autumnal equinox always occurs between September 21 and September 24. In 2021, the autumnal equinox takes place on September 22.

The word equinox is from the Latin "aequi," meaning "equal," and "nox" or "night." That means that during each equinox the hours of day and night are nearly equal in length across the planet. During the equinox, the part of the Earth that is closest to the sun is the equator, explains History.com. That helps make night

Farmer's According Almanac, the Autumnal Equinox on September 22, 2021, arrives at 3:21 p.m. EDT, 2:21 p.m. CDT, 1:21 p.m. MDT, and 12:21 p.m. PDT.

What maintenance schedule does my car need?

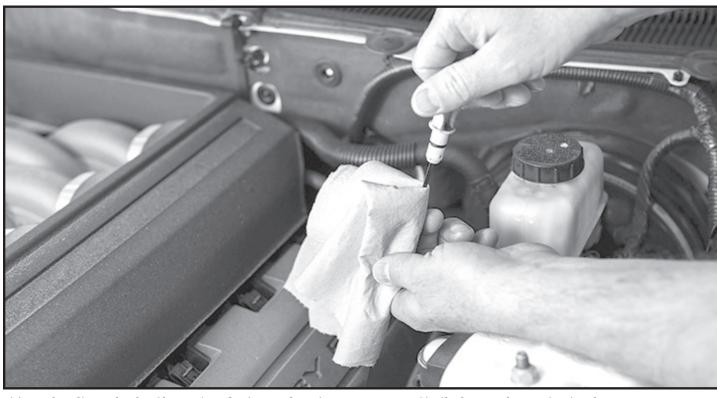

Vehicle maintenance schedules vary depending on manufacturer recommendations. In addition, the way a car is driven and the environment it's driven in can dictate if routine maintenance like oil changes needs to occur more frequently or if belts and hoses need to be replaced sooner than manufacturers recommend.

Many people drive in ways that align with routine maintenance schedules. However, drivers who put excessive wear and tear on their vehicles may have to follow a "severe" maintenance schedule. According to the automotive information site Car Gurus, many manufacturers adhere to a 30-60-90 schedule, meaning certain items need to be inspected, changed or replaced at 30,000, 60,000 and 90,000 miles. Certain vehicle parts wear out at predictable intervals, while others, such as rubber gaskets, windshield washer blades and tires, will degrade at irregular intervals.

It is generally recommended to speak with a mechanic and discuss driving habits to ensure vehicles operate efficiently and at peak capacity. The following are some conditions that may necessitate frequent maintenance.

• Urban driving: Stop-and-go traffic in an urban setting can wear cars out more quickly than highway driving. Experts say lubricants found in motor oil break down rapidly under these and other conditions, including especially hot temperatures.

• Short trips: Frequent, short trips can take a toll on a vehicle. Again, this may be a problem for those who reside in cities or bustling suburbs. Short trips of no more than five miles can contribute to an accumulation of water vapor that dilutes motor oil and adversely affects its efficacy.

· Heavy loads: Advanced Auto Parts says transporting or towing heavy loads can put more wear and tear on a vehicle. Loads can include cargo or passengers.

• Dusty or salty environments: Dust can accumulate in air filters and clog internal engine components. Similarly, living close to the coast and salt water also can cause car parts to rust or degrade quickly.

• Extreme temperature conditions: People who reside in extremely cold or extremely hot climates may find that their vehicles have to work that much harder to operate, reducing the life span of automotive fluids, parts (especially car batteries) and the overall vehicle unless action is taken.

For those who frequently encounter these severe conditions, switching to a severe maintenance schedule with the guidance of an automotive service shop can help. The added cost of more frequent fluid changes and other maintenance can be recuperated by fewer breakdowns and the reduced need for potentially costly repairs.
