Uxbridge seeking new Fire Chief

BY KIMBERLY PALMUCCI
TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

UXBRIDGE — The town of Uxbridge is seeking candidates to fill the position of Fire Chief, which has been filled since the beginning of December on an interim basis; applications are being accepted through Feb. 8.

“We have a great department with talented and caring personnel,” said Interim Fire Chief Thomas Dion. “My main priority is to ensure they continue to have the tools and training necessary to protect lives and property in our community.”

Dion described the department as combination, including both full-time and on-call firefighter EMT/Paramedics. The day-to-day administrative and operational workload is both challenging and rewarding, he said.

“The Fire Chief not only looks inward to the needs of the department, but must also look outward to the needs of the community. It is important the Chief knows and understands the community he or she serves and builds confidence and trust between the department and residents,” he said.

According to a job posting on the Uxbridge town website, the Fire Chief is appointed by and reports to the Town Manager. Candidates must have a Bachelor’s Degree in Fire Science, Public Administration, or a related field, and at least 10 years of municipal fire/rescue experience with five years in a supervisory command position. The candidate must also have EMT certification with National Fire Academy Executive Fire Officer and Massachusetts Chief Fire Officer credentialing preferred.

“Among other things, such as strong administrative, training, and leadership skills, our ideal candidate will be someone with experience in a combination department and understands the nuances that brings to the table,” Dion added.

The town’s previous fire chief, William Kessler, said his last day on the job in Uxbridge was Dec. 2; he started a new endeavor as the Fire Chief in Mendon on Dec. 3, after being selected as Mendon’s first Fire Chief in 15 years.

“[I] look forward to working with the members of the department and town leaders to provide a high level of service,” Kessler said of his new role.

A resume and cover letter formatted as a PDF file can be sent to recruitment@mrigov.com. Applications are being accepted through Feb. 8. Salary is listed up to $105,000 depending on qualifications; additional information relating to this opportunity has been posted at www.mrigov.com/career.html.

OUR LADY OF THE VALLEY REGIONAL SCHOOL ANNOUNCES OPEN HOUSES

Local police department heads to Boston for Bruins “B-Fit” Challenge

BY KIMBERLY PALMUCCI
TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

SUTTON — Three members of the Sutton Police Department will participate in their first Boston Bruins B-Fit First Responders Challenge to benefit the families of fallen first responders.

Sgt. Lisa Sullivan, Det. Matt Bohanan, and Ptl. Joe Fortunato will participate in the third annual event, slated for Sunday, Jan. 27, at the TD Garden in Boston.

“This particular event was important for us to participate in to show support to the families of fallen First Responders,” said Sullivan. “Our officers felt it was important to honor their memory and do what they could to help provide support to not only their families, but the families of other First Responders killed in the line of duty.”

In 2018, the Massachusetts law enforcement community buried two police officers—Weymouth Sgt. Michael Chesna and Yarmouth Sgt. Sean Gannon—after they were killed while protecting and serving their communities, according to a statement from the Sutton department.

“In 2016, things hit closer to home when we buried Auburn Police Officer Ronald Tarentino after he was killed during a motor vehicle stop,” the post reads.

“This small gesture is the least we can do for those who

Dirado saw photography as a way to connect and to document his father’s emotional, mental, and physical state as he fought Alzheimer’s disease. He used his camera to provide an intimate look of the family dynamics of caregiving and the passing of time. He continues the narrative documenting his mother’s life, demonstrating that life endures long after the caregiving ends.

The presentation will take place Feb. 17 at 1:30, 5 S. Main St., Uxbridge, at the Open Skies Gallery. This event coincides with our photography month. We have a far reaching display of photos from photographers from Hyde Park to Clinton to Cumberland R.I. The event is free and open to the public and we hope area residents take the opportunity to participate in this timely thought provoking presentation.

There is a wonderful display of winter scenes at the Milford Local Access TV Studio. At the time of this writing we have no snow, so if you miss it, there is plenty to see here. There will be a reception on Jan. 31 from 6-8 p.m.; wine and light refreshments will served. The studio is located at 138 S. Main St., Milford.

Chocol’art our annual Valentines presentation will take place Feb. 2 at the Whitinsville Social Library. There will be chocolate tasting from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. The art show will remain up for visitors until Feb. 15. Please come by and choose your favorite for the People’s choice award, a coveted award by those participating. The Community Gallery at Open Skies is open Saturdays from 10-3. During the photography month, informal classes will be presented by Lisa Shea. Topics to be covered are listed on all our social media outlets, and on our web page bvaa.org.

New exhibit showcases Douglas photographer’s keen eye

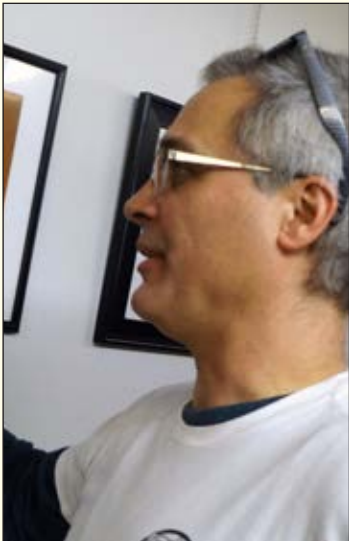

BY GUS STEEVES
CORRESPONDENT

WEBSTER – Where do science fiction and photography meet?

In a very subtle way, in the images of Douglas resident Andy Mihail, whose first exhibit, “Slices of Life,” is up at Booklovers’ Gourmet this month.

The connection is very subtle. Mihail doesn’t generally shoot things that would make it to a sci-fi book cover, but incorporates little passing references that he describes as “a nice geeky thing.”

For example, two images in the show are parts of houses – a red door numbered 1701, another numbered 42.

Although the former jumped out at him because it was red (and later became green, so the scene’s gone today), Mihail immediately identified it with Star Trek’s Starship Enterprise. The latter is a bit less well-known; it’s a reference to Douglas Adams’ Hitchhiker’s Guide to the Galaxy’s answer to “life, the universe and everything.”

“If I can squeak in something, a nice little inside joke, it makes me smile,” he said.

He’s so into sci-fi and fantasy several of the people who showed up for his show were members of his D&D playing group, and he loves building plastic models and taking photos of staged scenes of action figures, robots and the like (although none are in this show).

“I have a droid in my pocket. That’s how nerdy I am,” he said with a grin.

But you don’t have to be a nerd to appreciate his images, which he said he does very little to change after they’re shot. Partly, that’s because he’s not too fond of Photoshop, but mostly because it’s reality.

“It’s a moment in time, and no matter how hard you try to recreate it, you never can,” he said.

Referring, for example, to foliage, he added, “If you

Trustee Vacancy

One of our long-serving trustees will be retiring in February, and the Board will be looking for someone of step into the role. The trustees meet on the fourth Tuesday of every month at 7pm and usually wrap up meetings within an hour and a half. The trustees steer the development of library policy, approve library expenditures, and manage the library administration. You can read more about library trustees and their roles on the MBLC website here.

So if you're interested in being my boss, feel free to reach out to me or Danielle Morrow (the current acting chair - danmor@14@aol.com). I don't know if you'd be interested in something like that? Do you reckon you'd be interested?

made the ultimate sacrifice,” Sullivan added.

The event invites first responders and civilians to climb obstacles in TD Garden to benefit the families of fallen first responders and raise awareness around health and wellness. Proceeds raised from fundraising efforts will benefit The 100 Club of Massachusetts, a charity that supports the families of law enforcement officers and firefighters who are killed in the line of duty.

Participants are asked to raise a minimum of $300 in order to be eligible to take part in this event; the Sutton Police Department has already raised $1,800.

“This event will give back financial assistance to those surviving family members of fallen First Responders, and that’s the least we can do for them after suffering such a tremendous loss,” Sullivan said.

Donations for the cause are still being accepted at the department’s team Crowdrise page, www.crowdrise.com/o/en/campaign/sutton-police-department.

“We’re proud to represent our community at this event and show that the Sutton Police Department and its citizens support the families of fallen First Responders,” Sullivan said. “It’s important to remember the sacrifices made by all First Responders (police, fire and EMS) so society can feel protected by the blanket of security that we all provide day in and day out.”

Governor signs Moore-sponsored bill to support first responders

NEW LAW PROVIDES PEER SUPPORT SERVICES FOLLOWING CRITICAL INCIDENTS

BOSTON — Sen. Michael O. Moore (D-Millbury) has announced that Gov. Charlie Baker signed legislation to ensure confidentiality for first responders when participating in peer support services following critical incidents. The bill passed the Senate and House of Representatives with unanimous support in December of last year.

“Police officers, firefighters, and paramedics work under trying circumstances in the best of times, and these critical incidents can greatly increase the dangers associated with mental health,” said Moore. “These sensible confidentiality protections will allow our firefighters, paramedics and law enforcement officers to seek the help they need without fear of stigmatization.”

“Providing law enforcement officers with the ability to confidentially seek guidance from their peers will help them cope with the events they experience in the line of duty,” said Baker. “We are thankful for the Legislature and law enforcement for their advocacy on this bill to increase support for services and reduce stigma around mental health issues.”

Responding to a critical incident can have a significant effect on the mental health of the Commonwealth’s firefighters, paramedics, and law enforcement officers. In order to ensure prompt access to the necessary services, many departments rely on trained peer support counselors. These counselors can direct the affected first responders to the necessary mental health support services, or offer their own support as needed.

However, the lack of confidentiality afforded these peer support counselors has complicated their roles, and dissuaded some first responders from using this service. The sensitive nature of mental health issues is further compounded by concerns that first responders will experience professional adversity due to their decision to seek mental help. Basic confidentiality protections will encourage greater participation, expanding access to services and improving the mental health and performance of first responders.

The legislation provides that a critical incident stress management team member shall not be required to testify or divulge any information obtained during the receipt of critical incident stress or crisis intervention services. The language also provides for limited exemptions, including when a person is in danger of serious bodily harm or death, or if the information indicates the existence of a crime.

own safety on the line to help those in need, and we need to be conscious of the mental toll that their demanding and critically important work can take,” said Public Safety Secretary Tom Turco. “This law is designed to encourage first responders to seek the assistance they may need, from peers who understand what they are going through, without the worry that doing so may damage their employment status or stigmatize them.”

The new law is codified as Chapter 329 of the Acts of 2018. To view the language, please visit the Legislature’s Web site, www.malegislature.gov.

don’t hit it in that magic two days, you have to wait a year. Missing those magic moments hurts a lot.”

Mihail’s photo interests started early, getting his first camera about age 8 and dumping loads of film cartridges on his parents for developing. As he grew, he took some photo classes in high school, but not in college, where he focused on radio and TV. He’s been a professional TV cameraman since then, and notes he gets a lot of his ideas driving to assignments and even in homes of the people he’s reporting on.

Still photography has always been in the background, and his family members (wife Kymm and daughter Sam) find him stopping at odd locations to get shots. Often, they come from odd positions or long waiting. One titled “Silhouette in Nature,” of a tree and surroundings in Douglas that he passes all the time, took four months to get because he wanted it to be a misty day to match the image he had in his head. Waiting like that, he said, can be “very cathartic.”

Kymm does some photography herself, but is primarily a watercolor painter, while Sam mostly draws cartoons and poses for him.

“But I’m getting into landscapes because of him,” Sam said. “My creative eye is definitely from him.”

A self-described “camera monkey” (which is also the name of his Facebook and Instagram pages), Mihail says his photo eye came mostly from his birth father, Hank. He’s adopted, but met Hank as an adult and was surprised to find Hank and he had yearbook photos that showed them in almost exactly the same position looking over a photo table.

Mihail attributes most of the push to get his art out there to his wife, who “kicked me in the pants to do it.” About two years ago, he started tabling at craft shows and Worcester’s annual Start on the Street, and has a rack of photos turned into cards at Booklovers’, among other places. He also has an Internet presence, but noted he doesn’t yet get a lot of traffic that way.

This show came together very quickly. A friend told him store owner Deb Horan needed an artist for January, so he “threw it together in a week, then went on vacation.”

“I’m kind of curious to see what the general public sees [in the photos],” he said. “I’m kind of anxious and cautiously optimistic.”

Worcester County DA plans to keep focus on crime prevention in fourth term

WORCESTER — District Attorney Joseph D. Early Jr. took the oath of office for the fourth time last Thursday and said he plans to continue his focus on crime prevention in his new term.

“One of the things I’m most proud of is that during my 12 years in office is that we’ve had a 57 percent reduction in juvenile crime,” Mr. Early said after his swearing in. “That happened by working together with all of our partners. I’m really looking forward to continuing to work with all of our community partners over the next four years.”

Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito administered Mr. Early’s oath of office on Thursday afternoon at Jacob Hiatt Magnet Elementary School in Worcester.

Mr. Early highlighted many of the office’s prevention programs that are presented to schools across Worcester County, including an anti-bullying and cyber safety program, an evidence-based program concerning opioids for middle school students (“This Is (Not) About Drugs,” and a texting and driving program for high school juniors and seniors. The office also offers other educational programming to parents and senior centers focused on prescription medication safety and scams and frauds.

As District Attorney, Mr. Early has also expanded the use of drug forfeiture funds for prevention efforts by putting the money seized from drug dealers back into the community in ways that support youth programming to keep kids busy around responsible adults and out of trouble.

“I’m also looking forward to continuing the work we’ve been doing to address the opioid epidemic,” Mr. Early said. “Our Opioid Task Force is more than 400 members strong and we’re constantly looking at new and innovative ways to address this issue, which claims hundreds of lives every year in Worcester County.”

Recently, the office received a grant to expand a drug diversion program offered in Leominster, Gardner and Winchendon to additional courts in Clinton, Fitchburg and Milford. This program is one of several diversion programs offered by the District Attorney’s office. It specifically helps those suffering from substance use disorder get the help they need while avoiding a criminal record that could hinder their ability to lead a productive life in recovery.

“I want to thank the voters in Worcester County for allowing me to serve four more years and I’d like to thank my family, my wife Judy, our five children, my mother and my late father, Congressman Joseph D. Early, and the many friends who have supported me and got me started in public service,” Mr. Early said. “I’d also like to thank my staff for continuing to work to uphold our mission to keep our communities safe.”

Apple Tree Arts presents “Fa La La Land” Feb. 2

GRAFTON — Discover the happy town where holiday songs are created at Apple Tree Arts’ “Fa La La Land” Feb. 2, 7 p.m., featuring actors in grades one to four at the Great Hall, One Grafton Common. Kathleen L’Hommedieu of Northbridge is performing in the musical. Tickets cost $5, and will be sold at the door.

The townspeople of Fa La La Land are preparing for the Maestro’s visit who is coming to town to conduct a new holiday song. Throughout the show, a great debate ensues between the lyricists and composers about which group is more important. Before he visits, they must compromise and work together to create a song for him. They eventually do and sing “When We Get Along.” Only then is the Maestro able to conduct the new song.

“It’s a show with great music and many funny moments especially when composers Bach and Handel talk using puns,” co-director Susan Upham said.

“I am fond of this musical because it helps to educate the public and our students about what lyricists and composers do. And the overall arching theme is to recognize that other people have gifts just as important as yours,” Ms.

Upham added.

The 24 actors perform several musical numbers including “A Musical Time of the Year,” “Music is Our Thing,” “Not With Me,” and the finale, “Good, Good Holiday Feelings.”

The actors portraying the composers sing all of their lines using melodies they are familiar with or ones they have created. Co-directors Ms. Upham, voice and theatre arts faculty member and co-director Shannon May, early childhood manager and theatre arts educator wanted them to have the freedom to do so. The co-directors are assisted by Juliana Kallio and Sean McGlynn.

Parents are contributing to the production by helping with marquee photography and creation, ticket sales, organizing star grams and coordinating refreshments.

Cast members include Laila Blair, Samantha Bolo, Bennett Bredford, John Casano, Eva Ferreira, Victoria Fisher, Gregory Gulli, Addison Hughes, Kenzie Hwang, Maisie Hwang, Harper Killoran, Kathleen L’Hommedieu, Addison Lenz, Parker Marshall, Connor Neal, Kyra Popsuj, Wilhelmena Reed, Wynne Reed, Lily Spezzano, Liam Tindall, Miya Vaillancourt, Natalie Williams, Kate Wynne and Sarah Wynne.

Apple Tree Arts is a non-profit 501 (c) 3 organization that has grown to serve more than 1,500 children and adults annually with early childhood music classes, group keyboard lessons, private music and voice instruction, ensembles and theatre arts programs. The school provides a wide range of performances, special community musical and theatre arts events year-round. For more information, visit www.apple-treearts.org.

Sen. Fattman calls for heating assistance as federal funds diminish

BOSTON — State Sen. Ryan C. Fattman joined fellow lawmakers urging Governor Charlie Baker to assist state residents receiving low-income heating assistance who are at risk due to a federal funding shortfall. The program, known as LIHEAP, serves more than 160,000 households in the state.

More than 70 members of the House of Representative and State Senate joined in a bipartisan effort to request a $30 million appropriation meant to shore up shortages in heating fuel access. It is estimated nearly 48,000 supported oil heat households have exhausted their fuel assistance benefit already, and nearly all will have exhausted it by the end of January, leaving them in a perilous position for the rest of the winter.

“It’s essential to keep our most vulnerable populations warm as the winter continues on. Protecting people on fixed incomes, veterans, our elderly, and those with low income is critical during the uncertainty surrounding future oil assistance funding,” said Fattman.

The Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) provides eligible households with help in paying a portion of winter heating bills. Eligibility, based on household size and the annual income of every adult household member, provides assistance for electric and gas utility bills and other heat sources including oil and propane.

Lawmakers have connected with the Massachusetts Association for Community Action (M A S S C A P), Massachusetts AARP, and the leaders of dozens of non-profit human service and advocacy organizations across the state to respond to the growing need.

“Prolonged bitterly cold weather and rising heating oil prices have combined to make staying warm this winter a nightmare for tens of thousands of vulnerable households who heat with oil,” said MASSCAP’s

Executive Director Joe Diamond. “Particularly at risk are children, seniors, and veterans across the Commonwealth. This is all made worse by the fact that Massachusetts is faced with a cut of $11 million in its federal fuel assistance allocation this year.”

The fuel assistance program administered by the state Department of Housing and Community Development, and carried out by community action agencies and other community groups, has had an increase in applicants of more than 20 percent from last year.

The lawmakers, hopeful for a swift resolution, note that there has been significant cooperation between the branches over the past three decades in responding to limited federal funding and extreme winter weather conditions.

To reach Senator Fattman regarding heat assistance please call 774-276-7128 or the senate office at 617-722-1420.

Cornerstone Bank appoints Alan Peppel to Board of Directors

Alan Peppel

WORCESTER—Cornerstone Bank is pleased to announce the appointment of Alan Peppel to its Board of Directors. A former Southbridge Savings Bank Board Member, Peppel is replacing John Colognesi’s seat on the now Cornerstone Bank Board. Colognesi first became a Director for Southbridge Savings Bank in 1984; in October 2018, he retired as a Director and was named an Honorary Director of Cornerstone Bank.

A Missouri native and now longtime resident of Central Massachusetts, Peppel holds a BA in Economics from Carleton College and an MBA from Nichols College. He is also a graduate of the Management Course of the American Management Association and is certified as a Food Service Professional by the National Association of Food Equipment Manufacturers. Currently, Peppel is the Chairman of the Board and CEO of Affinity Group and CEO of Dexter-Russell, Inc. Along with his new Board Member position with Cornerstone Bank, Peppel also serves on and is a member of many local boards and organizations.

“We thank John for his contributions and service to the Board over the years, and we’re honored to have someone as experienced as Alan to join our Board,” stated Chairman and CEO of Cornerstone Bank K. Michael Robbins.

“Alan embodies the spirit of community. We are fortunate to have him by our side as we continue to strengthen community in Worcester County,” commented President and Treasurer of Cornerstone Bank Todd M. Tallman.

About Cornerstone Bank

Safe ice brings anglers out in force

.....
TRUE

Finally, we have some safe ice on most ponds in the valley, allowing anglers the opportunity to do some fishing. This past weekend, many anglers were fishing with friends and family, and some impressive fish were caught. Last week, prior to the storm, this writer and my brother Ken fished Manchaug Pond and after a couple of hours of fishing , not a single fish was caught. We were using only Jig sticks, but It is the first time that I can remember not catching a single fish.

This past week, I attended the monthly meeting of the Worcester County League of Sportsmen's Clubs which was held at the Singletary Rod & Gun club in Oxford Mass.

Being a delegate for close to 50 years for numerous clubs in the valley, I decided to attend the meeting to see if it still works the same from years ago. Meeting a lot of old friends like Mel Crouse, now in his 90's and still hunting, was indeed a pleasure. Mel & his brother still hunt together and harvested a nice buck in Maine a couple of years ago. They stayed close together, and when they both spotted the buck at the same time they decided to try firing at the same time. The buck dropped in his tracks.

They both managed to drag the big buck out of the woods. They do not make many guys like this anymore.

I also had a chance to speak to Mike Moss, a long time member of the league and president of the Sportsmen's council. He and his wife, Shelia Moss, are both active in both organizations. A lot of the old members were no longer there, and I was told that many were deceased. It sure makes you realize how lucky some of us are to still be involved in the activities of the league, and in the hunting and fishing activities that we enjoy every year. Both organizations have been working for sportsmen's interest for many years, and are dedicated to keep sportsmen's interest represented in the statehouse and with Mass. Fish & Wildlife. Unfortunately, they have not been successful in getting MF&W and the legislators to pass a Sunday Hunting Bill or a crossbow bill that would allow anyone to hunt with a crossbow in Massachusetts.

A couple of local sportsmen were at the meeting, and inquired about having the Division acquire another ship- ment of shoal spawning alewives (bait fish) into Wallum lake and Webster Lake. When the alewives were introduced to the lake for the first time 20 or 30 years ago, the trout grew rapidly, and catching a four pound trot from wal- lum was a weekly or daily event. The officials at the meeting did not seem interest- ed in the idea. The sportsmen vowed to pursue the matter, in hopes of changing their minds. Stay tuned! Change does not come easy in Mass. The Singletary Rod & Gun Club put on a great roast pork dinner for all in attendance. It was a Humdinger!

I also spoke with a Singletary club member that was heading to Nantucket Island to hunt rabbits the following week. He stated that rabbit hunting on the Island was great. He did not have his own beagles, but he had a fellow hunter that was taking him out for a rabbit hunt. Unfortunately, the briar patches are still hard on both man and dogs but they man- age to harvest a few rabbits on each trip. There is nothing like listening to a few beagles trail- ing a rabbit through fields and swamps. The good old days!

A young lady also was anxious to tell me about her Montana hunting trip last year were she harvested a great bull Elk while hunting with her husband. Unfortunately, the picture she gave me showing the 70 year old Ruth Granger with her Elk that she harvested using her 306 Remington rifle could not be used. The animal was dressed in the wil- derness and packed out. Her family is still enjoying some great eating of Elk steaks.

Did you know that a gray squirrel can live up to 25 years? It is no wonder that there are so many gray squirrels in the valley. Red squirrels can live up to 15 - 2o years also , but can cause a lot more damage to bird feeders and homes. There are very few hunters that partic- ipate in squirrel hunting, but there are plenty of predat- ors that help keep there popu- lation down. Hawks, Fisher cat, coyotes , etc. harvest a lot of squirrels annually.

This past weekend, the Whitinsville Fish & Game Club held there second annu- al «Founders Day» event that was filled to capacity. A prime Rib dinner was enjoyed by all in attendance. A DJ provid- ed music. Thanks to all of the members and officers of the club for putting on such a great evening of enjoyment and food.

The Singletary Rod & Gun Club will hold there annual ice fishing derby this Sunday, Jan. 27. A breakfast will be serve at 6 a.m., and the derby will start at 7 a.m.! The pond was stocked with trout last Saturday. Stay tuned for more ice fishing der- by's being planned in the com- ing weeks.

This week's picture show Dan Southwick with a huge largemouth bass that he caught a few years ago while ice fishing. He knows how to catch fish. Monster pike are one of his favorite game fish to catch. All fish are released on site. I am sure I will be receiving some pictures of big fish now that the ice seems to have settled in on most lakes and ponds.

Winning tomatoes add vibrant color and flavor to gardens and meals

MELINDA

Impress your guests with a garden, contain- er and dinner table filled with tasty and colorful winning tomato variet- ies. Small-fruited variet- ies are perfect for salads and snacking and those with larger fruit ideal for slicing, canning and sauces.

These winning toma- toes were tested nation- ally by All-America Selections (AAS), a non-profit plant trialing organization (all-amer- icaselections.org). Volunteer judges evalu- ated the plants for flavor, improved performance, growth habit, productiv- ity, or pest resistance in the garden. Only superi- or, new, non-GMO variet- ies receive the AAS win- ner's title.

Include a few Firefly plants when looking for the perfect snacking and salad tomato. It's smaller than a cherry and larger than a currant tomato; just the right size to pop in your mouth without embarrassment. The extremely sweet pale white to pale yellow fruit will stand out in the gar- den, on the relish tray or in a salad.

Join the foodie trend by growing the slightly larger striped Red Torch tomato. The one-and-a- half-inch oblong fruit are red with thin yellow stripes. Enjoy an early harvest and eat Red Torch tomatoes fresh from the garden or cooked into a sweet and sour cherry tomato sauce to serve on bread or over chicken and other vegetables.

Boost your early harvest season with Valentine grape tomatoes. You'll enjoy the vivid deep red color and sweet flavor. Plus, this productive plant provides plenty of tomatoes for snacking, salads and to share with friends.

Add some purple to the mix with Midnight Snack. This cherry toma- to ripens to red with a blush of glossy black-pur- ple. Judges declared Midnight Snack a big improvement in the fla- vor of purple tomatoes.

Pot up one or more Patio Choice tomatoes for your patio, deck or tabletop. Each compact 18-inch plant produces up to 100 yellow cher- ry tomatoes. Just one fruit-covered plant in a decorative pot creates as colorful a centerpiece as a bouquet of yellow flow- ers.

Don't forget to add Red Racer cocktail tomatoes to the mix. The fruit are about the size of ping pong balls and perfect for stuffing, flavorful enough for salads and hearty enough for soups and stews.

Dress up your salads, sauces and sandwiches with colorful tomato slic- es. The six Chef's Choice tomato varieties provide a rainbow of colors for the relish tray. Guests will have trouble deciding between the red, orange, pink, yellow, green and now black-fruited varieties. These beefsteak tomatoes have the right balance between sugar and acid; perfect for eat- ing fresh and cooking.

Consider mixing any of these winning toma- to varieties in with your ornamental plants. A few tomatoes tucked into mixed borders or at the back of a flowerbed can add color, texture and interest to any landscape. Just be sure there's easy access for harvesting and use decorative obelisks and towers to support taller varieties in style.

Small gestures,
big results

Never doubt how much a simple, kind word or gesture means.

Imagine a typical Monday morning scenario - some traffic, a few minor annoyances, misplaced files and other “Monday things.” Maybe it’s also raining. A very “Monday” kind of day, for sure. You stop for coffee.

As you wait in line, you mentally began running down the list of bad things already piling up in your morning. When it is time to pay, the woman at the counter makes eye contact, smiles and tells you she hopes you’ll have a good day. She really seems to mean it.

You leave the shop with your coffee, a smile on your face and a feeling of appreciation for that cashier and her expression of kindness. The day already starts to look up. Small gestures really do matter.

Our world loves to celebrate and reward big gestures – remember the Walmart stories from December, when athletes and other celebrities secretly paid off the balances for customers with items in layaway? The big gesture gets recognition and celebration and lots of media coverage. Sometimes the big gesture deserves that kind of attention – people helping one another in a big way IS big news, and very good news. We need more of that.

But what about the small things? Don’t they deserve recognition somehow? The cashier’s smile and wish for your day would only take a fraction of a minute, but it could turn around another person’s mood and possibly his or her day.

Holding the door – anyone for anybody – is another small gesture that reminds us that more than anything else, we need to treat each other well. How about letting the person with fewer items get in line in front of you at the grocery store? That small act of kindness just might allow that person to arrive somewhere on time, instead of a few minutes late. Leaving a few extra quarters in the parking meter might help someone who’s caught short of change. And a smile and nod to anyone you pass just might lift someone’s mood, as that hypothetical cashier’s would do.

Do these gestures get media coverage? No. And most aren’t done for that purpose anyway. Do we know that our small gestures make an impact? Not always. But knowing the outcome isn’t the point.

A small, kind gesture bridges the space between people. It costs nothing. It never hurts. It almost always helps. It just might cause the recipient to offer their own small gesture to another person. And that’s a big result.

LETTERS

Extra! Extra! Read All About It!

We think you’re important enough to tell all our readers to turn to the Opinion pages and read your Letters to the Editor.

But first, you have to write us!

Mail your letters to the Blackstone Valley Tribune, P.O. Box 90, Southbridge, MA 01550.

Or e-mail your letters to the editor at news@stonebridgepress.news.

You’ll need to provide your name and place of residence, along with a phone number, so we can verify the letter is yours.

We don’t have a set limit, but if you keep it around 600 words or so, you’re going to have a better chance at seeing all your words in print.

If you want to write a bit longer about a particular issue, maybe a guest Your Turn column is your cup of tea. If you do that, try to keep it between 700-800 words.

Remember, libelous remarks and/or personal attacks are a no-no and could lead to your letter not being published.

So, what are you waiting for? Start writing!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Your Salute to Veterans was much appreciated

To the Editor:

This is not the normal “letter to the editor” that you are accustomed to reading from your subscribers. It’s more like a letter of appreciation from an extended member of your family of readers.

I know that Veterans Day was two months ago, but I didn’t receive your Nov. 9 edition until recently. My sister, who lives in Sutton, knows how much I enjoy keeping up with news from my old hometown (Northbridge), so she accrues six or more editions of the Tribune and mails them to me.

A 21-year Air Force veteran who served in many remote places around the world, including combat in Vietnam for more than a year, I was extremely impressed with your Salute to Veterans edition, especially the segments “Remembering Our Veterans,” “How to Help Veterans in Need,” “The Story of the ‘Poppy’ and Veterans Day,” but especially the hundreds of photos of Worcester area vets from all branches of service who served in different wars/conflicts.

Of course, we will never forget those who served and never returned home.

We appreciate our service members, whose courage and bravery protect our country and freedom. Today, we have 1.3 million active duty service members, with over 200,000 serving I 170 foreign countries.

An octogenarian and a 25-year retired public school teacher with a unique military background, I’m often asked to be a guest speaker in local schools and communities, most recently in November, when I had the privilege of speaking about Veterans Day. I’m saving a copy of your outstanding Nov. 9 edition for future use.

Thank you for your support of our military, past and present. Much appreciated.

The new year is here and with it comes a fresh resolve to reach our goals. While some vows are lofty, it’s often the little, everyday hassles that often get in the way of crossing off our list of accomplishments. Thanks to readers who took to the time to share their strategies to save time, money and stress, thus eliminating a few of the little nuisances in life!

Hard water is hard to deal with! Thankfully, this reader did her research and discovered an effective cure for the telltale stains that hard water leaves behind:

This tip addresses how to remove hard water ring around toilet. If you have a hard water ring around the toilet that resists bleach, CLR, or any other chemical method, try the Pumie toilet bowl ring remover (#TBR-6 available on Amazon.com and possibly Ace hardware stores).

The Pumie is a rectangular piece of pumice stone on plastic handle. Brush the bowl first with a standard toilet bowl cleaner and then scrub the hard water ring in a circular motion with the Pumie. It does make a horrible scratching sound when you scrub but no damage is done to the porcelain surface.

The results are magical and in no time it will rid your toilet bowl of rust and lime build-up through gentle abrasive action. Also it is all-natural so it is safe around children and pets.

The cost is about $9 for one item and it will last quite a while depending on the water hardness.

Recycling is good for the pocketbook and the planet, and this seasonal idea not only preserves your favorite cards, but makes repurposing them an enjoyable, annual project:

Hi Karen, my fiancé lives in Webster and I live in Rhode Island. Every weekend when I get to his house I look forward to reading your tips and hints. My tip is: every year I save the Christmas cards I receive and the following year I tear off the front, fold in half, cut size, and use as name gift tags on gifts. They look so pretty and I save money buying tags.

Lorraine Suzman
N Providence, R.I.

This reader shares a great way to update your address book with little effort:

New cards and new addresses came in with the Christmas card this year. In addition to cutting off the address label, I put the new date year on it and tape it in my address book. In addition, I wrote inside each Christmas card their new address or phone and will store them after the holidays.

This way, I have a hard copy of the address updates.

Viola Bramel

Prize Winner

Congratulations to Lorraine Suzman, whose name was drawn for dinner for two at the Publick House. She submitted the recycling tip above.

Win Dinner for Two

Your tips can win you a great dinner for two at the historic Publick House Historic Inn in Sturbridge! Simply send in a hint to be entered into a random drawing. One winner per month will win a fabulous three course dinner for two at the renowned restaurant, located on Route 131 across the town common in historic Sturbridge. Because I’m in the business of dispensing tips, not inventing them (although I can take credit for some), I’m counting on you readers out there to share your best helpful hints!

Are you
natural disaster?

ANTONOPOULOS

The year ahead offers new opportunities and experiences. But as you make plans throughout 2019, be mindful of the things that can derail those plans – such as the natural disasters that affected so many families in 2018. Every area around the country is subject to natural disasters, whether they’re wildfires, hurricanes or tornadoes. How can you prepare for them?

Here are a few suggestions:

Maintain adequate insurance. It’s a good idea to review your homeowners’ insurance at least annually to ensure it’s still providing the protection you need. And make sure you know exactly what your policy covers in terms of natural disasters. You’ll also want to review your life and disability insurance regularly. And, of course, you’ll want to stay current on your premiums for all your policies.

Keep a record of your possessions. The insurance claims process will be much easier if you take the time, before a natural disaster occurs, to photograph or videotape the contents of your home. You also might want to list the brands and serial numbers of appliances and electronics.

Know your passwords. It’s important to have ready access to the passwords for your financial accounts. You may be able to memorize them, but, if not, keep them somewhere – perhaps in your smartphone – that you can access anywhere. It’s always possible that a natural disaster will strike so quickly that you can’t even grab your phone, so, to be extra cautious, you might want to share your passwords with a trusted family member or friend. (Even then, though, you may want to change your passwords every so often.)

Build an emergency fund. During or following a natural disaster, you may need ready access to cash to cover some of the essentials of daily living, such as food and shelter. Keeping a lot of cash in your home may not be such a great plan, especially if you have to evacuate quickly. Consequently, you might want to create an emergency fund containing three to six months’ worth of living expenses, with the money kept in a low-risk, liquid and highly accessible account at a local bank or with your financial services provider.

Protect your documents. These days, many of your important financial materials, such as your investment statements, are available online, so they’re likely safe from any disaster. But you may still have some items, such as checkbooks, birth certificates, passports, Social Security cards, insurance policies and estate planning documents (i.e., will, living trust, etc.) on paper. Even if some or all of these things could eventually be replaced, it would take time and effort. You’re better off protecting them beforehand, possibly by keeping them in a safety deposit box at a local bank.

Save your receipts. You’ll want to save receipts for repairs and temporary lodging to submit to your insurance company. If you are not fully reimbursed for these expenses, they may be tax deductible, though you’ll need to consult with your tax advisor to be certain.

If you’re fortunate, you’ll never have to face a natural disaster that threatens your home and possessions. But it never hurts to be ready – just in case.

Rams win Battle of the Bridges from Uxbridge, 55-44

UXBRIDGE — Battling against a height disadvantage in essentially each game they play, the Northbridge High boys' varsity basketball team has to focus on its defense first in order to win games. And when the Rams took on a much taller Uxbridge High team in the most recent edition of the Battle of the Bridges — which took place on Tuesday, Jan. 15 — things weren't looking good for Northbridge out of the gate. The Spartans' Harrison Mansfield scored 12 points in the first quarter — including a pair of 3-pointers — as Uxbridge took a 14-9 lead on the Rams at the end of the first frame. But Northbridge was able to bear down on defense and in turn outscore the Spartans the rest of the way, 46-30, to win a 55-44 decision. "Our brand is to play good D, no easy shots, and at the start they were working harder than us and getting easier shots than us," said Rams' head coach Aaron Katz, adding that guarding Mansfield was "a point of emphasis to start." Mansfield did finish with a team-high 14 points, but he didn't score another basket after the first quarter (he made a pair of free throws in the fourth). Katz added that oftentimes double-teaming the likes of Thomas Sawyer and Jaideep Sidhu, a pair of post players nearing six-and-a-half feet tall, was a key to victory. Sawyer finished with 4 points and 9 rebounds; Sidhu 8 points and 2 boards. "The core group of guys have been playing since sophomore year, so we got past that early last year," Katz said of the lack of height problem. For Uxbridge head coach Ryan Hippert, it was a dream start followed by a nightmare ending. "We found matchups we liked and we came out hot; we just couldn't stick with that intensity the whole game," said Hippert. "We're very stagnant at some times and I thought we lost our composure a little bit at times." Northbridge scored the first seven points of the second quarter to rally back and take a 16-14 lead. After the Spartans tied the game at 16-16, the Rams scored next and never trailed again. They led at the half, 24-20. Midway through the third quarter, Sidhu scored six straight points for Uxbridge to close the deficit down to 31-26, but Northbridge's JJ Cannon calmed things down with a 3-pointer. Nearing the end of the frame Dillon Padula converted a three-point play with an acrobatic layup and coinciding free throw on the foul as the Rams took a 39-31 lead into the fourth. Uxbridge continued to battle, as they trailed by eight points with about four minutes to play, which Hippert attributed to his team's strong defense. "We played good D, that's what keeps us in games," he said, before mentioning the potential problem when playing Northbridge. "They pose a lot of matchup issues for us because we like to play man [man-to-man defense] and they do go five guards at some times. We obviously want to play big." Katz actually used the size disadvantage as a mismatch in his favor. "Us being small is more of an issue for them because they're so big," he said. The Rams attempted just 15 3-pointers and made only four shots from beyond the arc — Zachery Pryor's 3 unofficially putting the game away to extend Northbridge's advantage to 48-37 down the stretch — but they didn't need to rely on a lot of shots from distance, according to Katz. "Our main goal is not 3's, we want to get to the paint and see what happens from there.

I think they [Uxbridge] were worried about our 3's so we got a lot of stuff going to the hoop," said Katz. The Rams' scoring was balanced, as Robbie Cannon (11 rebounds) scored 14 points and Padula added 12. Northbridge, now 9-2, is in good shape to qualify for both the Division 3 Districts and the Clark Tournament, which bodes well for the 10 seniors on the squad. The Spartans are also hoping to qualify for both postseason tournaments. "We're in good standing of trying to get to the Districts and the Clark. We've been playing really good; today we took a step back I thought, but hopefully we can get back on track," said Hippert of now 6-4 Uxbridge. Tyler Tedford contributed 8 points and 10 rebounds for the Spartans.

Spartans successful fundraiser to donate toward Alzheimer's research

The Uxbridge High girls' varsity basketball team, with help from their JV counterparts, fundraised at their home games back on Dec. 27. The Spartans were successful in raising money to donate for Alzheimer's research. This was part of the community service they do as a team during their basketball season. The girls' varsity is coached by Tracy Larkin and the JV is coached by Lynn Lopez.

Northbridge nearly loses lead, then pulls away to take down Wolverines NORTHBRIDGE — Although the Northbridge High girls' varsity basketball team never lost its lead versus Leicester High at the Veterans Memorial Field House on Thursday, Jan. 17, they certainly came close. The Rams led the Wolverines, 21-12, after the opening quarter and by a 36-25 count at half-time, but, by the end of the third period, Leicester had battled back to make it a two-point game, 38-36.

"The exact quote I gave to the team, with a little energy, I said, 'We are playing not to lose the game instead of playing to win the game,'" explained Northbridge head coach Matt Gauthier as the team took to the court for the fourth quarter.

The Rams then embarked on a 15-2 run and eventually won the scoring total in the final frame, 18-10, to win a 56-46 decision.

Gauthier remembered looking at senior co-captains Jackie Puda and Kelly Moran as the fourth quarter began, imploring them to play like the leaders that they are.

"This is the time for senior captains to take over the game and make sure that we all settle down," he said.

When asked if Puda and Moran got the message, Gauthier said, "They absolutely did."

Puda hit a pair of free throws and knocked down a 3-pointer in the fourth quarter, as she finished with 15 points. And Moran pulled down a game-high 9 rebounds.

Gauthier was also impressed with the play of sophomore Hannah Lomonaco, who scored 9 points in the fourth and finished with a game-high 20 points, and sophomore Ally Boucher.

"She came in and got to the free throw line, she was getting offensive rebounds and she was playing great D," Gauthier said of Boucher, whose minutes played total was low but her energy level was high. "There's a sophomore who doesn't play as much as some of the others, but she was the spark in that fourth quarter that got us to get going. She was everything tonight."

Boucher made both of her free throw attempts and corralled 8 rebounds.

Northbridge is now 9-2, but the win was in doubt after that third quarter, which Gauthier attributed to Leicester's strong shooting display.

"They shot the ball very well tonight. We had people in their faces and Fontaine and Dufries shot the ball very well tonight," said Gauthier.

Senior Emily Fontaine and sophomore Alexa Dufries led the Wolverines with 11 and 13 points, respectively.

Fontaine made an off-balance 3-pointer to beat the second quarter buzzer to keep her team within striking distance. She then opened the third quarter with another 3 to keep the momentum going out of the locker room. Dufries scored in all four quarters, mostly from the midrange distance and in.

Leicester head coach Dave Padavano admitted that his team struggled in the early going before turning it on in the second half.

"They're a very well-coached team, Northbridge, they're a very quick team, they're a very guard-oriented team and we had difficulty staying with them in the first half," said Padavano. "We changed defenses, we made some shots and we took better care of the ball [in the second half]. We fight, fight, fight right to the end."

While the Wolverines are now 7-3 and have a pair of losses against Southern Worcester County League A Division opponents — Leicester resides in SWCL B but is trying to "take it to the next level," according to Padavano — they believe that they can continue to win games as the season heads into the second half.

"I cannot be any happier with how they played tonight — we had them," said Padavano. "We play like that, we're going to be successful the rest of the way."

One goal proves to be enough as Rams edge Fitchburg, 1-0

MARLBOROUGH — With the Northbridge High and Fitchburg/Monty Tech varsity ice hockey teams skating through a scoreless first period on Monday, Jan. 21 at the New England Sports Center, it appeared as if both teams would head to the locker rooms tied.

But, with 51.8 seconds to play, the Rams took advantage of a two-on-one situation to score the game's first goal. It proved to be the only tally of the contest, so Northbridge went home winners, 1-0.

"We always preach finishing strong, whether it's your shift or a period or a game," first-year Rams' head coach Ryan Neville said of the late goal. "I've seen way too many times mental lapses or breakdowns in the last minute of a period lead to a goal. In this game there were a bunch of chances that didn't go in, and finishing strong in the first period proved to be the game-winner."

BY NICK ETHIER
SPORTS STAFF WRITER

On the scoring play Northbridge defenseman Patrick Liddy cleared the puck out of his team's zone with a long pass into center ice and onto the stick of Nick Locurto. From there Locurto skated into Fitchburg's zone and, after losing the puck off his stick for a moment, he regained possession and sent a centering pass to the crease, where Liam Gill banged it into the net, beating goalie Spencer McCrillis (22 saves).

"We preach three-zone play and everything that we do starts in the D zone," said Neville of how the play developed. "A quick stretch pass through the neutral zone caught Nick Locurto with a two-on-one. He mishandled the puck, but perseverance, he did not give up on it, went to the corner, picked it up and threw it in front of the net."

Although Gill's goal didn't showcase his speed, he was flying up and down the ice all game long.

"On any given night he's the fastest kid on the ice and we certainly use that to our advantage. He creates pressure in all three zones," said Neville.

Both the second and third periods then saw plenty of scoring chances, Fitchburg's best coming early in the second when they hit the post, but both defenses stood tall. On the Northbridge side, goalie Chris Wells finished with 20 saves for the shutout.

"As a former goalie myself, I like to see that," Neville said of Wells' shutout. "Chris has been strong all year for us and I'm glad he got the shutout tonight. He certainly deserved it and he's been one of the reasons why we've gone on this stretch in the last five games. He gives us a chance to win every night."

The stretch Neville spoke of is a five-game unbeaten streak. The Rams opened the season at 2-5 and, after tying Assabet Valley, have now rattled off four straight victories to improve to 6-5-1. Northbridge is also 4-0-1 in Russell Conference play.

Fitchburg, a fellow Russell Conference team, dropped to 5-6-1.

"We started off a little slow. Every game from here on out is important for us to accumulate enough points to make the tournament," Neville said of qualifying for the Central Mass. Division 3A Tournament, where the Rams need to either total 20-plus points or finish in the top two in the Russell standings. "From a point perspective it was important, it was a league game, which was important. It keeps us undefeated in our league, which is super important as well."

Neville again stressed how important winning another league game was, saying, "Teams are knocking each other off left and right. It's anybody's league, which is why league games are so important."

OBITUARIES

Clementine “Cleo” Webber, 98

SUTTON- Clementine “Cleo” Webber, 98, a devoted daughter, wife, mother, and grandmother, passed away peacefully after a short illness on Jan. 15, 2019, at the Rose Monahan Hospice Home in Worcester, surrounded by her loving family. Her husband of 40 years, Frederick G. Webber, died in 1995.

She leaves her daughter and son-in law, Karen A. Webber and Jack Sheehan of Sutton; 3 grandchildren, John, Joseph, and Anna Sheehan; and numerous cousins. Cleo was born in Wilbraham on July 19, 1920, and lived there many years before moving to Sutton in 2008. She was the second child of Stanley and Anna (Szczygiel) Tumidajski. Her older sister, Stella Tumidajski, died in 2012. Cleo attended Catholic schools and Commerce High School in Springfield, leaving during the Great Depression to find employment. She worked for many years at the F.W. Sickles Co. in Chicopee., where she met her husband. In her later years she worked in retail at the Albert Steiger Co. store in Eastfield before retiring. She most loved taking care of her family and her home. She especially enjoyed working in her yard and could be seen with rake or broom in hand into her late 90s. She read the newspaper every day and kept a diary, recording events big and small. Cleo embraced goodness and kindness and valued family, faith, hard work and frugality. She was always generous with her time, putting the needs of others first. She was most proud of her grandchildren. Her funeral Mass was held on Fri. Jan.18 at 10am in St. Mark’s Parish, Boston Rd., Sutton. Burial was at Hillcrest Cemetery in Springfield. Calling hours at Jackman Funeral Home, 7 Mechanic St., Douglas were held on Thurs. from 5-7 pm. Donations in Cleo’s memory may be made to St. Mark’s - Haiti Fund, 356 Boston Road, Sutton, MA 01590, or to the Rose Monahan Hospice Home, 10 Judith Road, Worcester, MA 01602. Daniel L. “Dan” St. Francis Jr., 42

WHITINSVILLE- Daniel L. “Dan” St. Francis Jr., 42, passed away on Monday, January 14, 2019 at his work after being stricken ill. He is survived by his loving fiancé of 8 years, Kimberly A. (Forzese) Hazzard, their daughter, Samantha O. St. Francis “Daddy’s little girl”; Dan’s parents, Daniel Sr. and Janice (Duvernay) St. Francis; 2 daughters Emma and Lilly St. Francis of England; 2 brothers, Sean M. St. Francis of West Warren, and Nicholas R. St. Francis and his wife Kelly of Whitinsville; 3 step-children whom he raised and loved as his own, Corey, Christopher, and Rylee Hazzard, as well as many aunts, uncles, cousins, and one nephew. Born in Milford on April 6, 1976 Daniel grew up and lived his whole life in Whitinsville. He was a graduate of Northbridge High School Class of 1994, where he was granted the John Sousa Phillips Band Award for his musical talent in playing the trumpet. After high school Dan also attended Sacred Heart University in Fairfield, CT. He worked as a security guard for MDS Protection Services in the Milford area, and previously for TruGreen Lawn Care in Franklin. Dan was very active in his children’s sporting events, coaching Northbridge little league, and teaching his daughter to fish. He was a very outgoing man who always seemed to be happy and smiling, despite his struggles with MS, which brought him intense pain. He loved spending time with his kids and will be remembered by his family as a much adored fiancée’, father, son and brother who always provided for his family. As to his family’s wishes, Dan will be cremated and there will not be services at this time. In lieu of flowers donations in Dan’s memory may be made to his GoFundMe account created to alleviate costs of his funeral service: <http://www.gofundme.com/hrw79z-brothers-passing>. Jane A. Rondeau, 89

UXBRIDGE- Jane A. (Hetherington) Rondeau, 89, passed away on Sat. Jan. 19, 2019 at Lydia Taft House in Uxbridge, peacefully aside her loving family. She is survived by her husband of 68 years Edward J. Rondeau Sr. She is also survived by 3 children, Edward J. Rondeau Jr. of Douglas, Deborah J. Boucher of Uxbridge, and John A. Rondeau of Uxbridge; 7 grandchildren; 4 great-grandchildren; a brother, George Hetherington and his wife Dorothy of Lake Winnepesaukee, NH, and a sister, Lada Nydam of Lancaster, PA. Jane was predeceased by 2 children, Rodney O. “Ollie” Rondeau in 2009, and Carl E. Rondeau in 2014. Born in Detroit, MI on February 23, 1929 Jane was the daughter of George and Emma (Theriault) Hetherington and grew up in Detroit before moving to the Northbridge area. She was a graduate of Northbridge High School, and the Sartorial Arts and Interior

Decorating Center in Detroit. Mrs. Rondeau was primarily a homemaker but, did work part time at numerous businesses in the area including the former Whitin Machine Works, GE out of Ashland, and the Mendon Drive-In. She has been a resident of Uxbridge for the past 40 years. She had a great passion for music, and enjoyed playing the piano, and gardening. She was a sweet woman and will be deeply missed by her family. She will be remembered for her warm loving nature and her great talent of playing the piano. Her family would like to extend a special thank you to the staff at Lydia Taft House for their loving care and attention to Jane. As to Mrs. Rondeau’s wishes, she will not have funeral services and a private burial will take place at St. Mary’s Cemetery in Uxbridge at a later date. In lieu of flowers, donations in Mrs. Rondeau’s memory may be made to: the Lydia Taft House Activity Fund, 60 Quaker Hwy., Uxbridge, MA 01569. The basics of driving with trailers in tow

Active adults and busy families understand that one perk to owning a pickup truck or an SUV is the ability to tow items behind the vehicle. Many of these trucks already come equipped with trailer hitches that make it possible to tow boats, RVs, snowmobiles and more. But safe and successful towing requires knowledge of the basics of hitching a trailer and some special rules of the road. The following are a few safety tips for drivers unaccustomed to towing.

- Know your vehicle's tow weight capacity. The owner's manual will list the maximum weight a vehicle can tow safely, but this is just a simplified estimation of data. To tow successfully, it's important to know your vehicle's gross combined weight rating, or GCWR. This includes the vehicle itself, its passengers and cargo, as well as the trailer and the trailer's cargo. More passengers on board reduces the amount of weight you can pull. Another weight factor is the tongue weight, or how much of the trailer's weight rests on the hitch, which should be around 10 percent of the trailer's weight. This helps reduce trailer sway and can improve steering.

- Practice proper weight distribution. Distribute the weight of the item being towed to make towing smoother and safer. The cargo's center of gravity should be low, and most of the weight should be toward the front. Weight on either side also should be even. These steps will help prevent the trailer from fishtailing or flipping over.

- Use the right hitch equipment. Adjust the hitch so that the trailer being towed is relatively level to your vehicle when attached. Connect lights to your trailer through the hitch system so that brake lights and other indicators work properly. Make sure the hitch ball is the right size for your trailer, otherwise the trailer might disconnect during towing. Use a pin and safety chains to keep the trailer secure.

- Check if extra brakes are required. Many states require a separate braking system on towed vehicles with a loaded weight in excess of 1,000 pounds. Newer trucks may have a built-in controller for brakes or you may need to have a system installed. Experts from Popular Mechanics advise using a trailer brake output system that matches the trailer brake output to the tow vehicle's deceleration.

- Slow down and drive more cautiously. A vehicle towing a trailer will not maneuver the same way as a vehicle without a trailer attached. Give yourself a greater cushion of space between other vehicles. It may take longer for you to brake because of the added weight. Get used to using side-view mirrors because the trailer may block your rearview. Larger, extended side-view mirrors may help you feel more comfortable and safe. Make wide turns so that the trailer will clear curbs and not tip over.

- Avoid backing up. Unless you're experienced with driving large rigs, you may find reversing with a trailer very challenging. Limit situations that require backing up. Park in pull-through parking spots when possible. If you need to back up, move slowly and with your hand on the bottom of the steering wheel, turning it in the direction you want the trailer to go.

- Practice, practice, practice. Get acclimated with towing in a parking lot or on empty streets before taking your trailer out on the open road.

Protect your home (and more) from winter's freeze

Freezing temperatures may be good for ice skating or building snowmen, but sub-freezing temperatures can be dangerous for the average person and his or her home.

Cold weather often leaves people scurrying to do whatever is necessary to safeguard themselves from the big chill. But it's important homeowners also protect their homes in cold weather.

PLUMBING

Plumbing and pipes may be vulnerable to cold weather. Frozen pipes may burst and cause substantial damage to a home, potentially causing flooding and structural damage.

Homeowners should disconnect and drain garden hoses before winter arrives. Water to outdoor hose bibs should be turned off, though the valves on these outdoor faucets should be left open to drain. Also, outdoor faucets can be covered with insulating foam covers.

The Red Cross says pipes that freeze most frequently include pipes in unheated areas, such as basements, attics, garages, and crawl spaces. Close vents to the outside in areas like attics and basements to limit the amount of cold air that gets indoors. Think about insulating unheated areas, as well as using pipe sleeves, heat tape or wraps on exposed pipes.

By opening kitchen and bathroom cabinet doors, homeowners can allow warm air from a home to reach pipes under the sink. During extreme freezes, keep cold water dripping from a sink to prevent pipes from freezing.

SERVICE HVAC SYSTEMS

It's important to ensure that heating systems are working properly prior to the cold-weather season. It may only take hours for the interior of a home to reach dangerously low temperatures without adequate heat. Homeowners should schedule annual check-ups of furnaces and hot water heaters. Inspect the heat exchanger for cracks, install a clean air filter and make sure all thermostats are working properly.

HAVE FUEL READY

Homeowners who heat their homes with oil, wood or coal should make sure they have plenty of fuel on hand in advance of winter. Shortages can occur, and it may take some time for new fuel to arrive in the midst of a cold snap.

As a precaution, homeowners can rely on portable space heaters to fill in the heating gaps during freezing temperatures. Exercise extreme caution with these devices, turning them off when leaving the room and remembering to avoid overloading outlets.

PROTECT OUTSIDE

Drain birdbaths, clean out downspouts and remove water from other items where water can freeze and cause damage. Inspect roofing prior to the snowy season, but stay off roofs during freezing weather.

Remove snow shovels and other winter gear from storage and make sure the items are easily accessible during snowstorms.

Winter's bite can be severe. Homeowners can protect themselves and their properties when the freeze sets in.

The basics of driving with trailers in tow

Active adults and busy families understand that one perk to owning a pickup truck or an SUV is the ability to tow items behind the vehicle. Many of these trucks already come equipped with trailer hitches that make it possible to tow boats, RVs, snowmobiles and more. But safe and successful towing requires knowledge of the basics of hitching a trailer and some special rules of the road. The following are a few safety tips for drivers unaccustomed to towing.

- Know your vehicle's tow weight capacity. The owner's manual will list the maximum weight a vehicle can tow safely, but this is just a simplified estimation of data. To tow successfully, it's important to know your vehicle's gross combined weight rating, or GCWR. This includes the vehicle itself, its passengers and cargo, as well as the trailer and the trailer's cargo. More passengers on board reduces the amount of weight you can pull. Another weight factor is the tongue weight, or how much of the trailer's weight rests on the hitch, which should be around 10 percent of the trailer's weight. This helps reduce trailer sway and can improve steering.

- Practice proper weight distribution. Distribute the weight of the item being towed to make towing smoother and safer. The cargo's center of gravity should be low, and most of the weight should be toward the front. Weight on either side also should be even. These steps will help prevent the trailer from fishtailing or flipping over.

- Use the right hitch equipment. Adjust the hitch so that the trailer being towed is relatively level to your vehicle when attached. Connect lights to your trailer through the hitch system so that brake lights and other indicators work properly. Make sure the hitch ball is the right size for your trailer, otherwise the trailer might disconnect during towing. Use a pin and safety chains to keep the trailer secure.

- Check if extra brakes are required. Many states require a separate braking system on towed vehicles with a loaded weight in excess of 1,000 pounds. Newer trucks may have a built-in controller for brakes or you may need to have a system installed. Experts from Popular Mechanics advise using a trailer brake output system that matches the trailer brake output to the tow vehicle's deceleration.

- Slow down and drive more cautiously. A vehicle towing a trailer will not maneuver the same way as a vehicle without a trailer attached. Give yourself a greater cushion of space between other vehicles. It may take longer for you to brake because of the added weight.

Safely and successfully driving with a trailer takes practice and patience.

Get used to using side-view mirrors because the trailer may block your rearview. Larger, extended side-view mirrors may help you feel more comfortable and safe. Make wide turns so that the trailer will clear curbs and not tip over.

- Avoid backing up. Unless you're experienced with driving large rigs, you may find reversing with a trailer very challenging. Limit situations that require backing up. Park in pull-through parking spots when possible. If you need to back up, move slowly and with your hand on the bottom of the steering wheel, turning it in the direction you want the trailer to go.

- Practice, practice, practice. Get acclimated with towing in a parking lot or on empty streets before taking your trailer out on the open road.

Why clean air filters are important

Replacing air filters is an inexpensive way to keep vehicles performing at peak capacity.

Vehicle owners likely know to check fluid levels and get their cars' oil changed, but air filters may not be at the top of their maintenance checklists. Despite being a relatively inexpensive part, air filters often go overlooked.

Air filters have an important job in a vehicle, prolonging the life span of engines and helping cars run more smoothly and efficiently.

Purpose of vehicle air filters

Vehicle combustion engines operate with a mixture of fuel and air. Without oxygen, gasoline or diesel fuels cannot burn properly and power the engine. The air filter's job is to prevent dirt, dust and other debris from being sucked into an engine. Otherwise, grime can build up and impede engine performance or cause erosion of parts under the hood.

It is much more cost-effective to routinely change air filters than replace expensive engine parts. Rather than ignoring air filters until the last minute, drivers can take steps to keep filters clean and functioning at peak performance.

- Improve fuel efficiency. Clogged air filters reduce air flow to engines, resulting in an improper ratio of air to fuel. As a result, spark plugs can be negatively affected and the engine may idle roughly or misfire. These scenarios can greatly affect fuel efficiency as well as cause engine deposits from rich fuel. To save money and trips to the fuel pump, replace filters regularly. According to GearHeads, for older cars, studies have indicated that by replacing a dirty air filter, one can improve gas mileage by as much as 14 percent.

- Reduce stress on the engine. Because of the air-to-fuel mix in engines, even a mixture that is slightly off balance can affect what is going on under the hood. That means the engine must work harder to get enough clean air into the chamber to complete the combustion cycle, says the Automotive Training Center.

- Enjoy more power. A filter that is saturated with dirt will restrict air flow. In such instances, drivers may notice a lack of power during acceleration. Replacing the filter can easily restore that pep.

- Reduce vehicle emissions. Environmental concerns are a priority for many people. By keeping the engine working properly, with the advantage of clean, unobstructed air entering the chamber, a vehicle may produce lower emissions.

Replacing air filters is an easy fix that many drivers can do themselves, or ask their mechanics to do during oil changes or other repair shop visits.

Safety in numbers: Why it pays to replace headlight bulbs in pairs

(MS) — When it comes to vehicle maintenance, the rule of two has long reigned among professional automotive technicians and driving safety advocates. In accordance to this rule, drivers replacing important parts in their cars and trucks, such as tires, brakes, shocks and wiper blades, should always do so in pairs.

Replacing parts in pairs can ensure vehicles are properly balanced and functioning safely. But it's not just tires, brakes and other big-ticket components that should be replaced in pairs. Vehicle lighting plays an integral role in keeping drivers and their passengers safe, and motorists should exercise the same caution regarding their vehicles' headlights, taillights and turn signals that they do when maintaining the rest of their cars and trucks.

Why replace aging headlight bulbs?

Few drivers include headlight bulb replacement in their vehicle maintenance routines. But old headlight bulbs can drastically compromise visibility at night, when drivers' visual acuity is naturally reduced by as much as 70 percent. As headlight bulbs age, the effects of exposure to sunlight, ozone and pollution can significantly reduce their light output. According to Philips Automotive, a leading manufacturer of vehicle lighting components, headlight bulbs begin to project significantly less light within two to three years of their initial usage, producing dimmer light outputs that compromise the safety of drivers and their passengers. For example, new headlight bulbs capable of projecting 240-foot beams in front of a vehicle may see that projection dwindle to just 160 feet within two to three years.

Why replace bulbs two at a time?

In an effort to promote the importance of changing headlight bulbs two at a time, Philips developed the "Change In Pairs" safety campaign, which aims to educate motorists about the dangers of dimming lights while promoting the many reasons that changing bulbs in pairs makes the road safer for all travelers. To support this safety initiative, Philips also packages its Upgrade Headlight Bulbs in pairs.

Though replacing two head-

Changing headlight bulbs in pairs assures that the road ahead will be properly illuminated and that drivers will get the full safety benefit of the vehicle's headlights, just as the carmaker intended.

light bulbs when only one is dimming may seem unwarranted, maintaining a consistent light output in both headlights makes the road safer for drivers, their passengers and oncoming motorists. When only one bulb is replaced, the resulting light output can be both unbalanced and unpredictable, providing inadequate lighting that can compromise driver visibility. In addition, oncoming motorists may experience difficulty seeing vehicles with just one headlight operating at full capacity, and some may even mistake oncoming cars and trucks for motorcycles, creating positioning issues for drivers on both sides of the yellow line.

How else can drivers improve visibility?

In addition to replacing headlight bulbs in pairs every two to three years, drivers can take the following proactive measures to reduce the likelihood that their vision will be compromised while on the road.

- Replace worn out wiper blades. Wiper blades need to be changed each season or in three-month intervals. Rubber wiper blades can grow brittle rather quickly, potentially compromising driver visibility at times when they need their vision to be as strong as possible, such as when rain or snow is falling.

- Clean interior glass and mirrors. Over time, interior glass can develop a film-like buildup that reduces vision and creates hazy reflections from the sun. Smokers may notice such buildup is especially thick in their vehicles. Periodically clean interior glass and mirrors to prevent this film from compromising your vision.

- Don't hang accessories in your vehicle. Fuzzy dice, photos and other items hung on rear-view mirrors can prove distracting and block you from seeing the road.

Keep Your Car On The Road To Safety And Savings

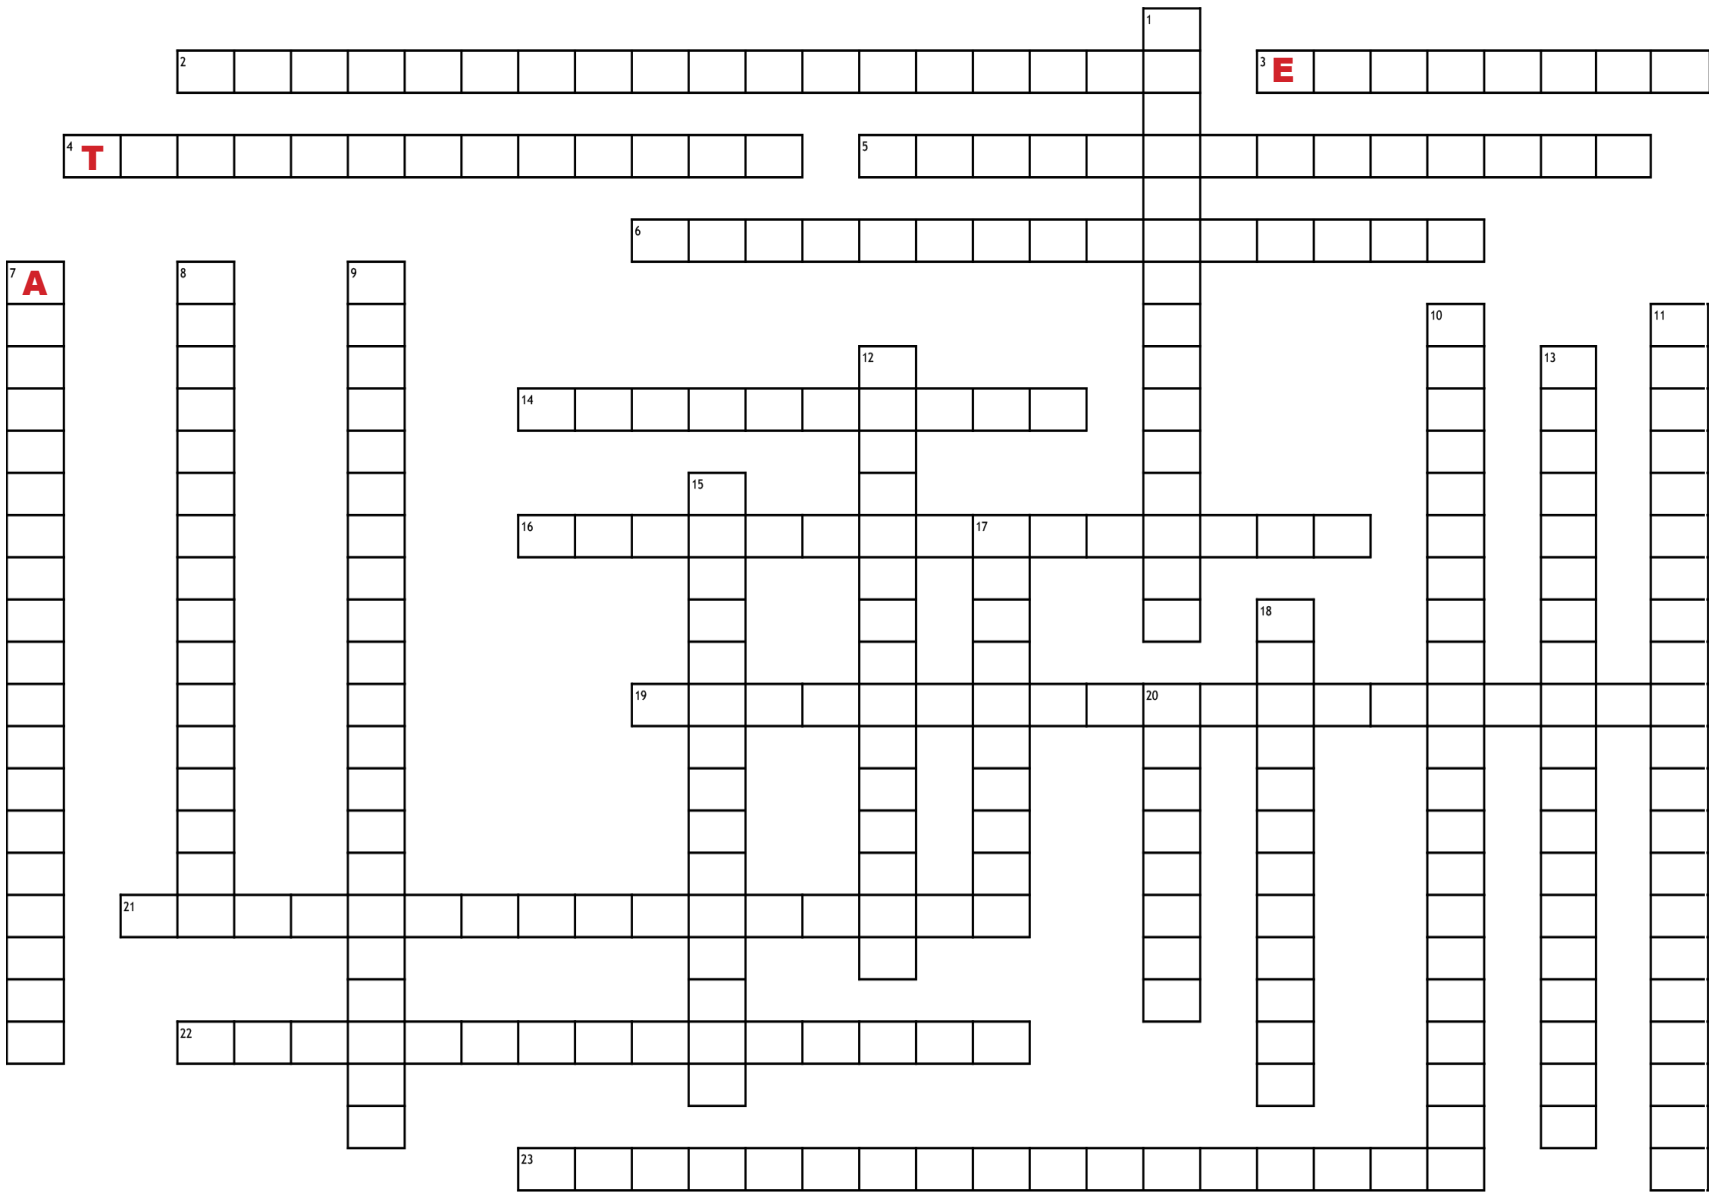

Proper precautions and preparation can help you stay safer on the road no matter what weather elements are thrown your way.

(NAPS)
When the weather turns cooler, it's a hot idea to prepare your car for hazardous conditions.

- Here are five tips that can help you outsmart winter:
1. Plan your trip. Check the weather, road conditions and traffic along your route. Allow plenty of time so you don't have to rush. Familiarize yourself with directions and maps before you go, even if you use a navigation app, and let others know your route and anticipated arrival time.
 2. Carry a safety kit. It should include a snow shovel, broom and ice scraper for getting mud, snow and ice out of your way and off your windshield; abrasive material such as sand or kitty litter, in case your vehicle gets stuck in muck, ice or snow; jumper cables; a flashlight so you're not left in the dark; warning devices such as flares and emergency markers so you can be seen on the side of the road; blankets for protection from the cold; a cell phone with charger; and bottled water so you stay hydrated.
 3. Check your tires. Inspect your tires—including the spare—at least monthly and before long road trips. It takes only about five minutes. See that each is filled to the vehicle manufacturer's recommended inflation pressure, listed in your owner's manual and on the driver's side door frame. Look closely at the tread. Put a penny in, Lincoln's head facing down. If you can see all of Lincoln's head, the tread depth is less than 1/16th of an inch and it's time for a new tire.
 4. Stay up-to-date on your car's health. With an all-in-one connected car solution such as Hum by Verizon, you can check the status of critical features including battery and engine from your phone and detect problems before you hit the road. Hum automatically sends alerts for hundreds of issues, including problems with the coolant, alternator, electronics, wiring and more. It even gives you the Diagnostic Trouble Code (DTC) so you can be on the same page as your mechanic.
 5. Be prepared for accidents or breakdowns. Connected car solutions can help you request roadside assistance for flat tires, dead batteries, break-downs, lockouts, towing, fuel delivery and more. If you do get stuck along the road, stay with your car and keep the interior light on.
- And when it matters most, crash response technology can make all the difference. If you've installed a solution like Hum, it can detect a crash and send emergency services to your location. An emergency contact can be contacted in the event of an accident.
