Finalists for town administrator named

BY JASON BLEAU VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – Four individuals are being considered to fill the vacant Town Administrator seat in Charlton. The Town Administrator Search Committee heard the recommendations during a meeting on Nov. 21 where four names were presented as candidates for the job with interviews to take place next month. The candidates are Andrew Golas, who serves as the town administrator in Barre; Thomas Guerino, the former town administrator for Bourne; Kimberly Newman, who is the current Mendon town administrator; and Matthew Shelby, the land use and economic development director for Acton.

The candidates each bring differing levels of experience to the table. Golas has been Barre's town administrator for two years previously serving as an executive assistant in Palmer. Guerino spent 14 years with the town of Bourne before the two parties separated in 2019 and previously served nine years as executive director of the Massachusetts Rural Development Council. Newman has led the town of Mendon as administrator five years and was previously an administrator for the city of Lyndon in Kansas and the assistant town manager for Killingly, Connecticut. Selby has never served as an administrator but has held his role as development director in Acton for three years previously serving separate stints as the director of community development and health and economic development coordinator for Ashland.

These four candidates will look to succeed Robin

Craver, who vacated her seat in Charlton after 13 years as of Oct. 1, 2019. Police Chief Graham Maxfield has served as Town Manager in the interim. Meet and greets with the four candidates have been scheduled for Dec. 4 from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Charlton Town Hall with interviews in public forum to take place the following night, Dec. 5, from 6 until 10 p.m.

Hazard Mitigation Plan finalized

BY JASON BLEAU VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – The town of Charlton has approved a new Hazard Mitigation Plan pending final approval by Federal Emergency Management Agency.

The process of producing a new mitigation plan started in 2018 leading to a public information event in June of this year. The final plan was sent to FEMA and the Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency, MEMA, has now been approved by the Board of Selectmen to receive one final look-over and approval from FEMA.

Trish Settles, the Deputy Director for Regional Collaboration and Community Planning for the Central Massachusetts Regional Panning Commission, or CMRPC, attended the Nov. 20 meeting of the Board of Selectmen to see the board's approval of the final mitigation plan. The discussion was relatively straight forward with Settles explaining that Charlton will be the final town in her organizations attempt to help several Massachusetts communities update their expires and outdated plans for emergency situations and events.

The luncheon, which was sold out, was organized by Peter Bashai, a former Quilt of Valor recipient himself for his service in the Navy. The event was also attended by Ashley Jordan, a rising Country star from Harvard who sang an impressive rendition of the National Anthem to begin the event.

There were nine recipients of Quilts of Valor this year, each an active service member or veteran who had been nominated for the honor. The recipients on Nov. 10 were REGION REGION — Big Brothers Big Sisters of Central Mass & Metrowest was awarded $20,000 from Middlesex Savings Charitable Foundation for calendar year 2019. The funds will be used to support one-to-one mentoring programs between adult, volunteer mentors and at-risk children living in Middlesex County and Westborough.

Big Brothers Big Sisters of Central Mass & Metrowest was awarded $20,000 from Middlesex Savings Charitable Foundation for calendar year 2019.

There are two different mentoring programs in the region that this funding will support. The community-based program matches children referred to by parents or guardians who are in need of the extra support that a mentor provides to help them succeed. The volunteer mentor (Big) meets with his/her mentee (Little) on their own schedule regularly, often engaged in activities in the community in which they live. The site-based program also matches children needing that extra help, but the volunteers originate from local corporations or colleges and see their Little Brothers or Little Sisters at a local site, typically at an after-school program.

In the past year, BBBS CM/MW has created and supported nearly 400 mentoring matches in Middlesex County and Westborough and expects to make 60 new matches in the upcoming year.

"We are so grateful for the support that Middlesex Savings Bank, and its foundation, has provided for our mission. Research has indicated that there are thousands of children in the Metrowest and Middlesex County region that need a reliable, positive, and effective mentor to help meet life's challenges - today, " said Jeffrey Chin, MSW, LCSW, Chief Executive Officer for Big Brothers Big Sisters of Central Mass & Metrowest. "This incredible support from our friends at Middlesex Savings Bank goes a long way in helping us address this need and make an impact on our communities.'

munities including Charlton to assist in the development of the plan update. The town's last plan was developed somewhere around 2012. It's since expired. We've worked with a number of communities to individually update that plan. (Charlton) is that last of those 27," Settles said.

Latte,r she stressed the importance of approving the new plan and how it will allow Charlton access to recovery resources should an emergency occurz $\s.$

"A hazard mitigation plan is important for a town to have as it makes the town eligible for funds in the event that there is a disaster declaration in the state. The series of storms last winter resulted in a declaration that makes funds available. This plan identifies the areas within the town where the town can be proactive," said Settles. "For every dollar a town spends on mitigation typically you save about four dollars in what you'd be using the remedy that down the line, so we feel it's really important."

This financial benefit was stressed by Charlton Fire Department Lt. Carl Eckman, who represents the department in matters of emergency management. Eckman has been a go-to resource and contact for the CMRPC throughout the process of developing the new mitigation plan and put into perspective the cost-saving benefits of having the document in place.

"For the hazard mitigation grants that are out there you gave to have a plan approved. Say, for instance, all of a sudden, you're getting an area where it keeps flooding. A culvert could fix it. They have a formula they use where if they had to detour traffic, say they had to go around two miles, they take into effect the mileage, the time wasted, and say you had 2,000 cars go by there a day it could be a significant amount of money. Say it was $50,000 for the culvert, their figures came out to $52,000 you are wasting because of not having the culvert there. They would give it to you for $2,000 or even a dollar, as long as you can show that you'd be wasting more money there by even a dollar they will pay for it. It's a very wise thing to have," Lt. Eckman said.

Selectmen approved the plan unanimously which now goes to FEMA before it is officially implemented in Charlton.

Numbering changes in store for highway exits

CourtesyPhotos

Before and after photos provided by MassDOT present the current Exit signs compared to the new mile marking signs to be installed

BY JASON BLEAU CORRESPONDENT

REGION — The Massachusetts Department of Transportation has announced a new highway exit sign numbering system set to impact the region and the state over the next three years.

Interstates 395 and 290 are among the many highways that will receive the renumbering which will conform to the mile-marker format of numbering rather than using sequential numbers. Connecticut also adapted its highways signs to represent mile markers several years ago. The change, which was announce on Nov. 18, is meant to conform with the requirements of the Federal Highway Administration's Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices issued in 2009 which seeks that all states adopt a mile-based sign numbering system. Massachusetts is one of only three states current-ly in noncompliance including New Hampshire and Delaware and failure to make this change could result in loss of federal funding according to the MassDOT.

The Department of Transportation released a pamphlet online detailing the finer details of the project which confirms that the state has committed to making the transition by January of 2022. The change is expected to start in the western part of the state and working eastward one route at a time with the changes taking place from east to west or north to south depending on the roadway. As was done in Connecticut, "Old Exit" signs are expected to be included to help commuters with the transition for at least two years. Exits that lead to the same interchange, such as the current Exit 4 in Oxford off of I-395, would not be labeled with different mile markers but would maintain the single number representing the initial mile followed by letters like "a" and "b." Exit numbers will be rounded to the nearest mile with the lowest possible number being Exit 1. Only four corridors will remain unchanged through the plan, Route 213, Interstates 291 and 391 and the Lowell Connector. The Federal Highway Safety Improvement Program is providing 90 percent of the funds for the state to make the transition, with the other 10 percent paid for by state highway funds.

The DOT explained that there are several factors that play into this change. One major element involves calculating miles traveled and allowing drivers to better deterdistance mine between destinations. It is also believed to help with reporting highway incidents more accurately and it would prevent the need for costly renumbering if new exits were added to routes. Most of all though the change would bring Massachusetts in line with 47 other states and preserve funding on the federal level. The interstate sign highway sign numbering transition is expected to commence in the summer of 2020.

Asked for comment on the hearing, Gobi, Senate Chair of the Massachusetts Food Systems Caucus and Senate Chair of the Joint Committee on Environment and Natural Resources, remarked, "HIP has been extremely successful with our farmers, playing a critical role in providing healthy foods to many of our most vulnerable neighbors. I appreciate the committee's attention in hearing the bill, and I look forward to seeing it moved out of committee in the near future.'

Food The Caucus System convened has around three specific priorities this legislative session: increasing access to food and reducing food insecurity, protecting land and water resources used for agriculture and advanceconomic ing development opportunities in the food system sector.

furthers HIP all of these goals - since its inception in April 2017, HIP has provided vulnerable families and individuals across the Commonwealth with vital access to otherwise unaffordable fresh, healthy and local fruits and vegetables and spurred significant increases in sales for local farms across Massachusetts. To date, HIP has yielded $12 million in sales of fresh fruits and vegetables for more than 200 farms in Massachusetts.

providing 65,000 families in our Commonwealth with HIP incentives. This increased revenue to farms means farmers have an easier time staying in business, which in turn ensures that their farmland stays as farmland.

The program demonstrates the exceptional results that occur when state agencies work together toward a common goal that connects their missions. The Department of Transitional Assistance, in their role as lead agency for HIP, is providing more and healthier foods for SNAP households. The Department of Agricultural Resources has helped farmers sustain their operations through increased sales, and the Department of Public Health has helped vulnerable communities move toward better health outcomes by healthier eating. Thanks to this collaborative effort, HIP is far exceeding expectations, demonstrating the need for continuation of this program, which both families and farmers have already come to depend on. This legislation directs the three departments to continue this collaboration.

The ability to ensure consistent, uninterrupted operation of the program is essential to the success of HIP, as suspensions have limited farmers' ability to plan and sustain meaningful business as well as the program's ability to maximize effectiveness in changing consumers eating habits, and left vulnerable program clients without a precious resource. Passage of this legislation would be a significant step towards ensuring a long term solution to these challenges.

THE PURPLE POST Title 5 Inspections

Greetings residents and readers! If you're new to the Purple Post, we welcome you warmly (and we need some warmth these days) and if you're back again... welcome back to our column. As you may know, we discuss real estate topics that are hopefully informative, fun, realistic and helpful.

Question du jour: What is a Title 5 and why do I need one? Well, let's start by saying, you only need think about this subject if you have an "on-site sewerage disposal system" on your property. In laymen's terms, if you have town sewer, then a Title 5 is not required when you sell your property. However, if you have a septic system by chance or even a cesspool you will need to know about Title 5.

Title 5 came about in the year 1995 when the state environmental code began requiring inspections on said sewerage systems. Basically, it's an evaluation of the working condition of your system to ensure that the public health or environment is not affected negatively in any way.

If you are selling your home, and it's been 2 years or more since your last Title 5 Inspection, then you will need to get a new one done in order to close on your home. But wait! There is one exception that extends the validity of your Title 5 for an additional year... That is if you can prove you have had your system pumped by a company within each year since installation, vou could be granted a 3 year (instead of the 2 year) grace period.

Who maintains these records and issues these certificates you ask? Your local Board of Health of course. Your agent or Realtor will help you understand the process further when the time comes. Always a good idea to have a knowledgeable professional on your side. Like us at Purple Porch!

Thanks for joining us. We would love to hear from you with questions, suggestions on topics or comments. Please find us at GoPurplePorch.com or on Facebook. Email us at GoPurplePorch@ gmail.com as well. Until next time, stay warm everybody and we wish you a Happy Holiday Season!

Alijah Age 11

Alijah is a social, engaging and polite boy of Cape Verdean descent. His favorite activities include playing sports, board games and card games, and singing and dancing. He also likes cooking, baking and swimming. Alijah is particularly good at basketball and he enjoys showing others his skills.

Alijah does benefit from accommodations listed on his IEP to assist him with more emotional/social supports. He does well in school and is performing on grade level. Alijah is hopeful that he will be able to step down to a less restrictive setting in the near future.

Legally freed for adoption, Alijah will do best in a family with no other children in the home or with children older than he is. An ideal family will be able to give Alijah the one-on-one attention that he craves, and provide him with structure and clear rules. He would also love for his future family to have pets or be open to adopting a pet. It is very important to Alijah that he is able to maintain contact with his eight siblings who are also looking to be adopted.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you're at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

Nichols College announces final phase of historic campaign

DUDLEY — In 2015, Nichols College launched a $45 million comprehensive campaign - the largest in its history - in honor of the institution's bicentennial. In June 2017, when the campaign had surpassed its goal with $46.1 million, two donors were inspired to keep it going.

Nichols Board Chair John Davis '72 and his brother, Trustee Steve Davis '80, proposed to extend the campaign with a $5 million conditional matching challenge and an additional $20 million goal.

Nichols President Susan West Engelkemeyer, Ph.D. recently announced that the $5 million challenge has been matched, unlocking the Davises' commitment and raising $10 million toward a $20 million campaign extension goal. The matching donors are Keith Anderson '81, Bob Kuppenheimer '69, Peter Lynch '74, John McClutchy, Jr. '72, Tom Niles '63, Al Rock '63, and Robert Stansky '78.

Nichols is entering the final phase of the campaign to raise the remaining $10 million and complete the now $66 million campaign by fall 2020.

The Bicentennial Campaign, officially titled "Securing a Legacy of Leadership," has already been a considerable force of transformation on the campus. Funds raised supported the construction of the Fels Student Center and a state-of-the-art academic building and major renovations to athletic facilities. The number of endowed scholarships rose from 21 to its current 78. The college added academic specializations and created co-curricular initiatives such as the Institute for Women's Leadership and the Emerging Leaders Program.

The campaign prompted an unprecedented level of giving among alumni, friends, faculty, staff, parents and students, drawing some 15 gifts over $1 million, including two gifts of $5 million, and more than $10 million in deferred gift commitments to help secure the college's future.

"The Bicentennial Campaign has shown what we can achieve with visionary leadership, an engaged community, and a compelling case for support. We are not done yet. Like the future leaders we educate, Nichols is still discovering its full potential and getting ready for its next milestone," said John Davis, who co-chaired the Bicentennial Campaign with Gerald Fels '66.

The campaign extension will focus on growing the endowment, enhancing campus facilities, and investing in educational initiatives such as greater experiential opportunities for students and advanced technology.

"The Bicentennial Campaign began a new chapter in Nichols' unique history and provided an opportunity to both honor the past and shape the future," said Dr. Engelkemeyer. "The campaign extension allows us to renew and strengthen our commitment to offering students a dynamic and distinctive education that fully prepares them for their careers."

The dangers of deer bunting

Massachusetts deer hunting opens this coming Monday, Dec. 2, for shotgun. Numerous large deer were harvested during the archery season, and it has become one of the most popular and successful seasons among deer hunters. State of the art bows have increased the success rate of harvesting deer. If a cross bow bill is passed for the 2020 hunting season, it will only make recovery of more deer, other than losing them to a bad shot. This week's picture shows a trophy deer with an impressive set of antlers harvested in Massachusetts a few years ago. The mount was part of a display at last year's sportsmen's show at the Big-E in Springfield.

Hunting has become a dangerous sport, as some hunters over the years that have found out the hard way. It is not a wise idea to confront a hunter in the woods if you feel he is trespassing on private property, or doing something illegal. Thanks to cell phones, the matter is best left for the authorities. A simple call should keep you safe. A hunter recently confronted an ATV rider about trespassing on private property, and was run over by the machine. Numerous other incidents over the years resulting in injury to the hunter after falling from his or her tree stand, are on the increase.

Applying to much doe urine to you clothing to mask your human scent can also be dangerous. In fact, it may work too well. Reports of hunters being attacked by bucks that are in rut happen more often than we think. Suddenly, you are the hunted.

Last week, a young lady shot her first buck of her life. She tried to do everything right. After the shot, she left the area to get help tracking the huge buck. It is always best to leave the deer, instead of pushing the deer farther away, and possibly into another hunter. The rule is that the last hunter to shoot the deer has the right to claim it. I know it happened to me a couple of times.

After gathering up a couple of friends to help track the deer, they found themselves tracking the deer for some time. Soon they realized the buck had headed for the river, and they lost the track at the river bed. They left the area to get a boat and a canoe, which was necessary to cross over to be to continue tracking the other side, to continue tracking the deer. Two hunters jumped into the canoe, and one quickly fell overboard, taking the other tracking hunter with them. It was not long before the small boat became full of water, and all of the hunting party was cold and wet.

It was starting to get dark when the group decided that they had enough, and planned to come back in the morning. They soon realized that one of the hunting party became separated from the group. It seems that he had left his cell phone in the car during all of the excitement. He was located a short time later cold and wet. It was a good thing that all of the hunting party were wearing their life jackets, or it could have ended up a lot worse. No one could make up this story. As of the column deadline this past Friday, the deer was still on the run.

Wild animals are fighting back as one local resident found out recently. This writer wrote about the increase in fisher cat last week in the valley. Well, a local resident came face to face with a large fisher cat after he opened his shed door in his backyard. The huge cat charged the resident and landed on his chest immediately sinking his teeth into the man's neck. He quickly grabbed a sharp object and started to stab the animal until he fell to the floor. I have not heard how the man is doing. Just imagine if it happened to a young child.

Bobcats have also made the list of frequent visitors in the valley. There numbers are increasing annually, and are a threat to small pets. They also dine on small rodents and rabbits that have made a comeback to the valley area.

After reading this column, some local residents that are anti hunting could change their minds. Most hunters would like to be considered your friend and respect and appreciate hunting private property. Do not let a few disrespectful hunters influence your thoughts about the majority of sportsmen.

Hopefully, everyone is enjoying their Thanksgiving weekend. We sure have plenty to be thankful for after listening to the news about floods and fires that have displaced thousands of families in California, Texas and other states. Do not forget our veterans and the elderly, especially at this time of year. God Bless!

A time to be thankful

From 1621 to 2019, Thanksgiving has always been about celebrating an abundant fall harvest. The holiday's roots date back to the Plymouth colonists and the Wampanoag tribe, who shared the first Thanksgiving meal together.

The celebratory feast was held by individual colonies up until 1789 off and on, with the first Presidential proclamation recognizing its significance issued by George Washington himself. His successor, Thomas Jefferson — an ardent believer in the separation of church and state — felt that it was not the government's place to sanction a celebration that he believed had religious undertones, and it wasn't until Abraham Lincoln's Presidency in 1863 that the annual celebration was enshrined as a federal holiday.

Tasked with guiding the nation through its darkest period, Lincoln rightly intuited that a celebration focused on family and thankfulness would help to heal the wounds inflicted upon the nation's psyche by the bloody and destructive Civil War.

Thanksgiving and Praise to our beneficent Father who dwelleth in the Heavens," he wrote.

As we sat down to reflect on what we are grateful for this year as Thanksgiving approaches, we have been thinking about the unseasonably cold snap that has ripped through the east coast. Winter seemed to come in in like a lion this year, and not everyone was ready.

There is, however, something unexplainably welcoming about hunkering down for a long winter. Spending time outside in the middle of a snow globe is refreshing, yet serene, and this year although we know many of you out there may not share our inclination we are thankful for the changing season.

When we can look at winter as something to be enjoyed rather than endured, a shift happens. Having a positive mindset will lessen the chanc of seasonal depression setting in. When someone begins complaining about the cold weather and shorter days, counter it with something positive, such as how much fun it is to go snowmobiling, or skiing. Even a walk around your yard, kicking up freshly fallen snow can be a therapeutic plus. Staying physically active is key. Joining a gym, playing outdoors with your children or even following along with a 15 minute workout video indoors can give your mental state a boost. Wintertime is also, of course, the season of holidays, and to us, nothing is better than gathering with family and friends to celebrate the season as you sip from a mug of hot chocolate with a dab of that New England favorite, marshmallow Fluff. Whatever your own holiday traditions, and wherever you may be traveling this week, we wish you a safe journey, a hearty meal, and a wonderful time in the company of kith and kin.

If the remains of Tom Turkey are still taking up half of your refrigerator space, it's time to use up all the leftover meat pronto or freeze it for future meals. According to the Center of Science in the Public Interest (CSPI), the Thanksgiving turkey can be eaten for four days after cooking. This week's column will spotlight some delicious meals perfect for last minute suppers - or beyond, if you have frozen the leftovers.

If you think hot turkey sandwiches and turkey noodle soup are your only options, read on. With a few extra additions, your post Thanksgiving meals can be as interesting as the memorable main event.

Leftover Turkey and Potato Casserole This scrumptious recipe uses up turkey and mashed potatoes, and even that extra can of evaporated milk you have from baking!

Thanksgiving Leftovers

This Mexican crock pot dish that uses up lots of leftover turkey, is an award winning recipe from Mary Torell with the Nebraska Dept of Agriculture.

Ingredients: one chopped onion; one cup chopped celery; four cups cooked turkey chopped; two 15.5 ounce cans Northern beans, drained; two 11 ounce cans shoe peg corn, undrained;; one four ounce can chopped green chilies; one quart turkey broth; one half cup mozzarella cheese, grated.

VIEWS AND COMMENTARY FROM CHARLTON, CHARLTON CITY, CHARLTON DEPOT AND BEYOND

Directions: Place cooked turkey and all other ingredients in a slow cooker. Mix well and cook on low for 6 to 8 hours.

For a thicker sauce, remove the cover for the last hour. Sprinkle with Mozzarella cheese.

Turkey Timer Trivia: Pop up timers have saved many a Thanksgiving turkey from ruin. Have you ever wondered how they work? In case you missed this in a previous column, here's everything you've always wanted to know about the handy plastic pop ups!

A pop up turkey timer is typically comprised of the outside case, a red stick that pops up, a metal spring and a dab of soft metal similar to solder. The soft metal is solid at room temperature and turns to a liquid at about 185 degrees (when a turkey is fully cooked). When the metal melts, it frees the end of the red stick that had been trapped in the metal. The spring pops the red stick up and you know the turkey is done! One little known fact is that these timers are reusable. If you dip the tip in hot water it will remelt the metal and you can push the pop up piece back into the metal. Then let it cool, and the pop-up piece will be back in its original position, ready to use again!

New at investing? Follow these suggestions you're fairly new to investing, you might be wondering what sort of rules you should follow or moves you should make. And while everyone's situation is different, there are indeed guidelines that make sense for all investors. Here are some to consider:

Learn the basics. The investment world can seem confusing, but the more you know about the basic components, the more confident you'll be when you begin to invest. For starters, you'll want to be familiar with the essential types of investments: stocks, bonds, mutual funds, government securities and so on. And it's also important to know that some investments are designed to provide growth - an increase in the investment's value - while others provide income in the form of dividends or interest payments, and still others may offer growth and income.

Set your goals. You need to know why you're investing - and that means you must clearly define your goals. Do you want to retire early? When you do retire, what kind of lifestyle would you like to have? Are you planning on helping your children (or grandchildren) pay for college? Once you've established your goals, you can create the appropriate investment strategy for achieving them, taking into account your time horizon and risk tolerance.

Invest regularly. At first, you may only be able to afford to put in small amounts to your investment accounts, but even so, try to contribute regularly. You'll get into the habit of investing and, later on, when you earn more money, you can ramp up your contributions. If you have a 401(k) or similar plan at work, the money can come out of your paycheck before you even see it.

Think long term. As you begin investing, it's important to have the right attitude. Specifically, don't look for the "hot" investments that will make vou a "bundle" in a matter of weeks. Investing just doesn't work that way - instead, it's a decades-long process of carefully choosing, managing and adjusting a diversified portfolio that's suitable for your individual needs. And by maintaining a long-term focus, you'll be less susceptible to making ill-advised moves in response to short-term market events. Don't get scared off by downturns. If you invest for many years, it's inevitable that you will experience sharp drops in the financial markets. But these declines are actually a normal part of investing. If you overreact to them by selling investments just because their price has dropped, you'll not only be breaking a cardinal rule of investing to buy low and sell high - but you'll also be disrupting the type of cohesive, continuous investment strategy that's necessary to help you achieve your goals. Get some help. You may find it easier to navigate the investment landscape if you get some help from a professional advisor - someone who understands your goals and family situation and who can make appropriate investment recommendations. A financial advisor can also suggest changes to your portfolio in response to changes in your life (new job, child graduating college, etc.) and in your goals, such as a new date for retirement. When you invest, there aren't many guarantees. But by following these suggestions, you will know, at the very least, that you're taking the steps that can lead to success.

Cream of Turkey Soup Forget boring clear leftover soups, this one is rich and delicious!

Ingredients: one quart turkey broth; one cup diced, cooked turkey; one half cup diced, cooked carrots (optional); one cup light cream; four tablespoons butter; four tablespoons flour; one quarter teaspoon salt; one eighth teaspoon white pepper; one eighth teaspoon nutmeg or mace; one tablespoon minced parsley or chives

Directions: Melt four tablespoons butter in a large heavy saucepan over moderate heat and blend in four tablespoons flour. Brighten your spirits and indoor décor with a colorful Cyclamen

GARDEN MOMENTS MELINDA MYERS

Add some unique beauty to your indoor décor or give the gift of low maintenance splendor with the easy-care cyclamen. You'll enjoy the colorful plain or ruffled white, pink, rose or lavender flowers that look like shooting stars hovering over heart shaped leaves with silvery highlights.

Best of all, there's a size for every home and occasion. Use miniatures as a place card holder at your next gathering, for added color in a terrarium or to brighten any small space. Dress up the dinner table, mantle or side table with one of the larger varieties. Large or small, they make wonderful party favors and hostess gifts. Place the plants in a decorative container, basket or colorful tin for an even more impressive display.

Grow your cyclamen in a cool bright location. These Mediterranean plants thrive in cooler temperatures and should be kept out of drafts of hot and cold air. Consider moving your plant to an even cooler room at night to extend the bloom time.

Use your finger to monitor soil moisture. Water thoroughly when the potting mix that's just below the soil surface is starting to dry. Pour off any excess water that collects in the saucer, decorative basket or foil wrap. Allowing plants to sit in water leads to soggy soil and the decline of the plant's health and beauty.

Or set the plant on a saucer of pebbles. The excess water will collect in the saucer while the pebbles elevate the pot above the water. You'll reduce the risk of root rot and save time by eliminating the need to pour off this excess water.

to keep your plant looking its best. Adjust watering frequency and growing conditions if this is a frequent problem. Overwatering or allowing the soil to dry to the point of wilting can cause the leaves to yellow. Low light and drafts of hot and cold air can do the same.

Remove flowers as they fade. Gently twist and pull off or cut spent flower stems back at their base in the foliage. Regular deadheading will increase the number of flowers and length of bloom. With proper care, you will be enjoying flowers for four weeks or more.

Don't be alarmed when the leaves yellow and dry soon after the plant stops flowering. It is entering a natural dormant period. If you like a challenge, try forcing it into bloom a second time.

Simply cut back on watering when you notice the leaves begin to yellow. Then stop watering once all the leaves have dried. Move the plant to a cool dark location for several months. After the rest period, bring your plant out of dormancy and encourage it to bloom. Begin watering, fertilize once new growth appears and place it in a sunny window. Then wait for a beautiful floral display.

Panthers end Tantasqua's journey in Division 4 State Semifinals

Nick Ethier photos

Tantasqua's Seann Lauritsen grabs Plymouth-South ball-carrier Matt Mahoney from behind in order to bring him down.

BY NICK ETHIER SPORTS STAFF WRITER

WESTWOOD — A total of 19 student-athletes on Tantasqua Regional's varsity football team are seniors, and that particular group has seen plenty of turnover over the course of their four years playing at the Reservation.

During their freshman year, Jon Hargis wasn't a member of the Warriors' coaching staff. Hargis then took over in 2017, but Tantasqua endured a losing season. Last fall, the Warriors made a run to the Central Mass. Division 4 Tournament final, where they lost to Nashoba Regional, 28-0.

And then this season — a special one, to say the least — the 19 seniors had a record of 6-2 in regular season play. Tantasqua then defeated Groton-Dunstable Regional and Fitchburg High in the Central Mass. playoffs for the Sectional title, before embarking on Xaverian Brothers High on Saturday, Nov. 23 in a Division 4 State Semifinal.

There, the Warriors played South Sectional representative Plymouth-South High for a right to play North Sectional champion Melrose High (10-0) at Gillette Stadium for the Division 4 State Championship.

Tantasqua's playoff run ended in Westwood, though, as the Panthers edged the Warriors, 26-14.

We had our opportunities. Couldn't punch it in. A couple of turnovers that hurt us, a couple of penalties as we were driving — but I couldn't be prouder of our kids," said Hargis. "The seniors, being my third year in the program, they've bought in since Day One. When they were sophomores most of them started and we were 3-8. Last year 7-4, and this year making the State Semifinals."

The Warriors had to punt as they opened the game with the football, but their defense came to play early on. On Plymouth-South's sixth offensive snap, quarterback Hunter Dean dropped back to throw. But Tantasqua's Tyler Hall shot through the gap in the line to pressure the QB. Dean's throw found the hands of the Warriors' Seann Lauritsen, who ran back the interception 30 yards for the touchdown. Jarod Spratt's point after touchdown kick made it 7-0 with 5:50 remaining in the opening quarter.

"Ty did a great job of putting pres-sure on the quarterback," said Hargis. "Seann Lauritsen made a nice pick and then returned it to the house. It kind of helped us there because we had to punt on the first drive. That flipped the momentum, so it helped us out a lot."

The Panthers regained the momentum on the final snap of the first quarter when Dean (9 of 16, 114 yards) connected with Hunter Budrow on a 10-yard scoring pass. Tyler Doyle kicked the extra point to even the score at 7-7.

Plymouth-South then grabbed a 13-7 lead on its next possession, finishing it off with 2:24 to go until halftime when Dean barreled into the end zone from a yard out. Doyle's kick then hit the left upright.

Tantasqua looked to even the score before the half with a touchdown, but a late holding penalty forced the Warriors into attempting a 38-yard field goal. Spratt's boot may have been good from 37 yards, but the ball fell just shy of the crossbar.

"We got a holding call that put us behind the chains. Just probably a foot short on the field goal," said Hargis. "In a game like this, three points goes a long way, especially going into halftime."

The Panthers then padded their lead to 19-7 with 5:42 to play in the third quarter, which came after both teams were forced to punt. Nick Siegelman (26 carries, 104 yards) ran one in from 14 yards out, but Dean's two-point conversion throw fell incomplete.

Tantasqua then embarked on an all-important drive that took 11 plays to traverse 76 yards. Ryan Sears (24 carries, 117 yards) found the end zone from 11 yards out, twisting and spinning through Plymouth-South defenders

Chandler Horne of Tantasqua goes low and Dominic Brown of Tantasqua runs a jet sweep to his right.

"Sears has been a warrior for us all year," Hargis said of one of the 19 seniors, and one of the four co-captains, along with Liam Gore, Kyle Boone and Noah Galonek. "He's been running the ball, averaged 100 yards every single game, 150 most of the time. He runs the ball hard, physical. He wants to score every single play; you can't ask for any more than that.'

Spratt's kick with six seconds to play in the third quarter cut the deficit down to 19-14.

But the Panthers scored next — Cillian Davis scampering in from 3 yards out, and Doyle made the PAT to grab a 26-14 lead with 6:03 to go.

Tantasqua had two more drives, but they couldn't produce any additional points to close the gap.

The Warriors dropped to 8-3 as they wished the Panthers (10-1) well going forward.

"Plymouth-South is a great team. I wish them the best in the States and hopefully they can take it home against Melrose," said Hargis.

Tantasqua ball-carrier Liam Gore drags multiple Plymouth-South defenders with him while fighting for more vardage.

Thomas Flynn (72) and Matthew McCormick of Tantasqua walk back to their bench as Plymouth-South players celebrate their Division 4 State Semifinal victory over the Warriors.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
