WEBSTER — Three area Chambers of Commerce combined to make Indian Ranch's Samuel Slater Hall a very loud place to be Thursday evening. Dozens of representatives of business in Central Mass South, the Worcester area and the Blackstone Valley gathered to hobnob, make contacts, snack and drink, all while listening to steel drum music.

Billie Kenyon of Southbridge Hotel and Conference Center, center, has a small crowd gathered around her.

Dave Singer and Randy Weissman of the Telegram and Gazette sales staff get some munchies.

One of the Indian Ranch staff plies a guest with a tray of finger food.

Community celebrates Polish culture

Gus Steeves Photos

WEBSTER – Fans of Polish-American culture know where to go every June – the annual St. Joseph’s Festival, which took over the parking lot of the church of that name last weekend.

Besides thousands of feet of keilbasa, hundreds of gallons of beer, and countless potato pancakes, among other edibles, served, the audience got to experience their Polish heritage in the form of music. The event’s headliners were, as in past years, the Maestro’s Men, but attendees could also partake of a talent show, rock and roll dancing and the Piast American folk group, the latter named after a medieval Polish dynasty. Those with an interest in such history could get advice from the Chicopee-based Polish Genealogical Society table before or after scoring on some pastries or Polish-themed clothing.

Those were all there on Saturday;

the event ran from Friday afternoon through Sunday, although it had notably fewer booths and activities outside the main tent than last year. Some it did have, though, included the regular flea market tent, plus a section in the front for smaller children’s activities, including facepainting and games.

The event is a fundraiser for St Joseph’s School.

easily maintained his position earning a sixth consecutive term at a selectman for another three years with 685 votes, the most of any candidate running for a contested seat in a ballot.

That left Johnson and DiDonato seeking the second seat and despite DiDonato’s previous experience running for a selectman position in a previous election Johnson took to victory in a 640 to 509 decision. Johnson will join the board immediately filling a vacancy that left the Board of Selectmen at only four members for the past few months.

The Town Clerk position proved to be a more intense race with three candidates seeking to succeed Ora Finn in the Town Hall. Heather Bowes, Mary Devlin and Lori Smith all sought the position, but it was Smith, a lifelong Dudley resident with more than 13 years of municipal experience, winning the election. Smith earned 545 votes compared to Bowes’ 415 votes and Devlin’s 259 votes. Ora Finn will remain on board for the remainder of June to assist with the transition before officially retiring on June 28.

Other positions filled over the course of the evening were mostly uncontested. Catherine Kabala earned a new three-year term on the Dudley-Charlton Regional School Committee, Timothy Schur retained his seat with the Southern Worcester County Regional Vocational School District, Roberta Johnson and Lorri Ducharme were elected to the Board of Health, Thomas Fournier earned a spot on the Water & Sewer Commission, Pellegrino D’Auria was elected to a five-year seat on the Housing Authority, and Patricia Korch, Benjamin Craver and Stefani Ford were all elected Library Trustees. All of these positions were unopposed. Several other seats including assessor, a second Water & Sewer Commissioner position, a second Housing Authority post, and four openings on the Planning Board were all decided by write in votes.

The reported turnout for the election was 1,233, or 17 percent, of a reported 7,313 registered voters in town.

Poster exhibit at Crawford Library spotlights Revolutionary Art

DUDLEY — “You say you want a revolution
Well, you know
We all want to change the world.”

These were the opening words to the Beatles song about making change. Well, the Beatles will not be there, but people of Dudley and surrounding towns can have a taste of revolution during the month of July by heading to the Pearle L. Crawford Memorial Library to view a poster exhibition titled Revolutionary Art.

January of 2017 marked the Centennial of the Russian Revolution. It was an event that at the time inspired many in the struggle against despotic rulers who acquired vast wealth, repressed the poor and workers of the country, and led ultimately to a ideological struggle between Communism and Capitalism. Since the events of 1917, there have been other revolutions in various countries, think Cuba, France,

Courtesy Photo

Nicaragua, Grenada and others. These revolutions were not necessarily based on communism, but on repressive conditions in the particular country. And of course there was the American Revolution that preceeded the Russian Revolution. Many of these revolts will be documented in the form of posters that will be on display at the Pearle L.Crawford Memorial Library during the month of July. These posters come from the collection of Stephen Lewis who has staged other poster exhibits at the library in past years.

Many years ago, Rod Stewart had a hit song named “Every Picture Tells A Story.” Lewis likes to paraphrae that title by saying “Every Poster Tells A Story.” Lewis invites, “For those of you who like your history with a dose of art and message, come see this exhibit.” For posters that are not in English, Lewis includes placards that provide additional information including translation of some of the key words.

Lewis is a retired trade union leader. He has a collection of more than 8,600 posters and counting, which he has displayed over the past 17 years in many libraries and other venues round the state. Lewis attributes his love for the posters and creating exhibits, to his background as a political activist and a union leader. He states that many of his exhibits reflect issues he has been involved in over the course of his life (although no revolutions). That includes his work in his union and involvement in other issues over the years. Lewis can be reached at Lewisposters@gmail.com.

This project is supported in part by a grant from the Dudley Cultural Council, a local agency which is supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency, and by Firemen and Oilers Local 3.

Durant supports delayed Family and Medical Leave payroll tax

BOSTON – The House and Senate have agreed to a three-month delay in the implementation of a new payroll tax that will be used to fund the state’s Paid Family and Medical Leave program.

Both legislative branches approved moving the effective date of the payroll tax from July 1 to October 1, following calls from legislators, advocates and business groups to give employers and workers more time to understand their rights and responsibilities under the new law. Governor Baker is expected to sign the extension.

The delay comes just one week after Representative Peter Durant

(R-Spencer) joined 51 other legislators in signing a bipartisan letter to Senate President Karen Spilka and House Speaker Robert DeLeo urging leadership to hold off on assessing the payroll tax. The letter noted the delay is needed so “the millions of employees and tens of thousands of employers who will be expected to abide by this law” will have more time to fully understand how it will work.

“We fear that maintaining the July 1, 2019 launch date will result in an incomplete and unsuccessful launch of the program, an unfair proposition to those who have worked so hard to this point, and to millions of MA residents,” the legislators wrote. “It is our belief that a three-month delay, rather than weakening or undercutting the law and its intentions, will strengthen it and ensure a smooth rollout with broad adoption by all impacted.”

Established as part of the 2018 “Grand Bargain” law, the Paid Family and Medical Leave program will allow employees in Massachusetts to take extended time off from their job, with pay, to deal with a personal medical issue, to care for a family member, or to bond with a new child after birth, adoption or foster care placement. The new law applies to all employers in Massachusetts, regardless of the size of the company or the number of employees.

Although the paid leave benefit will not become available until 2021, the law requires the newly-created Department of Family and Medical Leave (DFML) to begin collecting a payroll tax from employers on July 1. Durant said moving the payroll tax implementation date to October 1 will provide additional time to educate the public about the new law, while also helping employers to identify comparable private family and medical leave insurance plans for their workers.

Webster resident named to Spring 2019 Semester Dean’s List at Dean College

Gabrielle Lawrence named to Spring 2019 Dean’s List at the University of Findlay

FRANKLIN — Dean College is pleased to announce that Amanda Mulligan of Webster has earned a place on the Dean’s List for the Spring 2019 semester.

Dean College offers baccalaureate degrees, associate degree programs, as well as a robust schedule of part-time continuing and professional education credit and certificate programs throughout the calendar year.

FINDLAY, Ohio — Gabrielle Lawrence, of Dudley, was named to the spring 2019 dean’s list at the University of Findlay. To earn this achievement, a student must attain a grade point average of at least 3.5 on a 4.0 scale.

Located in Findlay, Ohio, the University of Findlay is known not only for science, health professions, animal science and equestrian studies programs, but also for cultivating the next generation of business leaders, educators and innovative thinkers through a dedication to experiential learning, both in and outside of the classroom. More than 3,800 students are enrolled at Findlay, and the University is nationally recognized by U.S. News and World Report and the Princeton Review.

already working on putting the signage up. We’re going to determine the status of the bath house from last year.”

Interim Highway Superintendent Vincent Polletta told selectmen that the bath house is usually weatherized, but it could be in a state of disarray that may require attention. He also said the beach needs to be refreshed with new sand and that five truck loads were planned to be brought to the beach before its official opening day next month.

But the biggest topic of discussion was when the beach would be open or closed. The daily closing of the beach was a question mark for selectmen as they debated how late is too late to consider the beach open. Selectmen Steven Sullivan explained the standard the town has stuck to for the past few years, allowing for the beach to be open later than five o’clock in the afternoon.

“I think it’s worked well the past few years with the improved visibility. We have signage restricting access. I would be hesitant to tell a person that works 8 to 5 in the city who comes home and wants to take a dip and it’s 6:05 or 6:10 (not to swim),” Sullivan said.

Police Chief Steve Wojnar warned selectmen that whatever they choose to use as the standard for closing had to be consistent saying they can’t be “selective with that kind of thing.” He did note that to his it didn’t make sense to close the beach at 6 p.m. when the sun sets almost three hours later in July.

While the consensus seemed to be that dusk would be the cutoff point there was still some debate over the need for a specific closing time in order to properly regulate the usage of the beach. Selectmen agreed to table that discussion for another meeting. Another issue brought to the table was whether or not security cameras would be a feasible option for the beach, which was an inquiry from past years to improve safety. However, Town Administrator Ruda admitted such an expense may not be feasible for 2019.

BY JASON BLEAU
VILLAGER CORRESPONDENT

CHARLTON – Bay Path Regional Vocational High School held its annual commencement ceremony on May 31, bidding farewell to 262 students who have spent the past four years not only learning the basics of American education, but also exploring trades that have prepared them more than many others to join the work force or pursue higher education. Students from Auburn, Charlton, Dudley, Leicester, North Brookfield, Oxford, Paxton, Rutland, Southbridge, Spencer, Webster and West Brookfield all received their diplomas at a nearly two-hour ceremony at the DCU Center in Worcester where several speaks took the stage to see the Class of 2019 off to their bright futures. Bay Path

Superintendent-Director John Lafleche was one of the first to speak offering compliments to the students and praising them before family and friends as an accomplished class with plenty of potential. “Each of (these students) is prepared to venture out into the world and pursue their dreams and goals,” Lafleche said. “Our graduates spent countless hours in their classrooms and shops preparing for this moment so they can finally spread their wings and become fully independent adults – I wish all of you soon to be graduates much joy and success.” Several students offered words of wisdom, hope and pride to their fellow graduates starting with Valedictorian Hayden Smith. The Webster native wished the graduates good luck on their future endeavors and shed light on the promising futures that lay before them all. “We’ve all worked so hard these past four years and right now makes it all worth it,” Smith said. “Whether you’re going into the military, college or the work force we can all become victorious in our own ways. Everyone is different and there is no specific path to take in life. Whatever path you think it right for you, you should go down it. After tonight everything that might have happened in high school doesn’t really matter that much, so if you want to change who you were you have the ability to make that happen.” Salutatorian Melody Serrano, also of Webster, challenged students to go forth into the world with the confidence to embrace change and the trials that may challenge them along the way. “These students have overcome trials, have changed drastically, have grown, and have flourished into the people that they are today to be here,” Serrano said. “There are many things and messages that I would love to tell to my class, but if I had to choose something that I want them to remember as they embark on their own unique life is to embrace change instead of fearing it. Throughout my whole life I was always afraid of change and was comfortable only in what I was accustomed to, but high school taught me that one cannot run from change because, in the end, it’s inevitable. Even though change can be scary change can be a great thing.” Other speaks spoke about their own personal growth as well as the evolution every student has experienced over their four years at Bay Path. One message that rang true, becoming somewhat of a theme for the ceremony, was an urging for the students to not only embrace who they were and who they have become but to be true to themselves as they enter a new world of possibilities beyond their high school careers.

St. Joseph student named winner of Emmanuel Radio’s Essay Contest

WEBSTER—ThispastLent,Sr.Jeanne Marie Akalski’s Fourth Grade class at St. Joseph School received a special visit from Emmanuel Communications’ President, Cindy Dorsey, to recognize their classmate, Brett McCarthy, who was chosen as a Weekly Winner in Emmanuel Radio’s 2019 Catholic Schools Essay Contest.

Mrs. Dorsey recently made a second trip to meet with the class, and it was even more exciting than the first! During her second visit, Mrs. Dorsey was accompanied by The Most Reverend Robert J. McManus, Bishop of the Diocese of Worcester and Dr. David Perda, Superintendent of Catholic Schools in the diocese. The group was there to recognize Brett for being selected as the Grand Prize Winner in the essay contest. In recognition of this accomplishment, Brett won a pizza party with the Bishop and Dr. Perda for his entire class. In addition, Brett received an award and several prizes including a statue of the Blessed Mother and a dozen tickets to the Worcester Bravehearts baseball game for his family and friends.

The topic for the 2019 essay contest was “The Value of Moral Discipline in the Catholic Faith.” The contest was open to Catholic school and home-schooled students in Kindergarten through grade 12. Essayists were asked to consider the following: “God has given every human being freedom of choice, but this doesn’t mean we have the right to do whatever we want. What moral and spiritual values have you learned from your faith that you can share with all the people in our country so we can live together in harmony?” More than 7,000 students in the Diocese of Worcester were involved in this essay contest. Brett’s essay earned the Grand Prize for “reminding all of us of the spiritual value of non-violence, and the importance of making the right choices at school, at home, and in our Catholic faith.” In addition to Bishop McManus, Dr. Perda, and Mrs. Dorsey, Headmaster Msgr. Anthony Czarnecki, Principal Michael Hackenson, Rev. Grzegorz Chodkowski, Brett’s mother, Melissa McCarthy, his grandmother, Kathleen Czechowski, and Brett’s aunt, Kimberly Czechowski, joined Brett and Sr. Jeanne for the special luncheon and award celebration. Congratulations, Brett!

What drives success?

Whether it's a skyscraper with more than 50 floors playing host to a huge corporation or a tiny farm stand on the side of a rural back road, each business has a story of success. What defines success is, by most, put into monetary terms; however, self satisfaction and the ability to do good for others tops the list as well. Teamwork is the backbone of most success stories. We all work with others, even if we own and operate a one person business.

When you stroll into work, take a look around. You know who does what and how each person contributes to the overall success of whatever it is that your business is trying to achieve. Here are a few suggestions for optimizing your team's ability to reach their full potential.

If your co-workers know what the end goal looks like, and that goal is the same for everyone, communication becomes easier. When each person is aware of their individual role and responsibilities things also tend to run much more smoothly. When you give someone a purpose, they are innately more driven. Having a leader that sets the bar high but backs it with positivity is a must. Good judgement among all team players along with their leaders is also key.

Whether you are working in an insurance office, a restaurant or an amusement park and your co-workers are actively listening to one another and are aware of what's going on around them good things start to happen, and good things happening drives success. If you are the type of person that can deal with different personality types, you are more valuable than you think.

Staying knowledgeable about whatever it is you are doing is crucial. Keeping track of changes in your industry and following the trends will keep you on the path to success. Taking into consideration different scenarios that could take place in the future and preparing for them is always a smart move.

If you look at a large conundrum you may face at work, finding a solution is a challenge, and a challenge can be looked at like a game, albeit a very important one. Solving puzzles happens on a daily basis, some puzzles larger than others. When you and your team hit an 'a ha' moment success has occurred. A string of those moments leads us all to where we want to go.

Realizing that you, as well as your co-workers, are capable of making a mistake and moving forward is the healthiest outlook. We're all human, and making mistakes is how we learn and grow. It's really that simple. Allowing the space to make a mistake and to note that the world isn't coming to an end is a great outlook.

Something to strive for, or to recognize if this already exists in your work environment, is a team who communicates well together and remains focuses on goals and results. When each team member contributes equally, you know things are moving in the right direction. Offering co-workers support creates an environment where productivity will soar. Making sure you have a team comprised of different personalities and skill sets makes success easier to achieve based on the simple fact that the world is filled with different types of people. To be able to have a person on your team to step forward in any given situation is an asset. The most important thing when showing up to work, is to be able to spend your day working hard, but to remember to have some fun. Life is short, we spend a large amount of our days working and if we can't have fun in what we're doing than it's time wasted.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thank you, Dudley voters

To the Editor:

It's been a few days now since the election, but I just wanted to thank everyone who came out to vote on June 10th. While I may not have won, I am extremely proud of myself and my family for the campaign I ran. The voter turnout was amazing compared to past town elections.

Watching my own children get involved and learn more about the town, what's involved with an election, the late nights, candidate's night, door to door, addressing post cards, and of course the emotions. Yet, this went beyond my own four children, I got our youth within the community excited to go out and participate in these areas, too. Kids that I have watched grow up since preschool. They picked up trash on Earth day, held signs, fixed signs that were falling over, put signs out, etc. And on Election Day, these kids showed up....and they stayed. I watched numerous first time voters walk in with parents and they proudly waved on their way in and out. One showed up with his chair, sign and snacks after school, ready for the late afternoon rush.

It was a busy few months, crammed a lot into a short time, but enjoyed it all!

Once again, thank you for coming out. Thank you for the 416 votes, I am proud of every one of them and so proud of my family and friends. It was an amazing experience.

Crime doesn't pay?

To the Editor:

Most of us are familiar with the maxim "crime doesn't pay." And, many of us might believe that to be the case. I did. I said "did" because of two recent criminal cases in Worcester County. In one instance, a bank teller stole over $100,000 from the bank accounts of elderly bank customers, one of whom was afflicted with cancer. She was sentenced to one-month's jail time. Not a bad haul. I'd probably get more time for sticking up the local Dollar Store. Apparently, the judge's lenient sentence was due to her being a first offender. She gets a Mulligan?

As bad as that was, she was a rank amateur when compared to another get rich quick fraudster who managed to bilk the state's Medicaid program out of $2.5 million. A Megabucks winner without having to buy a Lottery ticket and no messy scratch tickets for this felon! Oh, but Lady Justice came down hard on her. She was sentenced to two and a half years with 18 months to be served and fined $65,000. Let's see, if she pays up on the $65,000, that leaves the state of Massachusetts short, $2,435,000?

As taxpayers we own that one along with whatever the cost is to provide for this perp while she is a guest of the state for 18-months. Doing the math (not my strong suit) she nets out at $135,278 per month (I rounded up) for each of the 18 months. Not a bad payout.

If that upsets you, hold on to your hat. Judge Robert B. Gordon, who presided at her trial, is quoted as saying, "In all events, recapturing large sums of money from a business that is presently in mothballs, and from a woman who likely faces deportation following her release from confinement, will prove challenging." In other words, not going to happen.

Note that both perpetrators chose to prey on the most vulnerable in society, the elderly and those in need of medical services. They were out for themselves and the rest of us be dammed.

Lady Justice is depicted as being blind-folded. If she were to visit Judge Gordon's Court, she would be well advised to keep the blindfolded on and to ask for some ear plugs as well.

Still think that crime doesn't pay?

Thank you for the opportunity to serve as your Town Clerk

To the Editor:

I would like to thank this opportunity to thank the voters of Dudley for electing me as Town Clerk. I would also like to congratulate Mary Devlin and Heather Bowes for the strong campaigns they ran. I believe that the number of voters who turned out at this election is a testament to the quality of candidates running for office.

Thank you to my family and all of my supporters who assisted me throughout this campaign. I appreciate your confidence in me and will give 100 percent each and every day to be deserving of this and to earn the confidence of all Dudley residents.

I would like to wish Ora Finn a happy retirement and thank her for the superior service she has provided to this town for the last 25 years. These are indeed big shoes to fill and I pledge to do my best to continue to providing this quality service to Dudley.

Thank you for this wonderful opportunity.

Investment strategy can be your 'GPS' as you travel toward goals

Summer is here at last. For many people, it's time to get the car ready for a long road trip. And with GPS-enabled smartphones, it's now a lot easier to navigate these drives without getting lost. During your life, you may take many journeys – one of which is the long road you'll travel toward your financial goals. But even on this path you can benefit from a "GPS" in the form of your goal-oriented, personalized strategy.

Your investment strategy can function this way by helping answer these questions:

How far do I have to go? Your smartphone's GPS can quickly tell you how many miles you need to travel to arrive at your destination. And a well-constructed investment strategy can inform you of when you might reach a goal, such as having a desired amount of money when you retire, given your current age, earnings, sources of retirement income, and so on.

What route should I follow? Your GPS will plot out your route, showing what turns you should take along the way. Similarly, to reach your desired financial outcome, your investment strategy helps guide the investment decisions you make, such as investing adequate amounts in the appropriate vehicles, including your 401(k) and IRA.

What problems await me? When your smartphone's GPS shows red on the route you're following, you know that heavy traffic lies ahead. And your investment strategy can also help you manage bumps in the road, particularly if it's a strategy you've designed with a financial professional, who has the knowledge and technology to create various scenarios and hypothetical illustrations to account for potential difficulties – i.e., a rate of return that's less than expected, a lower income base than you had anticipated, greater college costs than you bargained for, and so on.

When should I take an alternate route? For whatever reason, you may deviate from the course plotted by your GPS – which will then helpfully re-route you. While following your investment strategy, if you make a wrong turn, so to speak – perhaps by putting insufficient funds in a retirement account or by assembling an investment mix that has become unsuitable for your risk

Staying safe at the Strawberry Festival

One of the big events of the year in Dudley is the Annual Strawberry Festival. The local Grange Hall has conducted this for some 60 years. Thanks go out to all the workers and organizers of this event for all their hard work and dedication. It is an old fashioned "lawn party," and it is a great way to officially welcome the arrival of summer as a community. This event is well attended every year and it is scheduled for Thursday, June 20 from 4 p.m. until the berries run out. Just so everyone can be safe and enjoy the event, I wanted to take this opportunity to address a few issues we face from a public safety perspective.

Several hundred people from all over the area attend this event. In addition to the strawberry shortcakes, there are numerous activities for children, including a frog jumping competition. This area is the historic center of Town and, as is the case with most New England Communities, the infrastructure is simply not in place to handle the volume of cars which will park in the area. One of the problems that occurs on many of the roads leading to and from this location is people parking on both sides of the street. This creates a traffic hazard for everyone traveling in this area. It can also hamper emergency vehicles which need to respond to different parts of Town. Parking restrictions will be in place, on most roads, to limit parking to one side of the street. Some changes in detours and other traffic measures will also be taken into consideration. Nichols College has been generous and allowed the people who attend this event to use their numerous parking lots. If these lots are utilized, it will certainly alleviate many of the parking issues on the local streets. People may even find themselves walking a shorter distance to the festival.

Certainly, there are many people waking in the area and crossing roads during this event. Extra precautions must be exercised by all travelers. Take the time to plan and park in safe locations. I thank you in advance for your cooperation and assistance. We want this festival to continue to be a fun time for all.

I wish to congratulate Sgt. Dean Poplawski, Principal Starczewski, the staff, faculty, and students of the Dudley Middle School for another successful completion of the sixth grade DARE Program. The graduation ceremony on Tuesday, June 11. Another large crowd was on hand to support the students as they completed this course designed to promote anti-drug and anti-violence attitudes with our young people. This is completely funded by donations and fund raisers. Sgt. Poplawski has been involved in this program for 20 years and does an outstanding job with the students. We thank him for his efforts. I once again congratulate the students and thank the parents for being involved in the lives of their children.

This also marks the end of the school year for the Dudley students. We at the police department wish everyone a happy, fun, and safe summer vacation.

Thanks again for your questions and comments. Please send them to me at the Dudley Police Department 71 West Main St. Dudley, MA 01571 or email at swojnar@dudleypolice.com. Summer antiquing in Southern New England

My last column offered suggestions for antiquing on Cape Cod this summer. There are plenty of other great vacation spots in New England and many more opportunities to look for antiques. I'll focus on Southern New England in this column.

ANTIQUES,
COLLECTIBLES
& ESTATES
WAYNE TUISKULA

Connecticut has some coastal vacation destinations with great antique shopping. "The Antiques Depot" in Old Saybrook describes itself as "a Warehouse Antique Center featuring 3500 square feet of fine quality antique and used furniture, crystal, pottery, clocks, artwork, estate jewelry, watches, sterling silver and much more!" The Mystic and Stonington areas have attractions including the Mystic Seaport Museum, Mystic Aquarium, Foxwoods and Mohegan Sun Casinos. One of the local antique shops is "Grand & Water" in Stonington. They tout that they've "been buying and selling antiques and objects d'art" for over 2 decades. Holly Hock Farm Antiques in Mystic website describes themselves as "a major retailer of quality antiques and custom made furniture." There are many other shops along the Connecticut coast. More information is available on the Connecticut Office of Tourism's website www.ctvisit.com.

Rhode Island also has many great options for antiquing. If your plans take you to Misquamicut Beach, Homespun Cottage Antiques & Collectibles is located in Westerly. In addition to their shop, they also run auctions. Their website notes that there are many other antique shops nearby. Newport is another great Rhode Island antique destination. Armory Antique Marketplace boasts over 70 dealers in their 6,000 square foot location. There are plenty of other shops near the Rhode Island coast. Jules Antiques & General Store in Richmond houses "70 dealers in our spacious 8,000 square-foot rustic farm building." Dealers at the General Stanton Inn Flea Market in Charlestown offer antiques and newer items on Sundays.

Traveling further east into Massachusetts, New Bedford Antiques at the Cove is a huge shop with 260 dealers in a 55,000 square foot facility. Their Web site notes that they are open seven days a week in a refurbished mill building. You'd expect the Plymouth area and the rest of the South Shore to be home to many antique shops, and you'd be right. Main Street Marketplace in Plymouth is "an eclectic antique and collectible marketplace" that has over 100 vendors, according to their website. The Fancy Flea antique show takes place on June 22 at Edaville Railroad in Carver. If you prefer the North Shore, Oldies Marketplace in Newburyport is an "indoor/outdoor marketplace on Newburyport's waterfront." Todd Farm Antique and Flea Market in Rowley has been running on Sundays for 47 years. If you prefer the mountains to the ocean, the Great Barrington Antiques Center in the Berkshires is a 5,000 square foot multi-dealer shop.

If you've gotten too much sun this summer, you can go inside for some shade at local antique shops or go to a flea market and walk a little after those big summer barbecues.

We continue to make pickups for our Aug. 29 auction in Worcester. We have other sales and appraisal events in the works. Please see www.centralmassauctions.com for details on these and other events.

In search of Stripers

.....
RALPH TRUE

Striper fishing is heating up at Block Island, as this weeks pictures show. A group of local anglers chartered the Maridee 11 out of Galilee Rhode Island this past Saturday and had a fast bite on some serious size stripers. It was unknown the day before if the boat could get to the fishing grounds because of high winds. The Captain advised us to meet him at the boat the next morning, and a last minute decision on weather to cancel the trip would be made then. As we approached the Marina, we noticed very little wind, but the seas were still choppy from the day before.

The Captain and Mate showed up on time (5 a.m.) , and the decision to leave the marina was made. As we entered the opening at the outer wall of Galilee, waves were breaking over the wall and the boat started to list from side to side. At the time it did not seem to be a good Idea to go fishing at Block Island, but as we ventured farther out to sea the waves did not seem that bad. After a one and a half hour boat ride we reached our destination and the mate quickly let out two lines equipped with umbrella rigs. It is not this writer's favorite way to fish but my son Ralph Jr. invited me along with his buddies for a Father's Day gift.

When the mate finished setting the lines to the proper depth it was only a matter of minutes after a voice shouting "Fish On!" Suddenly the other rod was bending with another fish slowly stripping the line from the reel. The Captain slowed the boat to a crawl and two of our fishing party were reeling in a fish. After a somewhat brief battle, two impressive stripers were brought into the boat. One was at least 40 pounds, and the other was in the 30-pound range.

The mate quickly placed the bass into the live well and the umbrella rigs were again set to the proper depth and placed in the rod holders. Suddenly, both rods were bending with a couple more stripers. When all was said and done our group had landed six nice stripers all in the 30-to-40-pound range in only two hours. All of the stripers were bright silvery fish with numerous sea lice on them indicating they had been in the area a very short time, arriving from deeper cold waters. It was time to break out the fluking rods and head for our new fishing hole.

The seas were quite calm, and I started to wonder if the weatherman had his report of high winds all day was wrong. After fishing for a half hour numerous short fluke were caught and released. After an hour of fishing only a few were of legal size. Suddenly, everything changed, and the wind started to pick up. Fishing with eight-ounce weights to keep the bait on the bottom, had us soon using 10 ounces and then 12 ounces, trying to hold bottom. The wind kept increasing and it was time to head home. By the time we entered Salt Pond, the waves were smashing the breaker wall. We had left the area just in time avoiding a major bumpy ride to port.

Fishing live eels is a method that this writer enjoys for catching stripers

Using a light rod provides some great fishing excitement, and the bass often needs to be chased down to retrieve some of the line that had nearly emptied the spool, from the initial run of a big striper. Other methods include using chunk bait and drifting it away from the boat while anchored. Trolling tubes also works well imitating a live eel. It is often tipped off with a fresh live seaworm, or one of the plastic scented baits imitating a seaworm. With the high price of seaworms today the plastics work nearly as well. Jiggig over a school of stripers, or surf fishing all provide great opportunities to catch a big striper. If you get the striper fishing fever, it is best to take the wife or girlfriend along, or she is going to home alone an awful lot.

This week's pictures show my son, Ralph Jr., with his pool winning fish, and Tracy Cormier with his runner up fish.

Prevent tick-borne diseases while enjoying the outdoors

You've grabbed your water bottle, sunscreen and hat for a hike in the park or some gardening. Add a bit of tick protection to your must-have items when you head out the door for an adventure, to garden or play.

Continue enjoying the outdoors by enlisting a variety of strategies to limit your risk of exposure to ticks and the disease pathogens they transmit. Here are just a few of the ways to increase your safety and enjoyment.

Wear light colored clothing to more easily spot the tick before it moves onto your skin. Wear long pants and tuck them into your socks and tuck your shirt into your pants. Ticks often gain access through pant legs or shirttails and crawl up looking for a place to settle in and feed.

Consider spraying your clothing with an insecticide labeled for repelling and killing ticks. Spray your clothing and let it dry before wearing. Or invest in pre-treated clothing for gardening, hiking or other outdoor activities. Read and follow label directions carefully.

Always conduct a tick check on yourself, children and pets after spending time outdoors. Studies show that regular tick checks are the most effective way to prevent diseases transmitted by ticks. Ticks can feed anywhere but are often found in and around the ears and

MELINDA MYERS

hair, inside the bellybutton, under the arms, around the waist, back of the knees and between the legs.

Check your clothing inside and out. Ticks can survive for several days in the house and even when washed in warm or hot water. An hour in the dryer on high heat will kill them.

Shower within two hours after spending time outdoors. The water can help dislodge any unattached ticks plus this provides a second opportunity to conduct a tick check. Studies found this practice greatly reduces the risk of tick-borne diseases.

Manage your landscape to reduce the tick population. Keep the grass mowed and remove brush, groundcovers, firewood piles and birdfeeders near the home or where the family frequents. Keep swing sets away from the woods and placed on woodchip mulch. Eliminate invasive barberry, honeysuckle and buckthorn that create a tick-friendly habitat.

Many of us are doing the opposite. We are eliminating lawns, increasing groundcover, planting more trees, shrubs and flowers to create more diverse wildlife-friendly habitats. There is limited evidence that increasing animal diversity may help reduce the rate of tick associated diseases. Unfortunately, the fragmented woodlands and ecosystems do favor deer and white-footed mice that are key to the maintenance and transmission of tick-borne diseases.

Consider creating a tick safe zone area where your family frequents and limit your time in tick infested areas. Widen pathways, prune trees to increase light, exclude deer and discourage rodents to reduce the risk of exposure.

And if additional control is needed to create a tick safe zone, consider using a pesticide like Summit Tick & Flea Spray that contains permethrin. You'll only need small amounts at the right time of the year for effective control. One application in spring or fall is usually sufficient for managing the ticks that can transmit Lyme disease. For the dog tick, also known as wood ticks, an application can be made anytime after the adults emerge. As always read and follow label directions.

Make these practices part of your routine so you and your family can continue to safely enjoy all your favorite outdoor activities.

Undefeated Wachusett ends Rams' season in Central Mass. final

Despite losing in the Central Mass. Division 1 Tournament Final, the Shepherd Hill varsity softball team had plenty to smile about after their 17-6 season.

WORCESTER — Even though the Shepherd Hill Regional varsity softball team accomplished something against Wachusett Regional in the Central Mass. Division 1 Tournament championship game that only one other team had done before them all season, the undefeated Mountaineers' signature P's — pitching and power — were too much in the end, the Rams losing the game, 10-4.

Shepherd Hill, the tournament's No. 3 seed, came into the final at Worcester State University's Rockwood Field on Saturday, June 15 riding a nine-game winning streak. The Rams finished a very rewarding season 17-6.

"I can't say enough about this team. It's a long journey and we had some lows but we had some ups, too. We put together a nice winning streak here at the end of the season, until tonight," Shepherd Hill head coach John Snyder said. "I said to the team after the last time we lost to Wachusett [9-3 on May 9 — the Rams also lost to the Mountaineers on April 12, 10-3], we can win the rest of our games. And except for losing to Nashoba, we did.

"These girls stood tall all season. My senior captains, Carly [Snyder, his daughter], Keely [Scotia] and Cayley [Fagan] did a great job all year keeping the team focused. I couldn't have asked for a better team," Snyder continued. "They made it to the final where they lost to a very, very good team; Wachusett is not undefeated for nothing."

After spotting Wachusett a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning, the Rams took advantage of some Mountaineers' mistakes to take a 3-2 lead in the second frame. It was just the second time all season Wachusett had trailed in a game. The Mountaineers fell behind, 2-0, to Minnechaug Regional after three innings back on April 19, but roared back to win the game, 11-2.

In the Shepherd Hill half of the second inning, junior Kelly Cournoyer (two hits) got things started with a double down the left-field line. Classmate Alaina Plourde came in as a courtesy runner for Cournoyer and moved around to third when the next two Rams — sophomores Brooke Garrepy and Emma Lanpher — both were walked by Wachusett pitcher Courtney Lanpher (Emma's cousin).

Plourde cut the Shepherd Hill deficit to 2-1 when she scampered home on a wild pitch. Garrepy tied the game, 2-2, and Emma Lanpher gave the Rams a 3-2 lead when they scored later in the inning on a two-base error on a fly ball off the bat of Sam Zannotti (single, double). Zannotti then moved to third on a one-out wild pitch, but was stranded there.

Wachusett re-took the lead, 4-3, in the bottom of the inning — the Mountaineers scored two runs in each of the first five innings — and were on their way to the title after that.

"We made too many mistakes today and against that team you can't make any mistakes," coach Snyder said. "They're a good team and Courtney pitched great today. Courtney is a high-level pitcher. We hadn't seen her all year. That level of pitching, no matter what you do to practice for it, it's not the real deal. It's not like facing her."

Shepherd Hill scored its fourth run of the game in the top of the fifth inning. Fagan belted a leadoff single to left-center field and was lifted for a courtesy runner, sophomore Maryn LaPlante. LaPlante moved to second on a wild pitch, took third on an infield out by junior Kiley Wong-Li and then scored — to make it 8-4 at the time — on another wild pitch.

Coach Snyder used two pitchers in the game. Fagan started and Wong-

Li came on in relief in the fifth inning.

"Cayley's my ace and she battled like I knew she would. She's been with me a long time," coach Snyder said. "She missed a few times on her locations just a little bit, but against this team that can't happen. Kiley did a good job, too. She came in and settled us down and challenged their hitters with her off-speed pitches."

Coach Snyder, who said he plans to return as head coach again next season, smiled when asked to reflect on the season.

"I'm very proud of this team; they did a great job," he said. "Getting to the final is a big accomplishment. We came in playing to win, wanting to battle, but Wachusett is a very good team with a lot of experienced seniors who have been through all of this before."

The Mountaineers, now a perfect 23-0, will again play Minnechaug (19-2), the Western Mass. winners, this time in a State Semifinal (after press time).

Wong-Li helps Shepherd Hill advance with towering homer to beat Grafton WORCESTER — It was an at-bat for the ages.

With two outs and facing a 3-2 count multiple times during the at-bat, junior Kiley Wong-Li delivered the biggest hit of her career when her team need it the most as she clubbed a two-run homer in the top of the ninth inning to give the Shepherd Hill Regional varsity softball team a 6-4 lead.

The Rams, who had never led in the game until Wong-Li's blast, hung on in the bottom of the ninth inning complete an improbable comeback and upset No. 2 Grafton High, 6-4, in a Central Mass. Division 1 semifinal round game on Tuesday, June 11 at Worcester State University's Rockwood Field.

With the win Shepherd Hill, the No. 3 seed, advanced to the Division 1 championship game, where it faced top-seeded Wachusett Regional (22-0). The victory was the 17-5 Rams' ninth win in a row. Grafton, which carried a 10-game winning streak into the game, finished 18-4.

In addition to sending the Rams to the final, the victory allowed Shepherd Hill to avenge a 14-7 loss to the Indians in the first week of the regular season.

The ninth inning began with promise for Shepherd Hill, sophomore Sam Zannotti using her speed to beat out an infield single. Taking the lead looked less and less likely for the Rams however, as the next two batters grounded out. Zannotti was able to move to third base on the pair of groundouts, however.

Next to bat for Shepherd Hill was Wong-Li, who battled with Grafton pitcher Sofia Valverde throughout the first eight pitches of the epic at-bat, fouling off one pitch after another.

On the ninth pitch Wong-Li got what she was looking for, a low fastball on the inside part of the plate. She immediately turned on the ball and deposited it well over the left-field fence. It was, as the kids say, a no-doubter.

"The game had gone on for too long. Someone had to break it open," Wong-Li said, a huge smile on her face. "I just saw the pitch and swung. It was a good pitch, but it was a low pitch and I just love the low pitches.

"I knew when I hit it that it was out. I didn't even watch the ball," added Wong-Li, who had two hits in the game. "I immediately looked into the dugout at my teammates to see their reaction. And then I got really excited because they were going crazy."

Shepherd Hill head coach John Snyder was all smiles when asked about Wong-Li's home run.

"That was a great piece of hitting by Kiley. I think the count being 3-2 really worked in her favor," Snyder said. "Valverde was doing a tremendous job all game of dropping in that terrific curveball she has to get the strikeout. I'm sure she wanted to use it there but, because it was 3-2, she had to go with the fastball and Kiley was ready for it."

Shepherd trailed, 4-0, as play entered the fourth inning.

The Rams got a run in the top of the fourth to cut their deficit to 4-1. With one out senior Keely Scotia (two hits) doubled over the head of Grafton center fielder Becca Haggerty and then scored when the next batter, junior Kelly Cournoyer (two doubles) doubled down the left-field line.

Shepherd tied the game, 4-4, in the fifth inning.

Senior Carly Snyder led off the inning with a single between third and short and then scurried to third on a single up the middle by Zannotti. Junior Parker Filo-Loos followed with a fly ball to center field for the first out. On the play John Snyder had Carly Snyder tag up and try to score, but she was out at the plate — for the second out of the inning — on a perfect throw by Haggerty.

"I messed up by sending Carly home on the fly ball to center field by Parker," John Snyder said. "I thought I had cost us a chance to win the game. They really baited me out rallying to tie the game after that."

Senior Cayley Fagan was her next and, with the 100th hit of her high school career, plated the Rams' second run, Zannotti coming home on Fagan's booming double to center field. Fagan made it 4-3 when she scored on a throwing error to the next batter, Wong-Li, and Wong-Li tied the game, 4-4, on an RBI single down the right-field line by Scotia.

Fagan, who labored early in the game before finding her zone, picked up the win in the pitching circle for Shepherd Hill.

"After the fourth inning, when we started hitting and really coming together as a team I thought, 'we're going to win this' and I got more confident," Fagan said. "Everybody starting making the plays in the infield and swinging the bats and I just wanted to do my part so I really narrowed my focus to one pitch at a time."

Shepherd Hill begins to celebrate its victory as Grafton can only watch.

Shepherd Hill's Sam Zannotti tosses the ball to the infield after making a catch in center field.

Bay Path’s magical season concludes in District Final with one-run loss to Hudson WORCESTER — With a sub .500 record and needing to go on a winning streak just to qualify for postseason play in the Central Mass. Division 3 Tournament, Bay Path Regional’s varsity baseball team did just that. After an 11-9 regular season, the Minutemen entered the bracket as the No. 14 seed and won three games to reach the District Final versus No. 5 Hudson High.

The game, played Saturday, June 15 at Tivnan Field at Lake Park, was a classic. The Hawks, though, broke a 2-2 tie with a run in the bottom of the sixth inning and held on in the seventh to win, 3-2, for their first championship since the 2011 season.

Bay Path, playing in its first Central Mass. final in school history, finished with a record of 14-10.

“Incredible,” head coach Mark Sansoucy said of the team’s winning streak to reach the tournament and then their deep run in it. “They had a great year. They just fell one run short against a team that plays a Division 1 schedule. I think that’s pretty good, they should be proud of what they did this year.”

Sansoucy knew that his team was built for the postseason, and he noticed a change in the way they were playing as they embarked on their winning streak.

“They just started to play together a little bit more. We were starting to get outside a little bit more, our field wasn’t ready until game No. 17,” he said of playing in only three home games at the high school during the regular season.

It appeared as if the Hawks may be well on their way to the District Title early, as Bay Path’s Andrew Fritze scores the Minutemen’s second run while sliding into home plate.

Second baseman Andrew Fritze of Bay Path waits for the incoming ball as Hudson’s Matt Lombardi slides safely into second base with a steal.

Tim Person (2-for-3) and Chris Lenox (2-for-3) both delivered RBI singles in the first inning off Bay Path pitcher Nate Shoemaker. But Shoemaker calmed himself and limited the damage at two, striking out the final two batters of the frame with Person and Lenox stranded on base.

“That was huge, he settled down after that first inning,” said Sansoucy. “I knew two runs wasn’t going to beat us. We hung in there and played good.”

Shoemaker held Hudson without a run in the bottom of the second, third and fourth innings as play remained at 2-0.

Bay Path couldn’t generate much offense against Person, the Hawks’ hard-throwing pitcher, but they got to him in the top of the fifth. There, they struck for a pair of runs to knot the game at 2-2.

Pinch hitter Mike Keeler struck out swinging, but an error on the catcher allowed Keeler to reach first base. Then, after a pair of strikeouts, No. 9 hitter Andrew Fritze (2-for-3) delivered a booming RBI double to center field. Dom Esposito (2-for-4) was up next and he laced an RBI single, plating Fritze.

“That was a big situation. They came up in big situations and as seniors, they were leaders,” Sansoucy said.

Shoemaker then allowed a leadoff single in the bottom of the fifth, which was followed by a sacrifice bunt and a wild pitch to put a runner on third base with only one out, but he got out of the jam via a fly out and pop out.

Hudson then found themselves in the same situation in the sixth inning — a runner on third with one out following a single, sacrifice bunt and wild pitch — and this time they capitalized. Anthony Carlman went the other way for an RBI double down the right field line for the eventual winning base-knock.

“Anthony Carlman is a great hitter,” said Tim Reinhardt, head coach of the Hawks. “He’s been working on going the other way and he did it.”

The Minutemen then threatened in their final ups in the top of the seventh, as Cam Stisitis worked a two-out walk and Fritze followed by singling.

“I was biting my fingernails on that one,” said Reinhardt.

But Person recovered by recording his 13th and final strikeout on Esposito.

Reinhardt, whose team improved to 13-11 and will play Western Mass. champion Taconic High (20-3) in the State Semifinals (after press time), was impressed with the play of Shoemaker and the entire Bay Path squad’s perseverance.

“I’m going to tip my cap to Nate Shoemaker, he was great. He had that tough first inning and then he just settled down and kept on grinding,” said Reinhardt. “I really respect that performance and that’s a resilient team over there. It’s not by accident that they made it here, they’re a good baseball team.”

Minutemen keep will to win alive after topping Uxbridge

Bay Path’s Dylan Brien focuses on his catcher before releasing a pitch to the plate.

AUBURN — Something about Dylan Brien pitching on Auburn High’s mound.

Brien, a Bay Path Regional sophomore, has now toed the rubber here twice in postseason play. First, the Minutemen opened the Central Mass. Division 3 Tournament playing at No. 3 Auburn, where Brien pitched an eight-inning shutout as Bay Path went on to win, 1-0.

Then, after the Minutemen dispatched No. 6 Quabbin Regional, 5-0, up in Barre, Bay Path played No. 2 Uxbridge High in the District semifinals at a neutral location on Wednesday, June 12, and that location wound up being Auburn High. Brien was called upon again and, after relinquishing a run in the first inning, he pitched the next six frames in shutout fashion as Bay Path rallied for a 3-1 victory.

Brien has now tossed 15 innings at Auburn High and has allowed nine hits on 189 pitches. Most importantly, he has only allowed that one run.

“They’re getting hot at the right time,” Bay Path head coach Mark Sansoucy said of the Minutemen, who were only 11-9 in the regular season and, as a result, earned the No. 14 seed in the tournament. “Dylan was a little banged up in the beginning of the year and he’s just been getting stronger as they year’s been going on.

“I think he drinks and sleeps baseball, he absolutely loves the game,” Sansoucy said when asked about Brien’s postseason success. “He’s a very smart pitcher. His velocity is good, but he beats people by outsmarting them.”

Sansoucy noted that it helps that classmate Erik Johnson calls a great game from behind the plate to form a strong battery.

In the quarterfinal win versus Quabbin, junior Nate Shoemaker got the job done on the mound.

“Shoemaker’s been pretty solid on the mound the whole season, so we’re going to live and die by them,” Sansoucy said of the Brien and Shoemaker one-two punch.

After the Spartans got their run in the bottom of the first inning, Sansoucy admitted that he was “concerned” since “we hadn’t been behind in the playoffs and it was right in the first inning.”

But Sansoucy remembered what his team had said as they approached the dugout.

“When they went to go hit in the second they said, ‘let’s do it,’ they didn’t get flustered,” said Sansoucy.

And, although the Minutemen didn’t score in the second, they did strike for two runs in the third to take a lead they would not relinquish. Shoemaker was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded for the first run and Andrew Flanagan followed with a sacrifice fly.

Then, in the seventh, Brien gave himself a cushion thanks to an RBI base hit.

Now, the Minutemen (14-9) will play for the Central Mass. Division 3 title against No. 5 Hudson High (12-11) in hopes of turning another upset victory.

“Their motivation, more than anything, was they were seeded 14th out of 15 teams,” said Sansoucy. “It’s kind of like a motivational thing for them now. They want to be the low seed that came in and shocked everybody. They’re playing like nobody can beat them.”

Ed Knopf of Bay Path smashes the ball into the outfield.

Bay Path first baseman Dom Esposito sees the ball into his glove to record an out on Uxbridge’s Jacob Rancourt.

Bay Path second baseman John Schramm lowers his glove to field the ball cleanly.

Cooking Tips from Classic Chefs

Does the extent of your gourmet cooking talents consist of nuking a Lean Cuisine or skewering a scallop and bacon appetizer? If culinary cleverness has eluded you, why not borrow a few tried and true tips from top chefs? The following “tricks of the trade” from famous cooks are sure to stir up some excitement in the kitchen.

The queen of French cooking, Julia Child never failed to amaze. Whether she was literally tossing a chicken in a pan or stirring up a storm, Julia Child’s unique techniques were fodder for both cooking schools and late night talk show hosts.

From Julia Child:
A good artichoke will talk to you. When it is fresh, it will squeak when lightly handled (but when over-squeaked, it will bruise).

Julia says while many recipes suggest cooking fish until it flakes. It should almost flake; if it actually flakes it’s overdone, according to the cooking icon.

The French Chef also revealed how to peel a large number of garlic cloves efficiently: Drop them into a pan of boiling water and let boil for 30 seconds. Drain, drop them into cold water, then slip off the skins with your fingers.

And she also has a hot tip for cooking green beans ahead of time: The beans may be cooked several hours in advance, but to keep their freshly cooked taste, the cooking icon advises drying them thoroughly in clean towels, then refrigerating them in a covered bowl.

Who could forget the flamboyant style and humor of 1960s TV cook Graham Kerr, aptly named the Galloping Gourmet? Here are some top tips he passed along as he trotted on the screen each afternoon.

To refresh fish that’s gotten sticky on the way home from the store, Kerr advises trying this ancient Scottish crofter’s trick called “crimping”: Add sea salt to cold water, about one tablespoon for two quarts. Drop in enough ice cubes to plummet the temperature to North Sea levels, slip your fish directly into the iced “sea water,” and leave it there about 15 minutes. When you dry it off, give it a sniff. It should smell sea-sweet.

The Galloping Gourmet also advises: To effectively approximate the rich nutty flavor of clarified butter, add a touch of toasted sesame seed oil to another light-flavored oil.

Dubbed “the Father of American Cooking,” the late James Beard taught many a budding cook the way around a kitchen via his dozens of classic cookbooks, popular TV show and his famous cooking school.

Here is a sampling of his advice:

TAKE THE HINT

KAREN TRAINOR

He also recommends putting a piece of bread in the bottom of the broiler pan to catch grease and discourage broiler fires.

Here are a few more tips from famous cooks:

The “Bam Man” Emeril Lagasse passes on this foolproof tip for cooking fresh asparagus: Stand the spears, points up, in a glass or Pyrex coffee pot, add water, cover, and use the pot as a steamer.

Bobby Flay claims less is more when it comes to grilling. He recommends simply brushing food with olive oil and sprinkling with a little salt and pepper. According to Flay, overdoing elaborate marinades and rubs can dominate the taste of food.

The Queen of Cuteness Rachael Ray, sweetens up tomato sauce without sugar. She says before you start the sauce, add half a minced onion to the garlic and let it soften and sweeten over medium low heat for about ten minutes. Then add your tomato products to build your sauce.

Wolfgang Puck advises adding a bit of lemon juice just before serving cream of mushroom soup to bring out its full flavor.

James Villas claims changing the water fresh asparagus is stored in every three to four days will keep it fresh for as long as two weeks.

Remembering Dad ...

Each of us have a recording playing in our minds. Our belief systems play over and over inside our heads as a personal verification of what we believe to be true. A few of us have made a conscious decision of what we believe, but most have developed their beliefs subconsciously based upon their life experiences. In one case, a person decides what is true for them and in the other, they allow their life to dictate what they believe.

As I have shared with you before, I was raised by a father who told me from my earliest memory that I had the power to make my dreams come true. He told me I was smart, handsome and talented and that I could achieve anything my imagination could create. My mother was a wonderful person but suffered from a severe and undiagnosed form of PTSD. Her beliefs were that tragedy, pain and failure were always right around the corner. As is true with many growing up in the 1960’s my mom stayed home, and my dad worked a job as a bakery delivery man.

As such, my sisters and I spent far more time in the home with my mother. Mom was loving and nurturing, but her life experiences told her that to protect her children she must temper their expectations by emphasizing the negatives of life. It was her attempt to protect us.

Fortunately, we gravitated to the positive reinforcement and encouraging messages from Dad. Our father had a booming laugh that was contagious. If he laughed everyone near laughed with him. When he spoke, everyone listened. He had a magnetic personality that attracted others. To us, he was larger than life. We wanted to be just like him, and I think in many ways, we are.

My dad dropped out of school in the eighth grade to help on his small family farm in Sesser, Illinois. I imagine for the Moore family that life was hard. John Moore was a full-time coal miner but also a full-time farmer. He mined the coal to pay the bills and farmed so their family of seven children could eat. They were raised in a seven hundred square foot, three room home on the corner of Matthew and Mulberry. The parents and the two youngest children slept in the only two beds while the other five children slept on cots, or on the floor.

POSITIVELY SPEAKING

BY GARY W. MOORE

Understanding the circumstances, it would be easy to wonder how Dad could have been raised to be such a positive force, but if you met my grandparents, you’d know why. John and Allie Moore radiated positivity and as such, they raised positive children even under the poorest of circumstances.

My mom painted one life picture for her children and my dad another. Mom’s was of failure and tragedy while Dad’s was of success and optimism. A friend who is a Psychologist shares that I am unusual. I consciously mad the decision to follow my father’s positive life example. He says that in most cases, children would be heavily influenced by the negative messages. It is easier to believe the negative about ourselves and life. My sisters and I defied the negative and to this day it is the voice of Dad we hear in our heads and we are grateful.

My father, Warren E. “Gene” Moore left us so suddenly that it is still hard to believe he isn’t here. I had lunch with him on Friday May 13, 1983, and six hours later we received the news he was gone. A sudden heart attack took the man we believed to be invincible. I don’t have many regrets in life, but I do regret the things I did not have a chance to say to him. Mostly, I regret not thanking him for the way he shaped us into positive and optimistic people.

I didn’t realize at it at the time, but my book about his life in baseball and war, “Playing with the Enemy,” was my attempt to thank him for his positive influence. In the book I tried to say the unsaid words in my heart and show my deepest respect to such a positive force.

This will be my thirty-seventh Father’s Day without my father, but I miss him as though he left us only yesterday.

Thank you, Dad. I wish I would have thanked you for your positive influence on my life but when you died, I was only twenty-nine years old and didn’t fully realize the incredible gift I received. I regret most of all that I didn’t tell you, the last time I saw you, how much I loved you ... but I believe you now understand.

Happy Father’s Day, Dad. I love you.

tolerance – you may need to get back on track.

As we’ve seen, some analogies exist between your smartphone’s GPS and your investment strategy. And yet, there’s also a big difference in terms of complexity. It’s simple to program your smartphone to give you the directions you need. But crafting a personalized investment strategy takes time and effort. You need to consider all your goals – college for your children, a comfortable retirement, the ability to leave the legacy you want – along with your time horizon, risk tolerance and other factors. And your investment strategy may well need to change over the years, in response to changes in your family situation, employment and even your objectives – for example, you may decide you want to retire earlier (or later) than you had originally planned.

In any case, like your GPS, your investment strategy can help guide you – so make good use of it.

Golf for beginners

Millions of people hit the links to play golf recreationally, and many young stars of the game are inspiring others to try their hand at this difficult sport.

In its "U.S. Golf Economy Report," released in 2018, WE ARE GOLF, a coalition of golf's governing bodies, found there was a 20 percent increase in junior golf participation in the five years between 2011 and 2016. Plus, there were 2.5 million golfers who played for the first time in 2016, up from 1.5 million in 2011. Even more exciting for the industry is non-golfers interested in playing golf doubled to 12.8 million.

There has never been a better time to play golf. However, to the uninitiated, golf can be complicated. There are many different rules and all sorts of equipment to learn and lingo to follow. In fact, the experts at Golf Digest say that some people can be scared off even before they hit the green. Fortunately, all it takes is a little research to get started on learning about and ultimately embracing the game of golf. Here are six ways to get started.

Golf has seen an upswing in the number of people interested in getting started with the game.

- including which kinds are used for various types of shots. While a golfer is allowed to carry as many as 14 clubs in a bag, you will not need that many when first starting out, nor do you have to invest thousands of dollars in a set of clubs. It's possible to find used clubs online if you want to try the sport before committing.
 4. Lean toward more loft when selecting clubs. Look for drivers that have at least 10 degrees of loft and fairway woods that start at 17 degrees, offers Golf Digest. This will make it easier for beginners to get the ball into the air and can reduce sidespin so shots fly more straight.
 5. Pay attention to short shots as well as the long ones. Spend as much time practicing with wedges and the putter as the driver to really tighten up all of your shots.
 6. Learn the proper grip and stance by working with a coach. Invest in a glove to avoid callused hands, as you'll be spending significant time practicing.
- With these tips, novice golfers can get on the road to developing a great golf game relatively quickly.

1. Start off on a practice range and not on the golf course. The range is a great place to acclimate oneself to the game and practice your swings.
2. Hook up with someone who can show you the ropes. Going it alone can tame feelings of embarrassment from being new to the game. However, having someone in your corner guiding you can make it easier to learn and love the game. Work with a local golf pro or enlist the help of a friend or family member with some golfing experience.
3. Learn all you can about the clubs,

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
