Aaron Witham is now teaching information technology and digital media at GHS.

GILFORD – The new teachers at Gilford High School include GHS alumni, familiar faces in new schools, some teachers who taught overseas, a brand new teacher, and many more.

School started for Gilford students on Sept. 6, and the new staff have been acclimating to their new roles.

English teacher Marc

Gonzalez is now at his first teaching job after graduating from Plymouth State University. He was inspired to go into teaching by his mother who also teaches English and has worked as a university professor for 30 years.

He said his first teaching gig has been “a whirlwind.”

“There’s a lot that they just can’t prepare you for at university, I was so pleasantly surprised how great the young people are here,” Gonzalez said.

He said the other teachers have been welcoming and have been helping him out. He said this has really helped him starting out.

Chemistry teacher Molly Horne and social studies teacher Presley Adair both came to Gilford from Franklin High School.

Both said they heard great things about GHS from others.

“I had heard very good things from a friend who works here already about the leadership and the school readiness of the staff and students,” Horne said.

Adair himself graduated from GHS in 2010

REGION – Voters in Alton and Barnstead cast their ballots for state and Belknap County offices during the state primary.

On Tuesday Alton voters cast their ballots at St. Catherine Drexel Church and Barnstead voters came to Barnstead Elementary School for polling.

Alton voters will decide on the candidates for State Senator in District 6. James Gray, the only Republican candidate, received 840 Alton votes and on the Democrat ballot, Ruth Larson received 243.

Barnstead voters will cast their ballots for State Senator in District 17. Barnstead Republicans cast 195 votes for Scott Bryer and 388 for Howard Pearl. Democrat Christine Tappan received 212 votes in Barnstead

For State Representative in Belknap County District 7, Alton and Barnstead, Republican voters chose Peter Varney, Paul Terry, and Barbara Comtois. Varney had 669 votes in Alton and 352 in Barnstead, Terry received 554 votes in Alton and 345 in Barnstead, and Barbara Comtois received 483 votes in Alton and 360 in Barnstead. David Hershey received 496 votes in Alton and 253 in Barnstead.

On the Democratic ballot, William O’Neil received 217 votes in Alton and 189 in Barnstead. Stephen Copithorne received 201 votes in Alton and 356 in Barnstead.

For Belknap County Commissioner, Stephen Hodges was the choice of local voters. Hodges received 448 votes in Alton and 448 in Barnstead. Leo GILFORD — Gilford voters cast their ballots in this past week’s state primary, with more voters favoring Bean, Dumais, Nagel, and Beaudoin for state representative.

Voters gathered at the Gilford Youth Center on Tuesday for the state primary and chose candidates for the general election in November.

For State Senator in District 2, Gilford Republicans gave their support to Timothy Lang with 625 votes Dave DeVoy. Gilford Republicans gave 591 votes to Timothy Lang and 158 to John Plumer.

Kate Miller was the only candidate on the Democratic ballot and received 441 Gilford votes.

For state representative in Belknap County District 6, Gilford Republicans gave their support to Harry Bean with 1,232 votes, Russell Dumais with 1,060 votes, David Nagel with 821 votes, and Richard Beaudoin with 789. Gregg Hough received 568 Gilford votes, Glen Aldrich received 471, and Norm Silber received 341.

All Democrats ran uncontested. Lisa DiMartino received 453 Gilford votes, Bob McLean received 396, Dana Hackett received 394, and Edward Cracraft received 364

For Belknap County Commissioner, Gilford Republicans cast more votes for Stephen Hodges with 1,109 votes. Leo Bernier received 178 and Harold Shurtleff received 138.

Eliza Leadbetter was the lone candidate on the

New Durham Library receives funding from three grants

BY CATHY ALLYN
Contributing Writer

NEW DURHAM — Just as libraries are a confluence of ideas and materials, there is a confluence of grant monies that have arrived from three major grants at the New Durham Public Library (NDPL), and they spell big changes for not only the facility itself, but for the entire town.

Library Director Caitlin Frost has announced a grant award of $10,000 from the New Hampshire Charitable Foundation to upgrade technology. The result has been six new public computers, three iPads, and a commercial copier/printer/fax machine.

The feedback has been positive.

“The printer is up and running smoothly,” Frost said. “The computers are all wireless, so they look nice on the table and computer wall; no cords running every which way.”

Frost said the iPads will come in handy for running additional programming for afterschool students and homeschooling families.

“They’ll be used in our upcoming 3D printing class, and we’ll be developing graphic design classes. We’ll also be using iPads to show patrons how to download books from the state consortium using the Libby app,” she said.

That’s in the near future, but coming right up in October are technology classes geared toward senior citizens, although open to all ages.

“We’re offering Tech Basics,” Frost said. “The series will cover how to scan/fax/copy documents, establish email and social media accounts, use an eReader, and set up a smart phone.”

The hour-long classes will also provide help regarding Medicare enrollment, applications for fuel assistance, etc.

“If it involves

Carter Mountain Brass Band to perform at First United Methodist Church

near the 3/11 bypass), Gilford on Sunday, Oct. 2 at 3 p.m. Conductor, Debbi Gibson, has chosen a program featuring the low brass section entitled “How Low Can You Go?” Interspersed with full band compositions will be the sounds of the low brass - from the sonorous as in a Welsh hymn to the bombastic as in “Them Basses March.”

By special request guest artist, tuba soloist and UNH senior, Michael Marrone, will present a repeat performance of “The Storm King” which was so well received at their last concert.

The concert is free, but donations are welcome. All proceeds will benefit the church’s mission program. A reception immediately following the concert will give the audience an opportunity to meet the band members as well as indulge in light fare.

The band is part of the Northern New England Heritage Brass Association, a 501(c)(3) organization, whose goal is to promote the performance and appreciation of brass instrumental music in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and beyond. The Carter Mountain Brass Band performs the rich heritage of brass music from the 16th century to the present day.

ABA September Monthly Member Highlight: Elisabeth's Hangar

ALTON — Every month, the Alton Business Association sits down with one of our amazing ABA members to get to know them a little better! For September, we spoke with Elisabeth Millspaugh, Owner of Elisabeth's Hangar. We ask each member the same questions, providing an opportunity for our members to highlight the important work that they do in our communities. If you're an ABA Member and would like to be considered for future Monthly Member Highlights, please reach out to us via email at info@altonbusinessassociation.com

Q: Tell us about your business?

A: Elisabeth's Hangar is a women's boutique offering clothing and accessories for women. I try to have something for every woman. I am a brick-and-mortar store and I enjoy helping ladies with wardrobe selections to help them feel and look their best!

Q: Tell us about yourself.

A: I spent 30 years flying for UPS and retired in 2019. I opened Elisabeth's Hangar in June of 2020. I always thought

I would enjoy helping ladies find clothing and accessories that would help them feel good about themselves. I saw a need in Alton and wanted to elevate the choices to women in the area.

Q: How did your business get started?

A: My husband, Jud, was very supportive. It took us about 4 months to renovate the space and during that time, I researched vendor options and attended the Coterie show in New York City where I met most of the brand representatives for the clothing I carry in the store.

Q: What has your relationship with the Alton Business Association done for you or your business?

A: The Alton Business Association has been a great advocate and supported my business by featuring Elisabeth's Hangar in newsletters and Instagram.

Q: What do you value most about this community?

A: It's small, tight knit and has great people!

Q: Why did you want to open your business in this community?

A: I feel like Alton needed a nice place for women to shop!

Q: What business accomplishment are you most proud of?

A: All of the positive feedback from my customers!

Q: What does the future hold for you and your business?

A: I am considering adding some online sales. Although my dream was to keep the store purely brick and mortar because I wanted to make the shopping experience more personal, I'm finding that I may need to branch out to create more revenue.

Q: What is one piece of advice you wish you had as a new business member?

A: In today's times, getting some training in social media is necessary.

Q: How can people who want to learn more about you or your business get in touch with you?

A: Email @elisabethshangar@yahoo.com and the shop number is (603) 409-9320.

Winter may be coming, but don't despair

So often, people strive to become happier by doing this, or obtaining that; however, sometimes it's what we give up that makes us more content. With the fast drop in temperatures, down into the 30's we know winter is coming. (For those of you out there who are fans of the "Game of Thrones" books or television franchise, you're welcome for the reference.)

For longtime New England residents, winter is a dreaded season. It's not so much the snow, as it is the frigid temperatures and high cost of fuel. We happen to enjoy the fall and winter seasons but for those who are having glum feelings about the colder weather, or even for those who love all weather, we have some tips on some things you can toss, to create more happiness in your world.

One thing you can say 'be gone' to is the idea that you have to always have a positive outlook on any given situation. If you try to avoid negative feelings all of the time, you're not creating a healthy space for when you are truly happy. If you need to vent, do it. If you're upset and need to cry into a bowl of ice cream, have at it. It is your overall life satisfaction that matters.

Minimize your time on social media. Remember the days when you didn't know what your friends, family or even celebrities were doing every second of the day? Those were blissful times. The only way we knew what someone was up to was to pick up the phone, wait for the dial tone, and make that call. We're not sure we ever inquired about what our friends were eating. All of that unnecessary knowledge is overwhelming at times, and simply put, unnecessary. One study showed that the more time people spend on social media, the more depressed they are. When we spend too much time online we know that we are wasting time. The idea of wasting time can inflict a feeling of depression on anyone who is typically highly motivated and energetic. Documenting every aspect of your life can be exhausting and takes away from the actual experience. If you order a rack of lamb, just enjoy every bit of it without feeling the need to share it with the world. Your experiences will be more fulfilling overall.

Don't compare yourself to others. We are fans of the phrase 'No one is you, and that is your power.' People have been comparing themselves to others since the dawn of time. The idea of keeping up with the Joneses is outdated. Don't do that. Love the idea that the person sitting next to you or walking down the street is nothing like you.

Keep likeminded company. If you have friends who are Eeyore like or always seem to be complaining, less is more. We don't have time in our precious lives to listen to chronic complaining. At the end of your life, do you want to think to yourself, 'Wow I spent so much time listening to people complain?' We're guessing you don't.

Have realistic goals. If you start with lower expectations and grow from there your success rate in reaching your higher goals will be greater and less stressful to obtain.

Forgive others. This one is extremely hard. However, forgiving those who have hurt you is key to feeling relaxed and happy.

Eating too much sugar can lead to depression. Balance in your meals has been scientifically proven to make people happier. More vegetables, more fiber and less processed food.

Opt to spend your money on experiences rather than things. Experts say the satisfaction of an experience will last much longer.

Lastly, choose good posture. While sitting up you automatically feel more energetic and positive. Slouching can lead to feel nervous, sleepy, sluggish and fearful.

A quote by Jim Rohn sums it up: "Happiness is not something you postpone for the future; it is something you design for the present."

Primary objective

New Durham residents turned out for the state's primary election, held at the town's fire station. Numbers were good and voters had the chance to make comments regarding the community at an exit poll. Here, a resident feeds her ballot into the ballot box, overseen by Town Moderator Linda Callaway. New laws regarding elections kept Callaway and her team busy from early morning until almost midnight.

Letters to the Editor

Democrats must embrace true patriotism

To the Editor:

The upcoming national elections are about the national division between socialists/communists and conservative capitalists.

Conservative Capitalists champion the Declaration of Independence, the US Constitution, the Bill of Rights, the Electoral College, the US Code of Laws, and the US Military; Socialists and Communists hate and want to overturn the Declaration of Independence, the US Constitution, the Bill of Rights, the Electoral College, and the US Code of Laws and weaken the US Military.

Whereas US Conservative Capitalists can be counted upon to be American Patriots the US Socialists/Communists can only be counted upon to be American Traitors, as evidenced by their power-mad power-grabs including COVID restrictions, their trampling of US citizens' rights, the destruction of the American Economy, American Energy Independence, American Border Security, American Foreign Policy, American Jobs, the Lawlessness in American cities run by Democrat-Socialists, and the Destruction of the World Peace in the hopes that Americans will want to become Socialists.

Communism (government ownership of property, buildings, production, and products) was tried in the American Colonies at Plymouth wherein Pilgrim workers placed what they produced into a Commonwealth and drew from that Commonwealth one share for each adult and one-half-share for each child and the Colonial Communism failed because individual citizens had no incentives to work harder or smarter. People suffered as a result.

Gov. Bradford and his Council chose to give each single man and each family a property to own and the rights to whatever buildings, production, products, and profits from the trade or sale thereof, if any. This was Colonial Capitalism. And it succeeded because individuals had the incentive to work harder and smarter, and soon there was a surplus that could be traded or sold for a profit, and the Pilgrims benefited greatly as a result. And when the news of the Pilgrim Capitalism spread to Europe, individuals came to America to participate in the growing economy. And the overall result is the American Conservative Capitalism that has been the basis for the American economy since.

But now we have socialists and Communists lying and cheating and stealing elections with mail-out votes that Europeans have learned lead to corruption and have therefore outlawed. The S&Cs now tell us that Voter IDs are racist and should be outlawed.

We will have a Civil War if somehow Democrats do not find ways to become true American patriots, which would require them to assume some of the policies of Conservative Capitalists.

New Durham and Middleton will have their own voice in Concord

To the Editor:

In recent years, those of us living in Middleton and New Durham have been politically marginalized. We've shared representation in the New Hampshire House with larger towns; Middleton was paired with neighboring Milton and New Durham with Strafford, a town with which it did not even share a border. Because Milton and Strafford each had larger voting populations than we did, our voice was effectively muted. In the new congressional districting map, New Durham and Middleton residents will continue to have two representatives: one that we share with Milton, Strafford and Barrington - and (hooray) one that will give us our very own member of the House. For the first time in several years, we will have a dedicated own voice in Concord.

I believe the one representative we can call our own should be a fresh, new voice - but one with deep, relevant experience in government; one with a track record of balancing fiscal responsibility with social responsiveness; one who believes in building community rather than creating an us-versus-them mentality.

For those who do not yet know me, I am a former community college administrator and Mayor of a small town, a retired Foreign Service Officer who served American citizens and our national interests abroad, and currently work part-time as a Special Investigator for the U.S. Department of Defense. In New Durham, I have served on the Planning Board and Zoning Board of Adjustments as well as the Advisory Capital Improvement Plan Committee - and am currently a member of the Budget Committee.

I'm running with the goal to represent all the residents of Middleton and New Durham. It is time NH House members put aside partisan rhetoric and work together to do the job they're elected to do - serve the interests of all Granite State residents. I will try my best to do just that and would very much appreciate your support. Please check out my Web site (www.Wessel-4NH.com) to learn more about my views on issues the House will be facing these next two years. Thank you very much!

David Wessel
New Durham

I look forward to serving you in Concord

To the Editor: I would like to thank the voters of Alton and Barnstead for coming out on a rainy day and writing me in! I will be on the ballot for the General Election running for State Representative for District 7.

I really enjoyed having the chance to meet so many community members this summer and look forward to meeting many more this fall during the campaign. I spent Primary Day in Barnstead and Alton at the Polls and was encouraged by the numbers of voters coming through on such a stormy day! I am a registered nurse running because I believe women, children and the elderly need a knowledgeable, strong voice in Concord, as do our dedicated healthcare workers. Being a native of New Hampshire, I love our state and want to work hard for the needs of the people.

LETTERS FROM EDWIN

Bearing

I'm sitting here in my local auto repair shop, waiting for a new wheel bearing to be installed. It's been getting worse for months. At first, I thought it might be the show tires making the noise. The sound didn't change by steering left and right so I couldn't quite pin it down. A couple weeks ago, I detected a slight rubbing sound when I turned to the left. It had to be the wheel bearing. I wasn't terribly concerned because wheel bearings can growl for many thousands of miles before the fail, and my bearing didn't have any play yet. I checked.

I remember an old friend of mine telling me of the time that he drove into a repair shop because his car was driving real strange. He said that the mechanic put the car on the lift and he just slipped the wheel off the spindle without having to undo anything. That bearing was pretty shot, but still driving.

Not long after I was sitting here, my mechanic came in with a video of my noisy bearing and was surprised that it had no play. Well, I guess that I had diagnosed it correctly. Knowing that this particular bearing was a bear to repair, I have no problem with letting him fix it.

I did one of those pressed in bearings way back in the late eighties when I was still into doing everything myself. I didn't have a press, but I did have a bottle jack and my van had a real old fashioned bumper so between the two, and a good selection of sockets and spacers, I was able to successfully do the R&R.

It must be wonderful to have a garage that is well stocked with the proper tools. I've never even had air tools. When I was looking for work back early this century, I was actually offered a job at a garage. It was tempting because it was work I could do, and it was local. Unfortunately, I really didn't want to be a grease monkey.

I now do have an air compressor though. Some workers left it at a customer's house and they offered it to me to get it out of their yard. After fixing some leaks and replacing some parts, I now can fill up my tires without using a bicycle pump or one of those little plug in the lighter gadgets that burn out in ten minutes. I'm not interested in acquiring any air tools though.

Checking the time, and hearing the audio from out in the garage, I can tell that they are really not having a wonderful time extracting that old bearing. Once again, I'm so glad it's not me. Lately all my automotive issues have been crazy troublemakers. I know that I have another wheel bearing waiting in the wings. I can let that one age a little bit more before I schedule it in. You know my feelings on wheel bearings.

The mechanic just came in from the shop having successfully removed the bearing and explained how he had to do more than his usual disassembly work to extract this accomplishment. Well once again, I'm certainly glad it wasn't me.

My back and butt have had enough of this old wooden bench. At least it's got AC, outside it's pretty hot. I've left things all set up for my returning to work, but I may easily get side tracked by the lake. By the time I get out of here, there probably won't be enough time to start back up working at the house, I'll leave the ladders up and start where I left off tomorrow.

Driving out from the shop onto the highway, you could instantly tell by the subdued level of noise that all was back to the way that it should be. The traction control lights were no longer annoying me on the visual side of things either. I got my good old truck back. I had been bearing that noise for too long. It had crept up so slowly. The volume of the radio had to increase to be heard above it. The continuous noise was certainly taking it's toll on my ears. What a relief to have it gone.

Maybe I'll get to the next one before it gets this bad. If it ain't one thing, it's definitely going to be another. What's the highest priority next repair? At the moment, I think I'm sitting pretty, but next week some other issue could come to bear. You never know do you?

NOTES FROM WINDY HOLLOW

All around kindness abounds

BY VIVIAN LEE DION
Contributing Writer

My husband, Ray, suffered an unfortunate fall at a grocery store parking lot. Three kind people helped him up, made sure he was okay, and walked him back to our Explorer where I was waiting. His knees were bleeding and his elbow was swollen like a small ping pong ball. Thankfully, he did not hit his head on the pavement but the six-mile ride home seemed like forever as Ray's mantra was, "I'm OK, I'm OK."

After several hours of sitting in his recliner it was evident that he needed help from professionals because he was unable to get up from his chair. I dialed 911 and discussed the situation with the operator. She calmed me down and said an ambulance would be on its way as soon as possible. The New Durham ambulance arrived, vital signs were taken and a trip to the hospital was necessary. With care, dignity, and concern New Durham's first responders treated Ray with the utmost care. He was safely transported to Frisbee Memorial Hospital in Rochester and subsequent x-rays showed that he fractured his pelvis.

The next day he was brought by ambulance to Northeast Rehabilitation Hospital in Portsmouth. This modern facility of doctors, nurses, physical therapists, and social service personnel kept Ray busy. Their goal was to insure mobility, awareness of surroundings, and healthy nutrition selections.

Daily physical therapy and assigned mobility exercises helped Ray slowly heal. He was happy the first day he walked with the help of a walker to the furthest end of the hallway. Upon his return home visiting nurses and therapists continued to help with his recovery.

On the CDC.gov Web site, "Falls are common and costly, especially among Americans age 65 and older. Every second of every day, an older adult (age 65 and up) suffers a fall in the U.S. — making falls the leading cause of injury and death in this age group. Each year, three million older adults are treated in emergency departments for a fall injury. One out of every five falls causes an injury such as broken bones or a head injury."

Through patience and education Ray learned that exercise and movement helped make his legs stronger and improve his balance, just as the CDC suggested. Other suggestions: "Get rid of trip hazards. Keep floor clutter free. Add grab bars in the bathroom and have handrails and lights installed on all staircases,"

Ray still uses a walker and wheelchair but

Edward Jones: Financial Focus

Should you stick with index-based investments?

You may have heard that you can simplify your investment strategy just by owning index-based or passive investments. But is this a good idea? You'll want to consider the different aspects of this type of investment style. To begin with, an index-based investment is a vehicle such as a mutual fund or an exchange-traded fund (ETF) that mimics the performance of a market benchmark, or index — the Dow Jones Industrial Average, the S&P 500, and so on. (An ETF is similar to a mutual fund in that it holds a variety of investments but differs in that it is traded like a common stock.) You can also invest in index funds that track the bond market. Index investing does offer some benefits. Most notably, it's a buy-and-hold strategy, which is typically more effective than a market-timing approach, in which individuals try to buy investments when their prices are down and sell them when the prices rise. Attempts to time the market this way are usually futile because nobody can really predict when high and low points will be reached. Plus, the very act of constantly buying and selling investments can generate commissions and fees, which can lower your overall rate of return. Thus, index investing generally involves lower fees and is considered more tax efficient than a more active investing style. Also, when the financial markets are soaring, which happened for several years until this year's downturn, index-based investments can certainly look pretty good — after all, when the major indexes go up, index funds will do the same. Conversely, during a correction, when the market drops at least 10% from recent highs, or during a bear market, when prices fall 20% or more, index-based investments will likely follow the same downward path. And there are also other issues to consider with index-based investments. For one thing, if you're investing with the objective of matching an index, you may be overlooking the key factors that should be driving your investment decisions — your goals and your risk tolerance. An index is a completely impersonal benchmark measuring the performance of a specific set of investments — but it can't be a measuring stick of your own progress. Furthermore, a single index, by definition, can't be as diversified as the type of portfolio you might need to achieve your objectives. For example, the S&P 500 may track a lot of companies, but they're predominantly large ones. And to achieve your objectives, you may need a portfolio consisting of large- and small-company stocks, bonds, government securities and other investments. (Keep in mind, though, that while diversification can give you more opportunities for success and can reduce the effects of volatility on your portfolio, it can't guarantee profits or prevent all losses.) Ultimately, diversifying across different types of investments that align with your risk tolerance and goals — regardless of whether they track an index — is the most important consideration for your investment portfolio. Use this idea as your guiding principle as you journey through the investment world.

Gilford boys net nine, dominate Inter-Lakes

JOSHUA SPAULDING

Gilford's Thomas Donnelly (right) and Danny Bean of Inter-Lakes battle for the ball in action last week.

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

Sports Editor

GILFORD — Across the Division III circles, the talk is that Gilford will be the team to beat this fall, as longtime coach Dave Pinkham has a strong group of returning players with the skills to take on any and all comers in the division.

The Golden Eagles did nothing to dispel those rumors when they hosted local rival Inter-Lakes on Tuesday, Sept. 13, scoring four goals in the first half and adding five more in the second half to take the 9-0 win.

The Inter-Lakes defense held tight early on, as Brad Leberman, Ben Beaudoin and Cam Jenkins made solid defensive stops on the Gilford attack. Owen Brown had the first shot for the Lakers, which Gilford keeper Caleb Giovanditto stopped. Gilford had a good cross in front of the net that Leberman cleared and also had the first corner of the game but could not convert.

Tanner Keenan had a good run in the zone for the hosts, with Beaudoin turning him away. Anthony Burnham also had a shot go over the top of the net. Luke Brown made a good defensive clear for the Lakers on a Gilford corner chance and Thomas Donnelly made a nice cross to Keenan, only to see Luke Brown make a good defensive play. Keenan and Alex Burnham had shots blocked for the Golden Eagles and Andrew McDonough had a shot stopped by Laker keeper Nacho Alvarez. Danny Bean made a great defensive play for the Lakers on a Donnelly run and Alvarez saved a header from Haukur Karlsson.

The Golden Eagles had a good corner kick chance, with Alvarez stopping Keenan's shot and Keenan got off another shot moments later with the same results. McDonough made a run into the zone, with Alvarez making the save and Keenan and Karlsson connected on a bid that went wide.

With 25:10 to go in the first half, the Golden Eagles got on the board, as Keenan made a nice cross in the middle to Micah Javalgi, who buried the shot for the 1-0 lead.

Just less than two minutes later, the hosts struck again, this time with Burnham ripping a shot to the far post from the right side and Gilford had the 2-0 lead.

The Gilford relentless attack continued with 19:59 to go in the first half, as Burnham made a nice feed across the box to McDonough, who promptly buried the shot and pushed Gilford's lead to 3-0. The Golden Eagles had another corner but could not convert and Tristan Reinhold and Javalgi had chances that Alvarez stopped. Beaudoin had a long direct kick at the other end that the Gilford defense cleared, and Bean made another good defensive stop on a run from Tyler Lafond.

Burnham sent a shot wide on another Gilford corner and at the other end, Tagel Ort just missed connecting with Zach Spicuzza for a chance and Owen Brown sent Sebastian Hart in for a bid.

Gilford added to the lead with 6:03 to go in the half on a corner kick, as Burnham served the ball up into the box and McDonough headed it home for the 4-0 lead.

Tanner Keenan charges the ball forward in action last week against Inter-Lakes.

McDonough responded immediately with another bid that Alvarez stopped, and Beaudoin cleared the rebound. Lafond sent the ball wide on another Gilford corner kick and Beaudoin cleared another corner.

Luke Brown and Owen Brown teamed up on a Laker chance that went over the net and Luke Brown had a direct kick blocked in the final minutes of the first half, with Gilford taking the 4-0 lead to the break.

The Golden Eagles wasted little time adding to the lead in the second half, as Anthony Haddocks headed the ball home on a corner kick just 2:06 into the frame for the 5-0 lead. Keenan and Haddocks continued to pressure, with shots missing the mark, while Spicuzza had a bid at the other end that went high.

With 32:12 to go in the game, Karlsson sent a nice cross through to Keenan, who delivered Gilford's sixth goal of the game. Then less than four minutes later, Gilford struck again, this time on a corner kick, with Lafond putting the ball in the net for the 7-0 lead.

Lakers Rafe Bean and Owen Brown connected with a run into the zone, but the pass forward just missed Spicuzza. Gilford made a goalie change, with Eliot Warren taking over in the net and Gilford had a quick corner punched out of the box by Alvarez. Luke and Owen Brown teamed up again on a bid that Warren stopped and Owen Brown had a good move through the defense but fired his shot over the net.

The Lakers had a corner kick chance, with Warren saving a shot from Ethan Stinson. Alvarez made a diving save on a bid from Kar-son Genakos and then stopped a bid from Anthony Burnham.

With 12:15 to go, Drake Bolduc moved the ball along the baseline and deposited it in the net for the 8-0 lead and the final goal came from Genakos with less than 10 minutes to go for the 9-0 final.

Gilford is scheduled to be hosting Belmont at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 24, and will be at Prospect Mountain on Tuesday, Sept. 27, at 4 p.m.

Inter-Lakes is scheduled to be at Moultonborough at noon on Saturday, Set. 24, and will be hosting Newfound at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 27, before hosting Moultonborough under the lights on Thursday, Sept. 29, at 8 p.m.

Prospect golfers continue battle for playoff spot

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

Sports Editor

SUNAPEE — The Prospect Mountain golf team continued its strong season with a second place finish on the road at Sunapee last Wednesday.

The Timber Wolves finished with a total of 63 points, finishing second behind a strong Hopkinton squad, which scored 77 points. Prospect Mountain outscored both the host Lakers and Inter-Lakes to move to 7-4 on the season.

The top finisher for the Timber Wolves was Spencer Therrien in the third spot, finishing with a score of 43 for 19 points for the team.

Sam Caldwell in the top spot and Bruce Rawnsley in the second spot both finished with a score of 45, which earned 17 points each for the team.

The final scorer for the Timber Wolves was Glidden Martin in the fifth spot, finishing with a 52 for 10 points.

Ian West finished with a 53 in the fourth spot and Landor MacLeod finished with a score of 56 from the sixth spot in the lineup.

"We are in eighth place battling for a playoff spot for the first time in four years," said coach Ryan McKenna. "We have been rebuilding to get to this moment. "We are doing well and playing the best competition in the state, match in and match out," McKenna added.

The Timber Wolves had their home match at Farmington Country Club postponed due to weather.

Next up, Prospect will be at Bethlehem Country Club on Monday, Sept.

26, for a match hosted by Littleton.

OBITUARY

Sheila Weeks, 85

GILFORD, NH --- HARPSWELL, ME --- Sheila Weeks, 85, passed away at home on Thursday, September 15, 2022.

Sheila was born on January 10, 1937, in Laconia, the daughter of Edward and Velma (Lougee) Dupont.

She spent her life as a devoted wife and mother, always finding a way to balance family life, all the while dedicating herself to endless organizations as a leader and volunteer.

She always had a love of travel, whether it be family vacations when her children were young, or where her speaking engagements took her. Later in her life she would take her grandchildren on epic tours across the globe.

It was while she was a student at Laconia High School that she realized her leadership abilities. In her junior year, she was a delegate to NH Girls State, where she was elected Governor, and a delegate to Girls Nation in Washington, D.C. She was vice-president of the Class of 1955 organizing several reunions. She was editor of the school newspaper the Laconian and President of the NH chapter of Future Homemakers of America.

Following graduation, she married Robert (Bob) Weeks, of the LHS Class of 1952. They built a family home on Sleeper Hill Road in Gilford, where they raised their 5 children. She and her husband were active members of the Gilford Community.

As a young mother she was a Girl Scout leader for 15 years and President of the Laconia Girl Scout Leaders Council. She was also a member and president of the Lakeport Women's Club and served as Plymouth District Director of the New Hampshire Federation of Women's Clubs.

She was one of the founders of Lakes Region Charitable Foundation and for many years served as a Board Member of the Lakes Region Scholarship Foundation. She was a 50-year member of the Mary Butler Chapter of the DAR, and a member of the Mount Washington chapter of New England Women. She was a past Board Member of the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests.

She was a member of the Knights and Ladies of the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre. She once co-chaired the NH Catholic Bishop's Fund and also chaired the Lakes Region Committee for the NH Catholic Bishop's summer garden party fundraiser.

She began her long affiliation with the Lakes Region Hospital, as President of the Auxiliary. She became a member of the hospital's Board of Trustees in 1978 and was elected Chairman of the Board, the first woman to hold that position in the history of the hospital. She was also a Trustee of the NH Hospital Association and became a member of the American Hospital Association's General Council, and chaired the AHA Committee on Volunteers. In that capacity, she traveled to 33 of the 50 states, conducting workshops and speaking on volunteerism and trusteeship. She would later be invited and spoke at both Yale and Harvard. Following her husband's death in 1988, she accepted the position of Director of Community Affairs and Development at the hospital.

Among her many honors was the Laconia Business and Professional Women's Clubs selection as Woman of the Year in 1977, and the Lakes Region Chamber of Commerce Irwin Award for community service.

After her husband Bob passed away in 1988, she found solace at her seaside homes. She spent many winters at her home on Sanibel Island building lifelong memories with her grandchildren. After retiring in 2000, she moved to her home in Harpswell, Maine for 20 years before returning to New Hampshire to be near her daughters. Her most peaceful days were spent watching the activity on the water and beaches.

She is survived by her children, Wendy Weeks and her husband Ruban Andrus, Holly Burrows and her husband Bill Burrows, Marcy Weeks, Robert Bruce Weeks Jr. and his wife Lynda, and Stacy Weeks Schoell, her seven grandchildren, Samantha B. Miner, Austin Burrows, Stephanie Weeks Pepin, Abigail Weeks Estes, Connor Burrows, Hilary Burrows, and Mackenzie Schoell, several great-grandchildren, and many nieces and nephews.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated on Saturday, October 8, 2022, at 10:00am, at St. Andre Bessette Parish at Sacred Heart Church, 291 Union Avenue, Laconia, NH, 03246.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks that memorial donations be made to Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests -Weeks Woods, 54 Portsmouth St, Concord, NH, 03301, or Lakes Region VNA Hospice, 186 Waukegan St #6023, Meredith, NH, 03253.

Wilkinson-Beane-Simoneau-Paquette Funeral Home & Cremation Services and 603Cremations.com, 164 Pleasant Street, Laconia, NH, is assisting the family with arrangements. For more information and to view an online memorial, please visit www.wilkinsonbeane.com.

Letters to the Editor

Thank you for your support

To the Editor:

I want to congratulate Steve Hodges for winning the Republican primary election for Belknap County Commissioner 3rd District, and thank Mr. Leo Bernier for his candidacy.

A special thank you for the people of Alton, Barnstead, Gilford, and Ward 2 of Laconia who voted for me, and supported by campaign.

Meetinghouse: Credibility and experience matter

To the Editor:

When the New Durham selectmen formed the Meetinghouse Restoration Committee back in 2006, it was meant to be an advisory committee of people with “expertise in restoration, building elements, and site preservation” that would help the selectmen to get the building properly restored for community use.

I was founding chairman of the committee and stayed involved with the committee up until 2019. At that point, the selectmen began appointing people to committee membership who had no relevant restoration experience to offer the effort, but were more “politically acceptable” to Swenson and the other selectmen at the time.

The primary requirement for committee membership seemed to be that you had to be compliant and obedient, and not speak out against the selectmen’s efforts to accomplish their real priority, which was to get the taxpayers to fund the million dollar, fake history, Boodey project instead of the Meetinghouse.

I refused to go along with that scam, and the nonsense claim that the town was somehow going pay for both projects when it is hard to get funding for just the far less expensive Meetinghouse project.

It’s now three years later, and sadly, the Meetinghouse committee has very serious credibility issues that stem from its lack of relevant restoration expertise.

A few examples:

Last December, the committee did a town survey to judge support for the Meetinghouse. This was a great idea, but it was limited to Facebook and it only got 147 responses – which is only 7 percent of the 1,974 people on the voter list. Far worse than that is the fact that the committee knows that some of the 147 respondents don’t even live in New Durham or New Hampshire!

Starting in April, the Restoration committee and the Town Historian began repeatedly claiming to the selectmen that the Meetinghouse site is somehow not included in the National Register of Historic Places, and that only the building itself was. This is ridiculous, but they wanted permission to sell “vanity stones” for $1,000 apiece and put them on a historic site where they have no business being.

Based on this claim, a rather gullible majority on the Board of Selectmen voted 2 to 1 to allow the vanity stones to be placed on the 1749 historic site.

It took very little effort to prove their claim false. I contacted the federal government historian in Washington, D.C. who oversees the National Register sites in New Hampshire, and I contacted the NH State coordinator for the historic sites, and they confirmed that - of course - the historic site itself is included and is deserving of the same respect as the building.

Last month, the committee put out a newsletter that claimed that the foundation that was put under the Meetinghouse in 2018 is really only a fieldstone “vener” on a concrete foundation. I was co-chair at the time, and supervised every aspect, and every day of that project and I can assure you that there is nothing fake about it – it is a real fieldstone foundation.

The same newsletter also claimed that we have to spend $8,700 right now to put a rubber roof over the Meetinghouse instead of tarps, and that somehow this rubber roof will go back on the Meetinghouse “under the shingles”. No, this is all false. EPDM rubber roofing material is never used as an underlayment for shingles and we can always get better tarps for far less money.

The most serious failing this summer is the application that was sent in to LCHIP, the state funding agency for historic restoration grants. It contains many misleading and inaccurate statements about the condition of the building, the degree to which the town maintains it, and the committee’s ability, skills and experience for overseeing the next, and crucial, timber frame repair phase of the project.

The selectmen met twice to discuss withdrawing the application because of its problems. In the end, they voted by the same 2 to 1 margin, to do nothing and leave the application in place in the mistaken belief that if (when) the application is rejected, we can just try again next year, with no negative consequence.

That is not how it works in the real world. Credibility, actual experience and integrity all matter, and sooner or later we are all held to account.

The selectmen need to stop focusing on personal politics and go back to having a committee that tells the truth; good or bad, has some actual experience in timber frame and historic restoration, and a desire to protect a historic site – not exploit it.

On to the general election!

To the Editor:

I thank the voters who cast their ballot for me in the Republican Primary last Tuesday for the position of Belknap County Commissioner from District three. The support that I received was humbling. I also thank the two other candidates in the race, Mr. Bernier and Mr. Shurtleff for participating in the process with me. Each campaigned on their own merits and there was no negative campaigning. It is now on to the General Election on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

I again ask for your vote so that I may serve the residents of District Three as your County Commissioner. Thank you

Steve Hodges

We can fix the problems we face

To the Editor:

Thank you to all who voted for me in the Republican Primary on Sept. 13. As I mentioned in my letter to the Editor back on June 10 of this year, I was pleased to be able to say that I had kept the promises I made during the campaign of 2020.

You elected me to do what I said I would do. Unlike so many of the politicians of whom you and I have grown weary, I was committed to honor the admonition of my parents who taught me to always tell the truth. Because no one can see all that lies ahead, I could not foresee all that I would be asked to consider during the past two years. However, when I did so I was determined to decide on the basis of the principles I was taught, embraced and practiced over the course of my lifetime.

It would have been unrealistic and even naïve for me to have believed that this campaign would have been conducted on the bases of facts and truth, absent of distortions of record and clever manipulations. Regrettably, that is the nature of politics and life. Nevertheless, win or lose, each of us is called to live in the awareness that this life is not all that is and ever will be. Each of us is being watched, and each of us will be asked to account for the ways in which we have lived and how we have conducted ourselves with others and all of creation.

Now that the general election is in view, I believe we have two very different views of life and America before us. There is the Democrat way exemplified by the Biden Administration and the record of the past two years. We know what this has been and continues to be. And there is the Republican way exemplified by what Governor Sununu and we Republicans in the State House and State Senate have accomplished. Against tremendous national and international forces, many beyond our reach and control, we proved New Hampshire to be “The Little Engine That Could.”

I trust the people of Alton and Barnstead, and I believe we can fix the messes we are in, largely and most painfully because of a Democrat President and Democrat House and Senate in Washington. And I pledge to you that I will help us do this from the position I play and the opportunities I have to do so.

Rep. Paul Terry
Alton

he is one of the lucky ones who survived a fall. The professionals, community, family and friends came together to help him along the way. In fact, when we finished voting at the New Durham fire station, he used the walker to go to his car. I took the walker and was ready to put it in the back but had trouble releasing the latch to bring the sides together. I struggled for a few minutes and a kind, caring lady came over and pushed on the release button and this allowed me to load it into the back of the Explorer. A special thank you to the New Durham first responders and to the caring person who helped me fold the walker for storage in the trunk. Also thank you to the members of the New Durham cribbage club headed up by Georgianna Nason who called Ray and sent get well wishes. The caring messages and outreach of support continues to make us realize New Durham is a wonderful place to live.

Volunteers needed at New Durham School

NEW DURHAM — Interested in kids? Volunteers are needed at the New Durham School. Now that school is back in session, there is a real need this fall for volunteers to help in the classroom, and to assist teachers on a daily basis.

A volunteer can make a difference to a child by helping them improve their learning skills while assisting the teacher.

We are in need of folks who are willing to help in the classroom, to be a chaperone on a field trip, help support the winter sports program, and to assist teachers preparing materials for the lessons of the day/week.

We are looking for volunteers who will assist with encouraging students to complete their assignments, to mentor and listen, and most importantly, to be there for them when needed.

We are looking for you to give an hour a day to help motivate students, to praise their accomplishments, and build their confidence on a regular basis. Does that sound like a job you could handle? If so, please contact Kim Nottage, School Coordinator, at (603) 859-2061, or Diane Thayer, Volunteer Coordinator, at (603) 534-0379.

You can also learn more about the volunteer program at the Open House at school, which is set for Sept. 28 from 6 to 7 p.m. We welcome all.

Kilmeister's double-OT goal lifts Knights over Eagles

KINGSWOOD GOALIE Heidi Roiter dives on the ball as Kennett's Kendall Krieger tries to get her foot on it first.

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

NORTH CONWAY — It took more than 90 minutes, but the short-handed Kingswood girls' soccer team earned a hard-fought 1-0 win over host Kennett on Saturday.

Amelia Kilmeister put home a rebound of a Kylie Rapoza direct kick with 1:28 gone in the second overtime to give the Knights the lone goal of the game and the 1-0 win.

"Coming back from a difficult Spaulding game, shorthanded with injuries, playing a team as talented as Kennett is this year and pulling off a win is huge," said Kingswood coach Shane Flood.

Kennett started the game with a number of corner kick chances, but they were unable to convert. Ivy Zipf had a chance that was stopped by Knight keeper Heidi Roiter and at the other end, Marcella DeNitto made a run for King-wood that Eagle defender Ashley Garside turned away. Carli Krebs had a cross that was cleared by the Knights and Garside made another solid stop on DeNitto. Rapoza made a defensive stop on Kennett's Aida Wheat and Garside had a long shot stopped by Roiter, who also made a great diving save on a bid from Shannon Abrams.

Rapoza made a run into the zone that Kennett keeper Abby Hynes was able to stop and Madison Eaton also had a shot for the Knights that Hynes stopped. Krebs had a great chance for the Eagles that was stopped and the game went to the half with no score on the board.

Krebs, Abrams and Garside had offensive chances for the Eagles early in the second half and the Eagles had the first corner of the half, which Roiter stopped. Kendall Krieger and Bryn Fayle got a chance in the zone for Kennett that Roiter stopped and Kilmeister had a bid at the other end that was blocked.

Garside sent another shot wide on a Kennett corner kick and the Eagles got a penalty kick chance with less than 12 minutes to go in the half, but Krebs sent the bid over the top of the net to keep the game scoreless. Rowan Donovan-Laviolette made a nice bid to DeNitto that the Eagle defense stopped and Eaton had a shot saved by Hynes. Sara Hyde had a shot denied, as did Kilmeister as the Knights threatened.

Abrams sent a late shot wide of the net and Wheat had a bid stopped by Roiter and Krebs and Wheat teamed up on a great chance, but the game went to overtime with no score on the board.

Wheat had a shot on a corner kick to open the first overtime, but Roiter made the save. Abrams also had a bid stopped by the Knight keeper and Marina Roy made a good defensive stop for the Knights on a bid from Abrams. Fayle also had a chance for Kennett that Roiter saved and the game went to the second overtime.

Eaton and Abrams exchanged chances early in the second overtime and the Knights finally struck when Rapoza sent in a direct kick that Hynes stopped, but Kilmeister charged the net and punched home the loose ball for the 1-0 win.

Flood noted that key to the win was the work Rapoza did in shutting down Wheat, as the two track sprinting stars battled all day on the field.

"I think we put our two stars against each other and they equaled each other out," Flood said. "Kylie marked her perfectly.

"And Marcella was all over the field, moving back and forth," the Knight coach added, praising the team's versatility with numerous players out due to injury.

Kingswood will be hosting Plymouth on Saturday, Sept. 24, at 5 p.m. and will be at Pembroke on Tuesday, Sept. 27, at 4 p.m.

Second-half goals lifts Kingswood boys over Kennett

KENNETT'S Jack Heysler tries to hold off Kingswood's Brayden Rapoza in action Saturday.

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

NORTH CONWAY — The Kennett and Kingswood boys' soccer teams met for the second time this season, as Kennett celebrated Homecoming on Saturday and hosted the Knights on Saturday afternoon.

After a scoreless first half, the Knights were able to score two goals in the final half of the second half to escape North Conway with a 2-0 win.

"It was a war for 80 minutes, I'm glad we came out on top," said Kingswood coach Erik Nelson. "We made some halftime adjustments, we have a lot of respect for Kennett, so to come out with the victory was huge."

Kingswood had early chances, with Brody Copenhaver getting a bid that Aiden Colbath stopped in the Kennett net. Kennett had a direct kick from Willem Badger that Caleb Russo stopped and Keegan Russo was able to clear from the zone. Dom Alberto had a chance for the Knights that was stopped and Alberto sent a shot high and Brady Moulton had a good clear for the Knights.

Badger sent a direct kick into the box that Alex Clark headed on the net, with Caleb Russo making the save. Troy Dow sent a shot high for the Knights, as did Copenhaver and Clark had a direct kick at the other end that went wide. Colbath poked the ball out on a Kingswood corner kick and Robbie Murphy made a good defensive stop on Brayden Rapoza and the game went to halftime with no score.

Copenhaver had an early shot that was stopped by Colbath in the second half and Kennett had the first corner of the half. Badger had a direct kick that was stopped and Quintin Plourde also had a bid denied for Kennett. Rapoza sent a shot wide and Kevin Menici sent one over the net.

Jonathan Hossack had a scoring chance that was stopped by Colbath and Alberto also had a chance for the Knights. Copenhaver ripped a shot off the crossbar, leading to a Kingswood corner kick and the Knights capitalized. Copenhaver launched the shot from the corner and Colbath leaped to make the save, but the momentum of the ball carried him into the net and Kingswood had the 1-0 lead with 16:18 to go.

The Knights added another goal with 7:36 to go, as Copenhaver sent a shot on net that was saved, but Alberto was there to put the rebound in for the 2-0 lead. Badger had a couple of late chances for the Eagles, but the Knights held tight for the 2-0 win.

"We were missing two key players today," Nelson said. "But Nate Cloos and Kevin Menici really stepped up."

Kingswood will be hosting Plymouth at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 24, and will be at Coe-Brown on Tuesday, Sept. 27, at 4 p.m.

second spot both finishing with a score of 45.

Keller Peacock finished with a 47 out of the third spot in the lineup and Jack Larson had a 48 from the fifth spot.

The final scorer for the Knights was Ryker Booth in the fourth spot, who finished with a 52 for the afternoon.

Ben Lyvie had a 55 in the sixth spot, Samuel Crocker had a 61 in the eighth spot and Ayden Bernier rounded out the field of Knights with a 67 from the seventh spot in the lineup.

The Knights are slated to host matches today, Thursday, Sept. 22, Tuesday, Sept. 27, and Thursday, Sept. 29, all with 3:30 p.m. start times at Kingswood Golf Club.

There’s no state line in an alder swamp

In the fall of 1973 or so, a friend working for the state’s Department of Transportation called me up and said “Hey, do you have any business in Errol next week?”

Having none that I knew of, I said “Why?” which is often my downfall in these scenarios. Well, he knew of this surveying crew that was trying to find the Maine-New Hampshire state line.

This sounded too good to pass up. Family business beckoned anyway. The very next week I was up there, north of Errol, just south of the Magalloway (Maine) Town Hall, ready to plunge into a maze of alders above Umbagog Lake.

Route 16 crosses the Little Magalloway River there into Maine, and continues to Rangeley and beyond, and the survey crew was supposed to be down in the alder swamps somewhere. Frost had shriveled the shrubbery, and the leaves were off. The survey crew, I guessed, must be just about done.

I came upon a DOT truck parked to one side, parked my rig with it, donned my pack, grabbed my camera, and plunged into the swamp.

This was a confused and confusing section of the state line, I knew

NORTH COUNTRY NOTEBOOK

By JOHN HARRIGAN

from scrutinizing my topo-maps. Above Lake Umbagog, as the old river-drivers loved to say, the state line wanders around like the town tramp.

Bearing southwest seemed a sensible approach, and after a few minutes I came upon the surveying crew, working quietly away there in the swamp. Every now and then someone would sight through a transit, and others would use axes to swamp out the line.

If all this sounds pretty rough, bear in mind that this was long before a plethora of satellites and GPS. No doubt the state line has been swamped out since, and with far better precision.

The last time this section of the Maine-New Hampshire line had been done was about 30 years before, one of the older men told me. Like this current crew, they’d looked for signs of older work, and found none.

The idea on this day was for the crew to clear and mark the line with ribbon until they hit Umbagog, upon which everyone could head for the highway and home. The swamp would just shrug it all off.

In the mid-1870s, a decade had passed since the horrors of the Civil War, and states were getting back to everyday life, like boundaries.

Apparently, the Maine-New Hampshire boundary was a mess, the result of lack of state control over recording of deeds and overlapping jurisdictions. It was evident to all that a special commission had to preside over a thorough arbitration of this messy situation so that people could get on with the warp and woof of life.

Therefore, both states authorized funds and appointed commissioners, and got down to business. The need for new surveying and adjudication were obvious, as were resultant complaints, legislation, and lawsuits. The Commission was to issue its report in 1874.

You’d think that such a report would be eagerly anticipated, but the reference to it, which I hope to follow up soon, says it only runs to 15 pages.

GRANTS

technology, we'll be here to show you how to use it," she said.

Patrons are asked to bring in their own device, if they have one, or they can use the library's. Registration is not required. Classes begin on Oct 7 and run through December 16. Some are held at 9 a.m. and others at 6:00 p.m. so be sure to call the library at 603 859-2201 for the schedule.

"The goal is to give patrons the tools and technological vocabulary to feel comfortable navigating a world that is becoming increasingly dependent on technology," Frost said, "as well as grow their confidence when it comes to managing their healthcare, finances, or daily living activities."

The second windfall, north of $39,000, is a slice of monies allotted to the state library from the American Rescue Plan Act. This grant, for which the library partnered with the Parks and Recreation Department, allows for an installation at the town ball fields of musical and exercise equipment, a Little Free Library, and a Pop Up Library, which provides easy access to downloadable titles to read on smartphones and tablets.

"The Storywalk and the cardio walker outlined in the grant application have been nixed," Frost said, "due to rising prices and increased shipping costs."

Most of the plan is still in place, however.

Frost said the most important element of the grant is providing a perfect multi-generational "hangout space. Kids can play, grownups can exercise, and if you're waiting for soccer practice, grab a book from the Little Free Library or the Pop Up to read. There's something for everyone."

Parks and Recreation Director Celeste Chasse said her department supplied $2,000 to make up the difference between grant monies and equipment costs, and will be taking care of installation expenses. Volunteers, along with some of their own equipment, have been shouldering the physical burden; although Chasse spent a lot of time mixing cement by hand, too.

The climbing wall, percussive equipment, and Pop Up Library are installed, and volunteers will soon be ready to put in the assisted balance walk, in-ground Captain's chair, and in-ground leg press.

"We're going to go through forty bags of cement for the next step," she said, adding with a laugh, "but this time we've acquired a mixer."

The musical play stations seem to be the biggest hit, so far.

"Everyone raves about how they entertain the kids and how good the kids sound playing them," she said.

Chasse recounted an anecdote of youngsters conducting others.

"They tell them how to play and what to do. Another time a little girl played for an entire hour, the whole time her sister was at soccer practice. People are amazed at how entertained the kids are," Chasse said.

Children are swarming the climbing wall, too.

"I've seen a lot of kids on it," Chasse said.

Frost said the Pop Up is working "great."

Patrons within 1,700 square feet of the device are able to download eBooks without a library card.

Chasse reported that each step has gone smoothly. "We may need more volunteers, but the goal is to have the rest of the equipment installed before the winter, and I'm confident we'll meet it."

She said the grant will help out with the community's fitness.

"It will spark people's interest in doing more than just coming to the park while their kids are at practice or games. It's about getting out there and doing more. Some people do walk while they are here, but this is going to add even more to that."

She called the equipment an absolute boon for the community, noting "I'm very appreciative of everyone who has helped install the pieces," she said. "I couldn't do it without them."

An American Library Association emergency relief grant of $20,000 will provide new opportunities for youngsters without taking a trip to the ball fields.

The grants are to support library services and operations in facilities that have experienced substantial economic hardship due to the pandemic.

Frost said NDPL is one of only 77 libraries nationwide chosen to receive a grant. Her application indicated that the community relies on the library, which serves as an unofficial community center, for after school programming, STEM clubs, and a growing homeschool population.

She has already purchased a Makerspace activity center, a Makerspace table with adult sized chairs, three children's tables with stools, a caterpillar seat and mushroom stools, three iPads with accessories, and a 3D printer.

The new items will arrive in the coming months.

"This means we can build afterschool and homeschool programs that focus on STEM," Frost said. "The furniture will serve all ages, as the seating is of varying heights."

She said this grant was a good fit for the library.

"Adding the furniture and the equipment means better programming that keeps up with the demands of both the school's common core standards, as well as the kids' interest," she said.

With new tech, tech classes, outside exercise equipment, and inside activities, the library is set to keep up with all sorts of demands for years to come.

Streetcar celebrates golden anniversary with a "Night of Music" at the Colonial LACONIA — The Streetcar Company is proud to be partnering with The Laconia Putnam Fund to bring a "Night of Music" to the Colonial Theater on Saturday, Oct. 8. The show represents a culmination of music and fun from the 50th years that Streetcar has been performing as the oldest Lakes Region community theater group.

In 1972, a small group of people held an organizational meeting & formed what is now known as The Streetcar Company. The goal was, and still is, to provide fine year-round entertainment at reasonable prices to the Lakes Region, and to encourage, develop and provide a stimulus for participation of non-professional and original talent in all phases of theater. The Streetcar Company was chosen as a name, reminiscent of the Laconia Car Company, which had been located on Water Street in Laconia & who manufactured railway cars and streetcars that were sold throughout the country at the turn of the century. Now 50 years later, the theater company has produced more than 75 musicals, 35 straight plays, comedies and dramas, as well as 11 children's theater shows and awarded some 40 scholarships.

"A Night of Music" is being directed by Becky Guyer of Sanbornton, who has been with the group for all 50 years. This musical celebration features many veteran members from past shows along with some new faces. Ellen & Paul Stickney are back reprising roles from "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Sound of Music", as well as Kristi Laurendeau from "Hello Dolly" and "Wizard of Oz," Bo Guyer singing songs from his roles as PT Barnum, Tevye from "Fiddler" and the Cowardly Lion from "Oz." Kelli Powers returns with "Mary Poppins" and David Nelson brings "Grease" back to life. There are 35 singers in this cast, many of them family, spouses and friends. Doug, Deanna & Olie Bartlett represent 3 generations of Streetcar members.

The Streetcar Company is proud to be partnering with The Laconia Putnam Fund to bring a "Night of Music" to the Colonial Theater on Saturday, Oct. 8.

Music is being directed by Karen Jordan, whose first show was in 1980. Also helping on production are Lynn Dadian and Kristi Laurendeau. Phil Breton, who has also been with the company for years, is the accompanist and will play keyboard for the show, along with Ray Craigie on bass and Jesse Powers on drums.

Tickets to Streetcar Company's 50th anniversary celebration are FREE, thanks to the Putnam Fund. Tickets become available beginning Sept. 15th and can be reserved by calling 1-800-657-8774, online at www.coloniallaconia.com or at the theater box office, open Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tickets are general admission with a 4 ticket maximum per person.

"Come join the fun and celebration of 50 years with The Streetcar Company," says Guyer. "It will be a show to remember Oct. 8 at the Colonial Theater, thanks to the Laconia Putnam Fund."

Ayden Duncan completes intensive research project

WORCESTER, Mass. — Ayden Duncan, from Laconia, a member of the class of 2024 majoring in Robotics Engineering (BS) at Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI), was a member of a student team that recently completed an intense research project titled Assessing the Impact of Tuba Lyon Using KPIs.

At WPI, all undergraduates are required to complete a research-driven, professional-level project that applies science and technology to address an important societal need or issue. About two-thirds of students complete a project at one of the university's 50-plus off-campus project centers, which are located around the world. A signature element of the innovative undergraduate experience at WPI, the project-based curriculum offers students the opportunity to apply their scientific and technical knowledge to develop thoughtful solutions to real problems that affect the quality of people's lives-and make a difference before they graduate.

"The WPI project-based curriculum's focus on global studies brings students out of the classroom and their comfort zones and into the global community to apply their knowledge and to solve problems," said Professor Kent Riss-millier, professor of Integrative& Global Studies and associate dean of The Global School. "Students are immersed in all aspects of a different culture, from the way people live and work to the values they hold to the foods they eat - all valuable perspectives for surviving and thriving in today's global marketplace. They also learn the meaning and magic of teamwork; make a real and meaningful difference in their host community; and gain a competitive edge for any resume, or graduate or professional school application."

About Worcester Polytechnic Institute WPI, a global leader in project-based learning, is a distinctive, top-tier technological university founded in 1865 on the principle that students learn most effectively by applying the theory learned in the classroom to the practice of solving real-world problems. Recognized by the National Academy of Engineering with the 2016 Bernard M. Gordon Prize for Innovation in Engineering and Technology Education, WPI's pioneering project-based curriculum engages undergraduates in solving important scientific, technological, and societal problems throughout their education and at more than 50 project centers around the world. WPI offers more than 70 bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degree programs across 18 academic departments in science, engineering, technology, business, the social sciences, and the humanities and arts. Its faculty and students pursue groundbreaking research to meet ongoing challenges in health and biotechnology; robotics and the internet of things; advanced materials and manufacturing; cyber, data, and security systems; learning science; and more. www.wpi.edu

Mark Kilbane received nine votes in Gilford, five in Alton, zero in Barnstead, and three in New Durham.

Voters in Gilford, Alton, and New Durham will decide on the candidates for Executive Councilor in District 1. Both Republican incumbent Joe Kenney and Democrat Dana Hilliard ran uncontested. Republicans gave Kenney 1,242 votes in Gilford, 857 in Alton, and 357 in New Durham.

Democrats gave Hilliard 445 votes in Gilford, 238 in Alton, and 122 in New Durham.

Voters in Barnstead will choose a candidate from Executive Council District 4. Barnstead Republicans chose incumbent Ted Gatsas with 423 and cast 166 for Terese Grinnell.

Democrat Kevin Kavanaugh received 217 votes in Barnstead.

Knights put up points, but Cougars get the victory

KATHY SUTHERLAND

WITH AIDEN DELEON PEREZ (63) leading the way, Brady Clarke looks for running room against Kearsarge on Friday.

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

Sports Editor

WOLFEBORO — The Kingswood football team was able to put 28 points on the board in Friday night’s battle with Kearsarge, the team’s best offensive output of the season, by far.

However, the Cougars were able to score 46 points of their own and emerged from Alumni Field with the 46-28 win.

“We’re definitely pulling out all the good stuff and then dealing with the mistakes,” said coach Tom McCullough. “We’re a young team, but they’re stepping up to the plate.”

Kearsarge scored the first touchdown to take an 8-0 lead, but Kingswood answered right back on their second drive, as Owen Klingensmith got the touchdown to cut the lead to 8-6. Kearsarge got the next touchdown as well for the 16-6 lead after one quarter of play.

Kearsarge owned the second quarter offensively, as they scored with 3:39 to go for the 24-6 lead and then scored with 1:23 to go for the 30-6 lead at the halftime break. The Knights were able to shut down the Cougars on the final drive of the quarter, as Klingensmith and Brandon Bergeron made a big defensive stop inside the 20-yard line to keep the Cougars from adding another touchdown.

Brady Clarke stepped in front of a Kearsarge pass on their first drive of the second half and returned the ball to the two-yard line and one play later, Klingensmith got in the end zone for the touchdown, cutting the lead to 30-12.

stops for the Knights, but a Kingswood turnover gave the Cougars a short field and they scored with 4:57 to go for the 38-12 lead. After Kingswood was unable to generate any offense, Kearsarge scored on a 46-yard touchdown run with 1:25 to go in the third for the 46-12 lead, which held to the end of the quarter.

Kearsarge punted away on the first drive of the fourth quarter and Kingswood used runs from Aiden Brierley, Klingensmith and Graham Burke to move the ball and Brierley scored from 14 yards out for the score. Klingensmith ran in the two-point conversion and Kingswood had the lead down to 46-20.

Kingswood recovered a Kearsarge fumble on their next drive and Klingensmith ran into the end zone with 5:31 to go and Serafin Agramonte got in the end zone on the two-point conversion to make it 46-28.

Kearsarge was able to run out the clock the rest of the way for the win.

“They played hard to the very last play and we can’t ask for more than that,” said McCullough. “They love to practice, they come in with energy every single day.”

He noted that the plan for the coming week may involve a bit of a change to the offense, with Garrett Burke at quarterback, while Brierley and Clarke will be looked at to be beasts in the backfield moving forward.

“They could be a hell of a load,” McCullough said of the duo.

Kingswood is set to be at Epping-Newmarket on Saturday, Sept. 24, at 2 p.m.

GWRSD looking to fill job openings

Meetinghouse Committee to hold historical trivia contest

BY ELISSA PAQUETTE
Contributing Writer

WOLFEBORO — Like other schools throughout the state, the Governor Wentworth Regional School District (GWRSD) still has job openings. Vacancies listed on its Web site, GWRSD.org, include positions for paraprofessionals, administrative assistants, part time library media specialists, bus drivers and substitutes.

Nevertheless, Superintendent Caroline Arakelian, addressing the school board at its Sept. 12 meeting, held in the Kingswood Arts Center following a reception for new staff, said the school year opening has gone very smoothly throughout the district.

The board welcomed the new student representative, Marcella DeNito, and the administration gave updates on several financial fronts. The district is applying for grants of up to $476,000 from Homeland Security for funding related to access and security. The Esser II funds have been completely allocated for staffing for summer school and two-year personnel.

Primex property and liability insurance has been capped at a maximum increase of not more than 7 percent for the next three years, reported Business Administrator Kathy O'Blenes, noting that is an improvement from last year's agreement which did not have a cap at 7 percent. The Workers Compensation agreement was increased by five percent with a maximum increase of eight percent for next year. The contract was designed specifically for the GWRSD's risk pool. She commented that the ratio is very good.

Discussion of an agreement with the town of Wolfeboro on use of the Pop Whalen Ice and Arts Arena centered around designation of two locker rooms for the ice hockey program. Arakelian, School Board Chairman Jack Widmer and board member Jim Pittman recently toured the facility, currently under construction, and saw "there is a lot more involved that just ice hockey." There are meeting rooms and the possibility of use by robotics teams or other school related programs.

There is a proposal for the district to pay $250,000 for sole use of the two rooms during the season. Additional costs would be incurred to outfit the rooms with lockers, benches and whatever else is needed, and maintenance would be the responsibility of the district. Ice time fees would be additional.

Board member Charlene Seibel sought assurance that the district would not be responsible for use of the locker rooms beyond the school system's use.

"We're looking for a pitch on why it's a good idea, whether there is a fixed cost or whether it would be spread out over time," commented Widmer. Information is needed by November for consideration by the Building and Maintenance Committee in the process of developing a warrant article to bring before the voters in March.

"We have to know more about what is available for GWRSD students," stated Widmer.

NEW DURHAM — This Sunday, students and residents of all ages will get to show off their knowledge of local history, right at the site of the town's beginning.

The 1772 Meetinghouse Restoration Committee, as part of its monthly series of events in celebration of the building's 250th anniversary, is sponsoring a Local History Trivia Contest, beginning at 1 p.m. at the Meetinghouse, 207 Old Bay Rd.

"The event is geared toward students in the third through sixth grades, and we've been working closely with New Durham School," committee member Ellen Phillips said. "The kids have been hard at work, learning facts."

Anyone of any age is invited to participate, though.

Phillips suggested "prep work" by walking the Local History Walk along the nature trail at Meetinghouse Park.

"Some of the information you'll need to know is there," she explained.

Incentive for participating, at least among the younger set, is a spot at the Make Your Own Sundae Bar.

"We have different ice cream flavors to offer, so that's incentive for adults, too," Phillips quipped.

Participants are allowed carte blanche at the bar. Siblings, cheerleading squads, parents, grandparents, and spouses, however, must limit themselves to only two toppings.

"This is a great opportunity to show support of our kids, and a great way to find out about the history of where we're living," Phillips said.

Framed and enclosed by 1770, the first documented use of the Meetinghouse was a town meeting in 1772. The oldest remaining building of its type and an historic landmark integral to Town identity, it is situated on the original road connecting Portsmouth to Lake Winnepesaukee, a section of a Pennacook-Abenaki indigenous trail called Ko-KchiKook (Coheco).

The roof frame dates from 1768 and the chestnut wainscot fastened with wrought iron nails, from 1792. It sits on its original six acre lot at the original town center with the town's first burial ground and 1809 stone pound, served as the seat of government/religion for more than a century, and was the home church of Elder Benjamin Randal, famous for founding the Freewill Baptist Church. An excellent example of frontier construction, it is on the National Register of Historic Places, as is the stone pound, and was designated in 2012 as a New Hampshire Seven to Save resource.

"We've been having a lot of fun with all of our events this year," Phillips said, "and it's a privilege to observe such an exceptional anniversary of a building, but our efforts are to heighten awareness that our Meetinghouse is in trouble."

The building is in structural failure due to the wind braces being removed when the building was cut down to one story in 1838, thereby undermining the roof system.

The roof structure has known damage to some of the top plates and roof bents, which have been identified and documented by a timber frame restoration expert in 2012 and updated this year. The frame has moved over time and the pressure has already cracked a floor beam, which was repaired when the foundation was done.

There are also holes in the roof, opening up the threat of deterioration of structural elements and loss of the remaining ceiling and wall plaster. Uncontrolled moisture is the most prevalent cause of deterioration in historic buildings. Tarps cover the roof now.

"We're raising money for the timber frame repairs," Phillips said, "and we have to replace the roof at the same time."

Not only will that work, which is Phase 2 of the overall restoration project, save the structure, it will also allow for a wider range of activities at the Meetinghouse.

Once the six temporary posts are removed, the large open space will be restored. The posts have somewhat restricted sight lines and interfered with movement during programs and events.

"The goal is to have that work started in 2024," Phillips said. "We're on track to turn this building back into the community center it once was."

THE READING ROOM AT GILMAN LIBRARY

RECRUITING EVENT

The New Hampshire Department of Corrections will hold a recruiting event in the Agnes Thompson Meeting Room on the lower level of the Gilman Library, on Thursday, Sept. 29 from 4-7 p.m. Alton's own, Detective James Azzara, and K-9 Dutch will be present. and said he wanted the opportunity to work with his former teachers as colleagues.

“First its like full nostalgia walking through the hallways, this time teaching,” Adair said. “It’s like a whole new perspective for me seeing it from the point of view of the students too because I can relate to what they’re going for.”

Two of the new teachers spent time teaching English overseas.

English teacher Lauren D’Ambrosia taught in Spain for a year and recently taught in Riverside, Rhode Island. She said she was looking for job opportunities that would get her closer to her family.

“When I interviewed with Gilford it seemed like the people are nice, intelligent,” D’Ambrosia said. “Everything seems very efficient here.”

Michelle Grant also taught English obverses and worked in countries such as Turkey, China, Jamaica, and Lebanon. She recently taught at Plymouth Regional High School and also said she heard great things about GHS from colleagues. She said this is a “forward thinking school” getting students ready for the future and the English department already feels like a family.

Results from Barnstead weren’t available as of press time.

English teacher Marc Gonzalez is working in his first ever teaching position.

“Its been great, you can have challenging conversations with the kids about the content and they respond,” Witham said. “They don’t say ‘I don’t know,’ they actually will dig into the content and try to figure things out.”

Mo Reese is now a special education teacher at GHS after working as a math teacher at Gilford Elementary School. He said he wants to bond with kids on a different level, which is a big reason he chose special education. He is already familiar with a lot of the kids as a football and basketball coach.

Reese said while he still enjoys math, special education gives him the chance to help the kids in a different way.

“Being at the high school gave me a chance...to bond with kids, maybe be that one person that kids can say, ‘Wow if it wasn’t for Mr. Reese, I wouldn’t have gotten through that.’”

Scott Currier is the new math teacher. He was a teacher and administrator for over 15 years, but recently worked at the NH Department of Education. He said this was his chance to get back in the classroom.

“I think that especially the last few years for folks to have an opportunity to get back to what they’re passionate, about I had an opportunity to pursue that from very early on,” Currier said.

He also coaches the varsity girl’s basketball team.
