Alton Bay Boat Show celebrates boats from the past century or more

BY ERIN PLUMMER

mnews@salmonpress.news

ALTON — More than a century of boating history was on display right at the Alton Bay docks for the 49th annual Alton Bay Boat Show.

The New Hampshire Boat Museum hosted the show on Aug. 9 that filled the docks on the Bay. The show, an Old Home Week tradition, brought out an array of classic and antique boats from across New England.

NH Boat Museum Executive Director Devon Kurtz said they had an amazing turnout with around 22 boats.

“It’s amazing seeing all these boats,” he said.

Kurtz said it was amazing watching all the classic boats floating into Alton Bay at 7 a.m.

“To see the boats out on the water is such a treat,” he said.

He said this is also a great way to spread the word about the museum in Moultonborough.

Kurtz wore a 1920s outfit during the boat show with a white, linen suit and a boater hat. He said he belongs to a 1920’s vintage group and he wears this outfit to events such as beach parties or tiki events.

He said the outfit was comfortable in the hot weather because it is made from all light materials such as linen and cotton.

“This is all they knew how to dress so can’t really complain,” Kurtz said.

Robert and Betsy Bryant of Sanbornton came to the show with “Can Do,” their 1952 E.M. White Utility boat.

Gilford getting ready for Old Home Day

The 2025 Gilford Old Home Day is scheduled for Aug. 23 with games, food, vendors, and more on Village Field.

BY ERIN PLUMMER

mnews@salmonpress.news

GILFORD — Old Home Day is just a few weeks away with the event getting ready for some new activities and recognizing some old friends.

Gilford Old Home Day is in just two weeks with a day’s worth of events going on throughout the village on Saturday, Aug. 23.

The event schedule is now posted with a list of local sponsors on the Gilford Old Home Day Facebook page. The schedule can be found on https://www.gilfordnh.gov/file/4300/2025_OHD_Schedule.pdf.

Old Home Day T-shirts are now available for sale at the Gilford Public Library and the Parks and Recreation Department’s office at town hall. The shirts in all sizes are $10 with limited supplies.

Village Field will be the center of activity that day with games, vendors, entertainment, and much more.

Visitors to Old Home Day can also get a chance to throw axes thanks to Climaxe Throwing of Belmont. Climaxe will bring their mobile axe-throwing trailer to Old Home Day.

This year’s Old Home Day is dedicated to Anita Hewitt, a longtime presence at the Gilford Public Library who passed away this January.

Hewitt grew up in Saugus, Mass., and started her library career at the Saugus Public Library in 1954 as a page at the age of 15. She moved to Gilford in 1981 and started working at the Gilford Public Library. She worked at the GPL until she retired at the age of 75.

Hewitt passed away on Jan. 15 at the age of 88.

“Anita was known for her smile and happy-go-lucky personality,” read the dedication. “She cultivated beauty, not only in the gardens she planted, but in her unselfish, nurturing way with everyone – all the library patrons over the years, her three children, eight grandchildren, and many great grandchildren. She was a strong matriarch to a large family who loved her immensely.”

This year’s parade grand marshal will be Bob Pomeroy, Old Home Day’s longtime emcee with a strong history of community service.

Pomeroy is a native of Michigan who served in the Air Force for four years during the Vietnam-era and attended Western Michigan University. He met his wife Mary at school and after graduation he moved with her to her family farm on Gunstock Hill Road.

In 1972 he started his career as a teacher and worked in Wolfeboro and Laconia. In 1977, he switched to a career in financial services in 1977, working for Northwestern Mutual for 45 years.

Pomeroy became involved in several community organizations including the Court Diversion Program, the Kiwanis Club, the Belknap Mill, and four years on the Gilford School Board. In the 1980s he became the auctioneer for the Gilford Community Church and later became the master of ceremonies for Old Home Day.

Alton Historical Society hosting program on quilts

ALTON — The Alton Historical Society meeting for Aug. 19, in the Alton Gilman Library, 100 Main St., Alton, will feature a NH Humanities speaker, Pamela Weeks at 7 p.m. She will be presenting a most interesting program, “New England Quilts and the Stories They Tell.” Quilts have been the focus for more than half of Pam’s life. She started making quilts at the time of the US Bicentennial craft revival and by the mid-1918s was designing her own work. In 1991, a class on reproducing antique quilts hooked Pam on quilt history. Her first book was published in 2011 on “Civil War Quilts” made for soldiers, her second, “Deeds Not Words” in 2019, and “Portable Patchwork” was published in 2020. As the Binney Family Curator of the New England Quilt Museum, Weeks works at the Alton Bay Bandstand on Wednesday, Aug. 20, from 6-7:30 p.m., rain date is Aug. 21. Scene has soft blue skies, beach and ocean view. All supplies are included, $25 for adults; $15 for children 12 and under. View the painting example on the Alton Parks and Recreation Face Book Page or ask for a copy to be emailed to you. with quilters, collectors, institutions and co-conspirators to plan exhibits and she continues research on the quilts in the museum’s collection. Quilting is more than an American art; countries around the world with cold weather use quilted fabrics for warmth. Weeks will be bringing samples from her collection and will speak about the materials used, the fads of the day, and the colonial revival. Audience members may bring one antique quilt for identification and/or story sharing. This program is sponsored by the NH Humanities, a non-profit organization connecting people and ideas by funding and supporting statewide programs for learning, dialogue and the common good. PMHS junior attends Future Leaders Institute

DURHAM — Last week, Prospect Mountain High School junior Jude Dumond attended the 2025 Future Leaders Institute, a UNH Residential Summer Camp in Philosophy, Politics, Ethics, and Global Justice. Dumond was one of only 30 cohorts from 13 different states and 3 countries that was awarded a Future Leaders Scholarship to attend. The program was a diverse and dynamic group that stayed on campus at the University of New Hampshire from July 27 through Aug. 3 to study themes of “Law and Justice.” Coordinated by UNH Philosophy professor Nick Smith, the FLI program was filled with discussions, debates, original Ethics Bowl cases, films, field trips, and guest speakers. FLI assembled a team of All-Star UNH teaching assistants to work with the camp

attendees around the clock, and to share their experiences and advice regarding how to excel in college and beyond. This camp was an incredibly enriching and inspiring experience for all the students involved. On top of being in the top 5 in his class, Dumond currently is the co-president of the PMHS student council, as well the Prospect Mountain School Board student representative. Last year, he also was on the PMHS Granite State Challenge team, and also represented PMHS at the NH All State Music Festival.

We Will NOT be Undersold

Striving for a world free from stereotypes

In a world where information is at our fingertips and connections span continents, it is baffling to us that stereotyping still prevails. We pride ourselves on progress, yet we allow preconceived notions to shackle our understanding of each other. It's high time we collectively recognize the damage of assumptions and vow to liberate ourselves from the confines of stereotypes.

Stereotyping is the enemy of empathy, born from our innate need to categorize and simplify complex realities. It's natural for the mind to seek shortcuts, but these shortcuts often lead us astray, blinding us to the richness of human diversity. When we assume we know someone based on their appearance, background, or a single characteristic, we deny them the depth of their individuality and inadvertently perpetuate ignorance.

Let's face it, we've all been victims of stereotypes. Whether it's being judged by our nationality, gender, appearance, or hobbies, we know the frustration of not being seen for who we truly are. So, why do we continue this harmful practice? Fear, laziness, or perhaps a lack of awareness? Regardless of the reasons, it's time to shatter this cycle.

Consider the story of the introverted librarian who's also a salsa dancing champion, or the tattooed artist who spends weekends volunteering at a shelter or going to classical music concerts. These are glimpses into the lives that stereotypes fail to capture. It's not enough to say, "Don't judge a book by its cover." We must actively seek to turn the pages, engaging with the stories beneath the surface.

The path to change begins with acknowledging our biases. Recognizing that we all hold them allows us to confront them head-on. Education is a formidable weapon against stereotypes. By learning about different cultures, histories, and experiences, we open the door to a more inclusive perspective. It's a journey toward realizing that our world is a mosaic of vibrant, individual lives, each with its own colors and textures.

But this change isn't just about self-improvement; it's a societal shift. By resisting stereotypes, we create an environment where empathy flourishes. We extend the hand of understanding to those who've been marginalized and silenced. We pave the way for collaboration that's based on shared goals rather than preconceived judgments.

It's time to rewrite the script of our interactions. Let's ask questions and listen attentively. Let's engage in conversations that bridge gaps and build bridges. Let's be curious about the people we encounter, seeking to understand their unique perspectives.

As we strive for a world free of assumptions and stereotypes, let's remember that change is gradual. But every step taken is a step closer to a society where each person is seen, heard, and valued for who they truly are. Let's be the generation that breaks the chains of stereotype, forging connections that are genuine, lasting, and transformative.

Six Alton Garden Club volunteers recently finished off the revitalized Railroad Square gardens with a blanket of new mulch. This year we expanded our work to include the area closer to the Mt. Washington dock. Many new perennials were added to the two sections with weeding and raking in preparation for the mulching. The mulching crew: Karen Enos (who took the photo), Judy Brown, Heather Miller, Peggy McKinney, Liz Dominick and Todd McKinney. Next spring we'll continue our efforts to make the gardens better still.

Schwartzberg Law, Plymouth

Everyone needs a "Death" File because everyone of us will die. Although this is a certainty, we also have the ability to make things go smoothly for our families and friends who survive us.

This file should contain among other things a Last Will and Testament and a Revocable Living Trust. These documents memorialize your wishes as to who you would like to inherit your money, your real estate and your stuff. The file should also have your retirement and investment account statements with beneficiary designations.

Other documents you might want to include are: Passwords—Security Codes—Safe locations and combinations—Email addresses and how to access each —Social Media Accounts and how to access them—Instructions on how to access your cell phone—Funeral instructions—Letters to family members—Location of safety deposit keys—Life insurance policies.

A "Death" File is a precious gift to your loved ones that which will be received with unspeakable appreciation during a very difficult time.

LETTERS FROM EDWIN

Sinking

My mechanic just informed me that after this year, that I will no longer need to get my vehicles inspected any more. I remember hearing something on the radio about this issue, but felt that since this is the "we will have snow free roads" state, that it would be obvious to all our legislators, that because the means by which we make it snow free, spreading salt, also causes vehicles to become totally rotted out and therefore structurally deficient, that it would be a "no brainer" and would never come to be. Tennessee I can see, but New Hampshire? I wouldn't recommend it.

Well, it looks like the Live Free or Die sentimentality won, and we will now be subjected to driving on our roads with vehicles that have structural deficiencies as well as marginal brakes and bald tires. Maybe next session they can have a vote on changing our state motto to "Live Free and Die?"

I'm all for dropping the check engine light tests. Those can be a nightmare to solve, and actually have nothing to do with safety. But this time, they actually did throw out the baby with the bath water.

Speaking of babies and bath water, back a few years ago, a trendy thing to do was to put large deep sinks in the kitchen, like they had in the old days when they would actually bathe their kid in the sink, or skin their goat, or whatever.

Luckily, I was talked into doing the standard double sink. The theory was that when doing dishes that you would use two wash basins like they used to. One for the hot soapy wash water and the another for rinsing. You didn't want to let the water go down the drain because you would then need to pump more from the well and heat it up on the stove. Pretty straightforward.

Now jump forward a couple hundred years and think of using such a large sink. You could fill it up. Quite a waste. Use the two wash basin method. Or use the new easy does it "sprinkle" method. With hot water slowly coming from the faucet, you just wash every dish one at a time and rinse them with that same running water and everything goes trickling down the drain along with the soap which continually needs refreshing. Not really saving much energy, water, or soap but that's OK, you can afford it.

Now imagine you're a drainpipe. You are assembled from multiple pieces of pipe that have seams in between. When water rushes by these seams, it's not likely that anything gets caught up. But if it only slowly trickles by. The likelihood of something getting caught increases. Being constantly used in this manner, a rather large blockage could potentially build up.

A friend of mine had this very situation in her house. She paid a plumber to come and clean out her drainpipe. He said it was something like 32 feet down the pipe. My snake was only 25 feet long. I advised her to flush a good amount of water down occasionally to move any such things along. Time will tell.

Wasting things drives me nuts though. My generation was taught to conserve. Recycling was the big issue. I'm a recycling fool. I try to recycle everything! This was ingrained into us in school and on television. It certainly worked. I know lots of people who are just as anal about it as I am, but it's a totally ridiculous waste of time and effort.

Observe any establishment, factory, restaurant, or hospital, are they recycling any of all their waste? Nope, it all goes in the can. There's no time for such trivialities. And we home dwellers are supposed to counterbalance all that? Not a chance.

Every generation now gets endowed with their very own specific cause to be concerned about. We had an impending ice age. After a while that changed to global warming. When that didn't happen, they shifted to climate change. But that's really nothing new. The climate has always been in a constant state of change. We've had nothing to do with that.

When things get too big for me to deal with, I let God take care of them. He designed this whole crazy wonderful thing we find ourselves a part of, so He ought to be able to manage it.

Located in the

Swift River Valley for much of its length, the Kancamagus is the gateway to the southern White Mountains and is not only renowned for its fall foliage views, but such celebrated natural sites as Sabbaday Falls, Lower Falls, and Rocky Gorge, to name just a few. Pemi Chorus welcomes singers to join for holiday concert series

PLYMOUTH — The Pemigewasset Choral Society ("Pemi Chorus") will soon begin weekly rehearsals at Plymouth State University for its upcoming December concert series. New singers are welcome. The first rehearsal is Monday, Aug. 25, at the Silver Center for Performing Arts, with registration and music distribution beginning at 6:15 p.m.

Rehearsals are Monday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m., with optional sectional rehearsals that start at 6:30 p.m. (beginning in September). Semester dues, which help cover music purchases, are $50 per singer, payable at registration or no later than the third rehearsal. New singers may attend the first three rehearsals without obligation to determine if the chorus is a good fit. (Note: There is no rehearsal on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 1.)

The December 2025 concert performances take place on Thursday, Dec. 4 (Gilford Community Church); Friday, Dec. 5 (Inter-Lakes Middle/High School in Meredith); and Sunday, Dec. 7 (Plymouth State University).

The December concert series focuses on Yule, with songs about warmth and festive energy, particularly from the British Isles, as well as other traditional holiday-themed selections.

The chorus is directed by award-winning music teacher and choral director Will Gunn and accompanied by collaborative pianist Laura Belanger. Gunn's most recent engagement was as guest conductor at the New Hampshire Music Festival in a July performance of Vivaldi's Gloria.

The Pemi Chorus, now in its 52nd year, is a regional community chorus based in Plymouth with a wide-ranging musical repertoire. Members come from more than 30 communities throughout the Lakes Region and White Mountains. Membership is currently over 90 members with a diverse range of ages from high school students to age 80 and up. The chorus performs concerts in December and May and welcomes new participants at the start of each semester (late August and late January). Gunstock Wetlands Walk needs your help

The Wetlands Walk's boardwalk needs water based Marine Seal Once applied to its oak beams. Chris Axten from Enfield is brushing on the MSO donated by Heath's Ace Hardware.

GILFORD — The Wetlands Walk boardwalk area at Gunstock needs assistance. Volunteers can help on Thursday, Aug. 21, 9 a.m.-noon and Saturday, Aug. 23, 9 a.m.-noon. Most tasks are easy, including removing leaves around wood posts, moss and lichen from the boardwalk surface, trimming branches there and on the connecting trails, sanding and priming/painting the bumper for the visually impaired, and removing invasive weeds. The minor carpentry to replace posts is a bit more challenging and includes removing old posts. Our wizard of a volunteer, Tom Meierjürgen, created a step by step guide. Waders or hip boots are helpful for sealing the oak beams under bridges. There are also two pollinator gardens that need weeding.

Help for an hour or the whole time. Tools, materials, snacks, water and beverages provided. Under 18 must have a parent or guardian with them.

Community Service Certificates are available. Just follow the poster-board volunteer signs to help. To visit anytime, it is a quarter mile walk from the parking lot just off Route 11-A, or walking impaired can stop at the campground office for access. If the weather is severe, the day is cancelled. For more information, call the Belknap County Conservation District office at 603-527-5880 or Jan, volunteer, at 603-707-9760, or send an email to bccd-volunteer@gmail.com.

was built in Maine and this model was meant to be like a floating truck. They bought the boat 12 years ago and made modifications including adding seats and making small tables out of some of the old seats.

“We use it as much as we can on Squam Lake,” Robert said.

They have been coming to the Alton show for several years,

"It's great, it's fun, it's free," Robert said. "It's a good crowd and we enjoy coming."

Zach and Amanda Smith of Farmington showed two classic canoes on the shore, one an 1895 E.M. White Guide and a 1905 E.H. Gerrish canoe.

Zach said these are early canvas canoe boats from two of the earliest companies to produce these boats.

He said he got the 1905 boat 15 years ago spend a few hundred hours restoring it including dismantling and cleaning it, painting and varnishing, and more.

Both boats are fit to go in the water and he said he has taken one out a few times since it has been restored.

The Smiths have been coming to the Alton show for three years.

"This is honestly a really good turnout today, it's been great," Amanda said. "Usually, you don't see every dock filled with boats. It's nice that there were more boats than dock space."

ALTON — Town offices, businesses, and organizations rolled out their best vehicles, floats, and marching displays for the annual Old Home Day Parade.

Over 30 different groups took part in this year's parade on Aug. 9 celebrating the town's Old Home Weekend. The Alton Business Association has hosted the parade for several years. This year's theme was "Small Town, Big Heart."

The parade started at Alton Central School at 11:30 a.m., and went down Letter S Road. New this year walkers joined the route at Jones Field. The route then went on Route 11 and went through Alton Bay. Floats and marchers then continued to the Christian Conference Center where the parade ended.

ABA chair Sarah Goodrum said everything went well and they had a great turnout. "We had a fantastic turnout, it was great," Goodrum said.

Volunteers with the Alton Bay Ice Runway parade in the "Danger Zone."

Since election years being out a lot of political candidates, Goodrum said those years see bigger turnouts. This year, however, they still had strong participation even for a non-election year. She said the parade received a lot of community support from the participants and from many community groups who helped behind the scenes. The Christian Conference Center provided a place for the parade to turnaround. American Legion Post 72 provided a vehicle for the grand marshal David Hussey.

The parade was one of many Old Home events going on in the bay including the 5K, the Alton Bay Boat Show, a craft fair, and many more. "With everything going on in the Bay, it's really great to have it showcase what a destination Alton is," Goodrum said.

OBITUARY

Seldon Elera Alden

Alton, NH- Seldon Elera Alden, was called home to be with his Lord and Savior on August 1, 2025, after a long, courageous battle with MS.

Sel was born in Wolfeboro, NH on April 7, 1958 and was the eldest son of Weston and Dorothy Alden. He was very proud that he lived all his life in Alton, NH.

After graduating from Alton High School, he worked beside his dad Wes at the family business, Alden's Garage, taking over the business after Wes died. Along with running the garage, he plowed for over 30 years, the highway between Alton and New Durham. Upon selling the business, he went to work for the highway department, until the MS took hold of his body. Running the family business six and half days of the week did not leave a lot of time for family and fun, but following the family tradition of his Grandfather, Father and uncles, Sel was a member of the Winnepesaukee Lodge #75 of Alton.

Seldon married and had a daughter Tonya (husband Rob Booth) and son Nathan (wife Cindy), with his former wife Kathy. His children gave him grandchildren that he was very proud of, keeping up with all their activities on facebook each day. There is Raelyn, Rylee, Ryker, Rhana, Piper and Oliver.

Besides his children and grandchildren, Seldon leaves his younger brother Robert Alden (wife Leslie), sisters: Naomi Potter (husband Carroll), Rev. Gerry Piper, adopted sisters: Rosina Wallace and Barb Greer.

He also leaves many cousins, nephews and nieces. Seldon is no longer in pain and has met his Lord and been reunited with his father and mother, also his sister Merrienne and brother in law Harlie Lamper.

There will be a celebration of Sel's life, with the Masonic Lodge Service for a departed brother on Sunday, August 24, 2025 at 4pm at the Masonic Lodge, 40 Suncook Valley Road, Route 28S, Alton, NH. Following the service, there will be a time of fellowship and refreshments.

In lieu of flowers, the family kindly asks that a donation be made in Seldon's name to the New Hampshire Humane Society/Laconia, 1305 Meredith Center Road, Laconia, NH 03246, or to your favorite charity.

‘12er’ Home Run Derby set for Aug. 24 in Tilton

TILTON — The second annual ‘12er’ Home Run Derby in memory of Bryan Caruso takes place Sunday, Aug. 24, at the Winnisquam Regional Middle School baseball field.

The derby will benefit the former Winnisquam standout and Endicott College Hall of Famer’s scholarship fund, established after his passing in 2022, and the Winnisquam High School baseball program. The event was postponed in April due to rain. The derby is open to all ages and will feature four divisions in baseball and softball.

“We couldn’t think of a better way to honor Bryan’s memory than hitting some dingers with a home run derby,” said Bryan’s dad and Winnisquam varsity baseball coach Fred Caruso. “He launched some majestic shots during his high school career, many on this field.”

Bryan, a 1998 graduate, still holds the Winnisquam career record for home runs with 22.

There will be four divisions for baseball and softball: 12-and-under, middle school, high school and adult. The 12-and-under and middle school divisions will start at 10 a.m., the high school and adult around noon. All participants are encouraged to stay, shag some fly balls and enjoy the day. Trophies will be awarded in each division. Each participant is asked for a $20 donation and will be entered into a number of raffles including gift and Winnisquam baseball gear. An added bonus, there will be a separate raffle for a pair of Celtics tickets with prime seats in the lower bowl loge section at TD Garden. Tickets are five dollars or three for 10 dollars. Pizza, snacks and ice cold drinks will be available.

“We had no idea when we did the first one back in April of 2024 what to expect,” Fred Caruso said. “It was terrific. We had more than 60 participants and everyone had a great time. Some of Bry-an’s former high school teammates took part as did many of the players he coached in high school and through his Concord Cannons travel program. We’re hoping for another wonderful day.”

You can pre-register for the derby and purchase tickets for the Celtics ticket raffle. Venmo @cheri-caruso-1. Please indicate the age of the participant and/or how many tickets you’d like for the raffle. You can also register the day of the event starting at 9:30 a.m. Raffle tickets will also be available during the derby. Rain date is Saturday Aug. 30. For more information, contact Fred Caruso at 603-455-7950 or e-mail caruso@metrocast.net.

NASCAR drivers excited to race in front of passionate New England fans

LOUDON — Of course New England race fans look forward to experiencing their annual NASCAR weekend at New Hampshire Motor Speedway (NHMS), but the NASCAR Cup Series (NCS) drivers look forward to coming to “The Magic Mile” each year, and much of that has to do with the fans themselves. Some of the NCS drivers reflect on New England race fans as they look ahead to Sept. 21 when they will kick off the Round of 12 in Loudon:

“I feel like New Hampshire is just always a great place for the fans to go. They are very passionate in the Northeast about their racing, that’s for sure,” said Todd Gilliland, driver of the number 34 Front Row Motorsports Ford. “You know, getting to camp out at the racetrack, you always can feel their presence, and I feel like that’s my favorite thing about going up there.”

“Man, I’m honestly looking forward to the campsites, the fans,” said Ryan Preece, driver of the number 60 RFK Racing Ford. “New Hampshire Motor Speedway, I think it’s called ‘The X Lot’ or whatever lot it is now, yeah, everything about New Hampshire. The race fans there are second to none, so looking forward to that.”

“The New Hampshire race always has just an awesome fan base,” said Chase Briscoe, driver of the number 19 Joe Gibbs Racing Toyota. “A ton of camping, and the fan base up there is so passionate, so for us to be able to bring a playoff race down there and just add to that layer of excitement that was already there is going to be really, really cool.”

“Looking forward to the atmosphere though, the racetrack is always great. Those New England fans are a lot of fun,” said Kyle Busch, driver of the number eight Richard Childress Racing Chevrolet. “I hang out with them and been to some of the short tracks up there, so I know they like their racing.”

“We always get a great crowd, especially since we’ve, you know, been going there one time a year, so that’s always cool to see how packed it is,” said Erik Jones, driver of the number 43 Legacy Motor Club Toyota.

“The fans there are great, you know, passionate race fans,” said Kyle Larson, driver of the number five Hendrick Motorsports Chevrolet. “The stands are always packed.”

“The people up there, they love motorsports in general, so I think they deserve to have a playoff race too,” noted Ryan Blaney, driver of the number 12 Team Penske Ford.

“Just some really passionate fans up there, and it’s always great to go up there and experience that,” added Tyler Reddick, driver of the number 45 23XI Racing Toyota.

“Just the atmosphere up there is a lot of fun, said Bubba Wallace, driver of the number 23 23XI Racing Toyota.

New England’s only NASCAR Playoffs weekend is Sept. 19-21 at NHMS. On-track action kicks off Friday with NASCAR Whelen Modified Tour (NWMT) practice sessions, NASCAR Craftsman Truck Series (NCTS) practice and qualifying plus Sig Sauer Academy Dirt Duels at The Flat Track. The action continues on Doubleheader Saturday with NWMT qualifying, the Mohegan Sun 100 NWMT race, the Team EJP 175 NCTS playoff race and NCS practice and qualifying. The on-track action culminates Sunday with the NCS taking on “The Magic Mile” to kick off the Round of 12. Don’t miss all of the exciting off-track action including “The Magic Mile” Happy Hour Show, Trackside Live, The Groove fan hangout, concerts from Draw the Line and Being Petty: The Tom Petty and The Heartbreakers Experience, Family Movie Night featuring “Captain America: Brave New World,” driver appearances, a variety of live performances, fireworks and much more.

Wright Museum
hosting lecture on “The Heroism of Ben Salomon”

WOLFEBORO — On Tuesday, Aug. 19, the Wright Museum will welcome Dr. Fred Johnson III. This is the 12th program of the Wright Museum’s 2025 Education Series.

By law, only U.S. Service members who distinguish themselves “through conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty” can receive the Medal of Honor – Captain Benjamin Louis Salomon was one of these brave men. Learn the story of how a simple man attempted to hold off the enemy while his patients attempted to clear an aid station. When his body was later found, 98 dead enemy soldiers were found in front of his position.

Dr. Fred L. Johnson III is Associate Professor of History at Hope College in Holland, Michigan. Prior to his career in higher education, Dr. Johnson served on active duty in the United States Marine Corps as a Communications-Electronics Officer. He subsequently also served as an Infantry Officer in the Marine Reserves.

A graduate of Bowie State College (now University) Bowie, Maryland, Dr. Johnson earned his master’s and doctorate degrees at Kent State University in Kent, Ohio.

Doors open at 6 p.m., the program begins at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 19 at the Wright Museum’s DuQuoin Education Center, 77 Center St. in Wolfboro. Admission is $8 for members and $12 for non-members. Pre-paid reservations are strongly encouraged and can be made online at <https://wrightmuseum.org/lecture-series> or by calling 603-569-1212.

The region’s leading resource for educators and learners of all ages on World War II, the Wright Museum features more than 20,000 items in its collection that are representative of both the home front and battlefield. For more information about the 2025 Lecture Series, or museum, visit wrightmuseum.org.

Michael Vincent Band heads to Cate Park Saturday night

WOLFEBORO — As the month of August continues to roll along, another act graces the Wolfeboro Community Bandstand in Cate Park.

The Michael Vincent Band will be making its Friends of the Wolfeboro Community Bandstand appearance on Saturday, Aug. 16.

The Michael Vincent Band was born more than a decade ago in central New Hampshire.

The band members were all students at the same school and stayed busy working as a trio and eventually picked up a fan base as word spread around the state.

A road trip in 2009 landed the band in Mississippi, where the band members received a college education's worth of blues schooling over the course of a few years.

From there, the band began hitting the road

THE MICHAEL VINCENT BAND will perform in the Wolfeboro Community Bandstand on Saturday, Aug. 16.

more often, playing from San Antonio, Texas to Key West, Fla. to Boston and everywhere in between.

The thousands of miles of road and hundreds of honky-tonks serve as the backdrop for what the Michael Vincent Band does, which is play the blues.

The band has been playing around the state of New Hampshire over the last few years, along the way playing a lot and refining new covers and originals to add to the set.

The Michael Vincent Band includes Michael Vincent on guitar and vocals, Dan Mack on bass and vocals and Dan Hewitt on drums and mandolin.

The Friends of the Wolfeboro Community Bandstand are excited to welcome The Michael Vincent Band to the shores of Lake Winnepesaukee this summer as the band brings a taste of what is to come on the blues front.

The Friends of the Wolfeboro Community Bandstand summer concert series takes place each Saturday night throughout the months of July and August. The Wolfeboro Community Bandstand is located in Cate Park on the shores of Lake Winnepesaukee

The concerts start at 7 p.m. and run for two hours with a short intermission.

The concerts are free to the public, though a pass-the-bucket offering is taken during intermission to help the Friends of the Wolfeboro Community Bandstand offset the cost of the summer concert series.

In the event of inclement weather, there will be signs posted at the entrances to the park announcing the concert's cancellation. There will also be a post on the Friends of the Wolfeboro Community Bandstand Facebook page or at wolfeborobandstand.org.

The Scholarship was started and was first presented in 1989. Gilford Rotary initially funded the Scholarship with seed money which was invested conservatively. The proceeds/earnings of investments plus contributions by Committee members, family members and friends has resulted in $500 - $3,000 grants to the recipients over the years.

Annually, recipients receive a silver commemorative bowl, a citation, and the grant at Senior Awards Night in June. In May, a selection committee of Board Members, friends and past recipients conduct interviews to select the recipients. The Scholarship has traditionally attracted the brightest and most talented leaders and scholar/athletes of the Senior Class.

Several fund-raising activities have been held over the years, including the long-standing Annual Rotary Pancake Breakfast at Gilford's Old Home Day.

The goal has been to raise and conserve a substantial enough principal to fund a meaningful and truly helpful grant to each year's recipient(s). The original fund goal of $100,000 was reached in 2021. It is hoped that increasing the fund past the original goal will allow for bigger scholarships and additional recipients.

Contributions may be made to: The Cheryl Lynn Walsh Memorial Scholarship Foundation, c/o Treasurer, Gilford Rotary, Inc., P.O. Box 7091, Gilford, NH 03247-7091.
