NORTHFIELD — Since December, Spaulding Academy & Family Services (formerly Spaulding Youth Center) has honored four staff members – Kori Kidder, Brendan Donahue, Bridget Desjardins, and Denise Elliott – with monthly Spaulding Spirit awards. These peer-nominated awards recognize employees who embody the spirit of the organization and inspire fellow team members with their dedication to service.

Kidder began at Spaulding Academy & Family Services as a residential substitute. She graduated from the University of New Hampshire in 2020 with a bachelor's degree in Human Development and Family Studies. Kidder is also a Certified Family Life Educator through the National Council on Family Relations. After accepting a full-time position in the Spaulding residential team, Kidder coordinated with five different school districts managing remote learning requirements and district-provided services for the children she assisted. Recently, she transitioned to become a family worker.

As a residential assistant, Donahue enjoys learning what makes each child unique and understanding their personalities. He is passionate about teaching them the life skills required once they transition from Spaulding Academy & Family Services. Donahue helps children learn how to cook, clean, do laundry, complete schoolwork, make minor repairs, and use tactile skills like handwriting. He holds a bachelor's degree in Communication and Media Arts from Westfield State University.

Desjardins is a Special Education teacher at Spaulding Academy & Family Services currently working with kindergarten through second grade students. She was initially hired as a paraeducator in 2015 and was inspired by the children to earn her teaching certificate and bachelor's degree in Early Childhood Education. She is trained as a Trust-Based Relational Intervention® (TBRI) Practitioner, which is a program designed for teachers and professionals working with children and families impacted by trauma.

Elliott started her career at Spaulding Academy & Family Services 24 years ago as a residential substitute and later as a full-time overnight residential counselor. For the past three years, she has served as the residential staff coordinator. She most enjoys interacting with the children alongside the staff she considers family. Elliott is also a Licensed Nursing Assistant and works in the Lakes Region General Hospital Central Sterile Department.

“The Spaulding Spirit Awards provide our entire organization the opportunity to appreciate the staff members who make a tangible and positive impact in the lives of the children we serve,” said Lys Miller-Drake, SHRM-SCP, Human Relations & Employee Engagement Director. “Every month, we consider dozens of nominations from employees who wish to recognize a fellow team member. It's part of what makes Spaulding Academy & Family Services such a special and supportive place.”

Public comment sought on Atlantic Broadband franchise renewal

TILTON — The Town of Tilton has received official notice from Atlantic Broadband Company of its intent to renew their cable television franchise. The current franchise agreement expires on Dec. 31.

As part of the renewal process, the Tilton Board of Selectmen is soliciting public input to ascertain the cable-related needs and interests of Tilton residents in addition to requesting feedback on the performance of Atlantic Broadband under the existing Franchise Agreement.

Unfortunately, federal law does not allow a community to review or regulate the following subject matters when considering the renewal of a cable television franchise agreement: broadcast and channel programming, fees charged for services, internet services or telephone services. The focus of this renewal process will be on video programming quality, reliability, availability, customer service and local access channels.

Anyone interested may respond via email to jforrester@tiltonnh.org or you can mail a response to the Tilton Board of Selectmen, 257 Main St., Tilton, NH 03276. The deadline to reply is July 15.

One Light hosting community auditions for “The Little Mermaid”

NORTHFIELD — On May 2 at 6 p.m., One Light Theatre Company will hold auditions for Disney's “The Little Mermaid” at the Pines Community Center in Northfield. One Light's new community division called the Performers' Initiative of the Lakes Region (PILR) is dedicated to producing quality theatrical productions by local talent and technicians and is excited to present “The Little Mermaid” as its inaugural production. The show will be staged in Tilton July 29-31 with three in-person performances.

One Light Theatre has been operating continuously in the Tilton area for more than four years. In the past the group has focused on professional summer stock shows holding auditions in Boston and New York, and bringing talent in from all over the country. This new division will be focused on giving local artists a chance to work on shows that they help choose and that local audiences will enjoy. Part of the goal for the community division is to bring new people to the stage and offer more opportunities for seasoned actors to score leading roles in popular shows.

Anyone age 14 and up who is interested is encouraged to audition and no previous experience is necessary. Those who would like a chorus role will need to sing one verse of a song of their choice. Please bring music for our ac-

Raiders split a pair with Newfound in first week

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING

Sports Editor
BELMONT — The Belmont softball team returned to action and had a good first week back on the field, splitting a pair of games with Newfound.

“Very happy with the team’s performance on the field after almost two years away for most of the girls,” said coach Bill Clary. “Belmont had a good first week back on the field for games.”

The Raiders started the week with a trip to Bristol on Monday, April 12, where they dropped a 6-4 decision to the Bears.

Kelley Allen pitched well for the Raiders, allowing just one earned run, with Clary noting that the first game jitters led to six errors behind his pitcher.

Belmont fell behind early by a 4-0 score, but they tied things up in the fourth inning. However, Newfound was able to push across one run in each of the next two innings for the 6-4 final score.

Savannah Perkins had two hits on the day while Lena Rodrigues also had two hits in her first varsity game. In addition to Rodrigues, Carli Drouin, Madi Lima and Darci Stone all collected their first varsity hit.

Two days later, the Bears came to Belmont and this time the Raiders were able to pick up the 4-3 win.

Morgan Hall started in the circle and allowed five hits, three walks and struck out nine while also delivering a clutch two-run base hit in the fifth inning.

After the Bears scored one in the top of the first inning, the Raiders tied things up quickly, as Becca Fleming drilled her first homer of the season in the bottom of the first inning to tie the score at one.

Kara Stephens followed with a single, Hall walked and Lima drove in a run with a single to give the Raiders the 2-1 lead.

The Bears scored twice in the top of the fifth inning, but Hall’s key hit in the bottom of the inning put her team back on top for good.

Courtney Burke recorded her first varsity hit in the game and the team stepped up defensively as well, only committing two errors.

The Raiders are scheduled to be at White Mountains on Friday, April 23, then next week play a pair with Gilford, at home on Monday, April 26, and on the road on Wednesday, April 28.

music programming back to our Laconia campus and also to our new campus at Sugar Hill in Wolfeboro. And as we begin the slow march back to normalcy here at Taylor and throughout the state, we look ahead with optimism that we will be hosting this socially distanced concert programming this summer not only for Taylor Community residents, but also our friends in the greater community.”

Bank of New Hampshire announces partnership with NH Food Bank’s Mobile Food Pantry

LACONIA — Bank of New Hampshire is excited to announce a one-year partnership with the New Hampshire Food Bank in support of their Mobile Food Pantry program. This sponsorship comes as a result of Bank of New Hampshire’s implementation of an annual giving focus.

“Our mobile food pantries have become a safe and effective approach to meeting the needs of our food insecure neighbors during this difficult time,” said Eileen Liponis, Executive Director, New Hampshire Food Bank. “Thanks to the generosity of Bank of New Hampshire we will be able to further our reach this year and ensure that our neighbors across the state do not have to worry about where their next meal will come from. Our mission would not be possible without our community partners, like Bank of New Hampshire. We are truly grateful for this partnership.”

Bank of New Hampshire’s annual giving focus has been implemented within the bank’s Corporate Giving Program to concentrate monetary donations and volunteer efforts on a specific need to better serve the community in a more measurable way. The 2021 giving focus for Bank of New Hampshire is food insecurity. While food insecurity has always been a struggle for many of our friends and neighbors, the current COVID-19 pandemic has greatly increased this need across our state with a projected 13 percent increase in 2021.

“As we seek to make an impact on food insecurity in our communities, we are confident that this significant contribution to the New Hampshire Food Bank will move us toward that goal,” stated Christopher Logan, President & CEO for Bank of New Hampshire. “In this one-year partnership, beginning in April, we will support one Mobile Food Pantry event each week, providing food for up to 500 families.”

The Mobile Food Pantry travels to locations throughout the state, aligning with Bank of New Hampshire’s footprint. In addition to financially supporting the Mobile Food Pantry, Bank of New Hampshire employees will be serving as volunteers at Mobile Food Pantries throughout the year.

Logan went on to say, “The New Hampshire Food Bank has been addressing food insecurity in our state since 1984, and we are thrilled to take part in the fight against hunger. Bank of New Hampshire has maintained a strong legacy of community service and civic leadership, and we are proud to be partnering with the New Hampshire Food Bank which has done the same. From one bank, to another, we strive to end hunger.”

A change must come

“Everyone thinks of changing the world, but no one thinks of changing himself,” Russian author Leo Tolstoy wrote in the late 19th century.

Racism continues to rear its ugly head. A black man was recently harassed for walking in the ‘wrong’ neighborhood. A neighborhood in which he lives. Wouldn’t it have been just as easy for the individual who questioned his presence there to simply smile, wave, and go about tending to their own business?

We recently listened to old radio interviews from the 1930’s and the 1940’s in which former slaves were discussing their lives. One man was talking about needing a pass to leave the property, and needing another pass when he left the store he was sent to in order to walk back home. One woman mentioned watching a female friend be whipped for a trivial ‘infraction,’ and recalled how she screamed. Another man talked about the day he found out he was free. His family was given one last meal, then sent out on their own. He noted that the family had nowhere to go, did not know how to read or write because they were not allowed to go to school, had no money, and job prospects were nil to zero given their skin color. To have actual audio of those enslaved is a stark realization that this didn’t happen all that long ago.

These are not enjoyable topics to bring up, but as we were taught in school, this is our history. It happened. We cannot be afraid to not discuss the truth about the society in which we came from for fear it might offend someone. The fact is, racism should make any reasonable thinking person upset. Knowledge is power, and the more you know, the more you understand, the more you understand, the more you can change the world around you, even if that orbit includes your own personal circle of friends and family.

One of those who quietly but effectively challenged America’s prejudiced attitudes was Jackie Robinson, and indeed, Jackie Robinson Day just passed on April 15. This is a day that has been commemorated since 2004. At Ebbets Field, on Opening Day in 1947, Robinson, donning the number 42, made his Major League debut, suiting up for the Brooklyn Dodgers, playing first base. He was the first black baseball player to play in the league, but not without much peril, including death threats. Robinson was harassed by fans and players on opposing teams as well as his own, in the middle of games and at his own home. His perseverance was astonishing.

On this day every year, umpires, coaches, managers and players for both teams wear the number 42. This day has been described as not only a significant day for baseball, but for the country. In 1963, Robinson was inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame. In 1997, the number ‘42’ was retired across all major league teams.

As Albert Einstein once wrote, “The world as we have created it is a process of our thinking. It cannot be changed without changing our thinking.”

STRATEGIES FOR LIVING

If there is no God

BY LARRY SCOTT

He was a young man with a future. As the only man left in the family, he was fortunate to have a dedicated mother who took in washing to put her ambitious son through Seminary. She was hoping for a priest; what she got was a monster.

The Tbilisi Georgian Orthodox Seminary was no place for a young Joseph Stalin. Impressed by the writings of Karl Marx, he gave up on God to pursue a career dedicated to social change and personal power. He failed to make the priesthood, but as a self-serving insurrectionist, he was a smashing success.

After Lenin died in 1924, Stalin set out to destroy the old party leadership, executing potential rivals, and assuming the position as leader of the Soviet Union. Although he transformed the Soviet state from a peasant society into an industrial and military superpower, he is best remembered for the death of as many as twenty million of his own people, executed to perpetuate his hold on power.

At some point in the process, Joseph Stalin had to face up to life’s most important question: What will you do with God? We have each inevitably had to deal with that question and where we came out, what we decided, was a determining factor in the person we have become.

What if there is no God? What if Jesus was a fraud and Christianity a bogus faith?

If there is no God, there is no coherent meaning to life. Without God you lose the sacred essence of human existence. What meaning do you attach to life? Your presence on earth is an accident, your journey through life, survival of the fittest, and your death, a meaningless end.

And if there is no God, there is no life after death, and this is the only heaven you will ever know; this is as good as it gets! Your dreams and drives end at the grave; there is no tomorrow. And for Joseph Stalin or Mother Teresa, it’s all the same.

If there is no God. But that is the question, isn’t it? And God has given us an answer in the life, message and resurrection of His Son.

“Anyone who has seen me,” Jesus said, “has seen the Father.” Our access to God, what we can know of Him, what our finite minds are capable of understanding, comes through and only through Jesus Christ.

The Apostle John had it right. “In Him was life,” he wrote, “and that life was the light of men.” If you are to find meaning to your existence, purpose to your journey, and the peace of mind that comes from knowing eternal life awaits, you have only one alternative: Jesus must be the Lord of your life. And what you do with Him is going to make all the difference in your world.

North Country Notebook

A visit to Hellgate and gone, and Sam Brungot thumps a tub

By JOHN HARRIGAN
COLUMNIST

A note from a reader in Sandwich took me back a few years, to when I first met Sam Brungot, longtime keeper of the Hellgate Camps.

This was north of Errol in the Dartmouth College Grants, near the confluence of the Dead and Swift Diamond rivers. Hellgate Gorge was appropriately named, partly due to log-jams. Self-styled river-hogs, who drove logs and pulp-wood down brooks, streams, and rivers, had to pick jams apart with long pike-poles until the key log was found. Sometimes the boss called for dynamite.

Many such places on the headwaters and main stems of the Androscoggin and Connecticut rivers were also the scenes of wild rides in batteaux--sometimes accidental, sometimes on a dare. A batteau was a long, narrow boat, pointed at both ends and much heavier than a canoe.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower visited the College Grants on a fishing trip in 1955. My Dad went down to the Nansen Ski Jump just north of Berlin to see him, and put me on his shoulders so I could see over the crowd. I was 8.

The reader’s note quoted a “filler” from the following spring’s issue of Appalachia:

“Secret Service men spent a week prowling Dartmouth’s wild Second College Grant last summer just before President Eisenhower stopped in for a brief visit. ‘They were swarming all over here, looking up in the trees and everything,’ recalls veteran caretaker Sam Brungot, who took the President fishing in the well-stocked Diamond River.

“As four of them were walking along the dirt road one evening a large black bear crashed out from the woods in front. This unforeseen menace sent the doughty guards rushing back to Sam’s cabin. ‘They come bustin’ through that door four abreast,’ said Sam, ‘and their eyes was stickin’ out so fur you could cut ‘em off with an axe.’”

Whitefield's Fire Chief, and was well known for his wariness and reticence with the media. Some outsiders, too.

Two men showed up in town who sort of stood out. Big guys. Smartly dressed. They were looking for the Fire Chief, they said.

"Grandma's Kitchen," someone replied, pointing up Route 3.

Chief Placy was indeed at Grandma's Kitchen. Thumbs gestured down the counter. Stools swiveled.

The men said Senator Ted Kennedy would fly in the next morning, and a fire truck was needed as standard procedure. The Chief thought for a moment.

He surmised that they wanted fire trucks in case of a crash. They winced at the word "crash."

Well, they wouldn't exactly put it that way, not in so many words, mind you, but yes, they indeed wanted a fire truck there, just in case, more or less just to stand by. Protocol, they said.

Well, the Chief said, if they were planning on crashing, they should land somewhere else, but if they were planning on landing safely, they were welcome, but then they wouldn't need any fire trucks, would they (there was no question mark at the end of this sentence).

Greg Keazer, and I were up in the Grants on an end-of-school trip with favorite teacher Marguerite Wiswell.

Sam offered us whatever he had, found out why we were there (for the fun of it), and then asked if we liked music. Boy, did we. Sam proposed a song, gave us various kitchenware to play, and proceeded to haul out the percussion, which was a big wash-tub with a piece of heavy

You don't forget stuff like that, nor did we forget he next stop on the

Wings, Water & Wheels returns to Laconia Airport

Darwin Caron shows his dad, Bryce, how to operate a front-end loader at Wings, Water & Wheels 2019.

GILFORD — Karen Mitchell, President of the STEM-education non-profit, WinnAero, is pleased to announce that the group will, in partnership with the Laconia Airport Authority, once again, host an Open House event on Saturday, May 15, COVID restrictions permitting. The popular family-oriented event dubbed "Wings, Water & Wheels," will operate in the familiar "touch a plane, touch-a-truck" format so families are encouraged to bring their cameras.

"We have commitments from about 15 aircraft owners to display their airplanes along with Gilford Fire and Gilford Police vehicles, large excavators and snow-plows and a pace car from New Hampshire Motor Speedway," Mitchell stated.

Rounding out the displays will be individual vehicles/equipment from Hiltz Construction, ArborTech Tree Service, Redimix, Pike Industries and Finn's Garage of Meredith.

"This is an excellent opportunity to speak directly with the pilots, operators, police and fire personnel about their planes, vehicles and careers," Mitchell added.

Also available to speak with the attendees will be WinnAero ACE Academy faculty and Civil Air Patrol cadets and senior members. Helicopter rides for a fee will be offered by CR Helicopters of Nashua. Laconia Airport gates open at 10 a.m. on May 15 and the event will run until 2 p.m. that afternoon. A small per-person or per-family donation will be requested upon entry and snacks and water will be available for purchase. Besides Wings, Water & Wheels, WinnAero is also gearing up to operate its ACE Academy week-long day camps in July for elementary, middle and high school students.

Nichols, Mango pace Bears to shutout opening win

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

TILTON — The Winnisquam baseball team was able to get in a game in the first week and picked up a solid win to begin the season. Thanks to the COVID-19 pandemic, it was the team's first game since May 30, 2019.

The Bears were originally scheduled to take on Kennett in a pair of games in the opening week of the season, however, the North Conway school had to go remote and cancelled all games for the first week. Winnisquam was able to schedule a pair of games against Conant and the Orioles came to town on Tuesday, April 13.

The Bears scored three times in the bottom of the first inning and never looked back, with hurler Phil Nichols mowing down the visitors for the complete game shutout, allowing just one hit and striking out 13.

"It was just nice to be competing on a field again," said veteran coach Fred Caruso. "Once he settled in, Philip was in midseason form. He always gives us a chance to win whenever he takes the mound."

Kadin Burns (first varsity hit) and Nichols had one-out singles in the bottom of the first and after a wild pitch moved both of them up, Chaz Hibbert drove them both in with a single to left. Nolen Perrino followed with a run-scoring double to left to make it 3-0, his first varsity hit.

"I was very happy with the way we swung the bats, especially in the first inning," Caruso noted. "We've been preaching to get up there and swing.

"Even our outs were hit hard," the veteran coach continued. "Nice way to start the season."

Leadoff hitter Garret Mango came through with a two-for-three day, scored two runs and stole three bases. Nichols and Hibbert each reached base three times. In addition to Perrino and Burns, Noah Pearson and Marcus Korenkiewicz also picked up their first varsity hits.

The Bears are scheduled to be hosting Prospect Mountain on Monday, April 26, and will visit Prospect Mountain on Wednesday, April 28.

Edward Jones: Financial Focus

Be conscious of your investment environment

On April 22, we observe Earth Day, an occasion that has inspired millions of people over the decades to take steps to clean up our world. Of course, your physical surroundings are important, but you also operate in other "ecosystems" – social, cultural and political. And you'll need to consider your investment environment, too. How can you improve it? Here are a few suggestions:

- Avoid "toxic" investment strategies. The dangers of pollution helped drive the creation of Earth Day. As an investor, you also need to watch out for "toxins" – particularly in the form of unhealthy investment techniques. For example, chasing after "hot" stocks can burn you. In the first place, by the time you've heard of them, they may already be cooling off. Second, and probably more important, these hot stocks just may be wrong for the investment mix that's appropriate for your needs. Another
- Reduce waste. From an environmental standpoint, the less waste and garbage we produce, the better it is for our planet. As an investor, can you find "wasteful" elements in your portfolio? It's possible that you own some investments that may be redundant – that is, they are virtually indistinguishable from others you may have. Also, some investments, due to their risk profile or performance, no longer may be suitable for your needs. In either case – redundancy or unsuitability – you might be better off selling the investments and using the proceeds to purchase others that can be more helpful.

- Recycle wisely. Recycling is a major part of the environmental movement. At first, though, you might not think the concept of recycling could apply to investing. But consider this: If you own stocks or mutual funds, you may receive dividends, and, like many people, you may choose to automatically reinvest those dividends back into the stocks or funds. So, in a sense, you are indeed "recycling" your dividend payments to boost your ownership stakes – without expending additional resources. And, in fact, this can be quite an effective and efficient way to increase your wealth over time.

- Plant some "trees." Planting trees has always been a key activity among boosters of the environment – with the recognition that their efforts will take years, or even decades, to reach fruition. When you invest, you must sometimes start small. By purchasing a limited amount of an investment and nurturing it over the years by adding more shares, you may one day have achieved significant growth. (Keep in mind, though, that there are no guarantees – variable investments such as stocks can lose principal.)

By making these and other moves, you can create a healthy investment environment – one that can help you achieve your long-term goals.

Northway Bank supports renovations at 193 Court St.

LACONIA — Northway Bank purchased $25,000 in New Hampshire business tax credits from Lakes Region Community Developers (LRCD) to support the final phase of renovations later this year at 193 Court Street, Laconia. LRCD was awarded $200,000 in tax credits and has $9,000 left to sell by May 31.

“This project contributes to revitalization of downtown Laconia and enhances LRCD’s ability to carry out its mission,” said Christopher Dickinson, Senior Vice President, Commercial Banking Group of Northway Bank. Chris is also a member of the LRCD Board. “As a community bank, we care deeply about housing and community development, which is what LRCD does. Investing in the Court Street project makes perfect sense based on our priorities.”

“We are so grateful for partners like Northway Bank,” said Carmen Lorentz, Executive Director of LRCD. “We can’t do our work without the support of our local business community.”

In 2019, Lakes Region Community Developers (LRCD) bought the old Walter’s Market building to turn it into their new headquarters and a neighborhood center to host events and trainings for their tenants in Laconia. LRCD planned for two phases of renovations due to funding constraints. Phase 1 included interior renovations, new insulation and siding on the southwest facing exterior wall, and improvements to the front façade of the building. Phase 1 was finished in October 2019.

Phase 2 will include drainage and parking lot improvements to enhance safety and accessibility, insulation in the attic, insulation and new siding on the northeast exterior wall and back of the building, and HVAC upgrades.

The tax credits are administered by New Hampshire Community Development Finance Authority (CDFA). Any business with operations in NH that contributes to a CDFa tax credit project receives a NH state tax credit worth 75 percent of their contribution. The credit can be used over a period of five years to reduce the business’ state tax liability (business profits, business enterprise or insurance premium taxes). The tax credit program allows NH businesses to use their state tax dollars to support local projects that they care about.

Businesses interested in supporting this project by purchasing tax credits should contact Carmen Lorentz at 524-0747, ext. 110.

Lakes Region Community Developers’ vision is for everyone to live in a healthy home and be empowered to succeed. Founded in 1988 as the Laconia Area Community Land Trust, LRCD has developed 365 healthy rental homes in Ashland, Gifford, Laconia, Meredith, Tilton, and Wolfeboro. In 2017, LRCD expanded its mission to include new types of real estate development and new programming that empowers their tenants to effect positive change in their communities. For more information, visit LRcommunitydevelopers.org.
