

Plymouth Huskies football program hopes to grow roster

BY DONNA RHODES
Contributing Writer

PLYMOUTH — The Plymouth Regional Huskies football organization has seen some great success, and they are looking forward to seeing even more area youth join them as the 2023 season prepares to get underway this summer.

President David James said the team got its beginnings in the mid-1990s under the Pop Warner PeeWee Football program, where they won the National Championship at a game in Florida 25 years ago in 1997, and last year, they gathered to celebrate the 25th anniversary of that distinguished accomplishment.

Last year's U11 tackle football team brought home the trophy for the newer New Hampshire Youth Football and Spirit Conference state championship, which they displayed as part of Plymouth's annual Hometown Holiday Celebration parade in December. But success is not always measured by the trophies, James said.

The Huskies is an all-inclusive group, offering spirit teams for sideline cheering, coed flag football for younger members and tackle football for U9 and U11 athletes.

More than 70 young boys and girls all take part in the Plymouth Huskies Football organization, from flag football to tackle, and this championship winning group is hoping to see their numbers rise even more in the upcoming season. Closing date for registration is May 5.

Plymouth seeking next Boston Post Cane recipient

PLYMOUTH — The Town of Plymouth is currently seeking recommendations as to who may be eligible to become the next Boston Post Cane holder in the town, a unique and distinct honor awarded to the oldest resident of communities across much of New England, which over the past 114 years has become a treasured tradition in all towns that received the now historic canes.

In 1909, Boston Post Canes were first distributed to selectmen in 700 communities throughout Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island, courtesy of the Boston Post newspaper publisher, Edwin Grozier.

According to "Boston Post Cane: news and history of a New England tradition," Grozier had the specialized canes created by J.F. Fradley and Co. of New York from seven-ft. lengths of ebony shipped from Africa. They were topped with 14-carat gold knobs, each engraved with the inscription, "Presented by the Boston Post to the oldest resident of (name of town)-to be Transmitted."

Unified Sports programs were formed to bring athletes and their classmates with physical or intellectual disabilities together as a team. Jenkins said the students on both levels have been enjoying the camaraderie and friendships that have developed through the program. "Friendships have formed between Unified athletes and their partners not only on the court, but in the classrooms and beyond. It's been amazing!" she said. Last week's competition proved that those relationships also reach out to faculty and community members as well. When warm-ups began, SAU 4 Superintendent Pierre Couture, and NMMS faculty members Glen "The Dominator" Fuller, Jason Hill, Eve Bagley, Jason Jenkins and Jen "The Reptar" Carita tossed balls around with all the students before the starting whistle blew. They were also joined by Bristol Police Chief Kris Bean, who admittedly prefers baseball, SEE UNIFIED PAGE A5

Community shows support for Every Child is Ours

BY DONNA RHODES

BRISTOL – The Newfound community showed great support for the Every Child is Ours “Stuff A Cruiser” campaign last Friday at Bristol’s Hannaford Supermarket, where Police Officer Steve Henry and his daughter Daylan were on hand to accept cash and food donations for the program.

Every Child is Ours is a nationwide program available to schools who find a need to provide healthy lunches and snacks for eligible students over the weekend.

In 2020, SAU 4, serving the towns of Alexandria, Bridgewater, Bristol, Danbury, Hill and Bristol Police Officer Steve Henry and his daughter Daylan were outside Hannaford Supermarket last weekend, where they collected cash and food donations to support the Newfound School District’s Every Child is Our weekend food program.

New Hampton, adopted the program for students in need of good nutrition in the after school hours. Once established for the community, ECIO then with eligible children. Officer Henry said each weekend they receive a bag filled with ten food items to enjoy while they are not at school. Since 2020, more than 6,700 bags have been sent home to boost nutritional support for 128 students in the district. That’s a total of 67,000 food items.

The program relies on grants and community donations to continue its operation. Since its inception, Tapply-Thompson Community Center has helped with food collections, Henry said, and the district’s Project Promise program has engaged students to help package the weekly food bags that are then distributed to each school in SAU 4.

While the “Stuff a Cruiser” event was a big success last weekend, Henry said there is no such thing as too much in the way of donations to the program.

Those interested in supporting Every Child is Ours can send monetary donations, used to purchase needed items, to TTCC, 30 North Main St., Bristol, with “ECIO” in the memo line, or drop off any food items during their normal operating hours.

Young Ladies’ Library Association celebrates 150 years

So, what was happening in 1873? Susan B. Anthony was fined $100 for voting in a presidential election in New York. The Comstock Act (that old chestnut) was written into law. Remington began production of the first practical typewriter. And 14 teenage girls in Plymouth decided to create the first public library in our town. Now, 150 years later, we are celebrating the fruits of their labors. Join us on May 7 from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Daniel Webster Courthouse on Court Street in Plymouth to kick off one whole week of events. It begins where it all began, in the original town library. Who were these girls, and what motivated them? Who followed them and what did the newcomers add to the picture? What was the key to their success?

PLYMOUTH — The Young Ladies’ Library Association of Plymouth will celebrate its 150th anniversary next month, with a week of commemorative events planned.

Thank You, Diane!

Six years ago, Diane Lynch became the Director at Pease Public Library in Plymouth, and she has guided it with a steady hand ever since. Staying abreast of current trends in libraries is not a simple task, but she has handled it with grace and thoughtfulness. In particular, she helped this library to survive during the three years of Covid, when visits to the library became all but impossible. Yet, with a complex system for checking in books for a three day quarantine and then checking them out again for curb side pickup, she kept the lights on at Pease. Once the doors opened again, masks were required all day for personnel and surfaces needed to be wiped down hourly. She and her team worked tirelessly to keep literacy flowing in Plymouth and and when possible to keep the doors open. The Young Ladies’ Library Association wishes to express their appreciation to her and to wish her well in her next assignment, wherever that may be.

TIGER to growl at 150th celebration

The Young Ladies’ Library Association would like to express their appreciation to Plymouth State University’s award winning TIGER program. They have graciously offered their time, talent in a performance for our 150th anniversary celebration, by presenting Team Up Together to our Plymouth Elementary School students; it promises to be an excellent and timely show. Thank you, TIGER, Trish Lindberg and Pam Irish for your generous contribution.

Day 2—A visit with a renowned children’s author For those with school aged children, Maryann Cocca-Leffler needs no introduction. An Award-winning author and illustrator of more than 70 books, Cocca-Leffler derives inspiration from all the many environments and people she encounters in her daily life. Plymouth Elementary School children will have the opportunity during the day at Pease Public Library to meet her personally. They will hear her read from some of her more recent books about children with alternate abilities and how to create a culture of inclusion. Then on the evening of May 8th from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., in the Pease Public Library Community Room, Ms. Cocca-Leffler will present to adults in the community about that same mission and answer questions. Many of her books will be available to view and purchase at a YLLA discount.

Day 3 — “An Evening of Poetry with Liz Ahl and Other Lovers of Poetry” What’s often thought, but ne’er so well expressed, is that which we express in poetry. On May 9 from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Pease Public Library Community Room, join us in an evening of poetry led by Liz Ahl, who over the years in her poetic journey has collaborated on poetry projects with visual artists, composers, and dancers, as well as with other poets. She has received multiple awards and will be reading from her most recently published work, “A Case for Solace” (Lily Poetry Review Books, 2022). The evening will be accompanied musically by Audrey Drake.

Day 6— “The Strides, Stumbles and Steam of Romance Publishing” With her debut book in 2014, Lisa Olech was already recognized as an Amazon Best Seller. She writes both contemporary and historical narratives in which her multi-faceted, adventurous characters confront the rising action with wit and romantic aplomb. She is a 2018 RITA Award nominee for her book, Within a Captain’s Soul, the last book in the Scarlet Night series. Join us on May 12 from 6 to 7 p.m. in the Pease Public Library Community Room to hear about her writing and how one gets published in the current competitive market. Her books will be available for sale that evening.

Day 5 — “Not a Moment to Waste--The Battle for a Working Country on a Working Planet” It is not an exaggeration to say that trying to do research about environmental activist, Bill McKibben, is like trying to drink from the fire hose. He doesn’t reduce to sound bites. His is a fifty year long journey, that includes at least seventeen books and the creation of 360.org., a cutting edge, global organization committed to moving the world towards clean energy. He is also co-founder more recently of Third Act, a call to action particularly for the elder generation, to come together in support of young people who recognize an urgency about the future of the planet. The Young Ladies Library Association is proud to say that on May 11 at 6 p.m. sharp, he is coming to the Congregational Church in Plymouth to speak about the future of our planet. This presentation is not to be missed. It is free and open to the public, but reservations need to be made in advance at yllaevents@gmail.com. Three of his most recent books, including one for children, will be on sale at the event.

So you think you know what your local Pease Public Library has to offer? Then of course you will have heard of LIBBY, and how during the Covid crisis you might have continued to “check out” books from the comfort of your home. Or haven’t you really wanted to spend some time exploring that children’s section, so as an informed grandparent, you can take the grandkids someplace new and exciting? Maybe you have wondered what is contained in that separate room at the back of the library, the “special” collection? What exactly can be found there, and what makes it special? Discover this and more on Wednesday May 10th from 3 to 6 p.m., and share a little something to eat and drink while you peruse the historical background of the Young Ladies Library Association and Pease Public Library, whose histories are inextricably entwined. Come celebrate with us!

PETS OF THE WEEK

Jenni

I’m Jenni and I bet you want my number, or the one for the shelter to come adopt me! I am most comfortable around the people I know and would probably do best with adults only. There is potential for me to share a home with a male dog, of course we’d have to meet first. A low traffic home able to help me build my confidence with new people would be best!

Colt

Meet Colt! This pup is beyond smart and would be an amazing companion. He knows so many tricks and commands... especially “treat?”. He enjoys nothing more than getting to go for long walks outside, need a hiking buddy this spring? After a long day outdoors, Colt will be ready for snuggles and watching your favorite movies. He would be a candidate for a home without other animal friends.

Local artist's work on display at Holderness Library

HOLDERNESS — Holderness resident Woolsey Conover's art will be shown in the community room of the Holderness Library during the month of May. A reception for him will be held on May 3 from 5:30-7 p.m. All are welcome.

"I have, for the past 30 years, studied, drawn and painted for the creative pleasure it gives me," Conover says. "At this stage of my artistic development...and life...I am thankfully able to spend more time and bring more intensity to my work."

"Concentrating on oil paint as my medium of choice, I have included still life arrangements and portraits in my work. However, my favored subjects...where my muse has led me...are landscapes, primarily in New Hampshire's Lakes Region and often including architecture and/or humans as a center of interest. It is my attempt to capture the memories and emotions of those who truly love this region."

"Upon reflection, my artistic heritage includes 20th Century painters Edward Hopper and Fairfield Porter, two well known and highly respected artists who were diligent in their efforts to create evocative, satisfying and, at the same time, understandable works of art."

"My friend and mentor, David Ratner (1922-2005), retired art professor at Boston University, who worked with me for 15 years, once told me in his always whimsical way, 'One good thing about being an artist is that you don't hurt anyone, and once in a while you'll do something that will give someone a little pleasure. How can life be better than that?'"

but was willing to give his basketball skills a try.

Students filling the bleachers gave a big roar of approval when just a few minutes into the opening quarter Fiona scored the first basket. She later went on to prove her prowess in basketball with a few more shots that put the Unified team ahead in the game.

The faculty struggled to keep up with points scored by the students while Jason Hill proved to be a strong contender for them, supported by other great shots from his teammates.

NMMS Unified was not to be outdone, however. Riley and her Unified partner Mackenzie teamed up to score a few points, Connor and Logan managed to up the score as well, while Jacoby's height helped him add to the growing lead.

At halftime it was 22-8 with the Unified team ahead in the points but the second half brought a big change. Faculty members started hitting the basket and with just a minute or so to go in the final quarter, teacher Jen Carita tied the score at 36-36.

Racing swiftly for the basket however, Team Unified member Jacoby managed to hit the mark for two more points right at the buzzer, giving the win to the NMMS Unified team.

Coach Kellie Jenkins said that this year there was an increase in the number of middle schools adopting Unified Basketball for inter-scholastic competition and she now looks forward to developing a Unified Soccer team next fall.

"We've had a lot of great support from not only the students but the parents and the community as a whole and we look forward to seeing Unified Sports grow here at the New-found Memorial Middle School," she said.

Marijuana and driving: How risky is it?

BY DEB NARO
Contributor

Research indicates that many drivers using marijuana are impaired and worse, may not recognize that they are impaired. Talking to loved ones about safety when it comes to marijuana and driving is as important as talking to them about drinking and driving. While recreational marijuana use remains illegal in New Hampshire, CADY is aware that one in four New Hampshire high school students report marijuana use. This indicates a need for increased parental and youth awareness around risk factors.

There are many factors to consider when it comes to marijuana and driving. Using higher potency and larger amounts of marijuana or having a low tolerance to marijuana. Consuming it by smoking or vaping creates a faster “high” and combining it with other substances like alcohol or opioids. Being a relatively new driver with little experience also adds to the problem.

It’s important to note that two similar people can use the same amount and potency of marijuana with different results. One person may be impaired while the other person isn’t based upon their experience as drivers and the way their bodies process the drug. A person driving after using marijuana can find it difficult to react quickly to make split-second decisions. These decisions include when to brake, speed up, or swerve to avoid a crash. They may also have problems with divided attention. This means it’s more challenging to handle road conditions, the weather, speed, and other drivers at the same time. Marijuana-impaired drivers may follow too closely or maintain an improper speed and are also more likely to weave into another lane which may cause an accident. The risk of drowsiness is also higher when using marijuana and driving.

In a study reported in The Journal of the American Medical Association, almost 200 drivers who were regular marijuana users were divided into three groups. One group wasn’t given any marijuana while the other two were given different potencies of marijuana to smoke. All three groups were studied while in a driving simulator which measured their driving ability. The drivers who smoked marijuana reported being reluctant to drive right after smoking. That said, almost 70 percent of them thought they were ok to drive after one and a half hours, even though there was no improvement in their driving ability as measured by the tests. On average, it took 4.5 hours for them to be able to drive safely.

Currently, it’s easier and less costly to identify impairment for alcohol with a Blood Alcohol Content (BAC) test, but there is no equivalent test for marijuana. In many states, a police officer who pulls over a person for erratic driving will use a breathalyzer first. Often additional testing is not conducted if the BAC test is positive. This means that if the person was using alcohol and marijuana, which is not unusual, marijuana use will be under-reported. If the BAC test is negative, the officer may call in a specially trained drug recognition expert (DRE). The DRE will conduct a field sobriety test and ask for a drug screen (e.g., saliva, urine or blood) which can be used to support a charge of impairment. By the time a person has the screen, their body may have further processed the drug. If this is the case, the results won’t reflect the level of intoxication experienced when the person was first pulled over.

Be sure to include marijuana along with alcohol in any discussions with teens about safe driving. Asking questions, “What would you do if the person offering you a ride has used marijuana?” or “What do you think the risks are of driving after consuming edibles or smoking?” can get the conversation started. State your expectations around marijuana and driving use with the teen or young adult licensed drivers in your home. It may help to ask them why anyone would consider driving impaired when they could risk an accident, injury or fatality, increased insurance costs, legal fees, or jail time. Let them know ahead of time what the consequences will be for driving under the influence and be sure to follow through.

factors to dictate our lives, we are essentially giving up and throwing in the towel.

Helen Keller is an iconic figure in history who refused to let her circumstances dictate the course of her life. Born in Alabama in 1880, Helen lost her eyesight and hearing at 19 months old due to illness. In her era, such disabilities were often perceived as insurmountable barriers, leaving many individuals without the proper support or opportunities for personal growth and development.

With the help of her teacher and mentor, she learned to communicate, ultimately mastering reading, writing, and speaking.

After completing her studies at the Cambridge School for Young Ladies, Helen pursued higher education at Radcliffe College, the women's counterpart to Harvard University.

During her time at Radcliffe College, Helen faced many challenges, including a lack of textbooks in Braille and insufficient support for her unique needs. Much of the study material was inaccessible to her, with Helen learning through touch and her teachers using tactile sign language. Helen

Her life proves we can overcome adversity by refusing to blame our circumstances or others for our setbacks.

What happens when we attribute our failures to the faults of others and unfair circumstances? We surrender our power and resign ourselves to the role of a victim.

As Dr. Robert Anthony wisely said, “When you blame others, you give up your power to change.”

Embracing personal responsibility is essential for success, as it empowers us to own our lives and break free from blaming others.

Casting blame places us in a situation where we can no longer control our lives. We become passive bystanders, merely reacting to the circumstances around us, living a life of unfulfilled potential.

She never allowed circumstances to limit her vision for her future simply by refusing to be a passive bystander in her life. She took ownership.

With so many opportunities available to you as a modern American, what amazing things will you decide to accomplish? Whatever your situation, the truth is that the power to achieve your dreams is within your reach.

Baseball Bears can't keep up with solid Belmont squad

BY JOSHUA SPAULDING
Sports Editor

BELMONT — The Newfound baseball team wasn't able to get anything going against strong Belmont pitching, falling by an 11-1 score in six innings on Friday, April 21.

"Wyatt (Divers), he adds depth to our pitching staff and he has stepped right in," said Belmont coach Matt LeBlanc of his freshman starter. "And the bats are there, we had some hard hits and really earned our runs."

"The biggest thing for us if we just have to get healthy," said Newfound coach Logan Belanger. "Six of my best kids are all dealing with injuries, we haven't been healthy since game one."

Newfound put two runners on in the top of the first inning, as Landon Sargent reached on an error with one out and Josh Blouin was hit by a pitch. A Hayden Dolloff groundout forced Sargent at third and Divers got another groundout to end the inning.

Belmont came up with a run in the bottom of the inning against Newfound starter Daniel Sherkanowski. With one out, Divers walked and stole second. He took third on a wild pitch and scored on a groundout by Liam Waldron, with Dolloff making a nice play at first on the grounder. Anakin Underhill followed with a base hit and then stole second and third, but Sherkanowski made a nice grab of a shot up the middle to end the inning.

Divers set the side down in order in the top of the second and the Raiders added to their lead in the bottom of the frame. Michael Collette led off with a double that landed at the bottom of the fence in left. One out later, he scored on a wild pitch and then Matt Krasnecki followed with a base hit. After a base hit from Eddie Rochenski, Krasnecki scored on a wild pitch for a 3-0 lead and a double from Owen Waldron plated Rochenski with the fourth run of the game for the Raiders. Liam Waldron worked a walk and Underhill was hit by a pitch to keep the inning alive, but Sherkanowski got a grounder to second to end the inning.

The Bears again went in order in the top of the third and Belmont tacked on a few more runs in the bottom of the third., Collette worked a leadoff walk, stole second and scored on a double by Jaxson Embree. He took third on a passed ball and scored on a groundout by Krasnecki for the 6-0 lead. Owen Waldron reached on an error one out later, but the runners were stranded as a fly ball to center ended the frame.

Newfound got on the board in the top of the fourth inning. Blouin reached on an error to start the inning and Dolloff and Cody Laflamme worked walks to load the bases. Brayden Jenkins then delivered Newfound's first hit of the game to plate Blouin with the run. After Divers got a strikeout, the Raiders turned a slick 4-6-3 double play to end the inning and keep the Bears from adding any more runs.

Liam Waldron reached on an error to open the bottom of the inning, took second on a passed ball and scored on a base hit from Underhill, who in turn scored on a groundout by Nolan Lafrance for the 8-1 lead. One out later, Embree reached on an error and stole second and third before Krasnecki worked a walk. Leblanc tried a double steal and Krasnecki stayed in the rundown long enough to allow Embree to score the ninth run before the inning ended.

The Raiders turned another 6-4-3 double play in the top of the fifth inning after James Joyce had a one-out base hit for the Bears. Zack Stevens took over on the hill for Newfound in the bottom of the fifth and Brayden Townsend led off with a walk and stole second. He took third on a groundout by Owen Waldron and scored on a two-out hit by Liam Waldron for the 10-1 lead. However, Joyce was able to gun down Liam Waldron stealing second to end the inning.

Dolloff worked a walk with one out in the top of the sixth, but he was stranded and Belmont ended the game in the bottom of the frame. Underhill walked, stole second and moved to third on an error. Brady Thurber grounded to third and the Bears were able to cut down Underhill at the plate. Embree reached on an error and stole second then Thurber came home to score on a base hit from Krasnecki to end the game.

"We're a young team, but we're resilient and tough," LeBlanc said. "You can teach them, they learn, but they battle."

"We've been tested early, but I like what I see," the veteran coach continued. "You can tell this group is going to get better as we go along."

"We're trying guys at different positions (due to the injuries), so we've got vacation and I told them to take a few days and relax," Belanger stated. "We still have the majority of our games left, they need to get healthy for that."

"I think we're going to be fine," the first-year head coach added. "They can get frustrated, but they understand that too."

Belmont returns to action on Monday, May 1, with a home game with Berlin and Wednesday, May 3, with a home game against Inter-Lakes, both at 4 p.m.

Newfound is back at it on Monday, May 1, with a home game with Winnisquam at 4 p.m.

The team opened the week at Bow on Wednesday, April 19, and dropped a 4-3 decision to the Falcons. The hosts got a man-up goal in the third to take the 4-3 lead and Plymouth had some good chances in the final three minutes of the game but could not tie the game.

"It was a really hard-fought battle between two tough squads," said Mausolf. "It was a very physical, tough game."

Nolan Galvin had a goal and an assist, Brendan Marcoux and Luke Legacy

Healey chips in during PSU doubleheader sweep

CASTLETON, Vt. — Plymouth State University scored 25 runs and banged out 28 hits but had to settle for a split of a Little East Conference (LEC) baseball double header at Castleton University on Saturday.

Plymouth State used a pair of big innings and survived a late Castleton rally to take the opener, 10-9. PSU scored four in the third, then added a five-spot in the seventh to take a 9-4 lead. Castleton closed to within 9-8 in the eighth, but senior Griffin Crane (Lancaster) lofted a sacrifice fly in the top of the ninth to make it 10-8. Castleton scored once and had the tying and winning runs in scoring position with nobody out in the home half of the inning, but senior Eoin Hamell-Kelleher (Attleboro, Mass.) worked out of the jam to hold on for the win.

The fireworks were just getting started, though, as game two turned into a heavy-weight fight. Castleton jumped out to a 3-0 first inning advantage and was up 5-2 heading to the fourth. PSU scored three in the fourth and fifth innings to take an 8-7 lead and each team scored a pair of runs in the sixth. The Spartans seemed to put the game out of reach with a seven-run seventh to go up 16-10, but PSU fired back with five runs in the eighth and had the tying run on second when the third out was recorded, and the game was called due to darkness. Freshman Tyler Hicks (Jefferson) went 4-for-5 with two home runs, three runs scored and seven RBI in the outburst.

Plymouth State moves to 9-15 (2-8 LEC), while Castleton goes to 13-17 and 3-8 in conference play.

The Spartans took a 2-0 lead in the second inning of game one, but PSU answered right back with a four-run top of the third. Sophomore Owen Baum (Saint Michaels, Md.) singled and stole second and classmate Scooter Summa (Ellicott City, Md.) reached on an error. Junior Jackson Curtis (Jefferson) drove in one with a double and classmate Luke Sokolski (Waterford, Conn.) tied the game on a sacrifice fly. Freshman Aidan Ponder (Merrimack) and Crane followed with run-scoring hits to make it 4-2.

The Spartans used a two-run shot to pull even in the sixth, but again PSU answered right back. Baum walked and senior Alex Rives (Gilford) reached on an error. Curtis singled in a run and Sokolski was intentionally walked to load the bases. Crane knocked in a pair to make it 7-4 and junior Joshua Welsh (East Lyme, Conn.) reached on an infield hit and a Castleton throwing error allowed two runs to score to push the advantage to 9-4.

Castleton rallied for four runs in the eighth.

Curtis and Sokolski singled to start the ninth and a wild pitch moved them both into scoring position. Crane drove in another run on a sac fly and PSU loaded the bases with two down, but a pop out ended the threat.

Castleton loaded the bases with none out in the bottom of the inning and a wild pitch made it a one-run game, 10-9, with the winning run on second. Hamell-Kelleher wriggled out of the jam, though, getting g strike-out and pop up before issuing an intentional walk to load the bases. A pop up to first sealed the win.

Curtis went 3-for-5 with a double, three runs scored and two RBI, while Crane finished 2-for-4 with four RBI and a run scored. Sokolski, Baum and sophomore Sam Malgeri (Stratham) each singled and walked. Senior Trey Parker (Meriden) earned the win after striking out three over 6.2 innings.

Castleton raced out to a 3-0 lead in the first in game two, but Hicks blasted a two-run shot in the second to make it 3-2.

The Spartans added single runs in the second and third, but PSU used a two-out rally to tie the game in the fourth. Malgeri and Hicks singled, and Baum drove them both in with a base hit. Summa followed with a hit and a Castleton error allowed the tying run to score.

The hosts went right back in the lead, 6-5, with a run in the bottom of the frame, but once again Plymouth State responded. Sokolski pulled a one-out single to left and moved up on a ground out before Nick Healey drove him in to tie the score. Malgeri beat out an infield hit, and Hicks came through once again with a two-run hit to give the Panthers an 8-6 advantage.

Castleton got a run back in the bottom of the inning to make it 8-7 after five innings.

PSU added two runs on consecutive bases loaded walks in the sixth to make it 10-7, but the hosts answered with two runs in the bottom of the frame.

The Spartans used four hits and a pair of PSU miscues to plate seven runs in the seventh for a 16-10 advantage.

Healey singled and Malgeri walked to open the eighth, before Hicks smashed a three-run shot to left. The Panthers loaded the bases and Sokolski singled to pull within 16-14. PSU stole another run with smart baserunning to allow Curtis to score with Sokolski, the tying run, moving to second, but a strikeout ended the inning, and it was too dark to continue safely.

Hicks had a career day, blasting a pair of dingers as part of a 4-for-5 effort. He drove in seven runs, scored three and added a pair of stolen bases. Malgeri reached base five times with three singles and two walks in three official at bats. He scored four runs. Summa also had a three-hit game, while Healey and Sokolski each singled twice and scored two runs.

Hamell-Kelleher was charged with the loss despite surrendering just one earned run in his inning of work.

The teams have split the last four series.

Fay earns Little East Conference honors

PLYMOUTH — Junior Crosby Fay (Waterville Valley) picked up Little East Conference (LEC) weekly honors after playing a huge role in the Plymouth State University men's lacrosse team's win at Mass. Maritime last week.

Fay was tabbed the LEC Men's Lacrosse Offensive Player of the Week after scoring eight goals in a pair of conference wins, including a seven-goal performance in a key win at Mass. Maritime on Friday.

Fay buried a pair of goals in the first quarter of the pivotal 13-12 win against the Buccaneers to set an early tone. His first tally of the second extended the Panthers' lead to 6-2, but Mass. Maritime rallied with two straight scores. Fay had the answer, though, adding two more goals to his tally before the end of the frame as PSU went into halftime with an 8-4 advantage.

The hosts cut into the margin early in the third, but once again Fay was there to keep Plymouth State in front, as his seventh goal in the final minute of the period put the Panthers up 11-8, and PSU was able to hold off a late Buccaneers' charge to pick up the key win.

In the Panthers' other game of the week, Fay added a goal and two ground balls in just a quarter of action as PSU blew past

Salem State, 19-0, on Tuesday.

Fay currently ranks second in the LEC in both goals (45) and goals per game (3.46).

This Week's Answers

Ashland Community Church

We are continuing in the parables of Jesus. Parables are one way that Jesus taught – a teaching technique that required his audience to go away and figure out the answer for themselves.

Some count over 100 parables in the Bible. There are over 30 parables of Jesus recorded in the Synoptic Gospels (the Gospel of John has none).

Another teaching technique that Jesus used was questions. In the Gospels Jesus asks many more questions than he answers. To be precise, Jesus asks 307 questions. He is asked 183, of which He only answers 3. Asking questions was central to Jesus’ life and teachings.

This week we will continue with other parables, specifically those in Matthew Chapter 25. What do we do while waiting for the return of Jesus?

Our Worship is at 9:30 a.m., 18 Washington St. in Ashland. Our Web site is <https://ashlandumc.faithlifesites.com/>.

Christian Science Society, Plymouth

Everyone is very welcome to our Sunday church services. We gather at 10 a.m. in our Emerson Street building. The Bible lesson sermon this coming Sunday begins with these words from Psalms” ... the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.” This lesson, which can be studied during the week, will be read this Sunday in more than seventy countries around the world.

We also have a Wednesday meetings at 6 p.m. each week. It begins with short readings from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook. Then there is time for sharing with one another gratitude for healing experiences in our lives, as well as thoughts and insights from our spiritual study and prayer. We’d love to have you join us.

Please visit our Web site at www.cs-plymouth-nh.org if you would like to join in our services by zoom.

At jsh-online.com you’ll find a wealth of articles and audio offerings which are new each week, including ones for children and teens. This week there is a podcast on the important topic, “Healing anger and hate”. There is also a section for young people, “Teen Connect” with shared experiences by children and teenagers.

The Reading Room in our church building is open Monday noon to 2 p.m., where you can read these articles. The reading room has just gotten in several books for young children based on loved Bible stories. We welcome you to browse, and borrow all books and resources, and there are free magazines to take home.

For Earth Day, Practice Resurrection

Reverend Linda Barnes

These words, Practice Resurrection, are from Wendell Berry’s poem Manifesto: The Mad Farmer Liberation Front. It’s an invitation to revisit how we live our lives. On this Sunday we’ll explore how we might resurrect our connections, in these difficult times, to this phenomenally beautiful planet.

Unitarian Universalism is a caring, open-minded religion that encourages you to seek your own spiritual path. Our Faith draws on many religious traditions, welcoming people with different beliefs. We are a Welcoming Congregation recognizing no distinction of class, nationality, race, gender, or sexual orientation.

If you have a child who'll be five years of age by Sept. 30, please call the Central School to arrange registration. There is some required paperwork so contact the school at 603-536-2538 soon, so you'll be ready. Families with children registering for Grade 1 should schedule an appointment for May 17 too.

Bass tournaments start up on Squam on May 6. Clubs have applied for 15 boats in the parking area so that should leave space for other day boaters. You can look at the schedule by going to the NH F&G website under Open Water Tournament Schedule.

We see there have already been several serious OHRV accidents throughout the state. Please make sure that the driver and passengers are wearing helmets and eye protection (required). We don't want anyone suffering unnecessary head injuries.

There will be an OHRV_ATV Safety Course offered by the NH F&G Dept. for youth ages 12-17 and parents on Saturday, May 20 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Town Hall. Bring your own lunch. State law requires that all operators 12 years and over must possess either a valid Motor Vehicle Driver's License or have successfully completed an approved safety education course when operating off their own property. You must pre-register. Call 603-968-3700 or recreation@holderness-nh.gov.

Summer Tennis schedule is posted in your Spring Program Guide or online. Sign up early so you don't miss the chance to have instruction from Bill Aronson. Bill is certified by the USPTA and PTR.

The 96.5 NH Public Radio repeater at the dump is up for its annual maintenance. For 200 watts of output, it covers all of Squam's South and West shores, and some areas toward Meredith.

David Owen Minickiello, 85

It is with very heavy hearts that we announce the passing of our loving husband, father, papa, coach, and friend to so many.

David Owen Minickiello, 85, of Keene, NH, was the first son of Dario and Elizabeth (Jordan) Minickiello of Plymouth, New Hampshire.

“Dave,” “Mini,” or “Coach” was a New Hampshire native, born and raised in Plymouth, where he graduated from Plymouth High in 1956. After four years of service in the US Navy, he attended Plymouth State College and graduated with his BE and physical education major. He taught one year in Sanford, Maine, coaching three sports, winning his first state championship in wrestling, and coaching his first NE Wrestling champion. When New Hampshire beckoned in 1965, he accepted a job in Keene and, except for a one-year leave of absence, remained on staff until retiring in 1999.

Over those years, he served as an assistant coach for football and track but may be best remembered as a pioneer in developing wrestling as a sanctioned NHIAA sport. Keene and Timberlane added wrestling to their varsity sports in 1967, and with Dave’s leadership and Walter Smith’s support, the state held its first sanctioned tourney in 1972 at Timberlane High, with five teams competing. Dave served on the NHIAA wrestling committee from its inception until 1989 and was the driving force behind the development of the NH Wrestling Coaches Association, as well as its first president. In 1974, Keene High became the first New Hampshire school to host the NE Wrestling Championships. In twenty-six seasons as Keene’s head wrestling coach (1972-1999), Dave coached sixty-two All State champions and, in thirty-one seasons (1965-1999), fifty-one NE place winners.

Along the way, Dave received many Coach of the Year honors from various organizations, including the NH Sportswriters and Sportscasters and the NH Coaches Association. The most singular and prized award came in 1986 when the National Athletic Coaches Association named Dave National High School Wrestling Coach of the Year. In addition, Dave was enshrined in the NH Coaches Hall of Fame (1991), the Union Leader’s Hall of Fame (1994), the NE Wrestling Coaches Hall of Fame (1995), and the Plymouth State College Athletic Hall of Fame (1995). He received the Jim Desmarais Service to the NHIAA Award (2000).

Dave always credited the unwavering support of his wife, Linda, and their four children for his ability to continue coaching long enough to accrue a high school dual meet record of 361-84-5 and to win seventeen invitational tournament titles and ten state championships.

After his retirement in 1999, Dave and Linda worked for a few years in the nuclear field as radiation technicians during plant shutdowns, keeping incoming workers safe. It was a fascinating and lucrative job that allowed them to enjoy a few cruises and a tour of Italy, where they successfully connected with relatives. From there, they settled into the RV lifestyle, touring the country, camping with their grandsons, and wintering in Florida. While a completed bucket list made for a blessed life, for Dave, it was never about the destination but the journey.

Dave is survived by his loving wife of sixty years; son Mark and his companion Stacy Ellifritt of Lakewood, WA; son Scott, his wife Linda (Wydo) Minickiello, and their sons Anthony and Alexander of Swanzey, NH; daughter Kathryn and her son Colin Lothrop of Londonderry, NH; son David Dario of Evans, GA; brother Peter and his wife, Virginia (Tear) Minickiello of Plymouth, NH; sister Susan and her husband Bruce Wiggett of Plymouth, NH; aunt Thelma Jordan of Wolfeboro, NH; and many nieces, nephews, cousins, extended family and friends. He was predeceased by his daughter Michelle Maria in 1963 and his parents.

Burial and memorial services will be at the family’s convenience and under the auspices of the NH Cremation Society.

The family extends its gratitude for the irreplaceable expertise and compassion of attending hospice staff. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in Dave’s name to Home Healthcare Hospice and Community Services, 312 Marlboro Street, Keene, NH 03431.

Gloria C. Ferland

in the Plymouth area, sharing many a yard sale, cookout, dinner, or special party.

Gloria was a 1962 graduate of Cathedral High School in Springfield, MA. She earned her BA from Elms College in Chicopee, MA in 1966 and her MA in Mathematics from UMass in Amherst, MA in 1968. She taught Mathematics at Plymouth Area High School from 1974 to 1982 and at Plymouth State University from 1982 until 2006, when she and Keith both took retirement.

Gloria was very active in the community. She was a Little League Softball coach in Plymouth. While teaching part-time at Plymouth State, Gloria ran Crafters in Cahoots, a craft supply shop on Main Street in Plymouth, where she helped many craft-minded people get supplies for their projects; many may recall participating in a small evening craft project class with Gloria. She herself loved to sew, especially Christmas crafts. Every year she came up with a new angel ornament along with stockings, tree skirts, etc., which she sold at various craft shows. She had other interests too. Gloria and Keith enjoyed playing duplicate bridge and playing golf together, a thing Gloria sorely missed when her illness worsened.

In lieu of flowers, Gloria would like donations made in her name to the NH Food Bank or to the Ladders Thrift Shop in Plymouth. Funeral arrangements are private. A celebration of Gloria’s life is being planned for the future.

Quiz Bowl

Quiz Tournaments' Small School National Championship Tournament.

Quiz bowl is a competitive, academic, interscholastic activity for teams of four students. Quiz bowl teams use buzzers to answer questions about science, math, history, literature, mythology, geography, social science, current events, sports, and popular culture. The matches feature a blend of individual competition and team collaboration, since no individual player is likely to be an expert in all subject areas. Participation in quiz bowl both reinforces lessons from the classroom and encourages players to develop new intellectual interests.

Plymouth has attended the Small School National Championship Tournament five times before. Most recently, in 2022, they made the playoffs and finished in 25th place.

The SSNCT is the only quiz bowl national championship pitting small schools against each other. It has one division containing non-selective public schools with 500 or fewer students in their top three grades, and another division for other schools with 350 or fewer students in their top three grades.

The team comes in with some nationals experience: Khalil Dakhliya played the 2023 Individual Player National Championship Tournament; Khalil Dakhliya played the 2022 Small School National Championship Tournament; and Khalil Dakhliya played the 2021 Small School National Championship Tournament, held online.

The team, in the Traditional Public Schools Division, will be captained by Khalil Dakhliya, who will be joined by Liana Francis, Norman Sackett, Max Shamansky, and Reagan Sutherland. The team will be coached by Jay Fogarty, who will be assisted by Troy Harris.

Tournament results will be updated throughout the three days of competition at <http://www.naqt.com/go/stats/13401> so everyone can follow along and see how the team does. You can also follow #ssnct on Twitter.

Boston Cane

lives on. While many of the canes have been lost over the years, approximately 500 of them are still in circulation today and in recent years a few have been discovered tucked away in older homes or appearing at flea markets and yard sales before being returned to the town for which they were intended.

While Grozier's original intent was that the cane belong to the town yet be presented to the oldest male in each community for as long as that person lived there or until they died, in 1930 the qualifications were changed to include women as potential recipients, too. The only remaining stipulation is that the person holding the cane, whether male or female, be a resident of each community for a minimum of ten years before the presentation.

Keeping the original cane protected from loss or theft today, each town now has different ways in which to recognize their oldest citizen. Some presented them with pins or plaques, while Plymouth will be giving it's new recipient with a replica of the original plaque that will honor them personally.

Plymouth's last presentation of a Boston Post Cane award was in 2006 to Blanche Lamere, who was 102 years old at the time. She sadly passed away two years later at the amazing age of 104.

As Plymouth now looks to restart this special presentation to their current oldest resident, they are asking people to nominate someone they believe to be the next honorable holder of the Boston Post Cane. Anyone with recommendations of a resident they believe to be eligible is asked to confidentially submit that person's name, birthdate and age to

Town of Plymouth, Attn. Anne Abear, 6 Post Office Square, Plymouth, N.H. 03264, or email the information to finance@plymouth-nh.org. All submissions must be received on or before

May 31 in order to be considered.

Huskies

ence is comprised of an eight week regular season, followed by two weeks of playoff games, running into the beginning of November, where sportsmanship, dedication and safety both on and off the field are key.

James said that while his organization has a very experienced crew training kids from a young age, they also collaborate with coaches and teams at Plymouth Regional High School as they prepare them for a future in athletic competition.

"We all work together. The goal is to mimic and mirror what they (the high school coaches) do so the teams can grow together seamlessly as the kids age," he said.

Practices for the team are held at Husky Field, located at 95 Smith Bride Rd. in Plymouth beginning in August. James said the facility is available to them through the generosity of Dr. David Cote of the Plymouth Animal Hospital and they are very grateful for his support of youth athletic programs in the region. While the team does travels throughout the season for their competitive games, scheduled home games are held at PRHS.

"The big news this year is, the games will also be broadcast on Pemi-Baker TV," James announced last week.

The Huskies currently have 33 students enrolled in their Flag Football program, and hope to see it grow even larger in 2023. In all, 75 boys and girls are involved in either Flag or Tackle Football. The organization would like to restart their Spirit Team as well but are currently in need of an adult to coordinate their sideline cheer group and become a member of their four-person board of directors. Anyone willing to volunteer their skills and time is asked to contact them through their email address.

"We'd also like to thank Barry Tanner's family and everyone who made donations on his behalf recently. Barry was a big part of this organization and he will be greatly missed," said James.

Barry, who passed away last month, served for many years on local police departments and was an important part of local youth athletics, including three years as president of the Huskies.

Signups for this summer/fall season are open until May 5. While based out of Plymouth, the Huskies organization includes boys and girls from both the Pemi-Baker and Newfound school districts.

For more information on the Huskies and how to join, volunteer or donate to their program, please visit huskiesplymouth@gmail.com or send mail donation to them at P.O. Box 20, Plymouth, N.H. 03264 with the notation of "Plymouth Regional Huskies" in the memo line.
