Sturbridge awarded $500,000 Mass Trails Grant

STURBRIDGE — The Sturbridge Trail Committee was awarded a $500,000 Mass Trails grant for the 469a Trail & Bridge project. The award was announced today at the annual Mass Trails Grant ceremony held in Clinton. This grant will fund a portion of the $2 million dollar project that will construct a shared use path from 501 Main st to the Riverlands, installing a bridge to cross the Quinebaug River and a board walk over the historic Canal that took water from the river to the former "auger shop" on Route 20.

This project was first envisioned more than 20 years ago as a part of the town wide goal of connecting Sturbridge Town Administrator Robin Grimm said of the award, "I am excited to announce this grant award and the tireless efforts of the Sturbridge Trails Committee in achieving this grant towards the bridge project recently voted at the town meeting. This bridge will connect the trails system to our parking lot in the commercial retail district giving trail users access to and from our restaurants and small retail shops on Route 20. This money will directly offset the costs approved by the Town Meeting from the CPC funds freeing up that amount for future CPC projects."

Sturbridge trails Comm Chair, Brandon Goodwin added, "This trail & bridge project will complete a key connection of the Riverlands & Grand Trunk Trail to our Rt 20 commercial and residential areas, a major goal of our Trails masterplan."

Construction is expected to start in the fall of 2026 and be completed in late summer 2027.

Hitchcock's Summer Concert Series rocks Brimfield Town Common on Wednesday evenings

BRIMFIELD — The Hitchcock Summer Concert Series sponsored by Country Bank will take place on Wednesdays, 6 to 8 p.m., July 1 through Aug. 19 on the Brimfield Town Common. In the case of rain, concerts will move to Thursday. A food truck will be on site at each event. Picnics are also welcome; chairs and blankets are encouraged.

The series kicks off on July 1 with Woodshed, bringing Acoustic Folk, Country & Americana. Members Jason Wood of Brimfield, along with A.J. Kiernan, Karen Gallant, and Mike St. Germain are four musical friends who found each other through a love of music and mutual admiration, and are known for their signature three-part harmony. BT's Smokehouse will be on site. July 8 brings The Island Castaways whose love of Buffet-style escapism infuses the pride they take in creating a relaxing atmosphere where there are many smiles, laughter and dancing, and lasting good time memories that create the ultimate Trop Rock experience. The featured food truck will be Flippin' the Bird BBQ.

After a weeklong hiatus for July's Brimfield Flea Market, The New England Digital Accordion Orchestra returns on July 22. Conducted by Sam Falcetti, the nation's first digital accordion orchestra features about 20 musicians from across New England. Using state-of-the-art Roland digital accordions, the group replicates the sounds of various instruments like flutes, trumpet, and a rhythm section to showcase an impressive range of genres including Big Band, Broadway, Ethnic,

Country, and Rock. BT's Smokehouse will return on this evening.

July 29 is all about polka with the return of The Eddie Forman Orchestra, also known as "E.F.O.," is a western Massachusetts polka band that has been performing before audiences since 1968. Eddie Forman started the band while he was still in high school, and has been creating and recreating music ever since, garnering one of the largest polka followings in the New England area. Off The Hook will be the evening's featured food truck.

Worcester Polytechnic Institute announces Spring Dean's List

WORCESTER — Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI) has announced the university's Dean's List for academic excellence for the spring 2026 semester.

The criteria for the WPI Dean's List differ from that of most other universities as WPI does not compute a grade point average (GPA). Instead, WPI students are named to the Dean's List based on the amount of work completed at the A level in courses and hands-on projects.

"WPI's academic programs are rigorous and require a level of independence beyond what is required in traditional courses. WPI students work on real-world, open-ended problems on campus and in communities around the globe. Far from being simple academic exercises, the projects students complete have genuine and lasting impacts in our partner communities," said Provost Andrew Sears. "Some of this nation's best and brightest students come to WPI to study engineering, science, business, and the humanities. Those named to the Dean's List have excelled in all of their work, and we are exceptionally proud of these outstanding students."

The following students were recognized:

Brimfield resident Aiden Custance, class of 2028, majoring in Biomedical Engineering

Brookfield resident Alexander Shettler, class of 2026, majoring in Computer Science

Southbridge resident Ella Favreau, class of 2027, majoring in Architectural Engineering

Southbridge resident Neo Phommachanh, class of 2028, majoring in Aerospace Engineering

Charlton resident Adam Faucher, class of 2026, majoring in Society, Technology and Policy

Charlton resident Aidan Dugan, class of 2027, majoring in Civil Engineering

Charlton resident Arlo Dzik, class of 2028, majoring in Data Science

Charlton resident Bridget McGonagle, class of 2027, majoring in Chemical Engineering

Charlton resident Connor Daniel, class of 2027, majoring in Computer Science

Charlton resident David Cranney, class of 2028, majoring in Mathematical Sciences

Charlton resident Joseph Dumas, class of 2026, majoring in Architectural Engineering

Charlton resident Kenerson Cronin, class of 2027, majoring in Robotics Engineering

Charlton resident Rachel Carpenter, class of 2028, majoring in Chemical Engineering

Building connections that benefit everyone

Some community projects are easy to appreciate because their benefits are immediate. A new playground fills with children the day it opens. A renovated building quickly becomes a source of neighborhood pride. Other projects require a bit more vision, asking residents to imagine how a single improvement today can reshape a community for decades to come.

The Sturbridge Trail Committee's successful effort to secure a $500,000 Mass Trails grant for the Route 20 Trail and Bridge project is one of those visionary investments.

The grant represents much more than outside funding. It is validation that a project conceived more than two decades ago has matured into something worthy of state support. It is also recognition of the persistence shown by volunteers who continued refining the idea, pursuing partnerships, and completing the extensive work necessary to compete for a highly sought-after grant.

Volunteer committees often work quietly behind the scenes, spending countless hours in meetings, reviewing engineering plans, preparing applications and answering questions that few residents ever see. Those efforts rarely make headlines, but they are essential to moving ambitious projects from concept to reality. The dedication shown by members of the Sturbridge Trail Committee deserves recognition.

The proposed trail extension will do more than connect two points on a map. By linking Route 20's commercial district with the Riverlands and Grand Trunk Trail system, the project creates opportunities for residents and visitors to experience Sturbridge in a different way. A family can park once, enjoy a walk along the trails, stop for lunch at a local restaurant, browse a few shops and spend an afternoon exploring the community without getting back into the car.

That type of connectivity has become increasingly important in communities across Massachusetts. Well-designed trail systems encourage healthy lifestyles, provide safe recreational opportunities, support tourism and strengthen local businesses. They also help preserve the natural landscapes that make towns like Sturbridge attractive places to live and visit.

The project also demonstrates thoughtful stewardship of local resources. Town officials noted that the state grant will offset a significant portion of the project costs previously approved through Community Preservation Act funding. That means local dollars originally committed to the bridge project may now become available for future preservation, recreation or historic initiatives that will benefit residents in other ways.

Good planning often produces this kind of multiplier effect. One successful grant application not only advances its intended project but also creates new possibilities for future community improvements.

The timeline calls for construction to begin this fall, with completion expected in late summer 2027. Large infrastructure projects inevitably bring temporary inconveniences and occasionally encounter unforeseen challenges. That is simply part of building something designed to serve generations of residents.

When the bridge finally spans the Quinebaug River and walkers cross the boardwalk over the historic canal, many users may never know how many years of planning made that moment possible. They may not realize the project was first imagined more than 20 years earlier or appreciate the countless volunteer hours invested before a single shovel entered the ground.

But that is often how the best civic projects work. Their greatest success is that they become such a natural part of the community that future generations assume they have always been there.

Communities grow stronger when they think beyond immediate needs and invest in projects that improve quality of life for everyone. The Route 20 Trail and Bridge project reflects that kind of long-term thinking, balancing recreation, conservation, economic opportunity and community connectivity.

Years from now, residents walking across the Quinebaug River bridge may simply enjoy the scenery without giving much thought to how it came to be. That may ultimately be the greatest measure of success. The project will have become not simply a bridge, but another thread connecting the people, businesses, history and natural beauty that make Sturbridge a special place to call home.

Small habits help shape a stronger financial future

Financial security doesn't have to come from a big salary, a lucky investment, or some dramatic turning point. For most people, wealth is built more simply, through small habits repeated many times over.

If you're like many young people, you may feel you don't have enough money to start investing. The reality is that you're in a great position to build the small habits that will help you create lasting wealth. Here are five tips to help you get started.

1. Automate savings before you spend. One of the most powerful financial habits you can build is among the easiest. Set up an automatic transfer such as by contributing to an employer retirement plan or exploring if you can direct part of your paycheck to a savings or investment account.

This helps remove the temptation to spend that money instead of saving it. Even setting aside 1 to 5 percent of your income can help build momentum over time.

2. Watch the small stuff. It's easy to dismiss a $15-a-month streaming service or a $6 coffee twice a week. But those small purchases add up. Forgotten subscriptions, food delivery fees, and impulse buys can quietly drain your bank account.

"Just $25 a week, if invested well, can grow into the thousands in a few short years." Scan your recurring charges regularly, cancel what you don't use and put that money to work instead.

3. Don't let your lifestyle outpace your income. When you get a raise or bonus, it's tempting to upgrade your apartment, car or everyday spending. This "lifestyle creep" can be a significant hindrance to building wealth.

Here's an alternate approach: Every time your income

FINANCIAL FOCUS

goes up, increase your savings rate before anything else. Even saving half of a raise while spending the rest puts you ahead.

4. Start now, even imperfectly. Don't wait to start investing. Even if you can only set aside a small amount each month, do it. Starting just five to 10 years earlier can result in significantly more wealth down the line, even if the early contributions are small, thanks to compounding.

Compounding means your contributions earn interest, and even that interest earns interest. Over decades, that snowball effect can make a world of difference.

5. Stay aware, not obsessed. You don't necessarily need to track every dollar you spend. But you do need to be aware of your money habits. A quick weekly or monthly check-in on your accounts, spending patterns and progress toward savings goals can help you catch problems early.

Financial awareness also means protecting what you build. An emergency fund covering three to six months of total expenses keeps one bad month from becoming a financial crisis. Avoiding high-interest debt does the same. These defensive habits make everything else possible.

Your financial future likely won't be shaped by one big decision. Instead, it will probably be built by small choices you make every day. And the best time to start making good choices is now.

The freedom found between the fireworks

LANTERNS ALONG MAIN STREET

By CHARLES

Every Fourth of July seems to arrive with the same familiar soundtrack.

Somewhere in town, someone is already testing fireworks a few nights early. Flags appear on front porches that looked bare only a week before. The grocery stores suddenly have mountains of hamburger buns stacked where the breakfast cereal used to be, and every weather forecast becomes the most important broadcast of the week.

In Massachusetts, Independence Day has always carried a little extra weight. We live where so much of the nation's story began. We grow up hearing about Lexington and Concord, Bunker Hill and the Boston Tea Party. Schoolchildren memorize dates that happened just down the road from where they ride bicycles today. This year, as the nation marks its 250th birthday, those connections feel even closer. Communities across the Commonwealth are celebrating not only with fireworks and parades, but with historical programs that remind us how much of America's story started here.

Yet, I suspect most of us don't spend the Fourth thinking about history books. Instead, we remember our own traditions.

Maybe it's the neighborhood parade where every kid decorated a bicycle with crepe paper. Maybe it's sitting on a blanket waiting for darkness while trying to guess where the first fireworks will appear. Maybe it's a backyard filled with folding chairs that have somehow become family heirlooms. There is comfort in traditions that don't need improving.

Every year, someone insists they know the perfect way to grill corn on the cob. Every year someone burns the hot dogs while insisting they're "just getting flavor." Every year someone forgets the bug spray until it's too late. Some things are worth repeating.

The older I get, the more I think Independence Day isn't really about the fireworks at all. They're beautiful, certainly, but they're over in half an hour. The holiday lasts because of everything surrounding them. It's neighbors waving from across the street. It's children staying up far later than they should. It's veterans quietly standing when the national anthem is played. It's grandparents explaining to curious youngsters why the holiday matters without turning it into a lecture. Those moments don't make headlines, but they make communities.

Our towns have changed over the years. Storefronts come and go. Schools expand. Roads are rebuilt. New families arrive while others move away. Yet on the Fourth of July, people still gather in the same parks, line the same sidewalks, and spread blankets across the same fields their parents and grandparents once used. That's a remarkable kind of continuity.

We spend much of the year talking about what divides us. Turn on the television for ten minutes and you'll be reminded of every disagreement imaginable.

Then Independence Day arrives. For one evening, we all look in the same direction.

Nobody argues about whether the red burst was prettier than the blue one. Children don't care who their parents voted for. The only debate that matters is whether the grand finale has started or if the biggest shells are still coming.

Perhaps that's the lesson hidden beneath all the celebration. A community doesn't become stronger because everyone thinks alike. It becomes stronger because people choose, again and again, to share the same spaces, the same traditions, and the same hopes for tomorrow.

So this weekend, enjoy the parade. Eat one too many hamburgers. Wave to someone you haven't seen in a while. Stay for the fireworks, even if you've seen hundreds before.

And when the last echo fades into the summer night, remember that the brightest part of Independence Day was never what exploded overhead. It was the people standing beside you, looking up together.

Community Broadband Networks and Massachusetts Broadband Institute announce launch of high-speed Internet initiative in South Worcester County

SOUTHBRIDGE — Community Broadband Networks (“CBN”), funded by the Massachusetts Broadband Institute (MBI), a division of the Massachusetts Technology Collaborative (MassTech), is pleased to announce the launch of its project within the Residential Retrofit Program, bringing affordable, high-speed fiber internet service to residents across South Worcester County. The initiative formally commenced with a Go-Live event on June 17, 2026, at 60 Charlton Street in Southbridge, the first property to receive CBN service under this transformative program.

Supported by funding from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts through the American Rescue Plan Act’s Capital Projects Fund, the Residential Retrofit Program is designed to deliver reliable, gigabit-capable broadband infrastructure to underserved multi-dwelling communities. This investment represents a significant step forward in expanding digital access and ensuring that residents in historically underserved areas have the connectivity necessary to participate fully in today’s digital economy.

The June 17 Go-Live event celebrated the activation of service at the Southbridge Housing Authority property located at 60 Charlton Street. Residents had the opportunity to learn more about available service offerings, engage directly with the CBN team, and take advantage of early enrollment opportunities. The event also served as a community gathering to mark the beginning of a broader effort to modernize connectivity throughout the region.

“This launch represents a meaningful milestone not only for Southbridge, but for the entire region,” said James Orioli, Chief Operating Officer of Community Broadband Networks. “Our mission is to ensure that reliable, high-speed internet is both accessible and affordable for all residents. Through our partnership with MBI, we are proud to deliver critical infrastructure that will support education, workforce development, healthcare access, and overall quality of life for the communities we serve.”

The 60 Charlton St. deployment represents the first phase of a broader infrastructure initiative that will extend throughout South Worcester County, including communities such as Southbridge, Charlton, Sturbridge, Oxford, Webster, and surrounding areas. Construction across the project footprint is scheduled to occur through July 2026, with phased service activations continuing thereafter as each location is completed.

As part of the Residential Retrofit Program, CBN is deploying a fiber-to-the-premises network architecture within participating properties, enabling residents to access high-capacity, low-latency broadband service. The network is designed to deliver symmetrical gigabit speeds, with scalability to support future increases in demand. In addition to infrastructure improvements, the program includes a strong emphasis on digital equity, ensuring that residents have not only access to service, but also the tools and support necessary to fully benefit from connectivity.

“Through the Residential Retrofit Program, MBI is providing affordable and reliable access to help residents gain digital skills, apply for jobs and access community resources,” said MBI Director Michael Baldino. “Our partnership with CBN across South Worcester County will uplift historically marginalized communities, narrowing the digital divide and expanding economic opportunity in the region.”

The project includes enhancements to in-building infrastructure, expanded connectivity to individual residential units, and improvements to shared spaces to support reliable internet access throughout each property. These investments are intended to create a long-term, sustainable broadband solution that meets the needs of residents today while preparing communities for the future.

The Go-Live event at 60 Charlton Street marks the beginning of this broader regional deployment and underscores the shared commitment of CBN and MBI to closing the digital divide across Massachusetts.

Community members interested in learning more about the service or upcoming availability are encouraged to contact Community Broadband Networks for additional information.

Community Broadband Networks (CBN)

Networks is dedicated to expanding access to reliable, affordable broadband services in underserved and unserved communities. Through strategic partnerships and investment in modern infrastructure, CBN delivers high-quality connectivity solutions that support economic development, education, and community growth.

About the Massachusetts Broadband Institute at

MassTech
A division of the Massachusetts Technology Collaborative, the Massachusetts Broadband Institute (MBI) is working to extend high-speed internet access and availability across the state. To achieve this, MBI uses state and federal funding to launch infrastructure expansion programs that target areas of the state that lack high-speed internet access as well as digital equity programs that tackle barriers to internet adoption and increase availability, addressing critical issues around affordability, enhanced public Wi-Fi, the need for internet-enabled devices, and digital literacy training.

July Gardening Calendar from the Charlton Garden Club

1. Inspect garden plants regularly for insect and disease problems.
2. Sanitation practices, insecticidal soaps, and insect traps are alternatives to pesticides.
3. Properly placed shade trees will reduce air conditioning costs.
4. Try shade tolerant ground covers in areas where lack of sunlight limits grass growth.
5. Excess nitrogen fertilizer stimulates succulent new turf growth which is more susceptible to diseases.
6. Raise your mowing height to 3 inches during hot weather.
7. Cucumbers get bitter if water is lacking during ripening.
8. Tomato hornworms are large green caterpillars that feed on the leaves of tomatoes and related plants. Hand-pick or control with B.t.
9. Cut back mums, tall asters, Montauk daisies and helianthus by about one-quarter for bushy, more floriferous plants.
10. Hummingbirds are attracted to red salvia, coral bells and bee balm.

Ruth Wells Center presents art by Laurie Boniface

SOUTHBRIDGE — The Ruth Wells Center for the Arts is excited to announce the July exhibit will be of works by Laurie Boniface. The galleries, located at 111 Main St. in Southbridge, will be filled with photographs, paintings and jewelry.

Opening reception is Saturday, July 11 from noon to 4 p.m., and the galleries will be open Saturday and Sunday throughout the month.

"Thanks for the privilege of allowing me to show my work," Boniface says. "I'm excited to focus on what I feel to be a new chapter in my life."

"How lucky I was as a child growing up on River Road in Sturbridge with the woods, river, and ponds as our playground. My love of nature was nurtured by daily reality - creating camps, collecting specimens of every kind - full of wonder and observation of plants and animals of every description we came upon as we ranged. I loved the turtles, mushrooms, flowers, frogs, insects and endless array of fauna and all walks of forest life.

As an adult, antiquities became a focus. My life's work was creating jewelry from found parts. Providence RI was the costume jewelry manufacturing capitol of the world at the beginning of the 20th century and I built my jewelry design studio utilizing materials from old factories shuttering their doors after a century, creating a business that has sustained me and my helpmates over my lifetime.

"I believe we are all artists and creators. Our media vary and our talents are many. We are creators; when we give ourselves permission to explore and experiment, when the process is more significant than the outcome, when we're executing our creations for the joy of creativity and not necessarily for gain, our visions nourish both self and society.

And now, I return to the simplicity of painting. I'm an amateur but challenged by the process and content attempting the portrayal. My brain chatters about Impressionism and methodology and endless ideas, but hand to paper or canvas gives me the outlet of expression! I enjoy it!"

Laurie Boniface is well-known as the guiding star of the beloved Sadie Green's in Sturbridge. To make a viewing appointment please call 508-909-6155. For more information about the Ruth Wells Center, go to the Web site, ruthwellscenter.com.

St. Anne–St. Patrick Parish & Shrine announces 139th Annual Novena to Saint Anne

FISKDALE — St. Anne–St. Patrick Parish & Shrine invites the public to the 139th Annual Novena to Saint Anne, taking place Saturday, July 18 through Sunday, July 26. The Novena offers nine days of prayer, worship, and fellowship, bringing together Catholics from many cultures and communities throughout New England.

“This year’s theme is ‘One in Christ, United in Mission,’ which reflects the diversity of the Church and the unity we share through our faith,” said Fr. Salvator Musande, pastor. “As diverse as we might be, we share in the common mission of the Church: making missionary-disciples,” he added. “Everyone is welcome to attend one day, several days, or the entire Novena.”

For more than a century, pilgrims and visitors have gathered at St. Anne Shrine to honor Saint Anne, the moth-

LOCALLY GROWN FAMILY BUSINESS

Friday’s Child

Richard is an engaging, energetic, and friendly boy with a great sense of humor. He enjoys playing video games, watching movies, and participating in sports. Richard has built many positive relationships with both peers and adults at school and is known for being kind, respectful, and easy to connect with. Those who know Richard describe him as compassionate, intuitive, and exceptionally polite. He cares deeply about others and strongly believes in standing up for people when needed, while also advocating for himself. Richard’s caring nature, strong values, and outgoing personality make him a joy to be around.

He would benefit from a supportive and encouraging family that can continue to help him grow and thrive.

Can I Adopt?

If you’re at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ+ singles and couples. As an adoptive parent, you won’t have to pay any fees, adoption from foster care is completely free in Massachusetts.

The process to adopt a child from foster care includes training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you. These steps will help match you with a child or sibling group that your family will fit well with. To learn more about adoption from foster care visit www.mareinc.org. Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) can give you guidance and information on the adoption process. Reach out today to find out all the ways you can help children and teens in foster care.

Brimfield resident serves as 2026 Commencement Student Speaker at Saint Anselm

MANCHESTER, New Hampshire — Saint Anselm College student Caraline Stewart from Brimfield, a Mathematics, Music major and Spanish for Nurses minor in the class of 2026 was the commencement speaker at Saint Anselm College's 2026 graduation. Stewart reflected on her time at Saint Anselm College explaining how the liberal arts changed her life. Pursuing a Bachelor of Science in Mathematics, she connected the liberal arts to the quadrivium, the seven liberal arts of ancient Greece. Her four years at Saint Anselm learning about the quadrivium shaped her perspective on life and will impact her next chapter after Saint Anselm.

Founded in 1889, Saint Anselm College is a nationally-ranked four-year liberal arts college providing a 21st century education in the Catholic, Benedictine tradition. Located in the greater Boston region in southern New Hampshire, Saint Anselm is well known for its strong liberal arts curriculum, the New Hampshire Institute of Politics, commitment to inclusiveness, a highly successful nursing program, and a legacy of community service.

OBITUARIES

Susan Reilly, 74

It is with profound sadness that the family announces her passing on June 26, 2026, at the age of 74. A devoted mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, and godmother, she was an accomplished artist and music-lover whose legacy of love will forever echo in our hearts. Born in Woonsocket, RI, on November 3, 1951, she navigated the world with a remarkably fun-loving spirit and an inexhaustible zest for life. Whether she was blending vibrant colors on a canvas or filling her home with the melodies of her favorite songs, she possessed a unique gift for turning everyday moments into extraordinary memories. She will be deeply missed by her daughter and son-in-law, Melissa and Rob Labelle and her cherished grandchildren, Tristan and Logan, of Holland, MA; her siblings, Marc Comtois, Oxford, MA, and Carol Childress, Sturbridge, MA, and the many nieces, nephews, and godchildren whose lives she profoundly touched. Susan was predeceased by her parents, Maurice Comtois and Claire (Bourdon) Comtois, and two siblings, Steven Comtois and David Comtois. A Celebration of Life will be held at a future date. In lieu of flowers, the family asks that you consider a donation in her memory to the Association for Frontotemporal Degeneration, at: <https://www.theaftd.org>.

Andrew T. Truax, 62

Brimfield - Andrew "Andy" T. Truax, 62, passed away peacefully on Wednesday, June 24. He was a loving father, friend, business owner, neighbor, and new grandfather. Born in Harrisburg, PA, Andy moved to Massachusetts as a young boy. He graduated from Tantasqua Regional High School in 1982, where he met many of his life-long friends and his future wife, Cindy (Forkey) Truax. He was awarded two superlatives—Class Flirt and Talks Most, Says Least—both of which perfectly summarized his charm, charisma, and gift of gab. Andy was the life of any party and the last person you should share a secret with if you wanted it kept.

smokers to make enough barbecue for a small army. The pride and joy of Andy's life was his three daughters: Emily K. Truax and her husband, Nick Joseph, of San Francisco, CA; Olivia J. Truax of San Francisco, CA; and Natalie P. Truax of Brimfield. Whether he was coaching them in youth soccer, building their dream bedrooms, or traveling with them, his favorite memories came from both the big and small moments they shared as a family. He told them constantly that his greatest goal as a father was to make their lives better than his own, a goal he can rest easy knowing he accomplished, far beyond even what he had ever dreamed possible.

After attending Framingham State and working briefly overseas in London, he eventually settled in Brimfield, where he built both his dream home with Cindy and his business, Building Blocks Construction. He was incredibly proud of his career and loved showing off his hard work, always with a slightly unbelievable story to accompany it. He had a love of reading and likely left behind a substantial late-fee balance at the Brimfield Public Library (punctuality was always a weakness). He also loved stand-up comedy, '80s movies, music of all kinds (especially jazz on Sundays), and cooking—particularly using one of his many grills and

In addition to his children, he is survived by his mother, Sandra (Neyman) Cole; his former wife and the mother of his children, Cynthia T. (Forkey) Truax; two brothers, Chris Truax of Brookfield and Dan Truax and his wife, Jennifer, of Sturbridge; his beloved grandson, Jack Joseph; as well as many nieces and nephews. Andy was predeceased by his brother, Scott Truax. A memorial gathering for Andy will be held on Wednesday, July 8th, at 1:00 p.m. at Hyland Orchards, 199 Arnold Rd., in Sturbridge. The Daniel T. Morrill Funeral Home, 130 Hamilton St., Southbridge, is directing arrangements.

Margaret "Peggy" St. Jean, 80

North Woodstock, CT: Margaret A. "Peggy" (Mellen) St. Jean, 80, passed away on Thursday, June 25th, after several years of declining health.

St. Jean and his wife Jaime, Karen Cooper and her husband Ben, and Pamela Morse and her husband Marshall; her grandchildren, Ashley, Amanda and Andrea St. Jean, Jenna and Stephanie St. Jean, Julia and Nathaniel Cooper, and Selena, Eric, Macey and Anna Morse; her great grandchildren, Brayden St. Jean and Maevelynne Morse; her brother, Richard Mellen and his wife Pat; and her cousin and best friend since childhood, Florence Zona. Peggy

Peggy was the epitome of grace and kindness. She married the love of her life, Ernest St. Jean, when she was just 20 years old. The following year, her first child, Michael, was born. Mark followed, then Karen, and then Pamela. Peggy stayed home and raised her children and several of her grandchildren. She enjoyed teaching them and watching their eyes light up with every new thing learned. She was always happy to see her family coming, but even happier with each grandchild and great grandchild. She could whip out a meal and set a beautiful table in a moment's notice.

Peggy enjoyed being outdoors. She kept the home meticulously. She canned and froze most of the fruit and vegetables the family and friends enjoyed over the years. She made blueberry muffins, pies, cookies, jams, jelly and so much more. She was known for her strawberry pies. Ernie did not go a day without a blueberry muffin until recently.

Peggy is survived by her loving, faithful husband of 60 years, Ernie; her children, Michael St. Jean and his wife Patty, Mark was predeceased by her parents, Richard and Anna (Petersen) Mellen, and her grandchildren, Christopher St. Jean and H. Molly Morse.

A graveside service for Peggy will be held on Wednesday, July 1st, at 11:00am in the Central Cemetery, North Woodstock, CT. There are no calling hours. A memorial service in Crossroads Christian Church will be held at a later date.

In lieu of flowers, please consider a donation payable to Westview Residents Recreation Activity Fund, c/o Louise Taylor, Westview Health Care Center, PO Box 428, Dayville CT 06241.

- The PMC, which raises more money for charity than any other single athletic fundraiser in the world, is aiming to raise more than ever this year, with a fundraising goal of $79 million.

This year's PMC comes at an especially critical time, with federal research support shrinking, grant approval rates reaching historic lows, and cancer cases continuing to rise. For the 20th consecutive year, 100 percent of every rider-raised dollar will go directly to Dana-Farber, one of the nation's top three hospitals for cancer research and care.

"The theme for this year's PMC, which is 'now, more than ever,' underscores the paramount importance of every single dollar raised in fueling the search for a cure," said Billy Starr, founder and chairman of the PMC. "We are endlessly grateful to every rider, volunteer, donor, and sponsor who makes the PMC possible. Because of their training miles, long hours of volunteering, generous support, and unwavering commitment, we are moving ever closer to a world without cancer."

Since its inception in 1980, the PMC has raised $1.125 billion for Dana-Farber, making it the organization's largest single contributor and accounting for 67 percent of the annual revenue of The Jimmy Fund, Dana-Farber's community-driven fundraising arm. This unrestricted annual funding has empowered and accelerated advancements in cancer research, deeply benefiting patients across the world.

During each annual PMC weekend, thousands of cyclists and volunteers come together from across the world, hailing from 47 US states and 12 countries, with a shared purpose of raising as much money as possible for Dana-Farber. Cyclists ride routes ranging from 25 to 177 miles. Included among these participants is the PMC Living Proof community, riders and volunteers who were previously treated or are currently undergoing cancer treatment and serve as Living Proof of the progress made through raising funds for cancer research and treatment.

There is still time to participate in this year's Pan-Mass Challenge. Folks interested in getting involved can learn more and register at PMC.org.

About the Pan-Mass Challenge The Pan-Mass Challenge (PMC) is a bike-a-thon that today raises more money for charity than any other single athletic fundraising event in the world. Founded in 1980 by Billy Starr - who remains the event's founder & chairman, an annual cyclist, and a fundraiser - the PMC has raised $1.125 billion for Dana-Farber Cancer Institute through the Jimmy Fund. As Dana-Farber's single largest contributor, the organization generates 67 percent of the Jimmy Fund's annual revenue. 100 percent of every rider-raised dollar goes directly to fueling cancer research and treatment at Dana-Farber. In addition to its two-day bike-a-thon across Massachusetts, the PMC is powered by further "spokes in the wheel," with initiatives including the PMC Winter Cycle, an indoor spin event; PMC Unpaved, a gravel bike ride; and PMC Kids Rides, mini bike-a-thons for children ages 2 to 15. The PMC attracts riders and volunteers from 47 states and 12 countries and over 300,000 individual donors. Across events, the PMC has successfully melded support from committed cyclists, volunteers, corporate sponsors, and individual donors, all of whom are essential to the PMC's goal and model: to attain maximum fundraising efficiency while increasing its annual gift. The PMC's aspiration is to provide Dana-Farber's doctors and researchers with the necessary resources to discover cures for all cancers. For more information, visit www.pmc.org.

Willies - a popular, community-focused classic rock and Americana band based out of Belchertown. The band performs across the Western Mass region, playing high-energy hits from the 1950s through the 1980s, modern country, and rock standards. Flippin' the Bird BBQ returns for this concert.

Long-time series favorite CobbleStone Road of Connecticut returns on August 12th with high-energy country. Well-known throughout the region for playing modern and classic country hits from the 1990s to today, their energetic style mixes classic country with rock and blues. Smashing Patties will have their concert series debut this evening.

The series closes out on August 19th with Hard Knox, a Westfield, Massachusetts-based party rock and cover band known for their high-energy shows and "forgotten classics" setlist. Instead of regular cover tunes, they play unique, underappreciated gems from the '70s and '80s, making them a fixture in the Western Mass and Northern Connecticut music scenes. BT's Smokehouse will return to bookend this year's food truck lineup.

In addition to Presenting Sponsor Country Bank, this program is supported in part by a
