St. Joseph School celebrates Catholic Schools Week

Courtesy

St. Joseph School third grade student, Hayley Benes shares her research about the State of New York with Bishop Robert T. McManus during a tour of the school to kick-off their Catholic Schools Week celebration. Hayley is wearing an authentic outfit from the Dominican Republic to celebrate her heritage.

WEBSTER — On Sunday, Jan. 31, the St. Joseph School community gathered to kick-off Catholic Schools Week.

The day began with a Mass celebrating National Migration Week, a tradition that the students look forward to each year. The children and families of St. Joseph School represent various cultures, and they enjoy sharing and recognizing each other's heritage. Nine countries were represented in the presentation of flags: The United States, Canada, Dominican Republic, Egypt, Ireland, Nigeria, Poland, Puerto Rico, and Uganda. The students carried flags and wore costumes reflecting their heritage.

Bishop Robert J. McManus was the Main Celebrant, and Homilist spoke about the importance of Catholics Schools. He reflected on the morning's Gospel, Mark 1:21-28, in which Jesus taught the crowd at Capernaum with authority. Jesus' message was to repent and believe in the Gospel. Bishop McManus then asked the congregation to reflect on three questions, "Where did I come from? Where am I going? And how do I get there?" He stressed that the answers to these questions can only be taught in Catholic Schools because they are, I come from God, I am going home to God, and to get there, the Catholic faith teaches us to keep our eyes fixed on Jesus. Jesus taught I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one goes to the Father except through me. Bishop McManus concluded by reminding the faculty, students, and parents in attendance that Jesus is our hope for eternal life. A Catholic education opens the way for us to go through this life and enter into glory with God forever.

In addition, the Catholic Schools Week Celebration at St. Joseph School features the Roadmap to Excellence and the Year of Saint Joseph.

Dudley receives ADA compliance assessment

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY – The town of Dudley has been presented the findings of an ADA infrastructure and compliance evaluation conducted by representatives of CMRPC and the Center for Living and Working.

The evaluation, which was funded through a state grant, saw outside parties come in to assess town buildings and any updates needed for facilities to bring them in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. The findings will serve as guidelines for the town to prioritize future initiatives and opens up opportunities for Dudley to seek grant funding to offset the impending costs of these projects.

Mike Kennedy, a representative from the Center for Living and Working, provided early insight into the findings recommending that Dudley adopt and ADA grievance procedure and make policies and forms available on the towns Web site. He also recommended the town identify the ADA Coordinator on its website, which currently is Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda, and re-form a previous disbanded commission to oversee ADA compliance and related concerns.

"This would be the perfect time (to reform the commission). They now will have a brand ADA plan that they can use as their roadmap for upcoming ways to make Dudley more accessible," Kennedy said.

Jim Mazik of CMRPC handled the presentation in terms of infrastructure needs. He discussed minor improvements needed at several town buildings including the town hall, fire department and library in some cases involving changes as small as placing signs and drop boxes at proper heights to as major as adjusting stair railings and counter heights. One of the major areas of concern is the town beach and Crawford Field. "Those were all a hundred percent totally non-compliant including the changing facilities," Mazik said. "Playgrounds need to have an accessible route around the facility as a whole and then to the play equipment."

He also said that the laying field as Shepherd Hill were not "fully there" in terms of compliance.

Potentially the costliest stand-alone project quoted in the plan involves accessibility improvements to Crawford Field costing between $30,000 and $60,000. With a total projected cost of $238,205 for all recommended improvements, Crawford Field would be the biggest investment in the plan. Second would be the town beach with a $23,540 price tag including $7,500 for playground adjustments alone. The plan also calls for $10,000 in accessibility improvements at the Town Common. Pine Street park would also require up to $12,800 investment.

Dudley adds vaccine information link to Web site

CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY – The town of Dudley has followed suit with communities from across the commonwealth in making available a link on the town website to provide details on the rollout of the COVID-19 vaccines.

Phase One of vaccine distribution started in December and lasted until the beginning of February, serving priority groups including first responders, health care personnel and related professionals. Average citizens are to begin receiving the vaccine this month, with Phase Two targeting individuals aged 75 and over. Following phases will serve individuals aged 65 and older before focusing on early education worked and essential employees and those with comorbidity. The general public is not expected to receive access to vaccines until April of this year.

With so many different groups receiving vaccinations at different times, Dudley is hoping to simplify the waiting process by providing a link that allows residents to input their emails to be contacted with new information on the availability of the vaccines as things develop. The link is not a sign-up sheet for vaccine appointments, but rather a way for residents to stay informed when new phases begin and when they will be able to sign up for a vaccination.

The Dudley Board of Health took some time to discuss the vaccine rollout during their Jan. 26 meeting where Health Agent Jamie Terry said the rollout is expected to be slow and steady.

"We're also pursuing avenues to get this vaccine out once we have access to it. Unfortunately, I was on a call with the state where they said Massachusetts has a vaccine supply challenge. If you think about all the people who were eligible in Phase One, Massachusetts has not received enough vaccine to cover half of Phase One yet. We're only getting as a state 86,000 doses a week at this point in time which is not a lot when you think of how far their trying to spread that across the state," Terry said.

She added that despite the efficiency of local vaccination programs for first responders, the state is only providing a maximum of a hundred vaccines a week to these programs making getting the vaccine out even more challenging on the local level. For now, Terry said residents can utilize the town's sign-up system to stay informed on the ever-changing landscape of the vaccination efforts.

"(The registration) does not mean that you have signed up to get the vaccine. It means that you have said to put your name on a list that says you would like to receive the vaccine," Terry said of the new system. "It does give us the ability to reach out to the people that are currently eligible – We've heard really positive things from people. I think that they were psyched that there was a place to put their name. I think that it gives us this ability to kind of work on this."

Around 1,333 people have already registered through the link. Interested citizens can visit the Town of Dudley website and click the link on the top of the page to access the sign-up feature and other COVID-19 information.

Presentation planned on Jericho-Brandon Infrastructure Plan

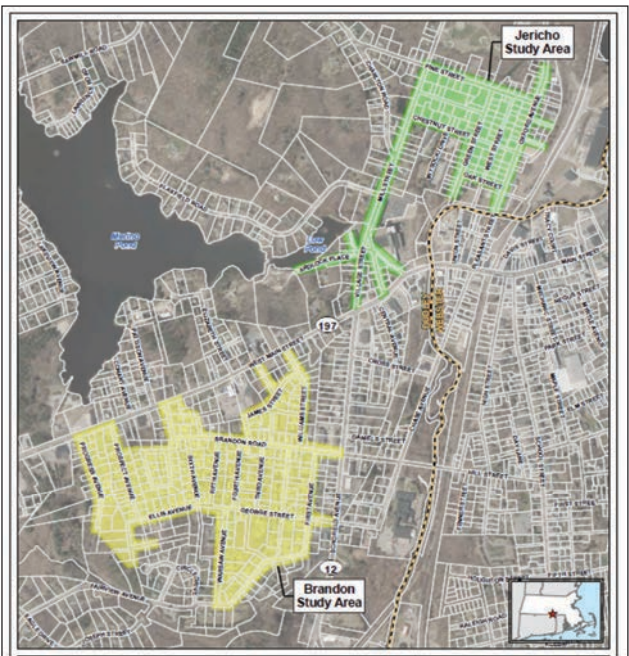

DUDLEY — The Town of Dudley will host a public presentation of the draft Jericho-Brandon Infrastructure Plan project on Monday, Feb. 8 at 6:30 p.m. as part of the Board of Selectmen's virtual meeting. The meeting will be broadcast live on YouTube through the Town's website, www.dudleyma.gov. The draft plan will be posted online for public review prior to the presentation. Neighborhood residents and other interested parties are encouraged to attend or submit questions or comments.

Tighe & Bond, the Town's engineering consultant, will present a summary of its plan to improve drainage systems, water and sewer mains, roads, and sidewalks in the plan area, which includes the Jericho neighborhood (Chestnut Street, Oxford Ave. and vicinity) and the Brandon Road area. This part of Dudley is currently served by water, sewer and stormwater drainage systems mostly dating to the early and middle 1900s.

The overall goals of the project are 1) to evaluate existing infrastructure systems in the project

St. Joseph School presents Partner in Education Award to Elizabeth Sabaj

Elizabeth Sabaj

WEBSTER — It has been a tradition since 2003 that during the celebration of Catholic Schools Week, St. Joseph School awards the Partner in Education Award to a person or persons who've made a significant impact on the school community. St. Joseph School is pleased to present this award to Miss Elizabeth Sabaj.

Miss Sabaj was born and raised in Webster, daughter of Henry and Dorothy Sabaj, and has three sisters, Paula, Susan, and Christine. She attended St.

Joseph School from Kindergarten to Eighth Grade, graduating in 1968. She graduated from Bartlett High School in 1972 and Anna Maria College in 1976 with a BA Degree in Education and Special Education. She later received a Master of Arts Degree in Special Education from the University of Connecticut in 1983. Miss Sabaj began teaching in the Webster Public Schools in 1976. She was a Special Education teacher for 35 years, mostly at Park Ave Elementary. She retired in 2011.

She has been a member of St. Joseph Parish all her life. As a parishioner and supporter of St. Joseph School, she worked at the Annual Festivals from their early days until the present time. She enjoyed working in many booths, including the ticket booth, horse racing game, taco booth, and chicken BBQ. In addition, she has assisted the treasurer and coordinated the Special Gifts Booth since 2000.

Miss Sabaj is a very active parishioner at St. Joseph Parish. She has been a Eucharistic Minister since December 1996 and taught religious education since September 2000. She also belongs to the Holy Rosary Sodality, St. Anne Society, and Sacred Heart Society. She has been the President of the Holy Rosary Sodality for 12 years.

In addition to her involvement in parish organizations, Miss Sabaj has been a member of the Friends of St. Joseph, Consultative Educational Board, Parish Council, and secretary for the Finance Board.

Miss Sabaj has been working part-time in the parish office since May 2012 and Co-chairperson of Partners in Charity for 10+ years.

In her free time, Miss Sabaj enjoys reading, gardening, traveling, and doing puzzles.

Congratulations, Miss Sabaj! The students, faculty, and staff of St. Joseph School appreciate your support and dedication.

Opening the Word Peer Recovery Center receives $94,000 grant

WEBSTER — Last week, Opening the Word Peer Recovery Center, Inc. in Webster announced that they are recipients of a $94,000 Promoting Cultural Humility in Opioid Use Disorder Treatment Grant from the Massachusetts Attorney General's office.

Opening the Word, founded by Rev. Janice Ford, is a community non-profit (501c3) that partners with Webster's Substance Use Disorder Task Force in an ongoing effort to connect members of the addiction recovery community with compassionate support. The Center's focus is on connecting those in recovery with peers already in recovery to create a supportive and successful support network.

This grant will allow the Center to address one potential shortcoming, the language and cultural barriers that sometimes delay or prevent effective services. According to the grant description, it will "...offer a funding opportunity to strengthen cultural humility and culturally and linguistically appropriate services in opioid use disorder treatment to better serve racially, ethnically, and socioeconomically diverse communities.

Opening the Word will utilize the funds to hire multi-lingual recovery coaches and ensure that all printed materials are available in multiple languages. This will play a pivotal role in ensuring that all outreach to minority communities in Webster faces no barrier.

Rev. Ford adds, "We look forward to doing intentional outreach to men and women of all races and ethnicities in recovery from substance use disorder within our catchment area, and to creating programs in which their specific stories will be heard, and their recovery needs met."

Webster Police Chief Michael Shaw, who also served on the Board of Directors and is the Chairman of the Webster Substance Use Disorder Task Force, is very excited about this opportunity as well, commenting "This will give us the means connect with a portion of the population that we serve that very well may be overlooked. This is an excellent opportunity for our center to continue our mission and truly embrace the community in which we serve."

"Pastor Janice Ford is a tremendous partner in the Community, always looking to find another way to help others in need," added State Rep. Joseph McKenna. "Opening the Word is the embodiment of that commitment, I am thrilled that this grant will allow the center to grow and expand in a way that provides the very best service to each and every member of the community who might be fighting addiction."

Student nurses use art to heal

Brianna Cloutier

Cayla Jill Bueno

Isabelle Boateng

Brianna Laforest

REGION — As the number of new infections with the new COVID-19 variants and hospitalizations continue to rise, frontline workers and healthcare workers across the globe are being pushed to a further breaking point. While coping with the stress and anxiety of working during the pandemic is a struggle, the struggle is also real for nursing students who are just getting their first-hand experience and barely getting their feet wet.

Brianna Cloutier of Charlton

A practical nursing student at Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy, Brianna Cloutier is experienced in healthcare. Her resume boasts of previously working as a Certified Clinical Medical Assistant (Reliant Medical Group General Vascular Surgery), Developmental Specialist (Venture Community Specialist), and as a Certified Nursing Assistant (Beaumont Rehabilitation and Skilled Nursing). Since starting her nursing journey she has been learning about COVID 19, preventing the spread, and staying safe and healthy. She completed the COVID-19 Contact Tracing through Coursera at the Johns Hopkins University. Working on term 2 courses, which includes the challenging medical-surgical nursing, she has been channeling her experiences on the front line into the magic of scrapbooking and crafts. She is also actively participating in projects such as the diversity and inclusion for PN Class of 2021 having been picked as the liaison for Walmart’s giving grant. She recently completed two days of clinical observation at the Wound Clinic and is in awe at the nurses involved with hyperbaric wound therapy.

Cayla Jill Bueno of Quezon City, Philippines

Thousands of miles away, Cayla Jill Bueno is going through a similar situation. As a first-year nursing student at the Far Eastern University Nicanor Reyes Medical Foundation, Cayla Jill Bueno has seen her share of pain and suffering but mainly through the news and social media. When hospitals were running out of capacity and healthcare workers were running out of personal protective equipment, Bueno felt helpless. Across the globe she witnessed her grandmother, Estrella Ramos in New York make fabric masks for the community, Bueno was inspired. Her grandmother’s act of kindness impacted her. Her aunts and uncles in the healthcare field working in the frontlines in Boston, New York, New Jersey, Texas, and California as nurses, physical therapist, activities assistant, dialysis technicians, and even caregivers. Closer to home her first cousin, a Filipino-Japanese is also a nurse at Hiratsuka, Kanagawa, Japan.

That is why she started using her digital art skills to channel her emotions during the ongoing crisis. Bueno creates anime fan art stickers. Her website is called creativejuice_ on Shopee. To date she has 92 followers who imagine while Bueno draws. Her site boasts of 15 products. She has an ongoing sticker project commissioned for the Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy students in Charlton, Massachusetts.

Isabella Boateng of Manchester, Conn.

Isabella Boateng is a practical nursing student at Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy. As a Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA), she spends her days caring for her patients and maintaining their safety from COVID-19 and its complications. Working at All Ways There Home Care, which is at Vernon, Conn., she has been channeling her experiences on the front line into the culinary arts. She proudly states that her medium is cooking.

Her dishes have brought love, hope and faith to her family and close friends. As one of the student representatives for the PN Class of 2021, she helps spread the message for prevention: mask, physical distancing, and handwashing. As a UNICEF Club officer, she helps plan and hold food related fundraising activities to support projects for children’s advocacy. Boateng has been called an “angel on earth” by a former patient. For her, honoring her heritage with the dishes she cooks and being at the bedside, caring for her patients is sacred.

Brianna Laforest of Webster

Creating art is a way for healthcare providers to remember and capture their experiences on the front line. Being creative and making art helps Brianna Laforest cope. She does so one flower at a time by making gorgeous flower arrangements and spreading cheer along the way. Blooms have always had uplifting effects. The pandemic, chronic stress, and depression can contribute to negative health outcomes such as poor cardiovascular health. Laforest has young children, and she hopes they can look back and say their mom worked during the pandemic and she did a great job. Work is exciting for Laforest as the nursing administrative coordinator at UMass Memorial Medical Center. As a practical nursing student, she reports to Harrington Hospital for her medical-surgical nursing rotation. She maintains a busy household, a challenging job, and a full plate as a practical nursing student. She can manage it all. Future generations can look back and learn more about how she balanced it all and what it was like to live through the pandemic.

Evidence shows that art can help ease stress and anxiety. Taking part in creative activities can help alleviate the burden of chronic diseases. It is also noted that creative activities help individuals express emotions and experiences that are too difficult to put into words, such as experiences related to the COVID-19 pandemic. These student nurses are on track to be LPNs and RNs upon graduation, albeit they are already healthcare heroes officially.

We can bridge the divide between us

It has been one of the most tumultuous times in recent history in regard to politics, and the divide taking place across the country is very real. This Editor has noticed plenty of disagreements take place between individuals with opposing viewpoints. Being privy to all sorts of news stories and situations where politics are discussed puts us right in the heart of it.

This may not be the case in every situation; however, we have noticed that residents in small towns do not let politics divide them. Sure, you have members of various select boards going head to head about an issue, you have citizens up in arms over certain topics, but people out about the town have remained quite hospitable to each other.

During one event we recently covered, we witnessed two long-term residents from the same town who could not be further apart in viewpoints have a refreshingly peaceful and genuine discussion. Imagine a long haired ‘hippie’ woman holding protest signs and a die-hard Republican, former Marine and hunter dressed in steel toe boots, joking around with each other and having a genuine laugh, then wishing each other well with sincerity, you wouldn’t have believed it. But it happened.

Since that moment, we have noticed more and more situations like this unfold. Hands are being shaken and smiles are being exchanged despite the so called political ‘divide’ that has ripped through the country. We think citizens in small towns, no matter who or what they are about can genuinely appreciate each other’s differences. A person may not agree with hunting or wouldn’t head out into the woods themselves, however they could see a neighbor who shot an eight-point buck and offer a friendly congratulations. We have seen conservatives with a snow-bank of over a foot covering their driveways be plowed out by someone with a ‘Bernie’ sticker on their plow truck. We have seen posts on social media that have nothing to do with politics invoke laughter from both sides.

In a small town everyone knows everyone, and if they don’t they are only separated by one person. In such small towns, that allows for communities to rally around each other and to make sure at the end of the day, that we all had a good one. It’s cold up here, the winters are long and brutal. That camaraderie of wanting to protect our small town niche has benefits that have always stood the test of time. You may be a Republican, Independent or a Democrat but you all root for the New England Patriots. Perhaps now maybe Tampa, but having that home town pride is something that connects us all.

Becoming a new person

“If anyone is in Christ, they are a new creation; old things have passed away; behold, all things have become new.” (2 Corinthians 5:17)

What does it mean that “all things have become new” and that each one of us can become a “new creation?”

In his book Mere Christianity, C.S. Lewis states that, “To become new men means losing what we now call ‘ourselves.’ Out of our selves, into Christ, we must go... the Christian life is simply a process of having your natural self changed into a Christ self... One’s most private wishes, one’s point of view, are the things that have to be changed.”

Our natural self changes into a Christ-self. We invite Jesus Christ to enter our lives and to be formed in us, and thus, become mirrors of Christ. We become “little Christs” in the world around us. We fulfill the potential that He has placed in each one of us when He created us in His likeness. Of course, such change implies something radical happening within; it demands us to crucify our own ego and our egocentric ways and live according to the ways of Christ. And such change continues throughout our lives, it becomes a life-long transformation. This new life in Christ may have what seems to be a sudden, obvious beginning, yet it continues changing us every day, transforming us more and more into the likeness of Jesus until our dying days.

We see an example of such radical change in the story of Zacchaeus the tax-collector (Luke 19:1-10). In the eyes of his Jewish neighbors, Zacchaeus was a good-for-nothing thief and traitor, a hated and despised man. As the chief tax-collector for the Romans in the region of Jericho, Zacchaeus was very rich. This most likely meant that he pocketed a good portion of his collections for himself, as he collected the taxes for the Romans who oppressed his own people, the Jews. Obviously, Zacchaeus would be considered a traitor. The Jews despised tax-collectors to such a degree that they placed them in the same category as robbers and murderers, and all three were forbidden to enter into the Jewish house of worship.

In Zacchaeus, we get a strong sense of how the drastic change that can occur in someone when they truly encounter Jesus Christ and allow Him to begin the process of making someone new! This rich tax collector, who had cheated so many people, listened to the words of Jesus, accepted the Lord’s desire to come to his house, and then allowed Christ’s Spirit to turn his world upside down. To the amazement and chagrin of the crowd, Jesus chooses to go into the house of Zacchaeus. Yet after Christ’s entrance into his house, we see the beginnings of change! Zacchaeus proclaims that he will give half his wealth away to the poor and will even repay anyone whom he has cheated four times what he took from them!

Wow! If we want to see what a new life in Christ means, what this new creation does to a person, look at the example of Zacchaeus! Can any of us imagine giving away HALF of what we possess to the poor, and if we became rich by cheating people, repaying the victims FOUR FOLD! The new life in Christ doesn’t simply mean saying nice words and professing an intellectual belief in God, but it implies a fundamental change of heart and change of living! It means becoming Christ-centered as opposed to self-centered.

Becoming a new creation means to life under God’s reign and take on the “mind of Christ” by allowing His Spirit to inspire, empower and direct their lives. Through this new direction, our life becomes full of meaning and purpose, full of grace and love, full of mercy and peace – a life filled with God’s presence at all times.

Becoming a new creation means living according to God’s will. This entails putting off our old, fallen, corrupt nature and ways of living. In the case of Zacchaeus, this meant leaving his ill-gotten wealth and way of life and following a new path. Our Church tradition says that Zacchaeus became the first bishop of Caesarea. Imagine, going from being a wealthy, corrupt tax-collector to becoming a leader of a persecuted Church. For many of the first bishops and leaders of the apostolic Church, this meant persecution and ultimate martyrdom. Yet, Zacchaeus willingly accepted this risk because he was a new person, an imitator of Christ and thus a person willing to follow the same path as Jesus. Zacchaeus left a life of comfort and wealth for a path of danger and persecution, but all for a greater purpose. He lived for Jesus Christ, not for himself!

As we reflect on the life of Zacchaeus, we have to ask ourselves if we have allowed Christ to make us a new creation. Have we allowed Jesus to be formed in us, the mind of Christ to control our own worldview, and His generous Spirit to oppose our own self-centered spirit? Let us put aside our old nature and put on the new.

Stay safe on the ice

CHIEF S CORNER
STEVE WOJNAR

We are in a very dangerous time involving ice on local waters. Weather fluctuations cause some ponds to freeze, thaw, then re-freeze. A frequent question we as police receive during the winter is, “Is the ice safe?” People want to use the ponds for activities such as skating, ice fishing, hockey, or other recreation. I wanted to take a moment to remind people to exercise proper precautions when on the ice.

Certainly, the police will not declare any ice “safe” unless it is a controlled rink or another known location. Any time water is moving below ice, there is the possibility of thin spots and dangerous areas. This is even more critical at times when varying weather conditions are involved. Cold weather followed by warming can cause thawing and re-freezing. The ice can be thinner in some locations. It may appear to be thick; however, there is no true way to be certain.

It is especially important to exercise caution if you make the decision to venture out. Please avoid areas near open water or any places where you can see under the ice. You should stay near shore or in places where the water is not deep. This will allow you to make it back to shore easier and allow you to stand in the event you should fall through. Whenever children are involved, ice should always be checked by an adult. Children should always have supervision before using these areas. It is also critical to avoid using recreational vehicles of any kind. In addition to environmental concerns and risk of crashes, the mere weight of these vehicles contributes to the possibility of accidents.

It is important to use your best judgment when venturing out onto the ice, especially at these times of changing weather. We have experienced some tragic events in the past and we hope to prevent future occurrences. Please exercise the necessary precautions and be safe.

As the pandemic continues and cases rise, we ask everyone to stay safe and continue to take the necessary precautions to protect yourselves. The work of the Town Officials, particularly our Administrator and most importantly, the Board of Health officials, is greatly appreciated. The rules regarding this virus seem to change constantly, and more pressure is placed on local governments to respond, all with limited resources. We continue to serve the people of Dudley and work with the community to improve the quality of life for everyone. I thank the men and women from my department for their continued dedicated service to the Town during these trying times. Thanks also go out to the many Police Officers, Fire and Emergency Services members, public works, health care, government and all other “essential” personnel for their continued hard work and service. We greatly appreciate the support we receive from our community.

Thanks again for your questions and comments. Please send them to me at the Dudley Police Department, 71 West Main St., Dudley, MA 01571 or email at swojnar@dudleypolice.com. Opinions expressed in this weekly column are those of Chief Wojnar only and unless clearly noted, do not reflect the ideas or opinions of any other organization or citizen.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A political Lombard Street

To the Editor:

On Jan. 26, the San Francisco School Board voted 6 – 1 to rename 44 schools. Names the schools now have are no longer politically acceptable, according to the orthodoxy of “wokeism.” Among the names to be erased are Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson, “... naturalist John Muir, Spanish priest Junipero Serra, Paul Revere and Francis Scott Key.”

Even Dianne Feinstein Elementary School, named for the Democratic senator and former mayor of San Francisco, is to be purged. Why? She committed a mortal sin against the left, “... she embraced Republican Sen. Lindsey Graham at the end of heated confirmation hearings for U.S. Supreme Court Judge Amy Coney Barrett.”

Embrace a Republican. What was she thinking? A heretic, to be sure, off you go Dianne Feinstein to the dust bin of history.

After you’ve done away with Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, what do we have left? An American Revolution without Washington? A Declaration of Independence without Thomas Jefferson? A Gettysburg Address and the Emancipation Proclamation without Abraham Lincoln? Even a San Francisco without Dianne Feinstein might be a challenge for the residents with a memory.

One of the most famous landmarks in San Francisco is Lombard Street, the street with all the twists, turns and switchbacks that would have you wonder if it might be an optical illusion. The San Francisco School Board has created its own educational Lombard Street, but with two differences: Lombard Street starts somewhere and actually goes somewhere.

Financial gifts for your valentine

For many of us, the COVID-19 pandemic may be putting a hold on dinner at the charming local bistro, but the spirit of Valentine’s Day cannot be extinguished. This year, perhaps more so than in the past, you may want to make your Valentine’s Day gifts even more meaningful. So, for example, what can you give your loved ones to help them along on the road to financial security?

Here are a few possibilities:

Contribute (indirectly) to an IRA. Virtually anyone with earned income can contribute to an IRA, which offers tax benefits and an almost unlimited array of investment options. Yet, most people never contribute the maximum amount allowable each year, which, in 2021, is $6,000, or $7,000 for those 50 and older. You can’t contribute to another person’s IRA, but you can give that person the money for that purpose. However, an individual can’t contribute more to an IRA than he or she earned during that year. So, if you were to give someone $1,000 to be placed in an IRA, that individual must have at least $1,000 in earnings. Be aware, though, that the recipient can use the money for any purpose.

Give shares of stock. You probably are already familiar with the products your loved ones use – so why not give them shares of stock in the companies that make those goods or services? Most people enjoy being “owners” of businesses whose products they use. Furthermore, owning stocks for the long term can be a valuable component of anyone’s financial strategy. If you are unsure of how to give stocks, you may want to consult with a financial professional.

Stay protected. If your valentine also happens to be your spouse, you can give a gift of tremendous value by simply working to protect what you have. For example, if something happened to you, would your spouse be able to maintain the household, educate children, pay the mortgage and so on? A financial professional can help you find the protection you need, as well as suggest ways to defend yourself against the devastating costs of long-term care. A private room in a nursing home can cost $100,000 or more each year, according to the insurance company Genworth, and Medicare typically pays few of these expenses, so you’ll want to be prepared.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Create (or revise) your estate plans. It doesn’t sound very romantic but making sure your estate plans are in order is one of the best gifts you can give to all your loved ones. If you haven’t created your plan yet, contact an attorney who specializes in estate planning. You may also want to involve your tax and financial advisors. And if it’s been a while since you looked at your existing plan, take the time to review it – this is especially important if you’ve had changes in your family situation.

On Valentine’s Day, the chocolate hearts and flowers are certainly always appreciated. But financial gifts can help you make a truly lasting impact on your loved ones’ lives.

The fishing is great...for some

Cub Scout Pack 2 fishing at the Uxbridge Rod & Gun Club Last Saturday.

This past week’s bitter cold weather sure had local lakes and ponds making ice for fishermen to get out and enjoy the outdoors. Unfortunately, the fish were not cooperating for some, with very few anglers catching fish, but they were just happy to be enjoying fishing with friends and family. Many anglers had a good fire going to keep them warm, as the temperature, driven by wind, had the wind chill factor at minus 10 degrees on Friday and Saturday. There was the smell of good food in the air as I stopped to visit some of the fishing parties at local ponds. A fishing party at the Uxbridge Rod & Gun Club, for Cub Scout Pack 2 from the Uxbridge VFW had a good number in attendance, but the fishing success was very slow. The group still had a great time slipping and sliding on the ice, and were treated to some great food by Steve Bedard and his crew. As of this past Saturday local lakes and ponds that had safe ice included: Wallum Lake, Manchaug Pond, Whitin Reservoir, Meadow Pond, Bad Luck in Douglas, and Webster Lake in Webster, to mention a few. This past Sunday, fishing picked up for numerous anglers I spoke to, with largemouth bass, perch and pickerel keeping anglers busy tending the ice fishing gear! As this column was being written, the weather forecast for Tuesday was predicting a foot of snow. It is sure going to hamper fishing for some ice fishing anglers, especially the elderly and handicapped. It sure makes me think about moving to Florida, or some other warmer place, at least for a few months. This writer received a fishing report from my brother Ken and his son Mark this past Sunday. The pair fished Webster Lake this past Sunday and had an extremely slow day of fishing. Ice tilts baited with shiners were mostly quiet, with only a couple of yellow perch being caught. Jig fishing was not much better with only a couple of yellow perch caught. They were the only fishermen on the lake at the state boat ramp. Normally, they catch a few trout and pickerel, but not this past Sunday. They still had a good time fishing. Any time a father and son can spend time together fishing, it is a good day!

This large yellow perch was caught by John Schreiber this past week in local waters.

This writer received a notice from Massachusetts Fish & Wildlife’s Marion Larson, Chief information & Education Officer last week, in reference to the proposed hunting and fishing license increase for 2022. It sure is a bad time to think about increasing the licenses in the wake of a pandemic. For those that have a computer, they should take advantage of the three Zoom platforms being held on Feb. 4 and 9, at 6:30 p.m. & the Feb.

6 meeting being held at 10 a.m.! Instructions for joining the online sessions, or by phone can be found on mass.gov/masswildlife-funding. Massachusetts Fish & wildlife will also release a list of their proposed increases in the spring, and will hold formal publichearings at that time? This writer would urge all hunting and fishing license holders in the state, to take the time to make their voices heard at the times mentioned. The public may also provide public input using an online form on mass.gov/mass-wildlife-funding or by mail to Mass. Wildlife, License Fee, 1 Rabbit Hill Rd., Westborough MA 01581. Take a Kid Fishing & Keep Them Rods Bending!

Strategies to Drive Safely in the Snow

Hot on the heels of a classic Nor’easter, it’s time once again to review our annual winter driving tips to keep safe while navigating icy, snowy roadways. When the wintry weather finds you slip sliding away this season, keep in mind these common sense strategies to up your odds of a safe trip.

Accelerate slowly to reduce wheel spin. If starting from a standstill on slick snow or ice, start in second gear so the vehicle is less likely to spin the tires. The transmissions on some vehicles have a winter mode that automatically starts in a higher gear.

On snowy or slippery roads, decelerate slowly too. It helps to increase your following distance to five to six seconds.

Reduce your speed and drive smoothly. In slippery conditions, tires lose their grip more easily, affecting all aspects of your driving: braking, turning, and accelerating. The key is to drive as smoothly as possible, avoiding sudden actions or rapid movements of any kind. Drive as if you have a bowl of water in your lap and don’t want to spill any.

Don’t lock your wheels when braking. Locked wheels can make the vehicle slide or skid. If you have a vehicle without an antilock braking system (ABS), you may need to gently apply the brakes repeatedly to avoid having them lock up the wheels.

Know your brakes: Whether you have antilock brakes or not, keep the heel of your foot on the floor and use the ball of your foot to apply firm, steady pressure on the brake pedal.

Perform one action at a time when accelerating, braking, and turning. Asking a vehicle to do two things at once—such as braking and turning, or accelerating and turning—can reduce your control. When taking a turn, for instance, slowly apply the brakes while the vehicle is going straight. When it’s at the right speed to take the turn, let up on the brakes and smoothly turn the steering wheel. After you’re through the turn, slowly depress the accelerator to regain your speed.

Tackling the Hills: Don’t power up hills. Applying extra gas on snow-covered roads will just make your wheels spin. Try to get a little inertia going before you reach the hill and let that inertia carry you to the top. As you reach the crest of the hill, reduce your speed and proceed

downhill slowly

Clear Clogs: Make sure the exhaust pipe is not clogged with snow, ice or mud. A blocked exhaust pipe can cause deadly carbon monoxide gas to leak into the passenger compartment of the vehicle while the engine is running.

Did you know tires are your most important weapon against slipping and sliding? Take into account these top tire tips:

Cold temperatures decrease the air pressure in tires, which adds to the rolling resistance caused by snow and slush. So be sure to check tire pressure regularly, especially after there has been a sharp drop in temperature.

When buying allweather or snow tires have them installed on all four wheels. This provides even traction all the way around and gives you top notch steering and stopping.

Can’t replace all four? If you can only afford two snow tires, some tire experts suggest you get them mounted in the rear. Here’s why: If your front tires skid, you can still maintain some control over the car by steering those wheels. But if your rear tires lose contact with the road, it’s much harder to control where the car goes. For that reason, the tires with the greatest amount of traction are supposed to go on the back.

Make sure you have enough tread on your tires. The drive tires must provide traction to push your vehicle over wet pavement and through snow. The steering tires must have traction to steer the vehicle. Experts say you should have at least one eighth inch of tread to plow through snow effectively.

Note: The driving advice above was culled from various sources including AAA; State Farm Insurance Agency; Consumer Reports; and Michelin Tires.

Hi! My name is Deniol and I love basketball and soccer!

Deniol is a sweet and social boy of Hispanic descent. Those who know him best describe him as polite, eager to please and very kind. Deniol makes friends easily and gets along well with other children and with adults. Deniol’s favorite activity is playing sports, especially basketball and soccer, as well as playing video games. He hopes to be a police officer when he grows up and likes to watch television shows that feature police officers.

At school, Deniol’s teachers report that he puts a lot of effort into his work and wants to do well in class. Deniol receives extra support in school, and participates in social-skills and life-skills groups. He gets along well with his classmates and teachers.

Legally freed for adoption, Deniol is looking for a loving family that can provide him with support, structure and consistency. An ideal family will also be able to advocate for his needs, and help him utilize appropriate community services. Although his social worker believes that he will do well in a family of any constellation, with or without children, she believes that he will do particularly well in a family where he can have siblings. A family who enjoys being active would also be a good match for Deniol.

Who Can Adopt?

Can you provide the guidance, love and stability that a child needs? If you’re at least 18 years old, have a stable source of income, and room in your heart, you may be a perfect match to adopt a waiting child. Adoptive parents can be single, married, or partnered; experienced or not; renters or homeowners; LGBTQ singles and couples.

The process to adopt a child from foster care requires training, interviews, and home visits to determine if adoption is right for you, and if so, to help connect you with a child or sibling group that your family will be a good match for.

To learn more about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-964-6273 or visit www.mare-inc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have a permanent place to call home.

Joy! It's an inside job

A long-time friend, Brenda Badger Bonser posted a meme this week. For those unaware, a "meme" is a picture that someone has added a message to make a point. Brenda posted a picture of a joyful child. It read, "Don't wait for things to get easier, simpler, better. Life will always be complicated. Learn to be happy right now. Otherwise, you'll run out of time."

It doesn't surprise me that Brenda felt it important to post this. Brenda was always a person with a kind word upon her lips and a smile for everyone. Brenda radiated joy and still does.

Thank you, Brenda, for your beautiful posting. We all needed to hear this. We know it to be true. We all recognize our lives aren't infinite, yet we often live as though we have forever to do the things we want to do.

Brenda's meme conveys a short and concise message accompanied by a matching picture. In a way, it's like a much shorter version of my weekly column. My mission with this column is to provide enough information to influence mindsets from negative to positive, hopefully turning readers from pessimists to optimists. I want to help others understand that we have far more control over our lives than they believe.

Most people travel through life looking for others to blame and others to resolve their issues. Too often, they are looking for the government to solve their problems. The government has never been good at solving the problems of citizens. Optimistic people

POSITIVELY

tend to be more self-reliant. Instead of looking for solutions from the government, optimists just want the government to get out of the way. I don't look for my doctor to solve all my medical problems. I want help and support from my doctor, but I have taken control of my healthcare. No one will be a better advocate for my health than me.

Optimists look for a better outcome and believe it will happen. Not through wishful thinking, but because they believe something better is coming. That belief motivates them to act to make it so. Optimists believe by working in concert with others, positive things can happen ... but if they sit and wait for someone to take them by the hand and make things better, they will always be disappointed. The commonly heard phrase, "If it is to be, it's up to me" is true.

Joy is something grander than happiness. Joy is a fruit of the Spirit, and when we find joy it's infused with comfort and wrapped in peace. It's an attitude of the heart and a spirit, but we won't find it unless we seek it and understand it is within us, waiting to be felt and expressed.

So, back to Brenda's meme ... happiness comes from external events and forces. My family makes me happy. Joy is different. It's an inside job. It comes from our decision to live our lives with joy.

And you know what? I've never once met a joyful pessimist. I've never even met a happy pessimist.

Choose to be joyful and happy. Choose to believe the best in others and believe the best is yet to come. It's a beautiful thing to see when others realize we expect them to be good, their inner self tries not to disappoint us.

Here's my challenge. Find your joy today. Find it in this moment ... at home or at work ... in a quiet time or a busy situation. Find joy with your spouse, your kids or with a person you are meeting for the very first time ... or find it in a quiet moment, alone. You will only find it within you.

Optimism makes our lives and the world a better place. Last week I spoke of the pandemic of pessimism and how pessimism can spread like a virus. It's also true of optimism.

So how and where do you look for happiness and joy? For happiness, look around you and seek it in every circumstance. For joy, look within your heart and mind.

I have found joy this morning in writing to you.

Will you join me?

Grow quick, easy and nutritious microgreens

BY MELINDA MYERS

Add fresh flavor to your meals year-round with microgreens. These easy-to-grow greens need minimal space and no special equipment for a flavorful and nutritious harvest in little more than a week.

Use microgreens on salads, soups, pizzas, omelets, in stir fries or as a snack. These tiny seedlings are packed with more nutrition than their mature counterparts.

Add a bit of spice to soups and sandwiches with radish and mustard microgreens. Try red cabbage, chard, beets and amaranth for some added color. Sunflower’s somewhat nutty flavor makes it perfect for snacking. Let some of your pea microgreens grow a bit taller to use in stir fries.

Fill a shallow container with a two-inch layer of moist potting or seed starting mix. Sprinkle seeds over the soil surface and lightly cover with potting or seed starting mix. Water gently to ensure good seed-to-soil contact.

Continue to water often enough to keep the soil slightly moist. Reduce your workload and keep the planting mix consistently moist by covering freshly planted containers with plastic.

Once the greens break through the soil, remove the cover and move the container to a sunny location or under artificial lights.

Increase the fun and success with a micro-green growing kit like the Organic Herb and Microgreens Grow Kit from Gardener’s Supply (www.gardeners.com). This set up is the perfect size for your countertop or other small space. The full spectrum light is adjustable so you can raise or lower it as needed whether growing short microgreens or taller herbs.

Or skip the growing mix and mess with a Jute Microgreens Starter Kit. Set the jute mat in the shallow tray, add seeds, and water. Then compost the jute mat after harvesting your greens.

Follow the planting directions on the seed packet. You typically need two to three tablespoons of seeds for an 11-by-21-inch tray. Buy enough seeds to make additional plantings every week or two to ensure a constant supply. Microgreens like most vegetables taste best and are most nutritious when eaten fresh. And these tasty bundles do not last long in storage.

The microgreens are ready to harvest once the plant forms the first set of true leaves. These are the leaves that resemble those of the mature plant. This takes anywhere from 7 to 14 days, depending on the room temperature and type of microgreens you are growing.

Use scissors to clip the greens off at ground level. If you prefer to use the whole seedling, roots and all, you will need to wash off any of the seed starting mix clinging to the roots.

Once you harvest all the greens, it is time to replant. Save money and be kind to the environment by composting the used planting mix and reusing containers. Convert shallow fast-food containers into planting trays. Disinfect these or other planting trays before using them for subsequent plantings. Just soak the containers in a 10% bleach and water solution for ten minutes. Then rinse in clear water before planting.

Gardening doesn’t get much easier than this. You will enjoy the fresh flavor all winter long as you wait for the outdoor growing season to begin.

Melinda Myers has written more than 20 gardening books, including Small Space Gardening. She hosts The Great Courses “How to Grow Anything” DVD series and the nationally-syndicated Melinda’s Garden Moment TV & radio program. Myers is a columnist and contributing editor for Birds & Blooms magazine and was commissioned by Gardener’s Supply for her expertise to write this article. Myers’ Web site is www.melindamyers.com.
