DOUGLAS — During a recent Board of Selectmen’s meeting, the Douglas Police Department presented its first annual Officer Richard J. McLaughlin Community Service Award to Douglas resident John J. Furno.

The award was established earlier this year in remembrance of McLaughlin’s legacy of community involvement and dedication, and to recognize those who impact the Douglas community through selflessness and volunteerism.

“I was honored to be put in the same category of Ricky. He was a true gentleman,” said Furno, the town’s Highway Superintendent and Deputy Fire Chief. “To receive this award—it is more of a family award for me as my whole family has always been behind me no matter what I’ve done,

Film student casting for local production

BY KIMBERLY PALMUCCI
TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

NORTHBRIDGE — Longtime Northbridge resident and Columbia University film student Major Dorfman is currently seeking participants for a short film that will be shot in Northbridge over the summer.

The film is titled “July 4th,” and will help Dorfman earn his Master’s in Screenwriting and Directing. It is about a young mother struggling to parent her two rambunctious boys over a hot summer afternoon. Dorfman is casting for the roles of two brothers, around the ages of eight and 12.

“We’re simply looking for two actual brothers, around ages eight and 12. No acting experience is necessary. We’re really just trying to find two outgoing brothers who are good listeners,” Dorfman said.

Dorfman said he didn’t always want to be a filmmaker. In fact, for his entire childhood, he wanted to be a professional soccer player.

“I played a lot of soccer growing up, all around New England. That dream started to fade away when I started playing with iMovie on a new computer my dad had brought home one day,” he said.

Dorfman attended Douglas High School as a school-choice student and graduated in 2012. From there, he attended Emerson College and received his undergraduate degree in Film Production. He has just finished his second year at Columbia.

“Everyone there is both a writer and a director. It’s also the most diverse group of people I’ve ever met, from all over the globe. Some of my closest friends and collaborators are from Chile, Iceland, and Australia,” he added.

Auditions for the roles will be held throughout June in Northbridge. Anyone with interest in auditioning may email July4thcasting@gmail.com. The film will be shot in Northbridge July 18 through July 21. Dorfman said he is also looking for extras for a Little League baseball game scene on July 20 or 21.

Dorfman added that filming in Northbridge will be perfect as the town has so much character.

“It’s a fitting place to set a tight, family-driven, intimate film like this. I think there’s a wonderful charm to its awkwardness,” he said.

Dorfman’s younger brother, Creighton, also a filmmaker, is producing the film.

“We both love Northbridge, and we think it wasn’t until we moved away that we actually started to realize how interesting a town it is,” Major says.

Art flourishes at Northbridge High School

Northbridge High School art teacher Jennifer Mulkerrin is excited to showcase the work of her students in a new exhibit at Open Sky Community Services’ Spaulding R. Aldrich Heritage Gallery.

TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

NORTHBRIDGE — For the month of June, Open Sky Community Services’ Spaulding R. Aldrich Heritage Gallery is hosting Art Flourishes at NHS, a beautiful display of work created by Art 1 through the Advanced Art classes at Northbridge High School. This is a culmination of first and second semester work.

Jennifer Mulkerrin, an art teacher at NHS, was thrilled to be able to bring the student artwork to a gallery.

“I was attracted to this place because of the connections the school has here. I had called up about a student in particular and they said, ‘Why don’t you do it for the whole school?’” Mulkerrin said. “I think that it’s great that the students can have their piece in a gallery. I’m always trying to take art out of our hallway at school - all the art rooms are in the same hallway - and get it out there. When we have all the art in the gym for everyone to see it’s a great thing. It’s even better to take it out of the school and get it out in the community and

Uxbridge students to attend bass angler national championship

BY KIMBERLY PALMUCCI
TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENT

UXBRIDGE — Two Uxbridge High School juniors have qualified for a high school bass angler national championship in Tennessee over the summer.

Nathan Smith and Brody Trask have qualified for the Mossy Oak Fishing Bassmaster B.A.S.S. High School Championship, presented by Academy Sports + Outdoors, at Kentucky Lake in Paris, Tennessee.

“We continue to try and find ways to have our students get more involved in events and activities that match their passions,” said Uxbridge High School Principal Michael Rubin. “We are fortunate to have staff members like Dave Balunas and David Worden, who are avid fishermen themselves, who can relate and mentor students like Nate and Brody, and we are excited for this opportunity for them.”

According to a statement from the district, three hundred high school teams are expected to compete on Kentucky Lake Aug. 8 through Aug. 10 for the high school championship crown. Each two-angler team is accompanied by a coach who runs the boat and can give advice on fishing techniques and patterns. Student anglers qualify for the championship through four High School Opens.

“They are the best of the best among 13,000 high school B.A.S.S. members representing more than 1,300 high school fishing clubs nationwide,” said Hank Weldon, senior tournament manager/high school and college fishing. “In addition to the 900 anglers and coaches, we expect at least 2,000 family members and friends in attendance, cheering on their favorite teams.”

Earlier this spring, Uxbridge High School hosted the first-ever Southern Worcester County League fishing derbies at Webster Lake, with teams from Uxbridge, Grafton, Leominster, Tantasqua, and BVT attending.

According to the tournament website, the B.A.S.S. High School Nation is helping shape the future of the sport, one high school club at a time. High school club members enjoy camaraderie and competition, as well as education and conservation programs.

Blackstone Heritage Corridor celebrates Pollinator Week

Ken Warchol, known to many as the “Bee Whisperer,” checks on some of his hives in Uxbridge. He will help kick off Pollinator Week at Herbs Make Scents in Whitinsville, on Monday, June 17 from 2 to 4 p.m.

WHITINSVILLE — Have you heard the buzz? Blackstone River Valley National Heritage Corridor (BHC) is celebrating Pollinator Week (June 17 to 23) with several events designed to educate the Corridor communities about the role pollinators play in our ecosystem and encourage partners to take BHC’s Pollinator Pledge.

BHC is one of 33 National Heritage Areas to create a Pollinator Resolution as part of “Operation Pollination” conceived by Chris Stein, who was the Blackstone River Valley National Heritage Corridor’s first Chief Ranger from 1991 to 1994. Today, Stein is Chief of Heritage Areas and Partnerships with the National Park Service in the Midwest Region. His goal, he says, was to create small scale pollinator habitats to inspire more large scale projects. In its first year, three National Heritage Areas of the 55 across the country signed on. Today, he shares that number is now 33.

BHC announced the creation of its Pollinator Resolution in April and to date has signed pledges from 12 partners including Rhode Island College, Mass Audubon at Broad Meadow Brook Conservation Center and Wildlife Sanctuary, Metacomet Land Trust, Downtown Providence Parks Conservancy, Upton Conservation Commission, Hi-on-a-Hill Herb Farm, North Smithfield Land Trust, Blackstone Conservation Commission, Uxbridge Conservation Commission, Roots in Nature, Southwick-Daniels Farm/The Daniels Farmstead Foundation, Inc., and The Ecotarium. Pledge forms can be found on BHC’s website at BlackstoneHeritageCorridor.org.

“Pledges range from maintaining pesticide-free gardens to planting pollinator-friendly plants in gardens and from maintaining apiaries on campus to providing pollinator education classes,” explains Bonnie Combs, BHC’s marketing director. “We are inspired by the awareness that Chris Stein has created and we look forward to inspiring more pollinator-friendly habits and habitats throughout the Corridor with this initiative.”

To kick off Pollinator Week, local beekeeper Ken Warchol of Northbridge will be at Herbs Make Scents (76 Church St.), Whitinsville, for a special Pollinator Tea Party on Monday, June 17 from 2 to 4 p.m. Warchol has been keeping bees for 70 years and is the apary inspector for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Many call him the area’s “bee whisperer.” He was part of the Harvard University team studying Colony Collapse Disorder and maintains 125 hives all over Central Massachusetts. Warchol will be setting up a demonstration hive and offering samples of many different kinds of honey. He encourages area youth to come visit after school to learn about honeybees and different pollinators. Terri Michaelson, owner of Herbs Make Scents, will be featuring a special tea menu and highlighting food items in her shop that have been pollinated by honeybees. The shop is normally closed on Monday and is opening at 2 p.m. for this special event.

Rhode Island College was the first to sign BHC’s Pollinator Pledge and will be hosting a “Beekeeping for Veterans” workshop on Wednesday, June 19 from 1 to 3 p.m. at the college’s bee education center (600 Mt. Pleasant Ave., behind buildings 7 and 8) in Providence, R.I. The event recognizes both Pollinator Week and PTSD Awareness Month. Jim Murphy, sustainability coordinator at RIC who oversees the beehives at the college’s bee education center, will provide an overview of beekeeping and offer a hands-on experience at the hives. There will also be a tour of the greenhouse and campus garden to learn about the role pollinators play in our food supply. The event is a collaboration between Rhode Island College, Dare to Dream Ranch, and BHC. RSVP to Jim Murphy at jmurphy2@ric.edu or 401-456-8799. To learn more about the Rhode Island College Bee Education Center, visit RIC.edu/Bee-Education.

On Thursday, June 20, cross pollination is happening at Sprout CoWorking as Providence Green Drinks and Gallery Night Providence come together for Gallery Night at the Sprout Gallery at the Rising Sun Mills (166 Valley St., Building 6M, Suite 103), Providence, RI, from 6 to 8 p.m. The two groups each host their monthly events on the third Thursday and on June 20 they will gather at the same hive to learn about each other, and pollinators. Meg Kerr, Senior Director of Policy, at Audubon Society of Rhode Island, will speak

CEDAC celebrates opening of historic Blanchard School

UXBRIDGE — The Community Economic Development Assistance Corporation (CEDAC) joined Virginia Blanchard Memorial Housing Association (VBMH) and Jon Juhl of JNJUHL and Associates to celebrate the grand opening and ribbon cutting for Blanchard School Apartments last week at the Uxbridge Progressive Club.

Built in 1873 as an elementary school and vacant since 2002, the property is named for the beloved local educator Virginia Blanchard, who served as a teacher and principal at the school for 45 years. VBMH and JNJUHL have redeveloped the historic building and added an adjacent annex to create 25 units of affordable rental housing.

Blanchard School Apartments contains a mix of one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments. All units will be reserved for households with incomes below 60 percent of area median, and the property will be managed by The Community Builders (TCB). With an initial loan in 2013, CEDAC provided more than $300,000 in predevelopment financing, as well as valuable technical assistance, to support this project. Major sources of funding include: Massachusetts Housing Investment ($6.2 million in federal low-income and historic tax credit financing); The Life Initiative ($6 million construction loan); the state Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD) ($1.8 million); MHP ($250,000 permanent loan), and state low-income and historic tax credits ($1.7 million purchased by Unibank).

Additionally, the project received $367,000 through the Community Based Housing (CBH) program to include two units that provide enhanced accessibility features for households with a member at risk of institutionalization or homelessness as a result of their disability.

The development also has a preference for military veterans. CEDAC works with the Massachusetts Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD) to manage several supportive housing programs, including CBH.

Nunes Trabucco Architects of Needham and general contractor Sugrue & Associates, of North Scituate, R.I., were part of the development team. Finally, acquisition proceeds from the project to the Town of Uxbridge have capitalized a scholarship fund to be awarded annually in memory of Virginia Blanchard, to a graduating student who plans to pursue a career in education.

“Congratulations to VBMH and Jon Juhl on the completion of the Blanchard School Apartments,” said CEDAC’s executive director Roger Herzog. “CEDAC is pleased to support this project, which will provide 25 high-quality affordable homes for families in Uxbridge, including units for veterans and people living with disabilities. The deep commitment of VBMH and the Town of Uxbridge to preserving the historic Virginia Blanchard School for affordable housing will benefit residents for many years to come.”

“We are thrilled to celebrate the successful transformation of a historic school building into a unique and affordable apartment complex,” said Harry Romasco, board president of VBMH. “We are proud to provide safe, secure and affordable rental housing options to families, veterans, elderly households, and people with disabilities in the Uxbridge area.”

Earlier this week, the development team of the Blanchard School Apartments received an Excellence in Affordable Housing award at MHIC’s annual meeting and awards ceremony. The award was given for the team’s “perseverance and innovation in executing the community’s vision to preserve the rich history of the Virginia Blanchard School.”

Moore supports bill to curb distracted driving

BOSTON — Sen. Michael O. Moore (D-Millbury) announced that the Senate unanimously passed legislation which would prohibit the use of handheld mobile devices while driving.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, distracted driving accounted for 3,450 deaths in 2016. In the prior year, an estimated 400,000 people suffered from injuries because of distraction-affected crashes.

“The use of mobile devices while driving is a serious issue that we see all too often,” said Senator Moore. “Whether on highways or back roads, it’s hard not to find a distracted driver whose attention is focused on their phone. With thousands of lives at risk, this issue merits a legislative response.”

Passage of this bill puts Massachusetts in line with the northeastern states of Connecticut, New Hampshire, and New York. Forty-six states currently ban texting while driving for all drivers and four-teen states ban the use of hand-held devices for all drivers.

In 2010, the legislature banned texting while driving but did not ban the use of handheld devices for talking or other purposes. The 2010 law banned handheld use for 16 and 17-year olds. The law has been difficult to enforce and hands-free technology has improved significantly since the passage of the 2010 law.

The Senate has acted in previous sessions to address these concerns. This bill, which builds upon the 2010 law, would ban drivers from holding and using a cell phone while driving. Drivers, however, can make a single tap or swipe to activate or accept a hands-free call or to use a navigation device. The bill also makes exceptions for phone calls in emergency purposes, such as situations where the safety of the driver, passenger or a pedestrian is at risk or first responder intervention is necessary.

Under the bill, an initial violation results in a $100 fine and second time offense is a $250 fine, while subsequent offenses carry a $500 fine. In addition to fines, a driver who commits a second or subsequent offense is required to complete an educational program on driving behavior selected by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles.

The bill also considers concerns that enforcement of the hands-free ban could lead to disparate impacts, such as racial profiling, in certain communities. It requires law enforcement to document stops and submit aggregate data, including race and ethnicity, to the Department of Public Safety for the production of annual reports to the Legislature and the public.

The Senate version of the bill will now be reconciled with a version passed by the House of Representatives before being laid on the Governor’s desk. To continue tracking the legislation, S.2216, visit the Legislature’s Web site, www.malegislature.gov.

Local residents receive degrees from WPI

WORCESTER — On Saturday, May 11, on the Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI) campus quadrangle, 1,019 bachelor’s degrees were awarded during the university’s 151st commencement ceremony.

Amanda Alves of Uxbridge was awarded a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering with high distinction.

Dillon Arnold of Northbridge was awarded a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering with distinction.

Eric Carkin of Whitinsville was awarded a bachelor of science degree in electrical and computer engineering with high distinction.

Ryan Choate of Douglas was awarded a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering with high distinction.

Michael Kane of Whitinsville was awarded a bachelor of science degree in electrical and computer engineering with high distinction.

Alexander Kuros of Uxbridge was awarded a bachelor of science degree in biomedical engineering.

Samantha Randall of Northbridge was awarded a bachelor of science degree in biology and biotechnology with high distinction.

Timothy Tetreault of Uxbridge was awarded a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering with high distinction.

Joseph Tomaino of Northbridge was awarded a bachelor of science degree in management engineering.

Taylor Trottier of Douglas was awarded a bachelor of science degree in physics with high distinction.

WPI President Laurie Leshin and Board of Trustees Chairman Jack Mollen presided over the celebration, at which the keynote address was given by Ellen Stofan, the John and Adrienne Mars Director of the Smithsonian’s National Air and Space Museum.

In her remarks, Stofan lauded the graduating seniors, whom she called “the next generation of STEM innovators,” before pointedly asking, “Where do you go from here?” She noted that students are graduating 50 years after the Apollo 11 Moon landing on July 20, 1969. The historic milestone was spurred, in part, Stofan noted, by the challenge President John F. Kennedy placed before Congress in an address in May 1961.

Stofan, who has more than 25 years of experience in space-related organizations and a rich background in planetary geology, also received an honorary doctor of science degree.

WPI awarded Gordon Hargrove, executive director of Friendly House in Worcester, an honorary doctor of humane letters degree for his “distinguished leadership of a vital Worcester institution, his passion for making miracles happen in the lives of others, and his inspiring example to generations of WPI students, faculty, and staff.”

President Leshin told the graduates that while she is sad to see them go, she and the campus community feel a great sense of pride in all of their accomplishments at WPI. “Over the past four years, we have all watched, and hopefully helped you discover, your passions and strengths, we’ve seen you work very hard, and we’ve seen you truly make a difference.”

Class speaker Emily Molstad, of Newington, Conn., a major in mechanical engineering with materials science and engineering, recalled for her classmates the “nine words we heard when we arrived, and over and over again throughout our four years here: Go to class. Do the work. Ask for help. These words, repeated so often, weren’t always easy to practice day to day, but once we followed them, they put us on the path to success.”

Local residents receive graduate degrees at 151st WPI Commencement

WORCESTER — Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI) President Laurie Leshin and Board of Trustees Chairman Jack Mollen presided over the university’s 151st Commencement celebration, awarding more than 850 master’s and doctoral degrees at the Graduate Ceremony, held on the campus Quadrangle.

Kevin MacDougall of Uxbridge was awarded a master of science degree in electrical and computer engineering.

Alex Riley of Northbridge was awarded a master of science degree in fire protection engineering.

Neil Polucha of Whitinsville was awarded a master of mathematics for educators degree.

This year’s graduate address was given by Freeman A. Hrabowski III, president of the University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

In his remarks, Hrabowski expressed his excitement at being asked by his longtime friend, Laurie Leshin, to speak at WPI’s graduate commencement. “I’ve been watching the progress of WPI for a long time,” he said. “You’re a national leader in project-based learning, and you’re the alma mater of Robert Goddard. In my area, that’s a big deal.”

WPI awarded honorary degrees to Hrabowski and to Kevin O’Sullivan, who recently retired as president and CEO of Massachusetts Biomedical Initiatives.

In her remarks, President Leshin congratulated the Class of 2019 for “enduring stress, overcoming setbacks, and pushing boundaries.” As students leave campus with a degree, Leshin said she anticipates they will continue to “break barriers and open new doors.”

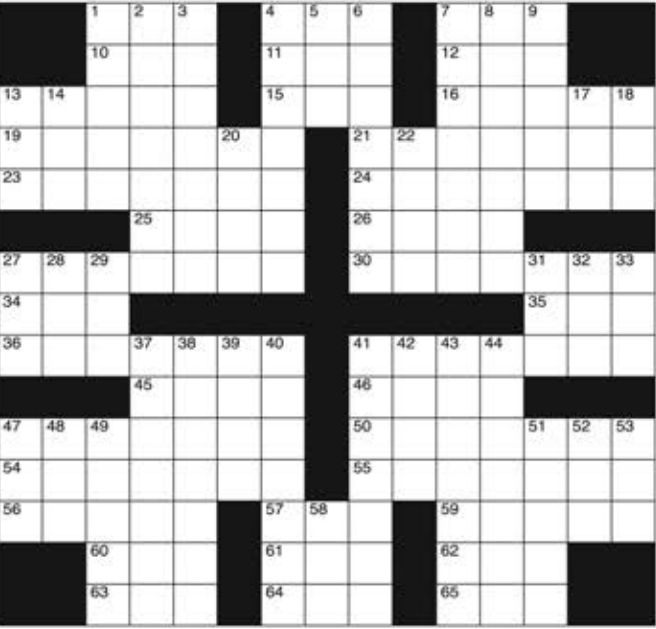

Graduate student speaker Doreen Manning then gave her remarks. Manning, who received her master’s of business administration, told her fellow graduates that she took an indirect route since “earning a master’s degree had simply not been on my career radar.”

Manning said her worldview is different now.

“So as I leave the podium today, I will do so not only with a diploma, but with new insights into myself and my role within the world,” Manning said. “Yet even more important, when I meet with alumni in my position as editor of the WPI Journal, I get to tell them, with pride, ‘I’m an alum, too!’ “

Country Montessori Early Learning Center hosts Field Day

SUTTON — Preschoolers, kindergarteners and their families enjoyed a fun, sunny field day celebration organized by Country Montessori Early Learning Center’s Montessori Parents Association (MAP) at St. Mark’s Catholic Church in Sutton.

Teams of parents and children played many games including sack races, knock the cans down, noodle obstacle race, beach ball hop and golf mania. Children took turns blasting water at cups, throwing sponges at different cut-out targets and playing on large bouncy balls. Young children had fun blowing bubbles at the bubble station, too.

from softball to the fire department to the highway department. My wife and daughters mean the world to me and have always supported me.”

In 2016, Officer McLaughlin passed away following a long fought battle with cancer. He was a lifelong resident of Douglas and served as a patrolman for more than 35 years. According to a department statement, Officer McLaughlin was very involved in the community throughout his life and still managed to give back up until the time of his passing.

“He gave countless hours to various organizations and events over the years and was remembered most for playing taps, eating lunch with the kids and being there for our elderly community. He loved being involved, and more so, giving back to the town that he called home,” reads the statement.

In his memory, the department, in cooperation with the McLaughlin Family, are keeping his legacy alive by helping to recognize those in the community who put others before themselves.

Sgt. Aaron McLaughlin, Officer McLaughlin’s son and a member of the department, said Furno was selected as the first recipient because he is a prime example of a good citizen and valued member of the community.

“He’s the type of person that would do anything, for anyone, at any time; especially for the better of his town and community,” reads Furno’s nomination letter. “John is the definition of community service.”

Furno began giving back to the community at a very young age, whether it was picking potatoes and corn in his family garden to deliver to the neighbors or helping his father and uncles with their duties at the local cemeteries. He continued to volunteer by coaching his daughter’s softball team when she was six; he has been coaching softball ever since.

“I grew up here, and Douglas has always had a special place in my heart,” Furno said. “I am a third generation worker at the highway department. I really enjoy serving the public and am honored and proud to receive this award.”

In addition to being the Highway Superintendent, Furno is also the Deputy Fire Chief.

“Being a Department Head comes with many thankless, selfless days and nights, but you will never see John complaining about any of his duties. He willingly goes above and beyond,” the nomination letter continues. “Through many changes in our Town over the years, John has consistently made a difference, is always willing to lend a helping hand to anyone in need, and has positively impacted the people and places in our community.”

A family fishing trip

My brother Ken and I fished the Providence River this past Friday, and had a great time catching school bass and snapper bluefish on light rods. The day started out great with picture perfect weather and calm seas. Heading out to the lighthouse a mile from our launch site at Hanes Park, we noticed a guy with a fish on. After watching him land the striper which was not huge, but was a legal size fish we decided to start fishing in the area. My fish finder was showing small schools of porgies, but we were unable to snag a few to fish with. After numerous attempts, we gave up and started to use plastic baits and jigs.

We watched the other angler catch numerous other bass and release them. Now I do not want to be called a “Googan” (weekend anglers that fish to close to professional anglers), but I cruised by him at a safe distance. He must have noticed our frustration being unable to snag a few porgies for bait.

“Would you fellas like a few porgies to fish with?” he asked.

I quickly turned our boat around and maneuvered our boat over to his. My brother Ken handed our landing net over to him to make transfer of the bait fish easy. We thanked him a couple of times and headed away from his fishing spot.

Quickly changing our fishing gear for drift fish chunks of fresh bait for stripers, we were a lot more optimistic that we were finally going to start catching fish. Ken had a hookup within a few minutes, but he lost the fish. After numerous strikes on the bait chunks and no hookups, we cut down on the size of the bait. Ken landed a nice school striper, and it was released. The next fish was a snapper bluefish. After catching a couple more snapper blues the bite slowed and most boats in the area had left.

We decided to leave the area and head for a spot that often produced bass & Blues. We left the area with one legal size 30 inch striper and a couple of bluefish. We rigged our rods with plastic baits to do some trolling at a new site. The bait barely hit the water and I yelled fish on. «Oops»; fish off. After reeling my bait in, I realized that a third of my six-inch rubber bait was missing, as shown in this week’s picture, along with other chewed up plastics. A sure sign of bluefish.

We managed to catch numerous bluefish before it was time to head for home. It was a great day to be on the water, but the big bass had eluded us again. Wait till the next time. Fishing was heating up in the area, and fishing should be great by the time you read this column. Because of the exceptionally cool weather this spring ,fishing is a couple of weeks behind!

Christian Issley landed a huge bass that weighed in at 53.72 pounds recently, and other anglers are catching 50-pound bass in both Mass. & Rhode Island. There are still tons of schoolie bass around and fly fishermen are having a great time catching them. Not every angler needs to catch a fifty pound bass but, it is a lot of fun when you do.

Fluke fishing has exploded in both Mass. & Rhode Island waters with fluke in the eight-to-10-pound size being brought into local shops in the area to be weighed. Massachusetts is enjoying great seabass fishing, but they do not become legal until June 24 in Rhode Island. Many Rhode Island anglers are not happy with the regulations again this year.

George Anderson of Uxbridge caught some nice fluke several years ago in Rhode Island, as this second picture shows. There are more to be caught in the next few months. Senior citizens can still catch fish. Take a senior citizen fishing this year. This writer’s boat was called the Red Cross boat because of all the handicapped seniors I brought along to fish over the years. I enjoyed every trip. We had great times!

The Whitinsville fish & Game Club has started to open their trap range every Friday night under the lights. Members and non-members are encouraged to participate.

and other developmental disabilities who have exited special education. The bill aims to ensure that individuals with intellectual disabilities have access to a college education and all the opportunities that come along with it by removing barriers that currently preclude many persons with intellectual disabilities from participating in higher education.

The bills would also: require that the goals, mission statements and performance measures of our state colleges and universities provide for the inclusion of students with ID and autism; allow individuals with ID 18-22 and adults over 22 to participate in college; and codify the MAICEI grant program and allow the special education process to consider higher education as an option for students with disabilities who are 18 to 22 years old.

In addition, we will be pushing for full funding in the state budget for the MDSC line item and requesting support for the UMass Down Syndrome Clinic line item.

“For our family, these issues are critical because my daughter sees many doctors and specialists at the UMass Down syndrome clinic. They have been amazing since we started going there. They take really care of our daughter and have a passion for working with people who have trisomy 21. They also work really well with Boston hospitals for advanced care such as the two open heart surgeries our daughter has had. And obviously the passage of the line item to fund the MDSC means a lot since they have done so much for our family. We were able to meet with Senator Michael O. Moore and Representative David Muradian to discuss the bills and funding. They were really generous with their time and listened to us. I am so proud to have legislators that are actively engaged with constituents” Stephanie Bentley said. State Senator Moore said, “Thanks to families from Northbridge and Grafton for swinging by my office today to meet with State Representative David Muradian and I as part of Down Syndrome Advocacy Day at the State House! We had a great conversation about legislative and budget priorities and it was great to see Izzie having a laugh at climbing up on my chair.”

Muradian added, “It is always great to show citizens the beautiful State House, and we were able to do an abbreviated tour, as well!”

Statewide and nationally, the MDSC is leading the charge for important policies and systemic changes that provide critical support for people with Down syndrome and their families. Four of the MDSC’s priority bills have passed the Legislature and been signed into law over the past 6 years:

- Prenatal Testing Bill (2012)
- Real Lives Bill (2014)
- National Background Check Bill (2014)
- Organ Transplant Non-Discrimination Bill (2016)

On the national level, the MDSC was a leader in helping shepherd the Achieving a Better Life Experiences (ABLE) Act through Congress and into law and then working with Governor Baker to launch the availability of ABLE accounts here in Massachusetts.

About MDSC

For 35 years, the MDSC has been the premier organization for Down syndrome information, networking and advocacy in Massachusetts. The MDSC offers a broad array of programs to serve people with Down syndrome and their families throughout the state, including: Parents First Call, Advocates in Motion, Self Advocate Advisory Council, Annual Conference, Educators Forum, Adult Conference & social and recreation events, Allen Crocker Self-Advocate Internship Program, Your Next Star employment campaign, and advocacy on a State and National level.

people can see what it is we’re working on, what these kids are doing, how talented they are, and how dedicated and hard-working they are. It’s not just, ‘This is great. Bring it home and show mom and dad,’ but show everyone what you can do.”

Project assignments include still life, ceramics, zoom-in on a skeleton, relief printmaking, reductive printmaking, face off, tattoo flash, and pop art portraits.

When asked about his Art 1 pop art portrait of Danny DeVito and being a student in the Art Academy at NHS, Gabe Latour, a freshman, commented, “I chose him because I watch It’s Always Sunny in Philadelphia. We never really had a good art program until high school. Learning and practicing art is the most challenging. A lot of people come in, like me, without a lot of experience. It’s hard to get over the initial hurdle. You see all these paintings on the wall and you think, ‘well, I don’t think I can ever do that’. But as you go through and really learn how to use all the materials it’s great to learn how to create the nice paintings.”

Latour is also in the National Art Honor Society.

A powerful image, created by Junior Emma Holtz, was a part of the Social Issues assignment.

Mulkerrin noted, “We did a social issues project and we talked about things that people have gone through that you wouldn’t necessarily know.

Even being friends with them, they have this outside persona that is one and then in seeing the other, it really goes back deeper. There are pieces of that in here and I’m really happy that I get to display it and share those parts of people that you would not otherwise see or know. I think it’s really great to really see people do the expressiveness. Their art becomes very telling of who they are, things they’ve gone through.”

The tattoo flash, which appears as their marketing photo, was one of Mulkerrin’s favorite projects. Tattoos have a long history, dating back to Otzi the Iceman, who lived between 3400 and 3100 BCE and his 61 tattoos.

Mulkerrin doesn’t just tell the students to create some basic tattoo flash.

“One of my favorite projects is one that we do in Art 2 and it’s the tattoo flashes,” she said. “For the tattoo flash we looked at the history of the tattoo and the Polynesian culture, Japanese culture, what taboos it may have in American culture, why do the taboos exist around them. We talked about Otzi the Iceman and his 61 tattoos, and is this a primitive urge that we have, is it cultural, why do we do it. It really starts to get them thinking deeper into their art. I think that’s a great way to begin Art 2 because Art 1 is so much foundation stuff and Art 2 is when we move into purpose and concept in our pieces.”

For those who want to view the exhibition, it can be seen at the Spaulding R. Aldrich Heritage Gallery, Whitin Mill, 50 Douglas Road, Whitinsville, MA 01588. Please call for hours 508-234-6232.

EDITORIAL

A note to the Class of 2019

Most of you reading this week’s Editorial have been, or will be, present for one graduation speech, if not more, in the coming days. Honors students will speak, guest speakers will offer words of advice, some will stick with you, some may not. We remember none of the words spoken at our own graduation, except for “I was stone cold sober” — this spoken by an honors student who was in a car accident on her way to graduation, giving our class her advice was to be careful driving. For some reason, the thought of losing a classmate, especially on graduation day, stuck with us into adulthood, and we have, as a result, always been a careful driver.

Thoughts about the next step after graduation come to mind. We remember not having a solid idea ourselves on what our next steps would be after graduation. Waking up the morning after graduation was eye opening. Never would we set foot as a student in our high school again. The comfort provided by that building and its wonderful staff would no longer be there. We felt “booted from the nest,” so to speak, and that wasn’t necessarily a bad thing; it was just the start of a new journey.

A quote never far from our mind is “Set your life up as though you never want a vacation.” Simply put, this means find your passion and get paid for it. We’ve all heard this day in and day out. While it’s not always that simple as time goes by due to life changes it is a great jumping off point, especially for a new graduate.

You may not know what your passion is quite yet, and that is OK. Those are light bulb moments that just appear out of nowhere, and when they do show up, use that momentum to make a go of it. Finding your niche in the world by finding your passion will, in turn, help you find happiness.

Success in this life is not about how much money you can make, or how big your house is. Success comes from happiness and self-satisfaction. If you can find the time during your work week to do the things you love, the things that make you laugh and put a smile on your face and give you enough money to support yourself, then you will know you’re doing something right. This life is meant to be lived, and lived well. As a new graduate, there is nothing standing in your way of reaching your goals unless you allow that to happen. Remember to stay relaxed about your future. Life is a journey and a super amazing one at that. Choose to keep friends and family in your circle who will always encourage you. Choose the ones who are honest, genuine and encouraging, and make sure you are that way in return. Be appreciative of your parents and caregivers, never forget to ask how they are doing, for they were once in your shoes and one day you will be in theirs.

Of course, none of us have it all figured out, no matter how far we are along life’s path, but there are a few tips worth being shared. The first is to always stay active and fit, wear sun-block, drink plenty of water and don’t ever smoke. Your future self will thank you. Try to do as much as possible without involving your phone. To truly be present in an experience is to leave your phone in your back pocket and take it all in.

The next ‘must’ on the list is to travel. Travel, travel, travel. Explore those other countries and cities that you have always wanted to visit. Even if that means a short road trip right next door into Vermont, Maine or Canada, seize the opportunity. Tickets and hotels are much more affordable than you might think. Go to a professional sporting event at least once. Go see live music as much as possible. Learn to play an instrument and to speak at least a little of another language. Experiencing life through the eyes of other places and other cultures will make yours a million times more fruitful.

If you do the right things, the right things will happen. Congratulations to you all, and cheers to a fun filled future.

Opinion and commentary from the Blackstone Valley and beyond

Living in the present with your family

As a young entrepreneur and CEO, I found myself planning for and living my life inside my head, as I worked to anticipate and capitalize on the future. Success in life requires all of us to plan and look forward. However, my problem as a young man and business leader was my reluctance to leave the office and the future behind, as I would arrive at home to live in the present. I was always looking ahead and planning for success to come, and in the process, I missed out on too many of life’s impromptu and cherished moments.

I feel fortunate. I do not have many regrets, but I do regret the vast amount of time I spent away ... even when I was home.

I’m not alone. I hear it from others. We seem to arrive at a point in our lives where we understand what we have missed, and why. With that realization often comes a commitment to do better, and that’s good ... but we can never retrieve lost time. The family events, recitals, games and other happenings can never be revisited. I didn’t miss much. My body was present, but my mind was absent. I was often physically with my family and mentally at work. It is a common problem with breadwinners and is compounded by the two career households.

Our children and mates need us mentally and emotionally present. Most of us know what to do to live a life in the now, but it’s not that simple. Career pressures, financial demands and professional goals, pull and tug us away from home and family. We just must make the conscious decision to be present.

I remember having this conversation with Arlene at a swim meet. I was there in the bleachers physically present but taking calls on my mobile phone. We were driving home, and she said, “Why don’t you just stay at work next time? You really aren’t here.”

“What do you mean?” I responded. “The kids need me here!”

She shrugged. “I agree, so why not be here next time and not on your phone?”

POSITIVELY SPEAKING

By GARY W. MOORE

I acted offended but knew she was right. Later that night, I confessed that I needed her help. I asked her to remind me as I start drifting away and she said, “Okay, then leave your mobile phone and laptop in your car.”

It was always a struggle. I was tugged in every direction, but I began working hard to be mentally where I was physically, and I became a happier guy.

Today’s professional demands are tough.

Young professionals travel for work today more than any other time in history. Competition is tough and career performance is essential to success. However, the same is true for having a successful marriage and raising happy, successful children.

When we make the decision to marry, that is an incredible commitment that is more important than your career. When you bring a child into the world, compound that commitment by ten. Your family needs you present.

Ask a teacher which kids have enough parent time and involvement and they will tell you. The kids without that close parental connection act out in negative ways in response to what they are missing at home. Your children and your significant other need and deserve your time and attention. Kids equate love with time. Make sure they understand and feel that love from you.

So, what now? Breathe.

I have found that by taking a moment to focus on my breathing, it brings me to my most basic function and helps me clear my mind. Once breathing has my attention, I look around, fully realize where I am and change my focus to remaining there.

The adage that says, “On their death bed, no one wishes they spent more time at work.” Always be the best you can be in your career ... but make the same effort with your family.

Hints for a Healthy Herb Garden

It’s no surprise gardeners everywhere are rediscovering the joys of herbs. The versatile plants are inexpensive, easy to grow and they add a bit of mystery to the garden. Whether grown in a small pot or a generous backyard plot, magical herbs bring beauty, fragrance and legendary healing powers to a garden. This week’s column will outline some tips and tricks to keep your herbs growing hearty and healthy.

“Edible landscaping” is a popular buzz phrase today and herbs fit the bill. Many perennial herbs will grow well in hot, dry sites, making them an ideal ground cover. Herbs are also a good choice for filling in rocky sites. They serve as a mulch to hold the soil and smother weeds. Top choices for dry ground areas are Chamomile, lavender, oregano and thyme.

In areas where a particular herb is borderline hardy, you can increase the odds of planting success by growing the herb on the south side of a brick or stone wall. In winter, protect marginally hardy plants by covering with an inverted bucket or burlap wraps.

Wait until after the dew dries on your plants before harvesting. You risk mildew if you don’t. Your plants oils are at their best once they have been warmed from the sun.

Did you know the more you harvest your plants, the healthier they become? If your goal is to produce a sturdy, full plant be sure to pinch off the tips of the plant often.

To dry fresh herbs and protect them from bugs, hang them in cheesecloth to dry upside down and they will dry to perfection. The airy cheesecloth allows them to dry without getting buggy or dusty.

Fresh herbs, such as dill, parsley and basil will keep in a tall cup of water in the refrigerator for three to four weeks. Cover the herbs loosely with an upside down plastic bag and change the water every four days.

Before placing herbs in the freezer, strip them of leaves and lay the leaves in a single layer on a baking sheet. Once they’re frozen, pack them in heavy plastic containers or plastic bags. When frozen separately, the leaves won’t mat together and provides easy pinching for recipes.

When freezing basil, it is necessary to blanch the leaves to prevent them from turning black. To do: place leaves in a strainer and quickly pour boiling water over them. Lay wet leaves on paper towels and allow to cool naturally before freezing.

A blend of garden herbs comprise this luxurious and relaxing spa bath, which makes an excellent “gift from the garden.” Fill a tea ball or tie in a cheesecloth the following: one part fresh or dried rosemary, one part rose petals and one part lavender flowers. Hang the bag over the tub faucet and allow running water to wash over it as the tub fills.

Nettles is a gardeners best friend, and the herb is one of the richest mineral sources you can grow in your garden. Growing nettles in the garden can repel pests and attract beneficial insects. In addition, a fertil-

Smart financial moves for ‘gig’ economy workers

FINANCIAL FOCUS

DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

Not that long ago, most people worked for some type of an organization, such as a business or the government or a school district. But today, more and more workers are going their own way and joining what’s known as the “gig” economy. If you will be one of them, you’ll want to make the right moves to advance your financial goals in what can be a challenging work environment.

But first, you may find some comfort in knowing the prevalence of gig work. About 36 percent of U.S. workers are now gig workers, according to a study from the Gallup organization, which defines the gig economy as one made up of a variety of arrangements – independent contractors, online platform workers, contract workers, on-call workers, temporary workers and freelancers. People join the gig economy for many reasons, but most of them, like you, could benefit by considering these actions:

Establish your own retirement plan. When you’re a full-time employee, your employer may offer a 401(k) or similar retirement plan. But as a gig worker, you need to save for your own retirement. Fortunately, you’ve got a lot of attractive options. Depending on your circumstances, you might be able to open a SEP-IRA or even a “solo” or “owner-only” 401(k), which offers many of the same features of an employer-sponsored 401(k). Both these plans allow you to make pre-tax contributions, which can lower your taxable income. Plus, your earnings can grow on a tax-deferred basis. (Keep in mind that taxes will be due upon withdrawal, and any withdrawals you make before you turn 59 ½ may be subject to a 10% IRS penalty.)

Create an emergency fund. Working in the gig economy can bring rewards and risks. And one of those risks is unpredictable – and often uneven – cash flow. This can be a cause for concern during times when you face a large unexpected expense, such as a major car repair or medical bill. To avoid dipping in to your long-term investments to pay for these costs, you should establish an emergency fund containing at least six months’ worth of living expenses, with the money kept in a liquid, low-risk account.

Address your protection needs. Many companies provide some life insurance as a benefit to their employees, though the coverage is often inadequate. But, as is the case with your retirement plan, you will need to meet your own protection needs if you work in the gig economy. In addition to purchasing enough life insurance to protect your family, you also may want to consider disability insurance. A financial professional can help you determine what types of coverage, and how much, you require.

Keep track of your expenses. If you do your gig work out of your home, you may be able to deduct some of your expenses – phone lines, utilities, internet, newspapers, equipment, mileage and so on – from your taxes. Consequently, you will need to track all these costs. And you will need to consult with your tax advisor on what can, and can’t, be claimed as a business necessity.

These aren’t the only moves you may need to make as a gig worker – but they can help provide you with a steady path in a world in which you can’t always tell what lies around the corner.

izer made from the plant will keep your garden growing lush and lovely. To make: Steep eight ounces of the herb in a half gallon of water for a week. (Cut the recipe in half for less coverage.) This resulting fertilizer, while not the best smelling, is highly effective! ***

Harvesting Hints *For best flavor, cut or snip herbs in the morning, after the dew has evaporated from the leaves but before the midday sun heats the plant.

*Most annual plants can be harvested twice during the planting season. Cut plants back to about five inches above the ground and feed after cutting. Annual herbs can be harvested until frost.

*Perennial herbs may be harvested once during the first year and up to three times each season after the initial growth year. Harvest up to 75 percent of the top growth in late spring and another quarter in late summer. Stop harvesting about one month before the frost date. Late pruning could encourage tender growth that cannot harden-off before winter.

*Flowering herbs should be harvested when the buds are apparent or when flowers are just opening. This is when their oil concentration is at its peak. ***

After securing State Voke title, Beavers hold on to edge AMSA in District contest

Blackstone Valley Tech's Trevor Harper holds off a pair of AMSA defenders.

UPTON — The Blackstone Valley Tech (BVT) and Advanced Math and Science Academy (AMSA) boys' varsity lacrosse teams split a pair of regular season matchups but, when it mattered most, the Beavers held on to win the rubber match.

That game, played Tuesday, June 4 at BVT was a first-round matchup in the Central/West Division 3 Tournament. The seventh seeded Beavers held on late to defeat the 10th ranked Eagles, 7-6.

"That's how it was all season with them," said Andrew Barksdale, the fourth-year head coach for Valley Tech. "We played them twice, we split with them. We won when it mattered during the season in conference play, and it obviously mattered tonight."

The Beavers' regular season win over AMSA helped lead to the Colonial Athletic League title, while this matchup ended the Eagles' season at 11-7.

Valley Tech also took part in the State Vocational Large

Schools Tournament and won that four-team tournament for the first time in school history. First, they defeated Shawsheen Tech, 8-6, on Friday, May 31 — "that was easily our best game of the season," said Barksdale — before defeating Bristol-Plymouth Regional, 10-5, for the title on Sunday, June 2.

"We've been doing stuff like that pretty much the second half of the season," Barksdale said of playing every other day, "and I think definitely the State Vocational helped us out [to beat AMSA]."

Goals were at a premium versus the Eagles, but the Beavers persevered thanks to Trevor Harper — who scored all four of his goals and all four of the team's goals in the second half. Harper also provided two first-half assists.

"He's kind of exploded for us this season," Barksdale said of Harper. "Last year he was a freshman, so maybe he was a little timid, but this year he's really blown up and really come to play. He's our go-to guy now."

Andrew Vasile, Robert Garrigan, Jr. and Jack Kinsella scored in the first half for BVT as they took a 3-2 halftime lead, while Luke Carey chipped in with three assists.

But, according to Barksdale, it was the defense that led to the victory over AMSA. Despite the closeness of the game, the Eagles never led.

"Today, our defensive stands were unbelievable," he said when talking about Kinsella, JD Antaya, Kyle Vaughan and Jack Nasuti, along with goalie Adam Kaminski-Miller (nine saves). "Our whole defensive unit really stood together and held them off."

Barksdale, who knows a thing or two about the BVT lacrosse program since he played for the team and graduated in 2011, called 2019 the "best season."

Barksdale added: "This is probably, maybe, our first home playoff game for MIAA Districts, and maybe our first win."

The Beavers then met No. 2 Wahconah Regional in the tournament quarterfinals on Friday, June 7. There, BVT kept its season alive with another one-goal victory — this time 11-10. Valley Tech (19-2) then met No. 2 St. Bernard's High (18-2) in the District semifinals, which took place after press time.

Despite absorbing a hit from Andrew Duross of the Advanced Math and Science Academy, Nicholas Reed of Blackstone Valley Tech carries on with possession of the ball.

Blackstone Valley Tech's Robert Garrigan, Jr. reaches out to catch a pass.

Blackstone Valley Tech's defense was strong all game long, as here they make it impossible for AMSA's Tom Hirsh to take a shot on goalie Adam Kaminski-Miller.

Luke Carey of Blackstone Valley Tech runs through AMSA's defense while keeping the ball tucked inside his stick high above his head.

This year there were 13 unified team members (Colin Tognazzi, Mary Boucher, Angelique Akeley, Andrew Akeley, Elijah Green, Emily Heldenbergh, Angela Lovering, Joseph Hewitt, Kelly Moran, Thomas Dowd, Elijah Green, Julia Davis and Troy Jackson). Events included the 100-meter dash, 400-meter dash, 800-meter run, 4x100-meter relay, 4x400-meter relay, long jump, shot put and javelin.

Kristina Denietolis, who is also the intensive special needs teacher at the high school, volunteered to be the coach of the Unified Track team after team Chair, Heidi Godowski, mentioned that a student wanted to start it. Senior Meg Coughlin stated, "The reason why I wanted to bring Unified Sports to Northbridge is because I believe everyone deserves a chance. Unified has had a positive impact on NHS and I can't wait for it to grow."

They had four meets this year against Millbury, Grafton, Shrewsbury and Auburn. The team went on to Sectionals, which was held at Assabet Valley Regional Technical High School, and then they qualified for states at Milford High School.

Coach Denietolis said that she didn't fully understand what Unified Track was until it started to unfold.

"It sounded great, but I never imagined it could be so powerful to all the students involved and the community," says Denietolis. "Seeing students working together and competing equally may sound insignificant, but it's huge! Unified Track allowed all students to participate as equals. There was no need to discuss disabilities, classrooms, grades or IQ. The focus was merely on improving everyone's speed and distance."

"Unified Track has broken down barriers even I, as a teacher, didn't realize were there," she continued. "When academic inclusion goes beyond the school walls into extracurricular activities and transcends into social inclusion, that's when change really starts to take place — in the school community and beyond. Once times and distances were taken it was just names and numbers — no disability, no IQ, just performance. Everyone was equal. Nothing separated the students."

"Unified Track just makes sense as an integral part of our interscholastic athletic program at Northbridge High School. Everyone needs to be believed in and cheered on — in sports events and in life. We all want to be a part of something, to be included, to belong," Coach stated. "I honestly think it's a hunger inside all of us to be unified. Unified sports is simply a tangible, practical way to make it happen!"

Added Athletic Director Jeffrey

Kozik: "I am very encouraged by what I saw in our first year with a Unified Track program and very excited for the future. We had a great number of athletes come out to participate, who excelled and had fun trying something that was foreign to them. The hard work they put in at practice, coupled with the passion and sportsmanship at meets showed everyone who watched the true meaning of interscholastic athletic events. I was very proud to see our school and community step up and welcome this new program into our district."

Principal Timothy McCormick echoed: "It was a tremendous season for everyone involved. It further solidified our need to educate students about inclusion. It was a great time and I had a lot of fun."

Angela Lovering said, "I loved track because I love to run and throw the jav." Angie Akeley's favorite part was throwing the javelin. Some of the athletes said they would love it if more students were involved next year.

Unified Track is open to any student whether they are an amazing athlete or have no experience. Joe Hewitt's favorite part was doing the long jump — his longest was 12 feet, 2 inches. He said he really enjoyed hanging out with new people and running. Denietolis added, "the fact that it was competitive was a really great part of it. It was great because every supported each other even though they were competing against each other." Tom Dowd said, "I loved running and javelin." He added the that his track team is really fun and he wants to do it next year.

Abby Banks said, "I joined unified track because I wanted to join a sports team without the pressure of a varsity team. Also because it sounded like fun. My favorite part of track was the other kids on the team. Unified track means so much to me. It's the first sports team I've ever been on, and it's given me a sense of accomplishment when I finish a race knowing that I did the best I could, and a sense of pride knowing that no matter what place I finished in my coaches would be proud of me for trying."

Mary Heldenbergh said, "my favorite part about unified track is how we are as-well a unified cheering team! When a member of our team finishes an event or reaches their goal how excited not only that person is, but our whole team is something that makes me so happy. It is great to lift each-other up and work together as a team."

Mary Boucher said, "My favorite part of unified track is seeing the smiles on all of the athletes face once they've completed their events. It has truly been the most rewarding experience of my life."

Troy Jackson says, "My favorite memory was participating in all the events. I'm excited to do Unified basketball next year."

Andrew Akeley says, "I can't wait to beat more people next year."

Colin Tognazzi came in fifth for the 400 while Angela Lovering came in fourth. Mary Boucher came in first for the 100. For javelin, Emily Heldenbergh came in eighth, Angela Lovering came in second and Mary Boucher came in third.

NHS is hoping to have a Unified Basketball team next year.

PAXTON SENIORS

Paxton’s bus tour season starts Wednesday, April 24, on the Maine / New Hampshire seacoast topped off with a visit to a Winery. First stop is the Kittery Historical & Naval Museum where you will wander through Kittery’s past as you browse the exhibits, from colonial times to grand hotels, shipbuilding and lighthouses, up to the present day. Find out what makes Kittery special... at the Museum!

Next stop is lunch at Warren’s Lobster House in Kittery, Maine. Our prior visits to Warren’s have always been wonderful. Warren’s has the Seacoast’s Finest Salad Bar, which offers over 60 selections and homemade pumpkin bread, soup and rolls — For an entrée you may select from: Seafood Casserole, Fried Baby Shrimp, Ritz Filet of Haddock, Crab Crusted Salmon, Top Sirloin Steak and Chicken Parmesan. Beverages and dessert will be included.

After a delightful lunch on the River separating Maine and New Hampshire, we move on to Zorvino Vineyard. A family-owned and operated winery, that originally started as a hobby. Jim and Cheryl Zanello purchased the 80-acre lot in Sandown, NH in 2000 after retiring. Four years later Zorvino Vineyards was established. The “Zor” in Zorvino comes from the original family name Zorzanello and “Vino” means wine. Family and Wine, the perfect pairing.

In the first years, 150 cold climate vines, mostly hybrids, were planted. To date, there are roughly 2,000 vines on site. The bulk of the grapes are brought in from Italy, California and South America. They are mostly known for their “off dry” fruit wines. blends and unusual 100% fruit or vegetable wines like Pumpkin, Beet and Rhubarb to name a few. New favorites include their red wines and white wines aged in American White Oak.

Our bus trip leaves the Paxton Senior Center, 17 West St., at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, April 24. Baring any traffic concerns on Route 495, we plan to be back in Paxton around 5 p.m.

The cost of the trip is $82 per person. Reservations, payment and your choice of entree at Warren’s should be mailed to Bob Wilby, 11 Tanglewood Rd., Paxton, by Monday April 15. Checks should be made payable to the FRIENDS OF PAXTON COA.

For more details, please contact Bob at 508-792-4662.

Are you interested in joining another wonder trip in 2019?

A group of Seniors from Paxton and surrounding towns are planning a trip this year to Italy. The group plans to leave Paxton on Sept. 9, with transportation provided to Logan and return. Our flight will take us to Rome, Italy for 10 days visiting many historical sites of Italy. Rome has many beautiful attractions that many of us have not seen on previous visits. After two nights in Rome, we will move on to one night in Perugia where we will have the opportunity to visit Assisi, the birthplace of St. Francis of Assisi. Following our stay in Perugia, we move on to Florence, “the Cradle of Italian Renaissance,” where we will view Michelangelo’s incredible statue of David. After two nights in beautiful Florence, we will move on to Venice. On the way to Venice, we will stop at a 12th century castle and learn about the famous Tuscany wines and enjoy a cooking class and lunch. Next we are off to Venice for two nights.

During that time, we have an opportunity to visit many of the wonderful sites of the Canal City.

After Venice, our next and last night will be Milan where we will have an opportunity to visit and shop at the “Quadrilatero della Moda,” Milan’s high-fashion district. We will depart for home from Milan.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

HEALTH

Talking With Your Health Care Provider About Kidney Health

(NAPS)
Chronic kidney disease (CKD) is a serious health problem, affecting an estimated 30 million adults in the United States. Yet more than nine out of 10 people who have kidney disease don't know they have it. The sooner you find out you have kidney disease, the sooner you can take steps to prevent or delay serious health problems.

CKD means your kidneys are damaged and can't filter blood the way they should. Kidney damage can cause wastes to build up in your body and can lead to other health problems such as anemia, bone disease and heart disease. You can have CKD without any symptoms, especially in the early stages of the disease, and over time it may lead to kidney failure. If your kidneys fail, you will need dialysis or a kidney transplant to maintain your health. You can't reverse progressive kidney damage but you may be able to avoid or delay dialysis or a kidney transplant with medications and lifestyle changes.

Understand Your Risk for Kidney Disease

If you have diabetes, high blood pressure, heart disease or a family history of kidney failure, you are at risk for kidney disease. An estimated one in three people with diabetes, and one in five adults with high blood pressure, have CKD. Therefore, it's important for people who are at risk for the disease to get tested.

Get Tested Early

Testing for kidney disease is simple—it involves a blood test and a urine test. Your health care provider uses a blood test to check how well your kidneys are filtering your blood and a urine test to check for protein in your urine.

Talk with Your Health Care Provider

If you have diabetes, high blood pressure, heart disease or a family history of kidney failure, talk with your health care provider about kidney disease. Stay informed and ask for the results of your kidney tests. You can start the conversation with your health care provider by asking these three questions:

1. Have I been tested for kidney disease and how healthy are my kidneys?
2. How often should I get my kidneys checked?
3. What should I do to keep my kidneys healthy?

Take Steps to Protect Your Kidney Health

If you don't have kidney disease but are at risk for it, your health care provider may suggest ways you can keep your kidneys healthy. Here are some steps you can take to protect your kidney health:

- Manage your diabetes, high blood pressure and heart disease
- Make healthy food choices
- Aim for a healthy weight
- Make physical activity part of your routine
- Get enough sleep—aim for seven to eight hours of sleep each night
- Stop smoking

• Find healthy ways to cope with stress.

Ten Easy Ways To Get A Dose Of Vitamin N(ature) In Just Ten Minutes

(NAPS)
A growing body of scientific evidence proves getting outside (i.e., being an "outsider") is good for our health and well-being. Exploring and appreciating nature—in our own backyards, community parks and school yards—reduces stress, improves memory, boosts heart health, and offers a host of other benefits for our minds and bodies.

"Having a living landscape of grass, trees, shrubs and flowering plants is good. Using this outdoor space to reap the health benefits it offers is even better," said Kris Kiser, president and CEO of the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute (OPEI), whose Foundation created TurfMutt, an environmental education and stewardship program that teaches the value and benefits of the outdoors. "Getting outside, even for just 10 minutes, can do much to boost your mood, productivity, and quality of life."

On its 10th anniversary, TurfMutt shares 10 easy ways you can enjoy nature in under 10 minutes.

Take a walk. Lace up your athletic shoes and head out for a walk around the block or to your neighborhood park. While you're out, commit to turning off your cell phone and enjoying the natural setting around you (it's just 10 minutes, after all!).

Get your kids moving. A rousing game of tag or hide-and-seek in the family yard is a great way to counter computer and screen time.

Play with your dog. A dog's favorite "room" of Getting outside is good for your mind and body.

the house is your family yard. Take inspiration from your pooch and spend a few minutes outside playing Frisbee or fetch.

Clean up your outdoor living room. Make simple work of yard chores by breaking them up into smaller chunks. Ten minutes is enough time to put a serious dent in weeding a flower bed, sweeping off the back patio, or picking up debris from your lawn.

Plant something. It is spring planting season, so take 10 minutes to dig a hole and introduce a new plant or get started on your vegetable garden or flower beds.

Dine alfresco. Taking a meal outside is one of the easiest—and most nourishing—ways to enjoy the outdoor space around you. Have breakfast with the backyard birds. Lunch at a park near your office. Enjoy your coffee break under a shade tree.

Study or read a book. Take the "work" out of homework by moving study or reading sessions to your backyard or community green space.

Swap a (short) commute for walking or biking. Do you typically use your car to run down to the mailbox, to a nearby convenience store, or to run other nearby daily errands? If it's not too far, take a short walk or ride your bike instead.

Meet outside. Fresh air can be a catalyst for fresh ideas, so take your next brainstorming session for work outdoors. Need to have a heart-to-heart with your child? Scientists have discovered that communication between parents and children is more connected when conducted outside.

Sit back and relax. Sometimes, the best thing to do is absolutely nothing at all. Spend some time in a hammock, spread a blanket out on the grass, or take a meditation break outside to soak up the nature around you.

What You Need To Know About Cholesterol

(NAPS)
New cholesterol guidelines from the American Heart Association emphasize a personalized approach to preventing and treating high cholesterol and cardiovascular disease.

What Cholesterol Is

Cholesterol is a waxy substance that your body makes to build cells. Too much can pose a problem. Extra cholesterol comes from foods including meat, poultry, dairy and tropical oils.

Why Cholesterol Matters

Cholesterol can slowly build up in your arteries and form a thick, hard deposit that narrows them and makes them less flexible. If a blood clot blocks a narrowed artery, a heart attack or stroke can result.

What To Do

Ask your doctor such questions as:

Q. What do cholesterol numbers mean?

A. Studies suggest optimal cholesterol levels are about 150 mg/dL and about 100 mg/dL for low-density lipoprotein cholesterol (LDL-C). Levels in this range are linked to lower rates of heart disease and stroke.

There's no ideal target for LDL-C but "lower is better." Assessment with a risk calculator helps your doctor determine your personal risk and treatment options. A coronary artery calcium test may also help with your assessment.

Q. How can I lower my risk for heart disease?

A. A healthy lifestyle is critical. Also, while statins are still the first choice of medication for lowering cholesterol, new drugs are available for people who have had a heart attack or stroke and are at risk for another. Your doctor will monitor your progress.

Q. How do I know if my medicine is working?

A. It may take a few tries to find the right medicine and dose.

"Finding the sweet spot for treatment is highly individualized," said Donald Lloyd-Jones, M.D., a member of the cholesterol guideline writing committee and chair of the Department of Preventive Medicine at Northwestern University in Chicago. "The latest guidelines strongly encourage patient and doctor to have detailed and personalized discussions about medication."

Ask your doctor about medicines, foods—such as grapefruit or pomegranate—or supplements that may interact with your cholesterol-lowering medication.

Q. When and how often should I follow up?

A. Have a follow-up visit one to three months after starting cholesterol-lowering medication to check that it's working, that you're taking it properly, and to monitor for side effects.

TECHNOLOGY

Small Businesses Need To Invest In These Four Technologies

Anthony Bradley

BY ANTHONY BRADLEY
GVP OF RESEARCH, CAPTERRA

(NAPS)—Because they operate on razor-thin margins, small-business owners and managers may be tempted to put technology expenses near the bottom of any priority list. After all, small businesses have many fires to put out—and investing in a new technology tool can seem like a problem that can wait.

But technology is a double-edged sword: Used correctly, it increases productivity, brings savings and gives you a competitive advantage. Ignored, it lets your competitors use it against you. And it's worth remembering that business software is the driver of technology value; without it, your hardware is useless.

Software can be a thicket of specialty areas and product names: Which tool should be purchased now and which can be put off? Capterra recently surveyed small and midsize businesses (SMBs) and asked them about their 2019 and 2020 purchasing intentions and budgets for business software.

The 2019 Capterra SMB Spending Survey illustrates four clear software categories that small-business leaders are prioritizing and can help other companies understand the competitive landscape and prioritize technology investments.

1. Finance and Accounting: This is the standout tech category, with 53.6 percent of respondents budgeting for it. If you don't correctly handle your accounts receivable, accounts payable, sales taxes, income taxes, reporting and audits, you'll derail your business—it's that simple.

Among businesses investing in this technology, banking and construction lead the way, with over 60 percent of respondents budgeting for finance and accounting software. Transportation and wholesale industries have the highest average spend at $56,330 and $53,850. More findings include:

- Transportation and wholesale businesses should expect to budget between $50,000 and $55,000 for finance and accounting software in the next 12 to 24 months.

- Media, government, manufacturing, banking and retail should consider budgeting between $30,000 and $40,000 for finance and accounting tools.

- Other businesses should consider budgeting between $10,000 and $30,000 for finance and accounting software.

2. Cloud Computing: This year, cloud software is the second most prevalent technology, with 47.8 percent of businesses surveyed budgeting for it. It delivers all the power of FAMGA

(Facebook, Apple, Microsoft, Google, Amazon). Cloud-enabled Software as a Service (SaaS) gives small businesses subscription-based access to robust business software and data storage technology. Industry experts suggest:

- Insurance and transportation businesses should expect to budget between $40,000 and $50,000 in the next 12 to 24 months for cloud computing technology.

- Businesses in the services, communications, manufacturing, health care, banking and education sectors should consider budgeting between $30,000 and $40,000 for cloud business software.

3. Data and Information Security: Over 40 percent of all industries budget for data security. Research shows cyberattacks can cost small businesses $84,000 to $148,000 per incident and that 60 percent of SMBs that are hacked go out of business within six months. The average budget spend on data security takes a tiered shape for business size. Larger businesses with more data, more customers and more employees will need more software licenses and greater functionality. Expert findings include:

- Government agencies (and those that work closely with them) should plan on budgeting between $40,000 and $50,000 for data security in the next 12 to 24 months.

- Those in the education industry should anticipate a $40,000 spend.

- Retail, construction, health care and wholesale should expect to budget close to $20,000.

- Other sectors may gain competitive advantage with a data security budget between $30,000 and $40,000.

4. Digital Marketing: This year, 45.1 percent of SMB respondents plan to budget for digital marketing campaigns and tools. This is natural, given that ROBO (research online, buy offline) buying behavior is now the norm. Up to 88 percent of buyers do online research before purchasing in a store.

The survey uncovered that digital marketing spend tracks with business size. At 60 percent and 50 percent, media companies and retail businesses have the highest percentage of smaller firms investing in digital marketing. Most industries are between 40 percent and 50 percent. More findings include:

- If you're a smaller business in the media or retail sector, plan to spend $10,000 to $25,000 on digital marketing over the next 12 to 24 months.

- If you're a midsize business in the media or retail industry, plan to spend $35,000 to $45,000 on digital marketing over the next 12 to 24 months.

- If you're in another industry (especially insurance), you may gain a competitive advantage with a digital marketing budget between $20,000 and $40,000.

Businesspeople know it's vital to find out where competitors are going. These results should indicate where your sector is headed and what technology to prioritize. Detailed information on survey findings—and over 500,000 verified reviews for every type of software—is on the Capterra site.

How To Use Online Reviews To Invest In The Best Technology For Your Office

BY MARK DIGIAMMARINO
(NAPS)

Anyone who's in charge of purchasing technology for a small business knows there's a bit of alchemy in the procurement process: You apply instinct. You ask your colleagues for advice. You research what the critics in the magazines say. Increasingly, you're also reading the online reviews on specialized sites.

Reading online reviews is a logical extension of how people once bought goods—through word of mouth. Technology, however, is even better, because it provides access to many more experienced.

Online reviews give depth and breadth. They explain the pros and cons of any product or experience. At their best, they're incredible tools, perhaps the best thing to have happened for consumers in decades. At their worst, they're a scam.

Consider this: A London journalist once created numerous fake reviews on a restaurant site and made his humble garden shed an opening-night restaurant hit.

As the manager of reviews for Capterra—a free site for software buyers to read objective and insightful reviews—I've learned how to navigate the world of online reviews. Here are four top tips:

Check to see if the site monitors its review: Confirm the site has an FAQ page with transparent policy statements. Does it clearly state how the site makes money? Check to see if there's a way to report fake reviews. Make sure the site screens and reads all reviews before they go live. If it doesn't monitor reviews—or offer a way to report the fakes—the site isn't there to help you.

It's essential to report fake reviews because the reviews community depends on honest participation. When users share reviews, they help you to learn from their discoveries. Fake reviews tear at the fundamental trust everyone in the community must have in each other when they read and share online reviews.

Look for verified reviewers: Reviewers should be verified as being real people and actual customers. You'll also need to know if they're buying products for large enterprises or small businesses like yours. Knowing who's writing the reviews matters. As an example, think about when you're in the market for a new car, and you get a recommendation from a neighbor on the best vehicle to buy. Isn't it important to know if that neighbor prefers a plush, magisterial ride—or a sports car with tight handling for the side roads?

Verified reviewers should also be actual customers of the products they write about. No one likes a rubbernecker standing at the sidelines, making unqualified assessments. When users have either bought or demoed the product, however, they have something to say. They know the product's pros and cons. They're often passionate about the product and want to share their experiences with you.

Read the negative reviews but read them fairly: Make sure to understand what's truly behind a negative review—it could be that one person's lemon is your lemonade on a hot day. For example, a honeymooner might not like a hotel that you, with kids, would consider a perfect vacation destination.

Negative reviews are most useful when you can find specific patterns: If most of the reviews say the company has an excellent product but substandard customer service, then take that into account before you decide to buy or move on.

Also, look for a vendor response: If the vendor hasn't responded to the negative reviews, then that's useful to know. When the business responds to the reviews—if, for example, it says it's working to improve customer service consider that a point in its favor.

Remember that negative reviews are also a snapshot in time. Take into account recency and don't fault a vendor for something that occurred two years ago, especially if the vendor has responded to the negative review.

Be open to discovering new product: At Capterra, it's common for a user to come to the site looking for a marquee-name software product. But after some research, that user may then decide upon software from a smaller, less well-known provider. Often, it's because the product is better priced and better suited to the user's business. And usually, it's because others in the reviews community thought it was a better product.

Those software vendors that have a smaller footprint in the marketplace may have more utility and suitability for you. Be open to the unexpected when you read reviews.

Finding the best reviews in a sea of bad ones is no small challenge, but online reviews offer you a chance to avoid the mistakes of others and gain from the wisdom inherent in online reviews. Use these tips to learn from reviewers who have honestly shared their positive and negative experiences. Use reviews to discover new products and services that can take your business to a new level.

Great Grass Ideas

The grass can be greener on your side of the fence.

(NAPS)

For a lawn that turns the neighbors green with envy, heed these four hints:

1. Water well: Water your lawn early in the morning when temperatures are cool to cut down on diseases and destructive insects.

2. Feed it: Use fertilizer that provides nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium.

3. Mulch it: Mulch prevents evaporation and weed growth, helps drainage, encourages root development and cools the soil.

4. Mow wisdom: Cut the grass early in the morning or in the evening, not during the heat of the day. Cut off no more than a third of the grass blade.

Want to make mowing easier and still get a beautifully groomed lawn? Consider a robotic mower. Models like the Honda Miimo, powered by a high-performance lithium-ion battery, do the mowing for you. Because a dealer-installed boundary wire goes around the area to be mowed, the mower detects the electric field and stays within it, monitoring its own charge and returning to its docking station at need. Independent 360-degree sensors and a floating cover detect solid contacts. And, if Miimo comes too close to a person or pet, the lawn mower stops, turns, and moves in a different direction.

TECHNOLOGY

How To Make Meetings More Efficient

You can make your next meeting more productive.

(NAPS)
In 2019, company leaders and their employees have an opportunity to transform how they work in order to achieve stronger results and more creative and compelling outcomes. CIOs, IT decision makers and employees all have a role to help S.W.I.T.C.H. workplace environments and leverage IT investments for the benefit of the company and the bottom line.
S=Security. When connecting devices to the network, everything should be IT friendly with all communications encrypted, to eliminate the risk of hacking.

W=Who. Knowing your audience and meeting participants' needs is essential for putting the right technology in the right place. Small conference rooms, for example, also known as huddle spaces, may require different technology than a formal boardroom. In Barco ClickShare's most recent study, 72 percent of workers with huddle spaces said it encourages productivity and 75 percent said it stimulates creativity.
I=Integration (and interactivity).Do you know how the workflow and digital workplace are supported? Do users have an appropriate way to interact with technology? Finding the answers to these questions can help amplify integration and interactivity in meetings.

T=Technology. Three-quarters of respondents referred to technology provided by their employer as inconvenient. The solution: Invest in technology that will be adaptable and flexible for the long term.
C=Cross-Platform. Bring Your Own Device

(BYOD) is a growing trend. So much so that 57 percent of employees prefer using their own device at work. Having technology that works with any device brought into the meeting is important for productivity and security.
H=Human-centric. At the end of the day it's all about understanding and anticipating how people engage with the technology. Simply put: If it isn't easy to use, people won't use it. Today's users want technology that's intuitive and adapts to their preferences.

These ideas can help the everyday meeting room user have confidence that the technology will be reliable and dependable, and enable them to be productive and efficient.
The Matter with Meetings
Once the technology is set and operating flawlessly, there is the matter of the meeting itself. According to a recent study by Barco ClickShare:
• Only 30 percent of meeting time is actually spent working toward meeting objectives.

- On average, 12 percent of meeting time is spent trying to set up or connect technology.
- To make your next meeting more productive, consider these five ideas:
 1. Set a clear objective for every meeting. The most important aspect of any meeting should be the reason for calling it, and who should attend. Nevertheless, over half the people surveyed said they were often asked to attend meetings that turned out to be irrelevant to them. Everyone should be clear about his or her own role and responsibility in the meeting.
 2. Reduce the number and length of meetings. Studies suggest the ideal meeting length is 21 minutes, instead of the now average 48-minute meeting. Ideally, the meeting should end as soon as its objective is achieved.
 3. Choose the right technology and accommodate for BYOD security.
 4. Keep an eye on advances in meeting technology and keep current tech optimized. Seventy-two percent of employees say businesses should invest in more modern technology to enable better meetings in which they're more engaged.
 5. Provide accessible, agile meeting environments.
