Local Cub Scout earns prestigious STEM Award

DOUGLAS — William Hughes, age 10, of Cub Scout Pack 316 was recently awarded the Dr. Charles Townes Supernova Award. Supernova awards recognize superior achievement by a Cub Scout in the fields of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM).

According to Scouting America's official Web site: "The [BSA] developed the STEM Nova Awards program to excite and expand a sense of wonder in our Scouts. By working with an adult counselor or mentor, the various modules allow them to explore the basic principles of STEM and discover how fun and fascinating STEM can be. The Supernova awards are offered for those who enjoy a super challenge."

Each Supernova award is named after a famous inventor or scientist. To earn his Supernova award, William had to learn about

Dr. Townes, in addition to completing other science and math activities.

"Dr. Townes developed the use of lasers in astronomy and earned the Nobel Prize in 1964," shares Hughes.

He also conducted several studies and experiments which helped him learn about math, statistics, and the scientific method.

"My favorite experiment was learning about the energy created from burning different types of candy. Candies with higher sugar content burned brighter and longer!" he explained.

Along with other members of his Cub Scout den and school, he visited science museums, grew rock crystals, and did an investigation into the science of food packaging.

Scouts also have to research a career in a STEM-related field to earn their Supernova recognitions. Hughes met with a civil engineer, and found that there was several different types of science and math involved.

"I think the best part of a civil engineer's job would be able to construct bridges-- building them and making them hold as much weight as possible.

You have to be able to use different materials and different designs to make a bridge that could hold cars or trains," he said.

As a Cub Scout who has spent a year earning the prestigious Supernova Award, Hughes wants to share his knowledge with others.

"Math and science are very important because they're everywhere. Not just a science project or a math test, but in everyday life. Whenever I am working on Minecraft, I am using math and simple equations to build certain buildings. When my family is baking cookies or making a cake we are using science. The way the ingredients interact with each other at different times and different temperatures—it's all explained by science. Math and Science help us understand things that we experience in life," he said.

Supernova awards are available for Cub Scouts, Scouts BSA, and Venture Scouts. They are challenging to earn—less than 1 percent of Cub Scouts in the Heart of New England Council have earned it in the past year. # Local residents receive degrees at WPI's 155th undergraduate Commencement WORCESTER — On Friday, May 10, Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI) held its 155th Commencement. Nearly 1,100 undergraduate degrees were awarded during the ceremony.

President Grace J. Wang, PhD, and Board of Trustees Chair William Fitzgerald presided over the exercises.

Wang told the graduates that in a changing world, where new technologies and industries are rapidly emerging, and where they could be doing jobs that have not yet been invented, they should dream boldly, persevere, be a team player, and enjoy the journey.

"WPI has prepared you for this future," Wang said. "During your time here, you have been immersed in a transformative, leading-edge, and inclusive environment to ready you for jobs, careers, and, also, exciting opportunities to come."

In her commencement address to undergraduates, Nancy M. Pimental, a 1987 WPI graduate who spent 11 years as a writer and executive producer on the hit Showtime series "Shameless," told the graduates they are well-prepared for whatever career path they choose to follow.

"With your degree from WPI, you're ready for success," Pimental said. "You can literally accomplish anything you set sights on. Isn't that amazing? The possibilities are unlimited. You learn to think critically, solve problems logically, and work together collaboratively. These are the skills you need to overcome any obstacles that are thrown your way. There's nothing you can't do now that you're a WPI grad."

Pimental and Michael J. Dolan '75, WPI Trustee Emeritus, who served for 16 years as an active member of the Board of Trustees, received honorary degrees as part of the ceremony.

Student speaker Samuel Levitan, a biology and biotechnology major, weaved Commencement history into his speech, reminding the audience that Black educator, reformer, and intellectual Booker T. Washington gave WPI's 50th Commencement address in 1915, speaking about America's transformation since the end of slavery. Levitan also talked about the sense of belonging instilled in WPI students, who balance a STEM education with a formative personal experience.

"To learn about cutting-edge technologies and scientific discoveries at WPI takes an open mind," Levitan said. "But no matter where you go and no matter what you do, an open heart is just as important. Remember that you belong wherever that may be, and that the people around you are counting on you to believe that they belong, too."

The following students earned BS/MS degrees: Jonathan Adams, of Douglas majored in Mechanical Engineering

Christina Aube, of Douglas majored in Electrical and Computer Engineering and Robotics Engineering

Codey Battista, of Northbridge majored in Biomedical Engineering

Kelly Heffernan, of Whitinsville majored in Biology and Biotechnology and Professional Writing

Ryan Martin, of Douglas majored in Management Engineering

Bishoy Soliman Hanna, of Douglas majored in Data Science

Douglas Cub Scouts place flags for Memorial Day

DOUGLAS — A Scout is Reverent— Cub Scout Pack 316 proudly replaced the flags on the graves of military veterans at St. Denis Cemetery in Douglas.

"There are over 350 veterans buried here, and it's our honor to help their families remember their service and sacrifices. It's hard work, but our Scouts work together every year to make sure each and every one has a brand new flag," says Pack 316's Cubmaster.

This year, about 20 Scouts and their families participated.

Pack 316 has a longstanding history of serving the community. Over the last couple of years, we have raised thousands of dollars in Heroes and Helpers donations which help provide gifts to first responders, troops at-home or overseas, veterans, and military families. In addition to the flag replacement, the boys and girls of Pack 316 also march in Veteran's Day parades, clean up trash around town for Earth Day, and support our local teachers and first responders.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

More on Christian nationalism

To the Editor:

Mark 12:17, "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to God the things that are God's." Project 2025, the maga Christian Nationalism plan for America, says Nope. "America is a Christian nation, and they have a mandate from God to rule" America by their bible, not the law. (Beeton) It is Christian dominionism in 2024. "Every nation on this planet is under the rule of Jesus Christ, whether they realize it or not. This is a spiritual, Biblical reality. It's time for Christians to start acting like it". (Torba/Iskler)

Wolfe demands: "Christian men should embrace a vision of the nation centered on greatness. Greatness should be personified in one great man, the Christian prince." The Christian prince is the head of the Christian state, the legal expression of the self-conscious Christian nation. The Christian nation, headed by the Christian prince, has the power to ensure the citizens attain their heavenly good. "Our time," Wolfe writes, "calls for a man who can wield formal civil power to great effect and shape the public imagination through charisma, gravitas, and personality." This man is the only real solution to pagan nationalism. Enter Trump. Voight, a former Trump official, advises Project 2025 - preparing for Trump's return to power. He believes "that there are universal rules derived from God that can't be superseded by government or judges." This merges "Christian identity with American patriotism" to establish a Christian government. The signs are everywhere if one cares to look.

Let's start with the flag flying outside Mike Johnson, house speaker's office - Appeal to Heaven. "The flag was initially used as a banner during the Revolutionary War, but over the decade, it has been embraced by a sect of Christian Nationalism (CN) called the New Apostolic Reformation, NAR, 'a symbol of Christian revolution.' " A central tenet of NAR's belief system is God's will mandates Christians to take control of all aspects of U.S. society—including education, arts/entertainment, media, and businesses—to create a religious nation - a religious 'dictatorship.' The plan is to establish God's kingdom here on earth. To accomplish that, they must conduct "Spiritual Warfare" to cleanse all demons in abortion clinics, the LGBT community, and even in the Democratic Party. Christians have a duty "to be boots on the ground for God in that conflict." "These changes can originate by 'disciples' in the right places, the high places." (Swensen). Elections - unnecessary. Mike Johnson, "an active participant in NAR" (Dorhauer), in a seminar that he and his wife teach for a "biblically sanctioned government," told "participants that the only political candidates deserving support are those who share this worldview and embrace the notion that the United States has been a Christian nation."

(Cox) Trump's 'personal pastor' White is a NAR apostle (Ladner). She gave the inauguration invocation "featuring a spiritual warfare prayer demonizing Trump's political adversaries." (Rosenberg) Other Christian nationalists already onsite or trying to be: Ted Cruz, TX senator; claimed to be a Christian king by his NAR father; Dusty Deever, OK State Senate, co-authored The Statement on Christian Nationalism which mandates that any abortion is homicide and should be prosecuted as homicide, Alabama Chief Justice Tom Parker's biblical declaration of when life starts, National Association of Christian Lawmakers advancing laws that advanced 'biblical' legislation in America's statehouses to limit rights of marginalized groups, Tuberville comparing Democrats to a satanic cult and then committing to violence "but as I said, the next eight months are going to be a fight, and sometimes it's going to be a fist fight," or a prior candidate like PA Gov. Mastriano "willing to set aside democracy itself to fulfill their interpretations of god's commandments," (Time, Whitehead) or "Dutch Sheets (who) is perhaps the most ardent Trump supporter in the New Apostolic Reformation. He's the one who may have done the most of any Christian leader in the United States to mobilize folks to try to overturn the 2020 election and to make sure to attend January 6." (Onishi) That violence is CN, "So if you don't have a sword, then sell your cloak and buy one because we have a lot of work to do." "Comfort with violence is a natural byproduct of Christian nationalism's obsession with power.

At times, the only way to get people to do what they should—as God commanded—is with the use (or threat) of force" (- Time Whitehead), especially when their mandate includes "driving out those they believe to be (literally) under the control of demons." Be woke - NAR's worldview can't exist with a pluralistic democracy - they have justified the use of violence to take the 'seven mountains' of the US & the world to prepare for the 2nd coming of Jesus Christ here on earth. NAR now "boasts some 2000 apostles, "who typically have seen Jesus personally, can cast out demons and break curses of witchcraft" (Geivett), in 85 different countries." (Rosenberg) Remember Mike Johnson, NAR flag flying, is second in line to the president.

An insurrection of lawfulness

To the Editor:

The Boston Massacre. March 5, 1770. John Adams for the Defense.

Five citizens were killed: Crispus Attucks, James Caldwell, Patrick Carr, Samuel Gray, and Samuel Maverick. The British captain and eight soldiers were indicted for murder. A trial date was set for October 1770.

The British captain, Thomas Preston, sent a "letter to the editor" to The Boston Gazette on March 12, 1770. He thanked Bostonians for choosing a fair trial over mob rule: "Permit me through the Channel of your Paper to return my Thanks in the most Publick manner to all the inhabitants of this Town, who throwing aside all Party and Prejudice, have with the utmost Humanity and Freedom, stept forth Advocates for Truth, in defense of my injured Innocence in this unhappy Affair."

Boston lawyers, conscious of their reputations and business, refused to represent the British soldiers. The British soldiers were deeply hated. Boston lawyers refused to take the risk. Brave attorneys like Todd Blanche who represent President Trump in New York take the risk in the tradition of John Adams.

John Adams - "I am for the law" [how many New York lawyers can say that today?] - agreed to the defense of Preston and the soldiers. In order to be fair, not a single juror from Boston was seated. 1770 Boston was more fair than 2024 New York.

Adams began his closing speech with one of the best lines in legal history. He quoted Marchese di Beccaria, the Italian author of a celebrated volume on criminal justice. Adams was extremely well-educated, as were most of the Founding Fathers. And Mothers who were expected to home school their children to the highest level as scholars and patriots - not radical Marxist activists.

"If, by supporting the rights of mankind, and of invincible truth, I shall contribute to save from the agonies of death one unfortunate victim of tyranny, or of ignorance, equally fatal [are you listening, Old Joe?], his blessings and years of transport will be sufficient consolation to me for the contempt of all mankind." It was essential to protect innocence even if Adams suffered because of it. He did.

"Facts are stubborn things," Adams famously stated. "And whatever may be our wishes, our inclinations, or the dictums of our passions, they cannot alter the state of facts and evidence." No dictums of passion can convert a liar into a truth-teller of facts. What lawyer worth his or her salt would put a perjurer on the witness stand to prove anything? "50 times, I lied, but this time I'm telling the truth."

Captain Preston was acquitted. Most of the soldiers were acquitted. Two were found guilty of manslaughter. In fear of their lives, they did fire on the crowd.

The Boston Gazette railed against Adams, who lost half his legal practice. Yet the trial showed that citizens wanted a nation of laws, not of men or arbitrary power.

Arbitrary power such as we see in New York Judge Yawn Man-handles the Law Merchan. Did you know that Judge Yawn was born in Bogota, Colombia? His father was a military officer in Colombia during a time of social unrest, rampant inflation, and devaluation of the peso. A New York state ethics panel cautioned Judge Yawn for his donations to Biden and to "Stop Republicans" in 2020. Judges are prohibited from contributing to any campaign. Does he know the basic rules?

Adams was willing to defend the unpopular side. He was willing to risk the contempt of his fellow patriots and his law practice to live with a free conscience, knowing he had done the right thing.

Adams asserted: "The law, in all...fluctuations of the passions...will preserve a steady, undeviating course; it will not bend to the uncertain wishes, imaginations and wanton tempers of men." From Adams' lips to God's ear.

On the third anniversary of the Boston Massacre in 1773, Adams reflected on his 1770 decision to represent British soldiers: "I devoted myself to endless labor and Anxiety if not to infamy and death, and that for nothing, except, what was indeed was and ought to be in all, a sense of duty. Expressed to Mrs. Adams all my Apprehensions; the excellent Lady... burst into a flood of Tears, but said she was very sensible of all the Danger to her and to our Children as well as to me, but she thought I had done as I ought, she was very willing to share in all that was to come and place her trust in Providence." God was on our side, guiding America.

Let's remember that Patriots like John Adams were the original insurrectionists.

The spin cycle

To the Editor:

Using a time-honored strategy to offset "He's guilty as hell!" MAGA Republicans are attacking the victims, the process, the facility, and the prosecutors in the Trump election interference case. They have to do something because the evidence of guilt is so staggering that even the defense witnesses provide more nails for Trump's coffin.

Stormy Daniels is a "Pay per View Prostitute", rather than a woman who was lured to Trump's hotel room and then set upon, while his bodyguard stood vigil outside the door. Stormy works in the porn industry, which is legal, and pays her taxes, unlike the head of the Trump organization. Trump's third wife had just had a baby, and he was cheating on her. Of course, the Republican '10 Commandments' does specifically state "Thou shalt commit Adultery," so Stormy must be the guilty party here.

Sitting in the courtroom, deprived of the caffeine from his 14 diet Coke's per day, is cruel and unusual punishment. So, manly, vigorous Trump just sleeps through it. MAGA's believe that Trump is not your ordinary criminal, so shouldn't have to sit in court when indicted for a crime. Trump is special because...? Oh yeah, because he has been charged with 88 indictments in four different jurisdiction, was impeached twice, is a pathological liar, is a fraudulent creation of TV and a book that "put lipstick on a pig," lied about COVID, costing thousands of lives, tried to overthrow the government...I get it - he is a special kind of criminal, and should be treated accordingly. Is the rack still in use?

The prosecutors are all guilty of enforcing the law! MAGA nation knows that the law doesn't apply to them, or their leader. Eighty-eight indictments? A sham. Found guilty of sexual abuse? Found guilty of tax fraud? All sham trials! Doesn't seem to register that American juries found him guilty, not Democrats, not Zoroastrians, not Rosicrucian's, not Joe Biden. In the New York trial, Trump is charged with repeatedly and fraudulently falsifying New York business records to conceal crimes that hid damaging information from the voting public during the 2016 presidential election. Breaking campaign finance law is a real crime.

Our local MAGA matron let her inner-racist ooze to the surface by accusing Alvin Bragg of being "a diversity and equity admittee to Harvard Law School". In other words, he wasn't qualified, but he was black. I guess our devout Christian believed her 'god' was busy elsewhere, and wouldn't notice the bigoted slur: I did like her statement that Republicans "cheat, cheat, cheat until you win. Ignore the law, justice, decency, honor, objectivity, the good of the nation, and the choice of more than half of the nation." But where was our Christian Crusader when a former New York Attorney General decided, after receiving a sizeable campaign contribution from Trump's attorney, not to prosecute Trump's attorney - Don Jr. and Ivanka - for fraudulent sales tactics, while trying to pimp Trump condos in Manhattan?

It was fun to see the Insane Clown Posse, aka Republican House members, show up in New York City, all clad in their cult-leader uniforms, complete with Trump man-diapers, and flatulating, in unison, Hitler's favorite Wagnerian opus - Die Meistersinger von Nürnberg. Your tax dollars at work.

The statute of limitations rule is revoked for this trial, because Trump was out of the State of New York for most of the interval between his crimes and the indictment. It's unfortunate that the same ruling can't help the 25 women, in addition to E. Jean Carroll, who filed sexual abuse charges against Trump, or the 16 year-old, who claimed that Trump raped her at one of Jeffrey Epstein's soirees. I repeat - he is a special kind of criminal - one that has even been able to use the law to shield his crimes.

From the Hyper-Hypocrisy Department: After declaring repeatedly that Trump was "unhinged" and "unfit for office", Nikki Haley now says she will vote for Trump! She is more worried about her future in Republican politics, than she is about the future of the nation. It was also a mendicant plea to choose her as his partner-in-crime VP candidate. Don't you just love it? Nothing has meaning to Republicans - there is no truth... there is no integrity...there is no honesty. There is only 'Hmmm... what do I have to do or say, at this point in time, to keep my job as one of America's ruling elite?'" Like Pavlov's dogs, they instinctively respond to all stimuli with supplication to their cult leader, virulent hypocrisy, and repeated demonstrations of how stupid they think 'we-the-people' are. That's your real 'case for corruption'.

EDITORIAL

Some of the best memories are made in flip flops

With Memorial Day weekend in the rearview mirror; summer is (unofficially, at least) in full swing, with everyone walking around with a sunkissed glow. Apart from mild weather, lush green forests, swimmable rivers and lakes and beautiful flowers, there are significant health benefits to these summer months.

Sunlight aids in regulating our systems. During the summer months there is a reduced rate of heart attacks. One study revealed that those who suffered a heart attack during the summer had survival rates increase by 19 percent. Vitamin D is said to play a role in protecting the heart as well as regulating calcium and phosphorus absorption.

Individuals tend to eat lighter and healthier in the summer, consuming more fruits and vegetables, which boosts our immune system. Produce is in abundance, whether it's at the local farmer's market or in our own back yards. Bring on the watermelon! The sun, can also cure many skin issues, such as psoriasis, dermatitis and acne, however this doesn't mean we can skip the sunscreen.

Summertime encourages us to get out and exercise. Getting the blood pumping creates endorphins and initiates and improves the flow of oxygen to the brain, which in turn lowers stress, and can aid in productivity in other areas of our lives. The longer days also afford us zero excuse to get out and get it done.

Because of the warmer temperatures, we automatically increase our water intake. This promotes digestion and flushes the toxins from our bodies.

Sleep disorders tend to fall by the wayside or improve during the summer due to the sun's early morning exposure. Experts say getting sunshine between 7 and 9 a.m. every morning, will help you sleep better at night.

Spending time with friends, family and community increases in the summer which is key to our mental health. During summer months there are more outdoor activities that bring folks together such as band concerts, farmer's markets, campfires, which are all great places to catch up with our neighbors.

Most people tend to go on vacation during the summer, reducing stress and burnout. More and more people are realizing just how important it is to take a breather.

Summertime helps us to feel more footloose and fancy free. There is also an overall feeling of relaxation and joy, over simple things like reading a book on the front porch, sipping sun tea or the smell of fresh cut grass.

The rivers flow wildly in the mountains and the lakes remain calm for fisherman to drop a line and float about, letting all cares melt away as the sunlight dances off the small ripples and waves. Mountain summits are picture perfect with blue skies, white clouds, vibrant green trees with glistening rocks, often-times creating scenes that don't even look real.

Take advantage of the season and savor every moment. In the words of the great writer Henry James, "Summer afternoon-summer afternoon; to me those have always been the two most beautiful words in the English language."

.....

What a great Memorial Day weekend! The nice weather gave everyone a chance to enjoy time with family and friends in the great outdoors.

It gave Americans a chance to remember all of our veterans that served our country, which is the real meaning of Memorial Day, with many that had paid the ultimate sacrifice.

This week's picture shows the recent graduation of 16 young fishermen that had completed Whitinsville Fish & Game Club's first annual Jr. fishing class. The class was pond Chairman Daryl Carter & Kris Hawkes' idea to have the class in hopes of promoting fishing to many youngsters. After the graduation, the young anglers were treated to a full breakfast by numerous members and volunteers.

With the falling interest in fishing in Mass., hopes are high that the annual class will have more anglers participating in the sport of fishing! Nice job, everyone. The following young anglers graduated from the fishing class: Jacob Plu m o n d o n , B r a y d e n Nicasastro, Jayden Dubois, Arthur Dubois, Jacob

Dubois, Khloe Joseph Sever, Hetherington, Boon Flagg, Bobby Diamond, Braydon Vaidyn, Logan Williams, Mason Williams, & Jackson Lavallee. I hope to see you on the water!

Fly fishing was my favorite sport when I was 16 years old, and I hope the upcoming class will have someone that is a fly fishing angler, that will become a teacher for future students. Joining the New England Fly Tyers group will also provide some great and exciting new fishing and fly tying opportunities.

Striper fishing was hot in both Mass. & Rhode Island last week, with live lining pogies providing the most exciting success. Watching a striper chase a live pogy, and literally inhale the baitfish, and peel the line from the reel until the hook finds its mark! The fight is on! Large bluefish are also hitting lures and live bait, which is not good news for many striper fishing anglers. They are more of a nuisance for some anglers fishing for striped bass. If the striper needs to be released, you need to get them back in the water ASAP, to insure their survival!

Take A Kid Fishing & Keep Them Rods Bending!

Checking your coins

COLLECTIBLES
& ESTATES
.....
WAYNE TUISKULA

I often handle estates with coins that families have collected. In today's column, I'll share some things you can look for if you also have coins.

unmarked coin is from the Philadelphia Mint. "D" is for Denver, "S" indicates San Francisco, and "O" stands for New Orleans. The Carson City Mint used "CC" and coins featuring that mintmark are often the most valuable.

Just like other collectibles, coins can be graded. Professional grading companies use a scale of 1 to 70. The highest-grade coins are categorized as MS (Mint State), with an MS-70 being a perfect coin. Some coins may be valuable enough to pay to send out for grading, while others may not. Along with the condition, there are other variations to coins that can make them desirable. Having slightly different shaped letters and differently placed stars and rays can make a big difference in price. An 1861-S $20 Double Eagle AU55 (Almost Uncirculated) gold coin sold for $3,120 at auction in 2023. A "Paquet" variation with the same AU55 grade coin sold for $162,000 that year.

The United States minted silver coins (dimes, quarters, half dollars, and dollar coins) out of 90 percent silver until 1964. Kennedy half dollars from 1965 to 1970 are made with 40 percent silver. Any silver coins from these years will be at least "bullion" coins and worth their weight in silver but some could be more valuable.

Many of the same factors that impact gold coins also come into play with silver. Age and condition are important. A rare high grade 1794 Flowing Hair Silver Dollar sold for $6.6 million in 2021. The number of coins produced at each mint for each year is very important. This holds true for both gold and silver coins. Only 360,649 silver Peace Dollars (depicting the head of the Statue of Liberty) were produced in 1928 while 10,198 were minted in 1925. A 1925 MS66 grade Peace Dollar sold for a little over $500 recently while a 1928 coin with the same grade sold for over $30,000.

The United States has issued half cents, one cent, two cent, three cent, half dime, and twenty cent coins. There are "type collectors" who look for coins in different denominations and variations. It's worth checking your old coins, some may be worth a pretty penny.

We are accepting coin consignments for our late summer auction along with art, gold jewelry, sterling silver, historical items, advertising signs, and other antiques. Please visit our Web site, <https://centralmassauctions.com>, for links to upcoming events.

.....
MELINDA
MYERS

Expand your planting space, grow a living screen, or add vertical interest to your garden beds. Train vines up a decorative support, onto a fence, or allow them to climb a trellis set in front of a wall or structure.

Pole beans, peas, Malabar spinach, cucumbers, melons, and squash are all edible candidates for growing vertically. Training these vegetables up a support saves space in the garden. Plus, the increase in light and airflow through vertically trained plants helps reduce the risk of mildew and other diseases.

Growing vertically can also increase your yields and make harvesting much easier. Pole beans typically produce an extra picking. Plus, it requires less bending to harvest. If it is easy, you are more likely to pick regularly, increasing productivity and ensuring the best flavor. Try scarlet runner beans or purple podded pole beans for added color.

Train Malabar climbing spinach up an obelisk in a container or over a decorative trellis in the garden. Use the leaves the same way you use true spinach. The buttery nutty flavor is great fresh, added to a salad, used as a sandwich wrap, stir-fried, or steamed. The red stems, flowers, and seeds make an attractive display in the vegetable or ornamental garden.

Support the heavy fruit of melons and squash when growing vertically. Create a sling from cloth strips, an old T-shirt, or macramé – yes, it's back! Tie the sling to the trellis to cradle the large fruit. The sling handles the weight, preventing the heavy fruit from ripping the plant off the support and damaging the plant. Elevating the fruit also reduces loss to soil-dwelling insects and disease.

Use decorative supports to add a bit of beauty or help blend edibles into ornamental plantings. Save money and add some personality by upcycling found items into creative supports. A section of an old iron fence, headboard, golf clubs, or farm implements can add a bit of functional whimsy to your garden.

Add color to a plain fence or wall with annual and perennial flowering vines. Use a support and leave space between wooden fences and siding to reduce moisture buildup that could damage these structures. This also makes it easier to manage future repairs and painting if the vines can easily be moved away from the structure.

Melinda Myers

Double up your plants to increase the floral impact. Use annual vines to provide quick cover for the first few years while establishing perennial vines onto the support. Consider mixing two vines on one support if space allows. Select vines that bloom at the same time to create interesting combinations. Or plant two vines that bloom at different times to extend the floral display.

Always select supports strong enough to support the plants you are growing. Make sure the support provides the structure needed for the vines to climb. Those with twining stems and petioles need something to grab onto while those with root-like holdfasts or suction cups need a rough surface for attaching. Make sure the structure will not be damaged by the vines adhering to the surface. Other vines may need their stems to be tied to the support.

As you can see, the possibilities are endless. Start gathering decorative supports, look for spaces that need a bit of vertical interest, and select vines suited to your growing conditions and landscape design.

BBQ Grilling Tips

It's officially barbecue season! Firing up the BBQ grill, is a summer tradition, and this country boasts a rich history of barbecue celebrations, dating back to the Colonial era. In fact, written history accounts reveal George Washington attended a barbecue in 1769!

Today, serving up creatively prepared foods grilled to perfection has been elevated to a fine culinary art. The good news is you don't have to be a cooking school graduate to earn your BBQ apron - sometimes all it takes is a refresher guide in basic backyard grilling techniques.

And, as you prepare for a season of grilling, remember that we have Native Americans to thank, as they first introduced basic barbecue techniques to the colonists!

Tenderizing Techniques: Great grilling starts with meat preparation. Taking the time to tenderizing tough cuts of meat can make the difference between grilling success or failure. While the goal is to break down the muscle fibers in the meat, there are a few standard methods that have been proven successful. The manual method employs the use of a kitchen mallet, which is used to "beat" down the fibers in raw meat. Also, there are several meat tenderizers available on the market that can be sprinkled onto the meat before cooking. Perhaps the most popular tenderizing option is the use of marinades, as these liquids not only make the meat tender but impart an important boost of flavor too. Add the fact overnight marinating can reduce cooking time by up to 35%, and it's no surprise the marinating method is a top choice.

BBQ experts recommend tender cuts of beef marinate for just a couple of hours, while tougher cuts may require overnight soaking. Keep in mind marinating should be used with zippered plastic bags or glass or plastic bowls as the acids in some marinades can react with metal. After marinating, be sure to pat the meat dry with paper towels to ensure it cooks evenly on the grill.

TAKE THE HINT

Certified Angus Beef Signature Steak Marinade (reprinted with permission and by popular demand!)

This recipe from the country's premiere beef brand is a tasty tribute to grilled steak suppers.

Ingredients: 1/2 cup Lea & Perrins Worcestershire Sauce; 3 tablespoons balsamic vinegar; 1 1/2 tablespoons Dijon mustard; 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Instructions: Combine all ingredients. In large, shallow non-aluminum baking dish or plastic bag, pour marinade over steaks; turn to coat. Marinate in refrigerator for 30 minutes. Remove steaks; discard marinade. Grill or broil steak to preferred doneness.

No Fail Marinade This unconventional recipe from the retro era promises taste and tenderness. Ingredients: one third cup steak sauce; one half cup packed brown sugar; one twelve ounce can 7Up or Sprite; one half cup melted butter; four tablespoons red wine vinegar; one quarter teaspoon each onion powder; garlic powder; salt and pepper. Instructions: Combine all in a bowl or zip lock bag. Allow meat to marinate in mixture for at least an hour, or as long as overnight.

Hot off the Grill: Gauging Doneness

Gauging meats grilled to perfection can be a tricky challenge. Beyond checking the temperature of the meat, backyard chefs have learned to rely on a few "rules of thumb" to test for doneness.

*This "old school" chef trick is still a reliable way to gauge your meat without cutting into it:

To test doneness by

"feel" this method compares your hand and fingers to the firmness of the cut of meat. Pressing on the middle of the steak, a rare steak should feel the same as the heel of your hand (the fleshy area between your thumb and wrist) when hand is relaxed; a medium rare steak should feel like the heel of your hand when you press your thumb and forefinger together (which is firmer); a medium rare steak will feel as firm as the heel of your hand when you touch your middle finger to your thumb (firmer yet); and medium well should feel as firm as the heel when you press your ring finger and thumb.

*Another common "rule of thumb" for doneness is the inch method is to cook by thickness of the meat. For a one inch thick steak, cook seven minutes for rare; nine minutes for medium; and 11 minutes for well done.

* When using an internal thermometer: a rare steak should be cooked to 125-130 degrees; 130 to 140 degrees for medium-rare; 140 to 150 degrees for medium, 150-160 degrees for medium-well or 160 to 170 degrees for well done.

BBQ Basics

*As a general guide, when you grill with charcoal, it takes about 30 minutes for coals to reach a medium temperature and become ash covered.

*For gas grills, allow about 15 minutes for the grill rack to preheat properly.

*To increase the heat on a charcoal grill, simply push the coals together; add more coals as needed lower the grilling surface, or fan the fire and tap the ashes from the coals.

*Steaks best for grilling without the need to tenderize, are such cuts such as Ribeye, Filet Mignon, T-Bone and Porterhouse.

*For best results cook pork on direct heat to seal the juices. Then finish it with indirect heat to ensure the center is completely cooked. Just be sure to preheat the grill so it will seal in the juices quickly.

*Cooking for a crowd? To ensure even grilling, meats should be placed about three quarters of an inch apart on the grill rack.

*Does your fish dry out and break up when you cook it on the grill? Brush it with lemon juice while cooking to keep it moist.

*Fish should be from one to one and a half inches thick to prevent drying out.

*Always apply sweet basting sauces made with sugar, honey or syrup during the last few minutes of grilling only to prevent burning.

*When cooking steaks on the grill don't season the meat until each side has browned to keep the cut tender.

*When using a dry rub during barbecuing, always allow the meat to cook for approximately one third to one half of the total time before applying any basting sauce. This allows the meat to become warm and start absorbing the dry rub seasonings.

*If you are marinating meat, you'll need one to two cups of marinade for every one and a half to two pounds of food. You want enough marinade to completely surround the food.

Don't let investments take a vacation

Summertime is almost here — and for many people, that means it's time to hit the road. But even if you decide to take a vacation, you'll want other areas of your life to keep working — especially your investments.

So, how can you prevent your investments, and your overall financial strategy, from going on "vacation?" Here are a few suggestions:

Check your progress. You want your investments to be working hard for you, so you'll need to check on their performance periodically — but be careful about how you evaluate results. Don't compare your portfolio's results against those of a market index, such as the S&P 500, which tracks the stock performance of 500 large U.S. companies listed on American stock exchanges. This comparison may not be particularly valid because your own portfolio ideally should include a range of investments, including U.S. and foreign stocks, corporate and government bonds, certificates of deposit (CDs) and other securities. So, instead of checking your progress against a market index, use benchmarks meaningful to your individual situation, such as whether your portfolio is showing enough growth potential based on a compounding rate of return to keep you moving toward a comfortable retirement and other long-term goals.

FINANCIAL FOCUS
DENNIS ANTONOPOULOS

Invest with a purpose. When you work intensely at something, it's usually because you have a definite result in mind. And this sense of purpose applies to investing, too. If you buy a stock here, and another one there, based on "hot" tips you might have seen on television or the internet, you may end up with a jumbled sort of portfolio that doesn't really reflect your needs. Instead, try to follow a long-term investment strategy based on your financial goals, risk tolerance, asset accumulation needs, liquidity and time horizon, always with an eye toward where you want to go in life — how long you plan to work, what sort of retirement lifestyle you envision, and so on.

Be strategic with your investments. Over the years, you will likely have a variety of competing financial goals — and you'll want your investment portfolio working to help achieve all of them. That means, though, that you'll likely need to match certain investments with specific goals. For example, when you contribute to an IRA and a 401(k) or similar plan, you're putting away money for retirement. But if you want to help your children go to college or receive some other type of post-secondary education or training, you might want to save in a 529 education savings plan, which allows tax-free withdrawals for qualified education expenses. Or, if you want to save for a short-term goal, such as a wedding or a long vacation, you might choose an investment that offers significant protection of principal, so the money will be available when you need it. Ultimately, this type of goals-based investing can help ensure your portfolio is always working on your behalf, in the way you intended.

When you take a vacation, you will hopefully be more relaxed and refreshed. But if you let your investments stop working as hard as they should, the results could be stressful. So, be diligent about your investment strategy, monitor it regularly and make those moves appropriate for your situation. By doing so, you can't necessarily guarantee a long day at the beach, but you'll have a good chance of enjoying a sunny outlook.

Milton E. Patnode, 93

Whitinsville-Milton E. Patnode, 93, of Plummer Park passed away on Tuesday, May 21, 2024 at UMass University Campus after a period of declining health. He is survived by his wife of 71 years, Esther R. (Dantino) Patnode.

He was predeceased by his grandson Francis Milton Trottier; and siblings, Shirley Patnode, Raymond Patnode Jr., and Robert Patnode.

Born in Coventry, RI on May 14, 1931 he was the son of Raymond Sr., and Mildred (Blair) Patnode and has been a lifelong resident of Northbridge. Milton worked as a union carpenter for the carpenter's union local 537. He worked there 50 years before his retirement in 1990. He was a proud U.S. Army veteran of the Korean Conflict serving in both Korea and Japan. He was a member of the former Oliver Ashton American Legion Post, and Knights of Columbus council 365 in Whitinsville. REGION — Literacy Volunteers of South-Central Massachusetts has 11 new volunteer tutors trained to provide one-to-one tutoring for ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages) to adults. These volunteers successfully completed the rigorous 18-hour tutor training on Monday, April 22. The training took place in the Community Room at the Southbridge Police Department and was the first in-person tutor training offered by LVSCM since 2019. Instruction was provided by board member Vanessa Fors and tutor Debbie Twigg, who were both certified to teach this course by Literacy Volunteers of Massachusetts in December 2023. We're thrilled to have these new volunteers trained and ready to be matched with adults who are on our waiting list. Their volunteer commitment significantly increases our capacity to serve more adults in the community, and will help people reach their personal, professional, and educational goals. Tutoring is free, confidential, and individualized to the needs of each adult learner.

BAMSI conducts mock interviews at Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy

CHARLTON — Alumni Brianna Cloutier, LPN, Genshireh Maura, BSN, RN, and Nicholas McElroy, BSN, RN joined BAMSI Director of Nursing, Elsie Rivera-Johnson in conducting mock interviews with the PN Class of 2024.

Although there are many reasons why Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy Alumni return on campus such as bringing gifts to show appreciation for the education that Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy has provided them, to stay connected to the Bay Path community, to say hello to their professors and facilitators, donate books and uniforms, the recent alumni visit was purposefully connected to the completion of the Transition into Practice course. Cloutier, Maura, McElroy and Rivera-Johnson all helped conduct mock Interviews to the Practical Nursing Class of 2024.

Each year, members of the PN cohort go through the trial by fire, a mock interview conducted by real members of the healthcare community. This year, Rivera-Johnson represented BAMSI and was joined by the three Bay Path alumni.

Rivera-Johnson stated, "This is an impressive activity, and the students are amazing!"

Asked if she would hire the soon to be new graduates and she responded with an astounding, "Yes!"

The interviews are conducted on campus and are designed to show the PN students what a real interview for entry level nursing position will be like.

and Dr. Adelina Healy, DNP, MSN, RN are co-facilitators for the course Transition into Practice. Cloutier, Maura, McElroy and Rivera-Johnson all helped conduct mock Interviews to the Practical Nursing Class of 2024.

The preparation included correcting cover letters and resumes. Volunteer interviewer bookings were managed by the PN Office. "The idea is that when our graduates get their first job interview for the coveted new grad position, they would be a bit less nervous because they would know the ins and outs of an in-person job interview," explained Grehelina Bolandrina, DHA, MSN Ed, RN, CRRN Academy Director.

The preparation for the interviews began when they entered Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy in the fall as they build an academic portfolio demonstrating their clinical experiences, clinical observations, volunteer activities, and participation in other extracurriculars such as the Mock Code Team.

As for the alumni mock interview volunteers, they consider their PN certificates and academic progression in nursing like a share in a stock company having a personal interest in ensuring that Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy's prestige grows. Their participation as mock interview volunteers bring back fond memories as a student nurse. Volunteering is giving back, which plays an essential role in maintaining the value of their own degrees. When alumni give back, they invest in practical nursing students and provide a legacy for future generations. Many alumni state that the benefits they received from Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy are intangible, and what alumni give back are not always easy to measure, but one thing is clear: alumni giving back makes a difference.
