Dudley selectmen to explore enforcement options for snow covered sidewalks

DUDLEY — As the snow continues to pile on, safety concerns mount for the pedestrians who are forced from impassable sidewalks and into the streets.

At a recent Dudley Board of Selectmen’s meeting, Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda reported his office has been receiving complaints regarding the hazard.

The town has a “sidewalks to be kept clear” bylaw on the books that says every owner, tenant or occupant of an estate abutting upon a hard-finished sidewalk shall keep the sidewalk free from all dirt, rubbish, refuse, oil, snow and ice or other like substance.

The bylaw, Mr. Ruda said, has no “teeth.”

Despite the town’s recent efforts to educate residents on the regulation, some people, he said, simply are not going to clear their sidewalk, which ties the town’s hands because the bylaw is lacking enforcement options.

Ruda is working with town legal counsel, the police chief and health agent to draft a town meeting article for selectmen’s consideration.

“The goal is to add an enforcement mechanism to the existing town bylaw that already requires property owners to keep sidewalks clear of snow and ice and debris,” Ruda told the selectmen. “We continue to receive complaints about uncleared sidewalks. Without enforcement authority the town really has no way to address it.”

Mr. Ruda added the proposed bylaw change isn’t about punishment but about public safety and the risks associated with people walking into the street when a sidewalk is covered in snow.

“Years ago, residents

passed a bylaw requiring sidewalks to be kept clear of debris but assigned no enforcement authority or penalty,” Mr. Ruda said. “A May Town Meeting article will propose an amendment that would give the town the authority to enforce the standing bylaw with a penalty for noncompliance or vote it down altogether. In the meantime, we ask all residents to voluntarily comply and understand the public safety risks associated with residents and their kids who may be forced to walk in the road because their sidewalk remains uncleared.”

Webster officials address potential causes of high water/sewer bills

WEBSTER — An unusually high water bill is most often caused by a leak or change in water use. Some common causes of high water bills include:

- A leaking toilet, or a toilet that continues to run after being flushed (see additional information below)
- A dripping faucet; a faucet drip can waste 20 gallons of water a day or more
- Filling or topping off a swimming pool
- Watering the lawn, new grass, or trees; also check for an open hose bib
- Kids home for summer vacations or school holidays; guests
- Water-cooled air conditioner’s
- A broken water pipe or obvious leak; check the pipes in the basement or crawlspace; the water heater could also be leaking
- Water softener problems-cycles continuously
- Running the water to avoid freezing water pipes during cold weather

Generally, water consumption is higher during the summer due to watering of lawns, pools, and gardening. Typically, an average family of four uses 4,000-5,000 gallons of water a month. Here are a few things to check if you get a bill that is higher than usual.

Changes in your water use

Did you have house guests, water your lawn more than usual, or do anything else out of the ordinary in the last few months that would use a lot of water? If so, this may account for an increase in your water/sewer bill.

Check for leaks

Leaks, whether unseen or unfixed, can and will waste hundreds and even thousands of gallons of water. It is important to routinely check your plumbing and home for leaky faucets, toilets, and outside taps and irrigation lines.

Oxford Community Center Friends hosting shoe drive fundraiser

OXFORD — The community is invited to clean out their closet for a shoe drive to raise funds to help support the Oxford Community Center. Donations of gently worn, used and new shoes, boots, sneakers, sandals and slippers will be accepted through April 15. The amount of money raised is determined by the total weight of the shoes collected.

All donated shoes will be redistributed to micro-enterprise partners through Funds2Orgs, a for profit social enterprise, and used in developing nations for impoverished people to start their own businesses.

Donations may be dropped off during business hours at the Oxford Community Center, 4 Maple Rd., or the Oxford Free Public Library, 339 Main St.

In the US alone, more than 300 million pairs of shoes are thrown away per year. The materials used to manufacture a pair of shoes are created from chemical compounds that will create health hazards if left to disintegrate openly or in landfills. By donating your gently worn, used and new shoes to the Oxford Community Center Friends Fundraiser, your shoes are given a second chance to make a difference.

About Oxford Community Center Friends

Oxford Community Center Friends (OCCF) is an all-volunteer, 501(c)(3) tax-exempt, nonprofit organization formed to support the Oxford Community Center (OCC). The mission of the organization is to run fundraisers and locate sources of grants, funding and contributions to supplement and expand the activities and programs offered by the OCC.

Clara Barton Drone Club launches Mission 2026 — “Time Warp”

OXFORD — The Clara Barton School’s after-school aerial drone teams are preparing to launch Mission 2026, themed “Time Warp,” following an impressive inaugural season.

In its first year, the program fielded two competition teams that achieved notable success on the national stage. One team placed 147th out of 674 middle school teams nationwide and ranked 41st out of 134 teams in the Northeast region. The second team finished 223rd nationally and 58th in the Northeast—an extraordinary accomplishment given that students had only a few months of practice before competing.

Building on that early success, the drone club is expanding this year and is expected to field six or even seven teams. The growth of the program has been made possible through the generous support of the Cecelia J. Smolenski-Millette Charitable Trust, which provided initial funding for the purchase of drones and has continued to support the program’s expansion this year.

Students and staff at Clara Barton School expressed their gratitude to the Cecelia J. Smolenski-Millette Charitable Trust for the opportunity to participate in this innovative program and are looking ahead with excitement to another outstanding season of competition.

Losing a loved one is never easy. Please know that you are not alone. If you need support in trying to navigate the changes in your life, join us in a place of safety and comfort with others who have also experienced loss. This grief support group is a place to find understanding as we explore our grief, share coping strategies, and begin to heal.

Yoga – Saturdays at 9:30am Join Julie or Lauren at the Gladys E. Kelly Library for a vinyasa yoga class for all levels. A typical class involves centering the mind with the breath, aromatherapy, movement of the body to release energetic blockages, and, finally, rest and relaxation. Classes are free. Funded by the Friends of the Gladys E. Kelly Public Library.

Yoga Nidra with Jess – Fridays at 8:15am
Join Adult Services
Librarian Jess for a relaxing yoga nidra practice to start your day. Jess will guide participants through a few simple yoga asanas to release physical tension. Participants will then settle into a reclined position for a guided relaxation (yoga nidra). This program takes place before the library officially opens.
Registration is required and Jess will meet you at the program door.
If you have your own yoga mat, please bring it and be sure to dress in comfortable clothing.

Writing Group – Monday,
February 23rd at 6:00pm
Do you enjoy writing but struggle to find the time or excuse to sit down and do it? Join us for a low pressure evening where you can sit and write creatively with others in a cozy setting. There will be prompts available, and time to share and discuss our projects, or just chat about the writing process, but sharing is not required. Bring something you are currently working on, or start something new!
Snacks and drinks will be available.

Something from Nothing Pantry Series – Monday, February 23rd at 6:00pm

This month we'll be hosting Courtney Squire from Unbound Glory Farm! In this class, we will make a quick and nourishing ginger and turmeric curry paste and then whip up a deliciously simple soup, utilizing both fresh and pantry ingredients.
Attendees will come away with a new resource in their toolkit for supporting their immune systems during the winter months, as well learn how to use this soup base to provide unlimited ways to make an easy comfort food that can be put together quickly. Participants will get to enjoy a delicious plant-based soup, and learn how easy it is to use food as medicine!

90s Silent Disco – Wednesday,
February 25th at 5:30pm
Come join us for a silent 90s Dance Party in the Community Room! Attendees will be given a pair of headphones all loaded with the same 90s hits so you can bust a move alone or with your friends.
Keep the 90s nostalgia going by checking out our 90s museum on the 26th. Cowabunga, dude!

Silent Book Club – Wednesday,
February 25th at 6:00pm
Looking for a quiet escape? Join us for the first meeting of our Silent Book Club. The community room will be as cozy as it gets. Bring a book or borrow one from the library and enjoy an hour or two of silent reading. Quiet discussion is permitted. We'll provide the tea and atmosphere, you choose your book!

90s Museum – Thursday,
February 26th from 12:00-8:00pm
Nostalgic for the 90s?
Didn't experience the 90s, but want to see what it was all about?
Join us for our one day only 90s museum. We'll have 90s tech, 90s toys, 90s memorabilia, and 90s fashion.

Yaidalis
Age 14
Registration #8705

Yaidalis is a creative and artistic teen who loves expressing herself through making and creating new things. She enjoys exploring her creativity in many ways and takes pride in her personal style. Yaidalis especially likes having her hair and nails done, which allows her to express herself and feel confident. In her free time, Yaidalis enjoys going to the movies and listening to music, often finding comfort and inspiration in her favorite songs. She appreciates opportunities to relax, have fun, and connect through shared experiences. Yaidalis would thrive in a supportive, nurturing family who values creativity, self-expression, and quality time together. With encouragement and consistency, she has the potential to continue growing into her interests and developing her talents, while building meaningful connections with those around her.

Steady hands in unsteady times

In a world that seems to reward the loud-est voice in the room, there is something quietly powerful about steadiness.

We see it in small moments every day. A coach who keeps his cool when a ref-eree’s call doesn’t go his way. A teacher who answers the same question for the fourth time with the same patient tone. A parent who chooses calm conversation over raised voices when a teenager tests boundaries. These are not dramatic acts. They won’t trend on social media. But they are the foundation of strong families, strong schools, and strong communities.

Life in towns like Webster, Dudley, and Oxford has never been free of disagree-ment. Attend a Select Board meeting. Sit in on a School Committee discussion. Listen to neighbors debate a zoning change or a proposed project. Opinions can run strong. They should. People care deeply about their homes and their futures.

But caring does not require losing con-trol.

It is easy to mistake intensity for strength. It is easy to believe that the person who pounds the table or fires off the sharpest remark is the one who “wins.” In truth, the opposite is often the case. The most effective leaders, in town government, in business, in our homes, are those who can absorb pressure without passing it on.

There is wisdom in taking a breath.

When emotions rise, words spoken in haste tend to linger far longer than the moment that sparked them. A cut-ting remark at a public meeting can echo through a community for months. A harsh exchange in a workplace can erode trust that took years to build. Even in our per-sonal lives, the brief satisfaction of “letting it out” often gives way to regret.

Calm is not weakness. It is discipline.

In recent years, we have all lived through periods of stress that would have seemed unimaginable not long ago. A pandemic. Economic uncertainty. Political division. Families balancing work, childcare, and elder care all at once. The pressure has been real.

And yet, in the middle of it all, we have also seen what steady hands can accom-plish. Volunteers organizing food drives without fanfare. Town officials working late into the night to sort out budgets and logistics. Neighbors checking in on neigh-bors. None of it flashy. All of it necessary.

There is a lesson there.

Communities do not thrive because everyone agrees. They thrive because even in disagreement, people choose respect. They thrive because someone in the room decides not to escalate. They thrive because cooler heads set the tone.

This does not mean suppressing con-viction. It means expressing it in a way that leaves room for dialogue. It means remembering that the person across the table is also someone’s parent, neighbor, or friend. It means understanding that today’s debate is not the last word in a relationship that will continue long after the meeting adjourns.

In small towns especially, we live with the consequences of how we treat one another. We see each other at the grocery store, at school events, at church suppers, at youth games. We cannot retreat into an-onymity. That is not a burden. It is a gift. It reminds us that our words matter.

The strongest communities are not those without tension. They are those that handle tension with maturity.

As the seasons shift and routines settle back into place, perhaps this is a good moment to recommit to steadiness. To choose the measured response over the sharp one. To pause before replying. To model for our children what self-control looks like in practice.

Anyone can lose their temper. It takes character to keep it.

And in the long run, character is what sustains a town.

Landing strips in Auburn

BY HELEN POIRIER
AUBURN HISTORICAL SOCIETY

In an article written by Art Simas in March 1981 in the Auburn News, there was an airfield on Pakachoag Hill on land owned by Arthur Eaton. It was next to what is now 1 Wyoma Dr. There was the Eatonhurst Riding academy and Frank Knowles riding track there in the same area. This landing strip allowed Auburn to be one of the first towns to have air mail delivery. It was a flat grassy plain that made it perfect place to alight a small biplane. In the article Art was interviewing Joh Underwood who grew up in town and bought the Wyoma property in 1952. John told him how exciting an event it was and that schools would let the kids out to see the plane land. Accompanying the article were photos showing biplanes with Arthur Eaton’s mother, Martha, standing next to one and another ready for takeoff in 1920.

The second landing strip was described by Richard [Dick] G. Warren in his notes “Auburn Airport and other Auburn Aviation Notes of Interest.” The notes pre-dated Auburn Airport. Dick describes the landing strip as being near the Conroy Construction Company which was on Southbridge Street extending from then Leicester Street, now Church Street, to Water Street. Dick tells when Ralp Conroy started to fly, around 1937, he “would occasionally land the air-plane in the field across from the Conroy home.” In a talk given by Jack Haroian at an Auburn Historical Society meeting on the “Businesses on Southbridge Street,” he made mention of the landing strip when talking about the Auburn Driving Range which is on the very same land. Still another retired gentleman recounts a story his dad told when his dad was young, being asked to hold a stick with a sock on it up as high as he could so the pilot could tell which way the wind was blowing so the plane could land.

Lastly is the Auburn Airport, which is where BJ’s and Home Depot are today on Washington Street. This land was originally part of the Howe farm. Ralph Conroy and his family were instrumental in develop-ing the airport starting about 1939, when he acquired the land. According to Dick Warren, it was a small private airport through the 1940s to mid-1950s, it then became a drive-in theater. It did not have paved runways, only grass ones, and it did have a hanger. According to an article from the Worcester Telegram in 1939, the airport was on 67 acres of land, 22 acres were cleared and leveled, the prevailing wind runway was 1650 feet. The hanger was 40 feet by 50 feet and could house five small planes. There were other small air-fields in the area, including Windle in West Millbury, Westboro, Leicester, Spencer though not as prominent as Grafton Airport which was considered “Worcester Airport” in the 1930s and 1940s.

There was also a club at the airport that owned a two-passenger aircraft for members use. When World War II started members of this club started enlisting in the Army Air Corps- C.A.A. flight program.

During the war the Auburn Defense Police, which was a 150-man uniformed unit serving as an ARP protection division under the Civilian Defense Program of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety would use the Auburn airport for air raid practices.

After war was over around 1946, Ralph got a Globe Swift airplane to compliment the Aeronca Super Chief which was already at the airport. Men and women learned to fly at this airport with a Miss Betty Carron of Worcester being one of Ralph’s pupils who soloed in eight hours and five minutes, which according to Ralph, “was an excep-tional accomplishment for a woman.”

As time went on, Ralph felt the need to put more time into the family construction business with his brother, Fred. It was about 1948 when Glenn Tessmer and Vincent Rideout started running the airport opera-tion until 1951. Dick Warren acquired about 12 acres of land from his grandfather’s estate which abutted the Auburn Airport then deeded to Ralph for expansion of the airport. This expansion never happened, according to the Worcester Telegram dated December 22, 1953, a petition to dissolve Auburn Airport Incorporated was posted Superior Court. The stockholders meeting that was held Nov. 5, 1953, unanimously voted to dissolve the corporation and it was attested to by Ralph J. Conroy, President & Treasure and notarized by Lee F. Burke. It was approved and by March 28, 1954, another article told of the petition by Ralph Conroy to the Board of Appeals for a zon-ing classification change for the airport land so that it could become a drive-in theater that would be leased out. There was some opposition to it as abutters were concerned about the possibility of devaluation of their properties. On a vote of 35 for and 10 against the change was made. The E.M. Loew Inc. would be allowed to operate it.

knowing when to speak and when to wait. Knowing which questions mattered and which ones could sit unanswered. Knowing that not every problem required immediate action.

You still see this kind of assur-ance in certain people. Often, they are older, but not always. They move through a room without urgency. They listen more than they talk. When they do speak, it is usually measured, and often helpful.

They are not slow. They are steady.

That steadiness is something our towns quietly depend on. It shows up in long-serv-ing clerks, familiar faces at local counters, and neighbors who seem to understand how things work without needing to explain themselves.

They remind us that experience does not need to shout to be valuable.

I catch myself trying to relearn some of that confidence. Leaving the phone in my pocket. Trusting memory instead of prompts. Letting familiarity do its work without checking to see if it is still correct.

Sometimes it is. Sometimes it is not. But the act of trusting it again feels important.

In a world that constantly asks us to ver-ify, update, and refresh, there is something grounding about knowing your way well enough to move forward without asking permission.

That quiet confidence does not draw attention. It does not need to.

Like so many good things along Main Street, it is simply there, doing its work, steady as ever.

Unlock the full potential of your 401(k)

ANTONOPOULOS

Your 401(k) is one of the most powerful tools for securing your financial future. The question is: Are you using it to its full potential?

Here are some strategies to help you maximize its benefits:

Earn your employer’s match. It’s a good idea to contribute as much as you can afford to your 401(k) plan. (In 2026, you can put in up to $24,500, or $32,500 if you’re 50 or older. If your plan allows, there’s also a «super catch-up» contribu-tion of $11,250 for people aged 60 to 63, for a total contribution limit of $35,750). At least put in enough to earn a matching contribution if one is offered. Otherwise, you’re shortchanging yourself. For exam-ple: Your employer matches 50 percent of your contribution up to $5,000. If put in $8,000, your employer’s 50 percent match is $4,000, and you’re leaving $1,000 “on the table.”

Give your plan a raise. When your income increases, consider increasing contributions to your 401(k). When you get a bonus or a tax refund, you could use some or all of that to boost your retirement savings.

Evaluate the Roth option. When you invest in a traditional 401(k), you con-tribute pre-tax dollars, lowering your taxable income that year. Your earnings grow tax-deferred and are taxed when you withdraw. If your employer offers a Roth 401(k), you contribute after-tax dollars, so your taxable income doesn’t drop that year. However, withdrawals in retirement, con-tributions and earnings alike, are generally tax-free. (Employer matching contributions and related earnings remain taxable.) If you expect a higher tax bracket in retirement or want to diversify tax treatment for flexibil-ity in retirement, consider the Roth option. In 2026, the Roth option must be used for catch-up contributions if you earn more than $150,000 and you are 50 or older. Consult your tax advisor before deciding.

Build an appropriate investment mix. You may have multiple investment options in your 401(k). The driving principle early on is growth so your plan can fund a long retirement. But growth-oriented invest-ments are naturally riskier than fixed-in-come vehicles. When starting your career, you may prefer a portfolio weighted toward aggressive growth, as you have years to recover from downturns. Nearing retire-ment, though, consider shifting to a more conservative mix. A financial advisor can help you choose an appropriate mix at dif-ferent stages, based on your risk tolerance, time horizon and goals.

Keep your plan intact. At times, you may feel a financial pinch that leads you to con-sider taking out loans or early withdrawals from your 401(k). However, this can cause you to incur taxes and penalties and will likely slow the growth needed to help reach your retirement savings goals. Taking steps to prepare for unexpected expenses, such as building an emergency fund containing three to six months’ worth of living expens-es, can help you avoid dipping into your 401(k). You may also be able to find other ways to access cash.

By following these steps, you can unlock the full potential of your 401(k) and posi-tion it as a cornerstone of your retirement income.

Oxford Democrats to hold caucus on Feb. 28

OXFORD — The Oxford Democratic Town Committee will host the annual town Democratic caucus on Saturday, Feb. 28 at 11 a.m. at the Oxford Free Public Library, 339 Main Street, Oxford. Registration begins at 10:30 a.m.

At the caucus, registered and preregistered Democrats in Oxford will gather to elect delegates and alternates to represent the town at the 2026 Massachusetts Democratic Convention, and to connect with neighbors and fellow Democrats.

All are welcome to attend, and first-time participants are encouraged. To vote or run for delegate or alternate, you must be a registered Democrat in Oxford. Eligible voters who are not yet registered as Democrats may register at the caucus.

Oxford Middle School proudly recognized and celebrated students who achieved perfect attendance through the first 100 days of school! Reaching this milestone reflects dedication, responsibility, and a strong commitment to learning. Showing up every day builds important habits, strengthens connections with peers and staff, and supports academic success. We are incredibly proud of these students for their consistency and perseverance. Their commitment sets a positive example for our entire school community. Congratulations to all students who earned this outstanding achievement – keep up the amazing work! Worcester Model Railroaders announce open house

WEBSTER — The Webster Division of the Worcester Model Railroaders announces an open house at 14 Railroad Ave. in Webster to be held on March 1. From 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., families, friends and kids of all ages will be able to view and operate two large, model railroad layouts in operation. The first is a 40-by-60-foot HO gauge layout depicting railroad operations in New England. This layout is computer controlled using Digitrax DCC. Watch the trains as they climb to the second level via the helix. The second layout is a 10-by-30-foot O gauge layout—a typical Lionel train operation that is familiar to most folks.

During the open house, visitors of all ages will have an opportunity to control the trains as they make their way around the layout. Club members will be available to give tours of the layouts and discuss club activities. This is also a great opportunity to donate any railroad equipment that might be languishing in basements and attics. The club will accept any equipment no matter its condition. Members will also be able to discuss and help solve any problems visitors might be having with their own railroad equipment. If visitors have DCC equipped locomotives, they are welcome to bring them to run on the HO layout.

Our open house is a family oriented event being held in conjunction with our annual show being held the same day at the Auburn Elks Club. Refreshments will be served. There is no admission charge but donations would be welcomed. GPS will get you to Railroad Avenue in Webster. Once there, cross the RR tracks, bear right, keeping the brick buildings on your left and follow the signs to the open house. Best of all, come prepared to have fun!

Dudley library to host program on “Popular Music and Veterans”

DUDLEY — On Thursday, Feb. 26, Pearle L. Crawford Memorial Library in Dudley will host the program “Popular Music and Veterans,” performed by Jon Waterman at 6 p.m. The program consists of original and traditional songs along with an accompanying slideshow about the history of veterans in America and some related music history. The library is at 40 Schofield Ave. in Dudley.

Jon Waterman has performed music and history programs in venues throughout New England as part of his Live Music Making History Live series. The series was designed to encourage the celebration and exploration of history through music. Jon is a lifetime musician and songwriter and licensed history teacher in Massachusetts. The program is supported in part by a grant from the Dudley Cultural Council, a local agency which is supported by the Mass Cultural Council, a state agency.

MEET Dottie

Meet Dottie – The Smart, Water & Sun-Loving Pup You’ve Been Waiting For! Dottie has been soaking up all the love and sunshine in foster and now she’s looking for that special someone who will give her the time and space she needs to thrive. Dottie may take a minute to warm up, but once she does, she’s all in — loyal, affectionate, and eager to be near her people. She loves lounging on the bed or sunbathing on her fosters deck in the backyard. While she can be quiet and independent at times, she also has a playful, silly side. She does best in a calm, predictable environment. Dottie is a quick learner and is having fun with training and games like “find it” that engage her nose and brain. She’s a strong girl and can be enthusiastic on leash — especially when squirrels or exciting scents are involved. Quiet walking routes are best for her, and she LOVES to sniff and explore at her own pace. She also LOVES car rides! Dottie is looking for an adult-only home, where she will be the only pet, with people who understand that good relationships take time. Once she feels safe and secure, her sweet, affectionate side really shines.

Dottie’s adoption fee has been generously sponsored

More than 7,500 University of Rhode Island students named to Fall Dean’s List

KINGSTON, R.I. — The University of Rhode Island is pleased to announce that several area students have been named to its Fall 2025 Dean’s List. Among them are:

Tori Masiello of Oxford
Evan Fallon of Webster
Austin Giarnese of Dudley
Maya Golemo of Dudley
Ava Millette of Dudley
Jasmyn Gates of Auburn
Nate Jette of Auburn
Katie Small of Auburn

To be included on the Dean’s List, full-time students must have completed 12 or more credits for letter grades which are GPA applicable during a semester and achieved at least a 3.30 quality point average. Part-time students qualify with the accumulation of 12 or more credits for letter grades which are GPA applicable earning at least a 3.30 quality point average.

Students named to the Dean’s List represent nearly all of Rhode Island’s cities and towns, all six New England states, New York and New Jersey, and many other states and countries.

About the University of Rhode Island

The University of Rhode Island is a diverse and dynamic community whose members are connected by a common quest for knowledge. As a global education leader and the state of Rhode Island’s flagship public research institution, URI offers distinctive opportunities designed to meet the global challenges of today’s world and the rapidly evolving needs of tomorrow. Founded in 1892, URI now enrolls more than 18,000 students and offers more than 200 degree programs across nine schools and colleges. As a land- and sea-grant institution, URI is a key driver of economic development in Rhode Island and contributes significantly to the health and vitality of the state, the New England region, and the nation. Cornerstone Bank opens applications for 2026 scholarship program

WORCESTER — Cornerstone Bank is now accepting applications for its 2026 scholarship program, awarding 18 scholarships of $2,500 each to local high school seniors planning to study business or finance. Applications are due April 13.

“We are proud to support students who are thinking seriously about their future and taking meaningful steps toward it,” said Cornerstone CEO Todd Tallman. “These scholarships help remove barriers and encourage young people who want to make a positive impact through business and financial leadership.”

Applicants must be graduating from high school in 2026 and plan to attend an accredited, degree-granting institution full time beginning in fall 2026. Students must demonstrate academic achievement, community involvement and interest in a business or financial career.

Required materials include an official transcript and GPA along with a completed application and a one-page essay describing career goals, steps toward achieving them and how the scholarship will support their path to success.

The application and more information can be found on the bank’s Web site.

Scholarship recipients will receive funds after successful completion of their first college semester and upon submission of an official first-semester transcript and second-semester bill.

About Cornerstone Bank

BILLS

Toilets and faucet leaks

The most common cause for a high water/sewer bill is running water from your toilet. A “continuously” running toilet can waste 200 gallons a day or in some cases much more. That can easily double a family’s typical water use, so fix toilet leaks as soon as possible. Some leaks are easy to find, such as a faucet or running toilet. You can usually hear a running toilet, but not always. See the toilet assessment below for help in determining if this is the cause of your high water bill.

Do-It-Yourself toilet assessment

First check for the most common leak: a deteriorated or defected flush valve (flapper) ball at the bottom of the toilet tank. If it does not make a tight seal, water will leak into the toilet bowl. To check for this:

- Take the lid off of the tank behind the bowl, flush the toilet, then wait for it to fully refill
- Put a few drops of dye or colored dye tablets (available at local hardware store) in the tank
- Wait 20 minutes; longer if you suspect it is a small leak
- If color shows up in the toilet bowl, there is a leak

The second most common type of leak has to do with an improperly adjusted or broken fill valve. To check for this take the lid off the toilet tank, flush, and see if water is draining into the overflow tubes when the tank is full.

Outdoor and underground leaks

Leaks can also occur in harder to find places, such as under your house or in the service line between your water meter and your home. Check outdoor spigots and crawl spaces, and look for wet spots in your yard, which may indicate a leak.

Irrigation systems

During summer months, irrigation systems are a common source of high water use. Watering times generally double during the summer months compared to the spring or fall. Automated irrigation systems should be checked regularly to be sure they are functioning properly and have no leaks or broken sprinkler heads. If a sprinkler valve sticks on, it could waste an extremely large quantity of water. The irrigation timer may not work or may not be programmed properly; i.e., sprinklers are watering too often and/ or for too long. Reprograming may be necessary if the power has been off.

What can I do if my bill is unusually high?

If you feel your bill is too high, check the common causes listed above. This may help pinpoint the source of the high bill. Water Department staff are available to recheck a meter reading if you feel there is an error. If the meter reading is checked and found to be accurate, you may need to contact a licensed plumber or other professional to help determine the source of a leak or high bill. Property owners are responsible for all private water service lines from the curb-stop into the residence and for leaks inside the home. If a toilet leaks and the water enters the municipal sewer system you are responsible for the water/sewer bill.

Other helpful self-management tools!

Webster water customers with the new water meter can monitor their own water usage data through a customer Web portal. The customer web portal can be accessed here: <https://websterma.my360-app.com>.

Please note you are responsible to monitor your own water usage and if you have concerns about excessive usage and or leaks please visit our website for helpful tips and information at <https://www.webster-ma.gov/402/Leaks>.

radio-controlled helicopters and airplanes, and as a ham radio operator, and cooking, making everyone feel welcome and comfortable. His home was always full of family.

After retirement, he continued working and creating many electronic toys and items. Volunteering his time as secretary for Yankee Flyer and Tri-County Barnstormers.

His greatest joy was spending time with his children and grandchildren, whether he was coaching a baseball team, or as a league umpire, or just watching them in the pool.

He was proud, along with his wife, to have been a Webster, MA town representative in the 1990’s. He was also always ready to help his brother at his brother’s service station.

He was a self-made man who was highly respected, strong, creative, funny, caring and very intelligent. He liked to debate and make you think. He intentionally said no to his children, so that they had to work it out for themselves and learn to be independent. He always made his kids laugh by telling great stories and songs he made up. They would compete with him for the best story.

Private services will be held at the convenience of the family. The family requests that flowers be omitted and instead donations in his memory be made to the American Heart Association, 20 Speen Street, Framingham, MA 01701. McNutt Funeral Home, 1703 Porter Road, Conroe, TX 77301. Scanlon Funeral Service, 38 East Main Street, Webster, MA is handling local arrangements.

St. Mary’s Parish hosting annual Fish Fry March 6

SHREWSBURY — St. Mary’s Parish in Shrewsbury invites you to join us at our annual Lenten Fish Fry. This year’s event will be held on Friday, March 6 in the St. Mary’s Parish Hall (16 Summer St., Shrewsbury) from 4-8 p.m.

Nearly four dozen people volunteer to prepare, cook and serve dinner. Thanks to the sponsors, dinners are offered at a reasonable price. This year, the Fish & Chips dinner with coleslaw, a soft drink, dessert, and coffee is still just $10 in advance/$15 at the door - same great price we’ve had for several years! Kids can enjoy pizza or macaroni & cheese, plus a soft drink and dessert, for $5 in advance/$8 at the door. Clam Chowder, beer, and wine are available for an additional charge.

According to Msgr. Mike Rose, the parish was “not looking for another fundraiser, but rather a break-even community event. The Fish Fry is an opportunity for members of the parish and others in the community to gather and socialize, to get to know new people, to have fun, and to eat a great meal. The Fish Fry is intended to be a FUN-raiser!” It has been quite successful, and attendance has certainly grown through the years. Last year, more than 800 meals were served.

For more information on how to purchase tickets, go to stmarysparish.org/fish-fry.

ing a new logo and heart-themed design that celebrates Worcester’s role as the Heart of the Commonwealth. At the center of the new brand are two conjoined hearts forming a subtle “W” pattern, symbolizing connection at every level: from origin to destination, community to community, person to person, and operator to passenger. The design reflects both Worcester’s central location within Massachusetts and WRTA’s mission to deliver convenient, comfortable, safe, and reliable transportation throughout the region.

WRTA PUTS ITS HEART ON THE ROAD THIS VALENTINE’S DAY

bol, and a range of preferences across modern, timeless, and progressive design styles—insights that directly informed the final design. The heart motif represents the people onboard and establishes a consistent, recognizable visual identity across the fleet. The new branding also standardizes the placement of contact information on the exterior of buses, improving clarity and system-wide recognition. Safety and visibility were key considerations in the design. The new WRTA logo appears on all sides of each bus in retroreflective white to enhance visibility, while high-contrast elements support rider and roadway safety. Forward diagonal lines add a sense of movement and energy, reflecting WRTA’s role in keeping the region moving forward. The new brand is anchored by WRTA’s updated slogan: “moving the Worcester region forward with heart.” The message captures the Authority’s commitment to service, connection, and pride in a city that truly sits at the heart of the Commonwealth. This Valentine’s Day, riders will see more than a new look on the road—they’ll see a symbol of connection, community, and care traveling through the Worcester region. Share the Love. The Worcester Regional Transit Authority (WRTA) is a regional transit system that services the City of Worcester and the surrounding 36 communities in the Central Massachusetts area with a bus fleet that includes diesel-electric hybrid buses, and clean-diesel buses. The second largest regional transit authority in Massachusetts, the WRTA offers reliable, comfortable, and safe transportation for traveling to work, shopping, school, medical appointments, and leisure activities. The WRTA also provides paratransit service for the elderly and disabled, as well as a variety of special services for those groups in the entire service area. In 2025, WRTA provided five million passenger trips throughout its system. All fixed routes and paratransit services are free through June 2026.

NO ONE FIGHTS HARDER POUND FOR POUND. EVEN THOUGH SHE DOESN'T QUITE WEIGH ONE.

At the region’s only Level III Neonatal Intensive Care Unit, you’ll find a team of specialists who are ready 24-hours a day to help high-risk infants rise above their challenges and go home with their families. Our ability to provide around-the-clock, exceptional care for premies and their families is more proof that we’re the only pediatric hospital of its kind in the region.
