tion and installation of a telescope pedestal and an informational sign with a planisphere at the Cedar Lake Recreational Area in Sturbridge. Burns is a page at the Joshua Hyde Public Library and wanted to combine her fascination with space and astronomy with her work at the library, which has a telescope that the public can borrow. Her project, named the Joyce E. Sinnott Stargazing Site, honors a longtime library trustee who passed away in 2024. The pedestal and sign will move to a permanent location at Heins Farm at a later date.

Burns, who recently graduated from Tantasqua Regional High School, started in Cub Scouts in 2018 with Pack 161 of Sturbridge, and the following year became one of the founding members of Troop 163 for girls. As a scout, she has participated in numerous campouts, hikes, and adventures of all kinds, including a trip last year to Sea Base in Florida, one of Scouting America's High Adventure Bases. She earned thirty-four merit badges, as well as the National Outdoor Achievement Award for camping, and served as a troop guide and senior patrol leader. She was inducted into the Order of the Arrow (OA)—Scouting America's honor society—and has served as the troop's OA representative, as well as a committee member of the OA Admonition Team, which aims to make the program more inclusive for all scouts. She will also serve as the Youth Contingent Leader for the next National Order of the Arrow Conference.

At Tantasqua, Burns was on the swim team and was captain of the tennis team. She was the vice president of SAVE (Students Against Violence Everywhere) Promise Club, and the parliamentarian of the National Honor Society. She will attend UMass Amherst in the fall and plans to study astronomy and biochemistry with the goal of becoming an astronaut.

Troop 163 is a Scouting America troop for girls ages 11–17. The troop is based in Sturbridge but has members across southern Worcester County. To learn more about scouting or Troop 163, email troop163sturbridge@gmail.com.

Local Scout creates Little Free Art Gallery at Joshua Hyde Library

STURBRIDGE — Sturbridge has a colorful new reason to stop by the Joshua Hyde Public Library. On Wednesday, June 24, the community welcomed its first Little Free Art Gallery, a cheerful new addition where creativity can be shared, discovered, and celebrated.

The gallery was researched, planned, and created by local Girl Scout Eilee Reed to earn the notable Girl Scout Gold Award. The Girl Scout Gold Award is the highest achievement in Girl Scouting and challenges Scouts to identify a community need, create a sustainable solution, and make a lasting community impact. Eilee's project does just that by bringing free, accessible art to residents of all ages. The Little Free Art Gallery is located in front of the Joshua Hyde Public Library at 306 Main St. in Sturbridge.

Similar to the beloved Little Free Libraries found in many neighborhoods, the Little Free Art Gallery invites visitors to take a piece of art that inspires them, leave behind their own creation, or donate arts and crafts supplies for others to enjoy. From drawings and paintings to handmade crafts, every contribution adds something special to the community treasure.

Supported by the Friends of the Joshua Hyde Library,

the project offers a simple but powerful message:

art belongs to everyone. Congratulations to Reed for creating a joyful new way for neighbors to connect, share, and celebrate creativity in Sturbridge.

Jameson Ardis of Sturbridge graduates from Hobart College

GENEVA, N.Y. — Maura and Jeff Ardis of Sturbridge are pleased to announce that their son Jameson Ardis, a 2022 graduate of Tantasqua Regional High School, has been awarded dual Bachelor's degrees in Education and Environmental Studies from Hobart College in Geneva, N.Y. (upstate / Finger Lakes region).

Hobart (for men) and William Smith College (for women) form the Hobart & William Smith Colleges (HWS.edu), a private liberal arts institution of 1700 undergraduates with one campus, one faculty, and one administration, with distinct NCAA D3 athletic branding. Tracing its origin to 1797, HWS offers students more than 70 areas of study on the edge of Seneca Lake. Graduates include Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, the first woman to hold a medical degree in the United States and a pioneer in her field. HWS' President is Dr. Mark Gearan, who led the Peace Corps from 1995-1999 under President Clinton. HWS pursues The Best of Each for the Betterment of All, to prepare students to lead lives of consequence.

Jameson was a four-year NCAA varsity swimmer, guided campus tours and supported admissions events, and studied abroad at the University of Auckland in New Zealand. He is also a professional competitor in the Japanese skill toy Kendama, sponsored by a manufacturer and traveling globally for competitions.

Following his fifth summer on the senior staff of nearby YMCA overnight summer Camp Woodstock, Jameson will become the Aquatics Director at the Hale YMCA in Putnam, Connecticut, a branch of the Hartford YMCA network.

Local students honored at annual SkillsUSA Workforce Development Event

ATLANTA, Ga. — A career and technical education student in Massachusetts was recognized with a certificate of accomplishment at the SkillsUSA National Leadership & Skills Conference (NLSC) held June 1-5 in Atlanta. An all-time high of 7,000 students competed in the 2026 SkillsUSA Championships at NLSC, which is the largest gathering of the future skilled workforce.

As an indicator of proficiency, Skill Point Certificates were awarded to SkillsUSA Championships competitors who met a predetermined threshold score for their respective competition. Students can add this certificate, an indicator of career readiness, to their employment portfolio.

The following student(s) from your area is a Skill Point Certificate recipient:

Team W (consisting of Brett J Beltzer, Kennadie T Balcunas, Aaron M Lackovic, Sarah H O'Donnell), from Bay Path RVT High School (Charlton), was awarded a Skill Point Certificate in Entrepreneurship.

To be invited to the SkillsUSA Championships, students first had to win their state-level competition, demonstrating their technical skills, workplace skills and personal skills. The national competition featured state champions from middle school, high school and college/postsecondary divisions across the country in 115 hands-on career and leadership competitions including robotics, automotive technology, drafting, criminal justice, aviation maintenance, public speaking and more.

"This showcase of career and technical education demonstrates SkillsUSA at its finest," said SkillsUSA Executive Director Chelle Travis. "Our students, instructors and industry partners work together to ensure that every student excels."

The SkillsUSA Championships is the largest skill competition in the world and covers 1.79 million square feet, equivalent to 31 football fields or 41 acres. It's supported by leaders from 850 businesses, corporations, trade associations and unions who planned and evaluated the competitors against their industry standards. More than 2,000 industry judges and technical committee members also volunteered their time to ensure a successful event.

The next NLSC will be held June 21-25, 2027, in Atlanta. Learn more about SkillsUSA, the No. 1 workforce development organization for students, at www.skillsusa.org.

Looking to the stars while serving the community

The rank of Eagle Scout has always represented more than completing a checklist of merit badges or leading a community project. It reflects years of perseverance, leadership, service and a willingness to leave a place better than it was found. Those qualities deserve recognition wherever they are found, and they are on full display in the accomplishments of Sturbridge's newest Eagle Scout, Anna Burns.

Burns' Eagle Scout project is notable not simply because it created a new community resource, but because it reflects thoughtful creativity. Rather than choosing a project that would be completed and forgotten, she envisioned a place where curiosity could flourish for years to come. The Joyce E. Sinnott Stargazing Site connects residents with the night sky while honoring a woman whose dedication to the Joshua Hyde Public Library helped enrich the community. It is a fitting reminder that education and public service often go hand in hand.

There is something especially meaningful about a project centered on astronomy. In an age dominated by phones, screens and constant distractions, encouraging people to slow down, look up and appreciate the universe above them is a gift in itself. The addition of a telescope pedestal and educational signage creates an opportunity for families, students and amateur astronomers to learn together while enjoying one of nature's greatest displays.

Burns' achievement also highlights how much Scouting continues to offer young people. Leadership is not learned in a classroom alone. It develops through planning, problem-solving, teamwork and overcoming challenges. Organizing an Eagle Scout project requires coordinating volunteers, managing budgets, working with community organizations and following through until the final task is complete. Those are real-world skills that serve young adults long after the project is finished.

Her accomplishments extend well beyond the Eagle rank. Participation in Scouting America's High Adventure program, leadership within the Order of the Arrow, athletics, student organizations and academic success all point to someone who has embraced every opportunity to grow and contribute. None of those achievements happen by accident. They are built over years through discipline, encouragement from mentors and support from family, troop leaders and the broader community.

Perhaps most inspiring is Burns' ambition to study astronomy and biochemistry while pursuing her dream of becoming an astronaut. Whether or not that goal ultimately takes her into space, it reflects the value of encouraging young people to dream boldly. Communities benefit when they celebrate ambition rather than dismiss it as unrealistic. Every scientist, engineer, physician or explorer begins as a curious student who wondered, "What if?"

Her story also serves as a reminder of the importance of opportunities for young women in Scouting. Troop 163 was founded only a few years ago, and Burns is already its ninth Eagle Scout. That remarkable accomplishment demonstrates the enthusiasm and dedication of its members and leaders. The expansion of Scouting has allowed more young people to experience programs that develop confidence, leadership and a lifelong commitment to service.

Communities are strengthened not only by roads, buildings and budgets, but by the character of the people who call them home. Every time a young person volunteers, leads a project or dedicates themselves to helping others, the entire town benefits.

The stars that inspired Anna Burns are unimaginably distant. Yet through her service, leadership and example, she has already made a lasting impact much closer to home. That is something worth celebrating.

OPINION

The Hidden Danger of Investing Too Cautiously

One of the most significant risks investors face isn't losing money in a market dip; it's failing to reach their long-term financial goals.

Many people focus heavily on short-term losses in the stock market and try to protect their savings by investing conservatively or avoiding stocks altogether. But that runs the risk that their savings won't grow enough to keep up with inflation or support future needs.

Understanding what investment risk really means helps you make smarter financial decisions, considering these three key aspects.

- Risk tolerance describes your emotional comfort with risk. If you'd want to pull your money out of the market during a downturn, that reveals something about your tolerance. Many financial advisors use questionnaires to help clients understand how they might react in different market conditions.

- Risk capacity refers to how much risk you can afford to take. Your timeline matters. A 35-year-old saving for retirement has decades to ride out market swings. A retiree drawing income from their portfolio doesn't have that same cushion.

- Required risk describes how much risk you may need to take to reach your financial goals. Higher returns generally come with higher risk, though higher risk does not guarantee higher returns. If you need strong growth to retire comfortably, you may need to accept more short-term volatility.

Sometimes, these elements don't line up. You might be uncomfortable with risk but need strong growth to meet your goals.

Balance and diversification matter: Finding the right balance matters more than you might think. A small difference in your annual rate of return, from 5% to 7% for instance, doesn't just add up a little. It multiplies. That's the power of compounding — returns earning their own returns, year after year, building on an ever-growing base. Over 30 or 35 years, that can become significant.

You needn't choose between playing it so safe your money barely keeps up with inflation and taking on more risk than you're comfortable with. Instead, a balanced mix can fit your comfort level and still help grow your money over time.

The age factor: You'll want to adjust your approach to risk as you get older. If retirement is years away, your portfolio may lean toward growth investments like stocks and stock mutual funds; you have time to absorb short-term losses and benefit from long-term gains. Lower risk investments like bonds still play a role because they can help smooth out changes in your portfolio's value.

As you near retirement, your portfolio may shift toward a more even mix of stocks and bonds to limit exposure to large market swings. The goal is to protect what you've built while still generating enough growth to fund a retirement that could last decades.

Investing well isn't about eliminating risk; it's about taking the right amount of it. Too little risk can be just as damaging as too much. A financial advisor can help you find the balance that matches your comfort level, your financial situation, and your long-term goals.

Investors should understand the risks involved with owning investments, including interest rate risk, credit risk, and market risk. The value of investments fluctuates, and investors can lose some or all of their principal.

The bench nobody reserved

LANTERNS ALONG MAIN STREET By CHARLES

Every town seems to have one.

It's not famous. It doesn't appear on postcards. There's no plaque explaining its historical significance. It's simply a bench.

Maybe it's outside the library. Maybe it's on the town common, beside the post office, or tucked beneath a maple tree near the bandstand. People walk by it every day without giving it much thought. Yet that bench has probably heard more stories than anyone in town.

I found myself sitting on one recently while I waited for an appointment that was running behind. It wasn't a particularly comfortable bench. One armrest was loose, the paint had faded, and the seat tilted just enough to remind you it had been through a few New England winters. Still, people kept coming and going.

An older gentleman stopped to rest after his morning walk. A mother tied her son's sneaker before they continued toward the playground. Two friends chatted for ten minutes before heading in opposite directions. A teenager sat long enough to finish an ice cream cone before pedaling away. None of them stayed very long.

That's the beauty of a town bench. It's a place where nobody feels obligated to linger, but nobody feels rushed to leave. We don't seem to have many places like that anymore.

Coffee shops often expect you to buy something. Restaurants need your table eventually. Even parks seem busier than they once were, filled with organized games and scheduled events.

A simple bench asks nothing of you. You can sit quietly. You can wave to people you know. You can watch the clouds build over the hills or count how many dogs pass by before lunch. For a few minutes, you become part of the rhythm of the town instead of racing through it. I think that's something we've lost without realizing it.

We're very good at getting somewhere. We're not nearly as good at simply being somewhere.

Years ago, people naturally found themselves lingering in public spaces. They visited on front porches, gathered around the town common, or leaned against pickup trucks outside the feed store. Conversations weren't planned. They simply unfolded because people happened to cross paths.

Today, our schedules are tighter and our attention is divided. Even while sitting on that old bench, I noticed several people scrolling through their phones instead of looking around. I understand the temptation. I do it myself.

But every now and then it's worth putting the phone away and seeing what's happening right in front of you. You might notice the child determined to jump over every sidewalk crack. The couple debating where to have lunch. The robin tugging an earthworm from the grass with surprising determination. Ordinary moments don't make headlines, but they're often the ones we remember.

Eventually, my appointment was ready, and I stood up to leave. As I walked away, someone else took my place without missing a beat. The bench didn't care who sat there. It simply waited for the next conversation, the next quiet moment, the next person who needed a place to rest for a little while.

Every town should have a bench like that. And every now and then, we ought to take the time to sit on it.

Sturbridge America250 Committee thanks parade supporters

To the Editor:

The Sturbridge America250 Committee thanks the various supporters and volunteers for their efforts to create and carry out a successful parade on Saturday, June 27. The Sturbridge Police Dept., especially Lt. Larry Bateman, worked hard behind the scenes to plan for the day, to work on the road closures and signage, and to provide safety during the event. Jen Neely and the Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) also contributed to the parade's staging and safety.

A number of local businesses supported the event. They included: Sturbridge Coffee House, providing coffee and water. Cameron and Fairbanks for the donation of the boutonniere for Grand Marshall Bob Briere and the corsage for Special Guest and Oldest Resident, Virginia Jalbert. Old Sturbridge Village allowed us the use of their Museum Education facilities and private access road for staging the parade, and to place the bleachers on the property of the Reeder Family Lodges.

Still seeking classmates for Bartlett Class of 76 reunion

To the Editor:

Families and friends of Bartlett High School, class of 1976: This is our last ditch effort to try and locate the last 14 of our "lost and missing" classmates.

We have made wonderful strides and have contacted almost all of our graduating classmates, except for these last few names.

We ask if you know where they are, new last names, addresses, phone or cell numbers or e-mails, and can share with us, to please send us an e-mail, text or a message on Facebook, or have our classmates reach out directly to one of us. We want everyone to have the chance to attend their 50th class reunion in September.

Thank you so much for any help you can provide.

Missing classmates:

Linda Barone
Brett Buksar
Robert Bennett
James Pizzetti
Marilyn Gagnon (Kozielewicz)
Alan Kozlowski
Cheryl Lowe
Donna Meagher (Lagano)

The Massachusetts Psychiatric Services allowed us the use of their property for the staging at the end of the parade.

And, of course, a big thank you to Bill Emrich for his contribution as parade emcee. His lively commentary and banter was enjoyed by all.

This was a great community effort, and we truly appreciate everyone's contributions!

St. Anne–St. Patrick Parish & Shrine announces 139th Annual Novena to Saint Anne FISKDALE — St. Anne–St. Patrick Parish & Shrine invites the public to the 139th Annual Novena to Saint Anne, taking place Saturday, July 18 through Sunday, July 26. The Novena offers nine days of prayer, worship, and fellowship, bringing together Catholics from many cultures and communities throughout New England.

“This year’s theme is ‘One in Christ, United in Mission,’ which reflects the diversity of the Church and the unity we share through our faith,” said Fr. Salvator Musande, pastor. “As diverse as we might be, we share in the common mission of the Church: making missionary-disciples,” he added. “Everyone is welcome to attend one day, several days, or the entire Novena.”

For more than a century, pilgrims and visitors have gathered at St. Anne Shrine to honor Saint Anne, the mother of the Blessed Virgin Mary and grandmother of Jesus. The tradition of praying a novena dates back to the nine days of prayer between Christ’s Ascension and the coming of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost. Today, novenas continue to be a cherished Catholic devotion, offering an opportunity for prayer, thanksgiving, healing, and spiritual renewal.

Each evening of the Novena includes:

- 5:30 p.m. – Sacrament of Reconciliation in the St. Anne Church Sacristy
- 6:30 p.m. – Rosary Procession beginning at the Generations Statue

BRIMFIELD — The Hitchcock Summer Concert Series sponsored by Country Bank will take place on Wednesdays, 6 to 8 p.m., July 1 through Aug. 19 on the Brimfield Town Common. In the case of rain, concerts will move to Thursday. A food truck will be on site at each event. Picnics are also welcome; chairs and blankets are encouraged.

The series kicks off on July 1 with Woodshed, bringing Acoustic Folk, Country & Americana. Members Jason Wood of Brimfield, along with A.J. Kiernan, Karen Gallant, and Mike St. Germain are four musical friends who found each other through a love of music and mutual admiration, and are known for their signature three-part harmony. BT's Smokehouse will be on site.

July 8 brings The Island Castaways whose love of Buffet-style escapism infuses the pride they take in creating a relaxing atmosphere where there are many smiles, laughter and dancing, and lasting good time memories that create the ultimate Trop Rock experience. The featured food truck will be Flippin' the Bird BBQ.

After a week-long hiatus for July's Brimfield Flea Market, The New England Digital Accordion Orchestra returns on July 22. Conducted by Sam Falchetti, the nation's first digital accordion orchestra features about 20 musicians from across New England. Using state-of-the-art Roland digital accordions, the group replicates the sounds of various instruments like flutes, trumpets, and a rhythm section to showcase an impressive range of genres including Big Band, Broadway, Ethnic, Country, and Rock. BT's Smokehouse will return on this evening.

July 29 is all about polka with the return of The Eddie Forman Orchestra, also known as "E.F.O.," a western Massachusetts polka band that has been performing before audiences since 1968. Eddie Forman started the band while he was still in high school, and has been creating and recreating music ever since, garnering one of the largest polka followings in the New England area. Off The Hook will be the evening's featured food truck.

August 5th brings the Brimfield debut of The Willies - a popular, community-focused classic rock and Americana band based out of Belchertown. The band performs across the Western Mass region, playing high-energy hits from the 1950s through the 1980s, modern country, and rock standards. Flippin' the Bird BBQ returns for this concert.

Long-time series favorite CobbleStoneRoad of Connecticut returns on August 12th with high-energy country. Well-known throughout the region for playing modern and classic country hits from the 1990s to today, their energetic style mixes classic country with rock and blues. Smashing Patties will have their concert series debut this evening.

The series closes out on August 19th with Hard Knox, a Westfield, Massachusetts-based party rock and cover band known for their high-energy shows and "forgotten classics" setlist. Instead of regular cover tunes, they play unique, underappreciated gems from the '70s and '80s, making them a fixture in the Western Mass and Northern Connecticut music scenes. BT's Smokehouse will return to bookend this year's food truck lineup.

In addition to Presenting Sponsor Country Bank, this program is supported in part by a grant from the Brimfield Cultural Council, a local agency which is supported by the Mass Cultural Council.

OBITUARIES

Sumner D. Barr, 102

After a long life and a conspicuous lack of illness, Sumner D. Barr of Brimfield died at 102. Born in Worcester to Marjorie and George Barr, he is predeceased by wife Dorothy, brother Wayne, and son Glen.

He had a tremendous will to live; the morning he died he rose and sat at his kitchen table at his usual time. He lived in his home for over 75 years; his wish was to die there. He remained sharp witted and well-groomed to the end.

An inveterate, tireless worker, Sum held a wide variety of jobs over his lifetime. As a child he candled eggs at his aunt's chicken farm. He learned farming, cooking, basic electrical and plumbing as a teen, and worked in various mills and factories in the area. After graduating from Hitchcock Academy, he bought and learned to operate a bulldozer. In 1944 after serving in the Army, he started a construction company with his brother Wayne. Graduated from embalming school in NYC, but did not pursue that career, sold caskets, worked as a government clerk, became a licensed electrician and electrical inspector, held positions as police chief, fire chief, and on the select board and highway department. A sergeant on the Wilbraham Police force for 6 years, he concurrently attended American International College earning his BA and MA in 1972. He became a science teacher at Tantasqua Jr. High, cherishing that work and his students. He often would say "I never called out sick, was never late, never left early. I gave detention regularly, stayed late. Was lunch monitor for all lunch periods every day for 14 years. I don't know if the kids liked me, but I liked them. I was firm but fair."

Sumner was a local historian, being a rare remaining resident of East Brimfield Village, which now lies under the reservoir.

He and brother Wayne moved, rebuilt and restored many exhibits at OSV, notably the blacksmith shop and covered bridge. They also did extensive work at the New England exhibit at the Smithsonian.

Sum enjoyed motorcycles, cars, and long drives around New England seeking ice cream and seafood. He listened to music daily. Aptly, Natalie Cole's Unforgettable was his favorite song. He was a 32nd Degree Mason of the Dayspring Lodge.

He leaves his loving daughter, granddaughter, many nieces, nephews and beloved friends. He would appreciate donations to the Shriner's Children's Hospital or Audubon.

Frisbie's Dairy Barn to celebrate National Ice Cream Day with 24 hours of scooping!

STURBRIDGE — In honor of National Ice Cream Day on Sunday, July 19, Frisbie's Dairy Barn is taking on its biggest celebration yet: keeping all six locations open for 24 consecutive hours. The walk up window at 195 Charlton Rd. will hold its first ever 24 hour celebration!

From breakfast-inspired ice cream flavors, limited-edition flavors and surprises throughout the day, guests are invited to celebrate the sweetest holiday of the year anytime—morning, noon, or midnight.

"It's a celebration of everything we love about ice cream throughout the year- you may also see some seasonal favorites reappear for one day only!" said co-owner Kendra Walker. "You'll have to stop by to check out exactly what we've got going on!"

What began as a fun tradition at Frisbie's original New Britain location in 2021 has grown into an annual celebration that customers look forward to each year. Now in its sixth year, the tradition has expanded alongside the company's growth, with all Frisbie's locations participating in the 24-hour event for the first time. We will open at midnight into Sunday morning and stay open until 11:59 p.m.

"We're attempting something that nobody has done before—operating all six of our locations for 24 straight hours," said owner Paul Parks III, who came up with the idea 6 years ago. "It's a huge undertaking, but it's a celebration worthy of ice cream. National Ice Cream Day is our favorite holiday, and we can't think of a better way to celebrate with our communities."

Participating locations include New Britain, Windsor, East Lyme, West Hartford, North Attleboro, and Sturbridge.

For updates and event details, follow @FrisbiesDairyBarn on instagram.

Drought conditions prompt water restrictions

SOUTHBRIDGE/CHARLTON — The Massachusetts Drought Task Force issues a Level -2 Significant Drought status for Worcester County. The Town of Southbridge now has to require that all Southbridge and Charlton water customers refrain from all outside water use except for handheld watering between the hours of 5 and 9 p.m. Please turn off all outside sprinkler systems.

This declaration from the State also applies to homes with private wells.

Certain water uses are not subject to restrictions such as production of food and fiber, health and safety reasons, maintenance of livestock, and core functions of a business (for example irrigation for a nursery).

For the general public's information, Currently the Southbridge Water Departments reservoir system is at 100.1 percent of total capacity. This is within our historical average for this time of year.

The declaration is a county wide declaration, and not due to any current water storage shortfalls within the Southbridge Water Department. This declaration is part of new laws and regulations put forth by the State legislature, and enforcement went into effect in April of 2025.

To be clear, the Southbridge Water department is not experiencing any water storage shortages currently.

The declaration of Level- 2 significant drought will remain in effect until the State

Drought Task Force deems that the conditions within Worcester County have returned to acceptable levels.

More information can be found at <https://www.mass.gov/orgs/drought-management-task-force> Please feel free to contact the Southbridge Water Department at 508-764-3207 if you have any questions or concerns.

Community Broadband Networks and Massachusetts Broadband Institute announce launch of high-speed Internet initiative in South Worcester County

SOUTHBRIDGE — Community Broadband Networks (“CBN”), funded by the Massachusetts Broadband Institute (MBI), a division of the Massachusetts Technology Collaborative (MassTech), is pleased to announce the launch of its project within the Residential Retrofit Program, bringing affordable, high-speed fiber internet service to residents across South Worcester County. The initiative formally commenced with a Go-Live event on June 17, 2026, at 60 Charlton Street in Southbridge, the first property to receive CBN service under this transformative program.

Supported by funding from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts through the American Rescue Plan Act’s Capital Projects Fund, the Residential Retrofit Program is designed to deliver reliable, gigabit-capable broadband infrastructure to underserved multi-dwelling communities. This investment represents a significant step forward in expanding digital access and ensuring that residents in historically underserved areas have the connectivity necessary to participate fully in today’s digital economy.

The June 17 Go-Live event celebrated the activation of service at the Southbridge Housing Authority property located at 60 Charlton Street. Residents had the opportunity to learn more about available service offerings, engage directly with the CBN team, and take advantage of early enrollment opportunities. The event also served as a community gathering to mark the beginning of a broader effort to modernize connectivity throughout the region.

“This launch represents a meaningful milestone not only for Southbridge, but for the entire region,” said James Orioli, Chief Operating Officer of Community Broadband Networks. “Our mission is to ensure that reliable, high-speed internet is both accessible and affordable for all residents. Through our partnership with MBI, we are proud to deliver critical infrastructure that will support education, workforce development, healthcare access, and overall quality of life for the communities we serve.”

The 60 Charlton St. deployment represents the first phase of a broader infrastructure initiative that will extend throughout South Worcester County, including communities such as Southbridge, Charlton, Sturbridge, Oxford, Webster, and surrounding areas. Construction across the project footprint is scheduled to occur through July 2026, with phased service activations continuing thereafter as each location is completed.

As part of the Residential Retrofit Program, CBN is deploying a fiber-to-the-premises network architecture within participating properties, enabling residents to access high-capacity, low-latency broadband service. The network is designed to deliver symmetrical gigabit speeds, with scalability to support future increases in demand. In addition to infrastructure improvements, the program includes a strong emphasis on digital equity, ensuring that residents have not only access to service, but also the tools and support necessary to fully benefit from connectivity.

“Through the Residential Retrofit Program, MBI is providing affordable and reliable access to help residents gain digital skills, apply for jobs and access community resources,” said MBI Director Michael Baldino. “Our partnership with CBN across South Worcester County will uplift historically marginalized communities, narrowing the digital divide and expanding economic opportunity in the region.”

The project includes enhancements to in-building infrastructure, expanded connectivity to individual residential units, and improvements to shared spaces to support reliable internet access throughout each property. These investments are intended to create a long-term, sustainable broadband solution that meets the needs of residents today while preparing communities for the future.

The Go-Live event at 60 Charlton Street marks the beginning of this broader regional deployment and underscores the shared commitment of CBN and MBI to closing the digital divide across Massachusetts.

Community members interested in learning more about the service or upcoming availability are encouraged to contact Community Broadband Networks for additional information.

Bay Path celebrates 59 CTI graduates, expands workforce training programs

CHARLTON — Bay Path Regional Vocational Technical High School proudly celebrated the graduation of 59 students from its Career Technical Initiative (CTI) program last evening, marking a significant milestone in the program's continued growth and impact.

The CTI program, launched in 2024, provides adult learners with access to high-quality, hands-on technical training designed to meet regional workforce demands. Last night's graduates represent a diverse group of individuals who demonstrated dedication, perseverance, and a strong commitment to building new career pathways. Many balanced work, family, and personal responsibilities while completing rigorous 200-hour training programs that prepare them for immediate employment in high-demand industries.

“This graduating class represents the heart of what the CTI program is all about—opportunity, access, and workforce readiness,” said Marci Komssi, Program Coordinator. “We are incredibly proud of these 59 graduates and the determination they demonstrated throughout the program.”

The success of the CTI program is made possible through continued state investment and workforce development partnerships. As part of the Commonwealth's commitment to economic recovery and growth, $24.2 million was awarded to 23 organizations throughout Massachusetts to train 2,490 individuals. These strategic investments, led by the Massachusetts Workforce Skills Cabinet, are designed to expand access to career pathway programs and better position residents to fill critical workforce needs across the state.

- Building Maintenance
- HVAC
- Culinary
- Manufacturing
- Auto Collision
- Auto Technology
- Diesel Mechanic
- Welding
- Electrical

Since its inception, the CTI program has continued to expand in both enrollment and program diversity, attracting students from local communities as well as across the region. The program remains a critical component of Bay Path's efforts to support workforce development and provide meaningful career pathways for adult learners.

For more information about the CTI program or to apply for upcoming opportunities, please contact Marci Komssi at mkomssi@baypath.net. Building on this momentum, Bay Path is expanding its program offerings to reach even more adult learners. For the first time, the school will offer a 200-hour Building Maintenance program in a five-week hybrid summer format, running from June 29 through July 31. This program is offered in partnership with MassHire, with applications opening this week.

Paul Revere & Friends brings Revolutionary fun to Oak Haven Campground

WALEs — Laughter, music, and plenty of audience participation filled Oak Haven Campground on July 3 as families gathered to celebrate America's 250th birthday with a

The Ruth Wells Center for the Arts is pleased to highlight the July artist, Laurie Boniface. Her opening reception is Saturday, July 11, 3 to 7 p.m. The galleries will be open Saturday and Sundays throughout the month, noon to 4 p.m. The Ruth Wells Center is located at 111 Main St. in Southbridge. Founded as the Quinebaug Valley Council for the Arts and Humanities, the organization fosters art, music and culture in the community with monthly exhibits, Open Studio, Photoworks 2.0, as well as workshops for youth and adults. Laurie Boniface is well known as the founder of Sadie Greens retail establishment in Sturbridge. Her exhibit will feature photos, paintings and jewelry. The opening reception welcomes everyone. performance by Boston's National Award-Winning Musical Ventriloquist Kevin Driscoll, appearing as Paul Revere & Friends™.

Camper's of all ages quickly became part of the show, transforming the morning into an interactive celebration of American history, comedy, and music.

Among the morning's biggest crowd-pleasers were adult campers by the idea that British General Gage was a bully to the Boston colonists.

Driscoll had the audience laughing when he assured everyone that David and Paula did not sing at the same time, joking, "We're not that good."

The celebration took a heartfelt turn when one of Driscoll's puppet characters performed a brief rendition of "Happy, Happy Birthday." The audience then joined together to sing the traditional "Happy Birthday" to young camper T.J., creating one of the morning's most memorable moments.

Children eagerly volunteered throughout the performance, taking turns on stage with tambourines, maracas, and drumsticks while helping provide the musical accompaniment. Many also discovered what it takes to become a ventriloquist by selecting a puppet from Driscoll's well-known big drum case. Each young volunteer stepped up to the microphone, learned to move the puppet's mouth, and proudly counted, "One, Two, Three," using a brand-new puppet voice. Their enthusiasm earned loud applause from family members and fellow campers alike.

Adding to the Revolutionary spirit, Driscoll reminded the audience that while there is no historical evidence that Paul Revere ever owned a talking dog, "if he did, it probably would have looked and sounded like Doug the Talking Dog."

Driscoll also thanked Oak Haven Campground staff members Becky, Dave, and Sue for their hospitality and for helping create a welcoming atmosphere for the holiday celebration.

As communities across the country commemorate the nation's Semiquincentennial, the July 3 performance at Oak Haven Campground offered a lighthearted reminder that history can be educational, interactive, and fun—especially when the audience becomes part of the show.
