A memorable experience for Bartlett High School students

WEBSTER — Former Bartlett High School, Class of 1971, alumnus, Ron Donais recently returned to his roots to make a meaningful impact on the next generation of student officials. As an National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) Certified Referee along with a forty-one year officiating career, Donais volunteered his time to work with students in the school's Refereeing (RefReps) class.

During his visit, Donais focused on teaching the proper mechanics of officiating, breaking down positioning, signaling, and game management in a clear and engaging way. Students had the opportunity to see firsthand how officials communicate, move on the court, and maintain control of the game skills that are essential for anyone looking to step into the role of a referee.

His hands-on approach allowed students to actively participate, practice signals, and ask questions, creating an interactive learning experience going beyond the classroom. The class was thankful for his time and enjoyed the opportunity very much.

Dudley residents enrolled in town's energy aggregate realize winter savings

DUDLEY — The Dudley Community Choice Power Supply Program currently provides competitive power supply to approximately 2,800 consumers in the Town of Dudley.

The aggregation report for the fourth quarter of 2025 shows those consumers saved a combined $153,314 compared to NGRID's Basic Service rates.

"With over $150,000 in savings in just one quarter, this program is delivering real results for Dudley residents," Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda said. "The Board of Selectmen and I are pleased to offer an option that helps our community—especially seniors and families—manage rising and unpredictable energy costs."

Saint Joseph 1-25 Club receives 2026 Partners in Education Award

WEBSTER — Saint Joseph School is proud to recognize the Saint Joseph 1-25 Club as the recipient of this year's Partners in Education Award, presented in appreciation for the organization's long standing dedication and support of the school.

Founded in 1976 by Monsignor Stanislaus Kubik—originally as the 1-20 Club—the organization was created to help offset the school's winter heating costs while bringing members of the parish community together in fellowship. Over the years, the club has remained a cherished tradition, combining its weekly drawings and membership banquets with a shared commitment to supporting Catholic education at Saint Joseph School.

While the club's primary mission has always been to provide financial assistance to the school, it has also fostered a strong sense of community. The gatherings and dinners have created opportunities for friendship and fellowship that have strengthened the bonds within our parish for nearly fifty years.

Saint Joseph School extends sincere gratitude to the many volunteers who have sustained the club through the years, including its early leaders: Theresa Jankowski, Constance Czechowski, Magdalen Gromelski Bibeau, Jo-Ann Canty, Elizabeth Meagher, Eleanor Noga, Patricia Parslow, and Theresa Wagner.

Today, the 1-25 Club continues to thrive under the leadership of Marlene Proulx (Director), Lorraine Biadasz (Co-Director), Sheryl Bergeron (Captain), and Barbara Kryger (Captain), along with the dedicated kitchen crew managed by Felicia Kolodziejczak and Jane Wilk, whose meals and hospitality have become a hallmark of the club's gatherings.

We congratulate and thank the 1-25 Club for nearly five decades of generosity, fellowship, and unwavering support of Saint Joseph School. Your dedication continues to strengthen both our school and our parish community.

Dudley sets ribbon cutting for new Richard Carmignani Sr. Fun Zone at the Dudley Municipal Complex

DUDLEY — A ribbon cutting to celebrate the opening of the new, modern Fun Zone playground is set for 5 to 7 p.m. June 17, with a rain date of July 8 or 9.

All are invited to the evening ceremony at 71 West Main Street as our community comes together to mark the completion of a rebuild project that began in 2022.

"This is Dudley at its best—neighbors, partners, and local organizations coming together to create something special for our kids and families," Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda said. "The Board of Selectmen and I are proud to see the Fun Zone come back stronger than ever."

The original Fun Zone was closed early in the COVID-19 pandemic. When it was to reopen, damaged equipment, deteriorating surface materials and accessibility deficiencies caused its permanent closure. Residents' call to reopen the playground in 2022 prompted town officials to enlist help from the Central Massachusetts Regional Planning Commission (CMRPC) to gain grant funding.

The playground was selected by the state Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs to receive a $496,650 Parkland Acquisitions and Renovations for Communities (PARC) grant. The grant represents an amount of up to 70 percent reimbursement of the project cost, which is estimated at $704,410. The local contribution, therefore, is expected to be $207,760.

Town meeting voters approved the $704,410 borrowing. Once the $496,650 reimbursement is received and applied to the borrowing, the remaining debt is to be paid from available town funds.

Radner Design and Assoc. worked with the Recreation Commission and met with local children to develop the one-of-a-kind playground and select its equipment. Since the groundbreaking in August, the Commission has been overseeing the construction by lowest bidder Landscaping by J. Michael.

New to the playground rebuild story is the Webster-Dudley-Oxford Chamber of Commerce,

P.E.O. Chapters R and AA join forces to revive beloved "Chocolate Sunday" fundraiser

CHARLTON — After a hiatus of several years, a cherished local tradition is making a decadent return. Sheila Ansley of P.E.O. Chapter R recently announced that the organization's signature "Chocolate Sunday" is officially back on the calendar, thanks to a dynamic new partnership with Chapter AA.

The fundraiser—an afternoon dedicated to sampling gourmet chocolate treats, coffee, and tea—was previously sidelined due to the intensive labor required for a single small group to manage. However, after Chapter R reached out to their sisters in Chapter AA, the two groups agreed to a joint venture. By splitting the workload, the chapters have found a sustainable way to bring the sweetness back to Charlton.

Event details
Date: Sunday, May 17
Time: 2 p.m.

Location: The Performing Arts Center at The Overlook, Charlton

Mission: All proceeds support the P.E.O. Sisterhood's mission of providing life-changing educational opportunities and scholarships for women.

Contacts: Sheila Ansley 508-434-2649 or Elizabeth Pacey 508-829-4504

A season of sisterhood: Chapter R's Active Winter

The revival of Chocolate Sunday comes on the heels of a busy winter for Chapter R. Despite a string of "historically biting" temperatures, members remained dedicated to their cultural and social calendar.

In December, members braved one of the coldest nights of the year to tour the "Winter Reimagined" display at Tower Hill Botanic Garden. While the air was frigid, the spectacular light installations proved well worth the chill.

The momentum continued into January with two standout events:

Musical excellence: Members attended a moving organ concert performed by Amanda Mole, daughter of Jackie Mole. The performance offered a warm, soaring reprieve from the January frost.

Founders Day: The group honored the P.E.O. Sisterhood's 1869 roots at the Founders Day Program. Members «toughed out» the New England cold to enjoy a commemorative meal and program honoring the seven women who started the organization over 150 years ago.

Looking ahead to spring

As the frost thaws, Chapter R is looking forward to milder weather and continued community engagement.

For over a century and a half, the P.E.O. Sisterhood has focused on the intersection of friendship and philanthropy. Through various

A playground rebuilt, a community renewed

There are some projects in a town that go far beyond bricks, boards, and budgets. The rebuilding of Dudley's Fun Zone playground is one of them.

When residents gather this June to celebrate the reopening at 71 West Main St., they will not only be marking the completion of a construction effort. They will be celebrating the return of a shared community space that generations of local families have counted on as part of everyday life.

The original Fun Zone served children and parents for years before safety concerns and aging equipment forced its closure during the early days of the pandemic. At the time, the loss was felt quietly but deeply. A playground is not simply a place to swing and climb. It is where neighbors meet, friendships begin, and families build routines around time outdoors together.

What stands in its place today reflects something stronger than what was lost.

The rebuilt playground represents careful planning, cooperation across agencies, and a willingness by residents to invest in the town's future. Support from the state's Parkland Acquisitions and Renovations for Communities program made the project financially possible, covering a significant share of the cost and easing the burden on local taxpayers. That kind of partnership shows how state programs can work effectively when local communities are prepared with a clear vision and steady leadership.

Equally important was the decision to involve local children in the planning process. Inviting young residents to help shape the playground they will use is more than a thoughtful gesture. It sends a message that their voices matter and that public spaces belong to everyone.

Projects like this do not succeed on funding alone. They succeed because people care enough to stay involved over time. The Recreation Commission's oversight, collaboration with design professionals, and persistence through the long process from closure to reopening all played a role in bringing the effort across the finish line.

Now, another chapter is beginning.

The Webster-Dudley-Oxford Chamber of Commerce has stepped forward to help reduce the local financial share through a sponsorship campaign that invites businesses and residents to take part in supporting the playground's future. Naming opportunities and sponsorship levels give community members a chance to leave a lasting mark on a space that will serve families for decades to come.

That kind of participation strengthens the connection between local organizations and the people they serve. It also reminds us that public spaces are not maintained by government alone. They depend on shared responsibility.

There is something encouraging about seeing a project that began with a problem end with a celebration. What started as a closure became a conversation. That conversation became a plan. And that plan became a playground built for the next generation.

As families gather for the ribbon cutting this summer, they will be stepping into more than a new recreation area. They will be stepping into proof that when neighbors, local leaders, and community partners work together, even familiar places can return better than before.

A Revolutionary family: The Rices of Auburn

BY HELEN POIRIER
AUBURN HISTORICAL SOCIETY

When the South Parish of Worcester was formed in 1773, people living in Oxford, Leicester and Worcester, within three miles of where the meeting house was going to be built, were included as were those from Sutton living within a mile and a half. Among the families from Worcester were Gershom Rice Sr, Gershom Jr. and his son, Comfort Rice.

The Rice family goes back to Stanstead, Suffolk England with Deacon Edmund Rice. It was his son, Thomas, who migrated to Sudbury before Gershom Sr. was born in 1696. Gershom was the second settler of Worcester around 1722. He was buried, at the age of 102, in the Old Burial Ground that was under what is now the Worcester Common. He was moved along with 110 other remains to Hope Cemetery in 1968. An article in the Worcester Spy after his death states, "He was naturally of very pleasant disposition, very courteous in his behavior towards all and withal grave and serious." Gershom Sr. built his house on land in the area of 204 Pakachoag in 1736. It housed five generations of the Rice family through the years with great grandson, Edward, replacing the original building in 1921-22. In the 1890's the estate was purchased by Frank P. Knowles and renamed "Highlawn Farm."

The Rice family was very involved with the town participating in town government and military service. Gershom Jr. served as a private in Captain John Crowl's company, Colonel Ebenezer Learned's regiment from Oxford, which marched on the alarm of April 19, 1775. He served 6 days. He also held town and church offices from 1775-1777.

Comfort Rice did military recruitment as a member of the town's committee of commission in 1775 and purchased beef for troops in 1780, both of which qualify as "Aiding the Cause." At this time, he had the rank of lieutenant, which was sighted with his name on town records, although no specific documentation for field duty has been found. Other offices he held through the years included assessor, school squadron leader, treasurer, town meeting moderator, highway surveyor, tax inquiry committee, bondsman and fence viewer.

Comfort's son, Jonathan, was a private in Captain John Cutler's Company, in Colonel Luke Drury's regiment from August 28, 1781, to Nov. 28, 1781. He appears with rank of private on Muster & Pay roll of Capt. John Cutler's Company, Col. Luke Drury's regiment Time of Marching 20 Aug 1781. He joined regiment at West Point 28 Aug 1781, time of discharge: 28 Nov 1781. He became a deacon later in life. His son, John [1787-1813] became a successful blacksmith in town. At the time of his death, the real estate of John Rice consisted of a very valuable and new blacksmith's shop, a new and well finished dwelling-house and barn, and ½ acre of land near the meeting house in Ward. It also included 10 acres of valuable mowing and pastureland within ½ mile of the other estate.

George Dwight Rice, great grandson of Comfort, enlisted in the Union Army on Aug. 20, 1862, and was mustered in on Sept. 2 to Company C, 51st Regiment M.N.M. The 51st regiment was organized in Worcester between Sept. 25 and Oct. 30, 1862. In Nov. the unit was moved to Boston then New Bern NC. It was assigned to Major Gen. John G. Foster, and took part in the Battles of Kinston, White Hall and Goldsborough Bridge, to name a few. George died in New Bern March 9, 1863.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Veteran community will restructure the 2026 Memorial Day Parade to reflect current realities

To the Editor:

The veteran community will decide early next month to restructure the Memorial Day Parade and related activities due to declining participation caused by an aging and shrinking veteran population.

This decline has also reduced attendance at veterans' organization meetings and ceremonies. The trend reflects a broader cultural shift, as younger veterans from recent conflicts are less represented than older generations. During the Vietnam Era, approximately 10 percent of the US population served in the military. Since the mid-1990s, following the Cold War, about four tenths of a percent of Americans have served, a decrease from eight tenths of a percent after Vietnam. The writer of this article served in the US Army after the Vietnam Era during both periods and have observed these changes firsthand.

After extensive coordination with the Veterans Services District of Webster and Dudley, the Memorial Day Committee, and the Veterans Council, I can confirm the disappointment felt by veterans and local citizens. This is an extraordinary time, and although the decision to restructure is made with concern and sadness, it is necessary.

Easter morning on Main Street

Easter has always felt a little different from the other holidays that come around each year. It does not arrive with the deep certainty of Christmas, when the calendar and the weather seem to agree with each other. Easter comes when it is ready, sometimes in snow flurries, sometimes in warm sunshine, and often right in the middle of that muddy, hopeful stretch we call early spring here in Massachusetts.

LANTERNS
STREET
By CHARLES

When I was younger, I used to think Easter was mostly about new shoes and stiff collars. My mother believed strongly that everyone ought to look their best that morning, and she was not alone. If you stood outside almost any church in town back then, you would see a line of families stepping carefully across damp grass, children holding woven baskets and fathers brushing lint from jackets they had not worn since the year before.

Even now, I still notice those small details on Easter Sunday. The parking lots fill earlier than usual. The bells seem to ring a little longer. People who have not seen one another since winter's first snowfall stop to talk in the sunshine as if they had been waiting all season for that chance.

There is something comforting about that rhythm.

In many of our towns, Easter also means the return of activity on the common. Before long, there will be egg hunts organized by local volunteers, bright plastic eggs scattered across grass that only weeks ago was hidden under snowbanks. Parents stand along the edges with coffee cups in their hands, calling out reminders not to run too fast, while the youngest children

Risks threatening Gen Z's retirement – and how to tackle them

ANTONOPOULOS

While older generations worry about having enough money for retirement, many Gen Z workers aren't even starting to save. Research in 2025 by Edward Jones and Morning Consult shows that nearly half haven't begun setting money aside for their golden years, and only 22 percent are contributing to a workplace retirement plan.

The culprit is a perfect storm of financial pressures that can make saving for the future feel impossible.

One of the biggest challenges this generation faces is debt. High-interest credit card balances and persistent student loan payments leave many feeling they're just trying to stay afloat, rather than planning decades ahead.

The cost of living doesn't help either. Nearly 60 percent of Gen Z renters are considered "rent-burdened," spending more than 30 percent of their pre-tax income on rent, according to a StreetEasy analysis of U.S. Census Bureau data. Rising prices driven by inflation and tariffs squeeze budgets further, moving retirement savings down the priority list.

The nature of work has also changed. Gen Z is more likely than previous generations to hold gig jobs, contract positions or other flexible work arrangements that often don't include employer retirement plans, according to Pew Research. Even when plans are available, only 22 percent participate. Feeling overwhelmed by jargon, confused by investment choices or focusing only on today's experiences and technology can all delay participation. These early gaps may lead to catch-up needs later in life.

Unfortunately, Gen Z has little faith in the retirement safety net. Only about a third of Gen Z-ers say they believe Social Security will still exist when they retire, according to the latest information from the CATO Institute.

Fortunately, there are steps Gen Z can take now to get their retirement savings off to a good start:

Start small: Even a few dollars per paycheck builds a savings habit and gets compounding interest working in their favor. Early momentum matters more than starting big.

Let compounding do its work: Small, consistent contributions can grow dramatically over time, especially when they have decades to accumulate.

Use a workplace retirement account: For anyone with access to a plan, enroll and contribute at least enough to receive any employer match. It's one of the few forms of "free money" available.

Open an IRA: If no plan is available through work, take charge by opening an individual retirement account (IRA).

Simplify investing: If the choices feel confusing, consider options such as a target date fund, which reduces complexity and helps keep you properly invested without needing expert advice.

Use found money: Direct tax refunds, bonuses or gig income into retirement savings to boost progress without straining the monthly budget.

Automate contributions: Automatic transfers make saving effortless. Review this annually and increase contributions as income grows.

Build confidence: If investing feels overwhelming, look for quick financial education resources from an employer, plan provider or reputable nonprofit organization. Even a little knowledge can make decisions easier.

The path to retirement doesn't require perfection — just progress. Building consistency early helps create choices, security and financial breathing room later in life.

move carefully as if each egg might be a small treasure. Those moments matter more than we sometimes admit.

They remind us that spring is not only a change in temperature. It is a change in spirit. After months of early sunsets and quiet evenings, people begin opening their doors again. Neighbors wave from across drive-ways. Someone starts raking leaves that should have been gone last November. Someone else sets a chair on the porch for the first time in months.

Easter seems to arrive right when we need that reminder most.

Over the years, I have also come to appreciate the quieter side of the holiday. Not every Easter is crowded or busy. Some are spent around a kitchen table with only a few voices. Some pass with a short walk after church and a long conversation later in the afternoon. And some are marked simply by noticing the first real warmth in the air and being thankful for it.

There is a steadiness in that kind of celebration.

In small towns like ours, holidays have a way of carrying memories forward. The same churches still open their doors. The same streets lead to the same town halls.

Calling all gardeners, growers & farmers to Fifth Annual Dudley Grows Together Plant Hop DUDLEY – The Dudley Agricultural Advisory Commission is excited to announce the Fifth Annual Dudley Grows Together Plant Hop, taking place on Saturday, May 16 from 9 a.m. to noon – rain or shine.

The Plant Hop is a community event that gives local Dudley farmers and gardeners the opportunity to sell vegetable and flower seedlings directly from their homes or growing locations throughout Dudley.

A map of participating locations will be created and distributed by the Commission so visitors from Dudley and surrounding communities can easily travel from stop to stop to shop for locally grown plants.

New this year, the Agricultural Advisory Commission seeks Dudley residents who are interested in participating as plant sellers. Gardeners are welcome to sell vegetable or flower seedlings and plants (please note cannabis and hemp plants are not permitted).

Residents who would like to participate should sign up by emailing ameradaholsteins@charter.net or LLorkiewicz@dudleyma.gov so their location can be included on the official event map.

The deadline to sign up as a seller is Monday, April 20.

The same families return to the same pews, sometimes with new generations sitting where their grandparents once did. Even when things change, there is a sense that the day itself still knows its way around town.

I think that is why Easter continues to feel important, even for people who mark it quietly. It is not only a religious observance or a children's holiday with colored eggs and chocolate rabbits. It is a signal that winter is finally loosening its grip and that our communities are waking up again together.

By the time evening settles in on Easter Sunday, the sun usually lingers a little longer than it did the week before. That extra light feels like a promise of what is ahead. Gardens will soon be planted. Ball fields will fill again. Windows will stay open later into the evening.

And just like that, another New England spring has begun along Main Street.

Annual JAK-L 5K returns to Oxford to support youth mental health

OXFORD — The pavement of Maple Road will soon be filled with the sound of rhythmic footsteps and the spirit of community remembrance. On Saturday, June 13, the annual JAK-L Strides 5K Run/Walk will return to the Oxford Community Center, aiming to turn miles into momentum for local mental health awareness and suicide prevention.

The event, which officially kicks off at 9 a.m., is more than just a race; it is a dedicated effort to fund vital mental health programs within local school systems. In a time when student well-being is a top priority for educators and parents alike, the proceeds from this year's 5K will go directly toward providing resources for suicide prevention and emotional support for the community's youth.

Event Committee members, in alphabetical order: Christine Afful, Kerry Boucher, David Bielicki, Laurie Boucher, Ruth Cahill, Joy Kochinskas, Steve Kochinskas, Kathy Konkol-Saad, Devon Renfro, Shirley Shepardson, Karen Sisko, and Kim Sterczala.

the JAK-L Strides course offers a "flat and fast" profile, boasting a minimal elevation gain of only 108 feet. The race features electronic timing for precision, and the top three finishers will receive special prizes.

Organizers have ensured that participants stay supported throughout the 3.1-mile trek, with a water station positioned at the half-way mark. To celebrate the achievement of those taking part, the first 150 participants to cross the finish line will be awarded finisher medals.

"Join us as we run, walk, and honor those we carry with us," the organizers shared in a statement. "Every step helps support mental health programs in our local schools. Come make a difference with us."

Masonic Lodge of Instruction class has huge turnout

BY BRO. JIMMY FALZONE
MAJOR GENERAL SALEM TOWNE LODGE
SOUTHBRIDGE

SOUTHBRIDGE — On Thursday March 26, the 24th Masonic District Lodge of Instruction (L.O.I.) class was held at the Major General Salem Towne Lodge (MGSTL), Webster apartments (the Webster Lodge building).

Brother Paul Hanson spoke about the Scouters Lodge as the evening's guest speaker. The lodge currently consists of both former and current Boy Scout members. To join this exclusive Masonic Lodge, you must have met specific criteria and achievements as a Boy Scout. You must be a recipient of the Eagle Scout, or a recipient of the Daniel Carter Bearded Masonic Scouters Award, a Silver Beaver, Silver Antelope or Silver Buffalo Award recipient. Currently, most of their meetings and degree work are conducted outdoors weather permitting, and the Lodge officers have been granted permanent dispensation (permission) to wear their Scout uniforms during these Lodge meetings. When permitted following these outdoor meetings, gathering by the firepit to share camaraderie, toast marshmallows, and eat smores the reminiscing about experiences as a Boy Scout is genuinely rewarding.

The L.O.I. classes are given every month at one of the six lodges in the 24th Masonic District. This is where new candidates are provided with information about Freemasonry, accompanied by a guest speaker who discusses topics related to fraternity and other relevant subjects. Major General Salem Towne Masonic Lodge had the highest attendance of the six District Lodges.

These brethren wanted the Traveling Chainmail Armor Attendance Apron that travels within the 24th District monthly L.O.I. classes. The Traveling Chainmail Armor Attendance Apron is a tradition that began in 2010. The lodge with the most brethren in attendance gets to bring this beautiful Chainmail Armor Attendance Apron back to their lodge home and the bragging rights until the next L.O.I. monthly class. For further details about the fraternity of Freemasonry, please visit our website at www.massfreemasonry.org. There, you can learn more about our organization and locate a lodge near you.

The town’s first electricity aggregation program was developed by Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda to reduce energy costs for Dudley residents. Mr. Ruda worked with a municipal aggregation consultant, Colonial Power Group, Inc., and the state Department of Energy Resources to develop a public aggregation in compliance with state law.

The plan represents Dudley residents in competitive markets to negotiate electricity rates. In doing so, it brings together the buying power of more than 11,900 consumers to reduce energy costs for residents. It further enables the town to take greater control of its energy options, including the ability to pursue price stability, savings opportunities and increased renewable energy procurement.

The 18-month contract with First Point Power, which began in April 2025, offers three products with varying amounts of renewable energy content.

More information about the program is available at <https://colonialpowergroup.com/dudley/>.

Nature photography by Janel McDonald on display at Booklovers Gourmet

WEBSTER — “Still,” a series of nature photographs by Janel McDonald, will be on display and for sale throughout April in the cafe gallery at Booklovers’ Gourmet, 72 East Main St., Webster. A meet and greet with the artist will take place on Saturday, April 11 from 2-4 p.m. The public is invited to attend. The show may also be viewed during normal business hours: Tuesday-Saturday 10 a.m.-5 p.m., Wednesday 10 a.m.-6 p.m. For more information, call 508-949-6232.

McDonald states, “This exhibit is an invitation to pause, to observe and to remember that photographs are a glimpse into an entire ever-changing landscape. These captured moments, frozen in time, tell a story, evoke a feeling, memorialize a memory.

“As I raise my camera to capture these still moments, the photograph becomes a fraction of the world around me. My canoe will glide past the subject. I’ll continue my walk down a garden path or my hike in the woods, leaving the stillness to continue or disappear from sight.

“Enjoy these photographs and the luminous detail that emerges on the surfaces. And enjoy the concept of fleeting moments and the feelings they evoke instead of skipping to the end. It’s about taking the time to stop and smell the roses along the way!”

Saint Louis Church Hispanic children’s choir is joyfully preparing for Easter Sunday. Their voices, full of faith, remind us that Christ is alive.
