Bay Path faculty, staff, LPN, & student volunteers take part in SkillsUSA state competition

UPTON — The Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy volunteer fac-ulty, staff, alumni, and nursing students participated as members of the panel of judges for the secondary competition, Basic Healthcare Conference, during the recent SkillsUSA state competition held at the Blackstone Valley Tech.

Adelina Healy,

adjunct faculty at Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy served as the Team Lead along with Heidi Bedard, staff, Financial Aid LPN, Administrator for the Volunteer judges. They supervised several stations and prepared presentations. Both were grateful for the continued opportunity and glad at how well everything went

BVT students use skills to 'FUSe' connections

UPTON — With a little bit of help from their friends, the Friends of Upton Seniors (FUSe) are making great strides in their mission. The newly established non-profit organization supports social events, services, and programs that enhance the quality of life for its senior residents. They recently partnered with Blackstone Valley Regional Vocational Technical High School (BVT), where skilled students used their vocational training to assist FUSe with creating a logo and a tri-fold brochure.

Design & Media Production seniors Noah Marvelle of Blackstone and Faith Ellis of Northbridge worked closely with FUSe President Steven Rakitin to create promotional items that, by design, will help raise awareness about the group, what it does, and how to support them through meetings, fundraising activities, and donations.

"We met with the students and their instructors to review the project, and they visited the Upton Community Center and attended various activities," said Mr. Rakitin.

Marvelle had an opportunity to utilize his photography skills to take pictures at a few of their events. He then selected the best images within the tri-fold design to highlight programs and activities. The brochure also features the FUSe logo designed by his classmate Faith.

"I enjoyed working on this project," said Marvelle. 'I had fun engaging with the seniors, and seeing my work in the community is always rewarding."

Ellis used her eye for design to create an eye-catching circular logo through fonts and a color palette of yellow, blue, and white. FUSe is at the top of the design, with the Friends of Upton Seniors in blue letters on a yellow background at the center. Surrounding the center of this sunny, vibrant logo are blue icons of a birthday cake, a palette, a handshake, people connecting, and a person stretching. These icons represent the fun community activities relevant to FUSe.

"I enjoyed this opportunity to use my creativity and vocational training to design a meaningful logo for our client," Ellis said.

"During the entire process, Noah and Faith conducted themselves in a courteous and professional manner," said Mr. Rakitin. "Working with them has been a pleasure, and we will be forever grateful for their help with these projects.

In addition to Marvelle and Ellis, students Ethan Novelli, Joe Bache, and Kaydence McCabe helped capture and edit footage of the Senior Soiree held at the community center. The students agreed, "Gaining professional experience and expanding our portfolios were a bonus. We truly had a fun time connecting with the seniors.' Friends of Upton Seniors (FUSe)

The FUSe group gathers at the Upton Community Center, 9 Milford St. (Route 140). It is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and offers enlarged spaces for the town's library and senior center. The group holds a monthly meeting on the first Monday of each month. They fundraise throughout the year to help support the annual senior soiree, exercise classes, coffee and pastries, and other initiatives. These are all great opportunities for engagement, socialization, and community support.

If you share in this mission and want to make a difference, please join them at their next meeting or activity. If you cannot attend but want to donate, tax-deductible donations can be made to Friends of Upton Seniors, Inc., and mailed to PO Box 13, Upton, MA 01568. They would love to have your support.

BVT community projects

Whether it's creating a brochure, or a sign for a business, our students take great pride in completing community projects. All projects are reviewed and selected based on relevance to the curriculum, available school resources, and the district calendar. Projects are accepted and completed between Sept. 1 and April 30 of each school year. If you submit a project request from May 1 through Aug. 31, it will be assigned and processed at the beginning of the next school year. For more information, please visit www. valleytech.k12.ma.us/communityprojects1.

QCC's Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society shines at international convention

WORCESTER — At this year's PTK Catalyst 2025 convention, QCC's Alpha Zeta Theta Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa (PTK) Honor Society received multiple awards in recognition of the organization's dedication, research and community service.

QCC's PTK chapter received the nationwide First Place in Honors in Action Research Project Distinguished Theme Award for their project titled "Threads of Dignity," which analyzed systemic factors contributing to the unhoused population in Worcester, Massachusetts.

"We have a very strong officer team that worked really hard," said Program Coordinator of PTK Lizette Reid, who traveled with the team to Kansas City for the con-

The group was also named a Distinguished Chapter, placing it in the top 10 percent of PTK chapters worldwide. This designation is awarded only to chapters that submit outstanding entries for both the Honors in Action Project and College Project Awards. Additionally, the chapter was recognized as a Top 100 Chapter among nearly 1,300 PTK chapters globally, a distinction reserved for chapters that have earned 5-star status.

The chapter's success extended to the regional level as well, where they were named the Most Distinguished Chapter in New England. They also won Second Place in the 2024 College Project for the Alpha Zeta Theta Community Closet initiative, which collected clothing and hygiene products for unhoused individuals.

"Winning five awards this year, including the Distinguished Chapter in New England, was an incredible affirmation of the commitment, resilience and heart that drove everything we accomplished as a team," said 2024/2025 PTK President Talissa Goncalves. "This experience taught me that strong leadership isn't about being the loudest voice; it's about listening deeply, uplifting others, and leading with authenticity. That's the kind of leader I've become, and the kind I will continue striving to be."

Health screenings are an investment in your future self

It's easy to put off routine health checkups. Life gets busy. We feel fine. We assume we're too young to worry. But catching a problem early, when it's most treatable can make all the difference. Preventive health screenings aren't about fearing the worst; they're about giving ourselves the best shot at living well. From your 20s through your 60s and beyond, here's a decade-by-decade breakdown of essential screenings that everyone should priori-

In your 20s, the focus is on building a health baseline. This is when your long-term habits start taking shape. Even if you feel great, it's important to get your blood pressure and cholesterol checked. These simple screenings can reveal early signs of heart disease risks. If you're sexually active, regular STI screenings and, for women, a Pap smear starting at 21 are critical. A mental health check-in should be part of the routine too, especially in a decade filled with transitions. It's also smart to begin annual skin checks, particularly if you've had a lot of sun exposure.

By your 30s, it's time to pay closer attention to subtle shifts in your health. Continue monitoring your blood pressure, cholesterol, and STI status. Add in screenings for diabetes risk especially if you have a family history or carry extra weight. If you're trying to conceive or just want to know where things stand, a fertility check can offer insight. Watch for signs of thyroid issues like fatigue or weight changes, and keep up with dental and eye exams every year or two.

Your 40s are when chronic conditions often start creeping in, sometimes without symptoms. This is the decade to stay vigilant. Women should begin mammograms at 40 or earlier if there's a family history of breast cancer. Everyone should consider a baseline colonoscopy by age 45. Diabetes, cholesterol, and heart screenings are more important than ever, and it's a good idea to test for glaucoma during your eye exam. This is also a smart time to check in on your mental health, as burnout and midlife stress can take a toll. By your 50s, screenings shift from preventive to potentially lifesaving. Colonoscopies should continue every 10 years or as your doctor advises. Women should consider bone density tests, and men should discuss prostate screenings with their doctor. Hearing loss becomes more common, so a hearing test is worth scheduling. This is also the age for a shingles vaccine, and if you've had ongoing risk factors, a cardiac stress test might

In your 60s, staying ahead of health issues becomes even more important. Annual flu and pneumonia vaccines are recommended, and if you've ever smoked or been around secondhand smoke regularly, you may qualify for a lung cancer screening. Continue yearly vision and hearing checks, and consider cognitive screenings if memory issues arise. Osteoporosis becomes more common in both women and men, and regular skin checks should continue to catch early signs of skin cancer.

No matter your age, health screenings are a way to invest in your future self. They help you catch issues early, manage risks, and stay in control of your well-being. Ask questions, track your numbers, and make time for the care you deserve. After all, staying healthy isn't something that just happens it's something we have to work for. When was your last check-up?

Bring back coal!

unit produced 576 megawatts, and a smaller unit on an acre of land produced 8.6 megawatts in periods of high demand. The Massachusetts Green Climate hysterics closed the plant in 2024. Brayton Point was a coal-fired electricity plant in Somerset. With four units, it produced 1,530 megawatts. The same Climate Hysterics closed it, too.

Remember, it takes 10 acres of solar panels to produce one megawatt. One. Battery storage facilities [five are proposed for Uxbridge alone] are capable of holding only a few megawatts in storage overnight. It takes all day to charge these recycled lithium batteries to produce just four hours of electricity. If more is needed in periods of high demand, battery storage facilities are useless until they re-charge... in 20 hours. During most of the time? Useless!

One very attractive aspect of old coalfired plants is not only that new technology can make them burn cleaner, but also that they possess high quality voltage lines connecting to the electric grid. It is cheaper to use these "brown fields" of old power plants to build new ones, instead of years of red tape to get a new power plant built and new transmissions lines erected.

Greenies were planning to use the Brayton Point electrical transmission lines for wind turbines from the South Coast wind turbine project. The Danish developer has pulled out. Vineyard Wind is producing one megawatt from one turbine. One. The other three are kaput. Vineyard Wind shut down in July of 2024 after its spectacular failure. Debris on Nantucket beaches. So much for Progressives knowing how to produce clean efficient electricity. They

The realm of progressives is imaginary energy. The wind! The sun! The stars! Unicorns!

Did you know that there has been such a hue and cry over high electricity bills [due to the push for "renewable" high cost electricity] that the Healey Socialist Regime is giving every household in Massachusetts a one-time $50 credit on our electric bills? She is giving us $50 back using our taxes to give us a "credit" on our electric bills. One time. A refund of our own money.

Did you know that on April 28, Spain and parts of Portugal were struck with a complete power outage? It caused panic buying of essentials, including toilet paper. These two countries are leaders in Green unreliable, costly electricity production. It failed.

Did you know that coal-fired electricity plants produce one-third of the world's electricity? One-third. Natural gas accounts for another 20 percent of electricity, which amounts to 50 percent of the world's electricity being produced by coal and natural gas right now. The Commies on Beacon Hill are doing everything to eliminate all electricity plants and make us poor.

There is a big risk from renewables. They only work when the sun shines and the wind blows. In Massachusetts, over the past 30 days, there were only 10 dry days from late March through most of April. Rain equals no sun, no power in your solar panels. So, acres of solar panels in Uxbridge were only of value in 10 days out of 30. Acres of land sacrificed to occasional power.

Meanwhile, nuclear power, natural gas, and coal-fired plants produce electricity, 24/7, no matter what the weather is. Like the U.S. Navy, on duty all the time while you sleep.

Which do you choose? Unreliable expensive solar panels and wind turbines? Or safe reliable fossil fuels for heat and electricity? I vote for coal. I you for nuclear and natural gas vote for nuclear and natural gas.

It's up to you. Vote accordingly.

"A revolution of common sense"

To the Editor:

Oozing over half the editorial page, a recent letter ("MAGA's Greatest Hits") denigrated those with different opinions and combined the prolific writer's continuing blame of "Felon 47 for chaos, corruption and capital dissipation" with amnesia over incompetence and like 'contributions' from the previous Oval occupant. Then rather than express a modicum of common-ground-patriotism, the last paragraph bared a metastasized political cancer-hope that MAGA supporters live to know democracy's Armageddon!

Most might assess this was a "mad, mad, mad world" before #47; then admit America was 'upside down' for ages past anyway! Like or loath the messenger, relief has begun with a "Revolution of Common Sense." Not surprisingly, the legacy media suggests otherwise, but within the first 100 days of this Presidency, dizzying positives have been delivered from 'promises (being) kept.'

A clear plan to turn the USA 'right side up again' was accepted by voters and is being implemented: sovereignty assured; undocumented millions no longer overwhelm borders; those with horrific criminal gang histories or terrorist ties found and deported; citizens safer, even in sanctuary cities. Breaking immigration rules (ipso facto) brands alien migrants 'criminals', but law has been replaced by upside down logic over the meaning of due process. There was no court moral outrage over Obama's more than three million illegal deportations; no court calls for 'due process' before allowing millions more to enter under Biden. Yet now, district judges feel empowered to order national injunctions mandating 'due process' before removing even ONE, and offer illegals safety in their homes and aid in courthouse escape! Only SCOTUS can 'right' this illogic by restoring Constitutional powers to the Executive branch.

More economic relief is coming, but for now: oil drilling and coal mining up; inflation down; mortgage interest rates down; cost of eggs and gas down; and tax relief should arrive in "one, big, beautiful bill" this summer. Our 'supply chains are coming back' with billions in foreign investment for new manufacturing from steel to pharma bringing high paying jobs to every corner in the nation. Although import tariffs likely bring short term Wall Street and pocketbook pain, new (really 'fair') trade deals will produce long term benefit to US and markets worldwide.

Millions in "waste, fraud and abuse" have already been uncovered by DOGE under direction of thoughtful Fortune 500 CEO volunteers(!), not hatchet-wielding, wet-behind-the-ears computer geeks, as legacy media asserts. All are working collaboratively with Cabinet secretaries and federal employees to modernize operations, policies and procedures so taxpayer dollars spent by various departments/agencies are productive and profitable. Given a chance, they will deliver even bigger savings by redressing past reckless spending (by both parties) that put US in present unsustainable, upside-down financial position.

And who has taken strong stances against rampant antisemitism on college campuses (and elsewhere); banned trans-males from female locker/bathrooms and competing for titles otherwise won by biological females? Where are (supposedly) liberal lawmakers or advocates of Title IX and Me Too Movement? I explain our upside-down world thus: on one hand, innocent 'victims' of crime are forgotten or named the cause of their own ill fate; on the other, 'villains' wear the halo of 'victimhood' themselves or are hailed as 'heroes.' It's sheer madness!

Those who fear 'demise of democracy' must know cursing and singing off-key only expose years of 'identity' political sickness. Instead, offer an 'alternate' plan, and work towards creating a stronger county that millions of every race, color and creed voted for last November.

Obviously, righting this behemoth ship of state is not achievable overnight. Praise for the start of a "Revolution of Common Sense" is due. Meanwhile, the next 100 days are critical for ultimate success, because 'stupidity' is reverting to the same thing expecting a different result. Thanks for reading my longer-than-usual letter.

The left has a gift for making money disappear

To the Editor:

Among the greatest financial hits that Maura Healey, Joe Biden and their left-wing extremist ilk managed to inflict on their fellow Americans involved their super-spectacular "cures" for homelessness.

With much of it summed up in the title of Mike Silvia's article as it was published March 28 in the Fall River Reporter.

"Massachusetts spent $3 billion on homelessness but didn't build a single home and homelessness doubled in three years.'

The numbers of which are enchanting. As is the basic "fishes and loaves" arithmetic that the political left has become oh so famous for:

Starting with 14,000 homeless people here in Massachusetts during 2021, spending over 214 thousand dollars on each one, not one home was built for any of them. With the number of homeless then more than doubling in but a few years to 29,000 strong. Which works out to well over $2 million spent per every 10 homeless folks.

million spent per every 10 homeless folks. All of which was occurring during the same time period when $106 million in the state's yearly education budget was nothing more than anti-Trump chump change to the left-wing extremists.

Now, is making money disappear like that devilishly miraculous or what?

Meanwhile, towns in the Blackstone Valley seem to be a bit short on funding for schools and stuff. While the left keeps blaming Donald Trump for all our financial woes.

al woes. Go figure?

An ode to teachers

Professor Fowler sat in his home, recently retired, POSITIVELY alone with his thoughtsand none of them were kind.

A teacher who had dedicated his entire life to shaping young minds, he now sat convinced he had failed.

Looking back over decades in the classroom, all he could see was the void—the faces forgotten, the lessons lost to time.

He spoke the words aloud, his voice thick with regret:

"I walked from class to class... teaching unhearing ears...unwilling heads...I moved nobody, I motivated nobody, I left no direct imprint on anybody."

His retirement had not come by choice. It had been forced upon him by an institution eager to make room for the next generation. And now, with his life's work behind him, he sat in the darkness of his own doubt, convinced his efforts had vanished like chalk dust after the final bell.

This story, by the way, is from an old episode of "The Twilight Zone," titled 'Changing of the Guard."

And yet, as I think about Professor Fowler, my mind drifts to teachers today—living in the modern world, dealing with pressures he could scarcely have imagined.

The teacher today faces crowded classrooms, shrinking budgets, endless paperwork, shifting standards, the strain of technology, and the silent burden of wondering if any of it is making a difference.

I wonder if, after long and weary days, teachers ever question whether the hours spent planning lessons, listening to struggling students, breaking up conflicts, inspiring curiosity if any of it will truly matter.

I wonder if they ask themselves whether their voice will linger, whether their encouragement will echo, whether their belief in a student who didn't yet believe in themselves will survive the tests of time.

It's easy in the haze of exhaustion and bureaucracy, to feel invisible.

To feel, like Fowler once did, that no imprint has been left behind.

But here's the part of Fowler's story that every teacher today needs to hear. That night, sitting in his despair, something remarkable happened. One by one, the faces of his former students appeared—visitors not of the body, but of the heart.

Always room for tomatoes

If gardening space is limited, grow tomatoes in hanging baskets or containers.

GARDEN MOMENTS MELINDA MYERS

Nothing beats the flavor of fresh-from-the-garden tomatoes. Keep them close at hand by growing one or more in containers on your patio, balcony, or front steps.

Any tomato can be grown in a pot, but determinate varieties are shorter and more compact, making them a bit easier to manage in a container. They produce fruit in a relatively short period of time, making them great choices for preserving as well as using fresh. Look for a D or determinate on the plant tag, seed packet or in the catalog descrip-

Indeterminate tomatoes, often designated with an I, are usually much taller and continue to grow, flower, and produce fruit until frost kills the plant or you pinch out the growing tip. These are usually staked or grown in wire cages to save space, reduce pest problems and make harvesting easier. Many new containers have builtin trellises or creative gardeners craft their own, making it easier and more attractive to grow these bigger plants in pots.

Semi-determinate varieties are in between these two. They are compact like determinates, often trailing but produce fruit throughout the growing season like indeterminate varieties. You can now find compact varieties often sold as miniature and dwarf plants that grow well in small four-to-eight-inch pots. They are a great option for those with limited space, gardening on balconies, indoors in a sunny window or just about anywhere. Kitchen Mini tomatoes, Heartbreakers, Red Velvet and Micro Tom Thumb are just a few.

Grow one tomato per container for maximum productivity. Use a five-gallon or bigger container for large varieties and at least a two to three gallon or similar size pot for smaller varieties. Some research suggests growing tomatoes in a pot that is at least 14 inches but preferably 20 inches wide will yield greater results. Adding flowers and herbs to the container boosts the beauty and diversity of your container garden but will reduce the number of tomatoes produced.

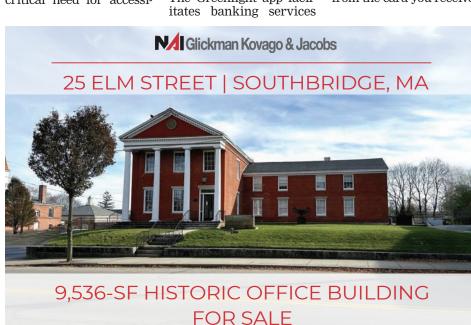

Growing tomatoes in containers also allows you to start the season earlier. Just move the planter inside when the weather is harsh and back outside when the weather is warm and sunny. As the weather turns cold at the end of the growing season, cover the planter or move it into a frost-free location as needed. Some gardeners even move a pot or two inside to finish off the tomato season.

Plant tomatoes in a container with drainage holes and fill it with a quality potting mix. Reduce the time spent watering with a self-watering pot that has a reservoir to hold water and extend the time between watering. Further reduce the need to water by adding an organic, sustainable soil amendment like certified organic Wild Valley Farms' wool pellets (wildvalleyfarms.com) to the potting mix. Made from wool waste, this product reduces watering by up to 25 percent. Water thoroughly when the top few inches begin to dry. Mulch the soil with evergreen needles, shredded leaves, or other organic mulch to keep the soil consistently moist and suppress weeds. Consistent soil moisture encourages more flowering and fruiting, while reducing the risk of blossom end rot, cracking, and misshapen fruit.

Harvest tomatoes when fully colored or leave them on the plant a few more days for an even sweeter flavor. You'll enjoy the convenience of harvesting fresh tomatoes right outside your door for use in salads, sauces, and other favorite recipes.

Sheriff's Office launches new therapy dog program

BY KEVIN FLANDERS STAFF WRITER

REGION — The dog days have arrived early this year, thanks to a new therapy dog program launched by the Worcester County Sheriff's Office (WCSO).

Made possible by English Labrador Retriever named Milo, the WCSO's Therapy Dog Unit was created to enhance staff wellbeing, reduce workplace stress, and foster an even more supportive environment for employees.

Officer Lindsay McNamara, a 10-year veteran of the Sheriff's Office, serves as Milo's handler. McNamara previously served in various WCSO units, including receiving, classifications, and line operations.

In her new role, McNamara oversees Milo's daily training and responsibilities around the facilities. This will ensure the Therapy Dog Unit provides emotional and mental health support to employees around the clock, officials said.

"We've been looking into this type of program for years," said Sheriff Lew Evangelidis. "After speaking with partners in corrections across the state who have existing therapy dog programs, we determined this program would bring tremendous value to our daily operations.'

Currently employing roughly 600 staff members, the WCSO is dedicated to maintaining a supportive and positive work environment. Officer McNamara looks forward to taking part in several programs with Milo that assist the staff. These include working alongside teams providing critical incident stress management, military peer support, and other offerings focused on employee wellbeing.

"I'm honored to step into this role alongside Milo, supporting the team

WCSO Officer Lindsay McNamara is teaming up with English Labrador Retriever Milo to lead a new program.

I've worked with for over a decade," McNamara said. "Stressful situations are a daily occurrence in any jail or house of corrections, but we have systems in place to help employees manage stress. By combining my experience in corrections with the skills that Milo will develop through hundreds of hours of training, we'll be able to respond to various situations to connect with staff and help reduce anxiety and stress.'

Studies show that therapy dogs help decrease stress for individuals exposed to high-stress environments or traumatic situations. Nationwide, employees with regular access to these support programs have reported improvements in workplace comfort and overall mental health.

"Just like police, fire, and other first responders, corrections officers have demanding and challenging jobs," Evangelidis said. "Access to mental health resources is crucial for ensuring our employees remain safe, happy, and healthy. Milo has made an immediate impact on the WCSO staff, who work diligently to keep the residents of Worcester County safe." In addition to various internal K9 programs, the WCSO partners with Animal Assisted Therapy Services of Massachusetts. Through a contract with the organization, therapy dog handlers visit certain populations within the facility to help lower stress levels and reduce tensions among inmates in the housing blocks.

Evangelidis emphasized that prioritizing the mental health and wellbeing of staff leads to better outcomes for inmates.

"When employees are supported and maintain mental resilience, they can engage with inmates constructively and professionally," read a statement released by the WCSO. "This approach fosters a more rehabilitative environment within the facility. With the establishment of the Therapy K9 Unit, the Sheriff's Office reaffirms its commitment to the wellness of both its staff and the overall mission of rehabilitation.'

sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

The interest rate and annual percentage yield for your account depend upon the applicable rate tier. The interest rate and annual percentage yield for these tiers may change. The APY range assumes a maximum deposit of $50,000 for illustration purposes only. If the eligibility requirements are not met the account will earn a lower interest rate and corresponding APY and will not be eligible for refund of ATM surcharge transaction fees. Refund of domestic ATM surcharge transaction fees are capped at $25.00 per statement cycle. Non-UniBank ATM Surcharges are those fees charged by the bank that owns the non-UniBank ATM used. Cornerstone Bank expands with new branch in Worcester's Tatnuck Square

WORCESTER — Cornerstone Bank, a community bank with locations throughout Central Massachusetts, has opened its 12th branch at 1125 Pleasant St. in Worcester.

"This is one of Worcester's most vibrant neighborhoods with a bustling shopping district near Worcester State University and the Worcester Airport," said Todd Tallman, CEO of Cornerstone Bank. "We're so excited to join and serve this community."

Cornerstone is inviting the public to a ribbon-cutting and family-friendly grand opening celebration from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. There will be a bouncy house, ice cream truck, giveaways and games. The ribbon-cutting with Tim Murray, the President and CEO of the Worcester Regional

(508) 892-4378

Chamber of Commerce, will be there.

Complimenting the essence of Tatnuck Square, the exterior of the new branch features an exciting sculpture by popular local artist Jose Criollo. His work has been featured throughout Worcester and is created from locally recycled metals and wood.

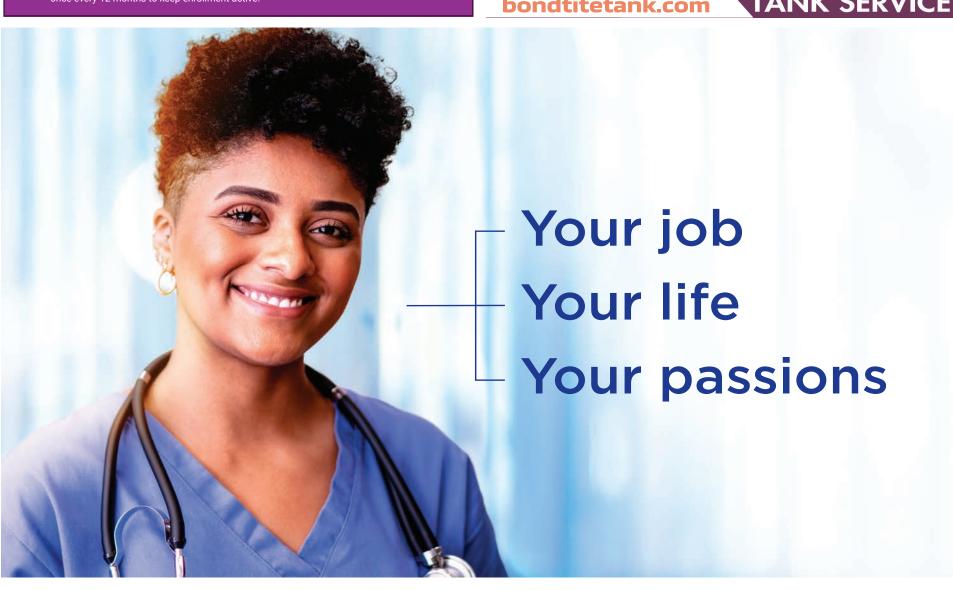

Cornerstone Bank has been renovating the property since purchasing it last year. The full-service branch includes two drive-up lanes with ATM capabilities and state-ofthe-art drive-up live video tellers available during banking hours. Inside, there will be specialists dedicated to lending and investment consultation, available by appointment only, and even a coffee bar.

The new Tatnuck Square Branch is open Monday- Wednesday from 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m., Thursday from 8:30 a.m.-6 p.m., Friday from 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m., and Saturday from 8:30 a.m.-1 p.m. The branch is closed on Sundays.
