Sturbridge Rotary Club honors local youth at annual Student Recognition Dinner

STURBRIDGE — The Sturbridge Rotary Club hosted its annual Student Recognition Dinner on July 15, 2026, at the Publick House Historic Inn, bringing together students, educators, Rotarians, and local leaders for an evening recognizing exceptional youth achievement and service. The event took place in Paige Hall during the Club's regular meeting, combining tradition with celebration.

Club President Tim Gresenz opened the meeting and invited Past President Klaus Hachfeld to lead the group in the Pledge of Allegiance and Rotary's Four-Way Test. Special guests included Rotary District 7910 Governor Penny Hamel, and English

A highlight of the evening was the presentation by Past-President Klaus Hachfeld of Rotary Youth Leadership Awards (RYLA) to Stephen Giaquinto, Norah Hanrahan, Vivian Jaeger, Tamas Jiang, Kaitlyn Kenney, Avery Lanier, Hannah Whittier, and Matilda St. Clair.

RYLA is a signature program of Rotary

International that brings together young people for a multi-day leadership development experience, that helps participants build confidence, develop communication and problem-solving skills, and discover the power of Service Above Self. This year, the Sturbridge Rotary Club awarded RYLA scholarships to eight local students selected to join over 200 Massachusetts high school sophomores at the RYLA Conference, held at Fitchburg State University in June. Recipients were selected based on demonstrated leadership potential, strong citizenship, and a compelling desire to benefit from the experience, all qualities confirmed through a competitive interview process.

The Club also celebrated the transition of leadership in the Interact Club at Tantasqua, Rotary's youth service organization. Outgoing officers - Emmett Deatte, president; Ethan Zhu, vice president; Evie Spencer, treasurer; Mairaed Fairbrother, secretary, and Julie Anne Petersen, publicist - were on hand to formally pass the torch to the incoming board. The new slate of officers, all rising seniors, includes

Shop, sip, and support at Here Today Adopted Tomorrow's Feline Fun Day

BRIMFIELD — Here Today Adopted Tomorrow (HTAT) invites cat lovers of all ages to its annual Feline Fun Day on Saturday, Aug. 1 at the Brimfield Winery. This free, family-friendly event brings the community together for an afternoon of fun while raising funds to support shelter cats and HTAT's community programs.

Visitors can browse local craft vendors, enjoy delicious food, sip wine from the winery's own selection, listen to music, and try their luck at exciting raffles throughout the day. Guests will also have the chance to enjoy kitten cuddling with some of HTAT's youngest residents. While the kittens won't be available for adoption at the event, they're sure to bring plenty of smiles. Whether you're spending the day with family, meeting friends, or simply celebrating your love of cats, there's something for everyone to enjoy.

Every dollar raised by HTAT during Feline Fun Day helps provide care for shelter cats while supporting programs that keep pets with the families who love them. Through services like low-cost spay and neuter, a pet food pantry, and other community assistance programs, HTAT works to ensure that cats and their owners have access to the support they need. As more families face financial challenges each year, the organization remains committed to being a trusted resource for pets.

HTAT Executive Director Rachael Max says Feline Fun Day is about more than just a fun afternoon; it's about bringing the community together for a shared cause.

"Every person who attends, shops with a vendor, or purchases a raffle ticket helps make a difference for cats both inside and outside our shelter," said Max. "It's a wonderful opportunity to have fun while supporting programs that strengthen our entire community."

Feline Fun Day will take place on Saturday, Aug. 1 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Brimfield Winery, 35 Main St., Brimfield. Admission is free. For more information, visit www.heretodayadoptedtomorrow.org or call 413-324-8224.

About Here Today Adopted Tomorrow Animal Sanctuary Here Today Adopted Tomorrow (HTAT) was founded by mother-daughter team Barbara Horn and Rachael Max. HTAT is a volunteer driven group focused on helping cats and the people who love them in our community. In 2012 we opened our no kill, cageless cat adoption center for adult cats and kittens in Brimfield. It is deeply important to us that every resident's stay at HTAT is comfortable and healthy, making for well-adjusted, happy animals. Shortly after opening, we realized there were more homeless cats than we could handle by adoption alone. We believe that pets are cherished members of the family and that every cat deserves care, respect, and the chance to thrive, no matter their circumstances. We have programs to help special needs cats flourish and get adopted, as well as community assistance programs to help pet owners keep their pets, such as our Pet Food Pantry, low-cost spay-neuter program, and free cat behavior program. Each year, HTAT helps over 1,500 animals and their families. For more information, visit heretodayadoptedtomorrow.org.

Most people have thousands of photos stored in boxes, albums, computers, and phones. While these images capture meaningful memories, the sheer quantity can make organizing them feel daunting. In this presentation, Susan McCarthy shares a practical approach to sorting and organizing both printed and digital photographs. Participants learn how to focus on preserving the photos that best tell their story while letting go of duplicates and unnecessary images. Simple organizing strategies make it easier to store, find, and enjoy photographs again.

Attendees receive a downloadable handout with additional ideas for continuing the process at home.

Investing in tomorrow's leaders starts today

There is something especially encouraging about an evening devoted to celebrating young people not simply for what they have accomplished, but for who they are becoming.

The Sturbridge Rotary Club's annual Student Recognition Dinner is about far more than handing out scholarships or recognizing academic success. It reflects a belief that leadership, service and character deserve the same attention as grades and test scores. In an era when headlines often focus on the challenges facing young people, events like this remind us there is another story unfolding quietly every day in our communities.

This year's recipients have impressive resumes. They are valedictorians, athletes, National Honor Society members, student leaders and future engineers, scientists, political scientists and interpreters. They have earned scholarships through hard work, perseverance and academic excellence. Yet one detail stands out even more than their accomplishments: many have already demonstrated a commitment to serving others.

Several scholarship recipients participated in Rotary Youth Leadership Awards, where students spend days developing leadership skills rooted in teamwork, ethics and community service. Others helped establish and lead the Tantasqua Interact Club, Rotary's youth service organization. These experiences teach lessons that cannot be measured by transcripts alone. They encourage students to ask not only, "What can I achieve?" but also, "How can I help?"

That distinction matters.

Communities thrive when they produce citizens who understand that success carries responsibility. Leadership is not about titles or recognition. It is about listening, collaborating, solving problems and making life better for others. Those qualities are desperately needed in every profession and every town.

The evening also highlighted the importance of mentorship. Organizations like Rotary do not simply write scholarship checks. Members invest their time. They interview students, sponsor leadership programs, advise service clubs and create opportunities that might otherwise never exist. Behind every successful student is usually a long list of adults who quietly opened doors, offered encouragement or believed in someone's potential before that student fully believed in themselves.

Teachers deserve equal recognition. Amy Willard's Community Appreciation Award acknowledges the enormous influence educators have beyond the classroom. Advising a student organization requires countless hours that rarely appear in a job description. Yet those experiences often become the moments students remember most years after graduation.

The leadership transition within the Tantasqua Interact Club offers another reminder that communities remain strong when each generation prepares the next. Outgoing student officers are leaving behind an organization that incoming seniors are ready to guide. That continuity does not happen by accident. It happens because experienced leaders intentionally prepare others to follow them.

Scholarships, leadership conferences and service clubs are investments whose returns cannot always be measured immediately. Years from now, some of these students may return as physicians, engineers, teachers, scientists, business owners or public servants. Others may build careers elsewhere while carrying with them the lessons they learned in this region about civic responsibility and giving back.

Either way, the investment continues to pay dividends.

Communities often worry about whether young people will stay, whether future leaders are ready, or whether volunteer organizations can continue attracting new members. The answer begins with opportunities like these. When young people are trusted with responsibility, challenged to lead and encouraged to serve, many rise to the occasion.

The Sturbridge Rotary Club has spent decades proving that leadership can be taught, service can be cultivated and generosity can change lives. This year's Student Recognition Dinner was not simply a celebration of eight scholarship recipients or a new slate of student officers. It was a celebration of the values that help small communities remain strong across generations.

Those values deserve recognition every bit as much as the students who embody them.

OPINION

Building your child's education fund, one brick at a time

Every solid house starts with a good blueprint and a strong foundation. Saving for a child's education is very similar.

College costs can seem daunting. In addition to tuition, you'll need to account for housing and food, books and supplies, transportation, and other expenses. The average annual budget at an in-state public university runs around $30,990 today, and a private school is $65,470 according to the College Board. While most families won't pay a college's list price, you'll still want to start saving as early as possible to be ready when your child is.

Lay the foundation early. You don't have to wait until you have the perfect set of plans to start building. There are specific accounts designed to save for education, and some do not require a minimum opening deposit. Setting up automatic recurring contributions, even modest ones, lets you build steadily over time without requiring constant attention.

As your child ages, look for ways to redirect expenses you no longer have towards the build. For example, daycare costs, which can exceed $1,000 a month, can be shifted into a college savings account once your child enters school. Tax refunds and annual bonuses make excellent additional contributions. And others can pitch in – instead of birthday or holiday toys, ask grandparents or relatives to contribute directly to a college savings account.

Know the size of the house you're building. Families saving for community college followed by two years at a public university might target around $65,000. Those aiming for four years at a public school are looking at roughly $100,000. Whatever the goal, plan for education inflation of about 4 percent annually, which can roughly double costs over 18 years.

You don't have to source all the building materials yourself.

FINANCIAL

NIELSEN

Scholarships, grants, student loans, and income from part-time work are all legitimate ways to help finish the structure.

Don't let one project consume the whole budget. One risk for parents is pouring so much into the college fund that the retirement fund goes neglected. Remember, loans and grants exist for college, but not for retirement. Striking the right balance may mean targeting a more affordable school, planning to cover only a portion of costs, or adjusting retirement timelines slightly.

Choose the right building materials. For many families, a 529 plan is the right foundation. Earnings grow tax-free, distributions are federally tax-free when used for qualified education expenses, and many states offer additional income tax deductions for contributions. Even better, anyone – such as grandparents or friends – can contribute.

Additionally, qualified expenses for a 529 plan go beyond tuition and cover books, computers, internet access, room and board, and more. Vocational and trade schools often qualify, too, opening the door to careers in skilled trades, healthcare, and technology.

No contractor builds alone. A knowledgeable financial advisor can help you draw up a realistic blueprint and make sure the college project doesn't crowd out the rest of your financial future. The earlier you break ground on that conversation, the stronger the structure will be.

The last pay phone

LANTERNS ALONG
MAIN STREET

By CHARLES

Every once in a while, something disappears so quietly that you don't realize it has gone until you go looking for it. That happened to me a few weeks ago.

I wasn't actually planning to make a phone call. I simply drove past an old convenience store where I distinctly remembered a pay phone standing outside for decades. It had been tucked beneath a little metal hood, facing the parking lot. It wasn't attractive. It wasn't historic. It wasn't something anyone photographed.

It was simply...there. Except it wasn't.

The concrete pad remained, along with four rusty bolts sticking out of the ground like tiny gravestones. If you didn't know what had once occupied that spot, you'd never give it a second glance.

For anyone under about 30 years old, the idea of needing a pay phone probably sounds ridiculous. We all carry computers in our pockets now. If we're lost, we have GPS. If we need help, we can text. If we're running late, we can call before anyone has time to wonder where we are.

But there was a time when finding a pay phone could feel like finding water in the desert.

You always needed a quarter. If you didn't have one, you started checking cup holders, coat pockets or the bottom of your glove compartment. Sometimes you'd ask a stranger, "Do you have change for a dollar?" Nobody thought that was odd.

There was an unspoken etiquette, too. You kept your conversation short if someone else was waiting. If the weather was bad, you'd hunch beneath the little metal cover while rain dripped off the edges. In winter, the handset always seemed about twenty degrees colder than the air around it.

The pay phone was also a witness to life. Teenagers nervously calling home after missing curfew. Parents letting family know they had arrived safely. Drivers reporting breakdowns before roadside assistance came with smartphone apps. Young couples talking longer than they could afford because hanging up first somehow felt impossible.

Looking back, it's amazing how much trust we placed in those phones. They sat outside through blizzards, thunderstorms and heat waves. Thousands of hands touched them. Somehow they almost always worked.

Today's technology is unquestionably better. I wouldn't trade my cell phone for a pocket full of quarters. But convenience has changed something else. Because every call is private now.

You never overhear someone happily announcing they got the job. You don't hear somebody telling their spouse they'll be home in twenty minutes. You don't watch a nervous teenager practicing what they're about to say before dropping a coin into the slot.

Life still happens, of course. We just experience it behind screens instead of out in the open.

Small-town Massachusetts has always been full of ordinary landmarks that quietly stitched communities together. A hardware store with creaky floors. The diner where everyone knew the waitress's name. The corner barber shop. The bulletin board covered with handwritten notices.

The pay phone belonged on that list. It wasn't important because of what it was. It mattered because everyone, sooner or later, needed it.

Maybe that's why seeing those four empty bolts caught my attention. They reminded me that progress rarely arrives with a parade. More often it comes one unnoticed change at a time, until the world you've always known has become somebody else's history.

Someday, a child will ask what those rusty bolts are for. Someone my age will smile.

"They used to hold a pay phone," we'll say.

The child will probably look puzzled. And for a brief moment, we'll realize we're telling a story that has quietly become history.

TO THE EDITOR

Glad to see our efforts come to fruition

To the Editor:

I was pleased to read the headline in the Southbridge News, Thursday-Friday July 16 & 17, "Community Broadband Networks and Massachusetts Broadband Institute announce launch of high-speed Internet initiative in South Worcester County." The Southbridge Housing Authority finally received the High Speed Internet "retrofit," with a Go-Live event June 17 which celebrated the activation of service at 60 Charlton St., "Quinebaug Plaza."

This initiative started back in November 2024, when the MBI held a public hearing at the Jacob Edwards Library. I was serving on the town council at the time, and myself and several other officials including Peg Dean attended. I advocated on behalf of the Quinebaug Plaza, while Ms. Dean advocated for low income housing downtown.

Afterwards, I received an email from a spokesperson at MBI. I forwarded her email to Ashley Wolf, Manager at the Housing Authority. I also emailed a resident of the Plaza to let him know that high-speed internet could be made available at the high rise. Following up, the spokesperson at MBI said they spoke to Ashley and she expressed interest. I also attended a Southbridge Housing Authority meeting to discuss the program.

In June of 2025, I followed up to see how the retrofit program was progressing. I received a response that they were assisting Southbridge in applying for the MBI Municipal Digital Equity Implementation program.

So here it is, 2026, and I am thankful that our efforts came to fruition. I'm glad for the residents of the Quinebaug Plaza (and Dresser Park I believe) that they are finally able to receive high speed Internet.

Thanks,
Mike Marketti (Former Town Councilor)

Below is the email I received.

"Nov 22, 2024, 12:29 PM
Hi Councilor Marketti and Peg,
It was great to see you all in person earlier this week.
As mentioned during the meeting, MBI has expressions of interest for both the MAPC Apartment Wi-Fi program and MBI's related program, Residential Retrofit.

- The MAPC Apartment Wi-Fi program provides funding, project management, and procurement support to fund the construction of Wi-Fi networks which provide residents with equal or superior service than what is available from commercial ISPs, at no cost to residents. The funding covers all capital costs associated with network design, construction, and equipment, and the first year of ongoing operating expenses.
- The Residential Retrofit Program deploys state-of-the-art broadband infrastructure to approximately 22,000 public and affordable housing properties across Massachusetts. MBI intends to increase low-income residents' opportunities to access high-quality, reliable and affordable broadband service in their homes by addressing deficient wiring and infrastructure through grants for the deployment of fiberoptic cabling to the unit to qualified Internet Service Providers (ISP's) who will install, own and maintain equipment.

Kindly let us know if you need anything else in the meantime."

Many thanks,

Shepherd Hill students hosting Tackle the Stigma 5K to promote mental health awareness

CHARLTON — The Shepherd Hill Regional High School cheerleading program, in partnership with the Dudley-Charlton Regional School District community, is inviting residents to lace up their running shoes and help break down barriers surrounding mental health during the annual Tackle the Stigma 5K and 2.5K Walk/Run on Saturday, Sept. 27.

The event will begin at 10 a.m. at the Shepherd Hill football field and is designed to raise awareness about mental health and mental wellness while encouraging open conversations throughout the local community.

Organizers hope participants of all ages will come together to demonstrate support for those facing mental health challenges and reinforce the message that no one has to struggle alone.

"This event is very important to us as we work to raise awareness about mental health and mental wellness throughout our local community," organizers said in announcing the event.

The walk and run carries the theme, "Run toward awareness, stand up for support, and tackle the stigma one mile at a time," reflecting its focus on education, compassion and community involvement.

Mental health advocates continue to emphasize the importance of reducing the stigma surrounding anxiety, depression and other mental health conditions, which can often prevent individuals from seeking help. Community events such as Tackle the Stigma aim to create a welcoming environment where conversations about mental wellness are encouraged and support resources are highlighted.

In addition to providing an opportunity for exercise and community engagement, the event serves as a reminder that mental health is an important part of overall well-being. Organizers hope the day will inspire participants to check in with friends, family members and neighbors while promoting a culture of understanding and acceptance.

The Shepherd Hill cheerleaders have made mental health awareness a priority, using the event to unite students, families, educators and community members around a common cause. By bringing together participants from across Dudley, Charlton and surrounding communities, they hope to build momentum for ongoing conversations that extend well beyond race day.

Whether participants choose the full 5-kilometer course or the shorter 2.5-kilometer walk/run, organizers say every step represents a commitment to supporting mental wellness and reminding those who may be struggling that help is available.

Registration information and additional event details are expected to be available through Shepherd Hill Regional High School and the Dudley-Charlton Regional School District as the event approaches.

ROTARY

M a d e l i n e Guertin, president; Sophia Bocchicchio, vice-president; Lily Duga, treasurer; Eliza Jaeger, secretary, and Bralynn Fenneuff, publicist. District 7910 Governor Penny Hamel officiated the swearing-in ceremony, followed by the presentation of officer pins and gavel.

The Rotary Club of Sturbridge sponsors the Interact Club at Tantasqua, where students collaborate with Rotarians on fundraisers, community events and hands-on service projects. Interact is Rotary International's service club for young people ages 12-18 who want to take action, develop leadership skills, and make a difference in their school and community. Interact members plan and carry out at least two service projects each year – one that serves their local community and one that promotes international understanding.

The centerpiece of the evening was the awarding of eight scholarships totaling $8,000 presented by Club President Tim Gresenz. Seven scholarships were given through Sturbridge Rotary Club Fundraising efforts, and an additional scholarship was awarded in memory of late Rotarian Dr. Otto Prohaska, from his family. This year's scholarship recipients are:

Willow Anderson (East Brookfield) is the daughter of Eric and Ellen Anderson. She will be attending The College of the Holy Cross, Worcester, where she will be studying language in the hopes of someday working as a government interpreter.

Emmett Deatte (Warren), is the son of William and Jennifer Deatte. Emmett served as president of the 2025-2026 Interact Club of Tantasqua, and vice-president of his class. He was also a member of the National Honor Society and the TRHS tennis team. He will be attending Northeastern University, Boston, MA, where he will be studying politics, philosophy, and economics.

Logan Oko (Fiskdale) is the son of Jennifer and Matt Oko. He attended RYLA in his sophomore year and was a founding member of Tantasqua Interact. Logan will be attending the University of Massachusetts, Amherst where he will be studying biomedical engineering.

Julie Anne Petersen (Brimfield) is the daughter of Laurie Krusas and Bill Petersen. Julie Anne attended RYLA in her sophomore year, was a founding member of Tantasqua Interact, and served as publicist in her senior year. She will be attending the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA, where she will be studying Political Science.

Evelyn Spencer (Sturbridge) is the daughter of David and Jessica Spencer. Evelyn served as treasurer of the 2025-2026 Interact Club of Tantasqua, and was valedictorian of her class. She attended RYLA in her sophomore year, was a member of SAVE Promise, and was varsity captain of the TRHS volleyball team. She will be attending Mt. Holyoke College, South Hadley, MA, where she will be studying biochemistry.

Ruth Wells Center presents art by Laurie Boniface

SOUTHBRIDGE — The Ruth Wells Center for the Arts is excited to announce the July exhibit will be of works by Laurie Boniface. The galleries, located at 111 Main St. in Southbridge, will be filled with photographs, paintings and jewelry.

Opening reception is Saturday, July 11 from noon to 4 p.m., and the galleries will be open Saturday and Sunday throughout the month.

"Thanks for the privilege of allowing me to show my work," Boniface says. "I'm excited to focus on what I feel to be a new chapter in my life."

"How lucky I was as a child growing up on River Road in Sturbridge with the woods, river, and ponds as our playground. My love of nature was nurtured by daily reality - creating camps, collecting specimens of every kind - full of wonder and observation of plants and animals of every description we came upon as we ranged. I loved the turtles, mushrooms, flowers, frogs, insects and endless array of fauna and all walks of forest life.

As an adult, antiquities became a focus. My life's work was creating jewelry from found parts. Providence RI was the costume jewelry manufacturing capitol of the world at the beginning of the 20th century and I built my jewelry design studio utilizing materials from old factories shuttering their doors after a century, creating a business that has sustained me and my helpmates over my lifetime.

"I believe we are all artists and creators. Our media vary and our talents are many. We are creators; when we give ourselves permission to explore and experiment, when the process is more significant than the outcome, when we're executing our creations for the joy of creativity and not necessarily for gain, our visions nourish both self and society.

And now, I return to the simplicity of painting. I'm an amateur but challenged by the process and content attempting the portrayal. My brain chatters about Impressionism and methodology and endless ideas, but hand to paper or canvas gives me the outlet of expression! I enjoy it!"

Laurie Boniface is well-known as the guiding star of the beloved Sadie Green's in Sturbridge. To make a viewing appointment please call 508-909-6155. For more information about the Ruth Wells Center, go to the Web site, ruthwellscenter.com.

Fiskdale: Daniel “Danny” M. Roscioli, 81, of Big Alum, Fiskdale, MA, passed away peacefully on Monday, July 13, at UMass Memorial Health – Harrington Hospital in Southbridge, MA, after a long illness.

Roscioli of Berlin, VT, and David F. Roscioli of Brookfield, MA; his sister, Romona P. Kirker-Head and her husband, Carl, of Sturbridge, MA; as well as many nieces, nephews, cousins, and close friends whom he considered family. He was predeceased by his brother, Stephen M. Roscioli.

Drought conditions prompt water restrictions

SOUTHBRIDGE/CHARLTON — The Massachusetts Drought Task for issues a Level -2 Significant Drought status for Worcester County. The Town of Southbridge now has to require that all Southbridge and Charlton water customers refrain from all outside water use except for handheld watering between the hours of 5 and 9 p.m. Please turn off all outside sprinkler systems.

This declaration from the State also applies to homes with private wells.

Certain water uses are not subject to restrictions such as production of food and fiber, health and safety reasons, maintenance of livestock, and core functions of a business (for example irrigation for a nursery).

For the general public's information, Currently the Southbridge Water Departments reservoir system is at 100.1 percent of total capacity. This is within our historical average for this time of year.

The declaration is a county wide declaration, and not due to any current water storage shortfalls within the Southbridge Water Department. This declaration is part of new laws and regulations put forth by the State legislature, and enforcement went into effect in April of 2025.

To be clear, the Southbridge Water department is not experiencing any water storage shortages currently.

The declaration of Level-2 significant drought will remain in effect until the State Drought Task Force deems that the conditions within Worcester County have returned to acceptable levels.

More information can be found at https://www.mass.gov/orgs/drought-

Please feel free to contact the Southbridge Water Department at 508-764-3207 if you have any questions or concerns.

Hitchcock’s Summer Concert Series rocks

Brimfield Town Common on Wednesday evenings

BRIMFIELD — The Hitchcock Summer Concert Series sponsored by Country Bank will take place on Wednesdays, 6 to 8 p.m., July 1 through Aug. 19 on the Brimfield Town Common. In the case of rain, concerts will move to Thursday. A food truck will be on site at each event. Picnics are also welcome; chairs and blankets are encouraged.

The series kicks off on July 1 with Woodshed, bringing Acoustic Folk, Country & Americana. Members Jason Wood of Brimfield, along with A.J. Kiernan, Karen Gallant, and Mike St. Germain are four musical friends who found each other through a love of music and mutual admiration, and are known for their signature three-part harmony. BT’s Smokehouse will be on site.

July 8 brings The Island Castaways whose love of Buffet-style escapism infuses the pride they take in creating a relaxing atmosphere where there are many smiles, laughter and dancing, and lasting good time memories that create the ultimate Trop Rock experience. The featured food truck will be Flippin’ the Bird BBQ.

After a weeklong hiatus for July’s Brimfield Flea Market, The New England Digital Accordion Orchestra returns on July 22. Conducted by Sam Falcetti, the nation’s first digital accordion orchestra features about 20 musicians from across New England. Using state-of-the-art Roland digital accordions, the group replicates the sounds of various instruments like flutes, trumpets, and a rhythm section to showcase an impressive range of genres including Big Band, Broadway, Ethnic, Country, and Rock. BT’s Smokehouse will return on this evening.

July 29 is all about polka with the return of The Eddie Forman Orchestra, also known as "E.F.O.," is a western Massachusetts polka band that has been performing before audiences since 1968. Eddie Forman started the band while he was still in high school, and has been creating and recreating music ever since, garnering one of the largest polka followings in the New England area. Off The Hook will be the evening’s featured food truck.

August 5th brings the Brimfield debut of The Willies - a popular, community-focused classic rock and Americana band based out of Belchertown. The band performs across the Western Mass region, playing high-energy hits from the 1950s through the 1980s, modern country, and rock standards. Flippin’ the Bird BBQ returns for this concert.

Long-time series favorite CobbleStone Road of Connecticut returns on August 12th with high-energy country. Well-known throughout the region for playing modern and classic country hits from the 1990s to today, their energetic style mixes classic country with rock and blues. Smashing Patties will have their concert series debut this evening.

The series closes out on August 19th with Hard Knox, a Westfield, Massachusetts-based party rock and cover band known for their high-energy shows and "forgotten classics" setlist. Instead of regular cover tunes, they play unique, underappreciated gems from the '70s and '80s, making them a fixture in the Western Mass and Northern Connecticut music scenes. BT’s Smokehouse will return to bookend this year’s food truck lineup.

In addition to Presenting Sponsor Country Bank, this program is supported in part by a grant from the Brimfield Cultural Council, a local agency which is supported by the Mass Cultural Council.
