DUDLEY — A significant step forward in the preservation of the town's foremost historical landmark, Stevens Linen Mill, has begun with reclaimed tongue-and-groove timber from Alabama.

Representatives of Mill developer Camden Management Partners joined town and state dignitaries for a groundbreaking of sorts at the Mill on Sept. 23. Rather than shovels and soil, this construction kick-off was more about eyes to the sky.

"This important project—made possible through a grant from MassDevelopment—marks a critical step in preserving the historic Stevens Linen Mill with a roof replacement," Benjamin Johnson of Weddle Real Estate Investments said, adding, "By protecting the interior from the elements, future renovation may proceed unhindered."

It began in August 2020, when Stevens Mill Owner LLC of Columbia, SC, bought the 6.95-acre property and its 267,000-square-foot historic mill at 8 Mill St.

Camden Management Partners and A.L. Saad & Companies, who hold Stevens Mill Owner LLC, received Dudley Planning Board approval in May 2022. The plan calls for a mixed-use development with 159 market-rate apartments of predominantly one- and two-bedroom units. The plan also includes flexible event space and a public walk along the French River.

Camden principal John Gumpert has referred to the Mill as a "gem" and has said the renovation will spur growth in both Dudley and Webster.

Mr. Johnson and

Andrew Weddle, both of Weddle Real Estate Investments, were on-site with Deane Laparle of Camden Management Partners and Spencer Christensen of Haynes Construction to kick off the roof raising.

One element of the roof replacement is the historical timber from Alabama.

"Bringing the beautiful Stevens Linen Mill back to life is so rewarding and quite challenging," Mr. Weddle said. "Our development team is working meticulously to design and source construction materials to preserve the Mill's architectural features such as the reclaimed tongue-in-groove bead-board and beams being installed to replace some deteriorated wood."

Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda said commended the work toward ensuring historic integrity.

"By placing a new roof of reclaimed, historic wood on the mill, the developers are showing their com-

Webster man indicted for arson in Southbridge fire that displaced 12 families

SOUTHBRIDGE — Southbridge Police arrested a Webster man last Thursday following his indictment by a Worcester County grand jury for allegedly setting a fire that ripped through two multi-family homes, said Southbridge Police Chief Shane Woodson, Worcester County District Attorney Joseph D. Early, Jr., Southbridge Fire Chief Paul Normandin, and State Fire Marshal Jon M. Davine.

Gerardo Cruz-Rivera, 34, is charged with two counts each of arson of a dwelling and malicious damage to a motor vehicle for the Nov. 13, 2024 fire that started at 7-9 Union St. in Southbridge and quickly spread to the neighboring building at 11-13 Union St. He was arraigned yesterday in Worcester Superior Court. At the request of District Attorney Early's office, Cruz-Rivera was held without bail pending a dangerousness hearing on Oct. 1.

The origin and cause of the fire were investigated by the Southbridge Fire Department, Southbridge Police Department, and State Police fire investigators assigned to the State Fire Marshal's office. Collectively, they determined that the fire began at the rear of 5-7 Union St. at ground level and spread from that area. They further determined that the fire had been intentionally set and continued to gather evidence.

As that investigation continued, Worcester County prosecutors presented evidence to a grand jury, which returned indictments charging Cruz-Rivera on Monday. Southbridge Police detectives located and apprehended him Thursday night.

A dozen families were displaced by the early morning fire, which was reported at about 3:25 a.m. Firefighters and apparatus from more than a dozen regional departments responded to the seven-alarm fire and one Southbridge firefighter was transported for an injury he suffered during the seven-alarm response. Working smoke alarms roused the buildings' occupants, who all escaped safely but lost their homes and possessions.

Dudley to explore earlier Town Meeting times

BY JASON BLEAU
CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY — At least one selectman in Dudley would like to see the town reassess the start times for its town meetings in the hopes that it will increase citizen participation and reduce stress of schedules.

Chris Starczewski, who serves as Town Moderator and was elected to the Board of Selectmen earlier this year, recommended to his board on Sept. 8 that they consider starting town meetings earlier to better accommodate the limitations of parents and seniors and allow more time in case of any lengthy debates. He didn't make a formal motion but asked that the selectmen explore their options.

"I was wondering if down the line we could entertain a conversation about potentially shifting the time of town meeting to an earlier time slot that would allow for robust discussion, allow for all members of the community easier access, and allow us to end the meeting earlier for ease and maybe adjust to family schedules a little bit more," Starczewski stated during the selectmen comments portion of the meeting.

Typically, Dudley town meetings start at 7 p.m. on their designated night, and often occur on a Monday or Tuesday, which are school nights. Rarely do meetings happen on a weekend or a Friday.

There are times, however, when these meetings contain lengthy discussions regarding topics placed in the middle of the warrant or citizen petitions which are often placed at the end of the meeting. Starczewski believes that an earlier start time will allow parents to attend the meetings without interrupting their children's school preparation and, in effect, also increase public participation especially if people avoid meetings due to the perception that they will draw into the late-night hours.

No official decision or discussion was held at the Sept. 8 meeting, but Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda said he would consult with the town attorney to determine what course of action would be required to change the start time for selectmen to consider at a future meeting

WORCESTER — Cornerstone Bank, a community bank with locations throughout Central Massachusetts, has continued its commitment to fighting food insecurity with a $3,000 donation to Community Harvest Project, a non-profit farm that engages volunteers to grow fresh fruits and vegetables for hunger relief across Central and Eastern Massachusetts. The donation builds on the bank's $3,000 gift in 2024 and $2,000 gift in 2023, and is part of a broader relationship that includes regular volunteer efforts by Cornerstone Bank employees at Community Harvest Project's farms.

Dudley prepares for a Spooktakular Halloween

DUDLEY — Those who haunt Town Hall and the Pearle L. Crawford Memorial Library have been scurrying about to transform parking lots and lawns into a free Halloween family event for ghosts and goblins of all ages.

Dudley's annual Spooktakular returns on Thursday, Oct. 23. This event, hosted by the Dudley Recreation Commission with spirited participation from the library crew, is set to thrill during the daylight hours of 5 – 6:30 p.m.

Festivities begin at 4:30 p.m. when families are invited to gather in costume at the Pearle L. Crawford Memorial Library, 40 Schofield Ave., for fun family activities. At 5 p.m., the gaggle of ghosts and goblins will receive a police escort as they parade up Brandon Road to Town Hall.

There, families will be greeted with lots of frightfully free fun. Highlights include games, live music, a balloon artist, a Cauldron of S'mores, hot dogs and drinks.

No Halloween party would be complete without a costume contest, and this one will award prizes for the scariest, funniest, and most unique costumes.

This program is funded in part by a grant from the Dudley Cultural Council, a local agency supported by the state MassCultural Council.

said Todd Tallman, CEO of Cornerstone Bank. "Food insecurity continues to impact thousands of our neighbors, and CHP's work ensures that families have access not only to food, but to fresh, healthy produce. We're honored to support their mission both financially and through the volunteer efforts of our team."

Community Harvest Project is the largest community farm in Central Massachusetts, with locations in Grafton and Harvard. In 2024 alone, the organization hosted more than 6,300 volunteers who grew and donated 188,501 pounds of fruits and vegetables to 26 partner agencies serving more than 60,800 food-insecure individuals. With food insecurity rates in Worcester County still more than double pre-pandemic levels, CHP remains a vital source of fresh, healthy produce for families who might otherwise go without.

Cornerstone Bank employees have volunteered more than 300 hours at CHP farms since 2022, joining community members in planting, harvesting and packaging produce that directly benefits local families.

Families embrace Saint Joseph School's Holy Family Traveling Statue Program

Rev. Richard Polek presents the Holy Family Traveling Statue to seventh-grade student Evelyn Macko, the first recipient of the 2025–2026 school year, following the weekly Divine Mercy devotion at Saint Joseph School.

WEBSTER — Saint Joseph School in Webster is continuing its Holy Family Traveling Statue Program this year after receiving an overwhelmingly positive response from students and their families. The program allows families to host a statue of the Holy Family in their homes for one week, offering an opportunity to deepen their faith through prayer and reflection.

The statue, representing Mary, Joseph, and the Child Jesus, is accompanied by devotional materials that guide families in prayer and conversation. Each family receives a Family Prayer Card, a Holy Family Prayer Pocket Book, and the option of devotional books such as “Pope Francis Family Devotional: 365 Reflections to Share with Your Kids and One Year of Dinner Table Devotions and Discussion Starters” by Nancy Guthrie. These resources encourage families to set aside time for prayer, share meaningful discussions, and look to the Holy Family as a model of love and unity.

Families are also invited to reflect on their week with the statue by sharing stories, photos, and experiences with the school community. These reflections, which describe how the statue was displayed, which prayers were used, and how the experience shaped family life, are then displayed at the school for others to read and be inspired.

This year’s program began with Grade 7 student Evelyn Macko, who was the first to bring the statue home. Following the school’s weekly Divine Mercy devotion, Pastor Fr. Richard Polek presented the Holy Family Statue to Evelyn, who will host the statue for one week before it is passed along to another student family.

Principal Beth Boudreau said the school is grateful to see how deeply the program has resonated with families. “We want our students and their families to experience the presence of God in their daily lives. By welcoming the Holy Family into their homes, families are reminded that prayer, forgiveness, and love are meant to be lived out every day,” she explained.

The Holy Family Traveling Statue Program remains a vital part of Saint Joseph School’s mission to nurture both academic excellence and spiritual growth. By bridging classroom lessons with family life, the program reinforces the belief that faith is most powerful when it is lived at home.

From plant biology to patient care — LPN’s journey of resilience and dedication

CHARLTON — For Emmanuel Nyah of Leicester, the path to becoming a Licensed Practical Nurse was not a straight line, but a challenging, transcontinental journey fueled by an unwavering commitment to his family and an unbreakable spirit. Now, a new LPN at Vibra Hospital in Rochdale, Nyah’s story is a powerful testament to perseverance against formidable odds.

“I had one goal in my mind, which was to set myself up to take good care of my family,” Nyah shared. “I faced obstacles I never envisioned or envisaged, but I always believed in my mantra: ‘Every sea that has people on the other side of the shore is crossable, and when we get to the bridge, we will cross it.’”

Nyah’s journey into healthcare began at the foundational level, working as a Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA) at Jewish Healthcare in Worcester and later at Brookside Rehabilitation in Webster. There, he built a solid base in bedside care, assisting with vitals, supporting patients with their activities of daily living (ADLs), and serving as a crucial link to the nursing team.

This hands-on experience cemented his desire to advance his skills. He enrolled in the Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy initially, where he was elected as the Student Representative, and then the Practical Nursing program at Assabet Valley Technical High School, where his natural leadership abilities shone further. His peers elected him Class President for the 2024-2025 academic year, a role in which he demonstrated exceptional teamwork and communication skills. Nyah’s professional qualifications are extensive: he is certified in Health Care Provider/Basic Life Support CPR, Dementia Care, and Mental Health First Aid.

His transition into nursing is even more remarkable given his extensive academic background in a different scientific field. Nyah holds a Bachelor of Science in Microbiology from the University of Calabar in Nigeria and a Master of Science in Plant Biology from Tel Aviv University in Israel. This unique perspective gives him a deep-rooted appreciation for the complexities of biological systems, both in plants and now, in people.

Nyah credits his success to his profound faith and a robust support system.

“My inspiration and motivation come from within,” he said. “I’m poised to show people like me—who come from my situation or environment—that anything is possible with the right attitude and mindset.”

He expressed deep gratitude for those who stood by him, including God, the Burlingame family, and especially his fiancée, Len.

“They never judged, never questioned, and always supported me,” he remarked.

His daughter, Imaobong, remains his greatest inspiration.

“If I didn’t have her, I would have given up when the storms raged,” Nyah said, also expressing appreciation for Dr. Gretheline Bolandrina of Bay Path Practical Nursing Academy.

“You’re a big part of it, and I’m grateful for your mentorship,” he said.

Upon completing his certificate in June 2025, Nyah tackled the NCLEX-PN exam, passing on his first attempt—a significant achievement that speaks to his diligence and competence. He has now begun his career as an LPN at Vibra Hospital, where he works with a complex patient population, including individuals with tracheostomies, ventilators, G-tubes, and traumatic brain injuries.

Emmanuel Nyah’s story is not just one of career changes but of profound personal growth and determination. It is a hopeful reminder that with faith, a strong support network, and an unyielding will to succeed, any obstacle can be overcome.

Nichols College donates iPads to Dudley Fire Department

DUDLEY — Nichols College donated 10 iPads to the Dudley Fire Department today during a brief ceremony held at the town’s fire station. At the event, Nichols President Bill Pieczynski presented the new technology to Dudley Fire Department (DFD) Chief Dean Kochanowski and Deputy Chief Erik Spahl.

The iPads will support the fire department’s new cloud-based software program for fire and emergency medical services reporting, an application that is designed to be used in the field on iPads.

“Nichols has been part of the fabric of Dudley since 1815, and we are proud to support the Dudley Fire Department, who help keep our campus and community safe,” said Pieczynski of the donation. “The Dudley Fire Department is a trusted partner to our College, and these iPads will enhance their ability to respond to incidents quickly, manage resources effectively and conduct inspections more efficiently. We are pleased that this gift of technology can help modernize their operations and further strengthen the services they provide to Dudley and beyond.”

The College selected the DFD for the donation due to their frequent collaborations. The DFD is one of the town departments the College interacts with the most, said College leadership. The DFD and the College work closely together on regulatory and emergency response, as well as ensuring inspections of all campus buildings. The DFD also interacts with the College’s public safety, residence life and athletics offices.

The iPads will also assist the DFD with: onsite inspections; apparatus checks; previews of building preplans while enroute (complete with shutoffs, access points and hydrant locations); and response unit tracking during an incident.

Balancing renewable energy and local voices

Across Massachusetts, new laws are reshaping how solar fields and battery storage projects are sited. For towns like the communities we inhabit, that means more developers looking at open land and more questions about how these projects fit into our communities.

The promise of renewable energy is clear. Solar and battery storage help reduce carbon emissions, stabilize the grid, and move us closer to meeting statewide climate goals. But the tradeoffs are real, too. Large arrays often mean clearing forests, altering wetlands, and placing new burdens on fire departments and boards of health.

Recent forums have highlighted something important: local boards of health and planning commissions have more authority than many realize. State officials may set broad goals, but communities have the power to insist on safeguards that protect water supplies, preserve critical habitats, and keep neighborhoods safe. Courts have long upheld the ability of local health boards to treat poorly designed projects as public nuisances when they threaten residents' wellbeing.

That doesn't mean turning our backs on clean energy. It means insisting on balance. Protecting critical forests while still welcoming projects on already disturbed land. Supporting renewable power while demanding transparency from developers. Embracing innovation while safeguarding the very character of our towns.

Residents, too, play a role. Public hearings are not paperwork formalities—they are opportunities to raise concerns, ask hard questions, and make sure decisions reflect the will of the community. Skipping those meetings leaves the future to others.

Our local communities are not unique in facing these choices, but the stakes feel close to home. How much of our landscape will be fields of panels? What risks do massive battery facilities pose to air and water? And perhaps most importantly: who gets to decide?

The answer, at least in part, is us. Thoughtful planning and active participation can ensure renewable energy strengthens our region without sacrificing what makes it worth living here in the first place.

VIEWPOINT

Now is the time of salvation

For every person who has been baptized as a Christian, we need to take care “not to accept the grace of God in vain,” as Saint Paul tells us. We have been blessed with the greatest treasure of life. Through the Mystery of our Baptism we have become a new creation, where we have put off the old man and all the power and influence of this fallen world. We have been made new by being “born from on high” or “born again,” as some call it.

We have been given the keys to the Kingdom of Heaven within the Church and shown the path that leads into His eternal Kingdom of Divine Love. This treasure of faith gives life its ultimate purpose and deepest meaning, because we now know that we are beloved children of the Lord Most High, His heirs tasked with a grave responsibility—not only to live under His reign of love, mercy, and grace, but to act as His ambassadors in sharing this Good News with the world and inviting all people to discover this priceless treasure.

If we understand and believe this treasure we have received, then Saint Paul bluntly warns us: “Take care not to accept the grace of God in vain!” Don't be careless or indifferent to the gift that has been given to you. Act today and fulfill your calling. “Behold, now is the acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation.”

The Apostle Paul tells us not to wait until tomorrow. Don't delay your response to God. A beautiful illustration of this is seen in the Gospel story where Jesus calls Peter to follow Him.

Peter and his companions had fished all night, tired and frustrated from catching nothing. Then Christ enters their weariness and says, “Put out into the deep and let down your nets for a catch.” It makes no sense, but Peter obeys: “At Your word, Lord, I will let down the nets.” Suddenly, their nets are overflowing. In awe, Peter falls to his knees and says, “Depart from me for I am a sinful man.” Yet, instead of turning him away, Christ gives him a mission: “Do not be afraid. From now on you will be fishing for men.”

And then we hear the most striking line: “When they had brought their boats to land, they left everything and followed Him.”

Think about that. Peter, James and John left behind their boats—their source of income, their security, their way of life. They left their families and all they were familiar with. They left behind their nets—their tools of survival, their identity as fishermen. They even left behind the greatest catch of their lives. Why? Because they recognized that this was the moment. Now was the day of salvation.

And this is where the Gospel challenges us. What are the “nets” that we hold on to today, the things that keep us sions, more security. But if we cling too tightly to these things, our hands aren't free to grasp the life Christ offers us.

The net of grudges and unforgiveness. Sometimes what holds us back most is the hurt we carry. We say we follow Christ, but we refuse to forgive. Those knots of bad memories in our nets weigh us down and keep us from moving forward.

The net of distraction. We live in an age of constant noise—phones, news, social media, entertainment. These things are not evil in themselves, but they can so fill our minds and hearts that we have no silence or time left to hear the voice of God.

These are just some of the nets that entangle us today. And the Gospel asks us: are we willing to let them go? Are we willing to hear Christ's voice and respond—not later, not someday, but now?

Because as Saint Paul reminds us, “Now is the acceptable time; now is the day of salvation.”

Every Sunday Jesus Christ comes to us in our worship in the Divine Liturgy. He speaks His Word to us. He fills our emptiness with His Presence. He blesses us by giving us His Body and Blood. He calls us to follow Him more deeply, to live as His ambassadors in the world, to invite others into this treasure of faith.

The question, however, is whether we respond like Peter, James, and John—leaving behind our nets to follow Him? Or will we hold back, clinging to the things that ultimately cannot save us?

Will we have the courage today to say, like Peter, “At Your word, Lord, I will let down the nets.” I want to discover the abundant life that only Christ can give. Yet, be careful. “Do not to accept the grace of God in vain!” We have been given a gift, a priceless treasure. Let us make a decision today. Now is the acceptable time; now is our day of salvation!

Dudley Historical Commission grateful for support of Janet Malser Humanities Trust

To the Editor:

The Dudley Historical Commission would like to thank the Janet Malser Humanities Trust for its continuing generous support of our “Tradesmen on the Common” program.

On Saturday, Oct. 4, in conjunction with the Dudley Grange Apple Festival and the Black Tavern craft fair, we will have five costumed historical tradesmen working on the Dudley Common directly in front of the Congregational Church. This year there will be a blacksmith, a tinsmith, a seamstress, a shoemaker and a cooper. Come enjoy watching these tradesmen work and bring all of your questions.

Again, thank you to the Janet Malser Humanities Trust for their support, without which this program would not be possible.

David Proulx

I encourage you to stop by the Post Office, say hello, and share any questions or ideas you may have. Thank you for the opportunity to serve. I'm proud to be here and look forward to working together to keep our community connected.

When you turn 65, Medicare becomes a vital part of your health care coverage. But signing up is just the beginning. Many people don't realize that Medicare isn't a “set it and forget it” program. In fact, you have the opportunity — and often the need — to review and adjust your coverage every single year.

The annual Medicare Open Enrollment period, which runs from Oct. 15 through Dec. 7 each year, is your chance to take a fresh look at your health care needs and make sure your Medicare plan still fits your life. Then you can determine whether your medical and prescription plans need to be switched or dropped.

Just like your health can change from year to year, so can Medicare plans. Insurance companies may adjust their coverage and costs or even discontinue certain plans entirely. By taking time during the open enrollment period to compare your options, you might discover a plan that saves money, offers better coverage or both.

As a reminder, you have several options when it comes to your Medicare coverage.

Original Medicare (Parts A and B) covers hospital stays and medical services such as doctor visits. Part A typically comes with no monthly premium if you've worked for at least 10 years. Part B requires monthly premiums — $206.50 or more in 2026, depending on your income. They may also be copays and deductibles.

Medicare Advantage (Part C) offers an all-in-one alternative to Original Medicare. These plans are offered by private insurance companies. They often bundle together hospital, medical and prescription drug coverage. They may also include extra benefits like vision, dental and wellness programs that Original Medicare doesn't cover.

Medicare Part D provides standalone prescription drug coverage for those who stick with Original Medicare.

Medicare Supplement (Medigap) policies help cover the out-of-pocket costs that Original Medicare doesn't pay, such as copayments and deductibles.

When shopping for Medicare plans, there are several important areas you should consider to determine which options are right for you:

Out-of-pocket costs such as monthly premiums, deductibles, copayments and any other expenses Medicare doesn't cover. Sometimes a plan with a higher premium saves you money overall because of lower copays.

Prescription drug coverage deserves special attention. All Medicare plans for 2026 will include a $2,100 cap on what you pay out of pocket for covered prescription drugs, up from $2,000 in 2025. However, this cap only applies to drugs that your plan covers, making it crucial to verify your medications are included.

Your health care needs for the coming year matter too. Do you have surgeries planned? New health conditions to manage? You'll want to make sure your potential plan covers the care you expect to need.

Travel plans can also influence your choice. Original Medicare typically doesn't cover services overseas, so frequent travelers might want supplemental coverage for emergencies abroad.

If you don't make any changes during open enrollment, you'll likely be automatically reenrolled in your current plan for the following year, as long as it's still available and you continue paying required premiums.

Don't let your Medicare plan run on autopilot. Take advantage of the annual open enrollment period — between Oct. 15 and Dec. 7 — to ensure your coverage continues to serve you well in the year ahead.

Psychic driving!

In the late 1950s, patients walked into Montreal’s Allan Memorial Institute expecting treatment for anxiety, depression, or everyday struggles of the mind. What many of them encountered instead was the work of Dr. Ewen Cameron, a psychiatrist with an outsized reputation and a dangerous obsession with “reprogramming” the human brain. Cameron believed he could break down a person’s mind and rebuild it from scratch. His methods were as crude as they were cruel.

He called it “Psychic Driving.” Patients were put under heavy sedation, often for weeks at a time, and then forced to listen to negative phrases looped again and again through speakers or headphones. Sometimes the messages ran for 16 hours a day.

POSITIVELY

The results were devastating. Patients developed crippling fear, confusion, and dependency. Families reported that their loved ones came home like strangers—haunted not by their original illnesses, but by the relentless flood of negative suggestions that had hollowed them out.

One former patient described her experience years later. She recalled being placed in a hospital room, sedated, and wired to a tape recorder that played commands, accusations, or statements of worthlessness, repeated until they carved themselves into her mind like grooves in a record. “You are weak. You will never get better. You’re worthless!” Hour after hour, day after day, the messages ran until they became the background noise of her mind.

While most of us were never subjected to cruel experiments, many of us know what it’s like to live with words that cut deep. Some of those words didn’t come from strangers in a lab coat, but from the people closest to us.

The child who was told “you’ll never amount to anything” grows into an adult who whispers the same phrase to themselves before every job interview.

The athlete who was told, “you always choke under pressure,” starts to believe it, replaying the line before every big game until it becomes a self-fulfilling prophecy.

The student who constantly hears “you’re not smart enough” can carry that soundtrack into adulthood, replaying it in moments of stress until it feels like the truth.

I recall a history teacher in high school who would stand in front of the class and call us “a bunch of losers.” He didn’t just say it once—he said it often, as if repeating it might make it accurate. Thankfully, I’d been raised to believe otherwise.

For years, psychologists have documented what happens when people are repeatedly exposed to harsh or abusive words. Over time, those external voices get internalized, turning into the person’s own inner critic.

Researchers at UCLA found that repeated negative self-talk actually reshapes the brain. The brain begins to treat your own words like weapons. A single negative phrase repeated often enough rewires your entire system of motivation, and the only way to cope is to shut down and detach.

But here’s the good news—those stories aren’t permanent. Psychic driving can work both ways. As hard as it feels at the moment, you can interrupt them.

The next time you catch yourself repeating the same old phrases, flip the script. Tell yourself: “I’m a winner. I’m strong. I’m healthy. I am loved. I’m rising higher. I have what it takes.”

You won’t believe it at first; it will feel fake, as if you’re lying to yourself. But keep saying it—because the more you speak life over yourself, the more your mind and spirit will begin to believe it. You’ll feel empowered; you’ll see opportunities where you once only saw dead ends.

Repetition works both ways. If negative words can burrow deep and take root, then positive ones can heal, strengthen, and grow.

While we can’t all be star athletes or famous actors, every one of us carries strengths that no one else can duplicate. It may be your creativity, kindness, or ability to solve problems in ways others can’t.

When you begin to recognize and honor those gifts, you stop measuring yourself against someone else’s spotlight and start shining on your own. That’s when success becomes inevitable—not because you copied anyone else’s path, but because you walked on your own with confidence. I believe in you. Now it’s your turn to think the same.

Improve your garden soil with fall leaves and landscape trimmings

Fall is a great time to improve your soil for next year’s garden. Many of the resources needed are readily available and many are free at this time of the year.

Start by putting fall leaves to work in the garden. Use your mower with the bag attached to shred and collect fall leaves. Work them into the top eight to 12 inches of soil. They break down over winter, adding organic matter and nutrients to the soil before you begin planting in the spring.

Fall leaves are also a great resource for those of you minimizing soil disruption with no till, also known as no dig, soil care. Spread several inches of the leaves over the soil surface. The leaf mulch protects the soil in new and vacant gardens from erosion and compaction over the winter. They keep the soil a bit cooler in the spring so you may need to adjust your planting times.

Cover bare soil in perennial gardens and mixed borders with fall leaves. They are a great mulch, suppressing weeds, conserving moisture and improving the soil as they decompose. A layer of leaves insulates the soil, helping insects and other wildlife that overwinter underground. Plus, they are free.

Incorporating two to four inches of compost or other organic matter into the top eight to 12 inches of soil is another option. Organic matter adds nutrients but also improves drainage and aeration in heavy soil and increases water- and nutrient-holding capacity in fast draining soils.

Melinda Myers

Hugelkultur gardening, or mound gardens, takes the lasagna gardening method one step further with a bottom layer of logs, branches and fall leaves that decompose, adding organic matter and nutrients to the soil.

Adding compost also builds the soil ecosystem. It increases the number and activity of beneficial soil organisms such as good bacteria, fungi, microorganisms and insects. Healthy soil grows healthier plants more resistant to pests and environmental stresses.

Another no till method uses a five-inch layer of compost on top of non-shiny cardboard, covering the soil surface. The cardboard helps suppress the weeds and the compost provides the growing medium for seeds and transplants. The compost is replenished yearly, and the cardboard eventually breaks down, adding organic matter to the soil.

Convert landscape and garden trimmings, fall leaves and compost into a rich planting medium with lasagna gardening. This system employs composting methodology to build soil in free-standing or contained raised beds.

Start your lasagna garden by measuring and marking the layout of your garden bed. Cut any grass and weeds in this area very short and cover with moist newspaper or cardboard. This smothers any existing grass and weeds.

Next, add a two- to three-inch layer of peat moss or compost. Top this with four to eight inches of plant debris such as leaves, plant-based kitchen scraps, herbicide-free grass clippings, straw or similar materials. Sprinkle a bit of low nitrogen fertilizer over this layer. Cover with an inch of compost. Repeat the layers, just like making lasagna, until your garden is 18 to 24 inches high.

Hugelkultur, or mound gardens take this one step further. The bottom layer is made of logs, branches and fall leaves. Do not include black walnut tree trimmings that are toxic to many plants or those of cedar and black locust that are very slow to decompose. The rotting logs and branches absorb water, making it available to the plants in the garden. As the tree trimmings decompose, they add organic matter and nutrients to the soil. Then top this with a lasagna garden.

The lasagna and Hugelkultur beds gradually settle but the benefits remain. Continue to build additional lasagna layers every few years on top of established beds as needed.

Select a method that best fits your gardening style. Investing time in building healthy soil reaps years of benefits.

School Committee finalizing CTE policy

CORRESPONDENT

DUDLEY/CHARLTON — The Dudley Charlton Regional School District is seeking to implement a new policy to solidify its transparency with middle school students regarding Career Technical Education (CTE) programs as they approach their high school years.

The policy is designed to meet requirements set by the state which the district must implement before the start of November, although Superintendent Steven Lamarche has confirmed he sought an extension in case the district doesn’t meet that deadline. The policy was introduced for public feedback during a School Committee meeting on Sept. 24 where the Superintendent assured the committee that the district already employs these practices, but the policy codifies it in accordance with requirements by the state.

“This is to ensure that we provide opportunities for our students to attend a continuing technical education program. We already do these things, but this is still a requirement for us to put in place,” Lamarche said.

The policy meets guidance put forth by state agencies, although Lamarche said he did his added due diligence of communicating their policy with the Massachusetts Association of School Committee (MASC), an organization that provides models for districts to follow. The Superintendent implied that the district’s policy is in line with expectations. Lamarche also noted that the policy includes local agricultural schools and the Southern Worcester County Regional Vocational Technical High School district which oversees Bay Path.

The School Committee did not act on the policy in September as the Superintendent made it clear that he was introducing it for public feedback before the committee would potentially vote on the document in October.

While a final decision wasn’t made, it did open the discussion for the need for increased awareness and communication regarding CTE programs. School Committee Vice Chair Cathleen Carmignani said she would like to see this process expedited.

“I think more information needs to come out to middle school kids and families earlier. I don’t necessarily think it has to be within this policy, but I think as a goal that would be a good thing,” she said.

A copy of the policy has been made available for public review on the Dudley Charlton Regional School District website. A copy is also available with the agenda for the School Committee’s Sept. 24 meeting.

DUDLEY — The Town of Dudley celebrated its newly refreshed Senior Center with an Open House on Sept. 18.

Dudley Council on Aging volunteers served refreshments to more than 60 guests in the renovated space that recently received fresh paint, new ceiling tiles, wheelchair friendly flooring and countertop.

“The refreshed Senior Center is a true gift to our community,” Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda said. “Thanks to the generosity of the Dudley Woman’s Club, the leadership of Mrs. Johnson, and the dedication of our volunteers, we now have a space that honors our seniors and strengthens the heart of our town.”

The celebration attendees included lots of seniors, State Representative John Marsi, Amanda Galonek Hellyar of State Sen. Ryan Fattman’s office, Town Administrator Jonathan Ruda, Selectman Steven Sullivan, town staff and members of the Dudley Woman’s Club.

Council on Aging Director Deborah Johnson spoke of the Senior Center revitalization and the many benefits the refreshed space will bring to the seniors and community.

“I, along with the men and women who frequent the center, want to thank the DWC, and especially Nancy for making this refresh happen,” Ms. Johnson said. “We are all so happy with the new floor, the walls, the ceiling tiles, everything that was done to update and brighten our area. The DWC always supports our senior community through many programs and donations, for which we are very grateful. We cannot thank them enough for this beautiful gift.”

The Dudley Woman’s Club donated $30,000 to modernize the 71 West Main St. space that provides meals and enrichment programs to our seniors as well as activities and event space to our community. This donation was made in memory of the DWC’s founding member Nancy J. Vajcovec, who dedicated countless volunteer hours to the town and local non-profits by serving on several committees and commissions.

Nancy Jane A. Vajcovec, (Feb. 18, 1947 – Nov. 26, 2022) of Dudley was one of five women who founded the Dudley Woman’s Club in 2008.

Captain Job Knapp DAR celebrates Constitution Week

DUDLEY — The Captain Job Knapp Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution recognized and honored Constitution Week on the 238th anniversary of the signing of the US Constitution with a display at the Pearle L. Crawford Memorial Library.

The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution urges Americans to reflect on the United States Constitution during this month's annual observance in honor this foundational document of national governance.

The DAR initiated the observance in 1955, when the service organization petitioned the U.S. Congress to dedicate Sept. 17-23 of each year to the commemoration of Constitution Week. Congress adopted the resolution, and on Aug. 2, 1956, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed it into Public Law #915. The celebration's goals are three-fold: to encourage the study of the historical events that led to the framing of the Constitution in September 1787; to remind the public that the Constitution is the basis of America's great heritage and the foundation for its way of life; and to emphasize U.S. citizens' responsibility to protect, defend and preserve the U.S. Constitution.

"DAR made history when we led the way in making Constitution Week an official commemoration and today our members enthusiastically promote the celebration annually in communities across the country by erecting community displays, sponsoring municipal proclamations, ringing bells and staging programs to raise awareness of the Constitution's protections and importance," said DAR President General Ginnie Sebastian Storage. "As we embark on America's 250th anniversary, we encourage all citizens to join us in celebrating this powerful document that is so important to American history and to reflect on the impact the Constitution has had on the lives of American citizens past, present and future."

DAR has been the foremost advocate for the awareness, promotion and celebration of Constitution Week. The annual observance provides innumerable opportunities for educational initiatives and community outreach, two mission areas of crucial importance to the National Society. By fostering knowledge of, and appreciation for, the Constitution and the inalienable rights it affords to all Americans, DAR helps to keep alive the memory of the men and women who secured our nation's foundational liberties.

One of the largest patriotic women's organizations in the world, DAR has 190,000 members in approximately 3,000 chapters across the country and several foreign countries. DAR members promote historic preservation, education and patriotism via commemorative events, scholarships and educational initiatives, citizenship programs, service to veterans, meaningful community service and more. For additional information about DAR and its relevant mission, visit www.dar.org.

The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) was founded in 1890 to preserve the memory and spirit of those who contributed to securing American independence. As one of the largest patriotic women's service organizations in the world, DAR has nearly 190,000 members in approximately 3,000 chapters around the world. DAR members promote the three pillars of historic preservation, education and patriotism via commemorative events, scholarships and educational initiatives, citizenship programs, service to veterans, meaningful community service and more. The DAR is also a renowned genealogical repository which includes the DAR Library, one of the largest genealogical research centers in the United States, and the DAR Genealogical Research System (GRS), a free online database of information amassed by the DAR. Artwork of historic Webster on display at Gladys E. Kelly Public Library through Oct. 31

WEBSTER — Beautiful paintings of Historic Webster, by local artist Francis N. Sczepanski (1914-2005), are on view at Gladys E. Kelly Public Library through Oct. 31. “Remember When” is a selection of eleven paintings made by the artist in the 1980’s and 1990’s, comprised of vintage, colorful scenes capturing everyday life in Webster.

Francis N. Sczepanski attended Bartlett High School and graduated with the class of 1933. He was an art teacher for 38 years in the Dudley Public School system, retiring in 1980. His paintings were first exhibited in July 1986 at the Black Tavern Historical Society in Dudley, and his family has now kindly lent them to the Gladys E. Kelly Public Library for this exhibit.

Join us on Oct. 2 at 6 p.m. to hear local speakers give a discussion about these paintings and different topics concerning Webster history.

The library is also working on an oral history project showcasing Webster as a booming industrial town. They are looking to showcase the 1950’s through the mid-’70’s and would love to hear stories and memories of mill workers, mill life, and downtown Webster nightlife.

These interviews will be recorded through audio and video in participation with Nichols College and will eventually be featured at the Samuel Slater Experience.

If you are interested in sharing your story for this exciting oral history and video project, please contact Evan Hale at 508-949-3880, ext. 1056 to register for a 30 minute time slot. Interviews are set to take place in early November at the Senior Center.

Local student makes a difference through Emmanuel day of service

BOSTON — Aidan Vanarsdalen of Oxford joined with more than 360 first-year students at Emmanuel College to make an immediate impact in the community through the New Student Day of Service.

Rising early on the last day of summer vacation, the students volunteered at food shelves, homeless shelters, and other organizations that meet vital community needs through the day of service.

In addition to encouraging new students to embrace Emmanuel’s rich history of serving the common good, the day of service helped them connect with Boston and each other.

“By engaging with the city from day one, our new Saints began their Emmanuel journey grounded in service, connection, and purpose,” said Emmanuel VP of Mission & Ministry Fr. Federico Cinocca. “It sets the tone not only for their year, but for their entire Emmanuel experience.”

With more than 80 majors and areas of study, Emmanuel College combines outstanding classroom instruction and real-world experience to prepare students for lives of achievement, learning, and purpose. The 15th Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry Regiment was an infantry regiment that served from the State of Massachusetts during the American Civil War from 1861 to 1864. A part of the II Corps of the Army of the Potomac, the regiment was engaged in many battles from Ball’s Bluff to Petersburg, and suffered the tenth highest fatality rate amongst Federal regiments. The regiment was composed almost entirely of men from Worcester County, and was mustered in on July 12, 1861. Many men from Webster, Dudley, and Oxford enlisted in this regiment.

The program, which is part of the Black Tavern Historical Society’s Nancy J. Vajcovec Memorial Lecture Series, will take place at the Black Tavern 138 Center Rd. in Dudley.

The program is free and open to all.

OBITUARIES

Joseph T. Sterczala, 100

WEBSTER – Joseph T. Sterczala, 100, died Thursday, September 25, 2025 at home after a period of declining health. His wife of 54 years, Bertha M. (Petka) Sterczala, died in 2008.

He leaves a daughter, Diane M. Cowes of Shrewsbury; a son, Joseph R. Sterczala and his wife Jeannine of Methuen; and a granddaughter, Tiffany E. Cowes of West Boylston. He was preceded in death by his son-in-law, Kendall Cowes, by his brother Chester Sterczala and by his two sisters, Irene Cournoyer and Theresa Bishop.

He was born at home on Nelson Street in Webster on February 14, 1925, the first child of Thomas J. and Michalina (Tokarz) Sterczala and lived here all his life. He attended Bartlett High School.

He was an Army Veteran of World War II, serving in the Rhineland.

Mr. Sterczala was an electrician. He worked at the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester and then at Westboro State Hospital, retiring as the supervisor of the maintenance department in 1990.

He was a member of Saint Joseph Basilica. He was a man of many talents: he built his own home and maintained his property, paying special attention to the outdoors and his flower beds. He was a devoted fan of the Boston Red Sox and the New England Patriots.

Private graveside services will be held at the convenience of the family, with military honors provided by the Webster-Dudley Veterans Council. There are no calling hours. Arrangements are under the direction of Scanlon Funeral Service, 38 East Main Street.

Robert K. West June 18, 1959 – September 22, 2025

Robert K. West, 66, of Oxford, Massachusetts, passed away peacefully at St. Vincent's Hospital in Worcester, MA, on September 22, 2025, after a courageous battle with cancer. Born on June 18, 1959, in Leominster, MA, Bob was the beloved son of the late Mary A. West and Daniel M. West.

Bob graduated from Leominster High School, Class of 1977, and went on to attend Florida Institute of Technology, where he majored in Oceanography. At FIT, Bob was well known around campus for his likeability and as the judge on the student government. Bob had a long career in safety and compliance, environmental matters, and even working on an offshore oil research boat in the Gulf of Mexico. After settling back in Massachusetts, Bob devoted 25 years to Dav-Tech Plating, where he was not only a dedicated employee but a cherished member of the workplace community. Bob's colleagues at Dav-Tech could always rely on him for a helping hand, a listening ear, or a lighthearted joke.

Bob made his home in Oxford for the past 22 years, a town he chose to be closer to his daughter Alison while she attended Holy Cross. He will always be remembered for his gentle disposition, sense of humor, strong work ethic, and the extraordinary capacity he had to love deeply and unconditionally.

Bob was predeceased by his parents and his brother, Harlan West. He is survived by his devoted daughter and best friend, Alison West of Wareham, MA. He leaves behind his brother, Daniel L. West and his wife, Alice Green, of Charlotte, NC and their children, Sterling and Jaclyn. He will be missed by Harlan's children, David, Lisa, Diane and Michael, and their families. Bob also leaves behind many cherished cousins and friends. Lastly, Bob will be sadly missed by his "grand-cats" Mickey and Gypsy, who brought him joy.

A memorial service will be held at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 11, 2025 at Chapman Funerals & Cremations – WAREHAM, 2599 Cranberry Hwy, Wareham. All friends and family are welcome.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to the American Cancer Society, <https://www.cancer.org/>

William L. Chapdelaine, Sr., 85

WEBSTER – William L. Chapdelaine, Sr., 85, of Snow Street, died peacefully on Sunday, September 21, 2025, at UMass Memorial Medical Center – University Campus in Worcester, surrounded by his family.

He is survived by his wife of 62 years, Sandra E. (Stevens) Chapdelaine of Webster; five sons, William L. Chapdelaine Jr. and his wife Lisa of Auburn, Michael A. Chapdelaine and his companion Rachel Wells of Webster; David C. Chapdelaine and his wife Tammy of Thompson, CT; Daniel R. Chapdelaine of Akron, OH, and Paul A. Chapdelaine of Painesville, OH; two sisters, Kathy Sanchas and her husband Albert of Killingly, CT; and Dorothy Morell of Webster; and several grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces, and nephews. He was predeceased by a brother, Ernest Chapdelaine.

Mr. Chapdelaine was born in Webster, son of the late Leo and Florence (Newman) Chapdelaine, and was a lifelong resident of Webster. He graduated from Bartlett High School in 1957, and proudly served in the U.S. Navy.

Mr. Chapdelaine worked for Gibbs Brothers Inc. in Webster for many years, retiring as regional manager. He was a member of St. Roch's Church in Oxford. He loved classic cars, and especially enjoyed driving his 1964 Ford Galaxy on car cruises. He collected comic books and antiques, and enjoyed strumming the guitar. He was a wonderful family man and loved his wife more than anything.

A graveside service will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, September 27, 2025, at North Cemetery in Oxford. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Veteran's Inc., 69 Grove St., Worcester, MA 01605.

Paradis-Givner Funeral Home in Oxford is directing the arrangements.

mitment to protecting this asset and moving it forward step by step," he said.

State Rep. John Marsi was joined by state Rep. Joseph D. McKenna and Amanda Hellyar of state Sen. Ryan Fattman's office, who presented an official Statehouse citation in recognition of the project start to the developer and team.

"I'm very excited that the Stevens Linen Mill project is finally about to begin," Marsi said. "It has been a long road to get to this point, with many stops and starts, but Dudley will have a restored historical building that provides high-quality housing that we can be proud of. Congratulations to all!"

That long road was replete with obstacles; some financial.

A groundbreaking was set for spring 2024, but high interest rates coupled with the increasingly high costs of construction nationwide created a multimillion-dollar shortfall in the developer's budget. The original $43 million project cost is now reported to be more than $60 million.

"The winds are behind us now," Mr. Weddle told the group assembled at the mill for the kickoff. "Our development team is very grateful for the support and help of local and state leaders who are instrumental to the successful rehabilitation of the Mill."

To date, $3.5 million has been spent on preliminary work, he said. The roof replacement, he noted, was funded by MassDevelopment, which is the state's development finance agency and land bank.

MassDevelopment awarded a $900,000 grant from the Commonwealth's Underutilized Properties Program to Stevens Mill Owner LLC to fund interior demolition, carpentry, and roof work.

Following the roof replacement comes approximately 18 months of construction, which Mr. Weddle said will start in the "very near future." Apartment preleasing is expected to commence in 20-24 months.

"Massachusetts faces a severe housing shortage, with strong demand but high construction costs, zoning hurdles, and a shortage of skilled workers slowing progress across the state. Here in Dudley, we've faced those same challenges, yet with the help of our legislators, local boards, Town Meeting, our partners in Webster, and grant funding that improved neighborhood infrastructure, we've kept this project alive," Ruda said. "It's a clear sign that even in a tough housing market, Dudley is seizing opportunities to turn obstacles into progress and move on the projects that will create the future our community needs."

The historic granite building was completed in 1864 and is widely recognized for its twin towers on the Dudley and Webster horizons.

It has earned a spot on the National Register of Historic Places and as such, its renovation is overseen by the National Park Service and the state Historical Commission.

Stevens Linen Association, Inc. dominated one of the region's oldest industries from 1850 to 1950.

Incorporated by Henry Hale Stevens in 1846, Stevens Linens began production in a mill built in 1812 at the corner of Ardlock Place and Mill Street. The mill's foremost structure, known as "The Main Mill," was constructed of locally quarried granite block between 1861 and 1864.

In time, its two seven-story towers stood over what became the largest of five mill villages in Dudley.

The now-historic mill on the east side of town ceased operations in the mid-20th century and, with the exception of a short-lived flea market, has been vacant since.

Dudley voters made history in 2010 by establishing the town's first historic district with the mill as its centerpiece.

Today, it is said to be the only remaining example of a linen manufacturing plant in the United States.

Creativity reigns supreme at Bites Books and Blooms fundraiser

WEBSTER — Creativity reigned supreme at the Kelly Library's Bites Books and Blooms fundraiser on Thursday, Sept. 25.

Twenty-six literary works were translated into books in blooms—floral arrangements that capture a literal scene or the ambience of a work in flowers. There were interpretations of classics, like “Anne of Green Gables” and “Emma”; children’s books, including “Ten Magic Butterflies” by an eight year old floral designer, and Granite the Bullmastiff— whose author created him in flowers.

Three of the Webster librarians entered books in blooms—giving the community a whole new world of reading choices. Several entries were based on inspiring works like Inciting Joy. There even was a history about fabric caught in blooms—just what you would expect from the town founded by Samuel Slater and a museum in his name. Last year’s floral wheel depicting management principles was complemented this year by a piece on money management— focusing on inflation, debt, savings, and investing. While each arrangement included a description by the creator, patrons were invited to wander around the books in bloom and complete them with their own interpretations and “aha” moments.

The Friends of the Gladys Kelly Library held the fundraiser to continue to keep library programs free for all. Thanks go to the many volunteers who planned and executed the effort, the library staff, the floral designers, the local town people and businesses who donated baskets and gift certificates, Eighty Ates, and the Carlos Odria Trio for making the evening so delightful and fruitful. Special thanks go to all who attended the event and gave so generously.
