Charlton Earth Day Cleanup nets more than two tons of trash

CHARLTON — On Saturday, April 25, approximately 150 residents participated in the annual Earth Day cleanup, collecting a total of 2.13 tons of trash. This figure exceeded last year's amount of 2.12 tons.

Residents — including many young children — ventured out to clean up roads, parks, sports fields, parking lots, highways, and other areas. Cigarette butts and nip bottles comprised the bulk of the trash, although fast food wrappers, plastic bags and bottles, glass and metal were also prevalent.

Nip bottles were collected separately in clear plastic bags. Residents found approximately 5,000 nip bottles. The Charlton Earth Day Planning Group hoped this specific endeavor will encourage legislators to consider finding a viable solution to this problem.

The Charlton Earth Day Planning Group handed out heavy duty plastic bags, sturdy gloves, vests, tick prevention stickers, tick removal kits, and grabbers to residents to ensure safety while picking up trash. Tee shirts, courtesy of Millenium Power, were distributed to the first 100 registrants. Seventh-grader Riley Boland created the winning design. The Earth Day celebration also included a Fest, which was held on the Charlton Town Common. Vendors included the Buffumville Corps of Engineers; Opacum Land Trust; AnnieMike's Honey; Keep Charlton Beautiful Committee; the Lions Club; Charlton Garden Club; Charlton Public Library; Capen Hill Nature Sanctuary; Charlton Conservation Commission; SwampDog Native Plant Farm; Charlton Heritage Preservation Trust; The Last Green Valley; Charlton Business Alliance; Second Chance Animal Shelter Mobile Unit, and several others.

The Fest also featured three food trucks: The Toasted Roasters, Suzy Q Ice Cream, and Big T's BBQ and Jerky House.

The Acoustic Ruckus (formerly the Grey Whisker Pickers) and Wormtown Mugwumps provided musical entertainment. Cara Smick Photography captured the day in photos from start to finish. The Charlton Fire Department conducted a car seat clinic for parents.

The Charlton Earth Day Planning Group is grateful to the Last Green Valley, which provided financial support for the event.

Charlton Middle School students compete in balloon race

CHARLTON — The annual Balloon Car Race at Charlton Middle School was an exciting—and occasionally unpredictable—celebration of creativity, engineering, and friendly competition for fifth-grade STEM students. Guided by teacher Nancy Doucimo-Garcia, students took on the challenge of designing and building balloon-powered cars while following the 8 Steps of the Engineering Design Process and applying Newton's Laws of Motion (yes, science really does make things go!).

Using recycled materials, students were tasked with creating a car that could travel at least 24 feet in a straight line—though as many quickly discovered, “straight” can be a bit of an ambitious goal for a balloon-powered vehicle. Before building, students used a PBS simulation program to test and refine their ideas, saving themselves from a few early design disasters (and a lot of exploding balloons and runaway balloons).

Through hands-on testing, students learned how factors like air pressure, wheel size, and axle length affected performance. Some cars zoomed across the floor like rockets, while others... took their time, exploring at a more “scenic” pace. Each trial brought new insights, and students continuously improved their designs using data, teamwork, and plenty of determination.

The project culminated in a highly anticipated competion held on April 17. Out of more than 150 determined students, only 27 advanced to the final stage in the gymnasium—officially earning bragging rights as top innovators. The finals were structured into three heats, with nine students competing at a time. Each launch was filled with excitement as cars raced forward (or occasionally collided), all in pursuit of the coveted Thompson Speedway designer hats and checkered flags.

From these heats, nine standout racers advanced: Cayliana Pacher, Lily Soponski, Avery Nguyen, Anna Mancini, Nora Bright, Benson Bullock, Kerolos Sayed, Owen Dean, and Sierra Perec. The compe-

Our Bright Future awarded grant from FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund

SOUTHBRIDGE — Southbridge-based Our Bright Future has been selected as one of the first grant recipients of the FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund, an international initiative supporting education and youth opportunity through sport.

Our Bright Future focuses on empowering young people and families through educational support, mentorship, wellness initiatives, and community engagement programming in the Southbridge area.

Our Bright Future was among 27 grassroots organizations worldwide selected from more than 3,500 applications. Grants ranging from $50,000 to $250,000 will help expand programs serving children in underserved communities.

The FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund aims to mobilize $100 million by the end of the FIFA World Cup 2026™ to expand access to education and football for children around the world. To date, the Fund has raised over USD 30 million with contributions from philanthropic foundations, leading brands and corporations, individual donors, and proceeds from ticket sales linked to major music and sporting events, including the FIFA Club World Cup 2025™ and the upcoming FIFA World Cup 2026™.

The first cohort of FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund grantees reflects both the global scale of need and the opportunity for meaningful impact. Collectively, the selected organizations reach thousands of children worldwide, including in regions where fewer than 15 per cent of students complete secondary education and poverty rates exceed 60 per cent. These figures highlight the urgency for targeted investment.

By supporting proven, community-led models that combine education, sport and local engagement, the FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund seeks to broaden access to learning, improve educational outcomes, and create pathways to opportunity for children in some of the world's most underserved communities.

“Football has the power to unite, inspire and create lasting change, and through the FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund we are putting that power into action to invest in the future of children around the world,” said FIFA President Gianni Infantino.

“These organizations are doing extraordinary work, often in the most challenging environments, to ensure children have access to education and the life skills that football provides. Together with Global Citizen, we are committed to expanding this impact and helping many more children realize their potential.”

More information on the FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund and the inaugural grantees is available on globalcitizen.org/education-fund-grantees.

Applications are now open for the second cycle of grants from the FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund. Organisations providing access to education and sport for children in underserved communities worldwide are invited to apply for grants ranging from USD 50,000 to USD 250,000 by visiting globalcitizen.org/education-fund-apply.

Hugh Evans, Co-founder & CEO of Global Citizen, commented, “For children growing up in extreme poverty, access to education is not only life-changing, it's life-saving. The impact of the FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund is far reaching — beyond the lives of young people in classrooms and on sports fields, into these communities, where their quality of life will improve and cycles of poverty will be broken. I extend heartfelt congratulations to our first grantees, and gratitude for their remarkable work.”

“We are deeply honored to play a role in an initiative of this scale and purpose — one that has the potential to transform lives and expand access to education for children around the world,” said Joseph Mrak III, CEO of Foundation Source. “For more than 25 years, we have maintained that impactful philanthropy requires more than good intentions. Strong operational and compliance infrastructure is the cornerstone that allows generous gifts to reach those who need it most.”

Founding donors to the FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund include Bank of America, the Official Bank Sponsor of the FIFA World Cup 2026™, which also serves as the bank of record for the Fund, as well as ticket sales from the FIFA Club World Cup 2025, the FIFA World Cup 2026, and FIFA Collect. Further pledges are expected from philanthropies, corporations and individuals in the coming months.

The non-fiduciary FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund advisory board includes FIFA President Gianni Infantino, Global Citizen Co-Founder and CEO Hugh Evans, Australian actor Hugh Jackman, US businesswoman and entrepreneur Ivanka Trump, Canadian singer-songwriter The Weeknd, Colombian singer-songwriter

Brimfield to hold Memorial Day services Sunday

BRIMFIELD — The Town of Brimfield will hold its annual Memorial Day Services on Sunday, May 24 at 2 p.m. on the Town Common. The committee encourages everyone to gather for this important day of remembrance and extends a special invitation to all area veterans, enlistee service members, and reservists.

As the nation celebrates its 250th, Brimfield is proud to pay tribute to the brave citizens who played a part in the establishment of our country and our freedoms. Town historian Mike DeFalco will speak and share poignant details of the monumental impact of this milestone.

Ceremonies begin with the drum roll, and the Veterans call to order, followed by patriotic music and poems reflecting on the day, remembrance of current and former town residents who have died in the last year, and the ceremonial tolling of the bell.

State Representative Todd Smola will speak, Brimfield elementary sixth grade twins Emma and Bria Commeaux will recite the poems, and Father Jack Brennan of St.

Christophers will lead the prayers. The musical performances will include the Brimfield Elementary Band, Lillian Donahue, Audrey Spicer, and members of St. Christophers Folk Group.

“Brimfield has held services for Memorial Day as a town tradition that goes back beyond the memories of its oldest residents. As a committee, we believe it is important to take time to honor those who sacrificed everything,” said committee chair Cindy Skowyra.

Brimfield to host first living history cemetery tour

BRIMFIELD — On June 13, the Spirit of Brimfield- 250th Committee and the Brimfield Historical Commission will co-host a Revolutionary War themed cemetery tour at the Brimfield Cemetery located at 28 Wales Rd. Guided groups will depart every 30 minutes, beginning at 10 a.m. from the Brimfield

Elementary School parking lot. Along the route, narrators and costumed interpreters will present powerful stories of the Brimfield men who left home to serve in the patriot cause, and the families they left behind. Stories told by actors in role, include the following: James and Mary Thompson, a husband-and-wife duo, telling their story of pride and sacrifice, and the family's concern for a certain cousin who led the patriot cause. Eudocia Janes, sharing her father William's service beginning at age 17, and the emotional court testimony he gave in detail 55 years later to secure his war pension. Joseph Hitchcock, the first English child born in Brimfield, who watched a wilderness become a town and colonies become a country. He answered the Lexington alarm, stood at the siege of Boston, and proudly sent his sons and grandsons to fight for freedom. Deacon David Morgan, from a Springfield love story to a Revolutionary legacy, not to mention a family tree that stretched all the way to a Gilded Age financier. Beulah Danielson, the steady support behind her husband, General Timothy Danielson, who held the home and family together while he was away. When peace finally came, would she be there to enjoy the liberty so dearly won? The tour will also feature the short stories of Captain John Sherman and his son Bazaleel, Nathaniel Danielson, Abner Morgan, Christopher Ward, and the infamous General William Eaton. Members of the Brown family, the Blodgett family and the Blashfield family will also be recognized as their graves are passed, among others. Registration for this free event is required and to register or to learn more information. Call Sue DeBruin (508) 523-9544

Battling Sox Music Festival to raise funds for American Cancer Society

FISKDALE — Live music, barbecue, raffles, and community spirit will come together later this month as the Battling Sox Relay For Life team hosts an all-day music festival fundraiser at Hyland Orchard & Pavilion in Fiskdale. The event is scheduled for Saturday, May 30, from noon to 9:30 p.m. at the orchard and pavilion located at 199 Arnold Road. Organizers say the fundraiser will benefit the American Cancer Society through Relay For Life of Southern Worcester County. Admission to the rain-or-shine event is a requested $10 donation, with attendees encouraged to bring lawn chairs or blankets to enjoy a full afternoon and evening of performances. Two stages will operate throughout the day, featuring separate acoustic and full-band lineups as part of a Battle of the Bands-style showcase. "This is really about bringing the community together for a good cause while celebrating local music," organizers said. "People can come for a favorite performer or stay all day and experience everything."

The festival will feature competitions for both acoustic performers and bands, giving local musicians a chance to perform before the crowd while supporting cancer research and patient services through the American Cancer Society. The lineup currently includes:
• Noon to 12:30 p.m. — Emma
• 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. — Back Seat Boogie
• 1:30 to 2 p.m. — Steve Robinson
• 2 to 3 p.m. — Shedding Zen
• 3 to 3:30 p.m. — Mama Kilsmith and the unofficial T. Swift

Experience • 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. — SuperChild
• 4:30 to 5 p.m. — FM Radio
• 5 to 6 p.m. — The Vig
• 6 to 6:30 p.m. — Princess Pupule and the Pineapple Cowboy performing "Barefoot in Margaritaville"
• 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. — Wonderland Mafia
• 8 to 9 p.m. — Vivi and Da Funk
Organizers noted that the performance schedule remains subject to change. In addition to the music, food and refreshments will be available throughout the day. Paradise

A small town on a global stage

For generations, communities like Southbridge have understood something that large institutions sometimes overlook: real change often begins at the local level. It starts with neighbors helping neighbors, mentors guiding young people, volunteers giving their time, and organizations quietly working behind the scenes to create opportunities where few existed before.

That is why the recent recognition of Southbridge-based Our Bright Future by the FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund deserves not only congratulations, but genuine community pride.

Out of more than 3,500 applications submitted worldwide, Our Bright Future was selected as one of only 27 grassroots organizations to receive funding through the international initiative. For a small-town organization rooted right here in Southbridge to stand alongside programs from across the globe says something important about both the quality of the work being done locally and the people behind it.

Too often, conversations about small towns focus only on challenges. We hear about economic struggles, population changes, workforce shortages, or young people leaving for larger cities. Those concerns are real. But stories like this remind us that small communities are also places of innovation, compassion, and determination.

Organizations like Our Bright Future succeed because they understand that helping young people requires more than simply offering programs. It means building trust. It means creating safe spaces where children and families feel seen and supported. It means recognizing that mentorship, wellness, education, and community engagement are deeply connected.

What makes this recognition especially meaningful is the scale of the initiative itself. The FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund aims to mobilize $100 million worldwide to improve access to education and opportunity through sports and community engagement. The organizations selected are working in underserved areas where poverty rates remain high and educational access remains limited. Southbridge may be a small Massachusetts town, but it clearly shares many of the same challenges facing communities around the world: ensuring children have access to support systems, opportunity, encouragement, and hope.

There is also something refreshing about seeing sports connected to education and personal development rather than simply competition. Athletics have long played an important role in shaping confidence, teamwork, discipline, and resilience. Whether it is soccer, football, basketball, baseball, or simply organized recreation, sports can become a gateway to mentorship and belonging for young people who need both.

The fact that international leaders recognized a Southbridge organization for doing this work should remind local residents that meaningful efforts happening close to home do not go unnoticed. Sometimes the people making the greatest difference are not those making headlines every day, but those steadily investing in children and families year after year.

This recognition also reflects positively on the broader Southbridge community itself. Successful nonprofits do not operate in isolation. They rely on volunteers, donors, local partnerships, educators, parents, businesses, and residents willing to support their mission. When a local organization earns international recognition, it says something about the community that helped sustain it.

In many ways, this story is larger than one grant announcement. It is a reminder that small towns are capable of producing work with global impact. The compassion, creativity, and persistence found in places like Southbridge still matter.

And sometimes, the world notices.

Help your graduate use credit and debit cards wisely

As your new graduate prepares to step into the next chapter of life – whether that's more education or starting a career – one of the best things you can do is help them understand how to use credit cards, debit cards, and prepaid cards wisely. They can be powerful financial tools, but without some basic knowledge, they can also lead to trouble.

Here are a few things for graduates, whether from high school or graduate school, should know.

Credit cards have benefits – and risks. About 69 percent of Americans ages 18-29 have at least one credit card, according to the Federal Reserve. They can borrow money up to a set limit, pay it back and borrow again – a cycle known as revolving credit. Used responsibly, credit cards can help build their credit history, cover unexpected expenses, and even earn rewards like cash back or travel discounts.

On the cautionary side, if your child or grandchild doesn't pay the full balance each month, interest charges can accumulate quickly. Carrying a high balance relative to the credit limit can hurt their credit score. Perhaps most importantly, it's easy to fall into a debt cycle in which they charge more than they can pay, interest can add up to more than the original purchases cost, and they might even open new cards to cover old ones. It creates a hole that's hard to climb out of.

The key message is simple: pay off the balance monthly, pay on time and treat the card as a convenience, not a life-line.

Debit cards can be a good option. Since debit cards draw directly from a bank account, they naturally limit overspending. But they aren't risk-free. Overdrawing the account

can trigger fees, and debit cards generally offer fewer fraud protections than credit cards. Additionally, since you're spending your own money rather than borrowing, debit cards don't help build a credit score. Still, for a young person just starting out, a debit card can be a practical way to manage day-to-day spending.

Prepaid cards can help teach the basics. Money is loaded onto the card before use, and your young adult can only spend what's already on the card. Because of this, there's no risk of debt, no credit history needed and no bills to pay.

Prepaid cards come in several forms. General purpose reloadable cards can be used anywhere cards are accepted. Payroll cards are sometimes used by employers to distribute wages. Gift cards are another option.

The downside is that prepaid cards typically don't help build a credit history, since transactions usually aren't reported to credit bureaus. Some also come with fees for activation, reloading or transactions. These fees can add up, so it pays to read the fine print.

Teaching your graduate the difference between these tools, and how to develop good habits for each, can help them build financial confidence for decades to come.

The quiet things we carry home

LANTERNS ALONG MAIN STREET

By CHARLES

There's a certain sound to Memorial Day in small towns.

It's the distant thump of a bass drum echoing down Main Street. The squeak of folding chairs being opened along a parade route. The soft flutter of little American flags planted in damp cemetery grass before sunrise by volunteers who probably didn't tell anyone they were doing it.

When I was a boy, Memorial Day seemed simple to me. It meant a day off from school, a parade, maybe the smell of charcoal grills drifting through the neighborhood by late afternoon. I remember old veterans standing straighter than usual in their uniforms, though I was too young then to notice how some of them walked a little slower than others.

As a kid, you don't fully understand why grown men go quiet during the playing of "Taps."

You just know they do. Now that I'm older, Memorial Day feels different. Not heavier exactly, but deeper. The older you get, the more you realize every town has names carved into stone somewhere. Boys who grew up on the same streets we drive every day. Young men who probably fished the same ponds, sat in the same diners, worked summer jobs, complained about cold winters and muddy springs just like the rest of us.

And then one day, they left home wearing a uniform and never came back.

That's what Memorial Day really asks of us. Not grand speeches. Not perfect patriotism. Mostly remembrance.

Just remembrance. I think that's why New England towns observe Memorial Day the way they do. There's something modest about it here. The ceremonies are rarely flashy. A few speeches. A prayer maybe. Flowers placed carefully at a monument. Veterans standing shoulder to shoulder, even when age has bent their backs a little.

People still show up. That matters.

I've always noticed how children behave differently during Memorial Day ceremonies too. Even the fidgety ones somehow sense this is not quite like the Fourth of July. There's usually one little boy waving a flag too enthusiastically until his mother gently lowers his arm. Somebody's toddler starts asking questions halfway through the ceremony. Teenagers stand around trying to look uninterested while quietly paying attention anyway.

That matters too. Because remembrance has to keep getting handed down. The older generation understood that. My father certainly did, though he wasn't much for emotional speeches. He belonged to that old school of men who believed you showed respect by showing up. Rain or shine. Suit jacket on. Hat off during the anthem. Handshake firm. No fuss made about it.

A lot of those men are gone now.

Truth be told, Memorial Day can feel a little lonely sometimes because of that. You look around town greens and realize many of the veterans who once led the parades now ride quietly in the passenger seat instead of marching. Some are missing altogether.

Time catches everybody eventually.

Still, there's comfort in the traditions staying put even as generations change. The local scout troops still help. High school bands still miss a few notes halfway through the march. Volunteers still place flags at gravesites. Somebody still brings extra donuts nobody asked for.

And somehow that ordinary kindness feels connected to the meaning of the day itself.

Memorial Day was never really meant to glorify war. At least I don't think so. It's about honoring sacrifice while quietly hoping future generations won't have to make the same sacrifices quite so often.

That may sound old-fashioned nowadays. So be it.

I suppose I've reached the age where I don't mind sounding a little old-fashioned now and then. There are worse things a man can be.

Over the years, I've noticed something else too. The people who attend Memorial Day ceremonies most faithfully are often not the loudest people the other 364 days of the year. They're usually steady people. Humble people. Folks who understand gratitude doesn't always need a microphone.

Maybe that's the lesson I keep carrying home from Memorial Day each year.

A healthy town remembers.

Not perfectly. Not dramatically. But sincerely. It remembers the people who built the community, protected it, sacrificed for it, and never made it back to enjoy the peaceful little moments the rest of us often take for granted. Ballgames. Backyard cookouts. Kids riding bicycles at dusk. A quiet evening with family while the screen door creaks open and shut.

Ordinary American life.

The kind of life somebody else once gave up everything to protect.

And every Memorial Day, whether we realize it or not, we carry that gift home with us.

Town-Wide Tag Sale takes on flea market town

BRIMFIELD — Brimfield is known world-wide as a destination for treasure hunting, but once a year, the entire town turns into a secondhand shopper's paradise. Organized by Hitchcock Academy, the area's community center located in Brimfield, the 16th annual Brimfield Town-Wide Tag Sale will take place on Saturday, May 30 from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

All of the sales are included on a map complete with listings that describe what shoppers can find at each site, also noting any sales that will continue through Sunday. Several sales are on-site at Hitchcock, so the community center is a great place to start your shopping. The Brimfield Farmers' Market is also running in the organization's parking lot that day from 9am to 1pm, so consider fueling up with kombucha and baked goods, or adding some fresh farm and handcrafted goods to your day's loot.

Shoppers can pick up a printed 11x17 map at Hitchcock for $2 on the day of the event or download it from Hitchcock's website the day prior. So far, listings include typical tag sale fare such as clothing, household items, toys, tools, housewares, small appliances, free garden pots, cleaning supplies, kitchen items, dishes, jewelry, holiday décor, crafts, baking, books, cds and dvds, baby items, furniture, pet supplies, assorted tools and tech items, and knick-knacks, along with vintage and antique items.

Unique items in the listings include an original Atari system, kayaks, truck boxes, Amazon Mystery Boxes, a 12-foot aluminum boat, tin toys, andirons, prints, baseball cards, a bamboo fly rod, a Modern Glenwood Home Grand Wood Burning Cook Stove, antique sewing machine, table saw, bench sander, and more.

"It's such a fun day and a unique way to foster a sense of community," says Hitchcock Executive Director Cindy Skowrya. "We hear often how people enjoy interacting with one another as much as they enjoy the hunt."

For more information, visit www.hitchcockacademy.org. Hitchcock Academy is a community center located at 2 Brookfield Road in Brimfield serving the community with educational, recreational, and cultural programming. Hitchcock is celebrating 70 years this year following its 100 year history as a school.

"Mangia, Meatballs and Murder" comes to Casaubon Senior Center

SOUTHBRIDGE — The Delvena Theatre Company will be presenting "Mangia, Meatballs and Murder" at the Casaubon Senior Center, 153 Chestnut St., Southbridge on Tuesday, June 16, at 1 p.m.

Who dunnit? An exciting, live, comedic, interactive murder mystery performance set in Luigi's Ristorante featuring Lynne Moulton, Joseph Zamparelli and Fran Baron in multiple roles. Come put your "super sleuth" on — having much fun along the way. Token prizes will be awarded.

The Delvena Theatre Company has been doing to-go shows for the last several years at various venues throughout the New England area. The Company was founded in 1992, and prior to "going on the road" performed at different locations throughout Massachusetts, most often at the Boston Center for the Arts. Delvena was nominated for five Independent Reviewers of New England awards. Its production of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" was on Theatre Mirror's Best List for acting, directing and production. Nursing alum returns to QCC as trustee after rewarding career

WORCESTER — Quinsigamond Community College recently announced that Florence LeClair has been appointed by the governor as the newest alumni trustee on the Board of Trustees, after being voted in by the Alumni Association. LeClair, a lifelong Worcester resident, credited QCC for laying out the foundation of her nursing career, which included multiple positions at UMass Memorial Medical Center.

“Flo LeClair has the most marvelous history and dedication to

Florence LeClair said President of the Board of Trustees Dr. Linda Maykel. “We are honored to have her.”

LeClair’s career spanned over 30 years in oncology and hospice nursing, where she became a pioneer in palliative care. She launched the hospice program at UMass Memorial Medical Center in 1995 and later served as a nurse case manager in the Emergency Department until her retirement.

“QCC is thrilled to have Flo LeClair return to the college as a trustee,” said QCC President Dr. Luis Pedraja. “Her lifelong commitment to community service, leadership and patient care exemplifies the spirit of Quinsigamond alumni.”

LeClair began her career as a licensed practical nurse after graduating from Fanning Trade School in 1972. Seeking to deepen her knowledge, she earned her associate degree in nursing from Quinsigamond Community College in 1978, followed by a bachelor’s degree from Assumption College in 1988.

“I am honored to have been selected as a trustee for QCC,” LeClair said. “I believe I received wonderful training as an LPN, but QCC’s program taught me the theory and science behind my clinical practice. I hope in my role as a trustee, I can further educate and promote QCC’s programs to the community.”

Since retiring, LeClair continues to serve the community through volunteer work with Elder Services of Worcester, Notre Dame Assisted Living and her parish. She also maintains a connection to QCC by overseeing a nursing scholarship established in memory of her sister, Carmen Tobin, a QCC alum.

New England Water Ski Collective to host State Slalom Championships at Buffumville Lake

CHARLTON — The New England Water Ski Collective (formerly known as the Webster Water Ski Collective) is proud to announce that it will host the Massachusetts State Slalom Championships on July 15 at Buffumville Lake, located on the Oxford/Charlton town line. A competitors practice session will take place on July 14 for this event.

This event marks the first time in many years that a Massachusetts State Slalom Championship tournament will be held in the Commonwealth. The New England Water Ski Collective is honored to bring this prestigious competition back to Central Massachusetts, where it will showcase the best water skiers from across the state and surrounding regional area.

How Slalom works

Slalom skiing is one of the most popular and recognizable disciplines in water skiing. Performed on a single ski, it is the skill that many beginners aspire to master — and what elite skiers make look effortless.

In competition, a slalom course is comprised of six fixed buoys positioned 11.5 meters (37.73 feet) to the left and right of the boat’s centerline. The centerline itself is marked by boat guide buoys spaced 2.1 meters (6.89 feet) apart to ensure precise boat path alignment.

A successful pass requires the skier to:

- Enter through the starting gates
- Pass around the outside of all six buoys
- Exit cleanly through the end

gates

Only after clearing the exit gates is the pass considered complete.

Depending on a skier’s category and ability level, rope length begins as long as 18.25 meters (60 feet) and can shorten to an incredibly challenging 9.75 meters (32 feet). After each successful pass, the rope is shortened — increasing the difficulty — while boat speeds can increase up to a maximum of 36 mph depending on division.

As rope lengths shorten and speeds increase, the physical demands grow dramatically. Professional skiers are known to generate cross-course speeds between 60–75 mph across the wake as they accelerate from one buoy to the next.

Final scores are recorded based on boat speed, rope length, and the number of completed buoys. The skier who can complete the most buoys at the shortest rope length and highest speed earns the victory.

Competition will be conducted under the standards of the American Water Ski Association (AWSA), whose official rules govern sanctioned tournament slalom events.

Supporting conservation and accessibility

Tournament profits will be donated to support conservation efforts and improvements to the grounds at Buffumville Dam, maintained by the United States Army Corps of Engineers.

In addition, the New England Water Ski Collective plans to install accessible beach mats at Buffumville Beach this summer to improve shoreline access for individuals with mobility challenges — ensuring more members of the community can safely enjoy the lake.

Built on partnership and community The Collective’s Slalom / Competition Team has worked diligently to build partnerships with regional ski teams, individual competitors, and the Army Corps of Engineers to bring this championship event to life. The coordination of athletes, officials, volunteers, and site logistics represents months of collaboration.

Led by director Joe Zmetra, the New England Water Ski Collective’s competition team is especially excited to see many of its own members compete on home water as they pursue qualification for AWSA Eastern Regionals and Nationals.

Zmetra reflected on the athleticism required in the sport: “Slalom is as much about strength as it is about precision. The skier has to generate incredible power across the wake, maintain perfect form in and out of their cuts, and carry maximum velocity into each turn. At the buoy, you need the ability to stop on a dime, change direction instantly, and set up your next cut with total control. It’s a balance of explosive power and technique — and when it all comes together, it’s an amazing thing to watch.”

All abilities — one passion

The championship represents more than just competition — it reflects the Collective’s mission of “All Abilities — One Passion.”

“Our team is incredibly excited to bring the Massachusetts State Slalom Championships back to Central Massachusetts,” said Leonardo Topa, President of the New England Water Ski Collective. “All three divisions of our organization have worked together to make this event possible, while also supporting our other major initiatives this season — including our Learn to Ski programs and our traveling adaptive ski clinics. This tournament shows how our organization continues to grow while making sure everyone has the opportunity to get out on the water and enjoy the sport we love.”

The New England Water Ski Collective is eagerly awaiting the warmer weather as it prepares to begin a busy season that will see its members actively skiing and competing across the New England region.

About the New England Water Ski Collective

The New England Water Ski Collective is a registered 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization devoted to making water skiing and water sports accessible to all. Through its Adaptive, Competitive, and Recreational ski teams, the organization works to remove barriers to participation and grow the sport throughout the New England region.

As a nonprofit, the Collective relies on the generosity of donors, community partners, and sponsors to help expand programming, host events, and provide opportunities for athletes of all abilities.

If you are interested in donating to support our Adaptive, Competitive, or Recreational ski teams, please contact our Sponsorship Coordinator, Juliet, at Juliet@NewEnglandWaterSki.org

By supporting the New England Water Ski Collective, you are helping ensure that more individuals — regardless of age or ability — have the chance to experience the thrill and community of water skiing.

For more information about the Massachusetts State Slalom Championships or the New England Water Ski Collective, please contact New England Water Ski Collective at (774) 495-0165 or comp@newenglandwaterski.org.

Southbridge Food Share adds monthly Saturday hours to expand community access SOUTHBRIDGE — Residents who rely on the Southbridge Food Share now have an additional opportunity each month to receive assistance, as the pantry expands its schedule to include one Saturday distribution day.

The added weekend hours are intended to make services more accessible for individuals and families who may not be able to visit during the organization's regular weekday schedule. Southbridge Food Share continues to operate on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and will now also open one Saturday each month at its location at 446 Hamilton St.

Distribution hours remain the same on all service days, running from 10 to 11:15 a.m.

Upcoming Saturday dates include April 25, May 16, June 27, July 25, Aug. 22 and Sept. 26.

No appointments are required to receive food, and visitors are not asked to provide income documentation or legal identification.

The pantry serves residents from Southbridge and surrounding communities and operates with support from local partners, including the United Way of South Central Massachusetts. Community donations and volunteer efforts continue to play a key role in sustaining the program's operations.

Southbridge Food Share has remained a central resource for area households facing food insecurity, particularly as grocery costs and household expenses continue to affect many families across the region.

Organizers encourage residents to share information about the expanded Saturday schedule with neighbors and community members who may benefit from the service.

For more information, residents may call 508-765-6583 or visit the Hamilton Street location during operating hours.

OBITUARIES

G. Reed Ide, III, 77

G. Reed Ide, III, (77) of Sturbridge, MA died peacefully on April 28, 2026. Born in Springfield, Massachusetts, he was the son of Gustavus and Priscilla (Cranston) Ide. Ide began his career at the Southbridge (MA) Evening News as a reporter in 1967. He went on to work at the New York Daily News and became the Executive Editor of the Villager in Greenwich Village in 1973. From there he became a magazine editor at Collector Communications, Inc., in New York City.

When the AIDS epidemic broke out, Ide became a Special Graduate Admissions student at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, and served as co-director of (now) The Stonewall Center at the University of Massachusetts. He received a Master of Education degree in counseling in 1989 and began second career as an AIDS educator and a service provider, serving as director of the AIDS Buddy Program in Springfield, MA. In 1991, he became the founding director of the Hampshire County Ryan White Consortium, to provide comprehensive services to people with HIV/AIDS and their families. Ide served as director of AIDS Care/Hampshire County through Cooley Dickenson Hospital in Northampton, Massachusetts for five years. He then moved to the Netherlands for several months. Coming home, he returned to journalism, specializing in European Travel. He served as a founding Editor of Passport Magazine serving the LGBT community. He also wrote two gay travel guides, one to Iceland and the other to Amsterdam.

In retirement, he was a substitute teacher at the local Jr. High for seven years. In 2017, he undertook what he called the most life-affirming event of his life. He adopted Collin LaCroix as his son, supporting Collin's success through his education, service in the US Navy, and launching into a thriving adult life and career.

In addition to his son, Ide is survived by cousins Althea Cranston (MA), Jeremy Cranston (WA), and James Cranston (MA), as well as his sister-in-law Cynthia (Wyman) Ide, a nephew Mark C. Ide, Jr. and his wife Rebecca (Gaddis) Ide, and a niece Ashley E. Ide, all of Massachusetts.

Services will be at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, 446 Hamilton St., Southbridge, MA on May 14th, 10:30am.

Arrangements are being handled by the Belanger Bullard Funeral Home, 51 Marcy Street, Southbridge, MA 01550.

An online guestbook will be available at www.BelangerFuneralHome.com

Burgess third graders kick off Sturbridge celebration of America 250

STURBRIDGE — One-hundred and twenty “Happy Birthday America” cards created by Burgess Elementary School third graders are now hanging in the Senior Center. This project was developed in collaboration with the Sturbridge America 250th Anniversary Committee, established in January 2025. In the coming months, residents and visitors will enjoy a number of community programs created by and coordinated with this Committee.

Expect to see special commemorative banners featuring an historical flag posted on poles along Routes 20 and 131. Look for programs focusing on the history of America at the Joshua Hyde Public Library, and from the Sturbridge Historical Society. Old Sturbridge Village is hosting Revolutionary Game Nights at the Ox & Yoke Café. Participants will have the chance to win prizes such as special event tickets, Village crafts, and more! Check out “Revolutionary Bingo” March 27 and May 29 and “Revolutionary Trivia” Feb. 27, April 24, and June 26. For more information about these events and the many other new 250th events that the Village will be hosting, go to: osv.org.

Additional events sponsored by the Committee include an essay program for Grade 5 students titled “What Does America Mean to You?” with an option for students to voluntarily submit essays to a Town-wide recog-ognition contest. Local restaurants will participate in a “Taste of Sturbridge” event during March and April featuring patriotic-themed offerings. Opacum Land Trust will incorporate Sturbridge historical landmarks into its April 2026 Vacation Scavenger Hunt. Also planned for May at the Senior Center are a tree planting and the burying of a time capsule.

Events will culminate in May and June. A Family Fun Day on May 16 features a Children’s Bike Decorating and Parade, followed with activities on the Common including: a Mini Big-Top Circus, face painting, T-shirt decorating, yard games, potato sack and 3-legged races, music and more. A hot dog cart will also be available. The Committee’s signature event will be held on June 27, 2026 and will feature a parade along Route 20 and Route 131, followed by a community festival on the Town Common. More information on these events will be forthcoming.

Volunteer recruitment and community engagement have been central to the Committee’s work. The Committee extends its appreciation to all residents, volunteers, nonprofit organizations, and local businesses supporting the America 250th Anniversary celebration. If you are interested in participating in either/both the Family Fun Day and the Parade, or simply wish to find more information, please contact the Sturbridge250 Committee by email at Sturbridge250@gmail.com.

SNHU announces

Spring President’s List

MANCHESTER, New Hampshire — It is with great pleasure that Southern New Hampshire University (SNHU) congratulates the following students on being named to the Spring 2026 President’s List. The spring terms run from January to May.

Full-time undergraduate students who have earned a minimum grade-point average of 3.700 and above for the reporting term are named to the President’s List. Full-time status is achieved by earning 12 credits over each 16-week term or paired 8-week terms grouped in fall, winter/spring, and summer.

Southern New Hampshire University (SNHU) is a private, nonprofit, accredited institution with a 93-year history of educating traditional-aged students and working adults. Now serving more than 200,000 learners worldwide, SNHU offers approximately 200 undergraduate, graduate, and certificate programs, available online and on its 300-acre campus in Manchester, NH. Recognized as one of the “Most Innovative” regional universities by U.S. News & World Report and one of the fastest-growing universities in the country, SNHU is committed to expanding access to high quality, affordable pathways that meet the needs of each learner.

Join Sturbridge America250 Parade June 27

STURBRIDGE — The Sturbridge America250 Committee is moving forward with plans for a parade and festival on Saturday, June 27 – rain or shine. The parade will step off from the Old Sturbridge Village Museum Education parking lot at 10:30 a.m. It will proceed on the OSV access road to Route 20, then to Route 131 and end at the Town Common. Bill Emrich will emcee the parade. The parade will include marching bands, entertainers, antique cars, floats made by local businesses, and area groups.

Bob Briere, recognized by many as the Town’s historian, is the parade Grand Marshal. Virginia Jalbert, the Town’s oldest resident at 101, is the guest of honor.

There is still time for businesses or groups to get involved – with a float, vintage car, or marchers. Children are invited to decorate their bikes or scooters and ride in the parade (helmets are required and a parent/guardian must walk alongside their child throughout).

Anyone wishing to participate can email sturbridge250@gmail.com.

Following the parade there will be a Festival on the Common. This festival will include historical reenactors, entertainers, patriotic music, a reading of the Declaration of Independence, a cherry-pie eating contest and other participatory activities, and food trucks.

Mark your calendars on June 27 to celebrate the 250th anniversary of American independence in Sturbridge!

Dementia Friendly Charlton hosting brunch

CHARLTON — Dementia Friendly Charlton will be hosting a morning brunch for those living with dementia and their care partners on June 13 from 10:30 a.m. to noon at the Charlton Federated Church, 64 Main St., Charlton.

This event will be welcoming, low-key, and flexible, recognizing that social outings can be challenging for those with a dementing illness. The meal will be buffet, with self-seating and plenty of table space.

To help us plan, please register your interest in attending before June 8. Recognizing that unexpected situations may arise, cancellations can be made up to the morning of the event. To register, cancel, or for questions: phone (508-248-5550 at the Charlton Federated Church) or email: dementiafriendlycharlton@gmail.com. Please provide name and number of attendees. There is no cost to attend this event. Donations are welcome to help support our organization.

Dementia Friendly Charlton is a non-profit organization which supports individuals with dementia as well as their families and caregivers. We work to raise awareness and understanding of dementia through educational programs, community events and encouragement of dementia-friendly businesses. Visit our site on the town of Charlton Web site (townofcharlton.net) and/or our Facebook page for more information.

Half of the funds raised for the FIFA Global Citizen Education Fund will be allocated to the FIFA Football for Schools (F4S) programme, an initiative that advances life skills, learning, and community development through football around the world.

The first group of FIFA Global

Citizen Education Fund grantees were selected through a highly competitive, multi-stage process designed to ensure credibility and impact. From more than 3,500 applications submitted through an open global call, independent screening by Foundation Source verified eligibility and compliance before Global Citizen programme staff shortlisted top candidates against a rigorous evaluation framework.

All applications were subject to a rigorous evaluation framework developed by Global Citizen and administered jointly with Foundation Source, encompassing eligibility screening, compliance verification and comprehensive due diligence before any disbursements are made. Ongoing monitoring and spot checks will ensure accountability and results through the grant period. Grantees benefit from a single platform to manage their relationship with Global Citizen from application through grant agreement and reporting, simplifying the administrative process so organizations can stay focused on their work.

 titution intensified as these finalists raced again, narrowing the field to the top five. With every inch counting and the crowd cheering loudly, the gymnasium was filled with suspense—and a few last-second hopes for “just a little more air.”

The final results were:
 5th place: Lily Soponski
 4th place: Avery Nguyen

3rd place: Anna Mancini
 2nd place: Owen Dean
 1st place: Kerolos Sayed
 Congratulations to all of the incredible racers for their hard work, creativity, and perseverance—and for proving that balloon-powered engineering is harder than it looks!

With an energetic audience, supportive teachers, and lots of high-flying (and sometimes not-so-straight-flying) cars, the event was a wonderful reminder that learning can be both fun and inspiring. By combining science, engineering, and problem-solving in a hands-on and competitive way, the Balloon Car Race showed that success often comes from experimentation, teamwork, and learning from mistakes.

In the end, it wasn’t just about crossing the finish line—it was about the journey, the creativity, and maybe a few balloons that had a mind of their own. Truly, a race day to remember!

MEM DAY
 has a proud tradition to pause and reflect on the significance of Memorial Day and those that we honor on that day, especially those who sacrificed everything and helped make it possible for us to enjoy our freedoms because of their sacrifice and selflessness.”

A parade immediately follows the ceremony, and all are invited to participate. A wagon is available for veterans and others who want to join the parade but are unable to march, courtesy of Village Green Campgrounds, who will also provide ice cream to all who participate in the parade. Children are encouraged to decorate their bikes and doll carriages in patriotic themes.

The parade will stop at the cemetery and war monuments in town to pay respect with ceremonial gun salute, the laying of wreaths donated by Green Thumb Florist, raising of the flag and the playing of Taps by Grant MacFarlane and Cassandra Mungai. Tina Harkness and Linda Mercier will play the bagpipe at the cemetery.

During the American Civil War, citizens placed flowers on the graves of those who had been killed in battle. In recognition of that tradition, red carnations will be handed out to place on veterans’ graves marked with flags placed by Scout Troop 7 and additional volunteers. Girls on the Run planted the geraniums at town monuments.

The committee wants to thank all who worked behind the scenes to make this possible especially the Brimfield Police Department and the Champeau-Vilandre American Legion Post 109 for their support.

Be sure to join us on this Day of Remembrance in honor of those who have sacrificed so much for the freedoms that we enjoy. In case of rain the ceremony will be held at St. Christopher’s church.

Charlton Middle School sixth graders showcase engineering skills in Boston

CHARLTON — Eight select sixth grade students from Charlton Middle School represented their school at the Applied Learning Showcase on Friday, May 8, demonstrating innovation, teamwork, and public speaking skills alongside students from across the region.

The students arrived early in the morning at Shepherd Hill Regional High School, where parents dropped them off to meet the bus for the trip to Boston. Accompanied by chaperones and fellow middle and high school participants, the group traveled to the showcase held at The TRACK at New Balance. The event ran from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and featured more than 1,500 student projects.

The showcase highlighted projects developed through the Project Lead The Way curriculum, where students studied cerebral palsy, occupational therapy, and the Engineering Design Process. Working in small groups, students were challenged to design and build “therapeutic toys” while meeting specific criteria and constraints. After completing their first prototypes, students spent additional class periods critiquing one another’s work and discussing ways to improve their designs. They were then given more time to revise and enhance their projects before three different groups of therapeutic toy designs were chosen to attend the showcase in Boston.

Throughout the event, the Charlton students spent over two hours presenting their projects to industry professionals and answering questions from attendees.

The students talked almost nonstop from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. It was truly impressive to watch.

Despite the long hours on their feet, every student said they would participate again.

One visitor was especially impressed when students explained how they used a decision matrix to evaluate design choices — a concept she said she had not encountered until her late 20s or early 30s. Judges and attendees also praised the organization of the students’ binders and presentation materials.

Preparation for the showcase required significant dedication from the students, many of whom arrived at school as early as 7 a.m. and stayed until 4 p.m. to organize poster boards, prepare binders, and rehearse presentations.

The compliments I received about my students truly warmed my heart. I am so proud that we did the extra work before and after school to prepare for this showcase.

Following the event, students reviewed feedback cards together, discussing both the compliments they received and suggestions for improvement.

For the students of Charlton Middle School, the experience provided not only recognition for their hard work, but also valuable lessons in engineering, collaboration, and communication.

Relay For Life returns to Southbridge June 20

SOUTHBRIDGE — The Relay For Life of Southern Worcester County will hold its 29th Relay in Southbridge on Saturday, June 20 at McMahon Field from 9 a.m. - 9:30 p.m.

The Relay For Life is the signature fundraiser of the American Cancer Society. 29 years is no small feat! We walk to honor, remember and celebrate all those that we have lost to cancer, those still fighting and the ones that have beat it.

We can't do it without help from the community and we are thankful to partner with The Duck and Avellino in Sturbridge to hold a fundraiser day on Tuesday May 19th. Dine in or take out at either of these locations all day on May 19, and 20 percent of all food sales will be donated to the American Cancer Society. You must present the attached coupon, either in print form or on your phone. Reservations are strongly suggested. Gather up family or friends, eat great food and help raise funds to fight cancer, one plate at a time.

Camp Invention's fun, action-packed summer STEM program coming to area

REGION — Camp Invention®, a nationally recognized, nonprofit summer enrichment program, is coming to the following locations.

Auburn: Auburn Middle School the week of July 6 - July 10.

Uxbridge: Our Lady of the Valley Regional School the week of June 22 - June 26.

Regional program sponsors include Johnson Controls Foundation and Overdeck Family Foundation.

A program of the National Inventors Hall of Fame® in partnership with the United States Patent and Trademark Office, Camp Invention challenges children in grades K-6 to tap into their natural curiosity and use their creativity to solve problems. Through hands-on activities, Camp Invention promotes STEM learning; builds confidence, leadership, perseverance and resourcefulness; and encourages entrepreneurship - all in a fun and engaging environment. Each year, the program features new curricula inspired by some of our nation's most world-changing inventors - the National Inventors Hall of Fame Inductees. This year's Spark program encourages children to be confident in their ideas and explore their innovativeness through hands-on activities including:

- Space Morphers™: Kids build a DIY rocket and launch an epic mission to transform a new planet's atmosphere, terrain and ecosystem. After a high-energy Rover Race to collect samples and data, they grow dazzling crystal trees and hatch a mysterious animal egg in a Space Lab.
- Make Waves™: Campers ride the waves of entrepreneurship and invention! Inspired by a surfer's journey, they create prototypes, pitch their innovative products to hook investors and build a billboard boat to set sail and "make waves" in the market.
- Fur-ensics™: Kids sharpen their animal detective skills with Cap E. Bara and a fleet of robotic capybaras. They investigate a trail of footprints, collect bits of fluffy fur and examine suspicious splatters before forensically analyzing evidence that has a surprising twist.

• The Infringers™: Campers use their invention superpowers to solve challenges in their community and around the world. They miniaturize top-secret innovations, safeguard their designs using cryptography and protect their intellectual property from the Infringers. "I love that this camp lets my kids step out of the usual roles that they have at home and in school, and explore different parts of themselves," said the parent of 2025 Camp Invention campers. "At camp my son learns to be more creative and my daughter learns to be more independent." All local Camp Invention programs are facilitated and taught by qualified educators who reside and teach in the community. Camp Invention serves 147,000 students every year and partners with more than 2,600 schools and districts across the nation. For more information or to register, visit invent.org/camp. About Camp Invention Camp Invention is the only nationally recognized summer program focused on creativity, innovation, real-world problem solving and the spirit of invention. Through hands-on programming, Camp Invention encourages children entering kindergarten through sixth grade to explore science, technology, engineering and mathematics curricula inspired by some of the world's greatest inventors. Since 1990, our education programs have served more than 3.3 million children, and 297,000 teachers and Leadership Interns. Regional program sponsors include the United States Patent and Trademark Office.
