Central Park comes to Brimfield via local author

BRIMFIELD — Hitchcock will proudly host its first Brown Bag Speaker Series installation of the new year on Jan. 21 – Gail Ward Olmsted will present “Designing America: The Olmsted Effect.”

The talk will begin at 12:30 p.m., with an optional lunch at noon. Attendees may reserve a lunch ahead of time or bring one in. Reservations are required for both ($10 for the talk with an additional $10 due for the lunch at the event). The talk will likely run approximately one hour, and additional time is reserved for questions and discussion.

Frederick Law Olmsted is considered the father of American landscape architecture. He was born in Hartford, Connecticut April 26, 1822. His most famous work is Central Park in New York City designed in 1857. Other works include the Biltmore Estate in Asheville, North Carolina, the grounds of the United States Capitol, the grounds of the White House, the 1893 Columbia Exposition (The White City) in Chicago, Illinois, and the Main Quad at Trinity College in Hartford, Conn. Mr. Olmsted also was informally involved in the design of Forest Park in Springfield. He retired in 1895 and his sons John Charles Olmsted and Frederick Law Olmsted, Jr. continued their father’s firm doing business as the Olmsted Brothers which lasted until 1980. Frederick Law Olmsted, Sr. died in 1903.

Married to a descendant of Olmsted author Gail Ward Olmsted will discuss Olmsted’s body of work, share some little-known facts about him and read an excerpt from her critically acclaimed historical novel: Landscape of a Marriage. Signed copies of all her books will be available for sale.

Gail Ward Olmsted was a marketing executive and a college professor before she began writing fiction on a full-time basis. A trip to Sedona, AZ inspired her first novel Jeep Tour. Three more novels followed before Landscape of a Marriage, a biographical fiction featuring landscape architect Frederick Law Olmsted, a distant cousin of her husband’s, and his wife Mary. Olmsted enjoys writing about quirky, wonderful women in search of a second chance at a happy ever after. When not writing, she loves being on the water, especially in a kayak.

The Brown Bag Speaker Series is presented with support from The Shirley Frye Memorial Fund.

Also offered in January is a “Baking Bread Made Easy” workshop on the 31st. Local baker Lee Fernandez of Turnabout Farm Bakery and Brimfield Farmers’ Market will share her baking secrets while guiding attendees in the preparation of their choice of Honey Wheat Oatmeal or an Italian loaf with roasted garlic and Italian herbs to bake and take home. The workshop will run from 10am to 2pm and costs $65. Regular fitness offerings such as Yoga, UpBeat Barre, Pilates, Fencing, High Fitness, Judo/Ju-Jitsu continue, along with Music Lessons, K-9 Nosework and additional workshops routinely added.

For more information, visit www.hitchcockacademy.org. Hitchcock Academy is a community center located at 2 Brookfield Rd. in Brimfield serving the community with educational, recreational, and cultural programming.

Last week, members of the Charlton Fire Department stood alongside our law enforcement partners with heavy hearts as we paid tribute to Officer Stephen LaPorta on his final journey home. Members of Charlton Fire lined the bridge on Center Depot and Hammond Hill Road. We extend our deepest condolences to his family, friends, and the entire Uxbridge Police Department, and keep them in our thoughts and prayers during this incredibly difficult time. Officer LaPorta’s service, dedication, and sacrifice will never be forgotten. Photo courtesy of the department’s Facebook page.

Sturbridge Historical Society presents “The Notables & Notorious of the American Revolution: Curious and Infamous Characters from The Last Green Valley”

STURBRIDGE — On Thursday, Jan. 22, at 7 p.m. at The Publick House, the Sturbridge Historical Society will present Regan Miner, the Development Director for TLGV, speaking about “The Notables & Notorious of the American Revolution: Curious and Infamous Characters from the Last Green Valley.”

Not every hero held a musket. The people living in the area now known as The Last Green Valley National Heritage Corridor (TLGV) shaped and helped win the American Revolution. They fueled the passion for declaring independence, bravely signed the Declaration, supported the war effort, and were integral in the earliest days of our democracy. TLGV Heritage Corridor, which encompasses 35 towns in south central and eastern Connecticut from Brimfield to Norwich, is a region that spurred the revolutionary leadership of Samuel Huntington and Jonathan Trumbull but also spawned the traitorous Benedict Arnold. As we acknowledge the 250th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence in 2026, this talk will explore the notable and notorious figures that helped shape the region and the nation in our fight for independence.

With more than 10 years of experience in the history and nonprofit sector, Regan Miner is a public historian and a historic preservation advocate. Currently, Miner serves as the Development Director of The Last Green Valley and enjoys building partnerships to strengthen our cultural, historical, and natural resources within the National Heritage Corridor. Her previous roles included serving as the Executive Director of the Norwich Historical Society and the Executive Director of the Fort Adams Trust in Newport, Rhode Island. In addition to her position at TLGV, Miner volunteers as Chairman of the Norwich Historic District Commission, the Commission of the City Plan, America 250 Norwich Commission, and is a Corporator at the Norwich Free Academy.

The program is free and open to the public, and is generously hosted by the Publick House.

Courage theme of Faith in Film Series at Charlton Federated Church

CHARLTON — Courage is the theme of the latest Faith in Film series at the Federated Church of Charlton (FCC). On the third Friday of each month at 6:30 p.m. the public is invited to view and discuss movies at no charge. Each showing includes free refreshments and a handout with pertinent and interesting information, key concepts and discussion questions about each film.

The Faith in Film Series this winter and spring includes the following:

Jan. 16 – “Mr. Smith Goes to Washington” (1939) – This comedy-drama made Jimmy Stewart a superstar.

In it, he plays a naïve Senator who goes to Washington and fights political corruption. Also starring Jean Arthur, Claude Reins, Thomas Mitchell, Edward Arnold and directed by Frank Capra, this Academy award-winning film can renew one’s faith in American democracy.

Feb. 20 – “Selma” (2014) – This historical drama depicts the 1965 Selma to Montgomery voting rights marches and the courage of the black clergy, including the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., at the heart of that struggle. Directed by Ava DuVernay and written by Paul Webb, the film was nominated for two Academy Awards and four Golden Globe Awards.

March 20 – “Mrs. Miniver” (1942) – This film portrays the courage of ordinary people as it tells the story of one English woman’s struggle to protect her family during World War II. Directed by William Wyler and starring Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon and Theresa Wright, the film was a critical and a commercial success, becoming the highest-grossing film of 1942 and winning six Academy Awards. In 2006, the film was ranked number 40 on the American Film Institute’s list of most inspirational movies and was placed on the National Film Registry by the Library of Congress in 2009.

April 17 – “Finding Nemo” (2003) – Created by Pixar Animation Studios for Walt Disney Pictures, this animated movie depicts an epic search for a kidnapped son by his father, both are clownfish and they are aided by a dizzy, forgetful regal blue tang fish named Dory. Featuring the voices of Albert Brooks, Ellen DeGeneres, Alexander Gould, Willem Dafoe, and Geoffrey Rush it was directed by Andrew Stanton, who co-wrote it with Bob Peterson, and David Reynolds. Finding Nemo was the first film to win an Oscar in the category of Best Animated Feature.

May 15 – “The General” (1926) – This silent comedy featuring Buster Keaton who also co-directed it with Clyde Brickman is based upon an actual locomotive chase that took place during the Civil War. While the film was not a commercial success when it was first released, it is now recognized as one of the greatest films ever made.

June 19 – “Drums Along the Mohawk” (1939) – This is the first color film directed by John Ford. It tells the story of the fight for American Independence along the Mohawk River in upstate New York. Based on a very popular novel of the same name, it stars Henry Fonda, Colette Colbert, John Carradine, and Oscar-winner

Edna May Oliver. This film will be a perfect way for us to celebrate our nation’s 250th anniversary a few weeks later.

“While all different in tone, each of these films explore what it means to be courageous and how that attribute displays itself in actions,” said James David Moran, curator of the Faith in Film Series.

He further commented, “This program explores the concept of faith in all its forms from believing in God, religion, institutions, intellectual concepts, and people. Our aim is to share important works of cinema, engage in a lively conversation, and have fun.”

Faith in Film screenings take place in the Fellowship Hall of the Church at 64 Main St. in Charlton. For further information please call the Church at 508-248-5550 or email Pastor Shannan Hudgins at pastor@fed-church.org.

Bay Path opens application process For 2026-2027

CHARLTON — Bay Path Regional Vocational Technical High School is excited to announce that the applicationprocess for the 2026–2027 school year is now open!

As a school dedicated to excellence, Bay Path offers students a wide range of opportunities to explore their passions and prepare for future success. With 23 career pathways, rigorous academics, and a variety of sports, activities, and clubs, there is truly something for every student at Bay Path. With that being said, I wanted to provide as much clarity as possible around our admissions policy.

Admissions policy and lottery overview

Bay Path’s Admissions Policy has been updated and approved by the School Committee to fully align with state guidelines.

To ensure equity and fairness, the admissions lottery system—conducted by a third-party organization—gives every eligible student from our ten sending districts an equal opportunity to attend Bay Path.

All applicants who complete the admissions process will be entered into the lottery. Students demonstrating strong attendance and disciplinary records may receive additional lottery entries:

- Students with fewer than 27 unexcused absences and no suspensions or expulsions under M.G.L. c.71, §§ 37H or 37H½ within the past 270 days may receive up to three lottery submissions.
- Students who fall short of these standards will receive one lottery submission.

This process recognizes the importance of commitment and responsibility while maintaining fair access for all applicants.

Waitlist information

Applicants not selected in the initial lottery will be placed on a waitlist organized by town, based on seat allocations. If openings occur, additional lotteries will be conducted using these town-specific waitlists.

All applicants will be notified of their admission status by Friday, April 10.

Admissions Timeline:

- Nov. 1 – Application opens and becomes available online.
- Jan. 16 – Deadline for students to submit all application materials.

- Monday, Feb. 2 – Bay Path requests attendance and discipline data from sending schools to determine lottery weights.
- February–March 2026 – If applications exceed available seats, a public third-party lottery will be held, announced at least one week in advance in accordance with resident student allocations.
- By Friday, April 10 – Offer letters will be sent to accepted resident students.
- April 25 – Deadline for students to accept or decline admission offers.

Bay Path remains deeply committed to providing students with exceptional opportunities that prepare them for college, career, and life success and is open to all students.

For more information about the admissions process, please contact Mrs. Tracey Coleman, Assistant Pupil Services Director, at tcoleman@baypath.net.

January is when the year is actually decided

For many people, January feels like a holding pattern. The holidays are over, spring feels far away, and daily routines settle back into something familiar and quiet. But beneath the surface, January is often when the most consequential work of the year quietly gets done in our towns.

This is the season when budgets take shape. While voters will not see final numbers until town meetings and annual elections arrive, the groundwork is being laid now. Department heads are refining requests. Committees are weighing priorities. Boards are trying to balance rising costs with the realities facing taxpayers. These discussions rarely draw large crowds, yet they influence nearly every aspect of community life for the year ahead.

Public safety staffing, road maintenance, school programming, senior services, library hours, and capital improvements are not decided in the spring. They are shaped now, in meeting rooms that may only have a handful of chairs filled.

That reality makes January one of the most important months for civic engagement, even if it does not feel that way.

It is easy to assume that participation matters most when a big vote appears on the ballot or when a controversial issue hits the headlines. But by the time those moments arrive, many of the key decisions have already been narrowed. Options have been weighed. Trade-offs have been accepted. Paths forward have been chosen.

January is when residents still have the greatest opportunity to ask questions, raise concerns, and understand how priorities are being set.

This is especially true in small towns, where access to local government is often far more direct than people realize. Boards are not distant institutions. They are made up of neighbors. Meetings are open. Agendas are posted. Public comment periods exist for a reason.

Showing up does not require confrontation or expertise. Sometimes the most valuable contribution is simply listening and learning. Understanding why a road project is delayed. Hearing how fuel costs affect municipal budgets. Learning what state mandates mean for local schools or public safety departments.

That knowledge builds trust, even when disagreements remain.

January is also when communities must grapple with difficult truths. Costs are rising. Staffing is harder. Infrastructure is aging. There are rarely enough resources to do everything at once. Honest conversations about these realities are not comfortable, but they are necessary.

Avoiding them does not make the challenges disappear. Engaging with them helps ensure decisions reflect community values rather than convenience or habit.

There is another reason January matters: consistency. The same faces tend to appear at meetings year after year, while many others only engage when a crisis emerges. While passion during moments of controversy is understandable, steady participation throughout the year leads to better outcomes.

When boards recognize familiar faces in the audience, it changes the tone of discussion. When residents understand how decisions are made, debates become more productive. When trust exists, compromise becomes possible.

None of this requires extraordinary effort. It requires showing up once in a while. Reading an agenda. Asking a respectful question. Staying informed beyond headlines and social media posts.

As the year unfolds, there will be plenty of moments when attention is demanded. But January offers something quieter and more valuable: the chance to shape the year before it fully takes form.

In many ways, this is when the real work of community happens. Not in grand gestures, but in patient conversations, careful planning, and the shared responsibility of deciding what matters most.

OPINION

New tax laws for 2026
that you should know

ers. If you're 50 or older and earned more than $150,000 last year, there's a new wrinkle in your retirement planning. You can still make catch-up contributions to your workplace retirement plan, but they must now be Roth contributions rather than traditional pre-tax contributions. This includes 401(k), 403(b) and 457(b) plans.

While you won't get an immediate tax break, Roth contributions offer tax-free income in retirement and can provide a tax-free legacy for your heirs.

Expanded benefits for 529 education plans. Families using 529 plans to cover K-12 expenses will see the annual federal distribution limit double from $10,000 to $20,000 per student. The definition of qualifying expenses has also expanded to include curriculum, books, certain tutoring expenses and testing fees.

This change provides more flexibility for families with overfunded plans and increases options for managing education costs across multiple children or beneficiaries.

amounts which can add up over time.

A catch-up rule for high earners.

New charitable giving provisions. The rules around charitable deductions are shifting in two directions. Taxpayers who take the standard deduction can now deduct up to $1,000 in cash donations ($2,000 for joint filers) to qualified organizations.

However, those who itemize deductions face a new threshold: only charitable contributions exceeding 0.5 percent of adjusted gross income are now deductible. Donors may want to consider bunching strategies or using donor-advised funds to maximize their tax benefits.

Getting help. Navigating these tax changes can be challenging, but you don't have to go it them alone. A qualified financial advisor and tax professional can help you understand how these and other changes affect your specific situation. Together, you can develop strategies to make the most of new opportunities while minimizing your tax burden.

LANTERNS
MAIN STREET
By CHARLES

I have lived long enough to know that this did not happen by accident. The people who built these towns, the ones whose names are still etched on the bricks and cornerstones, were not chasing attention. They were chasing stability. They wanted a place where you could raise a family, earn an honest living, and trust that when something went wrong, someone nearby would notice.

I think of that whenever I stop at the local coffee shop, where the same faces appear at the same stools, week after week. There is the man who always orders his coffee black and reads the paper from front to back, even the parts most people skip. There is the woman who keeps a little notebook, writing down reminders in neat, careful letters. They do not know everything about each other, but they know enough. They know who likes cream, who needs a little extra time to find their wallet, who has not been in for a few days and might deserve a quick phone call.

That is the thing about small towns. You are seen. Sometimes that can feel inconvenient. But most of the time, it is a gift.

I once heard someone say that modern life is about efficiency. You tap a screen and groceries arrive. You tap another and a movie starts. None nod. You say good morning. You hold the door. You do not need to win anything. You just need to get through the day with a little decency left of that is bad, but it does remove a certain kind of friction, the kind that forces us to notice one another. When you have to walk into a store, stand in line, and exchange a few words with a real person, you end up learning small things about the people around you. Those small things, added up over time, become community.

Even now, when so much is done through devices, the old patterns have not disappeared entirely. You still see them in the way folks look out for each other when the weather turns rough. You see them in the way local volunteers show up for events that do not make the evening news. You see them in the simple courtesy of letting someone go ahead of you at the register when they only have one item.

None of this is glamorous. But it is sturdy.

As I get older, I find myself appreciating that sturdiness more than ever. The world will always have its noise. It will always have its trends and its arguments and its urgent headlines. But here, along the sidewalks and storefronts of our Massachusetts towns, there are still lanterns lit by quieter things: habit, kindness, and a shared understanding that we are all, in our own way, in this together.

The neighbor eventually drove off, his headlights cutting through the cold blue morning. I finished my coffee and got ready for my own day, comforted by the thought that somewhere down the street, someone else was doing the same. No fanfare. No fuss. Just another small town waking up, one windshield scrape at a time.

Local churches unite in Week of Prayer for Christian Unity Service

STURBRIDGE — Saint Anne – Saint Patrick Parish and Shrine, together with the Federated Church and Bethlehem Lutheran Church, invite the community to a Week of Prayer for Christian Unity Ecumenical Service on Wednesday, Jan. 21, at 7 p.m.

The service will be hosted by Saint Anne – Saint Patrick Parish in the Parish Center, located at 16 Church Street, Fiskdale. The evening will be a joyful opportunity for neighbors and friends of all faith traditions to come together in gratitude, prayer, and fellowship.

Each year, Christians around the world observe the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, joining together in prayer that “all may be one.” This special ecumenical service will bring together congregations and friends from multiple traditions for shared worship, prayer, and fellowship.

“We are honored to host this service and to pray together for the healing and peace our world so deeply needs,” said Fr. Salvator Musande, Pastor of Saint Anne – Saint Patrick Parish. “This gathering beautifully expresses what Christ calls us to — unity in spirit, compassion in service, and love across all denominations.”

Pastor Dave Cote of the Federated Church added, “The Week of Prayer reminds us that what unites us in faith is far greater than what divides us. When we come together in humility and hope, we make space for God to work among us in powerful ways.”

Pastor Dan Purtell of Bethlehem Lutheran Church noted, “Our churches have built strong bonds of fellowship through shared worship and service. This week of prayer strengthens those bonds, inviting us to live more deeply into God’s vision of unity and love for all people.”

“Unity starts right here in our community by looking left and right and accepting each other as we are, as children of God. Events like this are catalysts for ecumenical faith,” added Pastor Brian Oxman of the Brookfield Congregational Church.

The service will include readings, prayers, and music contributed by members of participating churches. A time of fellowship and light refreshments will follow. All are welcome to attend this meaningful celebration of Christian unity and community.

ly awarded $240,000 for a workforce development program to train formerly incarcerated individuals. The funding is part of the Healey-Driscoll Administration’s $2.2 million in Re-entry Workforce Development Demonstration grants for individuals returning to the workforce.

QCC has received the Re-entry grant since 2022 and will continue to partner with the Worcester County Sheriff’s Office to offer a training program that focuses on the culinary and hospitality industry. Program graduates will be placed in food preparation roles through organizations such as Snapchef, Latin American Health Alliance – Hector Reyes House and Massachusetts Restaurant Association.

“This type of partnership helps these individuals build a sustainable future,” said QCC President Dr. Luis G. Pedraja. “This program offers more than job training; it creates opportunities for returning citizens to thrive and contribute to their communities.”

“Building on the success of previous programs, the culinary training focus will give participants hands-on skills in a field with high demand for workers,” said Director of Workforce Development Operations Kathleen O’Connor. “In past years, our programs have seen positive outcomes in improving employment and stability for individuals re-entering society.”

The program will serve 20 participants, who will receive training that includes basic culinary techniques, food safety, menu planning and customer service. Participants will also receive three industry-recognized credentials. In addition to mastering culinary skills, the program places a strong emphasis on healthy eating and cooking.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

STURBRIDGE PLANNING BOARD PROPOSED ZONING AMENDMENT

In accordance with the provisions of MGL Chapter 40A, Section 5, the Sturbridge Planning Board will hold a Public Hearing on Monday, January 26, 2026 at 6:35 PM in the Center Office Building 2nd Floor, located at 301 Main Street, Sturbridge, MA 01566 and/or by virtual means if circumstances warrant, in accordance with applicable law, to consider amendments to the Town's Zoning Bylaw.

The proposal would amend the Zoning Bylaw by inserting a new Article XXI Temporary Moratorium Large Scale Standalone Battery Energy Storage Systems which are defined as a system consisting of one or more battery modules for storing electrical energy with an aggregate energy capacity of 250 kWh or greater, and any equipment needed to support the safe and proper function or usage of the battery modules, and one or more physical containers providing secondary containment to any of the above. This shall not apply to storage systems accessory to residential uses or ancillary to other commercial uses

The purpose of this temporary moratorium is to allow sufficient time to engage in a planning process to address the effects of the construction of large-scale standalone Battery Energy Storage Systems and uses in the Town including environmental, fire, health and safety standards of these systems, including but not limited to standards for the placement design and construction, operation, monitoring, modification, and removal of such systems that address public safety, minimize the impacts on the scenic, natural and historic resources and to provide adequate financial assurance for the decommissioning of such installations.

Additionally, this moratorium will allow sufficient time to study the impacts of such systems and develop appropriate zoning bylaws that will insure that the installation of such systems will occur in such a way as to insure the protection of groundwater and other natural and environmental resources, and the health and welfare of the residents of the Town of Sturbridge. The Town has a significant watershed protection zone and this moratorium would allow time to see if there are fire suppression options that would allow these systems to be safely allowed in this zone. Presently the Town has no zoning bylaw expressly governing the placement and use of these Systems. During the time of this moratorium the Planning Board will work to develop and enact Bylaws in a manner consistent with sound land use planning goals and objectives. This moratorium shall be in effect through December 1, 2026 or the date on which the Town adopts amendment to the bylaw concerning Battery Energy Storage Systems, whichever first occurs.

Pursuant to Chapter 20 of the Acts of 2021, this meeting will be conducted in person and may be conducted via remote means if circumstance warrant, in accordance with applicable law. This means that members of the public body as well as members of the public may access this meeting in person, or via virtual means. <https://global.gotomeeting.com/join/472675877>

Every effort will be made to ensure that the public can adequately access the proceedings in real time, via technological means. In the event that we are unable to do so, despite best efforts, we will post of the Town's website an audio or video recording, transcript, or other comprehensive record of the proceedings as soon as possible after the meeting.

Building community and character at Saint Joseph School’s December Assembly

WEBSTER — On Dec. 16, Saint Joseph School gathered in the Nowak Gymnasium for its monthly Recognition and School Spirit Assembly, a tradition designed to strengthen community, celebrate growth, and reinforce the values that guide daily life at SJS.

Each assembly follows a consistent format that helps students build pride and a shared sense of purpose. The assembly begins with a welcome from Principal Mrs. Beth Boudreau, followed by the recitation of the school’s mission statement. This month, Grade 1 students volunteered to lead the student body—an opportunity that encourages confidence, leadership, and ownership of Saint Joseph School’s

Students at Saint Joseph School were honored with the Saint Martin de Porres Award during the school’s December Recognition and School Spirit Assembly, recognizing their kindness, humility, and service to others in the spirit of Saint Martin de Porres. Student award recipients include: Pre-K 3-year-old: Jameson Proffer, Pre-K 4-year-old: Olive MacPherson, Kindergarten: Emilia Dziobak, Grade 1: Magdalena Kosiorek, Grade 2: Charlotte Marchand, Grade 3: Wrenna Shemansky, Grade 4: Olivia Guinto, Grade 5: Julia-Ann McCracken, Grade 6: Allen Oliver Jean-Paul, Grade 7: Lily Martin, Grade 8: Tenleigh Dowd.

guiding principles of Religion, Respect, and Responsibility. With upbeat music playing throughout the gym, students are invited to celebrate one another’s successes and the joy of being part of a faith-filled school community.

A meaningful portion of every assembly is the recognition of monthly birthdays. All students and faculty members born in November were honored and received a book from the school. Birthday celebrants were then recognized by the entire student body through two songs: the familiar “Happy Birthday,” and “Sto Lat,” a traditional Polish birthday song whose lyrics wish someone “one hundred years.” Singing Sto Lat is a beloved Saint Joseph School tradition and a tribute to the Polish heritage that has long been an important part of the school and parish community.

Monthly assemblies also include a rotating special award that connects student character to the lives of the saints and the school’s mission. In November, Saint Joseph School presented the Saint Martin de Porres Award, named for the Peruvian saint whose feast day is Nov. 3. Saint Martin de Porres is remembered for his humility, compassion, and service—especially to the poor and the sick—and for treating every person with dignity. Students are encouraged to follow his example by choosing kindness, helping others, and showing respect in their words and actions each day.

The assembly concluded with a spirited, school-wide activity that added an extra layer of fun and camaraderie: a friendly gym “snowball fight.” Classes competed in timed rounds, staying on their own side of the court while tossing rolled-up white socks—“snowballs”—back and forth. The class with the fewest snowballs on its side at the end of 60 seconds won the round. Teachers joined the competition as well, adding to the laughter and school spirit.

Saint Joseph School’s monthly assemblies are intentionally designed to balance celebration with formation—recognizing students, reinforcing values, and creating joyful traditions that help students feel connected, supported, and proud to be part of the SJS community.
